APPOINTED SENATORS WOULD FIGURE ONLY IN THE TRANSITION PERIOD. THE SENATE WOULD BE EXPANDED TO INCLUDE FIVE MORE ELECTED SENATORS FOR THE FIRST TWO YEARS, THEN TEN MORE, BRINGING THE EVENTUAL NUMBER TO 50. THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES WOULD BE EXPANDED FROM 120 TO 150 DEPUTIES.

2. (C) BUCHI'S PROPOSAL COINCIDED WITH A SIMILAR COMPROMISE PLAN UNVEILED BY NATIONAL RENUWAL PARTY (RN) PRESIDENT SERGIO JARPA WHO ARGUED STRONGLY ON NATIONAL TV FOR REOPENING TALKS. OPPOSITION SPOKES2-

MAN PATRICIO AYLWQN RESPONDED INITIALLY BY APPLAUDING THE IDEA, BUT SAYING THE GOC HAD TO OPEN THE DOOR,WHILE J/NTA MEMBER ADMIRAL)ERINO SAID THE BALLXWAS IN THE OPPOSIT#ON'S COURT. THE BETTING IS THAT PINOCET WILL BLOCK THE YEW INITIATIVE, BUT NOT BEFORQ RZN AND BUCHI ARE ABLE TO DISPLAY TQEIR REASONABLENESS AND AUTONOMY FROM TXE GOVERNMENT. END SUGMARY.

BUCHI BEGAN HIS PROPOSAL BY OUTLINBNG AND COMMENTING ON THE VARIOUS POINTS OF AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENT AND THE NATIONAL RENEWA$ (RN)/OPPOSITION COALITION (COPODE) PROPOSALS. THE EMPHASIZED HIS OWN AGREEMENT WITH TE PROPOSALS TO CHANGE THE LAWS RELATING TO STATES OF EXCEPTION, THE ELIMINATION OF EXILE, THE PEESTABLISHMENT OF UHE PREEMINENCE OF CIQIL COURTS, AND THE ELIMINATION OF CONFIDENTIAL

PRESIDENTIAL POWER TO D)SSOLVE THE HOUSE OF DEPUTIES. (INTERESTINGLY, HE DID NOT MENTION SHORTENING THE FIRST PRESIDENTIAL TERM FROM EIGHT TO FOUR YEARS.)

4. (U) REGARDING THE NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL, BUCHI NOTED THAT THE TWO SIDES WERE CLOSE TO AGREEMENT, QIN THAT THE GOVERNMENT HAD SUGGESTED ADDING THE COMPTROMLER GENERAL TO THE COUNCL, WHILE THE COPODE-RN COMMISSION ASKED FOR THE ADDITION OF BOTH THE COMPTROLLER AND THE PRESIDENT OF THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES. BUCHI SUGGESTED THE ACCEPTANCE OF THE GOVERNMENT PROPOSAL SINCEQBOTH SIDES COINCIFE ON THE ADDITION OF THE COMPTROLLER, AND BECAUSE THIS ADDITION WOULD EQUALIZE IVILIAN AND MILITARY STRENGTH. BUCHI POINTED OUT THAT BOTH SIDES AGREE ON LIMITING THE COUNCIL'S POWERS TO THOSE OF AN ADVISORY BODY.

5.(UQ) REGARDING THE ISSUES UPON WHICH THERE WAC PARTIAL AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENT AND THE OPPOSITION, BUCHI OFFERED SEVERAL OPTIONS. WHILE ACKNOWLEDGING THAT THE TWO SIDES DID NOT COINCIDE EXACTLY ON PROPOSED CHANGES IN ARTICLE 8, BUCHI EMPHASIZED THAT BOTH SIDES AKPEAR TO AGREE THAT THE

FOCUS OF THE LAW SHOULD BE ON WHAT KIND OF SYSTEM OF GOVQRNMENT SHOULD BE ESTABLISHED. HE #DDED THAT IN HIS OPIION VIOLATIONS OF ERTICLE 8 ARE ALREQDY LISTED AS CRIMES IN THE PENAL CODE. REGARDING THE DISAGREEMENT OVER REQUIRING THE PASSAGE OF AMENDMENTS BY TWO CONGRESSES, BUCHI STATED THAT CERTAIN TPES OF FUNDAMENT#L CONSTITUTIONAL REFORM - SUCH AS THOSE?UFFECTING CITIZENS' RIGHJTS - NEEDED

THE MATURATION PERIOD AND LONGER-TERM CONSIDERATION THAT PASSAGE OF SUCCESSIVE CONGRESSES WOULD GIVE. HE REASONED THAT I IS WISE TO APPLY SPECIAL RULES TO EXTREMELY DELICATE SUBJECTS LIKE THE ARMED FORCES AND THE NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL DURING A PROBLEMATI TRANSITION PERIOD. WITH THAT IN MIND, BUCHI PROPOSED A TWO-YEAR TRANSITION PERIOD, AFTER WHICH NORMAL AMENDMENT PROCEDURES COUMD APPLY TO THOSE SUBJECTS.

6.(U) REGARDING THE COMPOSITION OF THE SUNATE, BUCHI AGAIN SUGGESTS A TRANSITION PERIOD OF TWO YEARS DURING WHICH TIME THE NINE APPOINTED SENATORS WOULD BE A MODERATING FORCE. AT THE SAME TIME LE WOULD INCREASE THE UMBER OF ELECTED SNATORS FROM 26 TO 31. AFTER TQIS PERIOD, APPOINTED SENATORS
CONFIDENTIAL

WOULD BE REPLACED, INCREASING QHE THE NUMBER OF ELECTED SENATORS TO 50, WHICH, AS BUCHI WAS CAREFUL TO POINT OUT, HAS BEEN THE TRADITION IN CHILE& HOWEVER, BUCH ADDS THAT EX-PRESIDENTS SHOULD BE PERMANENT MEMBERS OFQTHE SENATE. HE WOULD ALSO INCREASE HE NUMBER OF REPRESENTATIVES IN THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES TO 150, AGAIN REFERRING TO CHILEAN TRADITION AND TO AN APPARENT AGREEMENT BETWEE THE GOC AND OPPISITION TECHNICIANS ON THIS POINT. FORPCONSTITUTIONAL REFORM OF ORGANIC LAWS IMPLEMENTING THE CONSTTUTION, BUCHI PROPOSES THAT A MAJORITY OF CONGRESS BEBREQUIRED FOR PASSAGE. LASTLY, HE EXPRESSES SUPPORT FOR TGE POPULAR ELECTION OF LOCAL OFFICIALS.

7. (U, BUCHI'S INITIATIVE COINCIDED WITH REMARKS BY SENIOR JUNTA MEMBER ADMIRAL MERINO0AND INTERIOR UNDERSECRETARY GONZALO GARCIA HINTING THAT DIALOGUE MIGHT BE CONTINUED. MERINO STATED THAT THE BALL WAS IN THE OPPOSITION'S COURT, AND THV TALKS COULD BE REINITIATED IF THEY PRESENTED A PROPOSAL AMENABLE TO THE GOVERNMENT. GARCIA SAID THAT CONTINUED DIALOGUE WOULD REQUIRE SIGNIFICANT CHANGE OF ATTITUDE ON THE PART OF THE OPPOSITION. HE ALSO REFUTED JARPA'S STATECENT THAT THE DIALOGE HAD FAILED BECAUSE THE PRESIDENT WAS NOT WELL INFORMED BY HIS ADVISORS, STATING THAT THERE WAS NO MISUNDERSTANDINGQ- THE GOVERNMENTQHAD OFFERED 19 PROPOSALS FOR REFORM AND THE COPODE REJECTAD THEM. WHILE NEITHER STATEMENT WAS TOO ENCOURAGING, THEY SEEMED TO OPEN THE DOOR TO REFORM A CRACK.

8. (U) ADDING TO THE PUSH TO REOPEN CONSTITUTIONAL TALKS, R#N PRESIDENT SERGIO ONOFRE JARPA PRESENTED A NEW PROPOSAL'QHICH BASICALLY MOCIFIES TWO POINTS OF THE PREVIOUS RN-COPODE AGREEMENT. RN SUGGESTS RAISING THE NUMBER OF ELECTED SENATORS FROM 26 TO 40, AND ALLOWING APPOINTED SENATORS FOR A SINGLE TERM OF FOUR YEARS. AFTER THIS FOUR-YEAR TERM, THE SENATE WOULD BE ENTIRELY POPULARLY ELECTED/ EUCEQT FOR EX-PRESIDENTS. THE SANTIAGO METROPOLITAN AREA AND THE 5 REGIONS WITH THE LARGEST POPULATION WOULD ELECT THE ADDITIONAL SENATORS. ON THE ISSUE OF AMENDING THE CONSTITUTION, JARPA PROPOSES REQUIRING A THREE-FIFTHS MAJOQITY FOR ALL REFORMS, EXCEPT THOSE

9. (U) COPODE SPOKESMAN PATRICIO AYLWIN COMMENTED THAT "UCHI'S INITIAUIVE HAD VALUE, BUT THAT COPODE COULD NOT PARTICIPATE UNTIL THE GOVERNMENT SHOWED WILLINGNESS TO MODIFY ITS POSITION ON THE NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL AND MECHANISS FOR AMENDMENTS. INTERIOR MINISTER CACERES WHO ADMITTEDTHAT THE INITIATIVE HAD SOME "INTERESTING POINTS", REITERATED THAT REININIATING NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE COPODE WAS IMPOSSIBLE. HE ADDED THAT THERE WAS NO ROOM IN THE PROCESS, NOR WOULD THERE BE, FOR MEDIATION.

11. (C) THE OTHER MAIN BENEFICIARY IS NATIONAL RENEWAL, WHICH CAN ALSO SHOW ITS UTONOMY FROM TKE GOVERNMENT AND ITS COMMITMENT TO A POPULAR CAUSE. POLOFF TALKED WITH RN STAFF DIRECTOR CARLOS ZEPEDA, WHO CONFIDED THAT HE DRAFTED THE COMPROMISE PROPSAL, AND ACKNOWLEDGHD THAT THE CONFIDENTIAL

MEMORANDUM WAS RELEASED HOW IN ORDER TO HELP QSERGIO JARPA'S APPEARANCE WITH A PANEL O$ RN CONSTITUTIONAL EXPERTS ON MAY 10. THE PLAN'S GESTATION ILLUSTRATES BUCHI'S CLOSE RELATIONSHIP WITH THE MODERATE CONSERVATIVU PARTY, WHOSE KEY ADVISORS ARE REPORTEDLY RUNNING HIS CAMPAHGN.

12.(C) ZEPEDA SAID THAT GOC MODERATES ARE FAVORABLE TO THE IDEA, BUT THE FACT THA PINOCHET OPPOSES ANY COMPROMISE LEAVE THEM POWERLESS.)ERN BELIEVES THAT THE PDC WILL INITIALLY POOH-POOH THE PLAN IN PUBLIC, EVEN BHOUGH AYLWIN REPORTEDLY AGREES WITH MOST OF THE SPECIFIC PGINTS AND WILL ENCOURAGE THE OPPOSITION COALITION TRO RESPOND FAVORABLY. 13. (C) THE MAIN LOSE# /OULD BE PINOCHET/ WHO AN HARDLY AFFORD TO LOOK AS THOUGH, ONCE AGAIN, HIS ARM WAS EFFECTIVLY TWISTED ON CONSTITUTIONAL REFORM. REF: SANTIAGO 4818

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ - ENTIRE TEXT.
2. SUMMARY: MELNICK, A PINOCHET LOYALIST, CLAIMS NOT ONLY THAT PINOCHET WILL NOT TRY TO STAY AS PRESIDENT, BUT ALSO THAT HE HAS ADVISED PINOCHET TO GIVE UP COMMAND OF THE ARMY AS WELL. THAT MAKES URGENT AN AGREEMENT ON PINOCHET'S SECURITY AND SAFETY ONCE OUT OF OFFICE. HE DID NOT DISAGREE THAT THE OPPOSITION IS READY FOR SUCH AN AGREEMENT, FAULTING INSTEAD, ON THIS AND MANY OTHER ISSUES, INTERIOR MINISTER CACERES FOR LACK OF POLITICAL LEADERSHIP AND LOYALTY TO PINOCHET'S INTERESTS. ONLY SUPPORT FOR CACERES FROM SOME ARMY GENERALS (AND THEO OTHER SERVICES) HAS ENABLED HIM TO HANG ON. BUT HE WILL FAIL TO PUSH THROUGH CONSTITUTIONAL REFORM OVER PINOCHET'S OPPOSITION. WHILE CRITICIZING BUCHI FOR HIS EFFORTS SINCE LEAVING THE GOVERNMENT TO DISTANCE HIMSELF FROM PINOCHET> MELNICK WAS DISMAYED AT BUCHI'S DECISION NOT TO RUN, AND SAW NO OTHER CANDIDATE ON THE HORIZON WHO COULD UNIFY THE RIGHT. END SUMMARY.

3. DCM WAS INVITED MAY 15 TO ONE ON ONE LUNCH WITH MINISTER OF PLANNING SERGIO MELNICK, ONE OF THE HARD-LINE PINOCHETISTAS IN THE CABINET. JUST TWO HOURS BEFORE, HERNAN BUCHI, THE ANTICIPATED PRO GOVERNMENT CANDIDATE IN THE DECEMBER PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS< HAD ADDNOUNCED HE DID NOT CHOOSE TO RUN (REFTEL). WHILE CLAIMING HE HAD PREDICTED FROM THE BEGINNING THAT BUCHI WOULD NOT RUN, THAT BUCHI WOULD HAVE MADE A BETTER PRESIDENT THAN HE WOULD HAVE A CANDIDATE, AND THAT BUCHI HAD ALREADY COMMITTED A MAJOR ERROR, MELNICK WAS NEVERTHELESS CLEARLY SURPRISED, AGITATED AND DISMAYED> THE "ERROR" WAS THAT BUCHI, IN THE LAST FEW WEEKS OF TESTING THE PRESIDENTIAL WATERS, HAD TRIED TO DISTANCE

\IN DECEMBER? MELNICK SUGGESTED JARPA. DCM
\SAID JARPA CERTAINLY WOULD BE LOGICAL CHOICE \OF HIS OWN PARTY, RENOVACION -- MANY MEMBERS
\PAD LONG PREFERRED HIM TO BUCHI -- BUT COULD \JARPA GET UNIFIED SUPPORT FROM THE OTHER PARTIES \OF THE RIGHT? NO, MELNICK SAID. HIS OWN PERSONAL \FAVORITE WOULD BE SEBASTIAN'S BROTHER, JOSE
\PINERA, FORMER MINISTER OF LABOR AND MINING \AND, LIKE MELNICK, A FERVENT SUPPORTER OF THE \REGIME'S ECONOMIC POLICIES. DCM SAID PINERA
\MIGHT BE ANOTHER PERSON WHO WOULD MAKE A BETTER
\PRESIDENT THAN CANDIDATE. MELNICK LAUGHED AND \AGREED, ADDING THAT PINERA HAD ALREADY FLOATED
\A TRIAL BALLOON, UNSUCCESSFULLY. OR THE REGIME
\MIGHT TRY AND DUST OFF THE GOING-NOWHERE CANDIDACY \OF SERGIO DIEZ, MELNICK SAID WITHOUT CONVICTION.
\ THE PROBLEM IS THERE JUST ISN'T ANYONE -- LESS \ THAN TWO MONTHS FROM THE FILING DATE.

\ 6. WHAT ABOUT THE REPEATED RUMORS THAT PINOCHET \ IS PLANNING TO FILL THIS VACANCY BY RUNNING \ HIMSELF? MELNICK SAID HE DIDN'T THINK SO.
\ INDEED, THE MAJOR UNRESOLVED ISSUE IN CHILE
\ WAS, IN HIS WORDS, "THE PINOCHET PROBLEM" --
\ WHAT GUARANTEES COULD BE GIVEN TO PINOCHET \ CONCERNING HIS FUTURE STATUS AND SECURITY.
\ MELNICK HAD TOLD PINOCHET THAT HIS PUBLICLY \ PROCLAIMED INTENTION TO REMAIN AS COMMANDER-\ IN-CHIEF OF THE ARMY SIMPLY WOULDN'T WORK, \ REGARDLESS OF WHO BECOMES PRESIDENT. "NO CUADRA"
\ -- IT DOESN'T FIT. SO A WAY HAD TO BE FOUND \ FOR PINOCHET TO LIVE IN DIGNITY AND SAFETY AS \ BOTH EX-PRESIDENT AND EX-CINC. DCM SAID THE \ EMBASSY'S CONVERSATIONS WITH OPPOSITION LEADERS
\ INDICATED THAT SHOULD NOT BE AN ISSUE. ONLY \ THE EXTREME LEFT SEEMED TO HAVE ANY INTEREST
\ IN PURSUING PINOCHET PERSONALLY. ONE OPPOSITION \ LEADER HAD SAID PUBLICLY THAT IT SHOULD BE AN \ ESTABLISHED PRINCIPLE THAT EX-PRESIDENTS WERE \ NOT TO BE HELD TO ACCOUNT FOR ACTIONS WHILE \ IN OFFICE. PROBLEM, DCM SAID, WAS THAT AS FAR \ AS WE COULD TELL NO EFFORT HAD BEEN MADE TO HOLD \ SERIOUS PRIVATE TALKS WITH THE OPPOSITION ON \ WHAT HAPPENS TO PINOCHET. MELNICK AGREED, AND \ THAT LED HIM OFF INTO A LONG CRITIQUE OF INTERIOR \ MINISTER CARLOS CACERES, THE LEADER OF THE \ GOVERNMENT'S "SOFTLINERS."

7. CACERES, MELNICK SAID, IS TRYING TO BE HIS \OWN INTERIOR MINISTER, NOT PINOCHET'S. IF \ PINOCHET SAYS "A," HE DOES "B." THIS WAS IN \ CONTRAST, FOR EXAMPLE, TO HIS PREDECESSOR, \ SERGIO FERNANDEZ, WHO WANTED TO END POLITICAL \EXILE WHEN HE FIRST BECAME MINISTER. PINOCHET
\ SAID NO AND FERNANDEZ LOYALLY DEFENDED PINOCHET'S \ DECISION. (MELNICK DID NOT SPELL OUT THE \ CONTRAST WITH CACERES' PURSUIT OF CONSTITUTIONAL \ REFORM AGAINST PINOCHET'S WISHES, BUT THE REFERENCE \ WAS OBVIOUS. BUCHI, INCIDENTALLY, MET WITH \ PINOCHET ON MAY 11 IN ANOTHER EFFORT TO PERSUADE \ HIM TO ACCEPT REFORM. ASKED WHETHER HE THOUGHT
\ THERE MIGHT STILL BE A PLEBISCITE ON CONSTITUTIONAL \ AMENDMENTS, MELNICK SAID SIMPLY, NO.) IN SIX \ MONTHS AS MINISTER, WHAT HAS CACERES ACHIEVED?
\ ONLY THE CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTING LAW. IN \ CONTRAST, THE RADIO AND TV LAW HAS GOTTEN \ NOWHERE, MAINLY BECAUSE IT WAS POORLY DRAFTED.
\ AS A RESULT, THE CHANCE OF HAVING PRIVATELY-\ OWNED TV CHANNELS IS PROBABLY LOST FOR THE NEXT \ TEN YEARS. THE CENTRAL BANK LAW IS ALSO STALLED.
\ WHEN ALL IT NEEDS, TO ESTABLISH THE PERMANENT \ AUTONOMY OF THE BANK, IS A POLITICAL AGREEMENT \ TO NAME ONE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT TO THE BOARD \ OF GOVERNORS -- SOMEONE, MELNICK SAID, LIKE
\ CARLOS MASSAD OR JOSE PABLO ARELLANO WHO BELIEVES \ IN SOUND FISCAL POLICY. BUT CACERES IS INCAPABLE \ OF MANAGING THAT SIMPLE NEGOTIATION. AND \ PRIVATIZATIONS OF A NUMBER OF REMAINING STATE \ ENTERPRISES ARE ALSO BEING LOST, AS TIME RUNS \ OUT TO PUSH THEM THROUGH, DUE TO CACERES' SINGLE-\MINDED OBSESSION (AGAIN, THE REFERENCE TO \ CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGE WAS CLEAR).
\ 8. WHY DIDN'T PINOCHET SIMPLY FIRE CACERES THEN \ --OR ACCEPT THE RESIGNATION CACERES OFFERED \ ON APRIL 26? BECAUSE, MELNICK SAID, HE HAD \ SUPPORT FROM SOME OF THE ARMY, FOR EXAMPLE
\ SINCLAIR. (COMMENT: PRESS AND OTHER ACCOUNTS \ HAVE SAID THAT GENERAL BALLERINO, THE SECRETARY \ OF THEPRESIDENCY, WAS ALSO INSTRUMENTAL IN \ SUPPORTING CACERES DURING THE CABINET CRISIS.
\ MELNICK DID NOT MENTION, AGAIN BECAUSE IT WAS \ OBVIOUS, THAT THE OTHER MILITARY SERVICES ALSO \ BACKED CACERES.)

\ 10. COMMENT. MELNICK WOULD BE A LOGICAL PARTI-\ CIPANT IN ANY GROUP OF PINOCHET ADVISERS WORKING \ ON WAYS AND MEANS FOR PINOCHET TO SERVE ANOTHER \ TERM. IF HE WAS DISSEMBLING ABOUT PINOCHET
\ STAYING ON, HOWEVER, HE WAS A VERY GOOD ACTOR.
\ HE SPOKE SEVERAL TIMES OF THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT \ ENDING IN MARCH 1990, AND AGAIN SEEMED CONVINCING
\ WHEN HE CLAIMED TO HAVE ADVISED PINOCHET TO \ LEAVE THE ARMY AS WELL. THE RAISING OF THE \ SECURITY/SAFETY PROBLEM, OBVIOUSLY AN EXTREMELY \ DELICATE SUBJECT FOR ANY MEMBER OF THE GOVERNMENT, \ ALSO POINTS TO A CONVICTION THAT PINOCHET NEEDS \ TO START THINKING ABOUT LEAVING. TYPICALLY,
\ HE BLAMED THE FAILURE TO DO SO ON CACERES, \ NOT ON THE PRESIDENT.
\11. ALSO OF INTEREST WAS HIS STATEMENT THAT \SECTORS OF THE ARMY HAD OPPPOSED THE PRESIDENT \ON THE DISMISSAL OF CACERES, AND PERHAPS BY \EXTENSION ON CONSTITUTIONAL REFORM AS WELL.
\WHEN MELNICK TALKED ABOUT THE "PINOCHET PROBLEM",
\HE CITED AS ONE REASON WHY IT MUST BE RESOLVED \SOON, THE NEED TO AVOID DIVISIONS WITHIN THE \ARMY OVER HOW TO HANDLE IT. HE DID NOT MAKE

TALKING POINTS

- COURTESY POINT

--I know you are well qualified for this important post and look forward to working with you as we assume our new duties. Your tour here as DCM overlapped with my time as Under Secretary.

- CHILE'S TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY

--The U.S. recognizes that this is a key year in Chilean history, a year of transition towards democracy.

--We will follow with great interest the political events which take place leading up to and after the December, 1989 elections.

--We recognize that a number of important issues such as constitutional reform and the rules governing the new Congress are yet to be resolved, but hope that solutions can be arrived at through dialogue and agreement between the Government and political parties representing the broad wishes of the Chilean people.

--The U.S. will continue to support the transition to full democracy in Chile without, of course, taking sides in the political debate. Our only interest is a free and fair process that reflects Chile's democratic traditions.

- THE FRUIT CRISIS

--While we lament the substantial economic damage which was caused by the unfortunate need to momentarily halt fruit exports to the U.S., we were very pleased that the USG and the GOC were able to work together to get trade flowing again.

--We will continue to work closely with your Government both in Washington and in Santiago to try to avoid future such difficulties and to seek means of cooperating in managing this unhappy episode.

- THE CHILEAN ECONOMY

--I understand that Chile's successful, free market-based economy is doing well despite the fruit crisis.

--A smoothly-functioning economy such as yours provides an excellent base on which democracy can rest and bodes well for future stability.

o THE LETELIER CASE

--We had hoped that the mechanism of the 1914 Treaty would be an excellent means of working together to resolve the Letelier case, a thorny issue in bilateral relations for many years.

--For this reason, the delay we have experienced in forming the international commission called for by the treaty is unfortunate. Our objective in invoking the treaty was to put this case on a course of steady progress towards a conclusion and thus avoid its becomming again a point of bilateral friction during your election year. Your failure to procede in carrying out your obligations to name your commission members is counter-productive and could lead to renewed pressure from the Hill.

--It is imperative that you give the highest priority to taking the steps necessary to form this commission and to get it operational.

EVACUATE THE SAME FMLN GUERRILLAS WHO, HE CLAIMS, ARE BEHIND RECENT TERRORIST ATTACKS. THEY CITE THE ASSASSINATION OF FORMER ATTORNEY GENERAL ROBERTO GARCIA ALVARADO AND THE BOMBING OF VICE PRESIDENT-ELECT FRANCISCO MERINO'S HOUSE, AS EXAMPLES OF RECENT FMLN URBAN ATTACKS AND ANGRILY ASK ABOUT THE HUMANITARIAN CONCERNS FOR THEM. THE GOES HAS PAINTED THE EVACUATION AS A HUMANITARIAN EFFORT IN THE SPIRIT OF THE GENEVA CONVENTION ACCORDS ON THE CONDUCT OF WAR.

3. THIS ATTACK MAY ALSO BE PART OF THE CONTINUED EFFORT BY THE FMLN TO TURN UP THE HEAT ON ARENA AS PRESIDENT-ELECT CRISTIANI GETS CLOSER TO TAKING POWER JUNE 1.

3. UNDER THE LEADERSHIP OF DEFENSE MINISTER VIDES, THE MILITARY AND POLICE HAVE ACTED WITH GREAT RESTRAINT. FREDY BELIEVES, HOWEVER, AND WE CONCUR, THAT THE FMLN IS GOING TO STEP UP URBAN DEMONSTRATIONS AND VIOLENCE WITH A VIEW TO PROVOKING THE SECURITY FORCES:

-- FIRST, FREDY KNOWS HE HAS TO CARRY OUT FAIRLY SOON LONG-POSTPONED BUT POLITICALLY SENSITIVE ECONOMIC REFORMS (MANY AT THE URGING OF OUR USAID MISSION). THE POTENTIAL FOR DEMONSTRATIONS BY NON-FMLN SECTORS WILL INCREASE, AND THE FMLN SURELY WILL TRY TO CAPITALIZE ON THEM AND USE THEM TO PROVOKE THE POLICE.

-- SECOND, IT IS CLEAR FROM FMLN PROPAGANDA THAT THE GUERRILLAS SEEK TO PROVOKE ILLEGAL VIOLENCE AND OVERREACTION FROM THE SECURITY FORCES IN ORDER TO SUBSTANTIATE FMLN CHARGES THAT THIS IS A "DEATH SQUAD" GOVERNMENT, WITH A VIEW TO UNDERMINING SUPPORT IN THE U.S. FOR CONTINUED U.S. ASSISTANCE TO THE GOES.

-- THIRD, THE FMLN MAY SENSE THAT RAISING THE "URBAN VIOLENCE" ISSUE WOULD ACCENTUATE THE DIFFERENCES BETWEEN CRISTIANI AND THE ARENA RIGHT WING.

-- FOURTH, THE FMLN PROBABLY KNOWS IT IS LESS ABLE TO CARRY OUT SIGNIFICANT MILITARY ACTIONS IN THE COUNTRYSIDE, AND IS THEREFORE MORE INCLINED TO TAKE THE WAR TO THE CAPITAL AND THE CITIES OF SANTA ANA AND SAN MIGUEL.

4. FREDY'S POINT IS THAT FMLN VIOLENCE AND DEMONSTRATIONS HAVE TO BE RESPONDED TO WITHIN THE LAW, NOT JUST IGNORED AS THEY OFTEN WERE UNDER DUARTE. ON THE OTHER HAND, HE BELIEVES FERVENTLY THAT THE SECURITY FORCES MUST USE RESTRAINT. THAT MEANS HAVING NON-LETHAL EQUIPMENT (TEAR GAS, SHIELDS, RUBBER BULLETS, WATER CANNONS), NOT JUST RIFLES AND MACHINE GUNS. IT MEANS TRAINING AND MAINTAINING POLICE UNITS SPECIALIZED IN DEALING WITH CROWDS, NOT JUST INFANTRYMEN TRAINED TO KILL GUERRILLAS IN THE COUNTRYSIDE.

5. THE CURRENT WAIVER TO 660 OF THE FOREIGN ASSISTANCE ACT EXPIRED IN SEPTEMBER 1987 AND WAS NOT RENEWED; FY-87 MONIES HAVE NOW RUN OUT. OTHER SPECIALIZED POLICE PROGRAMS--ATA, ICITAP, INM--ALL HAVE STRICT MANDATES AND CANNOT BE UTILIZED TO SUPPORT THE KIND OF POLICE PROGRAMS THE PRESIDENT-ELECT HAS IN MIND.

CACERES REOPENS TALKS

2. (U) IN A LETTER TO COPODE SPOKESMAN PATRICIO AYLWIN ON MAY L2, INTERIOR MINISTER CARLOS CACERES INVITED THE OPPOSITION LEADER TO TALK ONCE AGAIN ABOUT CONSTITUTIONAL REFORM, AN ISSUE HE HAD DECLARED CLOSED THE PREVIOUS WEEK (REFTEL). URGING THAT CONVERSATIONS TAKE PLACE AS SOON AS POSSIBLE, CACERES SAID THE GOC WAS WILLING TO REVISE ITS POSITION ON THE MECHANISM OF REFORMING THE CONSTITUTION AND THE COMPOSITION OF THE CONGRESS. HOWEVER, HE DISCOUNTED THE POSSIBILITY THAT THE RN-COPODE AGREEMENT COULD SERVE AS THE BASIS FOR A NEW REFORM PACKAGE. CACERES IS MEETING WITH SERGIO JARPA ON MAY 17.

3. (U) ON THE FOLLOWING DAY, PDC PRESIDENT AYLWIN SAID HE WAS WILLING TO TALK WITH CACERES AS OF MAY 16 BUT NOTED THAT HIS AGREEMENT TO TALK ON THE TWO POINTS OF REFORM DID NOT IMPLY ACCEPTANCE OF THE REST OF THE GOVERNMENT'S FIRST OFFER. MEANWHILE COPODE STATED THAT TO BE SUCCESSFUL, ANY RENEWED TALKS WOULD DEPEND ON THE GOC'S WILLINGNESS TO ADDRESS THREE BASIC CHANGES. THESE INCLUDE THE TWO MENTIONED BY CACERES AND THE ROLE OF THE NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL. (NOTE: THE LATTER POINT WAS ALSO PART OF RN'S PROPOSAL FOR BREAKING THE IMPASSE ON CONSTITUTIONAL REFORM.) HOWEVER, RN GENERAL SECRETARY ANDRES ALLAMAND WARNED COPODE TO FOCUS ITS EFFORTS ON THE FIRST TWO ISSUES, AND NOT FRUSTRATE THE CHANGES FOR REFORM BY TALKING ABOUT UNREALIZABLE IMPROVEMENTS.

UDI POINTS A DIFFERENT WAY

4. (U) ALWAYS EAGER TO BE DIFFERENT, THE INDEPENDENT DEMOCRATIC UNION (UDI) RELEASED ITS OWN PLAN ON MAY L2. THE UDI PROPOSAL SAYS THAT A THREE-FIFTHS QUORUM IS ACCEPTABLE FOR REFORMING THE CONSTITUTION, BUT THAT TWO SUCCESSIVE CONGRESSES ARE NECESSARY TO APPROVE ANY AMENDMENT ON FUNDAMENTAL ISSUES, AS IS ALREADY CALLED FOR IN THE CONSTITUTION. THE PRO-GOVERNMENT PARTY WOULD EXPAND THE LIST OF ISSUES REQUIRING THIS LENGTHIER PROCESS TO INCLUDE CHANGES IN THE REFORM MECHANISM.

HE NOTED HE HAS ALSO RAISED WITH CACERES THE NEED TO CHANGE THE ELECTORAL DISTRICTING LAW AND THE IMPORTANCE OF MAINTAINING FREE POLITICAL ADVERTISING ON TELEVISION. IN A PRESS CONFERENCE ON MAY 16, THE COMMITTEE ON FREE ELECTIONS PRAISED THE REOPENING OF DIALOGUE AND URGED ALL PARTIES INVOLVED TO PUT ASIDE PETTY PARTISAN ADVANTAGES IN THE INTERESTS OF REACHING A SOLUTION THAT COULD PUT CHILEANS AT EASE.

7. (C) COMMENT: CONSTITUTIONAL REFORM HAS PROVED CONFIDENTIAL

TO BE A DIFFICULT ISSUE TO BURY. IT HAS NOW SURVIVED TWO MAJOR POLITICAL STORMS TO RESURFACE AFTER THE CABINET CRISIS AND THE RUPTURE OF GOC-OPPOSITION TALKS. JUNTA MEMBER ADMIRAL MERINO REPORTEDLY MADE A STRONG PITCH FOR REVIVING THE TALKS AT LAST WEEK'S JUNTA MEETING WITH PINOCHET. THE OTHER MAJOR IMPETUS CAME FROM JARPA'S IMPASSIONED PLEA ON NATIONAL TV FOR REFORM NOW IN ORDER TO LEAVE A STABLE INSTITUTIONAL ORDER FOR THE NEXT ADMINISTRATION. OPPOSITION LEADERS WERE IMPRESSED AT THE DEPTH OF HIS COMMITMENT TO DEMOCRATIC CHANGE. PPD GENERAL SECRETARY JORGE SCHAULSOHN TOLD POLOFF THAT COPODE WOULD HAVE TO AGREE TO MAKE CONCESSIONS, IF JARPA HIMSELF ASKED THEM.

8. (C) NOW THAT BUCHI HAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE PRESIDENTIAL SWEEPSTAKES, JARPA'S STAKE IN THE ISSUE IS GREATLY INCREASED. IF SUCCESSFUL IN PUSHING REFORMS, HE WILL EMERGE LOOKING LIKE THE STATESMAN OF CHILE'S DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION, WHICH WILL HELP HIS NEAR-CERTAIN PRESIDENTIAL RACE IMMENSELY. IF HE FAILS, HE WILL HAVE GIVEN CHILEANS ANOTHER BITTER REMINDER OF THE FRUSTRATED NEGOTIATIONS OF 1983-84. AYLWIN WILL NO DOUBT BE WILLING TO FACE SUCH A CHALLENGE, BELIEVING THAT EITHER WAY HE CAN BEAT JARPA IN A NATIONAL ELECTION. PINOCHET AND THE UDI WILL HAVE MORE PROBLEMS, BUT MAY HAVE LITTLE CHOICE AT THIS POINT. END COMMENT. GILLESPIE

1. (C) SUMMARY AND ACTION REQUESTED. CHILEAN FOREIGN MINISTER HERNAN FELIPE ERRAZURIZ ANNOUNCED ON MAY 16 THAT CHILE WOULD NOT ACCEPT A REPLACEMENT FOR UN SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FERNANDO VOLIO, AND HAS SO ADVISED U.N. SECRETARY GENERAL PEREZ DE CUELLAR. IT IS UNLIKELY THAT GOC CAN BE TURNED AROUND ON THIS POSITION. TRANSITION AND NORMALITY, WHICH DOES NOT DESERVE THE ASSIGNMENT OF A RAPPORTEUR...OUR EXPERIENCE (IN THIS SITUATION) HAS DEFINITELY BEEN BAD AND, FOR THAT REASON, WE DO NOT CARE TO REPEAT IT". HE NOTED THAT VOLIO HAD PERFORMED AN IMPORTANT JOB, HAD UNDERSTOOD THE CHILEAN SITUATION AND HAD UNDERLINED THE TERRORISM IN CHILE BUT HIS REPORTS WERE NOT GIVEN FAIR WEIGHT BY THE UNHRC; VOLIO, HE SAID, REALIZED THIS, AS DID CHILE. ERRAZURIZ ADDED THAT HE ANTICIPATED CRITICISM FOR CHILE'S DECISION NOT TO ACCEPT A REPLACEMENT FOR VOLIO, BUT SAID THAT THIS CRITICISM IS LIKELY TO DISAPPEAR INTO VACUUM BECAUSE THE REALITY OF CHILE IS DIFFERENT TODAY. ERRAZURIZ ALSO ADDED THAT CHILE WAS PREPARED TO COOPERATE WITH MULTILATERAL ORGANIZATIONS CONCERNED WITH HUMAN RIGHTS, BUT WOULD NOT AGREE TO ACCEPT SPECIAL TREATMENT OR TO HAVE ITS AFFAIRS TREATED AS SPECIAL AGENDA ITEMS.

3. (C) COMMENT: THE GOC IS TAKING ADVANTAGE OF VOLIO'S RESIGNATION TO TRY TO ACHIEVE ITS LONG-STANDING OBJECTIVE OF ENDING SPECIAL TREATMENT IN THE UNHRC. VOLIO HAS PLAYED AN IMPORTANT ROLE IN HIGHLIGHTING HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES IN CHILE AND IN URGING IMPROVEMENTS IN CHILE. HOWEVER, WE NOTE THAT THE TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY IS WELL IN TRAIN AND THAT A FREELY ELECTED GOVERNMENT IS SCHEDULED TO REPLACE THE PINOCHET REGIME IN MARCH 1990, GIVING A NEW RAPPORTEUR, ASSUMING CHILE COULD BE PERSUADED TO ACCEPT HIM OR HER, LESS THAN A YEAR TO INFLUENCE THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT. WE ASSUME, HOWEVER, THAT UNHRC CHAIRMAN IS REQUIRED BY TERMS OF THIS YEAR'S RESOLUTION ON CHILE TO APPOINT A REPLACEMENT FOR VOLIO, WHETHER OR NOT THERE IS MUCH PROSPECT OF ACCOMPLISHMENT BETWEEN NOW AND THE MARCH 1990 MEETING OF THE UNHRC. HOPEFULLY, THAT MEETING, WHICH WILL COINCIDE WITH THE INAUGURATION OF A DEMOCRATICALLY ELECTED GOVERNMENT, WILL DECIDE TO TERMINATE THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR'S WORK.

4. (C) ANY HOPE FOR GETTING GOC TO ACCEPT NEW RAPPORTEUR HINGES ON SELECTION OF MODERATE, REASONABLE REPLACEMENT FOR VOLIO WITH WHOM CHILEANS BELIEVE THEY COULD WORK. INSOFAR AS WE CAN INFLUENCE UNHRC WE SHOULD ATTEMPT TO ASSURE SUCH A CHOICE.

EMBASSY IS PREPARED TO ASSIST IN DOING GROUNDWORK WITH GOC IN THIS PROCESS. APPOINTMENT OF A RAPPORTEUR WHOM CHILE REFUSES TO ACCEPT WILL DO NOTHING TO ENHANCE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE, AND SERVE ONLY TO DRIVE CHILE INTO FURTHER ISOLATION FROM THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY WHEN OUR OBJECTIVE IS TO ENCOURAGE ITS COOPERATION.

5. (C) ACTION REQUESTED: DEPARTMENT IS REQUESTED TO PROVIDE GUIDANCE FOR EFFORT TO GET GOC TO CHANGE ITS POSITION. WE HAVE LITTLE HOPE OF TURNING IT AROUND, BUT BELIEVE WE SHOULD MAKE THE EFFORT IF MANDATE OF SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR IS TO BE CONTINUED. END COMMENT. GILLESPIE

CASE Letelier R

MEMORANDUM

TO: L - Judge Sofaer
L - Ms. Verville

FROM: L/M/DL - Joan E. Donoghue JED

SUBJECT: Meeting with Congressman Berman's Staff

This afternoon, David Jones and I met with Ken Segal of Congressman Berman's staff and Samuel Buffone, counsel for the Letelier plaintiffs. Our objective was to obtain a better understanding of the bill that Berman introduced on May 1, which is poorly drafted and confusing.

H.R. 2163 would eliminate the nexus requirement in two kinds of cases:

> "in the case of a claim based upon acts of violence in the United States intended to or actually resulting in bodily harm;"
> in cases "in which the property belongs to a foreign state or an agency, instrumentality, or political subdivision of a foreign state engaged in a commercial activity in the United States and the judgment relates to a claim for which the foreign state is not immune from jurisdiction by virtue of section 1605 or section 1607 of the chapter."

Buffone (who drafted the bill) confirmed Segal's earlier statement that the objective of the bill was to draft a provision that would achieve the objectives of the Letelier plaintiffs in as narrow a way as possible. We explained that this objective appeared inconsistent with the provisions of the bill. In the first exception, the bill would remove the nexus requirement in a narrow category of cases -- claims based on acts of violence in the United States. The second exception, however, would eliminate the nexus requirement in all cases in which the foreign state is not immune. After some discussion, Buffone agreed that this second exception goes far beyond his stated objective.

Box 1 of 4

UNCLASSIFIED

We also discussed whether the bill is intended to overrule Bancec and create a special rule that disregards separate juridical entities in "acts of violence" cases. It appears that Buffone intends that result, but he was unclear on this point.

Buffone is going to redraft the bill and it seems likely that Berman will introduce a revised version. Buffone (but not Segal) pressed for some statement about the Department's position on the bill, but we made clear that we were not in a position to give our views on the bill. Rather, our objective was to gain an understanding of the bill, without which the Department could not begin to study it seriously. We told him that our analysis would await receipt of the new version.

Buffone expressed certainty that the bill will pass in the House again this year, and that its prospects are good in the Senate. He also stated that LAN Chile is judgment-proof at this stage, because it leases rather than owns its planes and has transferred many of its operations to Canada. He has other Chilean assets in mind, but did not tell us what they are.

SUBJECT: VOLIO READY TO RETURN AS SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR IF GOC AGREES; REQUESTS SANTIAGO'S ASSISTANCE

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT

2. VOLIO BACK IN THE GAME: FERNANDO VOLIO CALLED POLOFF THE AFTERNOON OF MAY 19 TO STATE THAT HE IS PREPARED TO RETURN TO WORK AS THE UN SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE IF THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT CONCURS. VOLIO ASKED THAT WE PASS TO EMBASSY SANTIAGO HIS REQUEST THAT IT TRY TO DETERMINE --WITHOUT INDICATING THAT IT WAS ASKING ON HIS BEHALF-- WHETHER THE GOC WOULD AGREE TO ACCEPT HIM.

3. EAGLEBURGER LETTER IMPORTANT: VOLIO SAID THAT SINCE ANNOUNCING HIS INTENTION TO STEP DOWN HE HAD BEEN OVERWHELMED WITH LETTERS IMPLORING HIM TO RECONSIDER. ACTING SECRETARY EAGLEBURGER'S LETTER (STATE 152832), HE SAID, HAD BEEN PARTICULARLY GRATIFYING. HE LAUGHED THAT THE CHILEAN HUMAN RIGHTS ASSOCIATION, WHICH IN THE PAST HAD MADE HIS WORK DIFFICULT BY SUPPORTING "THE INTERNATIONAL LOBBY AGAINST CHILE," NOW APPRECIATES WHAT CONFIDENTIAL

HE DID AND HAS ASKED THAT HE STAY ON. A SIMILAR REQUEST FROM THE VICARIATE FOR HUMAN RIGHTS ALSO GREATLY AFFECTED HIM. VOLIO SAID EVEN GOC ROVING AMBASSADOR ON HUMAN RIGHTS MARIO CALDERON AND FOREIGN MINISTER ERRAZURIZ HIMSELF HAVE WRITTEN HIM LAUDING HIS EFFORTS.

4. ERRAZURIZ ANNOUNCEMENT SPARKED HIS MOVE: VOLIO SAID THAT THE DETERMINING FACTOR IN HIS RECONSIDERATION WAS THE STATEMENT OF CHILEAN FOREIGN MINISTER ERRAZURIZ THAT THE GOC WOULD NOT ACCEPT A REPLACEMENT FOR VOLIO AS SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR (SANTIAGO 4976). VOLIO, AFTER RECEIVING FROM US THE UNCLASSIFIED PORTIONS OF SANTIAGO'S CABLE, SAID HE IMMEDIATELY CONTACTED THE CHILEAN AMBASSADOR HERE AND ARRANGED FOR A MAY 22 MEETING. VOLIO'S INTENTION AT THAT MEETING IS TO DISCUSS THE FULL TEXT OF ERRAZURIZ' REMARKS AND PROBE FOR GOC VIEWS ON WHETHER IT WOULD ACCEPT HIS RETURN (VOLIO NOTED WRYLY THAT WHILE THE GOC HAS HAD NOTHING BUT COMPLIMENTS FOR HIS WORK IN LAMENTING HIS DEPARTURE, AT NO TIME HAS IT INVITED HIM TO RETURN).

5. WILL SEEK LIGHTER LOAD: VOLIO SAID HE WILL SOON CONTACT THE HUMAN RIGHTS CENTER IN GENEVA TO INFORM IT OF HIS WILLINGNESS TO RETURN (APPARENTLY CONTINGENT ON WHETHER THE GOC WOULD ACCEPT HIM). HE SAID HE WOULD SEEK TO REDUCE HIS INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL BY CUTTING OUT HIS ANNUAL TRIP TO THE UNGA, AND WOULD TRAVEL TO CHILE ONLY FOR THE ELECTIONS. HE WOULD ALSO ACCEPT INCREASED CLERICAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE SUPPORT WHICH THE HUMAN RIGHTS CENTER HAS OFFERED IN THE PAST.

6. WANTS END TO DISCRIMINATORY TREATMENT: VOLIO SAID THAT CHILE HAS MADE GREAT STRIDES IN HUMAN RIGHTS BY CONFIDENTIAL

FOLLOWING A MODERATE PATH UNDER THE GOADING OF WATCHDOGS SUCH AS HIMSELF. HE IS CONCERNED THAT IF THE GOC REFUSES TO ACCEPT A NEW RAPPORTEUR, A VACCUUM IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS AREA COULD DEVELOP. TO KEEP THE PROCESS MOVING, VOLIO SAID ONE OF HIS GOALS UPON HIS RETURN WOULD BE TO END DISCRIMINATORY TREATMENT OF CHILE AT THE UNHRC. HE WOULD PRESS FOR AN END TO CONSIDERATION OF CHILE AS A SPECIAL CASE, UNDER ITEM 5, AND ARGUE THAT CHILE SHOULD BE MOVED TO ITEM 12 WHERE IT WOULD BE CONSIDERED, ON HUMAN RIGHTS GROUNDS, TOGETHER WITH VARIOUS OTHER COUNTRIES. HE ASKED THAT THE USG SUPPORT THIS CHANGE.

7. COMMENT: WE'RE PLEASED TO SEE VOLIO READY TO GET BACK IN THE TRACES. WOULD APPRECIATE EMBASSY SANTIAGO'S LOOKING INTO WHETHER THE GOC WILL ACCEPT HIS RETURN. VOLIO, A PROUD MAN, OBVIOUSLY DOES NOT WISH TO PUBLICLY STATE THAT HE IS WILLING TO RETURN ONLY TO BE REBUFFED. HINTON

1. AS REQUESTED REFTEL A, THE FOLLOWING IS A DRAFT OF THE 1988 CHILE COUNTRY REPORT ON REFUGEE ACTIVITIES.

2. ALTHOUGH NO FIRM DATA ARE AVAILABLE, OVER 1,000,000 CHILEANS (APPROXIMATELY 10 PERCENT OF THE TOTAL POPULATION) ARE BELIEVED TO LIVE ABROAD. THE MAJORITY OF THESE ARE ECONOMIC MIGRANTS AND PERHAPS HALF OF THE TOTAL LIVES IN ARGENTINA. SINCE THE 1973 MILITARY COUP, 200,000 TO 250,000 CHILEANS ARE BELIEVED TO HAVE LEFT THE COUNTRY FOR POLITICAL OR ECONOMIC REASONS. THE STRONG ANTI-MARXIST STAND OF THE PRESENT GOC AND ITS HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES LED MANY CHILEANS TO DEPART EITHER OUT OF POLITICAL DISAGREEMENTS WITH THE PRESENT REGIME OR OUT OF FEAR FOR THEIR PERSONAL WELL-BEING. THE ARGENTINE CONNECTION IS DUE TO CLOSE PROXIMITY, AN EXTENSIVE BORDER AND, UNTIL RECENTLY, HIGHER PREVAILING WAGES IN ARGENTINA. LARGE CHILEAN COLONIES EXIST IN THE MENDOZA AREA AND IN PATAGONIA. APPROXIMATELY 100,000 CHILEANS HAVE SETTLED IN EUROPE SINCE 1973, MOSTLY IN SPAIN (FOR CULTURAL REASONS) OR NORTHERN EUROPE (FOR POLITICAL REASONS). THERE ARE RESETTLEMENT PROGRAMS WITH OTHER COUNTRIES, SUCH AS FRANCE, ITALY AND MEXICO. THE INTERGOVERNMENTAL COMMISSION ON MIGRATION (ICM) REPORTS THAT IT ASSISTED 1,410 CHILEANS IN A SPECIAL RESETTLEMENT PROGRAM TO SETTLE ABROAD DURING 1988, WITH 717 GOING TO AUSTRALIA, 287 TO CANADA AND 255 TO SWEDEN. AS OF THE END OF APRIL 1989, THE ICM HAD ASSISTED ANOTHER 490 CHILEANS TO LEAVE CHILE; 85 WENT TO MEXICO, 55 TO ITALY AND 45 TO FRANCE. ACCORDING TO ICM ESTIMATES, MANY OF THOSE LEAVING IN 1988 AND 1989 WENT TO JOIN FAMILY MEMBERS WHO HAD LEFT CHILE EARLIER FOR POLITICAL REASONS. FROM 1973 UNTIL APRIL 3, 1989, THE ICM HAS HELPED 29,754 CHILEANS UNDER ITS RESETTLEMENT PROGRAMS. Dear Mr. Lightfoot:

I am writing in response to your February 22 inquiry regarding the concern of your constituent, [redacted] over El Salvador.

El Salvador's efforts to institute democracy, enforce respect for human rights, and redress social injustice are complicated and severely tested by the existence of a Marxist-Leninist guerrilla insurgency supported by Nicaragua, Cuba, and the Soviet Union. The five organizations that form the Farabundo Marti Front for National Liberation (FMLN) have been engaged in armed conflict against the Government since 1980 and are dedicated to the violent overthrow of the democratic process.

In recent years the FMLN, with an estimated 6,000 to 8,000 full-time guerrillas backed by a network of front groups consisting of part-time militia, clandestine cells, and paramilitary civilian supporters, has stepped up its program of urban bombings and assassinations of unprotected government officials. The FMLN has embarked on a campaign of threatening and assassinating mayors. Since March 1988, 10 mayors and 1 former mayor have been killed by the FMLN and over 90 of the country's 262 mayors have been forced to resign in the face of guerrilla threats. The FMLN also has increasingly relied on children for combat and support tasks in 1988. Finally, the insurgents have continued to seek to destroy the economy by attacking infrastructure and production facilities.

The armed forces total 56,000, including some 11,500 members of the three police forces, which are under the control of the Defense Ministry. As the insurgency gathered strength in the early 1980's, members of the security forces committed numerous human rights violations, including killings, disappearances, and torture. Up to 1983 members of the security forces acquiesced in the operations of several formal paramilitary groups operating as right wing death squads. Some of the paramilitary groups are believed to have contained individuals who belongded at the same time to the police or military.

While the formal paramilitary death squads appeared to cease their operations after 1983, rightwing vigilantism has continued, albeit at much lower levels than the pre-1983 period. Reports in 1988 of efforts to resuscitate these formal paramilitary groups have not been substantiated.

Jime Lightfoot,

[illegible] Project (1990)

The Department of State continues to give a high priority to assisting El Salvador further consolidate its constitutional democracy. It is our policy to help the Salvadoran government and people establish a durable democracy which respects human rights and has a viable justice system. At the same time, we are also helping the Salvadorans combat the Marxist insurgency which has been seeking to overthrow the government for the last nine years.

Our firm commitment to these goals was emphasized by Vice President Quayle during his recent visit to El Salvador. The Vice President told Salvadoran political and military leaders that the United States would continue to help El Salvador provided there was continued improvement in human rights observance. Since the Vice President's trip, there have been significant developments in the San Sebastian case, in which two officers and seven enlisted men are accused of executing ten peasants. The Salvadoran military formed an honor board which found evidence of culpability by the accused. These soldiers have been dismissed from the military and remanded to the civilian courts for prosecution. We will continue to press the Government of El Salvador to bring this case to a just conclusion.

Our policy in El Salvador has consistently supported efforts to reach a negotiated resolution of the conflict. We encouraged the Salvadoran government to carefully consider the election proposal the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front (FMLN) offered in January. The Salvadoran political parties met with the FMLN in Mexico. President Duarte responded by holding out the possibility of postponing elections and proposed that the FMLN meet with a government commission. The Salvadoran military, in support of President Duarte's proposal, announced a unilateral cease-fire from March 1 to June 1, which remains in effect. Despite the government's good faith attempt to find a peaceful solution, the FMLN refused to address the key issues of when the guerrillas would halt their attacks against civilians and elected officials and the FMLN's eventual demobilization.

Instead, the FMLN stepped-up its campaign of terrorism in an effort to disrupt the elections, to include bombings and assassinations. However, despite guerrilla intimidation against voters, death threats against voting officials, a transportation stoppage, and attacks on the power supply, over one million Salvadorans braved this intimidation to cast ballots. On June 1, El Salvador will achieve another milestone in its democratic development, when one democratically-elected president peacefully transfers power to another.

It is worth noting that despite the FMLN's rejection of the electoral process and its demonstrated commitment to terrorism as a way to achieve power, its political allies in the Democratic Convergence (CD) chose to remain in the election.

RELEASED

Special Project (1993)

Following the CD's fourth place finish, with 3.8 percent of the vote, CD presidential candidate Guillermo Ungo stated that the FMLN's campaign of violence to discredit the elections had hurt his party at the polls.

The people of El Salvador have struggled for nine years to build democracy in the face of political violence, and they deserve our support. President-elect Cristiani was recently in Washington to meet with several Senators and Congressmen. He asked for a chance to put his team and policies into place and to begin to govern before his government is judged. We will assess the new government on its performance in further improving the observance of human rights standards. We will continue to support it if it continues the progress on democratization and human rights observance achieved by the Duarte administration.

Notifico a Ud. la siguiente resolución recaída en la causa Rol.Nº 29-81.-

//tiago, veintidos de Mayo de mil novecientos ochenta y siete.- 12 05 19 8 7

Vistos:

No apareciendo del mérito de autos que en la especie concurriere aquel hecho sobreviniente que, con arreglo a la ley, permitiere dictar auto de sobreseimiento en la causa en los términos del Nº6 del artículo 408 del Código de Procedimiento Penal, se revoca la resolución apelada de veinticuatro de Octubre de mil novecientos ochenta y cinco que corre agregada a fs.2.120 en el proceso objeto del recurso, con declaración que se mantiene el sobreseimiento temporal, que en virtud del artículo 409 Nº2 del Código de Enjuiciamiento, dictó la Excma. Corte Suprema con fecha catorce de Enero de mil novecientos ochenta y dos.

Teniendo presente la presentación hecha por la parte perjudicada a fs.2.128, vuelva la presente causa rol 192-78 al Segundo Juzgado Militar conjuntamente con los documentos remitidos por el Ministerio de Relaciones Exteriores de Chile para los fines a que haya lugar.

Acordada, en la parte en que mantiene el sobreseimiento temporal, con el voto en contra del Presidente don Luis Correa Bulo y del Ministro don Alberto Chaigneau del Campo, quienes estuvieron por revocar la resolución de que se trata y declarar que se vuelve la causa al estado de sumario, en virtud de las siguientes consideraciones:

1.- Que este expediente fue incoado con el objeto de investigar el presunto delito de falsificación documentaria que fue denunciado, pero además, con la finalidad de realizar las averiguaciones tendientes a determinar si alguno de los inculpados tuvo una participación culpable y penada por la ley en los hechos que causaron las muertes de Orlando Letelier del Solar y de Ronni Moffit, perpetradas el 21 de Setiembre de 1976;

2.- Que por las características que rodearon el homicidio de los indicados Letelier y Moffit, es posible considerarlo como de aquellos que nuestra legislación penal describe en el Nº1 del artículo 391 del Código Penal y que, a su vez, sanciona con las penas de presidio mayor en su grado medio a presidio perpetuo, para el caso en que fueren cometidos con alguna de las circunstancias que allí se señalan;

3.- Que, en tal predicamento como el señalado precedentemente, debe tenerse en consideración que, de acuerdo a lo que determina el inciso segundo del artículo 94 del Código Punitivo, la acción penal para proceder en delitos como el indicado, prescribe en el lapso de quince años, situación legal que, por sí sola, impide dictar un sobreseimiento definitivo como el que fue motivo del recurso que se conoce y que se dictó a fs.2.120;

4.- Que, además, a juicio de estos disidentes, no sólo procede, acogiendo la apelación planteada, dejar sin efecto el sobreseimiento definitivo, sino que sería procedente reabrir el sumario con el objeto de proseguir la investigación sobre el homicidio calificado de Letelier y de Moffit y de la falsificación documentaria que, supuestamente, habría sido el necesario antecedente para lograr el delito que primeramente se ha señalado. En efecto, parece a estos Ministros que no es posible mantener, como es la opinión de la mayoría, el sobreseimiento temporal que, según copia autorizada que se acompaña a fs.2.115, fuera dictado por la Excma. Corte Suprema de Justicia el día 14 de Enero de 1982, ya que la actual fecha han surgido hechos nuevos que hacen indispensable, en aras de la búsqueda de la verdad que caracteriza a todo proceso criminal, que se reabra el sumario;

5.- Que, esta creencia de la minoría es avalada por los documentos que han sido enviados a la I. Corte Marcial por el señor Ministro de Relaciones Exteriores Subrogante, Teniente General don Sergio Covarrubias Sanhueza, los que se ordenó se tuvieran presentes en la vista de este recurso. De ellos consta que Armando Fernández Larios ha prestado ante un tribunal de los Estados Unidos de Norteamérica, una declaración que contradice fundamentalmente aquella que hizo en su oportunidad, en esta causa. Aún cuando no es desconocido para estos discordantes que aquellas no pueden ser valoradas como una deposición hecha ante un tribunal nacional, sin embargo, por haber sido dadas ante un órgano jurisdiccional extranjero, conforme a las leyes que allí se aceptan comunmente, les parece que no pueden ser ignoradas en beneficio de la prudencia y de la equidad.

Devuélvanse conjuntamente con los documentos que se han tenido a la vista.

Redacción del voto de mayoría del señor Ministro don Joaquín Fritzsche Thomas y del de minoría del señor Ministro don Alberto Cienfuegos del Campo.

ACTION MEMORANDUM S/S

TO : The Secretary
THROUGH: E - Amb. McCormack
FROM : Eugene J. McAllister

SUBJECT: Request to Expand GSM-102 Program

ISSUE

Whether to sign a letter to Clayton Yeutter requesting that he increase the limit on the GSM-102 Export Credit Guarantee Program for U.S. agricultural exports from $5 billion to $6 billion.

BACKGROUND

- GSM 102 allows USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) to guarantee 98% of commercial bank loans of up to three years to finance the export of U.S. agricultural products.

- The Food Security Act of 1985 states that for fiscal years 1986-90, the CCC shall make available not less than $5 billion in GSM 102 credit guarantees. However, USDA and OMB interpret this as a $5 billion ceiling.

- In prior years, GSM 102 has not been fully utilized. This year, because of increasing familiarity with the program and the high cost of wheat (which increased in price by 35% since last year), the full $5 billion is committed and the United States has received requests for an additional $1.5 billion.

- Countries requesting additional GSM include Mexico, $500 million, Egypt, $250 million, Trinidad and Tobago, $40 million, Iraq, $150 million, Algeria, $100 million. We understand that shortly we will be receiving a high-level request from the government of Venezuela for $185 million.

- GSM is a key issue in the Mexican debt rescheduling and may play a crucial role in a successful Paris Club negotiation and smooth implementation of the Brady Plan.

2. (U) THE ARMY SPOKESMAN, COL. ISAACS, CALLED THE PSI'S REPORTED NOMINATION OF MENCHU "A BAD JOKE." THE ARMY SPOKESMAN SAID THAT HER NOMINATION, IF IN FACT IT HAS TAKEN PLACE, FORMS PART OF A CAMPAIGN TO LEND INTERNATIONAL LEGITIMACY TO GUATEMALA'S GUERRILLA MOVEMENTS. ISAACS WENT ON TO STATE THAT SINCE MENCHU HAD AVAILED HERSELF OF THE AMNESTY OFFERED TO EX-GUERRILLAS, HE COULD NOT SPEAK ABOUT ANY POSSIBLE SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES SHE MIGHT HAVE ENGAGED IN PREVIOUSLY. ISAACS SAID, HOWEVER, THAT MENCHU HAS NONE OF THE QUALITIES REQUIRED OF A NOBEL PRIZE WINNER.

3. (U) A PROMINENT CENTRIST DEPUTY, LUNA TROCCOLI, IS QUOTED AS SAYING THAT WHILE MENCHU HAS THE RIGHT TO COMPETE FOR THE PRIZE, AND AN ITALIAN POLITICAL PARTY HAS THE RIGHT TO NOMINATE HER, ANY SERIOUS REFLECTION WOULD SHOW THAT MENCHU DOES NOT MEET THE MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS EXPECTED OF A NOBEL RECIPIENT. SHE HAS CONFINED HER ACTIVITIES, HE SAID, TO ACCUSATIONS AND CRITICISMS; SHE HAS NOT WORKED FOR PEACE.

UNCLASSIFIED

4. (U) BROTHER OF A FORMER CHIEF-OF-STATE (1978-82) AND CURRENTLY A PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE HIMSELF, GEN. BENEDICTO LUCAS STATED THAT THE ARMY HAS "PROOF" THAT MENCHU ENGAGED IN SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES. ACCORDING TO LUCAS, MENCHU CAN ONLY WIN THE PRIZE WITH THE SUPPORT OF ULTRA-LEFTIST EUROPEAN GROUPS.

5. (U) TWO REPRESENTATIVES OF QUICHE INDIGENOUS PEOPLE REPORTEDLY STATED THAT GIVING MENCHU THE PRIZE EQUALS GIVING IT TO THE GUERRILLAS. ONE REPRESENTATIVE SAID MENCHU, A NATIVE OF QUICHE, ISINOW KNOWN TO THE AREA ONLY FROM PICTURES IN THE PRESS AS SHE SPENDS MOST OF HER TIME ABROAD. AN INDIGENOUS PROFESSOR IS CITED AS [redacted]

SAYING THAT WHILE MENCHU AND HER FAMILY MIGHT HAVE SUFFERED IN THE PAST, THAT IS NOT SUFFICIENT TO WIN THE NOBEL PEACE PRIZE.

6. (U) A LABOR LEADER, RIVAS REYNOSO, IS CITED AS EXPRESSING ADMIRATION FOR MENCHU'S SUFFERING BUT ALSO DENYING THAT SHE HAS THE QUALITIES NEEDED TO MERIT THE PRIZE. HE SAID THAT WHILE HER ACTIVITIES HAVE EARNED FAME ABROAD, SHE IS NOW TOO POLITICALLY "COMPROMISED."

7. [redacted] COMMENT: CAN CENTRAL AMERICA LIVE WITH TWO NOBEL PRIZE WINNERS?

A LOCAL PAPER HAS RUN A CARTOON OF THE PLUMP RIGOBERTA CLAD IN A REVEALING BIKINI, SURROUNDED BY MONEY, FOOD, AND DRINKS, RIDING IN A GONDOLA PUNTED BY A SEEDY, HAMMER-AND-SICKLE WEARING ITALIAN SOCIALIST POLITICIAN. NO ONE IN THIS EMBASSY WILL CONFESS TO HAVING SEEN RIGOBERTA IN ANYTHING LESS THAN HER CUSTOMARY "INDIGENOUS" COSTUME, SO WE CANNOT VOUCH FOR THE ACCURACY OF THE ARTIST'S RENDERING. WHILE WE--AND THE ITALIAN EMBASSY HERE--DOUBT THAT HER NOMINATION BY THE PSI IS ANYTHING OTHER THAN A LEFTIST PUBLICITY STUNT, IT IS INTERESTING TO NOTE THE REACTION THE CERIGUA REPORT HAS DRAWN. CLEARLY, THE SUBJECT OF RIGOBERTA AND THE AGAIN SDLF-EXILED RUOG (UNITED REPRESENTATIVES OF THE GUATEMALAN OPPOSTION) SHE NOMINALLY HEADS REMAIN VERY SENSITIVE.

Dear David:

In accordance with our phone discussion of this morning, enclosed is a redrafted version of H.R. 2163. It is my intention to have this version of the legislation introduced in the House and Senate this week.

I very much appreciate your office's comments on the earlier draft of the legislation. It is our intention to submit as narrowly crafted a bill as possible consistent with our objective of collecting the Letelier judgment.

You will note that the proposed amendment to Section 1610(a) contained at page 2, lines 1-3 of H.R. 2163, has not been modified. It is not our intention to legislatively overrule Bancec by this amendment. Rather, it is our intention to embrace the holding of Bancec by clarifying congressional intention that courts should apply traditional equitable principles and look to the nature of the relationship between the instrumentality and the state.

I appreciate your willingness to review this draft of the legislation. If you have any comments or suggested changes, please communicate with me as quickly as possible.

Yours truly,

SUBJECT: UPDATE ON LAGUNA VERDE

1. SINCE MAY 3, THE NUCLEAR PLANT AT LAGUNA VERDE HAS BEEN ON A REDUCED POWER STATUS AND HAS CEASED SUPPLYING ELECTRICITY TO THE NATIONAL GRID IN ORDER TO UNDERGO AN INTENSIVE MAINTENANCE PROGRAM.

2. ON MAY 18, THE FEDERAL ELECTRICITY COMMISSION (CFE) TOLD US THAT APPROXIMATELY 25 PERCENT OF THE TESTS OF THE UTILITIES ARE DONE AND THAT THEY HOPE ALL WILL BE COMPLETED BY THE END OF THE YEAR. HE SAID THAT TECHNICALLY EVERYTHING IS GOING WELL. THE OUTPUT OF THE PLANT IS LIMITED TO A MAXIMUM OF 50 MEGAWATTS UNTIL THE NATIONAL COMMISSION OF NUCLEAR SAFETY AND SAFEGUARDS (CNSNS) CAN COMPLETE ITS EVALUATIONS OF THE PLANT AND THE EMERGENCY EVACUATION PLAN. THE EMERGENCY PLAN IS STILL BEING DEVELOPED. DURING THE WEEK OF MAY 15-19 MANY HIGH LEVEL OFFICIALS OF THE SECRETARIAT OF HEALTH WERE IN VERACRUZ WORKING ON THEIR PORTION OF THE PLAN.

3. EMBASSY CONTACT AT CNSNS NOTED THAT A COMPLETELY SUCCESSFUL EMERGENCY EVACUATION EXERCISE MUST BE CARRIED OUT BEFORE THE PLANT JILL BE ALLOWED TO EXCEED THE 50

MEGAWATT POWER LEVEL.

4. THE DAILY NEWSPAPER LA JORNADA REPORTED ON MAY 12 THAT CFE SPECIFIED THAT LAGUNA VERDE UNIT I HAS COMPLETED 31.78 PERCENT OF THE JORK ON THIS FIFTH MAJOR MAINTENANCE CYCLE. THEY ADDED THAT TO DATE THE REACTOR CONTINUES UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF THE CNSNS (AN AGENCY OF THE SECRETARIAT OF ENERGY, MINES AND PARASTATAL INDUSTRY--SEMIP). THE REPORT STATED THAT THE MAIN ACTIVITIES OF THE MAINTENANCE WORK HAVE INCLUDED THE INSTALLATION OF ISOLATORS IN THE TOP OF THE REACTOR; IMPROVEMENTS IN DESIGN TO THE THIRD OF THE THREE DIESEL GENERATORS WHICH THEY RELY ON FOR ELECTRICITY WHENEVER THEY ARE DOWN FOR MAINTENANCE OR FUEL LOADING; REGENERATION OF RESINS FOR THE FILTERS WHERE THE WATER FOR THE PRIMARY CIRCUIT IS PURIFIED; MAJOR MAINTENANCE TO THE TURBO PUMPS WHICH SUPPLY THE FEED WATER TO THE REACTOR; AND MODIFICATIONS TO IMPROVE THE DESIGN OF THE WATER COOLING AND VAPOR CONDENSING SYSTEMS.

4. ACCORDING TO THE REPORT IN LA JORNADA, UNIT I INCREASED ITS CONTRIBUTION TO THE NATIONAL GRID THE WEEK BEFORE BEING CLOSED FOR MAINTENANCE TO 2,877 MEGAWATTS PER HOUR, WITH AN AVERAGE OUTPUT OF 6.4 PERCENT OF CAPACITY. DURING THE SAME TIME PERIOD THE REACTOR INCURRED THE NINTH AUTOMATIC SHUTDOWN AS A RESULT OF METALLIC RESIDUES FOUND IN THE FEED WATER. DISCOVERY OF THE RESIDUES REQUIRED A REDUCTION OF POWER TO LESS THAN 10 PERCENT OF APPROVED POWER LEVEL. THIS IN TURN TRIGGERED THE SCRAM, WHICH WENT INTO EFFECT "IN A SAFE UNCLASSIFIED

AND COMPLETELY CONTROLLED MANNER, IN CONFORMANCE WITH THE DESIGN".

5. AN ARTICLE IN THE WEEKLY PUBLICATION PROCESO OF MAY 8, 1989 ALLEGES THAT THE SHUTDOWN FOR MAINTENANCE WAS ORDERED BY CNSNS AFTER MEMBERS OF THE COMMISSION DISCOVERED TRACES OF METAL IN THE FEED WATER OF THE REACTOR. ON ANOTHER MATTER, THE MAGAZINE CLAIMS TO HAVE OBTAINED TWO LETTERS WRITTEN ON SEMIP LETTERHEAD AND OSTENSIBLY FROM THE CNSNS WHICH THEY QUOTE AS SAYING THAT THE DIRECTORS OF LAGUNA VERDE HAVE NOT TRAINED THEIR EMPLOYEES SUFFICIENTLY TO FOLLOW RULES AND PROCEDURES TO ENSURE PROTECTION FROM RADIATION.

6. EMBASSY COMMENT: REPORTS ABOUT MALFUNCTIONS AT LAGUNA VERDE ABOUND IN THE OPPOSITION PRESS AND FROM VARIOUS ECOLOGY GROUPS, BUT TESTS CONTINUE AND CFE SEEMS FAIRLY OPTIMISTIC ABOUT GEARING UP TO FULL POWER BY THE END OF THE YEAR. THE MAJOR HOLD-UP AT THIS POINT IS THE EMERGENCY EVACUATION PLAN WHICH APPARENTLY HAS TO HAVE INPUT FROM A NUMBER OF GOVERNMENT AGENCIES - ALL OF WHOM HAVE NOT BEEN FORTHCOMING. END COMMENT.

SUBJ: OPPOSITION ACCEPTS GOC PROPOSAL FOR CONSTITUTIONAL REFORM

REF: SANTIAGO 5242

1. (U) AFTER A THREE-HOUR MEETING ON MAY 31, THE COALITION OF PARTIES FOR DEMOCRACY (COPODE) DECIDED TO ACCEPT THE FINAL PROPOSAL OFFERED BY THE GOVERNMENT FOR REFORMING THE CONSTITUTION. COPODE SPOKESMAN PATRICIO AYLWIN READ A BRIEF STATEMENT TO THE PRESS INDICATING THAT DURING A SERIES OF GOC-OPPOSITION MEETINGS, THE COALITION HAD PUT FORWARD ITS IDEAS FOR REFORM WITH THE AIM OF ARRIVING AT A NATIONAL CONSENSUS. SOME OF ITS PROPOSALS WERE TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT, WHILE OTHER POINTS REMAINED

UNSATISFACTORY. HOWEVER, THE COALITION DECIDED TO GIVE A "GREEN LIGHT" TO THE PACKAGE WHICH THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH WOULD SEND TO THE JUNTA, AND AYLWIN WILL INFORM INTERIOR MINISTER CACERES TO THAT EFFECT.

2. (U) THE DECISION FOLLOWED SEVERAL DAYS OF MEETINGS BETWEEN NATIONAL RENEWAL (RN) PRESIDENT SERGIO JARPA, AYLWIN AND CACERES. THE LATEST PROPOSAL SUBMITTED BY THE INTERIOR MINISTER REPORTEDLY INCLUDED AN INCREASE IN ELECTED SENATORS AND MEASURES TO MAKE THE PROCESS OF CONSTITUTIONAL REFORM MORE FLEXIBLE. STICKING POINTS INCLUDED THE GOVERNMENT'S INSISTENCE ON A QUORUM OF 57 PERCENT TO CHANGE "ORGANIC" CONSTITUTIONAL LAWS (LAWS WHICH IMPLEMENT THE CONSTITUTION), THE CONTINUATION OF DESIGNATED SENATORS AND THE POWER OF THE NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL TO MAKE DIRECT APPEALS TO THE CONSITUTIONAL TRIBUNAL. IN MEETINGS OF THEIR NATIONAL COUNCILS ON MAY 30, THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS APPROVED THE GOC REFORM PACKAGE IN ITS BROAD OUTLINES; THE PARTY FOR DEMOCRACY FAVORED IT WHILE REQUESTING MODIFICATIONS IN SOME MINOR POINTS; AND THAT ALMEYDA SOCIALIST PARTY CHARACTERIZED IT AS POSITIVE, WHILE CRITICIZING CERTAIN ASPECTS. THE FAR LEFT PARTIES APPARENTLY PUT UP A STIFF RESISTANCE TO COPODE'S AGREEING TO THE PACKAGE, BUT FINALLY GAVE IN.

3. (U) COMMENT: COPODE'S DECISION MAKES AN AUGUST PLEBISCITE ALMOST CERTAIN (REFTEL), ALONG WITH A SUBTLE CHANGE IN POLITICAL THOUGHT WHICH FEW WOULD HAVE BELIEVED POSSIBLE A YEAR AGO. THE CONSTITUTION WHICH PINOCHET INSISTED WAS SET IN STONE IS BEING MODIFIED BEFORE HIS VERY EYES. THE MAGNA CARTA,

BY SHEPHERDING THE REFORM PROJECT THIS FAR, BOTH AYLWIN AND JARPA HAVE ENHANCED THEIR PROSPECTS FOR NOMINATION BY THEIR RESPECTIVE CAMPS. AND THE CHANCES FOR EITHER THE RIGHT OR LEFT CAPITALIZING ON THIS ISSUE TO MAKE A CONFRONTATIONAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN ARE LIKEWISE DIMINISHED. Subject: Analysis of Potential FSIA Amendment

On Tuesday L/M/DL received a revised version of H.R. 2163, the bill that Congressman Berman introduced on May 1. Ken Segel of Congressman Berman's staff informed me yesterday that this version may be introduced on Friday, June 2. He hopes to know the Department's preliminary views on this legislation by that time.

Samuel Buffone, counsel for the Letelier plaintiffs and the drafter of this bill, told me that this version of the bill reflects revisions intended to remove sections which, based on his conversation with Joan Donoghue and me on May 18, were plainly inconsistent with his stated purpose. His intention is to craft a bill that achieves the objectives of his clients in as narrow a way as possible.

This version, which is attached at Tab 1, comes closer to Buffone's goal than the previous one. In its revised form H.R. 2163 would eliminate the nexus requirement for execution of a judgment "in the case of a claim based upon acts of violence in the United States intended to or actually resulting in bodily harm." It would also allow judgment creditors whose claims were based upon acts of violence in the United States to execute against commercial property of a foreign state or its agencies or instrumentalities. We believe that the bill would overrule, in cases of "acts of violence in the United States," the Bancec rule that "government instrumentalities established as juridical entities distinct and independent from their sovereign should normally be treated as such." 462 U.S. 611, 626-27 (1983). Buffone, however, has stated that his intention is "to embrace the holding of Bancec by clarifying congressional intention that courts should apply traditional equitable principles and look to the nature of the relationship between the instrumentality and the state." Because the bill does not specify an effective date, its provisions would apply to any judgment issued after 1976, the effective date of the FSIA. See Section 1610(a).

There are several reasons why the Department may wish to oppose this bill. First, so long as Chile appears to be cooperating with the International Commission's investigation of the case, the Department has an interest in opposing any legislation which could derail a diplomatic solution. Senator Kennedy and Congressman Berman agreed in the fall to hold off on new legislation until this process had time to work, and we may wish to argue that acting now would undercut a diplomatic avenue that offers some hope of recovery.

UNCLASSIFIED

Even if the time were ripe to legislate in this area, this bill has effects beyond cases like Letelier. H.R. 2163 does not limit the expanded execution provisions either to cases in which acts of violence were authorized by the foreign government, or to acts what were intended to cause injury. Rather, broad execution is available in any case in which "violence in the United States . . . actually result[s] in bodily harm . . . ." This vague language could allow courts to attach unrelated property in a broader spectrum of cases than the "state-sponsored terrorism" that is the drafters' goal. For example, in a Gerritsen-like situation where consular employees allegedly beat up a U.S. citizen, a successful plaintiff could, under the provisions of this bill, attach property of sending state airlines, oil companies, or other seperate commercial entities that regularly do business in the United States. By ignoring the separate juridical status of these entities under foreign state law, this result would contradict what the Bancec court described as "due respect for actions taken by foreign sovereigns and for principles of comity between nations." 462 U.S. at 626. It also would potentially harm any U.S. citizen who had contracted, in reliance on its separate juridical status, with the entity whose property was attached. (This was a point raised by U.S. banks and the Department of Treasury in the fall.) By broadly construing the term "violence," a court could reach a similar result even in the case of an unintentional tort, such as a traffic accident. In addition, the bill contains no exclusion for military activities of the foreign state.

H.R. 2163 would also allow attachment of any property of a foreign state, or an agency or instrumentality of a foreign state, that is "used or intended to be used for a commercial activity in the United States." It is not clear how a foreign state's intent is to be divined. Conceivably, however, this provision would permit attachment of property of foreign embassies or consulates that is normally sold in United States after it has served its purpose. Many foreign missions, for example, acquire vehicles with the intent of later trading them in on newer vehicles. Under this provision, a judgment creditor could apparently execute against such vehicles and any similar personal property of a foreign mission. (Section 1610(a)(4)(B) of the FSIA exempts real property of foreign diplomatic or consular missions from attachment or execution.)

We need to decide how to proceed. You indicated earlier that you would oppose any bill while the investigatory commission remains viable. Assuming that ARA would agree, we would recommend that you and someone from ARA meet with Berman soon to make our points and urge him not to push legislation that could derail the commission process. Berman's staff has stated that they have discussed their bill with Senator Kennedy's staff, but do not know if Kennedy is planning to introduce the bill on the Senate side. You may nevertheless want to speak to Kennedy's staff as well.

The full text of the FSIA is attached at Tab 2.

IN A MAY 29 LETTER TO COMMISSION MEMBER LUIS MANUEL CHACON, SOBRADO HAD WARNED THAT HULL WOULD NOT TESTIFY FOR THIS REASON; HE ALSO NOTED IN HIS LETTER HULL'S POOR HEALTH. 4. (U) THE TEXT OF THE 47-POINT REFORM PROPOSAL, WHICH WAS SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT AND SENT TO THE LEGISLATIVE JUNTA ON JUNE 1, WAS MADE PUBLIC THE FOLLOWING DAY. IN ADDITION TO THE ASPECTS HIGHLIGHTED BY PINOCHET'S MESSAGE, THE PACKAGE INCLUDES THE FOLLOWING RECOMMENDATIONS:

-- THE INCORPORATION OF INTERNATIONAL TREATIES ON HUMAN RIGHTS INTO THE CONSTITUTION;

-- A MAJORITY OF FOUR-SEVENTHS (57 PERCENT) OF THE HOUSE AND SENATE REQUIRED TO CHANGE ORGANIC CONSTITUTIONAL LAWS;

-- ELIMINATION OF THE PRESIDENT'S POWER TO DISSOLVE THE HOUSE OF DEPUTIES:

-- ADDITION OF ONE CIVILIAN MEMBER, THE COMPTROLLER GENERAL, TO THE NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL, AND A MODIFICATION OF THE COUNCIL'S POWER TO REPRESENT ITS VIEWS DIRECTLY TO THE PRESIDENT AND CONSTITUTIONAL TRIBUNAL ON CONSTITUTIONAL VIOLATIONS AND THREATS TO NATIONAL SECURITY;

-- LIFTING OF PROHIBITION AGAINST ELECTED UNION AND PROFESSIONAL LEADERS PARTICIPATING IN POLITICAL PARTIES, TO BE REPLACED BY A RESTRICTION AGAINST THEIR HOLDING TOP NATIONAL OR REGIONAL OFFICE IN SAID

-- MAYORS TO BE EMPOWERED TO CALL PLEBISCITES ON CERTAIN ISSUES OF LOCAL ADMINISTRATION.

5. (U) SENIOR JUNTA MEMBER ADMIRAL MERINO INDICATED PUBLICLY THAT THE JUNTA WILL STREAMLINE ITS REVIEW OF THE REFORM PACKAGE, WITH THE AIM OF FINISHING ITS DELIBERATIONS WITHIN FIFTEEN DAYS. BY LAW, THE PRESIDENT MUST THEN CONVOKE A PLEBISCITE, WHICH WOULD TAKE PLACE WITHIN 60 TO 90 DAYS. HOWEVER, INTERIOR MINISTER CACERES ANNOUNCED ON JUNE 1 HE WOULD RECOMMEND AMENDING THE ELECTION LAW TO PERMIT CALLING THE PLEBISCITE WITHIN 30 TO 60 DAYS, AND SUGGESTED THAT THE REFERENDUM COULD THEN TAKE PLACE BY THE END OF JULY. THE DRAFT BILL WOULD ALSO PERMIT THE REFORM PROPOSALS TO BE VOTED UP OR DOWN AS A PACKAGE, INSTEAD OF ITEM BY ITEM (REF SANTIAGO 5242).

6. (U) IN A STATEMENT READ BY PATRICIO AYLWIN ON JUNE 1, THE CENTER-LEFT COALITION (COPODE) CHARACTERIZED THE REFORM PROPOSAL AS A STEP FORWARD WHICH WOULD FACILITATE A DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION. FOR THIS REASON, THEY AGREED TO GO ALONG DESPITE "NOTORIOUS LIMITATIONS" WHICH IMPEDE A FULL DEMOCRATIZATION OF THE CONSTITUTION. IN PARTICULAR, AYLWIN PRAISED THE CONSTITUTIONAL RECOGNITION OF INTERNATIONAL TREATIES, THE ELIMINATION OF ARTICLE 8, AND THE END OF THE REQUIREMENT FOR TWO SUCCESSIVE CONGRESSES TO REFORM THE CONSTITUTION. 7. (U) COPODE ALSO EXPRESSED ITS DISSATISFACTION WITH THE CONTINUATION OF APPOINTED SENATORS, THE "ARBITRARY", NON-PROPORTIONAL ELECTORAL SYSTEM, AND THE WORDING OF ARTICLE 19 IN REPLACEMENT OF ARTICLE 8), WHICH WOULD PUNISH INDIVIDUALS WHO ARE FOUND IN VIOLATION OF DEMOCRATIC NORMS. IN A CLARIFYING STATEMENT ON JUNE 3, AYLWIN SAID THAT THE OPPOSITION COALITION IS NEITHER "CO-AUTHOR NOR CO-LEGISLATOR" OF THE REFORMS IN WHICH IT "ACQUIESCED."

8. (U) RN PRESIDENT SERGIO JARPA HAILED THE ACCORD AS "THE MOST IMPORTANT STEP THAT HAS BEEN TAKEN FOR THE FUTURE POLITICAL STABILITY OF CHILE." SAYING IT REFLECTS A SHIFT TOWARD THE POLITICAL CENTER, HE NOTED THAT THE EXTREMES ON BOTH SIDES OPPOSED REFORMING THE CONSTITUTION AND THAT RN WAS SHARPLY CRITICIZED FOR TAKING THE INITIATIVE IN NEGOTIATIONS. UDI PRESIDENT JAIME GUZMAN TERMED THE AGREEMENT "PROOF OF THE GOVERNMENT'S CIVIC MATURITY", BUT SAID IT WAS NOW MORE IMPORTANT THAN EVER TO KEEP THE OPPOSITION FROM WINNING A A TWO-THIRDS MAJORITY

IN THE PARLIAMENT. BOTH THE NATIONAL PARTY AND THE RIGHT-WING NATIONAL ADVANCE ALSO SUPPORTED THE PACKAGE, SAYING IT REVEALED THE STATESMANSHIP OF PRESIDENT PINOCHET. IN SEPARATE STATEMENTS CARDINAL FRESNO AND EPISCOPAL CONFERENCE PRESIDENT CARLOS GONZALEZ SAID THE ACCORD EXPRESSED A POLITICAL WILL TO ADVANCE THROUGH DIALOGUE TOWARD A BETTER DEMOCRACY.

9. (U) ON THE LEFT, THERE WERE MIXED REVIEWS. PPD PRESIDENT RICARDO LAGOS, WHO REPORTEDLY ARGUED WITHIN CONFIDENTIAL

COPODE FOR APPROVING THE PACKAGE WITH RESERVATIONS, SAID IT SHOWED THAT THE "SPIRIT OF OCTOBER 5 HAS BEEN HEARD." HOWEVER HE ADDED THAT THE CONSTITUTION WOULD STILL BE "ANTI-DEMOCRATIC", AND THAT THE OPPOSITION WOULD CALL ON THE ELECTORATE TO VOTE YES IN THE PLEBISCITE AS A FIRST STEP IN FURTHER REFORMS. WHILE SAYING HIS PARTY HAD NOT YET DECIDED TO CALL FOR A YES OR NO VOTE IN THE PLEBISCITE, PAIS PRESIDENT LUIS MAIRA CALLED THE AGREEMENT THE END OF THE MYTH OF THE UNTOUCHABLE CONSTITUTION. UNITED LEFT (IU) COALITION ANIBAL PALMA STRONGLY CRITICIZED THE AGREEMENT AS A "TRICK" EXECUTED BY SERGIO JARPA TO DIVIDE THE OPPOSITION. THE MIR ALSO ISSUED A SHRILL ATTACK ON JARPA AND AYLWIN, AND SAID IT WOULD CALL ON ITS SUPPORTERS TO VOTE AGAINST THE LATTER IN THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS. CLODOMIRO ALMEYDA SAID THAT WHILE THE ALMEYDA SOCIALISTS APPRECIATE THE PROGRESS MADE IN THE TALKS, THE AGREEMENT DOES NOT SATISFY THE DEMOCRATIC ASPIRATIONS OF THE PEOPLE.

BRINGING ALONG THE LEFT AND THE ARMY

10. (U) ONE OF THE ISSUES WHICH BROUGHT THE ALMEYDA SOCIALISTS ALONG WAS THE LIFTING OF THE PROHIBITIONS CONTAINED IN ARTICLE 8. THE ARTICLE REPLACING IT REFRAINS FROM BANNING OR PERSECUTING POLITICAL GROUPS OR INDIVIDUALS FOR THEIR IDEAS. IN LANGUAGE SIMILAR TO THAT USED IN THE NATIONAL ACCORD, IT DEFINES AS UNCONSTITUTIONAL THOSE POLITICAL ORGANIZATIONS WHOSE OBJECTIVES, ACTIONS OR BEHAVIOR DO NOT RESPECT BASIC DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES, ADVOCATE THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A TOTALITARIAN SYSTEM, PROPOSE OR USE VIOLENCE AS A

GERMAN CORREA OPINED THAT THE ABOLITION OF ARTICLE 8 WOULD END THE BAN ON CLODOMIRO ALMEYDA'S ASSUMING PUBLIC OFFICE. CONSTITUTIONALIST JOSE LUIS CEA, WHO HAD A HAND IN DRAWING UP THE ORIGINAL REFORM

PROPOSALS, OPINED THAT IN THE ABSENCE OF ANOTHER LEGAL DISPOSITION, THE CONSTITUTIONAL TRIBUNAL'S 1985 BAN ON THE COMMUNIST PARTY AND ITS 1987 SENTENCE AGAINST ALMEYDA WOULD BE ANNULLED BY THIS PROVISION.

11. (U) ONE OF THE FEW SURPRISES IN THE REFORM PACKAGE WAS THE PROVISION WHICH ELEVATES MILITARY REGULATIONS ON THE APPOINTMENT, PROMOTION AND RETIREMENT OF OFFICERS THEIR SENIORITY SYSTEMS AND BUDGET TO THE STATUS OF ORGANIC CONSTITUTIONAL LAWS. THIS CONCESSION, WHICH INSULATES THE ARMED FORCES CARABINEROS' INSTITUTIONS FROM INTERFERENCE BY A FUTURE DEMOCRATIC CONGRESS, CLEARLY MADE IT EASIER FOR THEM TO ACCEPT THE OVERALL PACKAGE. COPODE SPOKESMAN AYLWIN WENT OUT OF HIS WAY TO MENTION THAT THE GREATER STABILITY THUS OFFERED THE INSTITUTION DOES NOT AFFECT THE CIVILIAN-MILITARY BALANCE ESTABLISHED IN THE CONSTITUTION.

12. (C) COMMENTS: THE ACHIEVEMENT OF GOVERNMENT-OPPOSITION CONSENSUS IS A GOOD OMEN IN ITSELF, SINCE IT SHOWS THE 1989 ELECTIONS CAN HARDLY BE FRAMED IN THE SIMPLISTIC, CONFRONTATIONAL TERMS OF THE SI-NO VOTE IN THE 1988 PLEBISCITE. DRAW BOTH TOWARD THE CENTER AND ISOLATE THE EXTREMES. BY A HAIR, THE MODERATE RIGHT MAY EMERGE AS THE BIGGEST WINNER. JARPA SHOWED HE HAD THE RIGHT STUFF TO PULL OFF A POLITICAL COUP IN FACE OF HUGE OBSTACLES AND IMPONDERABLES. THE EXPANSION IN SENATORIAL REPRESENTATION FOR THREE CONSERVATIVE SOUTHERN REGIONS, AND THE FACT THAT THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES WAS NOT INCREASED IN SIZE, FAVORS THE NATIONAL RENEWAL PARTY'S BID FOR MAXIMIZING ITS CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATION. AT THE SAME TIME THE ACCORD HELPS AYLWIN'S IMAGE, BY SHOWING THE POLITICAL CURRENT HE REPRESENTS IS WILLING TO PUT THE NATIONAL INTEREST AHEAD OF PARTISAN INTERESTS -- AND TO RESPECT THE PROFESSIONAL NEEDS OF THE MILITARY. o The Fruit Crisis

--The 5-day ban on Chilean fruit exports to the U.S. imposed by the FDA last March following the discovery of some poisoned grapes resulted in losses of about US $50 million to the GOC and a wave of high-intensity anti-Americanism.

--We worked closely with the GOC to hold these losses to a minimum (far less than predicted) and to get trade flowing again.

--Playing on the crisis, the GOC asked us to take politically significant but ultimately impossible steps such as changing the date of the USDA marketing order on Chilean grapes, restoring Chile's GSP privileges (suspended for labor rights problems), and supporting special loans to Chile in the MDBs.

o The Letelier Case

--The 1976 political murder of former Chilean Foreign Minister Orlando Letelier and his U.S. assistant in Washington ordered by high officials of the GOC who are still under indictment by a U.S. court has remained a source of bilateral tension.

--After many fruitless efforts to convince the GOC to cooperate in the case, in January of this year we invoked a 1914 bilateral treaty with Chile which calls for the establishment of an international commission to determine responsibility for the crime.

--The GOC is attempting to sidetrack and delay this effort through stalling tactics.

--Both Mr. Kimmitt and Legal Advisor Sofaer have strongly urged the GOC to cooperate in forming the bilateral commission, but to little avail.

o The Buschmann Affair

--The GOC has protested our decision on June 16 to deny its request to extradite the Chilean terrorist Sergio Buschmann from Anchorage, Alaska, where the INS was detaining him as an "excludable" alien, to Chile.

--The decision by State and Justice to release Buschmann was based entirely on the fact that the Chileans could not provide us with an extraditable charge against Buschmann to legally hold him.

BRIEFING POINTS

o Current Political Situation

--Chile's transition to democracy, which is proceeding on course, got an additional boost last week when the GOC announced that it would hold a plebiscite to reform the 1980 constitution.

--This long hoped-for development was the product of a consensus between moderates in the GOC and nearly all political parties, with the major parties of the center-right and center-left leading negotiations.

--The reforms will allow for easier amendment of the constitution, more elected senators, possible legalization of the Socialist and Communist parties, a shorter term for the first elected President (4 instead of 8 years) and guarantees for the military.

--Pinochet was probably not in agreement with these reforms but apparently did not block them.

--This consensus position reached by negotiation bodes well for further dialogue between important political actors and the GOC and will enhance the transition.

--General elections are on track for December 14, 1989.

o Economic Situation

--Chile's economy continues to perform very well, with low inflation, high employment, rising real wages, huge trade surpluses, and diversified exports.

--Recent figures show that the 5-day ban on the importation of Chilean fruit by the FDA last March harmed the Chilean economy much less than anyone predicted, costing only some $50 million in damage.

--This notwithstanding, the Chilean economy grew at a rate of 9.4 per cent during the first quarter of 1989.

--While Chile has one of the largest per capital foreign debts in Latin America, it has successfully met all scheduled interest payments.

o Letelier Case

--The GOC is stalling our efforts to put the 1914 bilateral treaty for the settlement of disputes into force. It has delayed in naming its members to the bilateral commission as called for by the treaty and is attempting to get us bogged down in legalisms.

--Pinochet is personally set against cooperating with the U.S. on Letelier but more moderate elements in the GOC do not want to reject the treaty outright or refuse to participate. Hence, the stalling.

--Ambassador Gillespie has recommended that we vigorously press the Chileans to name their representatives to the commission and threaten to go public with our complaints if they do not.

--Senator Kennedy and Rep. Howard Berman are about to reintroduce legislation in Congress designed to allow for the easier attachment of Chilean Government property in the U.S. to pay an outstanding $5 million court judgement to the Letelier and Moffitt families. Kennedy and Berman had held off on their legislation pending progress in the case via the 1914 treaty. With none forthcoming, they plan to proceed to introduce their legislation.

o Panama at the OAS

--The GOC supported our position on Panama at the OAS last month, which surprised us, given Chile's normal unwillingness to comment on the internal politics of other latin governments and its strict support for what it considers "non-intervention."

--Chile will not take the lead on Panama and will probably seek to join a consensus position reached by other latin nations.

TALKING POINTS

o Transition to Democracy

--Chile's movement toward democracy appears to be going well.

--We are especially heartened by the degree of consensus between the GOC and the political parties demonstrated by the latest agreement on constitutional reform.

--We hope that this trend toward dialogue will continue.

o Chile's Economy

--We see that the Chilean economy continues to grow very fast. Chile's economic performance since 1984 has been remarkable.

--We are pleased that, as time passes, it seems that the damage done to the Chilean economy as a result of the fruit ban is far less than anyone expected.

--Our coordinated bilateral action to get trade flowing again certainly played an important role in holding damage to a minimum.

o Letelier Case

--We are dismayed that the Chilean Government has not yet named its non-national member of the bilateral commission nor has responded to our list of candidates for commission president.

--Congress is once again discussing possible legislative measures to address the Letelier case, judging that our efforts to elicit your cooperation on the 1914 treaty have failed.

--As time passes with no action on your part, it is increasingly difficult to assure Congress that your Government wishes to cooperate on the case.

o Panama

--Chile's movement toward democracy and respect for civil rights contrast starkly with developments in Panama.

--Your country's voice at the OAS is therefore most important and you can play an important role in helping assure that the will of the Panamanian people is respected.

THE SECRETARY OF STATE

WASHINGTON

UNCLASSIFIED June 9, 1989

Dear Clayton:

I am writing to ask for your assistance in solving a problem that has consequences for both U.S. foreign policy and agricultural exports. As you know, the GSM-102 program has been very popular this year. We understand that requests have exceeded $6 billion, but that USDA has set a $5 billion "cap" on the program. This cap leaves several countries without sufficient coverage for their import needs. The result could be a loss of U.S. export sales and some bad feelings from friendly countries and good customers such as Mexico and Egypt.

GSM-102 is important in other areas as well. For example, it is a key issue in the Mexican debt rescheduling and may play a crucial role in a successful Paris Club negotiation and smooth implementation of the Brady proposals.

The increase in wheat prices has raised the food import bill for many countries. This has added to the pressure on GSM this year. It would make good marketing sense to be able to respond to the price increases with an increase in our credit guarantees in order to maintain good will and credibility as a reliable source of wheat and other agricultural products.

I understand that the Food Security Act of 1985 states that for fiscal years 1986-90, at least $5 billion in GSM-102 should be made available annually. Since GSM is not a budget item, the program could be expanded with a minimum of red tape. I would appreciate it greatly if you could look into this issue personally and lend your support to a $1 billion increase in the GSM program.

I look forward to hearing from you.

With warm personal regards,

Sincerely yours,

James A. Baker, III

The Honorable
Clayton Yeutter,
Secretary of Agriculture

2. DURING AMBASSADOR'S JUNE 8 MEETING WITH CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY (PDC) PRESIDENT PATRICIO AYLWIN (SEPTEL ON OTHER TOPICS COVERED), LETELIER CASE WAS DISCUSSED. AMBASSADOR LAID OUT FOR HIM WHERE WE ARE IN OUR CONTINUING, CONCERTED EFFORTS TO RESOLVE THE ISSUE, AND NOTED THAT IT WAS LIKELY TO REMAIN AN ACTIVE BILATERAL CONCERN FOR THE NEW ADMINISTRATION WHICH TAKES OFFICE IN MARCH 1990. AYLWIN RESPONDED THAT THE UNITED STATES COULD COUNT ON ANY GOVERNMENT HE HEADS HAVING ALL THE GOODWILL IN THE WORLD FOR RESOLVING THE LETELIER CASE. HOWEVER, HE CAUTIONED THAT IT WOULD BE AN EXTREMELY DELICATE MATTER FOR THE NEW GOVERNMENT WHICH WILL INITIALLY HAVE TO TREAD CAREFULLY IN WORKING OUT A MODUS VIVENDI WITH THE

ARMED FORCES. THAT SAID, HE STRONGLY FAVORED PURSUING DIPLOMATIC AVENUES IN SEEKING A SOLUTION, RATHER THAN TREATING IT AS A SOLELY JUDICIAL ISSUE. ALTHOUGH PESSIMISTIC THAT MUCH PROGRESS COULD BE MADE ON THE CASE WHILE PINOCHET REMAINS IN POWER, AYLWIN EXPRESSED THE HOPE THAT AT LEAST

THE OUTLINES OF A PROCESS FOR REMOVING IT FROM THE BILATERAL AGENDA COULD BE WORKED OUT WITH THE CURRENT GOVERNMENT. HE SHARES SERGIO ONOFRE JARPA'S DESIRE TO KEEP THE LETELIER CASE FROM BECOMING A MAJOR ISSUE IN THE UPCOMING POLITICAL CAMPAIGN (REFTEL).

3. IN THIS CONTEXT, AMBASSADOR BRIEFED HIM ON THE PENDING AMENDMENT TO THE FOREIGN SOVEREIGNTY IMMUNITIES ACT WHICH COULD OPEN THE WAY FOR SEIZURE OF GOC ASSETS IN THE U.S. BY THE LETELIER/ MOFFITT FAMILIES. IT WAS THE FIRST AYLWIN HAD HEARD OF THIS POSSIBILITY. HE IMMEDIATELY SAW THE AMENDMENT AS A POTENTIALLY DIVISIVE ISSUE IN THE CHILEAN POLITICAL CONTEXT WHICH WILL INCITE A NATIONALISTIC REACTION IN SOME SECTORS. AYLWIN URGED THE AMBASSADOR, DURING CONSULTATIONS IN WASHINGTON, TO MAKE KNOWN HIS CONCERNS ON THIS POINT.

4. COMMENT: AYLWIN HAS NO LACK OF PROBLEMS TO DEAL WITH DURING THE ELECTORAL CAMPAIGN. HE IS OBVIOUSLY RELUCTANT TO SEE ANY DEVELOPMENT WHICH MIGHT PUT THE OPPOSITION ON THE DEFENSIVE VIS-A-VIS U.S./CHILEAN RELATIONS, PARTICULARLY AS HE LOOKS FORWARD TO DELICATE NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE MILITARY ON THE TRANSITION. E.O. 12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: PREL, AS, CI, SW
SUBJECT: CHILEAN REVOLUTIONARY TO BE DEPORTED FROM AUSTRALIA

1. (U) SUMMARY: AUSTRALIAN IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS HAVE BEEN IN A QUANDARY THE LAST TWO WEEKS OVER HOW TO DEAL WITH CHILEAN LEFTIST PRISON ESCAPEE SERGIO BUSCHMANN WHO, UPON ARRIVING IN AUSTRALIA AS A TOURIST, BEGAN RAISING MONEY FOR ARMS. THE GOA HAS BEGUN THE PROCESS OF DEPORTING BUSCHMANN RATHER THAN EXTRADITING HIM TO CHILE, A SOLUTION GUARANTEED TO DISPLEASE ALL SIDES IN THE DISPUTE. END SUMMARY.

2. (U) BUSCHMANN HAS BEEN DESCRIBED ALTERNATELY AS AN ACTOR, TRADE UNIONIST OR RADICAL COMMUNIST WHO ESCAPED FROM PRISON IN CHILE IN 1987 WHILE AWAITING SENTENCING FOLLOWING A CONVICTION FOR WEAPONS-SMUGGLING. HE LATER GOT ASYLUM IN SWEDEN. HE ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

ENTERED AUSTRALIA ON A TOURIST VISA TWO WEEKS AGO, AND BEGAN GARNERING HEADLINES, FIRST WHEN THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT REQUESTED EXTRADITION, AND THEN WHEN IT BECAME KNOWN THAT BUSCHMANN WAS OPENLY RAISING MONEY SO THAT HE COULD SMUGGLE WEAPONS INTO HIS HOMELAND.

3. (U) THE GOA WAS THUS CAUGHT IN A DILEMMA. IT WANTED TO GET RID OF BUSCHMANN BUT DID NOT WANT TO BE SEEN TO SUPPORT A FOREIGN GOVERNMENT THAT HAS A POOR REPUTATION WITH THE AUSTRALIAN ELECTORATE. AUSTRALIA HAS A HUNDRED-YEAR-OLD EXTRADITION TREATY WITH CHILE, BUT THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT HAS STONEWALLED THE CHILEAN EXTRADITION REQUEST. AT THE SAME TIME, THE GOA HAS BEEN RELUCTANT TO PROSECUTE BUSCHMANN FOR APPARENT VIOLATION OF THE FOREIGN INCURSIONS ACT FOR OPENLY RAISING MONEY TO OVERTHROW ANOTHER GOVERNMENT. THE GOA'S SOLUTION WAS TO DEPORT BUSCHMANN BACK TO SWEDEN FOR VIOLATION OF THE TERMS OF HIS TOURIST VISA. BUSCHMANN FIRST WENT INTO HIDING WHEN THE GOA ASKED TO QUESTION HIM, BUT LATER MET WITH IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS AFTER ASSURANCES THAT HE WOULD NOT BE IMMEDIATELY ARRESTED. HE IS CURRENTLY FREE PENDING AN APPEAL OF HIS DEPORTATION ORDER.

4. (U) LEFTIST SUPPORTERS OF BUSCHMANN, MANY OF THEM CHILEAN EXILES, MANY OTHERS BELONGING TO RADICAL MARXIST-LED TRADE UNIONS SUCH AS THE BUILDING WORKERS' INDUSTRIAL UNION, COMPLAINED THAT DEPORTATION WOULD OPEN THE WAY TO POSSIBLE EXTRADITION TO CHILE WHEN BUSCHMANN TRANSITED SINGAPORE. THEY ALSO CLAIMED THAT THE DECISION TO DEPORT BUSCHMANN WAS DICTATED BY LARGE AUSTRALIAN CONFIDENTIAL

CORPORATIONS DOING BUSINESS WITH CHILE. SUPPORTERS STAGED A SMALL BUT ACTIVE PROTEST OUTSIDE THE IMMIGRATION DEPARTMENT OFFICE IN PERTH, BLOCKING TRAFFIC, ATTACKING VEHICLES, AND MANHANDLING ONE PLAINCLOTHES POLICEMAN. THE MINING AND ENERGY WORKERS' UNION ANNOUNCED A PICKET OUTSIDE THE IMMIGRATION DETENTION CENTER, WHILE OTHER UNIONS HAVE THREATENED TO GROUND ANY PLANE USED TO DEPORT THE CHILEAN.

5. (U) THE GOA REMAINED SILENT THROUGH MOST OF THE AFFAIR, BUT AFTER THE UNION THREATS FOREIGN MINISTER GARETH EVANS SPOKE OUT AGAINST BUSCHMANN. HE POINTED OUT THAT BUSCHMANN WAS NOT A PRISONER OF CONSCIENCE IN CHILE, BUT RATHER A MEMBER OF A "FRINGE GROUP," THE MANUEL RODRIGUEZ PATRIOTIC FRONT (FMR), AFFILIATED WITH THE CHILEAN COMMUNIST PARTY, THAT HAD "CHOSEN THE BULLET OVER THE BALLOT." THE DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS AND TRADE NOTED HIS PUBLIC STATEMENTS LAST YEAR IN EUROPE THAT THE FMR INTENDED TO SEEK THE VIOLENT OVERTHROW OF THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT REGARDLESS OF THE OUTCOME OF THE CHILEAN ELECTIONS.

6. (C) COMMENT: ATTITUDES TOWARD RELATIONS WITH CHILE OFTEN SERVE AS A LITMUS TEST OF LEFTIST CREDENTIALS IN AUSTRALIA. AS A RESULT, THE LABOR GOVERNMENT HAS DIFFICULTY TAKING ACTIONS THAT MIGHT BE SEEN TO BE AIDING THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT. THE DECISION TO DEPORT RATHER THAN EXTRADITE BUSCHMANN IS AN ACT OF POLITICAL EXPEDIENCY DESIGNED TO OFFEND THE FEWEST PEOPLE. TEARE

9. INTERNAL POLITICS: THE FOREIGN MINISTER CONTINUES TOHOLD OUT HOPE THAT A CANDIDATE OF THE CENTER-RIGHT WILL WIN IN DECEMBER, ALTHOUGH HE CONCEDED THAT THE ALL-BUT-CERTAIN CANDIDATE OF THE OPPOSITION, PATRICIO AYLWIN, HAS THE EDGE. HE ANTICIPATES FOUR PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES IN THE ELECTION. AYLWIN, HE PREDICTS, WILL NOT BE ABLE TO HOLD THE FAR LEFT IN THE COPODE ALLIANCE ("...THAT WORKS TO OUR ADVANTAGE"), AND SPECULATED THAT ANOTHER CANDIDATE OF THE RIGHT WOULD EMERGE -- PERHAPS EVEN HERNAN BUCHI -- TO CHALLENGE NATIONAL RENEWAL PARTY PRESIDENT SERGIO ONOFRE JARPA. THE LATTER, HE FELT, HAS A SERIOUS PROBLEM WITH YOUNG VOTERS. ERRAZURIZ SAID THE ARMED FORCES ARE NOT SATISFIED ON THE ISSUE OF HOW HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS WILL BE TREATED UNDER THE NEW GOVERNMENT. HE DID NOT BELIEVE THE RN OR THE OPPOSITION WERE DEDICATING ANYWHERE NEAR ENOUGH ATTENTION TO THAT PROBLEM. "BUT WE IN THE GOVERNMENT ARE VERY CONCERNED, AND ALTHOUGH WE HAVE NO FIRM ANSWERS, WE ARE GIVING IT CLOSE ATTENTION." HE ALSO OBSERVED THAT A RESURGENCE OF DOMESTIC TERRORIST ACTIVITY WOULD PLAY ON THE MILITARY'S OWN INSECURITIES AND COULD PROVOKE A MORE HARDLINE ATTITUDE.

11. COMMENT: EVER THE PESSIMIST, FOREIGN MINISTER ERRAZURIZ DWELT ON THE PROBLEMS HE FACES. HOWEVER, DESPITE HIMSELF, HE PROJECTED SOME GLIMMERS OF HOPE ON THE TRANSITION PROCESS AND IS CLEARLY ENJOYING HIS NEWLY-ACQUIRED STATUS AS ONE OF THE INFLUENTIAL "MODERATES" IN THE CABINET. HIS ABIDING CONCERN ABOUT RELATIONS WITH THE ARMED FORCES REFLECTS HIS ROLE AS A PLAYER IN AREAS OF DOMESTIC POLICY WHICH GO MUCH BEYOND FOREIGN AFFAIRS. URGENT

Dear Mr Secretary

Detention of Sr. Buschmann

Please find attached copies of a fax message just sent to your embassador here in London; I believe its contents will be self-explanatory.

Aside from the danger to Sr. Buschmann's life which his deportation to Chile would imply and the general moral issues of deporting anybody at the request of a military dictatorship, we hope that the U.S. government will take into account the Chilean junta's continued refusal to extradite suspects wanted by U.S. Federal authorities in connection with the murder of Orlando Letelier, killed in the U.S. by a bomb after the Pinochet coup in 1973.

I look forward to your reply which can be faxed to us here in London at the above number.

Yours sincerely

FROM: ARA - Michael G. Kozak, Acting

SUBJECT: Arrest by INS of a Suspected Chilean Terrorist

On June 12, the Immigration and Naturalization Service detained a Chilean named Sergio Buschmann transitting through Anchorage and "excluded" him from entry into the United States. Buschmann, an avowed member of the Chilean Communist Party's armed terrorist wing, the FPMR, was arrested and charged by the Chilean Government with smuggling a large shipment of M-16 assault rifles and sophisticated explosives into Chile in 1986. While his case was being tried, he escaped from prison and was eventually granted asylum in Sweden.

Buschmann travelled to Australia and was deported by the GOA on June 11 after the Chilean Government requested his extradition. The Chileans protested furiously. En route to Sweden, Buschmann was detained by the INS in Anchorage.

On June 12, the GOC presented Embassy Santiago with a diplomatic note requesting Buschmann's provisional arrest for purposes of extradition under our 1900 treaty with Chile. With respect to extradition, the initial issue is whether the GOC charges against Buschmann are extraditable offenses under our treaty. ~~It is by no means clear that they are~~.

Buschmann proves to be not extraditable

INS informs us that they have the authority to hold Buschmann without bail for at least a few days and that exclusion proceedings could take months. If ~~extradition is not an option~~ and INS excluded Buschmann from the U.S., he would probably be able to return to Sweden. INS said that they will not take any final action on the case without consulting with Justice/Criminal and State.

We still do not have a complete legal evaluation of Buschmann's situation. What is clear, however, is that his detention by the U.S. will be the subject of much media attention. ~~Politically speaking, there are benefits that could accrue to us in our dealings with the GOC and with the Chilean military by being able to either extradite or exclude him to Chile. His politics are much too far to the left to cause us many domestic problems here~~. Legal considerations, however, will determine what paths are open to us.

Both the Chilean regime and the left may seek to read "signals" into our ultimate disposition of this case.

We will keep you appraised of developments on this matter as they occur.

TALKING POINTS

BUSCHMANN EXTRADITION REQUEST

- Based on the information received to date from the Government of Chile, both in Washington and Santiago, it is the preliminary view of the Department of Justice and the State Department's Office of the Legal Advisor that the offenses for which Mr. Buschmann is charged in Santiago are not "extraditable offenses" under the terms of article 2 of our 1900 extradition treaty with Chile.

- Under U.S. law, Mr. Buschmann can only be detained based upon the Chilean Government's provisional arrest request upon an order of a U.S. Federal Court.

- Such an order can only be issued if a U.S. Government official makes a sworn statement that the offenses charged are extraditable and that other requirements such as probable cause are met.

- It is the view of Justice and the Legal Advisor's Office of the State Department that no official could make such a statement at this time.

- Although it is correct that a person can be detained upon a preventive detention request for up to two months, the issue is not one of formal proof but of meeting the minimum requirements of U.S. law.

- In the absence of an extraditable offense, we will proceed to make our final decision on this matter on the basis of the information you have provided us.

Dear Sir

Detention of Sr. Sergio Buschmann

I am faxing you urgently on behalf of the 3,000 members of this NALGO local to enquire as to the status of Sr. Sergio Buschmann, a Chilean national travelling under the protection of United Nations travel documents issued by the government of the Kingdom of Sweden.

We understand from BBC radio reports that Sr. Buschmann is currently detained in Alaska and is in jeopardy of deportation to Chile at the request of the military government.

We hope that you will be able to assure us that such reports are untrue and that you will be able to assure us that your government is neither holding nor has any intention of deporting Sr. Buschmann. We recently had the privilege of hosting Sr. Buschmann whilst he was in London and are extremely concerned that he may be forcibly returned to Chile were he will undoubtedly be in danger of his life from the death squads who currently operate in that country with government support.

We look forward to your urgent reply which can be faxed to us on the above number.

Yours faithfully

Steve L. Powell

MEMORANDUM FOR BRENT SCOWCROFT
THE WHITE HOUSE

Subject: Threats of Terrorist Acts in Chile.

An unidentified caller believed to be the man whose threats last March contributed to causing the ban on Chilean fruit imports to the U.S. called our Embassy in Santiago three times in the past week to threaten terrorist acts. In rambling, disjointed conversations, the caller threatened the U.S. Ambassador, Mormons, and Americans, among other people, and claimed that he would poison wine and bomb airplanes departing Santiago for Miami. Only in his second call did he mention fruit.

The caller appears to be a crank, perhaps mentally disturbed, who hungers for publicity. This notwithstanding, the Department has coordinated two inter-agency meetings attended by representatives of State, FAA, FDA, FBI, USDA, Customs, CIA, and Treasury's Bureau of Alcohol, Firearms, and Tobacco to share information available on these calls, assess the threat level they represent, and take appropriate action. The NSC has also been advised of developments. Following all threats, the Chilean Government was also fully briefed and provided with a tape recording of the phone conversations. Chile appears to be on top of this situation, having reviewed security measures for wine exports and its airports. They appreciate the discretion with which we have handled this matter so far.

American carriers operating out of Santiago were advised of the threat and Chilean authorities have increased airport security. Other USG agencies, such as customs, FAA, FDA, and Treasury (ATF) are carefully monitoring the situation but avoiding any overt reaction which could lead to a public overreaction and ultimately satisfy the caller's desire for publicity. FBI is examining local capability for tracing the threatening phone calls in Santiago, since the caller's track record indicates that he will strike again. All concerned US agencies, however, agree with Embassy Santiago's assessment that the caller is seeking publicity by forcing us to react but almost certainly does not have the capability to carry out the actions he has threatened. It has been agreed, therefore, that we will closely coordinate our precautionary steps, avoid any overt reaction, and that any queries will be referred to the State Department.

Executive Secretary

CAS Letter

MEMORANDUM

TO : L - Judge Sofaer

FROM : Ambassador Charles A. Gillespie, Jr.

SUBJECT: Chile -- FSIA: Berman and Kennedy

I met with Howard Berman on 13 June and Nancy Soderberg of Kennedy's staff on the 14th. Both emphasized their belief that you would be satisfied, with no apparent reservation, to a time delay on the execution of any judgement under the "retroactive" provision of the proposed FSIA. I said that is not my understanding of your position.

Berman and Soderberg said they recognize the political angle and asserted they don't want to upset events in Chile between now and the elections in December. Berman argues that the provision as written does not name Chile, might apply in other cases of state terrorism (specifically the Vincennes bombing case), and he remains convinced his slow fuze will work. Soderberg said there could be no guarantee that Chile wouldn't be mentioned in the process of passing the legislation, but that Kennedy would understand the need to move it quietly. She believes the Leteliers and Moffitts want and expect to see something done this session. It is their lawyers who are pressing hardest, she admitted. I told both I would prefer that a new government address the compensation matter without undue pressure.

For all the reasons we discussed, it would be better to have the FSIA without the retroactive/delayed provision. But without bringing more leverage to bear, including the veto threat (and I got the impression from you that there's no guarantee we could produce a veto), Berman is likely to persist. Query: if we do threaten, do we risk raising the issue's visibility and thereby create the circumstance we're trying to avoid?

CAS
No need to threaten... Just oppose. Ask for separate provision + maybe we will get the to drop the retroactive/delay clause. AS

PHONE THREATS IN CHILE

Q: What can you tell us about phone call threats made to the U.S. Embassy in Santiago?

A: The U.S. Embassy in Santiago, Chile received three rambling, disjointed phone calls from an unidentified person on June 9, 12, and 15. The caller variously threatened a wide range of unrelated and disparate actions. Relevant Chilean and U.S. authorities have been advised and are taking actions appropriate to these types of calls.

If pressed, only:

Q: Was this the same person who threatened to poison Chilean fruit last March?

A: He claimed that he is but we cannot be certain.

Q: Can you tell us anything more specific about the threats?

A: Threats were made against a wide variety of unspecified people, as well as to poison wine and fruit and bomb unspecified airplanes. These threats were for the most part very vague and general.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

Q: What is the U.S. Government doing about these threatening calls?

A: Both the U.S. and Chilean governments are cooperating to take appropriate action.

Q: Has he made any demands?

A: In one of the three phone calls he made a demand for the U.S. to publicly criticize an aspect of Chilean economic policy.

SENSE-OF-THE CONGRESS RESOLUTION

In Support of Democratization of Chile and Resolution of Claims Arising from the Murders of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt.

Whereas on September 21, 1976, Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt were murdered, and Michael Moffitt was injured, when a bomb exploded underneath Orlando Letelier's automobile on the streets of Washington, D.C.;

Whereas the evidence available to the United States shows that senior officials of the Government of Chile planned and participated in the assassination of Orlando Letelier and have obstructed, through acts of deception and evasion, efforts to prosecute those responsible for this act;

Whereas the United States has indicted the individuals the evidence shows to be responsible for these acts, and has formally sought their extradition from Chile;

Whereas Chile has steadfastly refused to extradite these individuals;

Whereas on November 5, 1980, the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia ruled, in a civil suit brought by the families of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt, that the Government of Chile and its agents were responsible for the deaths of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt, and awarded their families more than $5 million in damages;

Whereas Chile has refused to pay this judgment;

Whereas, under the law of the United States relating to sovereign immunity, this judgment has not been enforceable against property of Chile in the United States;

Whereas the United States on October 12, 1988, formally espoused the claim of the families of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt for compensation, together with a claim of the United States Government for reimbursement of the costs it has incurred in investigating the assassination, for a combined claim of $12 million;

~~C O N F I D E N T I A L~~ SECTION 01 OF 02 STATE 213308

E.O. 12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: PINR PREL CI
SUBJECT: JUNE 30 MEETING BETWEEN ASSISTANT SECRETARY ARONSON AND CHILEAN CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT EDGARDO BOENINGER

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~, ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY. CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT LEADER EDGARDO BOENINGER CALLED ON ASST. SECRETARY ARONSON AND DEPUTY ASSISTANT SECRETARY MICHAEL SKOL AT THE DEPARTMENT ON JUNE 30. HE OUTLINED THE CURRENT POLITICAL SITUATION IN CHILE, NOTING THAT HE IS OPTIMISTIC ABOUT CHILE'S TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY AND THAT THE ONLY "DARK CLOUDS" IN THIS PICTURE ARE THE RECENT STATEMENTS MADE BY THE CHILEAN ARMY AND MINISTER PATRICIO CARVAJAL THAT THE ARMED FORCES WOULD TAKE VIGOROUS STEPS TO ASSURE THAT PINOCHET IS NOT REMOVED AS COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF THE ARMY BY A FUTURE ELECTED GOVERNMENT.

BOENINGER OUTLINED THE PLATFORM THE COPODE PARTIES WILL CAMPAIGN ON AND URGED THAT THE US BE VIGILANT THAT THE ELECTION BE FREE AND FAIR. HE DISCUSSED THE LETELIER CASE AS AN ISSUE THAT THE FUTURE DEMOCRATIC REGIME WILL WANT TO RESOLVE ON A PRIORITY BASIS WHILE NOTING THAT THE THREAT OF ATTACHMENT OF GOC PROPERTY SHOULD THE FOREIGN SOVEREIGN IMMUNITIES ACT (FSIA) BE MODIFIED BY CONGRESS WOULD PROVIDE PINOCHET WITH POLITICAL AMMUNITION. HE STRESSED THAT U.S. AID IN HELPING ESTABLISH A "LEVEL PLAYING FIELD" IN THE PLEBISCITE WAS MUCH APPRECIATED BUT AGREED FULLY WITH ARONSON'S STATEMENT THAT THE U.S. WILL BE THOROUGHLY NEUTRAL IN THE UPCOMING ELECTIONS. ARONSON PLEDGED CONTINUED U.S. INTEREST AND SUPPORT FOR CHILE'S TRANSITION TO FULL DEMOCRACY AND FOR THE CONTINUATION OF SOUND ECONOMIC POLICIES LEADING TO GROWTH AND STABILITY.

BOENINGER MENTIONED THAT PDC/COPODE CANDIDATE PATRICIO AYLWIN IS PLANNING A TRIP TO EUROPE IN EARLY SEPTEMBER AND WOULD LIKE TO VISIT THE U.S. EITHER BEFORE OR AFTER THIS TRAVEL. END SUMMARY.

3. EDGARDO BOENINGER, CHIEF LIEUTENANT OF PDC PRESIDENT AND PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE PATRICIO AYLWIN, VISITED THE DEPARTMENT ON JUNE 30 TO CALL ON DAS MICHAEL SKOL AND HAVE LUNCH WITH LUIGI EINAUDI OF ARA/PPC. ASSISTANT SECRETARY ARONSON JOINED THE MEETING. PETER DESHAZO OF ARA/SC AND

DECLASSIFIED

EDMUNDO VARGAS OF THE OAS ALSO ATTENDED.

4. BOENINGER OUTLINED HIS PERCEPTION OF THE CURRENT SCENE IN CHILE, CLAIMING THAT ALL IS GOING WELL BUT THAT THE ONLY "DARK CLOUD" ON THE HORIZON IS THE CONCERN RAISED BY RECENT CHILEAN ARMY STATEMENTS AND A DECLARATION BY DEFENSE MINISTER CARVAJAL THAT THE ARMED FORCES WOULD TAKE DRASTIC STEPS SHOULD PINOCHET BE REMOVED FROM THE ARMY COMMANDERSHIP FOLLOWING MARCH 11, 1990. THESE STATEMENTS, HE CLAIMED, MAY ONLY REFLECT PINOCHET'S PERSONAL ANGER AND FRUSTRATION AT AYLWIN'S WORDS ON THE SAME ISSUE, BUT HE APPEARED FEARFUL THAT HARD-CORE ELEMENTS WITHIN THE ARMY MIGHT STILL BE CONSIDERING EXTRA-LEGAL ACTION TO THWART THE TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY.

5. AS FOR THE CAMPAIGN, BOENINGER SPOKE AS THOUGH IT WERE ALREADY DECIDED THAT AYLWIN WOULD BE THE SINGLE CANDIDATE OF COPODE. HE PREDICTED THAT EITHER BUCHI OR JARPA WOULD BE THE CANDIDATE OF THE RIGHT AND FELT THAT IN EITHER CASE, THE CAMPAIGN WOULD BE FOR THE MOST PART ISSUE-ORIENTED RATHER THAN AIMED AT BLACKENING THE IMAGE OF THE OPPONENT. HE DID SAY, HOWEVER, THAT BUCHI'S AND, TO A LESSER EXTENT, JARPA'S FORMER ASSOCIATION WITH PINOCHET WOULD CERTAINLY BE UNDERSCORED BY THE OPPOSITION AS A MARK AGAINST THEM. WHILE BOENINGER INDICATED THAT THE CONGRESSIONAL CAKE HAD ALREADY BEEN CUT, HE DID NOT SPECIFY WHO AMONG THE OPPOSITION WOULD GET WHAT.

6. COPODE'S ECONOMIC PLATFORM IS ALMOST READY, BOENINGER SAID, AND WILL BE VERY MODERATE. THE LESSONS OF PERU AND ARGENTINE ECONOMIC DISASTERS HAVE BEEN LEARNED BY THE CHILEAN OPPOSITION, HE CLAIMED, AND NO ONE, NOT EVEN THE SOCIALISTS, ARE INTERESTED IN MAJOR CHANGES IN THE FREE ENTERPRISE SYSTEM. BOENINGER RECOGNIZED U.S. INTEREST IN MAINTAINING A VIGOROUS PRIVATE SECTOR AND CLAIMED THAT THIS POSITION IS FULLY SHARED BY THE PDC. THE NEW GOC MUST COME UP WITH 3-5 OF GDP FOR SOCIAL PROGRAMS, HE NOTED, AND PREDICTED THAT THIS WILL BE COMPLICATED BY THE FACT THAT THE DEMOCRATIC REGIME WILL NOT ENJOY THE EXTRAORDINARY INCOME THAT PINOCHET HAS GENERATED FROM THE RECENT PRIVATIZATIONS AND SELLOFFS OF GOVERNMENT PROPERTY. HE ALSO NOTED THAT THE RESCHEDULING OF DEBT WHICH MUST TAKE PLACE IN 1991 WILL BE AN IMPORTANT FACTOR TO WEIGH IN. CHILE, HE URGED ARONSON, SHOULD BE GIVEN HIGH PRIORITY FOR CONSIDERATION UNDER THE BRADY PLAN. ARONSON RESPONDED THAT IT CERTAINLY WOULD BE AFFORDED PRIORITY CONSIDERATION, BUT THAT EVERYONE MUST FIRST WAIT TO SEE HOW THE PLAN WORKS FOR MEXICO.

7. ASIDE FROM THE NEED FOR "SOCIO-ECONOMIC" CHANGES TO HELP THE POOREST CHILEANS BUT WITHOUT PUTTING UNDUE BURDEN

ON THE SYSTEM, BOENINGER NAMED FUTURE RELATIONS WITH THE MILITARY, PINOCHET, AND PENDING HUMAN RIGHTS CASES AS THE MAJOR PROBLEMS FACING DEMOCRACY IN CHILE. HE STUCK TO AYLWIN'S OWN POSITION THAT COPODE RECOGNIZES THAT PINOCHET HAS A CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHT TO REMAIN AS ARMY COMMANDER BUT THAT IT WOULD BE BAD FOR THE COUNTRY AND FOR THE ARMY IF HE STAYED ON. THAT, HE SAID, IS A QUESTION BETTER DEALT WITH AFTER THE ELECTION AND NOT BEFORE OR DURING THE CAMPAIGN. THE MATTER OF WHAT TO DO WITH THE MANY PENDING AND POTENTIAL JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS ON HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS REMAINS A THORNY ISSUE, HE SAID. WHILE CLAIMING TO FAVOR THE URUGUAYAN MODEL OVER THE ARGENTINE IN DEALING WITH THE MILITARY'S ROLE IN HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES, HE STATED THAT THE CHILEAN JUDICIARY WILL BE OF A MORE LIBERAL MIND AFTER THE RETURN TO DEMOCRACY AND WILL BEGIN TAKING ON THE HUMAN RIGHTS CASES THAT IT WOULD NOT TOUCH BEFORE.

8. THE ISSUE OF THE LETELIER CASE WAS RAISED. DAS SKOL ASKED BOENINGER IF HE WAS AWARE OF PENDING AMENDMENTS TO FSIA LEGISLATION IN CONGRESS AND INQUIRED ABOUT PUBLIC REACTION IN CHILE SHOULD THE THREAT OF ATTACHMENT OF GOC PROPERTY APPEAR TO BE A REALISTIC POSSIBILITY. BOENINGER REPLIED THAT PINOCHET COULD MAKE POLITICAL HAY OUT OF SUCH A THREAT AND THAT IF PROPERTY WERE ACTUALLY ATTACHED, THE CHILEAN PEOPLE WOULD NOT PERCEIVE THIS ACTION AS A LEGITIMATE ATTEMPT TO SETTLE THE LETELIER CASE BUT AS AN UNFAIR AND UNILATERAL STEP BY THE USG AGAINST THE NATIONAL TREASURY. THIS SITUATION WOULD PROVIDE AMMUNITION FOR NATIONALISTIC ANTI-AMERICANISM, HE PREDICTED. HE FURTHER STATED THAT THE OPPOSITION DOES NOT WANT LETELIER TO BE AN ISSUE DURING THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN. AN ELECTED GOVERNMENT, EVEN IF HEADED BY JARPA, WOULD WANT TO SETTLE THE LETELIER MATTER, BOENINGER PREDICTED, AND WOULD WISH TO DO IT IN A COOPERATIVE WAY. THE 1914 TREATY MIGHT PROVIDE ONE MEANS OF ADDRESSING THIS PROBLEM, HE NOTED. ATTACHMENT OF PROPERTY UNDER AN FSIA AMENDMENT WOULD, HOWEVER, JEOPARDIZE THE EVENTUAL SETTLEMENT OF THE CASE.

9. AYLWIN, BOENINGER SAID, IS TENTATIVELY PLANNING A TRIP TO EUROPE IN EARLY SEPTEMBER AND WISHES TO VISIT THE U.S. FOR A FEW DAYS, EITHER BEFORE OR AFTER EUROPE. ASSISTANT SECRETARY ARONSON STATED THAT HE WOULD BE MOST WELCOME IN WASHINGTON AND THAT A MEETING WITH THE SECRETARY WOULD BE APPROPRIATE, IF SCHEDULING PERMITTED. HE THEREFORE URGED BOENINGER TO LET US KNOW AS EARLY AS POSSIBLE OF AYLWIN'S TRAVEL PLANS. DAS SKOL MENTIONED THAT THE CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE WOULD RECEIVE EQUAL TREATMENT IN GETTING APPOINTMENTS AND BOENINGER FOUND THIS ENTIRELY APPROPRIATE. ARONSON STRESSED THAT THE U.S. WOULD BE THOROUGHLY NEUTRAL IN THE UPCOMING CAMPAIGN, SUPPORTING THE PROCESS OF A TRANSITION BUT NOT TAKING SIDES. AGAIN, BOENINGER NODDED APPROVINGLY, CLAIMING THAT WHILE U.S. SUPPORT FOR A "LEVEL PLAYING FIELD" DURING THE PLEBISCITE WAS A KEY FACTOR AND MUCH APPRECIATED, THE SITUATION IS CLEARLY DIFFERENT NOW. HE URGED THE U.S. TO BE VIGILANT, HOWEVER, SHOULD PINOCHET OR THE HARD-CORE AROUND HIM TRY TO STACK THE DECK IN THE ELECTION, ALTHOUGH HE SEEMED TO INDICATE THAT THE POSSIBILITIES OF THIS OCCURRING WERE MORE REMOTE THAN DURING THE PLEBISCITE.

10. COMMENT: AS USUAL, BOENINGER WAS ARTICULATE AND PLEASANT. HE SEEMED AT EASE AND GUARDEDLY OPTIMISTIC ABOUT CHILE'S FUTURE. END COMMENT.

1. SUMMARY AND ACTION REQUESTED: IN REF. A, MIGUEL MEDINA DIRECTOR GENERAL OF MEXICAN NATIONAL COMMISSION OF NUCLEAR SECURITY AND SAFEGUARDS (CNSNS) REQUESTED SANDIA LABORATORY PUBLICATIONS RELATED TO PHYSICAL/SABOTAGE PROTECTION OF NUCLEAR FACILITIES. A. TIDBALL, VIA REGISTERED MAIL (REGISTRY NOS. 6014109 AND 6014110). EMBASSY IS REQUESTED TO PASS THE DOCUMENTS TO MEDINA AND TO FOLLOW-UP ON THE QUESTION OF SCHEDULING

BILATERAL PHYSICAL PROTECTION DISCUSSIONS, USING THE TALKING POINTS PROVIDED IN PARA 2, BELOW. LIKE THE CNSNS, THE U.S. WOULD NOT BE IN A POSITION TO SCHEDULE THE SUGGESTED BILATERALS UNTIL A LATER DATE, POSSIBLY IN THE NOVEMBER/DECEMBER 1989 TIME FRAME.

2. BEGIN TALKING POINTS:

THE U.S. IS PLEASED TO PROVIDE THE ENCLOSED REPORTS ON PHYSICAL/SABOTAGE PROTECTION OF NUCLEAR FACILITIES WHICH WERE PUBLISHED BY SANDIA NATIONAL LABORATORY.

THE NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION (NRC) HAS BEEN ALERTED THAT YOU WILL CONTACT THEM REGARDING SIMILAR DOCUMENTATION.

WE ARE PLEASED ALSO THAT YOU ARE INTERESTED IN MEETING WITH AMERICAN SPECIALSTS TO DISCUSS VARIOUS APPROACHES TO THE PHYSICAL PROTECTION OF NUCLEAR FACILITIES AND MATERIALS.

LIKE YOU, CURRENT COMMITMENTS MAKE IT UNLIKELY THAT WE COULD SCHEDULE A MEETING BETWEEN U.S. AND MEXICAN PHYSICAL PROTECTION EXPERTS AT THE PRESENT TIME.

FOR PLANNING PURPOSES, HOWEVER, WE WOULD BE IN A POSITION TO SCHEDULE SUCH A MEETING IN THE NOVEMBER/DECEMBER 1989 TIME FRAME, IF THIS IS ACCEPTABLE TO THE CNSNS.

THIS WOULD GIVE THE CNSNS TIME TO IDENTIFY KEY AREAS OF INTERESTS, BASED ON THE SANDIA REPORTS BEING PROVIDED NOW AND THE ADDITIONAL REPORTS WHICH YOU MAY REQUEST FROM THE UNCLASSIFIED

SUBJECT: ASSISTANT SECRETARY ARONSON'S MEETING WITH CHILEAN AMBASSADOR OCTAVIO ERRAZURIZ

UNCLASSIFIED

1. CONFIDENTIAL, ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY. CHILEAN AMBASSADOR OCTAVIO ERRAZURIZ MET WITH ASSISTANT SECRETARY ARONSON ON 7/5. ERRAZURIZ DESCRIBED THE PROGRESS BEING MADE IN MOVING TOWARD DEMOCRACY IN CHILE AND PLEDGED THAT THE GOC IS FULLY COMMITTED TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A STABLE, DEMOCRATIC REGIME THAT IT CAN PASS POWER TO. HE STRESSED THE NEED FOR U.S. UNDERSTANDING AND SUPPORT OF THE GOC DURING THE TRANSITIONAL PROCESS, CLAIMING THAT A NORMALIZATION OF MILITARY RELATIONS, REINSTATEMENT OF GSP PRIVILEGES, FAVORABLE TREATMENT OF CHILE UNDER THE BRADY PLAN, AND SUPPORT FOR CHILE'S DESIRE TO BE A FULL-FLEDGED MEMBER OF THE "ECONOMIC COUNCIL OF THE PACIFIC" WOULD BE MEANS OF SHOWING SUCH UNDERSTANDING. ON THE GSP ISSUE, ERRAZURIZ

FOR BUSTOS AND MARTINEZ TO GET A PRESIDENTIAL PARDON, THEY MUST FIRST REQUEST IT, WHICH THEY HAVE NOT. HE NOTED THAT THE FRUIT CRISIS COST THE GOC $100 MILLION AND THAT IT IS WORKING HARD NOW TO ASSURE THAT NEXT YEAR'S EXPORT SEASON WILL GO WELL. ON THE LETELIER CASE, ERRAZURIZ ARGUED THAT THERE ARE MANY "PROBLEMS" OF A LEGAL NATURE TO BE IRONED OUT CONCERNING THE 1914 TREATY BUT THAT THE GOC WANTS TO "PUT THE LETELIER CASE ON THE RIGHT TRACK" SO THAT IT IS NO LONGER AN OBSTACLE IN BILATERAL RELATIONS.

3. ASSISTANT SECRETARY ARONSON SAID THAT THE U.S. IS OPTIMISTIC FOR CHILE'S FUTURE, GIVEN THE NOTABLE PROGRESS IN THE TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY AND THE COUNTRY'S STRONG ECONOMY. THE U.S., HE SAID, WILL BE SUPPORTIVE OF THE TRANSITION PROCESS AND WOULD LIKE TO HELP CHILE ON MATTERS SUCH AS TRADE AND GSP, NOTING IN THE LATTER CASE THAT THE CONTINUED INTERNAL EXILE OF LABOR LEADERS BUSTOS AND MARTINEZ REMAINS A PROBLEM. ARONSON ALSO RAISED THE NEED FOR THE GOC TO TAKE ACTION TO COOPERATE ON THE LETELIER CASE.

4. QUESTIONED BY ARONSON ON THE GOC'S POSITION ON PANAMA,

END SUMMARY.

5. AMBASSADOR ERRAZURIZ, ACCOMPANIED BY DCM INFANTE, CALLED ON ASSISTANT SECRETARY ARONSON IN THE DEPARTMENT ON JULY 5. RICHARD HOWARD AND PETER DESHAZO OF ARA/SC ALSO ATTENDED THE MEETING, WHICH LASTED ALMOST AN HOUR. ERRAZURIZ HAD ATTENDED ARONSON'S SWEARING-IN CEREMONY AND REMARKED THAT SECRETARY BAKER CLEARLY HOLDS HIM IN HIGH ESTEEM. TO THIS, ARONSON REMARKED THAT THE SECRETARY IS VERY MUCH INTERESTED IN LATIN AMERICA AND THAT HE WILL PAY CLOSE ATTENTION TO THE REGION.

6. FOLLOWING THESE INITIAL COMMENTS, ERRAZURIZ PROVIDED A QUICK DESCRIPTION OF THE CURRENT CHILEAN SITUATION. CHILE IS MOVING IMPLACABLY TOWARD A STABLE DEMOCRACY, HE SAID,

UNCLASSIFIED

AND THE GOC WILL GUARANTEE THAT THE DECEMBER, 1989 ELECTIONS WILL BE FREE AND FAIR. THE CURRENT REGIME WILL "TAKE MEASURES" TO ASSURE THAT THE NEW DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT HAS ALL THE MEANS AND TOOLS AT ITS DISPOSAL TO GUARANTEE STABILITY. IN THIS VEIN, ERRAZURIZ SAID THAT THE UPCOMING CONSTITUTIONAL PLEBISCITE, THE PRODUCT OF A NATIONAL CONSENSUS OF GREAT IMPORTANCE, WILL ALSO HELP CONSOLIDATE THE NEW REGIME. THIS FACT SHOULD BE UNDERSTOOD AND APPRECIATED IN THE U.S., HE URGED. ERRAZURIZ FURTHER EXPLAINED THESE STEPS AS THE WORK OF PINOCHET, WHOM, HE CLAIMED, ASSIGNED THE TASK OF REFORMING THE CONSTITUTION TO HIS CURRENT CABINET LAST MARCH.

7. WHEN ERRAZURIZ BEGAN OUTLINING THE ECONOMIC ACHIEVEMENTS OF THE GOC, ARONSON REMARKED THAT CHILE HAS BECOME A MODEL FOR LATIN AMERICA IN THIS REGARD. ERRAZURIZ AGREED, NOTING THAT FOR DEMOCRACY TO PROSPER IN CHILE OR ANYWHERE ELSE, POLITICAL FREEDOMS AND ECONOMIC GROWTH MUST GO TOGETHER.

8. ARONSON COMMENTED THAT THE US IS OPTIMISTIC AND ENCOURAGED BY RECENT EVENTS IN CHILE, BOTH IN THE POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC AREAS AND THAT THE CHILEAN PEOPLE AND GOVERNMENT SHOULD BE DULY PROUD OF THEIR ACHIEVEMENTS. THE U.S., HE SAID, WOULD LIKE TO BE SUPPORTIVE OF THE TRANSITION AND HELP CHILE IF POSSIBLE ON

TRADE ISSUES AND WITH GSP, ALTHOUGH IN THE LATTER CASE AN IMPORTANT MATTER (IMPLYING BUSTOS AND MARTINEZ) HAS TO BE DEALT WITH BEFORE RECONSIDERATION OF CHILE'S GSP PRIVILEGES WOULD BE POSSIBLE. ERRAZURIZ SECONDED ARONSON'S WISH FOR BETTER BILATERAL RELATIONS, URGING THAT THE U.S. TAKE SOME CONCRETE STEPS TO SHOW ITS UNDERSTANDING AND APPRECIATION FOR WHAT IS HAPPENING IN CHILE. HE SUGGESTED AS WAYS OF DOING SO A NORMALIZATION OF MILITARY AFFAIRS (THE MILITARY, HE CLAIMED, HARBORS GREAT RESENTMENT FOR THE U.S.), BY REINSTATING CHILE'S GSP, BY AFFORDING CHILE PRIORITY TREATMENT UNDER THE BRADY PLAN, AND BY THE U.S. HELPING CHILE TO GAIN FULL MEMBERSHIP IN THE "ECONOMIC COUNCIL OF THE PACIFIC," CLAIMING THAT THE US CURRENTLY SUPPORTS MEXICO RATHER THAN CHILE FOR THIS BODY. THE FRUIT CRISIS, ERRAZURIZ STATED, HAS LEFT SOME DEEP SCARS AND A BILL TO THE GOC FOR $100

MILLION, FACTORS WHICH FURTHER NECESSITATE AN IMPROVEMENT IN U.S.-CHILEAN RELATIONS.

9. POSITIVE STEPS BY EACH COUNTRY TO MUTUALLY REINFORCE FURTHER CONSTRUCTIVE DEVELOPMENTS WOULD CERTAINLY BENEFIT BILATERAL RELATIONS, ARONSON SAID. HE OFFERED GSP AS AN AREA WHERE PROGRESS COULD BE MADE. ERRAZURIZ QUICKLY RESPONDED THAT THE GOC IS REVISING ITS LABOR CODE IN SOME AREAS "OF INTEREST TO YOU" AND WOULD BE SOON DISCUSSING THE MATTER WITH THE USG. AS FOR BUSTOS AND MARTINEZ, ERRAZURIZ SAID, THEY MUST REQUEST A PARDON IN ORDER FOR JUSTICE MINISTER ROSENDE TO TAKE ACTION ON THEIR CASE. SINCE THEY HAVE NOT DONE SO, NOTHING CAN BE DONE.

10. THE LETELIER CASE WAS RAISED BY ARONSON AND ARA/SC DIRECTOR HOWARD. ERRAZURIZ STATED THAT HE WILL BE LUNCHING WITH LEGAL ADVISOR SOFAER THE NEXT DAY AND

QUICKLY CHANGED THE TOPIC TO THE BUSCHMANN CASE, NOTING THE GOC'S DISAPPOINTMENT THAT THE U.S. REFUSED TO EXTRADITE HIM. THE GOC, HE CLAIMED, THOUGHT THAT THE USG WOULD BE ABLE TO CHARGE HIM ON A U.S. OFFENSE. ARONSON RESPONDED THAT WE WERE VERY DISAPPOINTED TO HAVE TO LET HIM GO BUT THAT WE HAD NO CHOICE, GIVEN THE NON-EXTRADITABLE NATURE OF THE CRIME WITH WHICH HE WAS CHARGED BY THE GOC.

11. TURNING THE CONVERSATION BACK TO LETELIER, ARONSON NOTED THAT THE 1914 TREATY PROVIDES AN EXCELLENT MECHANISM FOR RESOLVING THE MATTER, WARNING THAT CONGRESS IS ONCE AGAIN INTERESTED AND THAT IT IS IMPERATIVE THAT POSITIVE MOVEMENT ON THE CASE TAKE PLACE. AGAIN, ERRAZURIZ CLAIMED THAT HIS LUNCH WITH SOFAER SHOULD BE AN OPPORTUNITY FOR PROGRESS IN DEVELOPING A "JOINT ANALYSIS" OF THE TREATY AND PUTTING THE CASE "ON THE RIGHT TRACK" SO THAT IT WILL NOT BE AN OBSTACLE TO BETTER BILATERAL RELATIONS. HE INSISTED THAT THE MATTER OF THE JURISDICTION OF U.S. COURTS SHOULD BE ADJUDICATED. ONCE MORE, ARONSON MENTIONED THE 1914 TREATY AS A GOOD MEANS OF DEALING WITH SUCH ISSUES AND ERRAZURIZ DIFFERED WITH THIS VIEW. WHEN ARONSON STATED THE NEED TO NAME COMMISSIONERS AND PROCEED WITH THE COMMISSION'S WORK, ERRAZURIZ FELL BACK ON THE NEED FOR "JOINT ANALYSIS" OF THE TREATY.

12. ARONSON NOTED THAT HIS INTERVENTION WITH CONGRESS HAD HELPED MAKE PROGRESS IN THE AREA OF MILITARY RELATIONS. PROGRESS IN THIS AREA AND IN BILATERAL RELATIONS IN GENERAL WILL CONTINUE, HE STATED, AS CHILE TAKES FURTHER STEPS TOWARD DEMOCRACY. CHILE, HE SAID, CAN BE SURE THAT THE U.S. WANTS TO CONTINUE SEEKING MEANS FOR BETTER BILATERAL RELATIONS.

13. WHEN ASKED BY ARONSON ABOUT THE FUTURE GOC POSITION ON PANAMA, [illegible]

NR

14. ERRAZURIZ ASKED ARONSON ABOUT HIS TALKS IN MOSCOW. ARONSON NOTED HIS PERSONAL IMPRESSIONS OF THE PHYSICAL AND ECONOMIC DECAY OF THE USSR AND HIS TENDENCY TO DISTRUST SOVIET INTENTIONS IN LATIN AMERICA AND ELSEWHERE. WHEN ERRAZURIZ RAISED THE MATTER OF SOVIET SUPPORT FOR TERRORIST GROUPS IN CHILE, ARONSON RESPONDED THAT WE HAVE RAISED THE ISSUE AND THAT THE SOVIETS KNOW THAT WE HOLD THEM ACCOUNTABLE BECAUSE OF THEIR BANKROLLING OF ALL CUBAN ACTIVITIES. HE CLAIMED TO BE "CAUTIOUSLY OPTIMISTIC" THAT THE SOVIETS MAY TRY TO PUT A DAMPER ON CUBAN SUPPORT FOR TERRORISM AND OTHER ACTIVITIES AGAINST LATIN AMERICA, NOTING THAT THE USSR CANNOT AFFORT TO CONTINUE UNDERWRITING CUBA. BECAUSE OF THE NEED TO BE CAUTIOUS WITH THE USSR, ARONSON ARGUED, IT IS DOUBLY NECESSARY TO

ASIDE FROM RAISING THE MATTER OF THE "ECONOMIC COUNCIL OF THE PACIFIC" (WE WILL ATTEMPT TO GET MORE INFORMATION ON THIS MATTER) AND INTRODUCING THE IDEA THAT PINOCHET WAS THE MOVING FORCE BEHIND CONSTITUTIONAL REFORM, ERRAZURIZ USED ONLY STOCK TALKING POINTS AND ARGUMENTS IN THIS MEETING. Intelligence Research Report No. 210

Key Judgments

(LOU) The situation in China will remain unsettled at least until Deng Xiaoping and other party elders die.

(C) The ousting of the reformist Zhao Ziyang and his supporters, combined with a continuing purge of demonstration sympathizers within and outside the Communist Party, is the result of a temporary victory by hardliners. [redacted]

(C) On economic reform, however, tension may develop between such hardliners as [redacted] and such moderates as [redacted]. [redacted] (See Appendix for biographic sketches of newly promoted leaders Jiang Zemin, Song Ping, Li Ruihuan, and Ding Guangen.) More conservative contenders were bypassed when Jiang was named to replace Zhao as party chief.

(S) Friction may also develop between [redacted]

Declassify: OADR (Fingar, T.)

(C) Myriad fundamental problems portend rough waters for China's leadership. These problems cannot be solved quickly, [redacted] For example:

- Basic economic problems are bound to get worse before they get better. Differences exist within the leadership over the direction and scope of needed economic reform. If hardliners succeed in shifting China toward self-reliance, the resulting decrease in foreign trade and investment will exacerbate underlying problems.

- Contention may also persist over the scope and severity of the internal crackdown.

- [redacted]

- Popular discontent will add to pressure to do something about inflation, corruption, and nepotism, [redacted]

(LOU) In foreign policy, leaders appear united in espousing a continuation of China's open-door policy. Sino-Soviet political rapprochement will continue at a snail's pace.

(C) Foreign governments have expressed near-universal revulsion over the crackdown, although a few exceptions have supported China's approach. Negative reactions range from punitive measures by Western countries to private criticism in the East:

- International Organizations: Although the UN has followed its mandate not to interfere in internal affairs, the World Bank and Asian Development Bank (ADB) have postponed consideration of pending loans.

China's top leader, Deng Xiaoping

CCP General Secretary Jiang Zemin

- Western Europe: Reactions generally follow the lines of the US response, i.e., cessation of high-level visits, suspension of military ties, support for freezing consideration of new international development loans, and public criticism of human rights abuses.

- Canada, Australia, New Zealand: All three have canceled high-level visits to the PRC. Canada and Australia have reduced financial assistance, and Canada has recalled its Ambassador for consultations.

- Japan and South Korea: Reactions fall short of punitive steps, although Japan has hinted that suspension of development assistance could continue even after "stability" is restored.

- The Soviet Union: While official comments have merely expressed hope for continued reform and common sense, the private Soviet reaction has been quite critical.

- Hungary, Poland, Yugoslavia, and the West European communist parties: Reaction is sharply critical.

- East Germany, Cuba, and North Korea: Reaction has been sympathetic.

- The Third World: Official response has been characterized by silence or expressions of regret, tempered by unwillingness to intervene in China's internal affairs. Condemnation in the press has been strident, with the exception of communist countries.

(C) How Did China Get to This Point?

Succession Struggle. At the heart of the crisis in China has been the power struggle for the succession to Deng. Several semiretired party elders, who like Deng belong to the "founding generation" of communist revolutionaries, have been seeking for several years to reassert their influence, slow or roll back Deng's reforms, and replace Deng's chosen successors with their own protegés.

Significant policy disputes have been at issue, with Deng's younger supporters throughout the party, government, and military bureaucracies favoring more rapid systemic reform. Hu Yaobang and Zhao Ziyang were willing and able to reshape the political system to accommodate the interests of new social forces set in motion by the decade of reform. The other elders have acted as spokesmen for the established powers, favoring slower and more modest change within the context of strong government and party central control.

Beginning last summer, contending leaders used the problems in the economy—particularly double-digit inflation—to step up attacks on Zhao and force an end to political reform to preserve social stability. Popular confidence in the regime began to disintegrate as concerns over inflation were compounded by rampant official corruption and nepotism and evidence that leaders were more concerned about power considerations than public aspirations.

Differences over policy have been aggravated by personal grudges and family interests. Circumvention of formal institutions and procedures in the recent crisis caused political actors to fall back on personal loyalties to ensure their political—and physical—survival.

Zhao saw the demonstrations of popular support at the time of Hu's death as an opportunity to shore up his position and restore momentum to political and economic reform. He alone in the top leadership seemed to understand the depth of public grievances and the urgent need to address them in some realistic fashion. Zhao's critics saw his accommodating response to the student demonstrations as an opportunity to undermine his leadership and to assert a more traditional, authoritarian rule.

The Final Straw. In mid-May, growing tensions produced a final break between Deng and Zhao.

With the June 9 public appearance of Deng, other elders, and the top leadership—minus Zhao, Hu Qili, and Rui Xingwen—there emerged a shaky [redacted] leadership coalition supporting the imposition of law and order through a reign of terror.

In important ways, this clash of social and political tensions is unique in Chinese history. It emerged from a concatenation of events:

- Hu Yaobang's death on the eve of planned demonstrations in commemoration of the prodemocratic May Fourth Movement of 1919;
- the ADB meeting in Beijing;
- the Sino-Soviet summit that prompted the massive presence of Western, Hong Kong, and Taiwan reporters in Beijing to provide live coverage to the world; and
- Deng's deteriorating health.

The conflict between extremes in Chinese political culture—the aging founders of the revolution and the most educated and Westernized elements of the national population—does not exist to the same extent elsewhere in China as in the capital.

The Impact of the Fourth Plenum

(C) The Central Committee on June 24 removed Zhao from all his party positions and demoted three of his supporters. [redacted] remain an important force in the leadership, [redacted]

- Jiang, an economic reformer and Politburo member, was named General Secretary and promoted to the Standing Committee.
- Li remains Premier, but none of his protegés received a promotion.
- Neither the military nor the security apparatus enhanced its position within the leadership.

Deng apparently brokered a deal that will protect key aspects of his economic reform program, but the Central Committee communique strongly hints that the struggle is not yet over.

(C) Zhao's Out... The Central Committee plenum made official what had been known for weeks: Zhao lost his job as party chief. While removed for making "very serious mistakes" and "supporting turmoil"—but not counterrevolutionary rebellion—and "splitting the party," Zhao was labeled "comrade" and not charged as a counterrevolutionary. Nevertheless, these are serious charges and the communique says darkly that it will "look further into his case."

(C) While Zhao's initial treatment is far milder than suggested by documents reportedly circulated last month, the leadership removed him from all posts, including the Central Committee. When Hu lost his post as party chief he was left on the Politburo; likewise Hua Guofeng stayed on the Politburo for almost two years and then retained a Central Committee seat for five more years. Zhao's harsh treatment allegedly was the result of his refusal to admit to his "mistakes."

(C) ...Jiang's In. New party chief Jiang Zemin was party boss in Shanghai and has been a Politburo member since 1987. [redacted]

Jiang is a Soviet-trained engineer who has worked with and for Li in various jobs. [redacted]

(S) Jiang has no historical connection with Deng but almost certainly attracted the patriarch's favorable attention by his censorship of the World Economic Herald in April. Moreover, Jiang may have coordinated several visits to Shanghai by Deng for medical treatment. [redacted]

(C) Although a strong practitioner of economic reform, including devolution of responsibility and resources from central ministries to local control, Jiang crossed swords with Zhao several times over Shanghai matters. [redacted]

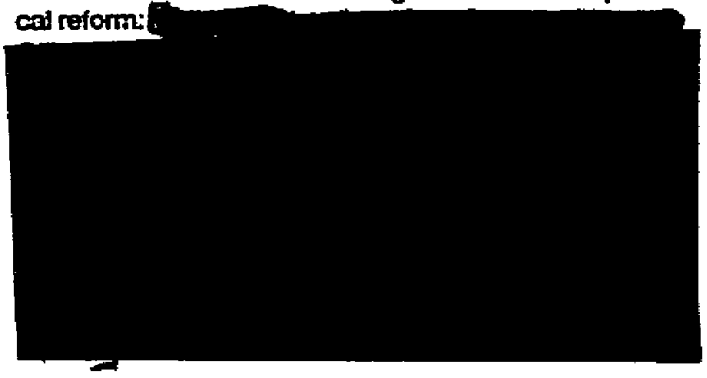
Politburo Standing Committee member Li Ruihuan

(C) Reformers, Not Liberals. The Central Committee dumped all of Zhao's top-level associates who had demonstrated a strong commitment to political reform:



Politburo Standing Committee member Song Ping

(C) Almost all of those who were promoted—Jiang, Tianjin party chief Li Ruihuan, who joins the Politburo Standing Committee and Secretariat, and Ding Guangen, who joins the Secretariat—are committed to economic reform but take a more orthodox stance on political issues. Both Jiang and Li Ruihuan acted with moderation during recent student unrest, allowing students to vent frustration and avoiding violence or the use of troops. Conservatives gained one seat on the now six-man Standing Committee: Chen Yun protegé Song Ping, an orthodox economic planner who is now in charge of top-level party personnel affairs.

(C) Keeping the Door Open. The communique, like Deng's June 9 speech, strongly endorses China's commitment to economic reform and opening to the outside. It contains no bluster or warnings about foreign governments "interfering in China's internal affairs" but rather expresses the belief that foreigners will understand China's "just struggle to quell the counterrevolutionary rebellion" and that friendly ties between the PRC and other countries will continue to develop. Preserving the "open door" and Westward-leaning foreign policy may have been achieved, however, at the price of [redacted]

(C) The Long, Hot Summer

Although China's leaders papered over differences at the Central Committee plenum, signals persist of strong disagreements on policy. Moreover, the plenum communique hinted that further "adjustments" to the leadership are likely.

Despite efforts to get back to business, top-level wrangling will continue throughout the summer, possibly culminating in more changes at another plenum or a "party representative conference" this fall. Contention over the scope and severity of the crackdown and a high-level review of foreign policy and the diplomatic fallout of recent events will also keep Beijing's political pot simmering through the summer.

Domestic Policy Signals Unclear. The fourth plenum's communique declared a "decisive victory" over the "counterrevolutionary rebellion" of April-May and announced plans to get the country back to work. The late-June meeting of the National People's Congress Standing Committee, delayed by preparations for the plenum, also was meant to symbolize the return to "normality." But conflicting signals in statements by top leaders, the plenum communique, and various authoritative media suggest continued confusion about domestic priorities and marching orders.

People's Daily editorials and the plenum communique of June 24, for example, evince continuing disagreement over the priority and relationship of combating "bourgeois liberalism" and pursuing economic reform. The communique, like an editorial in the party paper June 23, highlighted the importance of purging Zhao and his supporters and reasserting strong party ideological and organizational controls. The communique listed two additional tasks: carrying out economic retrenchment to "improve" economic reform and addressing complaints about corruption and illegality in party leadership.

Both of these authoritative statements took pains to denigrate democracy activists and their alleged political backers and to defend the harsh crackdown by party and army hardliners. Credit for acting decisively to check the counterrevolution was ascribed to Deng and other party elders. The rationale was set forth for conducting a major purge of the bureaucracy in the guise of a political campaign against bourgeois liberalization. Caveats regarding the need to follow legal procedures and to avoid regression in reform were weak and tangential to the argument.

A People's Daily editorial on June 25, after briefly reiterating the importance of ideological work and party building, took a different tack regarding priorities. It depicted the purge of officials, stepped-up attention to party discipline, and similar measures as means to the more important goal of advancing Deng's reform program "even more courageously and freely." It warned that immediate undertakings must not lead to a slackening of reform efforts, confinement of people's thinking, subjection of the economy to rigid controls, revival of old ideologies and systems, or the blocking of channels to other countries.

Two Halves of a Whole, or Continuing Disagreement? The editorials just before and after the plenum might be read as two halves of an agreed position, but the lack of balance in the communique itself is noteworthy. The communique and other documents circulated for study, including statements by Deng, focused almost entirely on ideological themes, without reference to continuing reform. Moreover, the most recent editorial openly admitted the existence of "misgivings" as to whether the reform program should continue in the wake of recent events. Different emphases appear in statements of support for plenum decisions sent in by central and local organs.

Deng's June 9 speech, which set the themes for the plenum and the editorials, seemed to be trying to strike a balance—to define a centrist position and rebuild leadership consensus. Media play and leaders' comments on his speech even before the plenum varied significantly, however. These differences reflect the fundamental contradictions inherent in Deng's effort to preserve his program—and his own position—yet discard the bold reform wing of the party.

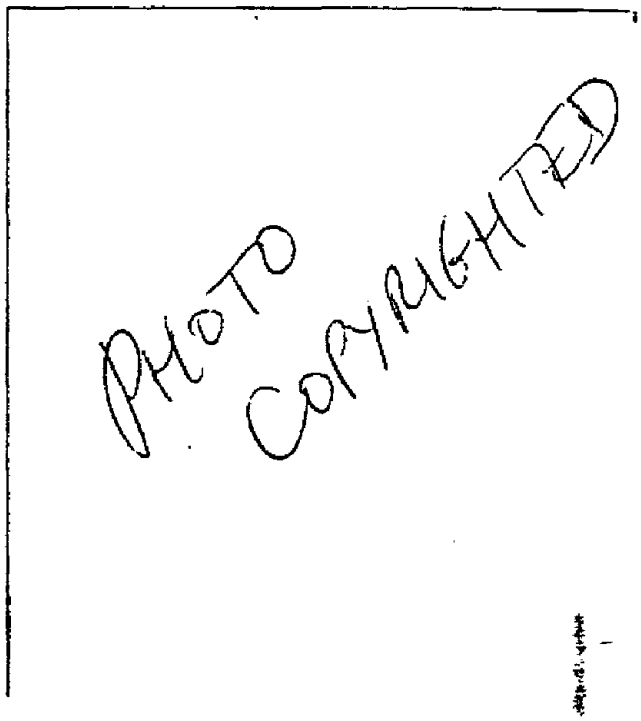
Greater Consistency on Foreign Policy. Statements on foreign policy, however, are consistent, eschewing anti-Western invective and affirming the importance of the open policy. The plenum communique asserted the Central Committee's conviction that friendly ties with all countries would continue to develop and avoided anti-Western innuendo and criticism of the US that persists in nonauthoritative media.

The June 25 editorial was effusive in emphasizing the centrality to China's future of opening up the country and learning everything useful from all countries. The consistency and tone of statements on foreign policy may reflect either Deng's determination to preserve that aspect of his program or agreement among the contending factions to limit the already considerable damage to China's international position.



President Yang Shangkun

(C) Defensiveness Suggests Low Confidence

China's posture, both at home and abroad, remains defensive. [redacted] In foreign policy, China remains prickly, as evinced by recent statements by Yang Shangkun, Li Peng, Li Xiannian, and others that China will not succumb to pressure from abroad and will find its own road to modernization.

At home, media are conducting a full-court press to convince people that the leadership's actions against prodemocracy demonstrators were necessary, moderate, and appropriate, and that the unrest was fomented by such "traitors" as Fang Lizhi with support from anti-China elements abroad. Many remain unconvinced and are demanding renewed attention to reform.

Personnel Changes Incomplete. Although the plenum picked a new party chief and restaffed the Politburo Standing Committee and Secretariat after the purge of Zhao and his associates, it did not elect any new Politburo members or select a replacement for Zhao in the Military Commission. Moreover, a number of Central Committee members may be under investigation for supporting student protests. If judged guilty, they could be removed.

A party congress—or "representative conference," an interim forum used in 1985 to reshuffle the leadership—will be needed to make these changes. Leaders probably will aim to convene such a meeting in the fall; most of the summer will be spent skirmishing over who will be promoted, demoted, or removed. Leaders may also discuss high-level government changes as part of a package deal. These changes probably would not take place formally until next spring.

Wrangling Over the Purge. The party's Central Discipline Inspection Commission has ordered a wide-ranging examination of party members' conduct during recent unrest and called for stiff discipline—including removal from the party—of those who took too soft a stance. At the same time, police, party officials, and government agencies will be investigating rank-and-file bureaucrats, low-level officials, journalists, intellectuals, college faculty, and workers.

The scale of the inquisition—[redacted] is said to have told a foreign visitor that some 70,000-80,000 would be targeted—as well as the nature of charges leveled and the punishments assessed will become politically charged as hardliners try to gin up an anti-reform campaign. A continued crackdown, including more executions, will also complicate China's efforts to get foreign relations back on an even keel.

(C) Longer Term Prognosis

Society. The leadership will debate for some time the momentous impact on China's future and Deng's reform program of the tragic events of early June. The probability is high for continued leadership instability, punctuated by deaths of elders.

The bureaucracy and intelligentsia will remain demoralized if not defiant; the work force sullen; and the student population totally alienated and increasingly engaged in underground and radical dissident activity. There is probably little residual faith that the regime can be counted on to move forward on demands for political freedoms, an open and accurate press, and an end to official corruption.

Economy. The power struggle in Beijing will continue, precluding new policies to address economic problems. Deng's program is being reaffirmed, but it will be redefined in more conservative terms. Uncertainty and timidity among economic managers and bureaucrats, and caution among foreign investors, may slow the pace of economic growth somewhat, but the conservative program will do little to address the economy's basic problems.

At the same time, pressure to increase subsidies to forestall social unrest will exacerbate the government's budget deficit, reduce funds for investment in needed infrastructure, and stimulate inflation. The extent to which Deng will be willing or able to resist conservative pressures for a rollback is unknown.

Foreign Policy. China's relations with the West will be strained by continuing deterioration of the economy, tensions in society, and anti-Western rhetoric resulting from political infighting. Chinese conservatives tend to favor minimizing dependence on the international economic system (while, however, pursuing economic ties with all countries) and eschewing close political or military entanglements with the great powers.

An internally repressive regime in China does not necessarily portend a strategic shift in relations with the United States and the Soviet Union. Several of the elders and military leaders now regaining political influence have been more reluctant than Deng to downgrade the threat from the Soviet Union, and the new regime may be even less responsive to Soviet appeals for negotiation of confidence-building measures.

Commanders eager to capitalize on their new political clout by increasing the military budget will be reluctant to undercut that possibility by playing down the Soviet threat. Moreover, those who have led the decade-long effort to modernize the People's Liberation Army (PLA) do not want further to jeopardize military ties to the US.

Sino-Soviet political rapprochement was expected to be slow even before the unrest in China; it is now likely to proceed at a snail's pace. Gorbachev had been maneuvering to develop a "special" relationship based on common socialist goals. The Chinese were responding minimally and only in the guise of discussing economic and political reform.

Gorbachev may now want to keep his distance from the [redacted] Chinese regime. For their part, hardliners in Beijing have no interest whatsoever in emulating Gorbachev's political reforms; many view retrenchment as preferable to further economic reform.

(C) International Reaction to the Crackdown

China's Relations With Developed Countries Seriously Damaged. The considerable international network of political and economic ties which China developed over the past decade has been seriously damaged. The almost-universal revulsion to the brutal suppression of the prodemocracy movement and the ensuing purge will make it difficult for Beijing to begin an effective salvage operation. Many countries, including most of China's major trade partners, have supported their condemnation with concrete punitive actions but have stopped short of trade sanctions.

Even without trade sanctions, trade and investment from Western Europe and Asia will be adversely affected if China's hardliners choose ideological purity and self-reliance over interdependence. China's credentials as a socialist reformer are being called into question not only by West European communists but also by progressives in Eastern Europe and, to a lesser extent, in the Soviet Union. Support from the remaining conservative socialist regimes will be scant comfort to Deng's hopes of continued modernization.

The UN and International Organizations. UN Secretary-General Perez de Cuellar, while noting the UN mandate not to interfere in internal affairs, was "greatly saddened" by the violence in China. Both the US and the USSR agree that the issue is not appropriate for Security Council consideration. The WEOG (Western European and Others Group) members will individually call for stronger criticisms from the Secretary-General and designated UN human rights rapporteurs.

Such international financial institutions as the World Bank and the ADB, which play an important role in the Chinese economy, have postponed consideration of pending loans to the PRC, citing the uncertain economic outlook. New credits and investments undoubtedly will be subjected to careful scrutiny even after activity resumes on existing obligations.

Western Europe Unites in Condemnation. West European countries—together and individually—have expressed their condemnation of the government violence in China, generally following the lines of the US response. The European Community acted quickly to cancel economic consultations with China's trade minister on June 5, warning that "cooperation between China and the Community can only suffer."

The EC summit on June 26-27 took unusually strong action, calling for suspension of military cooperation, arms trade, and high-level contacts; postponing of new cooperation projects; and a review of cultural, scientific, and technological cooperation. The EC Council also supported postponement of new World Bank credits. Public pressure played an important role in the EC sanctions, particularly in Italy where Prime Minister Andreotti had argued for a cautious approach for fear of permanently damaging relations.

Switzerland has suspended arms sales to China, and Austria has announced a freeze on relations. Sweden and Denmark have suspended development assistance and, with Norway, have canceled various official visits with China.

The Finnish press has criticized the government for not taking any action against China. Along with Norway, Finland has denied Chinese reports—part of a propaganda offensive meant to show that business is being conducted as usual—that it approved new loans to the PRC in June.

Canada, Australia, and New Zealand. All three countries have canceled high-level visits with the PRC, including an Australian ship visit, with Canada going one step further by suspending military relations and temporarily recalling its Ambassador for consultations. Australia and Canada are also cutting off financial assistance for new projects. As popular destinations for Chinese students, all three countries will consider extending student visas as necessary. Australia and Canada—along with the US, United Kingdom, and Japan—have provided asylum or refugee status to several Chinese diplomats and dissidents involved in the demonstrations.

Potentially Serious Economic Fallout. According to PRC statistics, the EC in 1988 overtook Japan as China's second largest trade partner. Several European countries, including West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Sweden, and Denmark, individually suspended development assistance to China to protest the killings in Beijing and the ensuing executions. Canada and Australia are postponing new foreign assistance projects.

Without soft loans and government-backed credits worth several hundred million dollars, the viability of many joint-venture projects will be called into question. The Coordinating Committee for East-West Trade Policy (COCOM) has agreed to suspend deliberation on whether to relax further restrictions on exports to China until the fall.

UNCLASSIFIED

Japan and South Korea. Official reaction to the events in China by both Japan and South Korea has been more muted than that by Western countries. Japan has escalated its response from "serious concern," to describing the use of force as "unacceptable from a humanitarian standpoint," to "condemning the killings." Japan has hinted that suspension of development assistance could continue even after "stability" is restored. Tokyo is opposed to imposing economic sanctions for fear both that criticism will drive China toward Moscow and that Japanese business representatives would be harmed.

South Korea also has expressed "grave concern" but has not taken any punitive steps. Then-Prime Minister Uno and Democratic Justice Party Chairman Pak Chun-Kyu agreed during a July 11 meeting that steps should not be taken at the July 14 Paris summit to isolate China internationally. Foreign Minister Choi promised to continue efforts to improve relations with China. Several South Korean joint ventures have suspended operations, but civil aviation talks reportedly are continuing.

Although a few companies in Japan and South Korea may try to take advantage of Chinese efforts to reassure foreign businesses by offering "good deals," private business decisions in both countries undoubtedly will be chilled by uncertainty about China's stability.

Reaction in the Socialist World. A People's Daily editorial on Deng's June 9 speech analyzing the causes of the "counterrevolutionary rebellion" heralded his remarks as important to the "smooth development of the international communist movement." In reality, the apparent conservative victory in China is bucking the tide of socialism which is moving toward greater political pluralism and has damaged China's reputation as a progressive socialist nation.

Moscow's Reaction—Subdued Disappointment: Moscow's official comments, as represented by the Congress of Deputies, have been confined largely to general statements hoping for continued reforms and common sense. During the May 15-18 summit in Beijing, Gorbachev called for a dialogue with the students. A month later in Bonn, Gorbachev expressed his "regret" over developments, noting that an anti-reform backlash would be "immensely harmful" to international trends toward relaxing tensions. He also implied that the students were not in fact counter-revolutionary.

Vice Foreign Minister Rogachev has expressed concern that the pace of improvement in Sino-Soviet relations will be slowed, a likely result of Beijing's preoccupation with its domestic crisis and the renewed importance of a PLA traditionally wary of the Soviet Union. Boris Yeltsin and Andrei Sakharov both decried Beijing's actions as a crime against the people, drawing parallels to Moscow's repression of demonstrations in Tbilisi.

Privately, Soviet reaction has been quite critical. [redacted] blamed the "stupidity" of the Chinese leadership for letting tensions build too high. Several Soviet diplomats have expressed support for the students and regret that they cannot speak out publicly for fear of harming Sino-Soviet relations. One officer described Chinese actions as "dirtying the name of communist parties everywhere."

Although Moscow would not be averse to profiting from tension in China's relations with the West, Soviet Ambassador to China Troyanovskiy reportedly told Vice Premier Tian Jiyun that the USSR was in no position to step into the West's economic shoes if sanctions cut off PRC access to science, technology, and trade. Gorbachev hopes that ties with Beijing can be solidified without endangering Soviet ties to the West, but he is sensitive to charges that Soviet failure to criticize China is based on expediency rather than principle.

Socialist Condemnation of China: Hungary, Poland, Yugoslavia, and the West European communist parties have all been sharply critical of the military crackdown in Beijing. Hungarian General Secretary Grosz stated that the Chinese Government's violent response "has nothing to do with socialism."

Privately, reformers throughout Eastern Europe are concerned that their conservative opponents will cite China as proof of the danger of reform. Communist parties in France, Italy, Greece, and Finland condemned the violence in Beijing as an affront to socialist principles.

Mild Support From Hardline Regimes: East Germany has been most sympathetic to China's suppression of "anticonstitutional elements," because China now provides an example of what it perceives as the dangers of reform. Other countries like North Korea have limited their comments to quoting the Chinese version of events and noting that the crisis is purely an internal affair. By waiting until mid-June, when the conservative victory in Beijing became apparent, Czechoslovakia, Romania, and Bulgaria could avoid negative comment, choosing instead to welcome the apparent return to stability. The exception was Albania, which criticized reforms in both the Soviet Union and China as extending power through violence.

Third World Reaction. The official Third World response to the crackdown in China was characterized by silence or expressions of regret which were tempered by unwillingness to intervene in China's internal affairs. Condemnation in the press was strident, with the exception of communist countries.

Southeast Asia. Southeast Asian countries are concerned that the power struggle in Beijing could affect China's role in the search for a settlement in Cambodia—for better or for worse. Optimists hope that Chinese leaders, preoccupied with internal developments, will seek regional stability by reducing support for the Khmer Rouge. Pessimists fear that hardliners will take a stronger anti-Vietnamese line, in part to divert attention from domestic woes.

Some, notably Indonesia and the Philippines, also fear a resumption of Chinese aid to regional communist movements. Vietnam, vulnerable both to direct Chinese pressure and to prodemocracy stirrings, has been exceptionally cautious in reporting on events in China. In member countries of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN), media have harshly condemned the Chinese Government, in contrast to more circumspect official reactions.

Thai officials have been most concerned about changes in the Chinese attitude toward a Cambodia settlement, despite official PRC assurances that China's position is unchanged. Thai military officers may be having second thoughts about their growing dependence on Chinese equipment, but existing investments and advantageous prices have built a momentum that would be difficult to reverse.

The official Thai reaction was restrained. Prime Minister Chatchai was "saddened," but described the Chinese crackdown as an internal affair. He reportedly also said that Thailand could benefit from trade and investment that might otherwise go to China, a view that has drawn widespread public and media criticism. Editorials drew parallels with the public pressure that forced Thai military dictators to make way for democracy. PRC-affiliated Hong Kong papers that condemned martial law have appeared in Bangkok for the first time in decades, while local Chinese-language papers that support the Beijing line (allegedly under Chinese Embassy pressure) have lost sales.

Philippine Government reaction also has been muted, constrained by fears that angry Chinese leaders could retaliate with a tougher stand on the disputed Spratly Islands or with a resumption of aid to the New People's Army. Officials stress that bilateral ties will remain unchanged, but efforts in the House of Representatives to upgrade relations with Taiwan may be stepped up.

Public and press condemnation of the Beijing events, on the other hand, has been very strong. Filipinos saw many parallels between China's democracy movement and their own peaceful revolution in 1986 and were horrified when the PLA—unlike the Philippine Army—crushed the protests. Thousands from the Chinese community, representing more than 170 associations, burned Deng in effigy.

The Chinese tragedy could bring windfall benefits to the Philippines in two ways. Philippine officials and business representatives, like their Thai counterparts, are eager to attract Asian and Western investment that otherwise would have gone to the PRC. The government also is moving to channel popular revulsion against Philippine Maoist insurgents. The head of the main communist-front labor federation played into their hands by condoning the massacre, deepening existing rifts within the communist movement.

Indonesian military and intelligence officials, always suspicious of Chinese intentions, have used the crackdown to justify denying progress toward normalized relations. President Suharto and Foreign Minister Alatas favor improved ties but will move forward cautiously. The government's mild official response was criticized in the press—both as a slap at Jakarta's noninterference policy and to give broader coverage to the events in China.

Malaysian leaders fear that expressions of solidarity with the students in Beijing by their Chinese minority community could affect their country's delicate ethnic balance. Prime Minister Mahathir said only that he hoped the unrest in China could be resolved quickly, but most media condemned the "bloodbath" in Beijing. Despite official discouragement, some students did demonstrate, and Malaysian Chinese groups delivered protests to the PRC Embassy.

Singapore issued ASEAN's strongest official condemnation. Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew condemned the use of force against unarmed civilians. But officials also have privately warned the US of the futility of sanctions and the difficulty of restoring damaged ties. They caution against fostering an isolation that suits the vested interests of the CCP old guard and feeds Chinese xenophobia.

There has been little public reaction, but the Singapore press has given mainland events extensive critical coverage and reprinted the most vitriolic Hong Kong stories. Singapore also hopes to gain from China's difficulties and has sought to attract the brightest and best of Hong Kong Chinese now anxious to emigrate.

Vietnam has carefully avoided either condoning or condemning Chinese actions. Vietnamese media have generally carried only official PRC accounts of Chinese events, avoiding comment on either the demonstrations or the crackdown. Government spokesmen forcefully contradicted a BBC report that Hanoi had publicly supported the Chinese actions, however, stating that the matter was an internal Chinese affair. In addition, Hanoi's Armed Forces Daily quoted non-PRC sources describing troops firing on students. Perhaps influenced by events in China, Vietnam's leaders quickly caved in to recent student demonstrations demanding increased living subsidies.

According to a Xinhua report of a June 17 meeting between Vice Chairman Vo Nguyen Giap and the Chinese Ambassador, Giap "believed China will...restore social stability...under the leadership of the CCP and the Chinese Government." Hanoi's careful adherence to a policy of neutrality and nonintervention reflects the complexity of its historical relations with its giant neighbor. A major concern of Hanoi is to continue to try to repair relations with the PRC. Still more worrisome is the prospect that the Chinese military, emerging from the power struggle with much greater political authority, might harden Beijing's stand on Cambodia, or even resume the border war.

Laos, like Vietnam, has offered its people only limited and neutral coverage of events in China, fearing that a Chinese policy shift could destroy the Cambodian peace process.

Burma's military leaders, who brutally suppressed mass demonstrations for democracy in Rangoon last year, expressed "understanding and sympathy" for the Chinese Government's policy on the "counterrevolutionary rebellion" in a meeting with the Chinese Ambassador. Official media have largely ignored the events in China, but people in the cities at least are well informed, thanks to VOA, BBC, and All India Radio.

South America. South American reaction has been varied, generally negative but forgoing strong condemnation. Reaction ranged from protests in Mexico during Chinese Foreign Minister Qian Qichen's visit to praise from Cuba for the suppression of counterrevolutionaries.

The Chinese Government suspended President Yang Shangkun's visit to Mexico, and the Mexican Foreign Secretary's visit to Beijing was canceled. At Taiwan's behest, those nations that maintain diplomatic relations with Taipei—except for Panama and Haiti—also have condemned China.

Qian's Seesaw Visit: Qian was in South America during events in Tiananmen, visiting a few countries before his planned—and subsequently canceled—visit to the US. His reception was mixed—Cuban sugar contrasted with hurled Mexican tomatoes—but his message was balanced. In Ecuador, Qian said student demands were reasonable but it was necessary to reestablish public order. Qian said the policy of openness would remain and foreign policy would not change.

Ecuadorian officials appeared relieved that Qian left without incident. President Borja's planned October visit is now uncertain. The Ecuadorian Foreign Ministry—after Qian's departure—expressed "grave concern" at the violence and loss of lives and hoped dialogue would resolve problems.

Cuban media portrayed events in China favorably to reflect Beijing's hard line, partly as a sign of warming Sino-Cuban relations: Qian's was the first-ever visit by a Chinese Foreign Minister, and during the visit the PRC signed agreements to open consulates in Shanghai and Santiago.

Castro also used the media reaction to reflect his ideological world view. Castro has not welcomed the winds of glasnost, and he considered the crackdown in Tiananmen a good preemptive lesson to would-be reformers at home. Cuban media also have stressed the anti-interventionist angle.

Privately, however, a Cuban official praised President Bush for his insight into Chinese complexities and expressed grave reservations on use of the PLA to suppress demonstrators.

El Salvador and Costa Rica—at Taiwan's behest—officially denounced the PRC. Neither has diplomatic relations with Beijing. Media in other countries have condemned the PRC but, as with Asian media, made the point that economic development forces democratic processes and that such lessons are relevant at home.

Iran Blames the US. The most unusual analysis from a country that enjoys friendly relations with China was in the Iranian press. Zhao was portrayed as the victim of an American plot. Because of his "reformist views, flexibility and leniency, he became a victim of the American conspiracy in China and paid a heavy price for it." The popular unrest, the commentary alleged, was "led unknowingly by agents of the Western world, especially the US, toward its own goals."

The irony is that Deng and his cohorts view Iran's militancy with the same enthusiasm they regard the Cultural Revolution. They are afraid of China generating its own Khomeini in response to popular frustrations.

South African Analogy. One commentary made the obvious analogy to South Africa's own political situation and scored the necessity for dialogue and reform, calling for "negotiations...dialogue, and of consensus between those who govern and those who are governed."

(C) The Chinese Response

Initial reaction of the beleaguered PRC leadership to foreign criticism was dismissive. On June 29, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs spokeswoman strongly criticized the EC summit sanctions as "rash," "presumptuous," and "unreasonable acts" which "jeopardize bilateral relations." She then echoed comments by Yuan Mu and others that attempts to pressure China were unwise and futile. After the Group of 7 summit in Paris condemned China's repression, a People's Daily editorial said despite disagreement over Chinese and Western values, China's importance as a global strategic and economic actor should be the basis for policy toward the PRC.

A June 7 conference for China's ambassadors and chiefs of mission faced the unenviable task of formulating a response to the overwhelmingly unfavorable foreign reaction. China's ability to stem the damage to its foreign relations will depend on the extent of the ongoing purge, which, for the foreseeable future, will take priority over international relations.

(C) Appendix: China's New Leaders

Jiang Zemin

Urbane, energetic, and occasionally flamboyant, Jiang Zemin is probably the most "Westernized" of China's top leaders. Jiang's flamboyance and large ego are indicated by an incident in 1987 when he rose from the VIP rostrum at Shanghai National Day festivities to conduct a symphony orchestra in a rousing version of the Internationale, complete with flashing lights and clouds of smoke.

Jiang speaks good English and Russian, fair Romanian, and a smattering of other languages; is a connoisseur of painting and both Chinese and Western literature and music; and plays the piano and bamboo flute. He is a natty dresser who generally enjoys give-and-take in exchanging views with foreign visitors, usually wears a big smile, and—rare for a Chinese politician—likes to touch the people with whom he is talking. He has visited the US several times, most recently in 1987.

[redacted]

[redacted]

Both in 1986-87 and during the recent unrest, Jiang took a moderate tack with students, trying to talk with them and working behind the scenes to minimize disruption and violence. Taking his cue from Deng Xiaoping's hardline statements, Jiang closed down the World Economic Herald in April; but he declined to use force against protesters or declare martial law in Shanghai.

[redacted] Jiang has strongly endorsed the central government's actions in Beijing and is said to have been in charge, even before his promotion to General Secretary, of Beijing's effort to convince the public—at home and abroad—of the official version of what happened in June.

Song Ping

A longtime expert in economic planning and labor affairs, Song Ping is now in charge of top-level party personnel matters. At age 72, he is one of the active leadership's older members and he is a close associate of Vice Premier Yao Yilin and party elder Chen Yun. Song has a reputation for being upright and incorruptible. His promotion will add conservative ballast to the Standing Committee.

UNCLASSIFIED

Li Ruihuan

One of the leadership's few self-made men, Li Ruihuan (55) is one of seven children from a poor peasant family. As a young adult he became a carpenter and "model worker," later educating himself in math and geometry and attending night school to study architecture. Through the 1970s he continued a slow rise in the construction industry—he was in charge of building the Mao mausoleum in 1976—and the trade unions.

In 1981 he became vice mayor of Tianjin, a major industrial city near Beijing. He became mayor in 1982 and municipal party chief in 1987. He also joined the Politburo in 1987. As mayor, he has strongly supported the "open door," including the construction of a development zone that offers some of the most liberal and attractive terms available in China to foreign investors.

A skilled politician, Li has cultivated an image as the "people's mayor," holding frequent dialogues with common folk and publishing annual lists of goals for and achievements in improving city life. Often rumored as a strong candidate for a top job in Beijing, Li has shunned a transfer to the capital, reportedly quoting a Chinese proverb that "A man dreads fame like a pig dreads being fat." Although Li has continued to appear in Tianjin since the plenum, his elevation to the Politburo Standing Committee and Secretariat and his responsibility for propaganda affairs almost certainly will require the "dreaded" transfer.

Li has many high-level connections, including close relationships with reformers Wan Li, Hu Qili, the late Hu Yaobang, and trade union chief Ni Zhifu. In 1986 Deng visited Tianjin and highly praised the city and its mayor for promoting foreign investment. Deng also praised Li's stern handling of student demonstrators in 1986-87; Li reportedly warned students that they would be expelled from school and given poor job assignments if they demonstrated. During the recent spate of protests Li apparently took a moderate approach. Tianjin was not a hotbed of student activism (suggesting Li may have issued warnings like those in 1986-87), but Tianjin students did play an active role in Beijing's protests and Li did not resort to force to control unrest in his city.

Ding Guangen

A transport specialist, Ding (59) owes his rise to Deng's patronage. He was elected an alternate member of the Politburo in 1987. Reportedly one of Deng's bridge partners, Ding became Minister of Railroads in 1985 but resigned in 1988 after accepting responsibility for several fatal train accidents. Ding languished in limbo for several months before being appointed First Vice Minister of Planning. In late 1988 he was also put in charge of the State Council's Taiwan affairs office. He will probably replace the ousted Yan Mingfu in charge of "united front work," that is, liaison with noncommunists, minorities, and overseas Chinese.

REPLY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA TO PLAINTIFFS' RESPONSE TO THE STATEMENT OF INTEREST OF THE UNITED STATES

STATEMENT

Plaintiffs' Opposition to the Motion of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics for Relief From Judgment by Default and for Dismissal and Response to the Statement of Interest of the United States of America Dated June 29, 1989 (hereinafter "Plaintiffs' Response") raises only two new issues relating to the interpretation of the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act ("FSIA") not previously addressed at length in our June 29, 1989 Statement of Interest.

First, plaintiffs contend that the United States failed to demonstrate by affidavit or other evidence how this case implicates its foreign policy interests. As discussed in Section I, infra, no such requirement exists. Indeed, one of Congress' primary objectives in enacting the FSIA was to transfer the responsibility of making immunity determinations from the Department of State to the courts.

Nevertheless, plaintiffs' position overlooks the lengthy and successful negotiations the United States government has conducted in an effort to persuade the Soviet Union to appear in this case. In this context the United States has self-evident foreign policy interests in permitting the Soviet Union to have its jurisdictional defenses decided by this Court. Although by no means required, to underscore these interests, we attach hereto the Declaration of Abraham D. Sofaer, the Legal Adviser of the Department of State, who details the nature and progress of these negotiations which culminated in the Soviet Union's appearance in this case, and the Declaration of Curtis W. Kamman, the Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for European and Canadian Affairs, who discusses the broader foreign policy implications of this suit.

Second, plaintiffs revive their argument that this Court has jurisdiction over this case pursuant to the non-commercial tort exception of the FSIA, 28 U.S.C. § 1605(a)(5). This Court has already implicitly rejected this basis of jurisdiction. Von Lardel v. USSR, 623 F. Supp. 246, 251 (D.D.C. 1985). Indeed, as discussed in Section II, infra, § 1605(a)(5) is inapplicable to this case. Consequently, plaintiffs' renewed attempt to obtain discovery of documents asserted to be relevant to this basis of jurisdiction should be rejected.

DISCUSSION

I. THE FOREIGN POLICY INTERESTS OF THE UNITED STATES SUPPORT PERMITTING THE SOVIET UNION TO PRESENT ITS JURISDICTIONAL DEFENSES.

Plaintiffs suggest that the United States has failed to demonstrate that it has any concrete foreign policy interests in this case, noting that it did not submit an affidavit or evidence outlining such interests. Plaintiffs' Response at 17. Of course, the United States' decision to furnish such an affidavit in Jackson v. People's Republic of China, 794 F.2d 1490 (11th Cir. 1986), cert. denied, 480 U.S. 917 (1987), does not bind it to provide similar documents in each FSIA case in which it participates. Nor do plaintiffs explain the significance of their argument even if it is accepted by the Court.

Although a discussion of United States foreign policy interests may provide useful background in a case such as this, Congress plainly wanted to break from the practice by which sovereign immunity determinations were made prior to the enactment of the FSIA in 1976:

> . . . in the past, initial responsibility for deciding questions of sovereign immunity fell primarily upon the Executive acting through the State Department, and the courts abided by "suggestions of immunity" from the State Department. As a consequence, foreign nations often placed diplomatic pressure on the State Department in seeking immunity. On occasion, political considerations led to suggestions of immunity in cases where immunity would not have been available under the restrictive theory.

Verlinden B. V. v. Central Bank of Nigeria, 461 U.S. 480, 487 (1983) (footnote omitted). Congress enacted the FSIA in part to free the State Department from these pressures and to transfer immunity determinations from the State Department to the courts, which would apply impartial legal principles. H. R. Rep. No. 94-1487, 94th Cong., 2d Sess. at 7, reprinted in 1976 U.S. Code Cong. & Admin. News at 6606 (hereinafter "H. R. Rep. No. 94-1487"). Neither the text, purpose, nor legislative history of the FSIA suggest any requirement that the United States must present an affidavit or evidence detailing its foreign policy interests in those cases brought against foreign sovereigns in which it participates pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 517.

UNCLASSIFIED

The foreign policy interests of the United States in this case are not difficult to discern. As described in the Declarations of Legal Adviser Sofaer, and Deputy Assistant Secretary Kamman, the United States and the Soviet Union have regarded lawsuits against the USSR and its strict adherence to a principle of absolute sovereign immunity to be a sufficiently important issue in bilateral relations to warrant several meetings with the Soviets, both in Washington and Moscow, since 1985. Recognizing that the American legal system is too complex even for many Americans to comprehend, it required great care and patience by representatives of the Departments of State and Justice to explain to the Soviets principles of American legal procedure and the substance of American sovereign immunity law. Among other things, these representatives explained the somewhat counterintuitive notion that a foreign sovereign could appear to assert immunity without waiving it. Sofaer Decl. ¶¶ 5, 7-8.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

These diplomatic efforts met with partial success when the Soviet Union agreed to appear in cases involving their commercial activities to which American law does not generally extend sovereign immunity. Sofaer Decl. ¶ 5; see Carl Marks & Co. v. USSR, 665 F. Supp. 323 (S.D.N.Y. 1987), aff'd, 841 F.2d 265 (2d Cir.), cert. denied, 108 S.Ct. 2874 (1988); Gregorian v. Izvestia, 658 F. Supp. 1224 (C.D. Cal. 1987), aff'd in part and rev'd in part, 871 F.2d 1515 (9th Cir. 1989). The Soviet Union refused to appear in this case because it believed that what it considered political rather than commercial matters should not be subject to foreign judicial process. Sofaer Decl. ¶¶ 5, 7-8. Ultimately, after additional rounds of consultations, U.S. and Soviet representatives negotiated a Memorandum of Understanding which undoubtedly played a part in bringing about the Soviet Union's appearance in this suit. Id. ¶¶ 9-10; Kamman Decl. ¶ 4C.

After years of negotiations with the Soviet Union, the United States has an obvious foreign policy interest in this Court permitting the Soviet Union to be heard on its jurisdictional defenses. This is the first case relating to political rather than commercial activities in which the Soviet Union has appeared in United States courts. Sofaer Decl. ¶ 11. This indicates the Soviet Union's willingness to regularize its legal activities in the United States, id, and to remove an irritant in our bilateral relations. Kamman Decl. ¶ 5. We believe that courts should be sensitive to this diplomatic background when, for example, rendering, discretionary rulings on procedural issues raised in litigation involving the Soviet Union. We do not seek any favoritism toward the Soviet Union, but rather a fair hearing on the merits of their arguments now that they have agreed to make those arguments before this Court.

Plaintiffs ask this Court to nullify the progress made and agreement reached in these delicate, lengthy and ultimately successful negotiations by exercising its discretion to find the Soviet Union's Rule 60(b)(4) motion untimely. The foreign policy interests of the United States would not be served if successful diplomatic efforts to persuade the Soviet Union to appear in this case resulted in an American court's determination that these negotiations lasted too long to permit the Soviet Union to present its jurisdictional defenses. See Kamman Decl. ¶ 6. The conduct of significant bilateral negotiations between the United States and a foreign sovereign should not be among those "exceptional circumstances", if any exist, which warrant a judicial determination that the sovereign's Rule 60(b)(4) motion is untimely. See Adams v. Vance, 570 F.2d 950, 954-55 (D.C. Cir. 1978) ("Courts must take into account that international negotiations have their own distinctive time frames.").

Apart from the foreign policy implications of their argument, plaintiffs' assertion that defendant's Rule 60(b)(4) motion is untimely is unsupported in the case law. Plaintiffs acknowledge that "federal courts do not ordinarily deny a Rule 60(b) motion for lack of timeliness," but contend that they may do so in "extreme circumstances." Plaintiffs' Response at 22.

The two cases cited in support of the proposition that this case presents such an "extreme circumstance" are readily distinguishable.[1]

Furthermore, plaintiffs' reliance on Practical Concepts to argue that Rule 60(b)(4) motions are untimely if filed after a plaintiff attempts to enforce a judgment, Plaintiffs' Response at 23-24, is misplaced.[2] In Practical Concepts, the Court expressly affirmed the district court's ruling that the sovereign defendant could "wait[] until after execution of the judgment was under way to raise its jurisdictional point . . ." Practical Concepts, 811 F.2d at 1548 (emphasis added). In so doing, the Court rejected plaintiff's argument, also advanced by plaintiffs here, that,

[1] Action S.A. v. Marc Rich & Co., 83 Civ. 0512 (S.D.N.Y. July 14, 1989) (LEXIS, Genfed library, Courts file), which did not involve a sovereign defendant, turned on the Court's unsupported view that the defendant was obliged to assert his jurisdictional defenses by motion or in its answer. That rule is not applicable in FSIA cases. See Practical Concepts, Inc. v. Republic of Bolivia, 811 F.2d 1543, 1547 (D.C. Cir. 1987), citing Insurance Corp. of Ireland v. Compagnie des Bauxites de Guinea, 456 U.S. 694, 706 (1982) ("A defendant is always free to ignore the judicial proceedings, risk a default judgment, and then challenge that judgment on jurisdictional grounds in a collateral proceeding."). In International Control Corp. v. Vesco, 73 Civ. 2518 (S.D.N.Y. Feb. 1, 1978) (LEXIS, Genfed library, Courts file), another case involving a private, rather than sovereign, defendant and involving allegedly insufficient service of process rather than subject matter jurisdiction, the Court noted both defendant's previous challenges to service and failure to raise it in an earlier Rule 60(b) motion. The Court, further, did not rely on these grounds alone to deny defendant's Rule 60(b) motion. Such circumstances are clearly not present in this case.

[2] Even if such a rule existed, it is not at all clear that it would apply to this case. First, plaintiffs have not attempted to enforce on the monetary judgment rendered in this case. Second, although plaintiffs have moved for civil contempt fines against the Soviet Union, their motion has not been decided much less granted and, therefore, is not ripe for enforcement.

because the sovereign defendant had deliberately bypassed numerous opportunities to challenge jurisdiction, its Rule 60(b) motion must be denied. Id. at 1546. Plaintiffs' argument should be similarly rejected.[3]

Finally, plaintiffs argue that granting defendant's Rule 60(b)(4) motion would prejudice them because it would prolong Mr. Wallenberg's imprisonment. Plaintiffs' Response at 25. This argument, based on an unproven factual assumption, is nothing more than a claim that laches bars the Soviet Union's Rule 60(b)(4) motion, an argument that has been rejected in this circuit. Austin v. Smith, 312 F.2d 337, 343 (D.C. Cir. 1962); Practical Concepts, 613 F. Supp. at 866.[4] Therefore, both foreign policy considerations and the unambiguous case law

[3] First Fidelity Bank, N.A. v. Government of Antigua & Barbuda, No. 88-7863, slip op. (2d Cir., June 7, 1989) (LEXIS Genfed library, Courts file), also cited by plaintiffs, supports defendant's position. The Court in First Fidelity noted that "default judgments are disfavored, especially against foreign sovereigns. Courts go to great lengths to avoid default judgments against foreign sovereigns or to permit those judgments to be set aside." Id. at 21. Accordingly, it vacated a default judgment entered against the defendant after the plaintiff had succeeded in part in levying upon the defendant's bank accounts. The Court did observe that defendant had appeared in the case only after plaintiff began to execute on its judgment, but nevertheless vacated the default judgment, holding that defendant "should have an opportunity to defend this case on its merits." Id. at 22.

[4] Citing the House Report on the FSIA, plaintiffs also suggest that granting the Rule 60(b)(4) motion would contravene the intent of Congress that "sovereign immunity is an affirmative defense that must be specially pleaded in a timely manner." Plaintiffs' Response at 25. The portion of the House Report cited by plaintiffs supports the first assertion, but not the second. The House Report does not state that the affirmative defense must be pleaded within any particular time. See H. R. Rep. No. 94-1487.

support affording the Soviet Union the opportunity to present its jurisdictional defenses.

II. BECAUSE THE NON-COMMERCIAL TORT EXCEPTION TO IMMUNITY IS INAPPLICABLE, PLAINTIFFS ARE NOT ENTITLED TO DISCOVERY RELATING TO THIS JURISDICTIONAL CLAIM.

Plaintiffs argue that the Soviet Union committed non-commercial torts within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 1605(a)(5) and is therefore not entitled to sovereign immunity. Plaintiffs' Response at 59-64. This Court has implicitly rejected this argument by describing plaintiffs' other jurisdictional arguments as "far more compelling" and by not discussing the § 1605(a)(5) argument further. Von Dardel, 623 F. Supp. at 251. Nevertheless, plaintiffs renew the argument here and seek to take discovery of essentially all documents in defendant's possession which have anything to do with Mr. Wallenberg in the hope that any such existing records will support this jurisdictional claim.

Section 1605(a)(5) creates an exception to sovereign immunity for cases brought against foreign states for "personal injury or death, or damage to or loss of property, occurring in the United States . . ." (emphasis added). Citing Argentine Republic v. Amerada Hess, 109 S.Ct. 683 (1989), plaintiffs correctly observe that § 1605(a)(5) requires the injury to have occurred in the United States. Plaintiffs' Response at 60-61. Because the tort and injury occurred in the same place at the same time outside the United States in Amerada Hess, the Court did not have occasion to discuss whether the tort itself must also occur in the United States. The legislative history, however, clearly indicates that it does:

> Section 1605(a)(5) is directed primarily at the problem of traffic accidents but is cast in general terms as applying to all tort actions for money damages, not otherwise encompassed by section 1605(a)(2) relating to commercial activities. It denies immunity as to claims for personal injury or death, or for damage to or loss of property, caused by the tortious act or omission of a foreign state . . . ; the tortious act or omission must occur within the jurisdiction of the United States . . .

H. R. Rep. No. 94-1487 at 20-21. See Frolova v. USSR, 761 F.2d 370, 379 (7th Cir. 1985) (both the tort and the injury must occur within the United States); Asociacion de Reclamantes v. United Mexican States, 735 F.2d 1517, 1524 (D.C. Cir. 1984) (same), cert. denied, 470 U.S. 1051 (1985); Persinger v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 729 F.2d 835, 842-43 (D.C. Cir.) (same), cert. denied, 469 U.S. 881 (1984); English v. Thorne, 676 F. Supp. 761, 764 (S.D. Miss. 1987) (same); Kline v. Republic of El Salvador, 603 F. Supp. 1313, 1315-16 (D.D.C. 1985) (same). See also Perez v. The Bahamas, 652 F.2d 186, 189 (D.C. Cir.) (tort suit against the Bahamas dismissed because tort did not occur in the United States), cert. denied, 454 U.S. 865 (1981).

Neither the tortious activity nor the injuries alleged in plaintiffs' Complaint occurred within the United States. The gravamen of plaintiffs' Complaint challenges the "unlawful seizure and detention and possible wrongful death" of Mr. Wallenberg. Complaint, ¶ 1. Plaintiffs do claim that the Soviet Union has issued false statements about Mr. Wallenberg and has refused to provide information about him, thereby deceiving persons in the United States, Complaint, ¶ 16, but these allegations, even if true, are insufficient to afford this Court jurisdiction under § 1605(a)(5).

First, 28 U.S.C. § 1605(a)(5)(B) provides that the non-commercial tort exception to immunity does not apply to claims arising out of misrepresentation and deceit. The detention of Mr. Wallenberg and the alleged misrepresentations regarding the circumstances of his imprisonment are both temporally and conceptually distinct tortious acts. Under § 1605(a)(5)(B), Congress provided the Soviet Union with immunity from claims of misrepresentation or deceit, no matter how egregious, even if such acts occurred in the United States.

Second, even if the clear distinction between the detention and later misrepresentations are blurred and are considered a "tortious whole," § 1605(a)(5) does not apply. It is the law of this circuit that § 1605(a)(5) only applies when "the tort in whole . . . occur[s] in the United States." Asociacion de Reclamantes, 735 F.2d at 1525 (quoting In re Sedco, Inc., 543 F. Supp. 561, 567 (S.D. Tex. 1982)). As the court explained:

> The primary purpose of the "tortious act or omission" exception of § 1605(a)(5) was to enable officials and employees of foreign sovereigns to be held liable for the traffic accidents which they cause in this country, whether or not in the scope of their official business. We decline to convert this into a broad exception for all alleged torts that have some relationship to the United States.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

Id. at 1523 (citations omitted).[5] Neither all, nor even the "essential locus," id. at 1523, of the tortious conduct challenged by plaintiff occurred in the United States.[6]

Even if plaintiffs' factual allegations are true, they have failed to allege that both the alleged torts as a whole and the subsequent injuries occurred within the United States. Therefore, the non-commercial tort exception to sovereign immunity set forth in § 1605(a)(5) does not apply to this case.

[5] Olsen by Sheldon v. Government of Mexico, 729 F.2d 641, 645-46 (9th Cir.), cert. denied, 469 U.S. 917 (1984), is distinguishable. In Olsen, unlike this case, plaintiffs alleged "conduct constituting a single tort," id. at 646 -- the negligent piloting of an airplane -- which occurred both in the United States and Mexico. Because sufficient, although not all, of the tortious conduct occurred in the United States, the Court found § 1605(a)(5) to apply. The Court observed that if every aspect of the tortious behavior had to occur within the United States for § 1605(a)(5) to apply, then foreign sovereigns would escape liability by alleging that some of the alleged conduct occurred outside the United States. Id. Here, plaintiffs alleged separate torts - false imprisonment and possibly wrongful death and misrepresentation. To accept plaintiffs' view that these torts are part of a single whole implicates the inverse of the policy concern identified in Olsen. If only some conduct within such a single tort need occur in the United States for § 1605(a)(5) to apply, then plaintiffs need only allege conceptually and temporally distinct torts, most of which occur abroad, as a single tort to fall within § 1605(a)(5). Congress clearly did not contemplate such a result.

[6] Neither plaintiffs, who are Swedish citizens, nor Mr. Wallenberg are alleged to have suffered any injuries within the United States. Paragraphs 31 and 32 of the Complaint allege that plaintiff von Dardel and other friends and relatives of Mr. Wallenberg, some of whom live in the United States, have been separated from Mr. Wallenberg, have been denied information about him and have therefore suffered emotional distress. Even if true, no such resident of the United States is a plaintiff in this action insofar as we aware. Plaintiffs have no standing to assert the claims and injuries of these third parties. Warth v. Seldin, 422 U.S. 490, 499, 509 (1975); Moose Lodge No. 107 v. Irvis, 407 U.S. 163, 166 (1972).

As a result, this Court should reject plaintiffs' renewed effort to take discovery on this jurisdictional issue. Plaintiffs' Response at 26-28.[7]

Intrusive discovery requests, such as that propounded by plaintiffs here, are conceptually inconsistent with the notion of sovereign immunity, and are profoundly obstructive of the capacity of the United States to convince foreign sovereigns to submit to the jurisdiction of U.S. courts. To require a sovereign defendant to respond to such requests pending a resolution of sovereign immunity issues serves only to discourage foreign states from participating in domestic litigation. Sofaer Decl. ¶ 13. This tends to deprive plaintiffs with meritorious claims of recoveries they would obtain from more willing participation of foreign sovereigns. Special care must therefore be taken in monitoring discovery requests served on foreign states. Although foreign states should not be exempted from discovery obligations, they should not be compelled to respond to discovery unless and until the court determines that a valid legal claim has been pleaded against them and that the court has jurisdiction over the state. See Sofaer Decl. ¶ 13.

[7] Plaintiff apparently served a "Request for Production of Documents on Jurisdictional Issues" on the defendant on or about February 2, 1984. This request goes far beyond any attempt to uncover facts relating to any tortious conduct occurring in the United States. Rather, taken as a whole, plaintiffs seek virtually every conceivable document possessed by the Soviet Union relating to Mr. Wallenberg. To permit plaintiffs to proceed with this discovery while reassessing the jurisdictional basis for this lawsuit would be to award prematurely plaintiffs' Relief No. C of their Complaint -- an order requiring defendant to furnish plaintiffs all information in its possession concerning Raoul Wallenberg.

Here, no amount of discovery can avoid the reality that little or no portion of the tortious conduct challenged by plaintiff occurred in the United States and that plaintiffs have suffered no injury in the United States. No legal theory or set of facts conceivably uncovered in discovery can support plaintiffs' claim of jurisdiction under § 1605(a)(5). Therefore, plaintiffs are not entitled to take discovery relating to this jurisdictional issue. See Grove Valve & Regulator Co. v. Iranian Oil Services, Ltd., 87 F.R.D. 93, 96 & n.8 (S.D.N.Y. 1980); Lantz International Corp. v. Industria Termotecnica Compana, 358 F. Supp. 510, 516 (E.D. Pa. 1973). Not only is such discovery in this case unnecessary, but requiring the Soviet Union to respond to it could significantly complicate relations between the Soviet Union and the United States and undermine the purposes of the FSIA. See Sofaer Decl. ¶ 13. Plaintiffs' renewed request for discovery should be denied.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons set forth in our June 29, 1989 Statement of Interest and the foregoing, this Court should set aside the default judgment entered against the Soviet Union and dismiss this case for lack of jurisdiction.

Declaration of Abraham D. Sofaer

I, Abraham D. Sofaer, hereby declare pursuant to 28 U.S.C. section 1746 as follows:

1. I am the Legal Adviser of the Department of State. I have served in this capacity since June 10, 1985. I submit this declaration to advise the court of communications between the United States and the Soviet Union regarding the Von Dardel case. I understand that Deputy Assistant Secretary for European and Canadian Affairs Curtis W. Kamman is also submitting a declaration (hereinafter "Kamman Declaration") in these proceedings in which he addresses the foreign policy implications of these lawsuits. My declaration is based on my personal knowledge and recollections and on information provided to me in my official capacity.

2. My responsibilities as Legal Adviser include the formulation and implementation of United States Government policy with respect to the sovereign immunity of states. It is the policy of the United States to encourage foreign governments to present their views concerning litigation against them in United States courts directly to those courts, in accordance with United States law. MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING

The undersigned, Abraham D. Sofaer, Legal Adviser of the United States Department of State, and Yuri M. Rybakov, Head of the International Law Department of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, have prepared this Memorandum to record discussions and understandings between their respective delegations on the subject of promoting mutual understanding in the legal sphere, including sovereign immunity.

1. Delegations representing the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics have held three rounds of consultations, in March 1987, September 1987, and July 1988, concerning legal proceedings brought in the courts of one state against another sovereign state or its agencies or instrumentalities, including separate juridical persons.

2. The two Delegations noted that their Governments follow different theories of foreign sovereign immunity. The United States follows the "restrictive theory," under which foreign states and their agencies and instrumentalities may be sued concerning their commercial and certain other activities. The Soviet Union follows the "absolute theory" of sovereign immunity, under which foreign states are absolutely immune from suit.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

3. Each Delegation acknowledged that it does not seek by this Memorandum to change the immunity principles adhered to by the other side or to alter its own domestic law with respect to those principles.

4. At the same time, the two Delegations acknowledged that suits in the courts of one state against a foreign state or an agency or instrumentality thereof may create difficulties and tensions beyond those associated with the subject matter of the suit. This is particularly so when the two states' theories and practices concerning sovereign immunity differ.

5. The two Delegations expressed the mutual conviction that better understanding of applicable procedures, including legal protections that may be afforded, may serve to minimize potential problems stemming from suits against a foreign state or agency or instrumentality thereof, consistent with the interests of both countries.

6. Each Delegation noted that its respective law generally recognizes as separate juridical personalities commercial organizations which are duly established under the law of other states as independent juridical persons. Organizations thus recognized are granted protections at least to the same extent granted to the separate juridical persons of the host state under their respective laws, and treated no less favorably than those of other states.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

7. The Delegations agreed that, under their respective laws, appearances in court to assert sovereign immunity are not regarded as waivers of sovereign immunity. The Delegations also noted that the states will provide appropriate positions, consistent with their usual practice, to their respective courts on the application of their respective laws relating to the sovereign immunity of states, their components, and entities.

8. Each Delegation undertook from time to time and as it considers useful to explain to the other significant new developments or changes in law or practice.

9. Each Delegation confirmed the intention of its Government to continue, as appropriate, periodic bilateral consultations regarding foreign sovereign immunity and legal proceedings in one state against another state.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the undersigned have signed this Memorandum.

DONE at Washington , in duplicate this 18th day of November, 1988, in the English and Russian languages, each text being equally authentic.

МЕМОРАНДУМ О ПОНИМАНИИ

Нижеподписавшиеся, Юрий М.Рыбаков, начальник Международно-правового управления Министерства иностранных дел Союза Советских Социалистических Республик, и Абрахам Д.Софаер, юридический советник Государственного департамента Соединенных Штатов Америки, подготовили настоящий Меморандум для того, чтобы зафиксировать обсуждение и понимание между их соответствующими делегациями с целью содействовать взаимопониманию в юридической области, включая суверенный иммунитет.

I. Делегации, представляющие Правительство Соединенных Штатов Америки и Правительство Союза Советских Социалистических Республик, провели три раунда консультаций, в марте 1987 г., сентябре 1987 г. и в июле 1988 г. в отношении дел, возбужденных в судах одного государства против другого суверенного государства или его органов и организаций, включая самостоятельные юридические лица.

2. Обе делегации отметили, что их правительства придерживаются различных теорий относительно суверенного иммунитета иностранного государства. Соединенные Штаты придерживаются "ограничительной теории", согласно которой иностранные государства и их органы и организации могут привлекаться к суду в связи с их коммерческой и некоторой другой деятельностью. Советский Союз придерживается теории "абсолютного" суверенного иммунитета, согласно которой иностранные государства пользуются абсолютным юрисдикционным иммунитетом.

UNCLASSIFIED

3. Каждая делегация признала, что она не стремится с помощью настоящего Меморандума изменить принципы иммунитета, которых придерживается другая сторона, или изменить свое внутреннее законодательство в отношении этих принципов.

4. В то же время обе делегации признали, что иски в судах одного государства против иностранного государства или его органа или организации могут создать трудности и напряженность, не пропорциональные существу таких исков. Это имеет место особенно тогда, когда теории и практика таких двух государств относительно суверенного иммунитета различны.

6. Каждая делегация отметила, что его соответствующее право вообще признает самостоятельными юридическими лицами хозяйственные организации, которые должным образом учреждены по законам другого государства в качестве самостоятельных юридических лиц. Таким организациям обеспечиваются защита по меньшей мере в том же объеме, как собственным самостоятельным юридическим лицам в соответствии с законодательством, и обращение не менее благоприятное, чем с такими организациями других государств.

UNCLASSIFIED

7. Делегации согласились, что по их соответствующему законодательству появление в суде для заявления о суверенном иммунитете не рассматривается как отказ от суверенного иммунитета. Делегации также отметили, что государства будут излагать надлежащую позицию, соответствующую их обычной практике, своим судам в отношении применения их законов, касающихся суверенного иммунитета государств, их подразделений и органов.

8. Каждая делегация обязалась время от времени и по мере того, как она сочтет необходимым, разъяснять другой стороне существенные новые моменты или изменения в законодательстве или практике.

9. Каждая делегация подтвердила намерение своего правительства продолжать, по мере необходимости, проведение периодических двусторонних консультаций относительно суверенного иммунитета иностранных государств и дел, возбужденных в судах одного государства против другого государства.

В удостоверение чего нижеподписавшиеся подписали настоящий Меморандум.

still exist to implementing this policy. Many governments continue to adhere to the absolute theory of sovereign immunity, which until recent years was the established position in international practice. These states believe that they have no obligation to appear in the courts of another state, even to invoke that immunity, and they extend the same, absolute immunity to states from the actions of their own courts. Many foreign governments simply do not understand the United States legal system. Many are intimidated by the expense and complexity of litigation in United States courts. Suits against such foreign governments in United States courts -- and default judgments that result from their failure to appear -- have repeatedly become major issues in bilateral relations. As a result, I am often involved, along with my staff, in consultations with other governments in efforts to explain to them the operation of our judicial system and of the United States Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act ("FSIA"). My purpose in all these instances is to urge these foreign governments to appear in cases brought against them in United States courts, to raise their defenses, including defenses of immunity, and to trust our courts to be fair, and to abide by the judgments that result.

3. The Soviet Union has long held and asserted the principle that it and its agencies and instrumentalities are entitled under international law to absolute immunity from the jurisdiction of foreign courts and cannot properly be compelled to appear in foreign courts. Soviet domestic law and practice regarding actions against foreign states in Soviet courts also follow this principle. Soviet law grants absolute immunity to all foreign states and their instrumentalities, although the applicable statute provides for reciprocal denial of immunity if another state fails to accord similar treatment to the Soviet Union. In the context of this litigation, the Soviet view has been repeated frequently by Soviet officials to Department representatives, and has been stated in Soviet diplomatic notes. The Soviet Note of April 19, 1984 (Kamman Declaration, Attachment 2), returning the notice and summons in this case, stated "the fact that in accordance with the principle of sovereign equality of states, consolidated in the UN Charter, the Soviet state and its organs enjoy immunity from jurisdiction of foreign courts." The Soviet note of March 6, 1986 (Kamman Declaration, Attachment 4), protesting the entry of the default judgment in this case, stressed that "[t]he American authorities should realize that this and other decisions of the U.S. courts against the U.S.S.R. are inadmissible in relations between states," and that "in accordance with the universally recognized principle of the sovereign equality of states, confirmed by the UN Charter, the Soviet state and its organs enjoy immunity from the jurisdiction of foreign courts and therefore cannot be brought to court as a defendant without its clearly expressed consent." These statements, as well as other Soviet statements contained in diplomatic notes regarding these cases, reflect the Soviet Union's view that its claimed entitlement to absolute immunity relieves it of any obligation to appear in foreign courts even to invoke that immunity.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

4. Department of State officials have met with Soviet representatives both in Washington and in Moscow on numerous occasions to explain United States requirements regarding litigation and to urge the Soviet Union to seek advice of private counsel concerning participation in or other means of resolving these and other lawsuits against it. Specifically, following the default judgment in October 1985, Department representatives, including members of my staff from the Office of the Legal Adviser, informed the Soviet government that a default judgment had been entered in this case. On May 23, 1986, Department representatives informed Soviet Embassy representatives that default judgments had been entered in several cases against the Soviet Union and its instrumentalities in U.S. courts, including this one. In particular, a default judgment was entered on July 31, 1985 in the case of Gregorian v. Izvestia, et. al, in the Central District of California; a default judgment was entered on March 31, 1986 in the case of Carl Marks v. Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, in the Southern District of New York; and a default judgment was entered in this case on October 15, 1985. The Department representatives also explained requirements and procedures under United States law concerning attachment of property in execution of judgments, as well as those by which defendants may contest default judgments and attachment actions, and encouraged the Soviets to seek private legal advice concerning Soviet participation in, or resolution of, these cases within the United States legal system. These judgments were entered at a time of extreme sensitivity (and opportunity) in U.S. - Soviet relations.

5. On March 3-4, 1987, I headed a delegation of State and Justice Department officials that met in Moscow with a high-level Soviet delegation, with representatives from numerous agencies of the Soviet Government, to discuss questions of sovereign immunity. We discussed issues of principle, as well as specific cases against the Soviet Government and its agencies or instrumentalities in United States courts, including this case. During these discussions, we explained United States law concerning foreign sovereign immunity. We advised the Soviet Union that it could appear in United States courts to assert its immunity without either conceding its principled adherence to the absolute theory of sovereign immunity or waiving its claim to such immunity. We urged the Soviet Government to retain counsel and to appear in several cases against it in which it had not appeared, including this case. We indicated that cases in which default judgments have been entered against foreign governments raise issues of the implementation of the FSIA that, wholly apart from the interests of the foreign government, are important to the United States Government. Such issues include the desirability that the court have all the facts and legal arguments before making its decisions. We also explained to the Soviet Union that the United States Government has filed statements of interest in appropriate cases brought under the FSIA in which a foreign state has moved to have a default judgment against it set aside. We advised the Soviets that we would be prepared to set forth our views concerning the FSIA in appropriate cases against the Soviet Union if the Soviet Union moved to set aside a default judgment against it. We also emphasized, however, the need for the Soviet Union to adopt a generally applicable policy of appearing in all suits in United States courts, even if only to assert immunity. Following these discussions, the Soviet Union agreed to appear to assert its claim to immunity in the Carl Marks and Gregorian cases. At that time, however, the Soviets made it clear that they would not appear in this case, as they viewed its allegations as political and governmental matters not subject to court jurisdiction. Finally, in continuation of our efforts to resolve this matter, we urged the Soviet Union to provide a full and satisfactory accounting of the fate of Mr.

UNCLASSIFIED

Wallenberg.

6. This policy initiative to convince the Soviet Union to appear and litigate its jurisdictional and other claims in U.S. courts was openly avowed. On April 23, 1987, I addressed the Section on International Law and Practice of the American Bar Association in Washington, D.C. about the State Department's efforts to support effective implementation of the FSIA by educating foreign states about the law and by urging them to appear in our courts. In particular, I discussed the Department's efforts to encourage the Soviet Union to appear in the Gregorian and Carl Marks cases, noting the importance of the Soviet Union's decision to appear in both cases, and indicating our hope that these appearances would lead to a general practice in which the Soviets always appear. I pointed out the interest of the United States Government in resolving disputes between United States citizens and foreign governments within the framework of the United States legal system. I also discussed the fact that the success of our efforts to persuade foreign states to resolve their disputes within the framework of our legal system is undercut when foreign governments are faced with lawsuits that are not properly brought under the FSIA, including cases such as this one, which question the propriety of actions by the foreign government in its own territory and in its sovereign, rather than private, capacity.

7. On September 21-22, 1987, I headed a delegation of State and Justice Department officials that met in Washington, D.C. with a high-level Soviet delegation to continue the discussions held in Moscow in March on questions of sovereign immunity. In the course of these discussions, we reviewed specific cases against the Soviet Government and its agencies or instrumentalities in United States courts, including this case. We again advised the Soviet Union that it could appear in United States courts to assert its immunity without either conceding its principled adherence to the absolute theory of sovereign immunity or waiving its claim to such immunity, and we specifically urged the Soviet Government to retain counsel and to appear in this case. We also advised the Soviets that United States Government would be prepared to follow our practice of filing statements of interest in appropriate cases against foreign governments if the Soviet Union moved to set aside a default judgment against it. Again, as on each occasion that we have discussed this case with Soviet Union, we noted the United States' abhorrence of the Soviet Union's unjust treatment of Mr. Wallenberg, and urged them to account for his fate. The Soviets repeated their view that this was a very special, political case, unlike the other cases in which the Soviet Union had recently appeared, all of which involved commercial considerations of some kind. The Soviets repeated and emphasized the views stated in their March 6, 1986 diplomatic note (Kamman Declaration, Attachment 4), which provided that the Soviet side did not recognize the District Court decision as legal because it violated the obligation to respect the sovereign immunity of the Soviet Union.

8. On July 18-19, 1988, I again headed a delegation of State and Justice Department officials that met in Moscow with a high-level Soviet delegation to continue to discuss foreign sovereign immunity. At this time, I repeated my advice that the Soviet Union seek counsel and appear in this case, and that such an appearance would neither concede its principled adherence to the absolute theory of sovereign immunity nor waive its claim to such immunity.

9. On November 18, 1988, I headed a delegation of State and Justice Department officials that met in Washington, D.C. with a high-level Soviet delegation to continue the discussions. At this meeting, the Head of the International Law Department at the Soviet Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Yuri Rybakov, and I signed a Memorandum of Understanding to record discussions and understandings on the subject of promoting mutual understanding in the legal sphere, including sovereign immunity (Kamman Declaration, Attachment 5). The Memorandum reviewed the three rounds of consultations. It noted that the United States and

UNCLASSIFIED

Soviet delegations followed different theories of sovereign immunity and, in particular, that the Soviet Union adhered to the absolute immunity of foreign states from suit. The Memorandum also acknowledged that suits in the courts of one state against a foreign state may create difficulties and tensions, and agreed that better understanding of applicable procedures may serve to minimize potential problems stemming from suits against a foreign state. The two delegations agreed that appearances in court to assert sovereign immunity are not regarded as waivers of immunity and noted that the states would provide appropriate positions, consistent with their usual practice, to their courts on the application of their laws on sovereign immunity. The Memorandum closed by confirming the Parties' intention to continue periodic bilateral consultations on foreign sovereign immunity and legal proceedings in one state against another state. Once again, at this time, I expressed my view that it would be consistent with the measures set forth in this Memorandum of Understanding for the Soviet Union to appear through private counsel in this case, in order to assert the defense of foreign sovereign immunity.

10. Following the signing of this Memorandum of Understanding, the Department of State continued to discuss this litigation with the Soviets. In particular, Departmental personnel, including members of my staff from the Office of the Legal Adviser, informed Soviet Embassy representatives in December 1988, and March 1989, of the plaintiffs' filing of additional pleadings in this case, and continued to urge the Soviet Union to seek advice of private counsel concerning participation in the lawsuit.

UNCLASSIFIED

11. The Soviet Union has now engaged counsel and has appeared to assert appropriate defenses to set aside the default judgment in this case. This action represents the completion of the U.S. diplomatic objective of convincing the Soviet Union to litigate its immunity claims in U.S. courts in all cases. In accordance with our belief that this major shift in Soviet behavior and policy warrants the vacating of default judgments entered prior to our effort's commencement, the United States has filed a Statement of Interest providing its views on the jurisdictional issues presented by this case. The Plaintiffs' Statement in Opposition to the Soviet Union's Motion states that the U.S. Statement of Interest "neglects to mention any specific, concrete foreign policy concerns involving this particular case." To the contrary, this particular case involves very substantial and specific foreign policy concerns. To my knowledge, the Soviet appearance in this case is the second time that the Soviet Union has appeared in a United States court in a proceeding brought solely against the Soviet Government, and not against one of its agencies or instrumentalities. More importantly, to my knowledge, this is the first time that the Soviet Union has appeared in a proceeding that relates solely to alleged governmental acts, unrelated in any way to a commercial undertaking or commercial considerations. The Soviet Union's appearance in this case indicates its intent to regularize its activities in the United States, and to participate in cases against it in United States courts. Such steps could lead to general policies that would greatly increase the likelihood that the Soviet Union, as well as persons who sue it, obtain decisions on the merits that are likely to resolve difficult disputes.

UNCLASSIFIED

12. As the accompanying Kamman Declaration indicates, this case has become a significant issue in bilateral United States-Soviet relations. The United States Government has expended considerable effort to urge the Soviet Government to appear in this case and raise its defenses, including the contention that it is absolutely immune, before the court instead of through diplomatic channels. In light of the Soviet view of international law and Soviet domestic law, the Soviet Union's decisions to appear in these cases is a very important development in the process of adapting to United States procedures, including the FSIA. Against this background, I believe that United States interests would be served, as well as the interests of justice, if counsel for the Soviet Government were permitted to make its arguments to the court.

UNCLASSIFIED

13. The Plaintiffs' Statement in Opposition to the Soviet Union's motion also asserts that the plaintiffs are entitled to take discovery on jurisdictional issues at this time. However, the Soviet Union has raised several meritorious legal defenses which should dispose of this case in its entirety, rendering any discovery moot. If a foreign state is denied a determination that it is entitled to immunity until after it is first made to suffer the intrusion of discovery of facts not necessary to the determination of sovereign immunity, the immunity doctrine is gravely undermined. The liberal discovery afforded by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure is often regarded by foreign governments as highly intrusive and as inconsistent with the concept of sovereign immunity. Where, as we believe to be the case here, the judgment involved is void for lack of jurisdiction on the face of the complaint, permitting discovery would be inconsistent with the sovereign immunity extended to the Soviet Union by U.S. and international law and could significantly complicate the relations between the Soviet Union and the United States.

DECLARATION OF CURTIS W. KAMMAN

UNCLASSIFIED

I, Curtis W. Kamman, hereby declare pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1746 as follows:

1. I am the Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for European and Canadian Affairs responsible for Eastern Europe, Yugoslavia and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. I have served in this capacity since June 5, 1989. Before that time, I served in several positions of responsibility for matters involving United States relations with the Soviet Union, including assignments as Deputy Chief of Mission, Political Counselor and Political Officer in the United States Embassy in Moscow.

2. I submit this declaration to advise the court of the views of the United States with respect to the foreign policy implications of this law suit. My declaration is based on my personal knowledge and recollections and on information provided to me in my official capacity. It is my understanding that the Department of State Legal Adviser Abraham D. Sofaer will also submit a declaration in these proceedings that describes communications that the United States Government has had with the Soviet Government regarding this case

UNCLASSIFIED

3. Maintaining a stable environment conducive to working with the Soviet Union across the range of our five-part agenda of regional matters, arms control, human rights and transnational and bilateral issues is a matter of the highest priority in United States foreign policy. The importance that the United States attributes to relations with the Soviet Union is evidenced by frequent meetings of senior United States and Soviet officials, including, most recently, the visit of Secretary of State Baker to Moscow, May 10 to 11, 1989. Accordingly, the United States Government has sought, to the extent possible, to regularize United States-Soviet bilateral relations so that individual issues can be addressed on their merits.

4. In an attempt to prevent litigation against the Soviet Union in U.S. courts from causing needless disruption to United States relations with the Soviet Union, the Department of State has had a number of diplomatic communications with that Government. The diplomatic notes exchanged between the United States Government and the Soviet Government are attached and briefly summarized below. Additional contacts between officials of the two governments are summarized in the Sofaer Declaration. These contacts, during which the United States and the Soviet Union set forth their disparate views on sovereign immunity, have included the following:

A. In early 1984 plaintiffs requested routine assistance from the Department of State in transmitting the summons and complaint to the United States Embassy in Moscow for service on the Soviet Union pursuant to the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, 28 U.S.C. §§ 1601, et seq. ("FSIA"). In keeping with normal practice, the United States Embassy transmittal was accompanied by a diplomatic note of April 2, 1984 to the Soviet Ministry of Foreign Affairs, which stated that under United States law, neither the Embassy nor the Department of State was in a position to comment on the present suit and that any jurisdictional or other defenses, including claims of sovereign immunity, must be addressed to the court by the foreign state (Attachment 1). The note also referred to the possibility that a default judgment could be entered against a defendant who does not respond to a complaint and noted that for the purpose of asserting jurisdictional and other defenses it was advisable to consult a private attorney in the United States. On April 19, 1984, the Soviet Government rejected service by means of a diplomatic note, and returned the documents transmitted with the United States Embassy note (Attachment 2). The Soviet note also set forth, for the first time with regard to this case, the Soviet position claiming entitlement of the Soviet State and its organs to immunity from the jurisdiction of foreign courts.

B. After the court granted the plaintiffs' motion for default judgment on October 15, 1985, and entered an amended judgment on November 7, 1985, the Department of State, at plaintiffs' request under the FSIA, transmitted the default judgment and amended judgment to the Soviet Ministry of Foreign Affairs by diplomatic note of January 22, 1986 (Attachment 3). That note again restated United States requirements regarding litigation. In its note of March 6, 1986, the Soviet Ministry of Foreign Affairs rejected service of the default and amended judgments (Attachment 4). The note again stated the Soviet Government's view that the Soviet State and its organs enjoy immunity from the jurisdiction of foreign courts and cannot be brought to court without clearly expressed consent. The note also stated that "the decision made by the American court concerns questions referring to purely internal competence of the Soviet organs of State power." The note demanded that United States authorities "take appropriate measures in guaranteeing the jurisdictional immunity of the Soviet state," and warned that "the American side will bear the full responsibility for the consequences of failing to take such measures." The note also stated that "any possible measures taken to implement such decisions, including encroachment on the state property of the USSR, would have the most serious consequences for relations between our countries and would undermine the possibility of normal development of our bilateral relations in different spheres."

C. Department of State officials, including attorneys from the Department's Office of the Legal Adviser, have also met with Soviet representatives both in Washington and in Moscow on a number of occasions to explain United States's requirements regarding litigation and to urge the Soviet Union to seek advice of private counsel concerning participation in this lawsuit. These meetings are described in the accompanying Sofaer Declaration. In addition, last November Legal Adviser Sofaer and Yuri Rybakov, Head of the International Law Department at the Soviet Ministry of Foreign Affairs, signed a Memorandum of Understanding recording discussions and understandings on the subject of promoting mutual understanding in the legal sphere, including sovereign immunity (Attachment 5). The Soviet decision to retain counsel to appear and to raise its defenses in this case is, I believe, in large part the result of these discussions and this Memorandum of Understanding.

5. This case has become an issue in bilateral United States-Soviet relations. In view of the Soviet concern over this case, including the default judgment entered herein and the plaintiff's motion to hold the Soviet Union in contempt, the way in which this matter is handled could have repercussions for other important United States interests with respect to the Soviet Union. The Soviets indicated in a protest of March 6, 1986 (Attachment 4) that any effort to enforce the court's judgment would have most grave consequences and "undermine the possibility of normal development of our bilateral relations in different spheres." Given their strongly held position concerning sovereign immunity, I believe that the Soviets' willingness to appear and to participate in these proceedings is an important step to remove an irritant in our bilateral relations. United States foreign policy interests vis-a-vis the Soviet Union weigh in favor of facilitating these Soviet efforts.

UNCLASSIFIED

6. The Department of State believes that the views of the Soviet Union with respect to basic issues of international law are entitled, under the principles of comity and equality among sovereign states, to receive a fair hearing by all branches of the United States Government. It has been the Department's intention through the pendency of these proceedings to persuade the Soviet Union that the appropriate procedural means under both United States and international law for presenting these views to the United States Government is not through diplomatic channels but through representations to the United States court itself. Although I cannot predict what precise actions the Soviet Union will take with respect to the disposition of these proceedings, in my judgment permitting the Soviet Union to have its day in court would clearly serve the foreign policy interests of the United States. Conversely, denying the Soviet Union an opportunity to present its views in court, particularly given our diplomatic efforts to encourage its participation, can be expected to affect adversely our bilateral relations with that country, and therefore to affect adversely foreign policy interests of the United States.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

No. 431

The Embassy of the United States has the honor to refer the Foreign Ministry to the lawsuit entitled Guy Van Dardel and Sven Hagstromer v. Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, in which the Government of the U.S.S.R. is a defendant. The case is pending in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia docket number 84-0353. The Embassy herewith transmits a summons and complaint in both English and Russian. This note constitutes service of these documents upon the Government of the U.S.S.R. as contemplated in Title 28, United States Code, Section 1608(a)(4).

Under applicable United States law a defendant in a lawsuit must file an answer to the complaint or some other responsive pleading within 60 days from the date of service of the complaint (i.e. the date of this note) or face the possibility of having judgment entered against it without the opportunity of presenting evidence or arguments in its behalf. Accordingly, the Embassy requests that the enclosed summons, and complaint be forwarded to the appropriate authority of the Government of the U.S.S.R. with a view toward taking whatever steps are necessary to avoid a default judgment.

Please note that under United States law and procedure, neither the Embassy nor the Department of State is in the position to comment on the present suit. Under the laws of the United States, any jurisdictional or other defense including claims of sovereign immunity must be addressed to the court before which the matter is pending, for which reason it is advisable to consult an attorney in the United States.

In addition to the summons and complaint, the Embassy is enclosing a "notice of suit" prepared by the plaintiff, which summarizes the nature of the action which has been filed against the government.

The Embassy of the United States of America refers the Ministry of Foreign Affairs to the lawsuit entitled Guy von Dardel and Sven Hagstromer v. Union of Soviet Socialist Republics in which the Government of the USSR is a defendant. The United States District Court for the District of Columbia has rendered a decision in the referenced case, and entered a judgment against the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. The Embassy herewith transmits a Notice of Default Judgment and Amended Judgment. This note constitutes service of these documents upon the Government of the USSR as contemplated in Title 28, United States Code, Section 1608(a)(4) and 1608(e).

The Ministry's attention is invited to the provisions of Section 1610 of Title 28, United States Code, regarding attachment of assets following judgment for the plaintiff. Section 1610(c) states in the pertinent part that "no attachment or execution referred to in subsections (a) and (b) of this section shall be permitted until the court has ordered such attachment and execution after having determined that a reasonable period of time has elapsed following the entry of judgment and the giving of any notice required under section 1608(e) of this chapter."

The Ministry is further advised that under United States law and procedure, neither the Embassy nor the Department of State is in a position to comment on the Court's decision in this matter. Under United States law, the question of whether a procedure is available to open or vacate the default judgment rendered against the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics or otherwise to defend against enforcement of judgment is a matter which must be addressed to the appropriate Court. For this reason, it is advisable to consult an attorney in the United States.

Accordingly, the Embassy requests that the enclosed Notice of Default Judgment and Amended Judgment be forwarded to the appropriate authority of the Government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics with a view towards taking whatever steps are necessary to protect its interests in this case.

INFORMAL TRANSLATION

KU-460

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, referring to the Embassy's note No. 30 of January 22, 1986, declares that the Soviet side does not recognize as legal the decision of the District Court of the District of Columbia made against the USSR in the so-called "Wallenberg case". In accordance with the universally recognized principle of the sovereign equality of states, confirmed by the UN Charter, the Soviet state and its organs enjoy immunity from the jurisdiction of foreign courts and therefore cannot be brought to court as a defendant without its clearly expressed consent. As is known, the Soviet state has given no consent to be brought to an American court as a defendant in this case.

At the same time, the attention of the Embassy is drawn to the fact that the decision made by the American court concerns questions referring to purely internal competence of the Soviet organs of the State power.

In its time, in response to the corresponding requests of the Department of State, the Soviet side has already given exhaustive explanations with regard to the fate of Swedish citizen R. Wallenberg and considers the matter closed.

However, American official authorities, capitalizing on the name of Wallenberg, continue making statements and taking actions clearly aimed at inciting anti-Soviet sentiment. It is quite obvious that the American court, in rendering its decision, was not guided at all by legal rules, but other motives.

The American authorities should realize that this and other decisions of the US courts against the USSR are inadmissible in relations between states. Any possible measures taken to implement such decisions, including encroachment on the state property of the USSR, would have most serious consequences for relations between our countries and would undermine the possibility of normal development of bilateral relations in different spheres.

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the USSR firmly insists that the American side take appropriate measures in guaranteeing the jurisdictional immunity of the Soviet state and warns that otherwise the American side will bear the full responsibility for the consequences of failing to take such measures.

The documents of the District Court of the District of Columbia in the case of Wallenberg are being returned.

Министерство Иностранных Дел Союза Советских Социалистических Республик, ссылаясь на ноту Посольства Соединенных Штатов Америки № 30 от 22 января 1986 года, заявляет, что советская сторона не признает законным решение Окружного суда Округа Колумбия, вынесенное против СССР по так называемому "делу Валленберга". В соответствии с общепризнанным принципом суверенного равенства государств, закрепленным в Уставе ООН, Советское государство и его органы пользуются иммунитетом от юрисдикции иностранных судов и поэтому не могут быть привлечены в качестве ответчика в этих судах без явно выраженного им на то согласия. Одновременно внимание Посольства обращается на то, что указанное решение американского суда касается вопросов, относящихся сугубо к внутренней компетенции советских органов государственной власти.

В свое время в ответ на соответствующие запросы госдепартамента советская сторона уже дала исчерпывающие разъяснения по поводу судьбы шведского гражданина Р.Валленберга и считает этот вопрос закрытым.

Однако американские официальные власти, спекулируя на имени Валленберга, продолжают делать заявления и предпринимать действия, явно направленные на подогревание антисоветских настроений. Совершенно очевидно, что и американский суд, принимая свое решение,

REPRESENTATIVES BELIEVED THE CURRENT POLITICAL AND MILITARY SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR WAS FAVORABLE TO THE FMLN. THEY SAID THE FMLN WOULD PARTICIPATE IN AND WIN ELECTIONS IF THE MILITARY COULD BE IS BROUGHT UNDER CONTROL, AND INDICATED A DESIRE FOR NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE GOVERNMENT TO EFFECT THAT CONTROL. WHITE CLAIMED TO HAVE HARANGUED THE FMLN ABOUT T[illegible]UCTIVITY OF RECENT ASSASSINATIONS, AND THAT THE [illegible]D WITH HIM. 3. FORMER U.S. AMBASSADOR TO EL SALVADOR ROBERT WHITE HEADED A DELEGATION SPONSORED BY THE INTERNATIONAL FOR DEVELOPMENT POLICY TO SPEAK TO REPRESENTATIVES FARABUNDO MARTI NATIONAL LIBERATION FRONT (FMLN) JULY 21-24 IN COCOYOC, MEXICO. REPRESENTING THE FMLN AT THE MEETINGS WERE ARMED FORCES OF NATIONAL RESISTANCE COMMANDER FERMAN CIENFUEGOS, SALVADOR SAMAYOA, AND "MERCEDES." WHITE'S GROUP INCLUDED FORMER U.S. REP MICHAEL BARNES, WESTERN HEMISPHERE SUBCOMMITTEE STAFFER VIC JOHNSON, AND FORMER SENATOR DICK CLARK. THE MEETING WAS THE FIRST OF FOUR PLANNED ENCOUNTERS WITH GUERRILLA REPRESENTATIVES. THE PURPOSE OF THE MEETINGS IS TO EXPLORE ALTERNATIVES TO VIOLENCE IN BRINGING THE TWO SIDES IN THE SALVADORAN CONFLICT TO THE NEGOTIATING TABLE.

4. WHITE, JOHNSON AND BARNES VISITED THE DEPARTMENT ON JUL 25 TO GIVE DAS ARCOS, CEN DEPUTY DIRECTOR ROMERO, AND DESK OFFICER WHITAKER A READOUT ON THE FIRST MEETING. WHITE OPENED WITH A DESCRIPTION OF CIENFUEGOS' ANALYSIS OF THE CURRENT SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR. CIENFUEGOS STATED THAT CRISTIANI HAD NO REAL POWER, AND THAT THE ACCESSION OF ARENA AND THE EXTREMISTS PAVED THE WAY FOR THE EVENTUAL ASSUMPTION OF BY THE FMLN, WHITE SAID. WHITE EXPLAINED THAT CIENFUEGOS CALLED CRISTIANI'S ADMINISTRATION AN "ILLEGITIMATE DICTATORIAL GOVERNMENT," AND THAT THE [redacted] GUERRILLA BELIEVED THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES (ESAF) WAS NERVOUS ABOUT THE PROSPECTS OF DEFENDING SUCH A TENUOUS, UNSUPPORTED REGIME. CIENFUEGOS DESCRIBED THE LARGE SIZE OF THE ESAF AS A MAJOR DISADVANTAGE BECAUSE IT GAVE THE FMLN SO MANY MORE TARGETS TO STRIKE AT. THE FMLN, ON THE OTHER HAND, IS DEMOCRATIC AND MILITARILY STRONG, WITH THE ABILITY TO CONTROL 40-50 MAJOR POPULATION CENTERS AT WILL, CIENFUEGOS SAID.

5. CIENFUEGOS, CITING THE SUPPOSED ILLEGITIMACY OF THE ARENA GOVERNMENT AND THE STRENGTH OF THE FMLN, ARGUED STRONGLY FOR A SUSPENSION OF U.S. MILITARY ASSISTANCE TO EL SALVADOR. HE SPECIFICALLY STATED THAT SUSPENSION OF ASSISTANCE WAS NOT RPT NOT A PRECONDITION FOR NEGOTIATIONS, WHITE SAID.

ASSASSINATIONS - GUILTY WITH AN EXCUSE

6. WHITE CLAIMED THAT HIS GROUP "BEAT THE FMLN UP" FOR FOUR HOURS ABOUT THE FMLN'S LATEST TACTIC OF ASSASSINATIONS OF GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS AND CONSERVATIVE INTELLECTUALS. WHITE NOTED THAT THIS TACTIC WAS DAILY LOSING THE FMLN POLITICAL SUPPORT IN WASHINGTON, AND, HE ASSUMED, IN EL SALVADOR, AND THAT IT ALSO INCREASED THE CREDIBILITY OF THE NATIONALIST REPUBLICAN ALLIANCE (ARENA) [redacted]

GOVERNMENT. WHITE REPEATED THE ANALYSIS OF THE DEPT AND OTHERS THAT THE FMLN WAS TRYING TO PROVOKE AN EXTRAJUDICIAL REACTION THROUGH THESE KILLINGS, BUT WHITE SAID THAT CIENFUEGOS EXPLICITLY DENIED THAT THE KILLINGS WERE A TACTIC.

7. THE FMLN ADMITTED ALL RECENT ACTS OF TERRORISM, INCLUDING THE KILLING OF PECCORINI AND THE BOMBING OF VP MERINO'S HOUSE, BUT EXCEPTING THE KILLINGS OF MINISTER RODRIGUEZ PORTH AND EDGAR CHACON, WHITE SAID. THE GUERRILLAS ADMITTED THAT THE KILLINGS HAD WORKED AGAINST FMLN INTERESTS, IN PART BECAUSE SO MANY OF THE ATTACKS WERE ATTEMPTS TO USE MILITARY MEASURES TO ADDRESS POLITICAL OPPONENTS, A TACTIC WHICH THE FMLN DEPLORES, THEY CLAIMED.

UNCLASSIFIED

8. CIENFUEGOS INDICATED THAT THE FMLN WAS DEBATING A

[redacted] CHANGE IN POLICY REGARDING ASSASSINATIONS. UNDER THE PROPOSED CHANGE, THE GUERRILLA SAID, THE HIGH COMMAND WOULD DECIDE WHO WOULD BE KILLED BY NAME, AND THAT IT WOULD ACKNOWLEDGE ALL ACTS OF VIOLENCE. PART OF THE REASON FOR THE APPARENT LACK OF CONTROL IN THE RECENT ACTS OF TERRORISM WAS A LACK OF PRECISION IN THE ORDERS PASSED TO URBAN COMMANDO CELLS, CIENFUEGOS INDICATED. THE PROPOSED NEW PROCEDURES WOULD CLEAR UP THIS PROBLEM, THE GUERRILLA ASSERTED. FINALLY ON THIS SUBJECT, THE GUERRILLAS STATED THAT THEY BELIEVED THAT AIR FORCE GENERAL JUAN BUSTILLO HAD ORDERED RODRIGUEZ PORTH KILLED.

ENGAGING THE PRIVATE SECTOR

9. THE GUERRILLAS REPEATEDLY EMPHASIZED THEIR DEMOCRATIC [redacted]

NATURE AND THEIR REALIZATION OF THE NECESSITY TO BRING THE PRIVATE SECTOR INTO A POST-INSURGENCY GOVERNMENT, WHITE SAID. PRIVATE ENTERPRISE WOULD BE ESSENTIAL TO REACTIVATE THE ECONOMY, THEY NOTED. TO THIS END, THE FMLN HAD ENLISTED WHITE IN SETTING UP A MEETING BETWEEN THE FMLN AND AMERICAN BUSINESSMEN IN EL SALVADOR. WHITE SUPPOSED THAT THE FMLN ASSUMED THAT AMERICAN BUSINESSMEN WOULD HAVE A MORE OPEN VIEW THAN THEIR SALVADORAN COLLEAGUES, AND THAT CONVINCING THE AMERICANS WOULD HELP THE FMLN OPEN DISCUSSIONS WITH SALVADORAN BUSINESSMEN. INTERESTINGLY, WHITE SAID THAT THE FMLN TOLD HIM THAT THEY HAD ALSO ASKED FOR FORMER AMBASSADOR ERNESTO RIVAS GALLONT'S HELP IN ARRANGING AN FMLN-AMERICAN BUSINESSMEN MEETING.

ELECTIONS, THE ESAF, AND NEGOTIATIONS

UNCLASSIFIED

10. WHITE OUTLINED SALVADOR SAMAYOA'S STATEMENTS ON THE MILITARY AND ELECTIONS. SAMAYOA ASSERTED THAT THE FMLN WOULD BE WILLING TO ABIDE BY THE RESULTS OF ELECTIONS, AND INDEED WERE CONVINCED THAT THE FMLN WOULD WIN FREE ELECTIONS. HOWEVER, FREE ELECTIONS WOULD BE POSSIBLE ONLY IF "THE MILITARY IS UNDER CONTROL." THE WAY TO CONTROL THE MILITARY, SAMAYOA SAID, WOULD BE THROUGH NEGOTIATIONS; HE STATED, APPARENTLY FOR ILLUSTRATIVE PURPOSES, THAT A "CLEANSING" ("LIMPIEZA") OF PERHAPS 50 OFFICERS MIGHT BE

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

SUFFICIENT TO EXERT CONTROL OVER THE ESAF. THIS WOULD NOT ELIMINATE ALL EGREGIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSERS, BUT WOULD SEND A MESSAGE TO THE OTHERS, SAMAYOA SAID.

11. SAMAYOA STATED THAT MOST OF THE OFFICERS BELOW THE RANK OF LIEUTENANT COLONEL WERE PROFESSIONAL, UNDERSTOOD THE IMPORTANCE OF HUMAN RIGHTS OBSERVANCE, AND KNEW WHAT WOULD BE NECESSARY TO FASHION AN ESAF WHICH WOULD BE RESPECTABLE INTERNATIONALLY. FINALLY, SAMAYOA STATED THAT CONTROL OF THE MILITARY WOULD BE THE ONLY SUBJECT WHICH [redacted]

WOULD HAVE TO BE DISCUSSED IN NEGOTIATIONS.

DIALOGUE AND DEMOBILIZATION DECRIED

12. SAMAYOA CALLED PRESIDENT CRISTIANI'S DIALOGUE COMMISSION "WORTHLESS," WHITE SAID. SAMAYOA CITED THE "FREEZING OUT" OF THE CHURCH, THE POLITICAL NATURE OF THE APPOINTMENTS, THE POWERLESSNESS OF THE COMMISSION, AND THE FUTILITY OF DISCUSSING DIALOGUE WHEN NEGOTIATIONS WERE NECESSARY AS THE RATIONALE FOR HIS JUDGMENT. CIENFUEGOS NOTED APPROVINGLY THE RECENT MOVES BY THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS (PDC) AND OTHER POLITICAL PARTIES TO FORM AN ALTERNATIVE BODY TO TALK WITH THE FMLN. INDEED, CIENFUEGOS SAID, THE FMLN HAD BECOME INCREASINGLY CLOSE TO ELEMENTS IN THE PDC. DEPTOFFS SUGGESTED THAT WITH THE APPARENT FAILURE OF THE NATIONAL DIALOGUE COMMISSION TO TAKE HOLD, CRISTIANI MIGHT CONSIDER CREATING A COMMISSION OF NOTABLES WITH POWER TO MAKE DECISIONS TO TALK TO THE GUERRILLAS.

13. THE FMLN ACCEPTED ESQUIPULAS, SAMAYOA SAID, BUT REJECTED THE U.S. ANALYSIS OF SYMMETRY BETWEEN THE FMLN AND THE NICARAGUAN RESISTANCE (RN). THE FMLN WAS A POPULAR FORCE WHEREAS THE RN WOULD COLLAPSE WITHOUT FOREIGN SUPPORT, CIENFUEGOS STATED. THE FMLN FLATLY DENIED RECEIVING WEAPONRY AND SUPPORT THROUGH NICARAGUA, WHITE SAID, NOTING THAT NO ONE HAD EVER BEEN ABLE TO SHOW INCONTROVERTIBLE EVIDENCE OF THE CONNECTION. FOR HIS PART, BARNES STATED (TO US) THAT HE WOULD BE "SHOCKED" IF THE SANDINISTAS WERE NOT SUPPORTING THE FMLN.

14. IN WHITE'S ANALYSIS, THE FMLN IS A LEGITIMATE MOVEMENT OF NATIONAL LIBERATION WHICH THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT SHOULD ENGAGE IN AN EFFORT TO END THE VIOLENCE. WHILE HE VIEWS THE FMLN'S RECENT USE OF TERRORISM AND ASSASSINATIONS AS DEPLORABLE, HE CLEARLY FINDS PAST AND PRESENT "RIGHTWING/ESAF TERRORISM" FAR MORE REPREHENSIBLE. HE STATED THAT HE FOUND IT EASIER AND MORE PRODUCTIVE TO GET ALONG WITH THE LEFTISTS, AS INEXCUSABLE AS THEIR ACTIONS MIGHT BE ON OCCASION, THAN TO DEAL WITH "ULTRARIGHT THUGS LIKE D'AUBUISSON." WHITE USED TERMS LIKE "MODERATE," "EDUCATED," AND "INTELLECTUAL" TO DESCRIBE THE GUERRILLAS HE SPOKE WITH.

15. WHITE SAID HE FOUND THE MEETING PARTICULARLY USEFUL IN MOVING FORWARD THE PROCESS OF TALKING DIRECTLY TO THE FMLN. HE TOLD US THAT THE NEXT MEETING WILL BE HELD IN OCTOBER (USING FUNDING PROVIDED BY "A BUSINESS GROUP"), AND THAT CIENFUEGOS PROMISED THAT ERP COMMANDATE JOAQUIN VILLALOBOS WOULD ATTEND THE NEXT SESSION. WHITE WOULD ATTEMPT TO GET A SITTING U.S. CONGRESSMAN FOR HIS SIDE, HE SAID.

COMMENT

16. WHITE IS CLEARLY ENTHRALLED WITH HIS NEW TASK OF TRYING TO ARRANGE CONTACTS BETWEEN THE FMLN AND THE GOES. ANY SUCH CONTACT SEEN AS BEING BROKERED BY WHITE, HOWEVER, WOULD PROBABLY BE UNACCEPTABLE TO ARENA.

17. WHITE REPEATEDLY ENCOURAGED US TO PRESSURE THE GOES TO MEET FMLN CONDITIONS (E.G., ON THE DIALOGUE COMMISSION). PRIOR TO THE MEXICO TRIP, THE FORMER AMBASSADOR HAD PROBED DEPTOFFS FOR "U.S. REQUIREMENTS ON DIALOGUE AND NEGOTIATIONS." WE INFORMED HIM THAT THESE

AUGUST 4 TO PROVIDE DETAILS ON ARMS TRAFFICKING BETWEEN NICARAGUA AND THE SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS. ALL OF THE INFORMATION PRESENTED WAS DEVELOPED FOLLOWING THE RAID ON A RANCH AT EL CEDRAL, FRANCISCO MORAZAN DEPARTMENT, ON JULY 29, WHERE A SIZEABLE CACHE OF AUTOMATIC WEAPONS AND ASSOCIATED GEAR WAS UNCOVERED.

3. SUAREZ SAID THAT IN ADDITION TO THE MAN KILLED BY THE SECURITY FORCES DURING THE RAID, SEVEN OTHER PERSONS HAD BEEN ARRESTED IN THE AFTERMATH. OF THOSE, TWO HAVE BEEN RELEASED AND THE OTHERS WERE BEING TURNED OVER FOR CRIMINAL PROCESSING FOR ARMS TRAFFICKING. HE GAVE THE FOLLOWING DETAILS ON THE VICTIM AND THE FIVE PRISONERS:

MAURICIO ERNESTO HERNANDEZ ROSALES - (VICTIM) TRUE NAME MANUEL DE JESUS LARIN, AKA FREDY MAURICIO AND MAURICIO ERNESTO HERNANDEZ ROSALES. BORN IN EL SALVADOR, MARRIED TO LEONILA AGUILAR RODRIGUEZ, WITH A RESIDENCE IN THE COLONIA CENTRAL AMERICA EAST (PRESUMABLY IN TEGUCIGALPA). LARIN WAS A MEMBER OF THE REVOLUTIONARY PARTY OF CENTRAL AMERICAN WORKERS (PRTC); HE ENTERED HONDURAS IN 1981 FOR THE PURPOSE OF TRANSFERRING ARMS TO THE SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS. COLOMONCAGUA WHEN THE VEHICLE WAS INTERCEPTED BY THE HONDURAN MILITARY. IN THAT CLASH, THE ARMED FORCES KILLED ONE JUAN BAUTISTA FLORES AND ARRESTED NOHEMI FLORES. LARIN ESCAPED AND FLED TO MEXICO WITH HIS LOVER, MARIA LUISA OCHOA ZELAYA. AT AN UNSPECIFIED DATE, HE RETURNED TO HONDURAS, WHERE HE SET UP A SMALL SUPERMARKET IN THE COLONIA CENTRAL AMERICA EAST, THE BUSINESS BEING FINANCED BY THE "ORGANIZATION" AND ACTING AS A FRONT FOR SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES. THE STORE WAS BOUGHT IN THE NAME OF HIS LOVER'S BROTHER, RUFINO OCHOA ZELAYA.

MARIA LUISA OCHOA ZELAYA - 28 YEARS OLD, AKA "MARTHA." THE ARMED FORCES ARE NOT CERTAIN OF HER NATIONALITY, BUT HER DOCUMENTS INDICATE SHE WAS BORN IN SAN MIGUELITO, FRANCISCO MORAZAN DEPARTMENT. OCHOA WAS RECRUITED INTO THE PRTC BY LARIN IN 1983. DURING 1986-87, SHE TRAVELED TO CUBA AND NICARAGUA FOR POLITICAL INDOCTRINATION AND MILITARY TRAINING. SHE HAS ALSO TRAVELED IN MEXICO, GUATEMALA, EL SALVADOR, COSTA RICA, AND PANAMA ON POLITICAL ERRANDS FOR THE "ORGANIZATION." ALVARADO RECEIVED POLITICAL AND MILITARY TRAINING IN NICARAGUA IN 1987, TWO OF HIS INSTRUCTORS BEING THE SAME "FEDERICO" AND A WOMAN KNOWN ONLY AS "CLARA." HE WAS CARRYING FRAUDULENT HONDURAN IDENTIFICATION IN THE NAME OF CARLOS ENRIQUE PEREZ AGUILAR AT THE TIME OF HIS ARREST.

JOSE MARTIN LOPEZ ROMERO - AKA "LEONEL" NATIONALITY UNKNOWN; CAPTURED WITHOUT DOCUMENTATION IN DANLI, DEPARTMENT OF EL PARAISO. RECRUITED IN 1983 BY SOMEONE KNOWN ONLY AS "JUAN" IN EL CALABAZO, USULUTAN, EL SALVADOR. HE WAS SENT TO HONDURAS IN APRIL 1989, ENTERING ILLEGALLY NEAR THE CUSTOMS POST AT EL POY, OCOTEPEQUE. HE WENT TO DANLI, WHERE HE MADE CONTACT WITH VICTOR ANTONIO MEJIA, WHO GAVE HIM A FALSE HONDURAN IDENTIFICATION CARD SHOWING HIS NAME AS ERNESTO GUARDADO CHINCHILLA, BORN IN EL PROGRESO, YORO. FOR THE SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS, ALONG WITH MEJIA. HE HAD TWICE HELPED TO TRANSPORT WEAPONS AND MATERIEL TO THE FMLN, IN MAY AND JUNE 1989.

VICTOR MANUEL MEZA ELVIR - AKA "TONO," BORN IN COFRADIA, FRANCISCO MORAZAN DEPARTMENT. MARRIED TO CONSUELO MARTINEZ DE MEZA. RECRUITED BY PEDRO ANTONIO BRIZUELA IN 1981. MEZA WAS TASKED WITH SUPPORT TO MAURICIO ERNESTO HERNANDEZ ROSALES AND FILADELFO FLORES IN JANUARY 1989 BY PROFESSOR LEONIDAS AVILA, HEAD OF EDUCATION AT THE INSTITUTE FOR COOPERATIVE WORKER FORMATION AND A MEMBER OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF HONDURAS. IN JUNE 1989, HE WAS SAFEGUARDING THE VEHICLE CONFISCATED IN THE RAID ON EL MULULAR (EL CEDRAL).

4. AFTER THE PRESS CONFERENCE, THE FIVE PRISONERS WERE TURNED OVER TO COURT OFFICIALS AND ALLOWED TO SPEAK WITH THE PRESS. OCHOA ZELAYA DENIED SHE HAD ANYTHING TO DO WITH THE TRANSPORT OF ARMS AND SAID SHE HAD NO IDEA HER LOVER WAS IN CHARGE OF SUCH A NETWORK. SHE AND THE OTHERS CLAIMED TO HAVE BEEN FORCED TO CONFESS UNDER TORTURE. ACCORDING TO THE PRESS, OCHOA ZELAYA HAD A FEW BRUISES ON HER ARMS.

THE SENATOR ASKED MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE JUAN IGNACIO DOMINGUEZ ABOUT THE IMPACT OF THE DROUGHT ON CHILEAN AGRICULTURE. THE MINISTER RESPONDED THAT THE DROUGHT HAS HAD MINIMAL IMPACT ON AGRICULTURE THIS YEAR. WITH RECENT RAIN, THE WINTER SHORTAGE IS ONLY AROUND 13 PERCENT BELOW NORMAL. THE NON-IRRIGATED COASTAL UPLAND AREAS HAVE BEEN HURT BY THE DROUGHT WHICH WILL AFFECT A SMALL PORTION OF WHEAT PRODUCTION. SOME SHEEP AND GOAT PRODUCERS IN THE NORTHERN AREAS OF THE COUNTRY HAVE BEEN SERIOUSLY AFFECTED.

SAN JOSE FOR CODEL LUGAR - ANDY SEMMEL

E.O. 12356: DECL:OADR

SUBJ: CODEL LUGAR VISIT TO CHILE

THE MINISTER RESPONDED TO THE SENATOR'S INQUIRIES AS FOLLOWS:

AND TENANCY: DURING THE EARLY 1970'S, LAND WAS ARBITRARILY TAKEN FROM ACTIVE PRODUCING UNITS

BROKEN DOWN INTO SMALLER, OFTEN INEFFICIENT, UNPRODUCTIVE PARCELS. THE AGRICULTURE SECTOR REMEMBERS THOSE PAINFUL MOMENTS QUITE VIVIDLY.

AGRICULTURAL LABOR: NEARLY 18 PERCENT OF THE CONFIDENTIAL

COUNTRY'S LABOR FORCE IS EMPLOYED IN THE AGRICULTURE SECTOR. OVER THE LAST TWO YEARS, LABOR MIGRATION TO THE CITIES HAS LEVELED OFF; IN FACT SOME LABOR IS EVEN RETURNING TO THE COUNTRYSIDE.

AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION: CHILEAN AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION AND YIELDS HAVE INCREASED DRAMATICALLY OVER THE LAST FEW YEARS DUE TO GREATER PRODUCTION EFFICIENCY AND THE USE OF MORE INPUTS. THE RELATIVELY FREE MARKETS IN AGRICULTURE PERMIT FARMERS TO DECIDE WHICH COMMODITIES THEY SHOULD PRODUCE.

FOOD SELF-SUFFICIENCY: CHILE IS BASICALLY SELF-SUFFICIENT IN FOOD PRODUCTION EXCEPT FOR SMALL IMPORT NEEDS FOR RICE AND CORN. (NOTE: WHILE CHILE CLAIMS SELF-SUFFICIENCY IN WHEAT PRODUCTION APPROXIMATELY DOLLARS 10.0 MILLION ARE SPENT YEARLY ON WHEAT IMPORTS. SOY OIL IS IMPORTED FROM OTHER LATIN COUNTRIES FOR HUMAN CONSUMPTION.)

URUGUAY ROUND: CHILE SUPPORTS THE U.S. PROPOSAL TO FREE AGRICULTURAL TRADE BY ELIMINATING EXPORT SUBSIDIES IN THE GATT URUGUAY ROUND.

EXPORT LIMITATIONS: CHILEAN EXPORTS HAVE BEEN SOMEWHAT LIMITED BY INFRASTRUCTURE PROBLEMS, INADEQUATE ROADS AND PORT SIZE. ACTUAL CROP LOSSES IN THE FIELD AND ON-FARM (DUE TO INEFFICIENT HARVEST TECHNIQUES OR INSUFFICIENT STORAGE) ARE ONLY 3 TO 4 PERCENT, WHICH IS QUITE SMALL BY LATIN AMERICAN STANDARDS.

UNIVERSITY EXCHANGES. CONTACT BETWEEN CHILEAN

AND U.S. UNIVERSITIES IS NOT AS GREAT AS IN THE PAST. MOST OF THE MAJOR UNIVERSITY SENIOR AGRICULTURAL FACULTY MEMBERS HAVE RECEIVED A DEGREE OF TRAINING FROM U.S. UNIVERSITIES. SOME EVEN FROM PURDUE.

5. THE SENATOR MENTIONED THAT PRIOR TO EMBARKING ON THIS TRIP, U.S. BUSINESSES CONTACTED HIM ABOUT THEIR DESIRE TO CONTINUE FRESH FRUIT IMPORTS FROM CHILE. U.S. CONSUMERS HAVE GROWN ACCUSTOMED TO EATING FRESH FRUIT YEAR-ROUND AND THE DEMAND FOR IT IS EXPECTED TO CONTINUE TO INCREASE. IT IS IMPORTANT TO CONTINUE STRENGTHENING OUR COMMERCIAL RELATIONS SO THE U.S. CONSUMER DOES NOT ASSOCIATE CHILE, FRUIT, AND POISON IN THE SAME THOUGHT PATTERN. THE FRUIT INCIDENT OCCURRED AT A TIME WHEN THE UNITED STATES' CONSUMERS WERE VERY CONCERNED ABOUT ALAR IN APPLES. THE CONCERN ABOUT CHEMICALS IN FOOD IS EXPECTED TO CONTINUE, AND THE CHILEANS SHOULD BE VERY AWARE OF IT.

AMCHAM

7. IN A FRANK, FRIENDLY AND UPBEAT ATMOSPHERE, MEMBERS OF THE AMCHAM BOARD OF DIRECTORS BRIEFED SENATOR LUGAR ON VARIOUS ASPECTS OF THE CHILEAN MARKET AS SEEN BY U.S. BUSINESS. STANLEY JONSSON, AMCHAM PRESIDENT, GAVE A BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE INVESTMENT CLIMATE AND HIGHLIGHTED THE ATTRACTIVE FEATURES OF DECREE LAW 600, WHICH REGULATES FOREIGN INVESTMENT AND PROVIDES DEPENDABLE RULES OF THE GAME. GENERALLY, U.S. BUSINESS IS OPTIMISTIC WITH REGARD TO THE POLITICAL TRANSITION AND CONTINUES TO INVEST. A FEW HAVE OPTED FOR HIGHER BUT MORE SECURE TAX RATES INSTEAD OF SHORT-TERM BENEFITS. WITH REGARD TO THE RECENT GRAPE POISONING CRISIS, SENATOR LUGAR DESCRIBED THE DIFFICULT SITUATION IN WHICH THE FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION, FDA, OPERATES. THE CONSUMER IN THE U.S. INSISTS ON ABSOLUTE ASSURANCE AND PROTECTION ABOUT THE PRODUCTS THEY CONSUME. AT THE SAME TIME, CONSUMERS ARE INCREASINGLY PRESSURING FDA NOT TO INTERRUPT THE ACCESS TO CERTAIN IMPORTED PRODUCTS SUCH AS CHILEAN GRAPES.

8. ON THE LABOR SITUATION, CHAMBER MEMBERS COMMUNICATED THAT RELATIONS WITH LABOR UNIONS ARE NOT AS BAD AS PERCEIVED IN THE U.S. ONE MINING EXECUTIVE INDICATED THAT HIS COMPANY IS IN THE MIDST OF LABOR NEGOTIATIONS AND ALTHOUGH THERE ARE A FEW DISRUPTIVE LEADERS EGGED ON BY OUTSIDE POLITICAL ACTIVISTS, THE MAJORITY ARE COOPERATIVE AND REASONABLE. THE CONFIDENTIAL

SENATOR ASKED IF LABOR UNIONS IN GENERAL HAVE UNREASONABLE EXPECTATIONS FOR CHANGE WITH THE TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY. ONE OF THE CHAMBER MEMBERS INDICATED THAT CURRENT ECONOMIC POLICIES ACTUALLY FAVORED LABOR BY DRAMATICALLY DECREASING UNEMPLOYMENT. WITH REGARD TO BILATERAL REACTIONS, THE SENATOR REMARKED THAT THE DEGREE OF IMPROVEMENT AND THE EXTENT OF TANGIBLE SUPPORT TO THE NEW GOVERNMENT WILL BE A FUNCTION OF THE ENTHUSIASM IN THE U.S. REGARDING THE CHANGE ITSELF. HE INDICATED THAT THE LETELIER CASE WOULD NOT GO AWAY QUICKLY AND SOME PEOPLE IN THE U.S. CONGRESS WILL NOT BE EASILY CONVINCED OF THE CREDIBILITY OF THE NEW GOVERNMENT. HIS HOPE IS THAT THE ADMINISTRATION AND CONGRESS WILL RESPOND TO CHILE MUCH LIKE THE U.S. GOVERNMENT HAS RESPONDED TO THE MEXICAN EFFORT TO RESOLVE ITS PROBLEMS AND IMPROVE BILATERAL RELATIONS. HE STRESSED THAT THE IMPORTANCE OF THE CHAMBER'S SUPPORTIVE ROLE IN THIS WHOLE PROCESS IS OBVIOUS.

MENT TO PUBLIC LIFE. THE SENATOR ASKED BUCHI ABOUT HIS APPEAL TO YOUNGER VOTERS. BUCHI EXPRESSED A PREFERENCE FOR CONDUCTING THE CAMPAIGN ON THE ISSUES AND A RELUCTANCE TO RUN ON THE BASIS OF "MY PERSONAL CHARACTERISTICS." HE HAD NO DOUBTS ABOUT HIS PHYSICAL ABILITY TO STAND UP TO THE RIGORS OF THE CAMPAIGN, BUT WAS HAVING TO COPE WITH TENSIONS WHICH WERE "ALL NEW." IN RESPONSE TO THE SENATOR'S QUERY, HE SAW THE MAJOR ECONOMIC PROBLEMS OF THE

COUNTRY AS (1) MAINTAINING INVESTMENT/SAVINGS LEVELS TO SUSTAIN 5 PERCENT GROWTH, (2) MAINTAINING INTEREST PAYMENTS ON EXTERNAL DEBT AND FINDING NEW CREDIT FLOWS, AND (3) DIVERSIFYING EXPORTS AND MARKETS FOR CURRENT EXPORTS TO CUSHION THE ECONOMY FROM UNANTICIPATED SETBACKS LIKE FRUIT CRISIS IN MARCH. THE SENATOR NOTED THAT U.S. STRONGLY SUPPORTS CONTINUED PURSUIT OF

FREE MARKET ECONOMY POLICIES. HE THEN ASKED BUCHI'S VIEWS ON HOW CIVILIAN/MILITARY RELATIONS WERE LIKELY TO EVOLVE. BUCHI EMPHASIZED THAT THE SUCCESS OF THE TRANSITION PROCESS TO DATE SERVES TO DEMONSTRATE THAT THE ARMED FORCES ARE "TALKING BUSINESS ABOUT MOVING TO DEMOCRACY." HE IS CONVINCED THAT THE MILITARY WILL KEEP ITS COMMITMENTS, AND WAS UNCONCERNED AT THE PROSPECT THAT PINOCHET MIGHT STAY ON AS COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF THE ARMY. PERSONALLY, HE THOUGHT THAT HE SHOULD DO SO. ON HIS OWN FREEDOM OF ACTION AS PRESIDENT IN THAT EVENT, BUCHI RECALLED THAT MANY THOUGHT HE WOULD BE THE INSTRUMENT OF FORMER MINISTERS IN THE GOVERNMENT WHEN HE WAS NAMED MINISTER OF FINANCE, BUT HE HAD DEMONSTRATED HIS INDEPENDENCE. THE PRESIDENT HAS A GREAT DEAL OF LEVERAGE, INCLUDING THE POWER OF THE BUDGET, BUT SO LONG AS HE PLAYS BY THE RULES OF THE GAME, THERE SHOULD BE NO PROBLEM. IF HE GOES BEYOND THE CONSTITUTION, THEN YOU HAVE A REPEAT OF THE SITUATION IN 1973. IT IS IMPORTANT TO DEVELOP COMMON GROUND, RATHER THAN ROLL OVER THE OTHER SIDE. IT IS IMPORTANT THAT IT BE UNDERSTOOD THAT THE ARMED FORCES ARE NOT THE LOSERS; RATHER, "THEY ARE BUILDING SOMETHING DIFFERENT." FOR THE

IMMEDIATE FUTURE, HE THOUGHT CONTACTS FOR BUILDING CONFIDENCE BETWEEN THE MILITARY AND CIVILIANS SHOULD PROCEED WITH THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT AS A MAJOR ACTOR. BUT NOT MUCH CAN BE ACCOMPLISHED IN PUBLIC. PRIVATE NEGOTIATIONS ARE NECESSARY. THE GROUND CAN BE PREPARED BEFORE THE ELECTIONS DECEMBER 14.

10. THE SENATOR ASKED ABOUT BUCHI'S VIEW OF RELATIONS BETWEEN THE PRESIDENT AND THE CONGRESS. THE CONGRESS, HE SAID, HAS MUCH MORE POWER THAN THE ARMY TO MAKE LIFE DIFFICULT. THEREFORE, HIS FIRST PRIORITY IS TO HELP THE CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES WHO SUPPORT HIM. ON ARGENTINA, BUCHI THOUGHT MENEM WAS ON THE RIGHT TRACK AND HOPED HE WOULD MAINTAIN HIS CURRENT ECONOMIC PROGRAM OVER THE LONG TERM. THE CANDIDATE SAID HE WOULD PROBABLY BE MAKING A TRIP TO THE UNITED STATES. SENATOR LUGAR ENCOURAGED HIM TO DO SO IN ORDER TO HELP CHANGE U.S. PERCEPTIONS OF CHILE; PEOPLE IN THE UNITED STATES NEED TO UNDERSTAND WHAT IS HAPPENING IN CHILE, THEY STILL TEND TO SEE THE COUNTRY IN TERMS OF GENERALS. A BUCHI VISIT TO THE UNITED STATES WOULD OFFER A MARVELOUS OPPORTUNITY TO CHANGE ATTITUDES. BUCHI NOTED THAT INSIDE CHILE SOME SAY HE IS THE SAME AS PINOCHET. HE FOUND IT IRONIC THAT HE SHOULD HAVE MORE SUCCESS IN CONVEYING A DIFFERENT IMAGE OUTSIDE THE COUNTRY.

11. THE MEETING WITH CARABINERO DIRECTOR GENERAL RODOLFO STANGE WAS HELD IN HIS DIEGO PORTALES OFFICE, WHERE HE DONS HIS HAT AS A MEMBER OF THE MILITARY JUNTA. MOST OF THE CONVERSATION FOCUSED ON NARCOTICS MATTERS. THE GENERAL NOTED THAT CHILE IS NOT A COCAINE PRODUCER, BUT HAS

TRADITIONALLY GROWN MARIJUANA SINCE COLONIAL TIMES. HE REVIEWED RECENT SEIZURES WHICH INDICATE INCREASED USE OF CHILE AS A TRANSIT COUNTRY FOR CONFIDENTIAL

COCAINE. IN RESPONSE TO A QUESTION FROM THE SENATOR, HE DID NOT SEE ORGANIZED CRIME ON AN INTERNATIONAL BASIS AS A MAJOR PROBLEM FOR CHILE. HE WAS MORE CONCERNED ABOUT TERRORIST ACTIVITY, NOTING THAT EIGHT CARABINEROS HAVE BEEN KILLED THIS YEAR. HE DESCRIBED THE LAUTARO GROUP AS THE MOST BLOODTHIRSTY AND DETECTED FOREIGN INFLUENCE IN THEIR TRAINING. ON THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM, HE SAID THE CARABINEROS HAVE SINCE THEIR CREATION ACTED AS AGENTS OF THE COURT. HE ADMITTED THAT BECAUSE OF THE HEAVY CASELOAD THERE WERE LONG DELAYS IN TRIALS. THE SENATOR ASKED ABOUT THE CRIME RATE IN SANTIAGO. THE GENERAL OPINED THAT THE LEVEL OF CRIME WAS RELATIVELY LOW AND UNDER CONTROL, WITH ONLY ISOLATED CASES OF DRUG RELATED MURDERS.

ASKED THE MINISTER HOW HE THOUGHT THE AUGUST 23 OAS MEETING ON PANAMA WOULD COME OUT. ERRAZURIZ REPLIED THAT FOR CHILE PANAMA WAS NOT MUCH OF AN ISSUE. THEIR INTEREST WAS PRINCIPALLY BECAUSE OF THEIR HEAVY USE OF THE CANAL. SENATOR LUGAR NOTED THAT THE ADMINISTRATION WOULD NOT ACCEPT AND THE SENATE WOULD NOT CONFIRM A NORIEGA NOMINEE AS ADMINISTRATOR OF THE CANAL. HE NOTED THAT THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES HAS SOUGHT COLLECTIVE ACTION BY THE OAS ON THE PANAMA SITUATION. IT IS AN ISSUE WHICH THE HEMISPHERE SHOULD RESOLVE IN CONCERT, BUT IT IS NOT AT ALL CLEAR THAT THE OAS WILL TAKE EFFECTIVE STEPS. AT THE SAME TIME, WE ARE TOLD BY OUR FRIENDS IN LATIN AMERICA THAT THE U.S. SHOULD NOT DO ANYTHING ABOUT THE SITUATION EITHER. IT IS A PROBLEM WHICH WILL NOT GO AWAY, AND THE SENATOR ASKED THE MINISTER TO CONSIDER THE COMPLICATIONS THIS REPRESENTS FOR ALL OF US FOR THE FUTURE. THE MINISTER WAS NOT HOPEFUL THAT THE OAS COMMISSION WOULD PROVIDE A SOLUTION, AND NOTED THAT THIS COULD HAVE SERIOUS IMPLICATIONS FOR CHILE BECAUSE OF ITS INTEREST IN THE CANAL. THE SENATOR INSISTED, "THE UNITED STATES SEES THE DEPARTURE OF NORIEGA AND A DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT IN PANAMA AS A NECESSITY." ERRAZURIZ ALLOWED AS HOW IT WAS NOT AN EASY PROBLEM AND WAS SENSITIVE FOR GOC BECAUSE OF ITS POLICY OF NONINTERFERENCE IN INTERNAL AFFAIRS.

INVITED TO THAT EVENT WAS A BLUE RIBBON COLLECTION OF LEADING JOURNALISTS, GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS, PROMINENT BUSINESSMEN AND ACADEMICS. IN HIS TOAST, THE SENATOR EMPHASIZED U.S. SATISFACTION AT PROGRESS CHILE HAS ACHIEVED IN ITS TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY AND ITS SUCCESS IN BUILDING A FREE MARKET ECONOMY.

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE PATRICIO AYLWIN

15. THE CANDIDATE OF THE SEVENTEEN-PARTY COPODE COALITION, PATRICIO AYLWIN, MET WITH THE SENATOR AND HIS PARTY AT AYLWIN'S HOME. THE CANDIDATE WAS ACCOMPANIED BY CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT CARLOS FIGUEROA, WHO HEADS UP THE COPODE COMMUNICATIONS/ PROPAGANDA EFFORT FOR THE CAMPAIGN. THE SENATOR EXPLORED WITH AYLWIN THE FUTURE ROLE OF PRESIDENT PINOCHET AND CIVILIAN CONTROL OF THE MILITARY. AYLWIN DESCRIBED THIS AS THE "BIG QUESTION" OF THE TRANSITION. HE HAD NO DOUBT THAT INSIDE THE ARMED FORCES, IN THE AIR FORCE, NAVY, AND CARABINEROS, THERE WAS A SINCERE DESIRE TO

RETURN TO PROFESSIONAL MILITARY ACTIVITY. ON THE OTHER HAND, IN THE ARMY THERE ARE SECTORS LOYAL TO PINOCHET WHICH EITHER ASPIRE TO SEE HIM RETURN TO THE PRESIDENCY AFTER FOUR YEARS OF CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT AND/OR CONTINUE AS COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF THE ARMY IN ORDER TO SERVE AS A "BRAKE" ON ANY EFFORTS TO PROCEED CONFIDENTIAL

WITH TRIALS OF MILITARY PERSONNEL FOR HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS. HOWEVER, AYLWIN SAID HE HAS INFORMATION THAT THERE ARE MANY PROFESSIONAL ARMY OFFICERS WHO ARE NOT ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT PINOCHET'S STAYING ON AS THE CINC. NO PROFESSIONAL ARMY CAN BE PLEASED THAT A COMMANDER HANGS ON TO THE JOB FOR TWENTY-FIVE YEARS. IT BLOCKS PROMOTION OPPORTUNITIES. IN ADDITION, PINOCHET IS A POLITICIAN, THE ARMED FORCES ARE APOLITICAL, AND PROFESSIONAL OFFICERS ARE NOT COMFORTABLE WITH A COMMANDER WHO IS SO POLITICAL AND WHOSE VERY PRESENCE IS CAUSE FOR DIVISION AMONG CHILEANS. AYLWIN SAID HE BELIEVES THAT IF HE WINS BY A COMFORTABLE MARGIN, IF GUARANTEES FOR THE SECURITY OF PINOCHET AND HIS FAMILY CAN BE WORKED OUT, HUMAN RIGHTS QUESTIONS RESOLVED, AND THE MILITARY REASSURED ON THE ISSUE OF ITS BUDGET ALLOCATION, THEN IT WILL BE POSSIBLE TO CONVINCE PINOCHET TO LEAVE THE ARMY. THE POLITICAL BARGAINING PROCESS TO REACH THESE SOLUTIONS IS NOW UNDERWAY.

16. SENATOR LUGAR ASKED AYLWIN ABOUT ECONOMIC POLICIES HE WOULD PURSUE AND SPECIFICALLY HOW HE WOULD ENSURE INVESTOR CONFIDENCE IN CHILE. AYLWIN REPLIED THAT THE COPODE PROGRAM CALLS FOR A WESTERN-STYLE ECONOMIC MODEL. HE EXPECTS TO RETAIN THE CURRENT INVESTMENT LAW UNCHANGED, BUT WILL SEEK SOME MODIFICATION OF CHAPTER 19 WHICH GOVERNS CAPITALIZATION OF DEBT TO ENCOURAGE GREATER INVESTMENT IN AREAS WHICH INTRODUCE NEW TECHNOLOGY AND NEW FOREIGN MARKETS. HE WOULD

LIKE TO MOVE AWAY FROM CHAPTER 19 BEING USED LARGELY AS A MECHANISM FOR PURCHASING DOMESTIC ASSETS. AYLWIN SAID THERE WILL BE NO DISCRIMINATION AGAINST FOREIGN INVESTORS AND PART OF THE COPODE PROGRAM IS TO MAINTAIN TAX INCENTIVES FOR REINVESTMENT OF PROFITS. FINALLY, HE NOTED THAT A DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT WILL MAKE CHILE A MORE ATTRACTIVE INVESTMENT BECAUSE IT WILL OFFER GREATER LONG-TERM STABILITY.

17. THE SENATOR ASKED AYLWIN HOW HE THOUGHT CHILE'S RELATIONS WITH THE UNITED STATES COULD BE IMPROVED. AYLWIN STATED THAT IN MANY WAYS CHILEANS FEEL THEY ARE THE YOUNGER BROTHERS OF THE UNITED STATES. THEY SHARE THE SAME BELIEFS AND DEEPLY ADMIRE U.S. DEMOCRACY. THE TWO COUNTRIES HAVE TRADITIONALLY ENJOYED GOOD RELATIONS ALTHOUGH CHILE HAS BEEN ONE OF THE STRONGEST IN DEFENDING THE COMMON INTERESTS OF LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES. TO IMPROVE BILATERAL RELATIONS, AYLWIN SAID WE HAVE TO OVERCOME THE OBSTACLE OF THE KENNEDY AMENDMENT. HE BELIEVES THAT GOOD RELATIONS BETWEEN THE CHILEAN ARMED FORCES AND THE U.S. MILITARY ARE BENEFICIAL FOR CHILE'S MILITARY. "YOU HAVE A DEMOCRATIC ARMY. WE WANT OURS TO BE DEMOCRATIC." AYLWIN WAS AWARE THAT THE GOC WOULD HAVE TO DEMONSTRATE A WILLINGNESS TO RESOLVE THE LETELIER CASE. HE WOULD HOPE TO DEMONSTRATE SUCH A WILLINGNESS IN ORDER TO REMOVE THE KENNEDY AMENDMENT AS AN OBSTACLE TO IMPROVED MILITARY RELATIONS. ON FOREIGN DEBT, AYLWIN SAID HE WOULD LIKE TO SEE CHILE PARTICIPATE IN THE BRADY PLAN, OR SOMETHING SIMILAR. THIS WOULD PROVIDE IMPORTANT RELIEF FOR THE ECONOMY. IN OTHER AREAS, HE WOULD SEEK BROAD COOPERATION FOR DEVELOPMENT PROJECTS IN THE FIELD OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND ENVIRONMENTAL POLLUTION, AND WOULD ENCOURAGE U.S. INVESTMENT IN MINING, FISHERIES, AND FORESTRY INDUSTRY.

18. SENATOR LUGAR NOTED THAT IN THE UNITED STATES, INTEREST IN CHILE WOULD INCREASE AS THE ELECTION DRAWS NEAR. HE HOPED THAT AYLWIN AND OTHERS WHO

HAVE WORKED SO HARD TO MAKE THE TRANSITION A SUCCESS WOULD FIND TIME TO SHARE WITH THE U.S. THEIR HOPES AND EXPECTATIONS IN THIS NEW ERA TO HELP CLEAR AWAY THE MISUNDERSTANDINGS OF THE PAST. THERE IS GOOD NEWS TO BE SPREAD ABOUT CHILE, AND THE SENATOR TOLD AYLWIN THAT HE WOULD LOOK FORWARD TO WORKING WITH HIM TO ENSURE THAT MEMBERS OF CONGRESS ARE WELL INFORMED ABOUT THESE DEVELOPMENTS. HE HOPED THAT IF AYLWIN DOES TRAVEL TO WASHINGTON THAT HE WOULD SET ASIDE SOME TIME TO MEET WITH HIM AND SOME OF HIS COLLEAGUES IN THE SENATE. AYLWIN THANKED THE SENATOR FOR HIS WORDS AND HIS VISIT. HE ENDED BY SUMMING UP THAT HE WAS VERY MUCH AWARE OF THE MAGNITUDE OF THE PROBLEMS HE FACES IN THE MONTHS AHEAD, PARTICULARLY THE MILITARY ISSUE AND THE EXPLOSION OF EXPECTATIONS FROM THE CHILEAN PEOPLE AFTER A CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT TAKES OFFICE. IN ALL MY SPEECHES, HE NOTED, I MAKE THE POINT THAT IT'S A STEP BY STEP PROCESS, SUCCESS WILL TAKE TIME AND IT WILL REQUIRE HARD WORK. IN FACING THIS CHALLENGE, AYLWIN ADDED THAT HE HAS THE ADVANTAGE OF EXPERIENCE. "WE HAVE A SAYING," HE SAID, "THE DEVIL IS WISE NOT BECAUSE HE IS THE DEVIL, BUT BECAUSE HE IS OLD."

EFFORTS TO REDUCE THE ROLE OF THE STATE, TO ENCOURAGE PRIVATE SECTOR GROWTH, AND REMOVE RESTRAINTS ON TRADE. HE NOTED WITH PRIDE THAT CHILE NOW EXPORTS MORE THAN ARGENTINA, AND CHILE HAS GREATLY DIVERSIFIED ITS EXPORTS SO THAT IT IS NO LONGER SOLELY DEPENDENT ON COPPER FOR FOREIGN EXCHANGE EARNINGS. THIS WAS A CRITICAL ASSET IN OVERCOMING THE IMPACT OF THE FRUIT CRISIS EARLIER

THE ECONOMY IN GOOD SHAPE FOR THE TRANSITION. IT WILL PURSUE THE SAME POLICIES AND WORK TO MAINTAIN NORMALITY AND CONFIDENCE IN THE ECONOMY. HE SAID 1990, THE YEAR OF THE TRANSITION, WAS SHAPING UP TO BE A "GOOD" YEAR WITH NO EXTERNAL FINANCING PROBLEMS BECAUSE OF CONTINUED GROWTH. CHILE, HE STATED, IS ONE OF THE FEW COUNTRIES WHICH HAS MANAGED TO PAY ITS DEBTS AND SIMULTANEOUSLY CONTINUE ECONOMIC GROWTH. HE NOTED THAT THE POLITICIANS HAVE WITH THE EXPERIENCE GAINED OVER THE PAST SIXTEEN YEARS BECOME MORE CONSERVATIVE. HE DESCRIBED THE OPPOSITION ECONOMIC PROGRAM AS "MODERATE" ALTHOUGH HE WAS NOT SURE ALL PARTIES IN THE COPODE COALITION AGREED WITH THAT PROGRAM.

MINISTER OF INTERIOR

20. MINISTER OF INTERIOR AND CHIEF OF CABINET CARLOS CACERES BEGAN THE MEETING WITH A BRIEF REVIEW OF THE GOVERNMENT'S ACCOMPLISHMENTS IN LAYING THE GROUNDWORK FOR THE TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY. HE DESCRIBED THIS AS A PROCESS OF CONSOLIDATING THE INSTITUTIONALITY AND CREATING THE BEST POSSIBLE CONDITIONS FOR THE ELECTIONS. REFORMS TO "PERFECT" THE CONSTITUTION WERE A KEY ELEMENT IN THIS EFFORT AND HAVE GIVEN A STABLE BASIS FOR MOVING FORWARD. SENATOR LUGAR ASKED HIM HOW HE SAW A CIVILIAN PRESIDENT WORKING WITH THE MILITARY. CACERES PREFACED HIS REPLY WITH TWO BASIC PREMISES; (1) THE ACHIEVEMENT OF DEMOCRACY IN CHILE IS THE WORK OF THE ARMED FORCES,WHICH ARE COMPLETELY COMMITTED TO THIS

GOAL, AND (2) THE 1980 CONSTITUTION CLEARLY DEFINES THE FUNCTIONS OF THE ARMED FORCES AND THE GOVERNMENT. THE ARMED FORCES ARE GUARANTORS OF THE CONSTITUTIONAL ORDER AND NATIONAL SECURITY. CACERES SAW NO PROBLEM IF PRESIDENT PINOCHET

REMAINS AS COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF THE ARMY AND HIS WORKING WITH THE NEW PRESIDENT SO LONG AS EACH RESPECTS THE OTHER. SENATOR LUGAR ASKED ABOUT POSSIBLE JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS AGAINST MEMBERS OF THE ARMED FORCES FOR HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS. CACERES RECALLED THAT THE AMNESTY OF 1978 WAS WELCOMED BY ALL POLITICAL SECTORS, EVEN THE CHURCH. CHILE, HE STATED, HAS ENTERED A NEW STAGE WITH THE RETURN TO DEMOCRACY. THE LAW MUST BE RESPECTED, AND FROM THE LEGAL STAND-POINT, THERE IS NO BASIS FOR REOPENING CASES COVERED BY THE AMNESTY. THE SENATOR POSED A HYPOTHETICAL CASE IN WHICH THERE WAS A DISPUTE BETWEEN THE CIVILIAN PRESIDENT AND THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OVER THE BUDGET, AND ASKED THE MINISTER HOW HE THOUGHT SUCH A DIFFERENCE WOULD BE RESOLVED. CACERES PREFACED HIS REPLY BY NOTING THAT SINCE 1973 CIVILIANS HAVE MISUNDERSTOOD PINOCHET. FOR INSTANCE, THEY DID NOT THINK IT POSSIBLE FOR HIM TO ACCEPT DEFEAT IN THE OCTOBER 1988 PLEBISCITE. THE RECORD SHOWS THAT THE ARMED FORCES HAVE FUL-FILLED THEIR COMMITMENTS. IF IN THIS HYPOTHETICAL CASE, THE BUDGET WERE TO BE CUT BY SAY FIFTY PERCENT, THEN POSSIBLY THERE WOULD BE A "VIOLENT" REACTION, BUT HE EMPHASIZED THAT ALL ARE INTERESTED IN MAKING THE TRANSITION WORK AND THE NEW PRESIDENT IS

21. SENATOR LUGAR HAD A BREAKFAST MEETING ON AUGUST 23 WITH LEADERS OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMUNITY ALEJANDRO HALES (FORMER PRESIDENT OF THE LAWYERS' ASSOCIATION), ALEJANDRO GONZALEZ AND ROBERTO GARRETON (VICARIATE DE SOLIDARITY), MONICA JIMENEZ (COMMITTEE FOR FREE ELECTIONS AND PARTICIPA), AND ALFREDO ETCHEBERRY (PRESIDENT OF THE LAWYERS' ASSOCIATION). ASKED BY SENATOR LUGAR HOW THEY VIEWED THE TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY, THEY WERE UNANIMOUS IN STATING THAT THE ELECTIONS WOULD TAKE PLACE AND THAT THE NEXT GOVERNMENT WOULD BE HEADED BY PATRICIO AYLWIN. ALL WERE CONVINCED THAT AYLWIN WOULD WIN BY A VERY LARGE MARGIN, WHICH THEY VIEWED AS ESSENTIAL IF HE IS TO HAVE THE STATURE NEEDED TO FORCE THE MILITARY INTO A SUBORDINATE ROLE. WHILE CRITICIZING THE RECENTLY AMENDED CONSTITUTION AS STILL NOT DEMOCRATIC, THEY EXPRESSED CONFIDENCE THAT OPPOSITION SENATORS AND DEPUTIES, WITH SUPPORT FROM NATIONAL RENEWAL REPRESENTATIVES, WOULD BE ABLE TO EFFECT ESSENTIAL MODIFICATIONS. THEY AGREED WITH SENATOR LUGAR'S HYPOTHESIS THAT THE BUCHI CAMPAIGN COULD GENERATE SUPPORT BY HIGHLIGHTING IN ITS TELEVISION ADS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN CHILE'S SOUND ECONOMY AND THE PERILOUS ECONOMIC STATE IN NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES, BUT FELT CONFIDENT THAT AIRING IN COPODE'S ADS

THE GOVERNMENT'S HUMAN RIGHTS RECORDS AND FAILINGS IN EDUCATION AND HEALTH WOULD NEUTRALIZE THIS THEME.

CLAIMS THAT BUCHI WOULD ATTRACT THE "YOUTH VOTE." HE NOTED 48 PERCENT OF THE VOTING POPULATION IS UNDER 34 AND HAS NEVER VOTED IN A REAL ELECTION, HAS HAD AN UNEMPLOYMENT RATE FAR HIGHER THAN THAT OF THE POPULATION AS A WHOLE, AND HAS HAD FEWER EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES. THESE YOUTHS HAVE NOTHING IN COMMON WITH BUCHI, HE SAID. ROBERTO GARRETON OPINED THAT TELEVISION COVERAGE OF THE CAMPAIGNS FAVORED BUCHI; HE NOTED THAT THE GOVERNMENT TO A VERY LARGE EXTENT CONTROLS WHO WILL APPEAR ON THE INCREASING NUMBER OF POLITICAL INTERVIEW SHOWS, WHO MODERATES, WHAT QUESTIONS ARE ASKED, ETC. THIS ALLOWS THE GOVERNMENT TO HIGHLIGHT ECONOMIC THEMES AND TO DOWNPLAY HUMAN RIGHTS AFFAIRS, FOR EXAMPLE. NEVERTHELESS, GARRETON AGREED WITH THE OTHERS THAT AYLWIN WOULD WIN, AND WOULD WIN BIG. HE NOTED THAT THE GOVERNMENT'S UNSEEMLY HASTE IN ENACTING LAWS WHICH WILL TIE THE HANDS OF THE NEXT GOVERNMENT INDICATES CLEARLY THAT EVEN THE GOVERNMENT EXPECTS AYLWIN TO BE THE NEXT PRESIDENT. THESE MANEUVERS ALSO INDICATE, HE THOUGHT, THAT THERE IS NO PLANNING FOR A COUP; THE GOVERNMENT AND MILITARY, HE SAID, SEEM TO REALIZE THAT THERE WOULD BE SO MUCH DOMESTIC AND INTERNATIONAL OPPOSITION TO SUCH A MOVE THAT THE MILITARY WOULD FIND IT IMPOSSIBLE TO GOVERN. ADDRESSING THE CURRENT HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION, ALEJANDRO GONZALEZ SAID THAT THE SITUATION WAS DRAMATICALLY IMPROVED, WITH CHARGES OF TORTURE AND ARRESTS VASTLY REDUCED SINCE THE OCTOBER 1988 PLEBISCITE. MONICA JIMENEZ NOTED THAT, PROGRESS

CHILEAN FRUIT HAS A REPUTATION OF HIGH QUALITY, IT DOES NOT COMPETE SIGNIFICANTLY WITH U.S. PRODUCTION AND IT KEEPS FRESH FRUIT ON THE GROCERY SHELVES IN THE U.S. WINTER SEASON.

SUBJ: DECISION IN THE "BURNED ONES" (LOS QUEMADOS) CASE

1. (U) SUMMARY: ON AUGUST 24, THE SENIOR MILITARY JUDGE OF SANTIAGO CONFIRMED A SUSPENDED SENTENCE OF 300 DAYS AGAINST CAPTAIN PEDRO FERNANDEZ DITTUS, THE LEADER OF THE MILITARY PATROL INVOLVED IN THE JULY 1986 BURNING OF RODRIGO ROJAS AND CARMEN GLORIA QUINTANA. FERNANDEZ WAS FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER FOR FAILURE TO SECURE PROMPT MEDICAL ATTENTION FOR THE TWO VICTIMS; ROJAS DIED AFTER THE INCIDENT AND QUINTANA WAS PERMANENTLY AND HORRIBLY SCARRED. THE LIGHT SENTENCE IS LIKELY TO PROVOKE OUTRAGE AMONG THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMUNITY. END SUMMARY.

OF CARMEN GLORIA QUINTANA IS ONE OF THE MOST INFAMOUS AND CONTROVERSIAL OF CHILE'S HUMAN RIGHTS CASES. THE TWO WERE BURNED DURING A PROTEST DEMONSTRATION. THE VICTIMS CLAIMED THEY WERE DELIBERATELY DOUSED WITH BENZINE AND SET AFIRE WHILE FERNANDEZ AND OTHERS IN THE MILITARY PATROL CLAIMED THE BURNING WAS ACCIDENTAL, PROVOKED BY QUINTANA WHEN SHE KICKED OVER A MOLOTOV COCKTAIL AND A JUG OF BENZINE SHE HAD BEEN CARRYING WHEN DETAINED BY THE PATROL. THE MILITARY PROSECUTOR AND CONFIRMING JUDGE OBVIOUSLY BELIEVED THE DEFENSE. WHAT APPARENTLY WAS NOT DISPUTED WAS THE FACT THAT THE FERNANDEZ PATROL DUMPED THE VICTIMS IN AN ISOLATED FIELD RATHER THAN SEEKING MEDICAL ASSISTANCE FOR THEM.

3. (U) HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVISTS SEVERELY CRITICIZED THE ORIGINAL DECISION OF THE MILITARY INVESTIGATOR TO CHARGE FERNANDEZ WITH THE LESSER OFFENSE OF MANSLAUGHTER AND OBJECTED TO THE LIGHT SENTENCE OF 300 DAYS SUSPENDED SENTENCE. THE SENTENCE WAS JUSTIFIED, THE MILITARY INVESTIGATING JUDGE SAID, BECAUSE IT WAS FERNANDEZ' FIRST OFFENSE. LAWYERS FOR THE ROJAS FAMILY AND QUINTANA UNEARTHED REPORTS OF A TRAFFIC ACCIDENT IN WHICH FERNANDEZ, DRIVING WHILE DRUNK, KILLED A PEDESTRIAN SOME YEARS AGO, AND SAID A HARSHER PENALTY WAS WARRANTED.

4. (C) COMMENT: THE DECISION IN THIS CASE AND THE LIGHT SENTENCE ARE LIKELY TO OUTRAGE THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMUNITY, AND THERE MAY BE FURTHER APPEALS TO INCREASE THE PUNISHMENT. THERE IS NOT, HOWEVER, CONFIDENTIAL

LIKELY TO BE ANY ATTEMPT TO RE-OPEN THE CASE WHEN A NEW GOVERNMENT ASSUMES OFFICE. A LAWYER IN THE VICARIA DE SOLIDARIDAD TOLD EMBOFF THAT RE-OPENING CASES WHICH HAD BEEN JUDICIALLY RESOLVED, NO MATTER HOW LIGHT THE SENTENCE OR QUESTIONABLE THE VERDICT, IS NOT ON THE AGENDA.

5. (C) THE VERDICT AND SENTENCE ARE NOT LIKELY TO CAUSE ALARM AMONG MILITARY OR SECURITY OFFICIALS WHO ARE THEMSELVES VULNERABLE TO CHARGES OF HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES. THE "QUEMADOS" CASE HAS ALWAYS BEEN AN ANOMALY BECAUSE OF THE HORROR OF THE INCIDENT AND CONFUSION OVER EXACTLY WHAT HAPPENED, BUT FERNANDEZ' DECISION TO JUST DUMP THE VICTIMS IN AN ISOLATED FIELD CLEARLY DEMONSTRATED BAD JUDGMENT, AT A MINIMUM. WHILE THERE MAY BE SYMPATHY FOR FERNANDEZ WITHIN MILITARY RANKS, FEW ARE LIKELY TO IDENTIFY WITH HIM. GILLESPIE

MR. MINISTER:

I HAVE THE HONOR OF REMINDING YOUR EXCELLENCY, THAT BY VIRTUE OF POINTS 5 AND 6 OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF GUATEMALA, YOUR ILLUSTRIOUS GOVERNMENT PROMISED TO END THE HELP WHICH YOU OVERTLY OR COVERTLY PROVIDE TO IRREGULAR FORCES WHICH OPERATE IN THE REGION, AS WELL AS TO PREVENT THE USE OF YOUR TERRITORY AND NEITHER LEND NOR PERMIT LOGISTICAL MILITARY SUPPORT TO PERSONS, ORGANIZATIONS, OR GROUPS WHICH INTEND TO DESTABILIZE THE GOVERNMENTS OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN COUNTRIES.

AS YOUR EXCELLENCY KNOWS, IN ALAJUELA, NICARAGUA PROMISED TO MEET ITS UNCONDITIONAL AND UNILATERAL OBLIGATIONS WHICH COMPEL IT TO A TOTAL FULFILLMENT OF SUCH PROMISES, REITERATED IN COSTA DEL SOL, AS A COMMON AND INDIVISIBLE WHOLE THROUGH ITS EFFECT.

REGARDLESS OF THE ABOVE AND OF HAVING RATIFIED, AGAIN IN TELA, HONDURAS, THE PROMISE OF PROMOTING ALL SUCH ACTIONS DIRECTED AT FULFILLING POINTS 5 AND 6 OF THE ESQUIPULAS ACCORD, THE GOVERNMENT OF YOUR EXCELLENCY, UP TO NOW, HAS IGNORED SUCH PROMISES, MOCKING THE GOOD FAITH AND POLITICAL WILL OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS AND TRAMPLING THE YEARNINGS FOR PEACE OF OUR PEOPLES.

YOUR EXCELLENCY IS COGNIZANT THAT THE SANDINISTA GOVERNMENT AT NO TIME HAS HONORED ITS WORD OF NOT LENDING NICARAGUAN TERRITORY AND OF NOT OFFERING

2. BORIS WEISFEILER DISAPPEARED IN JANUARY 1985, WHILE HIKING IN A REMOTE AREA OF SOUTHERN CHILE. THE CHILEAN COURT'S INVESTIGATION CONCLUDED PROBABLE DEATH BY DROWNING. NO BODY WAS EVER FOUND, AND SEVERAL UNEXPLAINED INCIDENTS HAVE LED EMBASSY TO MAINTAIN AN OPEN BOOK ON THE CASE THROUGHOUT THE PAST FOUR AND ONE-HALF YEARS. EMBASSY LEARNED THAT FOUR MEMBERS OF A CHILEAN ARMY PATROL WERE ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN IN THE SAME AREA AT THE TIME OF WEISFEILER'S DISAPPEARANCE.

2. DEPARTMENT APPRECIATES REFTEL. WE SHARE YOUR BELIEF THAT ATA ASSISTANCE, AS WELL AS OTHER USG COUNTERTERRORISM AID, WOULD ENCOURAGE THE DEVELOPMENT OF A COMPETENT, CIVILIAN POLICE SERVICE CAPABLE OF DEALING WITH THE TERRORIST THREAT. WE ALSO APPRECIATE EARLY "HEADS UP" SO THAT WE MAY FACTOR CHILEAN NEEDS INTO FY-1990 AND BEYOND PLANNING.

3. CONCERNING ATA, ANY SUCH PROGRAM REQUIRES A FINDING THAT THE COUNTRY HAS A THREAT, IS FRIENDLY TO THE U.S., AND HAS AN ACCEPTABLE HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD. ALL PARTICIPATING COUNTRIES MUST BE VETTED BOTH WITHIN THE

EMBASSY IS CONFIDENT THAT SENIOR PERSONNEL ASSIGNED TO THE FOLICE AND SECURITY SERVICES WILL CHANGE THE POLICIES OF THE PREVIOUS REGIME. AS YOU CAN UNDERSTAND. COMPREHENSIVE CHANGE FROM THE PRIOR REGIME'S POLICIES AND LEADERSHIP IS NECESSARY BEFORE CONGRESSIONAL APPROVAL FOR AN ATA PROGRAM CAN BE OBTAINED.

4. WHILE THE FOLLOWING IS BUT A ROUGH TIMELINE, HERE ARE SOME ESTIMATES OF WHEN WE MIGHT BE ABLE TO MOVE FORWARD ON THIS PROGRAM, ASSUMING THAT OUR JOINT CONCERNS ON THE LEADERSHIP OF THE POLICE AND SECURITY SERVICES ARE ADDRESSED:

MARCH, 1990: CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT TAKES POWER.

APRIL, 1990: EMBASSY SHOULD CONSULT WITH CHILEAN OFFICIALS ON TERRORISM SITUATION AND THREAT TO PUBLIC ORDER. ASSUMING THAT THE THREAT CONTINUES, S/CT, ARA AND DS/ATA WILL PROPOSE ATA ASSISTANCE FOR CHILE WITH CONCERNED CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES. THIS PROCESS REQUIRES THIRTY DAYS.

JUNE, 1990: COUNTERTERRORISM CONSULTATIONS WITH THE CHILEANS SHOULD TAKE PLACE. S/CT, ASSUMING EMBASSY CONCURS, COULD LEAD A SMALL TEAM, INCLUDING DS/ATA PERSONNEL, TO DISCUSS THE THREAT SITUATION AND CHILEAN TRAINING NEEDS.

SUMMER, 1990: BASED ON NEEDS IDENTIFIED DURING ASSESSMENT, AN ASSISTANCE PROGRAM FOR CHILE WILL BE DEVELOPED.

LATE SUMMER, 1990: TARGET DATE FOR FIRST TRAINING PROGRAM FOR CHILE.

FALL 1990: TRAINING, BASED ON CHILEAN ASSESSMENT. CONTINUES. ASSUMING THAT CHILEAN NEEDS ARE SIMILAR TO OTHER NATIONS, ATA ASSISTANCE WOULD BE PROVIDED OVER A 2-3 YEAR PERIOD AND INCLUDE TRAINING BOTH IN THE U.S. AS WELL AS IN CHILE. IN THE INTEREST OF ASSISTING USG OFFICIALS WHO MAY HAVE CONTACT WITH CANDIDATES OR THEIR DELEGATIONS, OR WHO MAY BE ASKED BY HOST GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS ABOUT U.S. POLICY IN CHILE, THE FOLLOWING GISTS A POLICY STATEMENT MADE IN A SPEECH BY THE AMBASSADOR TO THE AMERICAN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IN SANTIAGO ON AUGUST 29, 1989. ACTION REQUESTED: STATE REPEAT TO ALL ARA DIPLOMATIC POSTS AND OECD CAPITALS.

2. THE CENTRAL FOCUS OF U.S. POLICY IS ACTIVE SUPPORT FOR CHILE'S TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY AND PROMOTION OF OPEN, MARKET-DRIVEN ECONOMIC POLICIES TO ACHIEVE AND SUSTAIN GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT. WE STRONGLY SUPPORT THE CONTINUATION OF THESE POSITIVE TRENDS, WHILE RECOGNIZING THAT IT IS UP TO THE

CHILEAN PEOPLE TO DEFINE THEIR OWN POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC "SPACE."

3. THE U.S. MAINTAINS AND HAS EXPANDED WHERE POSSIBLE EDUCATIONAL AND CULTURAL RELATIONS AND EXPECTS TO DO MORE IN THIS AREA IN THE FUTURE. MILITARY-TO-MILITARY CONTACTS HAVE BEEN LIMITED, BUT WE STRIVE, INSOFAR AS U.S. LAW PERMITS, TO MAINTAIN COOPERATIVE LINKS BETWEEN OUR ARMED FORCES.

4. AS OF AUGUST 1989, THERE IS EVERY INDICATION THAT ALL SIGNIFICANT POLITICAL GROUPS, INCLUDING THE MILITARY, ARE COMMITTED TO FREE AND OPEN ELECTIONS IN DECEMBER, WHICH WILL BE FOLLOWED BY THE INAUGURATION OF A NEW, CIVILIAN PRESIDENT IN MARCH 1990. IN THOSE ELECTIONS, THE U.S. HAS NO FAVORITE. WE ARE PUBLICLY AND PRIVATELY COMMITTED TO ABSOLUTE NEUTRALITY. WE EXPECT TO HAVE A SOLID, FRIENDLY RELATIONSHIP WITH WHICHEVER CANDIDATE WINS.

5. THERE ARE FIFTEEN LEGALLY INSCRIBED POLITICAL PARTIES IN CHILE, WITH ANOTHER DOZEN OR SO WHICH HAVE NOT ACHIEVED LEGAL STATUS. THE U.S. STRIVES TO MAINTAIN OPEN AND FLUID COMMUNICATION WITH PARTIES WHICH REJECT VIOLENCE AND ESPOUSE PARTICIPATIVE DEMOCRACY. WE HAVE NO/NO CONTACT WITH THE CHILEAN

6. THE RESTORATION OF FULL, NORMAL RELATIONS BETWEEN THE U.S. AND CHILEAN ARMED FORCES IS AN IMPORTANT U.S. POLICY OBJECTIVE WHICH WILL NOT BE ACHIEVED UNTIL THREE CONDITIONS ESTABLISHED IN U.S. LAW ARE MET. (1) THE PRESIDENT MUST CERTIFY THAT CHILE IS MAKING PROGRESS TOWARD ESTABLISHMENT OF A FREELY ELECTED DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT; MOST OBSERVERS AGREE THAT THERE HAS BEEN PROGRESS. (2) THE PRESIDENT MUST CERTIFY TO IMPROVEMENT IN THE OBSERVANCE OF BASIC HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE; MOST OBSERVERS AGREE THAT THERE HAS BEEN SUBSTANTIAL IMPROVEMENT OVER THE PAST 12 TO 18 MONTHS. (3) THE PRESIDENT MUST CERTIFY THAT THE GOC IS COOPERATING TO BRING TO JUSTICE, EITHER IN THE U.S. OR IN CHILE, THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE SEPTEMBER 1976 MURDERS IN WASHINGTON, D.C., OF ORLANDO LETELIER AND RONNI MOFFIT; THE CHILEAN SUPREME COURT REJECTED THE U.S. REQUEST FOR

EXTRADITION OF TWO RETIRED SENIOR MILITARY OFFICERS WHO ARE UNDER U.S. INDICTMENT. THE GOC HAS NOT OTHERWISE MET MINIMUM STANDARDS OF COOPERATION IN THE CASE.

7. MANY CHILEANS BELIEVE THE LETELIER-MOFFIT CASE IS A POLITICAL MATTER AND THAT FREE, OPEN ELECTIONS AND INSTALLATION OF A CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT WILL WIPE THE RECORD CLEAN. THAT IS NOT/NOT CORRECT. THE U.S. CONTINUES TO SEEK JUSTICE THROUGH DIPLOMATIC CHANNELS AS WELL AS THE COURT SYSTEMS OF BOTH COUNTRIES.

NOTE: NOT REPEATED TO ALL ARA DIPLOMATIC POSTS AND OECD CAPITALS BY OC/T.

RE: Impediments to "Normalization" of our relationship with Chile

Although we have been concentrating on resolution of the civil case brought by the victims' families, the criminal aspect of the case must also somehow be resolved if relations with Chile are to become "normal". provides that certain benefits under the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 and the Arms Export Control Act cannot be provided to Chile unless and until the President submits a detailed report certifying three things, one of which is that the GOC "has taken appropriate steps to cooperate and to bring to Justice by all legal means available in the U.S. or Chile those indicted by a U.S. grand jury in connection with the murders of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt." (Provision attached).

There are essentially two ways ~~to resolve~~ to have the restrictions removed. Either the requirement must be satisfied - the President submits the report -, or Congress repeals the provision. must modify

I suggest that we begin to explore ways to do each of the two. To satisfy the requirement, we may want ask Justice to give us some specifics on what they would like Chile to do, other than extradite.

At the same time we may want to attempt to discern under what conditions Congress would be willing to legislate a restoration of these benefits to Chile. For example, if the human rights situation generally improves in the next Chilean administration, and/or if Chile makes payment to the victims families', or the USG's own research shows that Chile's refusal to extradite is defensible, will Congress revise or repeal this provision?.

~~While we are in a framework of cooperation~~ victims
~~it may be easier to get begin with~~

The criminal aspect will have to resolved, Q is whether this framework is appropriate.

Mechanism that USG:
- results in payment to victims
- criminal liability resolved - Chile or U.S.

ie, ~~agreed~~ agree to "framework" for resolution.

~~that~~ w understanding that both sides will agree to implement results w/in ~~bounds~~ limits of ~~national~~ law

~~Ok~~ How to achieve ~~mechanism that does adjudicate~~ mechanism that looks at facts.

Do you agree that GOC officials involved they should ~~be held~~ pay damages for eco losses.

MEMORANDUM FOR CARNES LORD

THE WHITE HOUSE

Subject: Request for Chilean Presidential Candidate Hernan Buchi to Meet with Vice President Quayle

Chilean presidential candidate Hernan Buchi will visit Washington September 10 - 15. Buchi is the presidential candidate of the center-right, and enjoys strong support from Chile's business community. As Minister of Finance (1985-89), Buchi engineered Chile's current economic boom by encouraging foreign investment and managing responsibly Chile's external debt. Recent polls indicate that Buchi trails front-runner Patricio Aylwin by about 15 percentage points, but the campaign has just started. The presidential elections are scheduled for December 14. The new government will assume power on March 11, 1990, ending more than 16 years of military rule.

Buchi has requested an appointment with Vice President Quayle. We believe that such a meeting would send a strong signal reaffirming U.S. support for the upcoming Chilean elections and the transition to democracy. Buchi will have meetings with top State Department officials in addition to sessions on the Hill. We should, of course, maintain a policy of strict neutrality in the elections and give balanced, equitable treatment to Patricio Aylwin if he should decide to visit Washington.

J. Stapleton Roy

SUBJECT: WELFARE/WHEREABOUTS CASE OF DIANA ORTIZ

1. SUMMARY. ON NOVEMBER 2, 1989, RELIGIOUS WORKER DIANA ORTIZ DISAPPEARED FROM A RETREAT CENTER IN ANTIGUA. SHE APPEARED ABOUT 24 HOURS LATER ON NOVEMBER 3 IN DOWNTOWN GUATEMALA CITY. FELLOW RELIGIOUS WORKER AND LOCAL MARYKNOLL PRIEST CLAIM ORTIZ HAD RECEIVED SEVERAL WARNINGS AND THREATS DURING THE PAST YEAR, AND THAT SHE WAS KIDNAPPED, QUESTIONED AND BEATEN/RAPED BY HER CAPTORS. AMBASSADOR AND CONGEN OBTAINED A BRIEF VISIT WITH ORTIZ AFTERNOON OF NOVEMBER 3. END SUMMARY.

2. ON NOVEMBER 2, 1989, DIANA MAY ORTIZ [redacted] WAS REPORTED MISSING AND KIDNAPPED FROM THE COURTYARD OF A RELIGIOUS RETREAT CENTER, POSADA BELEN IN ANTIGUA, WHERE SHE WAS ATTENDING A 6-WEEK RELIGIOUS TRAINING COURSE. THE EMBASSY WAS NOTIFIED THAT DIANA WAS MISSING AT 12:00 P.M. BY COLLEAGUE DARLENE CHMIELEWSKI. MS. CHMIELEWSKI STATED THAT DIANA ARRIVED IN ANTIGUA ABOUT 1-1/2 WEEKS AGO FROM SAN MIGUEL ACATAN, HUEHUETENANGO, WHERE THE TWO OF THEM HAD BEEN WORKING FOR A MARYKNOLL PARISH. DIANA WORKED AS A TEACHER OF YOUNG CHILDREN, AND WAS ALSO LEARNING THE INDIGENOUS DIALECT OF THE AREA. HER COLLEAGUES REPORTED THAT SHE HAS NOT BEEN INVOLVED IN ANY CONTROVERSIAL OR POLITICAL ACTIVITIES.

3. ACCORDING TO DARLENE CHMIELEWSKI, MS. ORTIZ, WHO HAD RECEIVED A NUMBER OF WARNINGS AND THREATS DURING THE PAST FEW MONTHS, WAS LAST SEEN BY COLLEAGUES ABOUT 7:30 A.M. ON NOVEMBER 2, IN THE GARDEN COURTYARD OF THE RETREAT CENTER, POSADA BELEN, WHERE SHE HAD GONE TO PRAY ALONE. SHE DID NOT REPORT TO HER CLASSES, WHICH BEGIN AT 9:00 A.M.

. BEGINNING ABOUT 12:30 A.M., HER COLLEAGUES AT THE RETREAT SEARCHED THE GROUNDS AND ROOMS AND SURROUNDING AREAS ONE AT A TIME, TO NO AVAIL, AND THEN CONTACTED THE NATIONAL POLICE IN ANTIGUA, WHO BEGAN TO INVESTIGATE THE CASE. SHORTLY THEREAFTER, A GARDENER AT THE POSADA BELEN FOUND DIANA'S SHAWL NEAR THE REFUSE AREA NEAR THE BACK OF THE RETREAT CENTER'S GROUNDS. SEVERAL YOUTHS IN THE AREA REPORTED THEY HAD SEEN A LONG HAIRED MAN WEARING BLUE JEANS WALKING ALONE.

. WHEN COLLEAGUES REALIZED DIANA WAS ACTUALLY MISSING, SOMEONE RECALLED THE ARRIVAL AT THE POSADA TWO WEEKS PREVIOUSLY OF A LETTER ADDRESSED TO DIANA ORTIZ. SINCE NO ONE AT THE POSADA KNEW DIANA AT THE TIME THE LETTER ARRIVED, IT WAS THROWN INTO A WASTEBASKET. THE LETTER WAS RETRIEVED FROM THE WASTEBASKET ON NOVEMBER 2. INSIDE THE ENVELOPE ADDRESSED TO DIANA ORTIZ WAS A SHORT THREAT MESSAGE COMPOSED OF INDIVIDUAL LETTERS CUT FROM A MAGAZINE OR NEWSPAPER: QUOTE SALGA DEL PAIS UNQUOTE. (LEAVE THE COUNTRY.)

. FROM ABOUT JANUARY TO MAY, WHILE WORKING IN SAN MIGUEL ACATAN, MS. ORTIZ HAD RECEIVED FOUR OR FIVE HAND-WRITTEN WARNING NOTES, TELLING HER TO BE CAREFUL. THE NOTES, WHICH WERE NOT TAKEN TOO SERIOUSLY, WERE POORLY WRITTEN WITH MISSPELLED WORDS. ALTHOUGH CHURCH OFFICIALS WERE NOTIFIED OF THE MESSAGES, CIVIL AUTHORITIES WERE NOT.

. DURING THE MONTH OF JUNE, DIANA WENT TO STUDY SPANISH IN GUATEMALA CITY. THE ARRANGEMENTS WERE MADE BY THE MARYKNOLL HOUSE IN GUATEMALA CITY. SHE LIVED IN GUATEMALA CITY WITH A FAMILY AFFILIATED WITH THE CAM HUMAN RIGHTS MONITORING ORGANIZATION, WITH WHOM SHE HAD HAD NO PREVIOUS CONTACT. MARYKNOLL COLLEAGUES IN GUATEMALA COULD NOT PROVIDE THE NAME OF THE SCHOOL OR ADDRESS.

. IN JUNE, WHILE WALKING WITH COLLEAGUES IN ZONE 1 IN GUATEMALA CITY, AN UNKNOWN MAN, WHO ADDRESSED HER BY NAME, GRABBED HER ARM AND TOLD HER TO LEAVE THE COUNTRY. CHURCH OFFICIALS RECOMMENDED SHE LEAVE GUATEMALA FOR A TIME, AND SHE AND COLLEAGUE DARIENE SEMINIEWSKI WENT TO THE UNITED STATES FOR VACATION.

. IN SEPTEMBER THE TWO WOMEN RETURNED TO SAN MIGUEL ACATAN TO RESUME THEIR DUTIES. ALL SEEMED NORMAL.

CARVER, WHILE IN GUATEMALA CITY FOR A VISIT, DIANA RECEIVED A NOTE TELLING HER TO LEAVE THE COUNTRY. THIS NOTE WAS COMPOSED OF INDIVIDUAL LETTERS CUT FROM A NEWSPAPER OR MAGAZINE. THE SIX WEEKS TRAINING AT POSADA BELEN WAS ARRANGED TO PROVIDE RELIEF FROM THE THREATENINGS.

14. ON THE EVENING OF NOVEMBER 1, WHILE RETURNING FROM COLLEAGUES TO POSADA BELEN FROM AN OUTING, DIANA NOTICED THAT TWO MEN SHE SAW SITTING ON A BENCH OUTSIDE THE POSADA WERE THE SAME MEN SHE HAD SEEN THE PRIOR EVENT.

15. WHEN MS. CHMIELEWSKI NOTIFIED THE EMBASSY OF THE DISAPPEARANCE OF HER COLLEAGUE, SHE INDICATED THAT SHE DID NOT WANT TO PROVIDE ADDITIONAL DETAILS OVER THE PHONE, BUT WOULD COME TO THE EMBASSY THE AFTERNOON OF NOVEMBER 2 TO DISCUSS THE CASE. HOWEVER, AT 5:20 P.M. SHE CALLED CONOFF TO SAY THAT SHE HAD BEEN DELAYED, AND WOULD COME TO THE EMBASSY AT 8:00 A.M. ON NOVEMBER 3. CHMIELEWSKI REPORTED THAT DIANA'S SHAWL HAD BEEN FOUND BY THE GARDENER ON THE OUTER BOUNDARY OF THE POSADA NEAR THE RESCUE AREA, AND THAT THREE DETECTIVES FROM THE ANTIGUA NATIONAL POLICE HAD BEEN ASKING QUESTIONS AND WERE CONTINUING THE SEARCH. SHE ALSO STATED THAT DIANA'S PARENTS IN NEW MEXICO HAD BEEN NOTIFIED OF HER DISAPPEARANCE BY THE URSULINE ORGANIZATION IN KENTUCKY, WHERE DIANA HAD WORKED AS A KINDERGARTEN TEACHER FOR NINE YEARS PRIOR TO ARRIVING IN GUATEMALA ABOUT 15 OR 18 MONTHS AGO. CHMIELEWSKI IDENTIFIED THE THREATENING MESSAGES WHICH DIANA HAD RECEIVED.

16. PLANS WERE MADE FOR A CONOFF AND A POLOFF TO GO TO ANTIGUA FOR FURTHER INFORMATION, AND TO JOIN IN THE SEARCH. HOWEVER, CONOFF WAS TOLD BY A RELIGIOUS WORKER AT POSADA BELEN THAT DARLENE CHMIELEWSKI HAD TRANSFERRED FOR THE NIGHT TO THE MARYKNOLL HOUSE IN GUATEMALA CITY TO BE READY TO VISIT THE EMBASSY THE FOLLOWING MORNING. CONOFF CALLED MARYKNOLL HOUSE TO CONFIRM THAT CHMIELEWSKI WAS AVAILABLE FOR INTERVIEW THAT SAME EVENING. POLOFF AND CONOFF VISITED WITH FATHERS HEALEY AND JANSEN, DARLENE CHMIELEWSKI, AND THREE OTHER RELIGIOUS WORKERS AT MARYKNOLL HOUSE FOR APPROXIMATELY TWO HOURS.

15. THE MARYKNOLL MEMBERS WITH WHOM THE EMBOFFS SPOKE BELIEVED TWO POSSIBLE REASONS FOR ORTIZ' DISAPPEARANCE:

(1) DIANA WAS THE SCAPEGOAT IN THE CONTINUING ANIMOSITY BETWEEN THE MILITARY IN HUEHUETENANGO AND THE MARYKNOLL PRIEST IN SAN MIGUEL ACATAN.

(2) DIANA WAS ABDUCTED BY A REJECTED SUITOR. SECOND YEAR SOC IN SAN MIGUEL ACATAN, A MILITARY OFFICER SEEMED TO BE INTERESTED IN DIANA, BUT HER COLLEAGUES INFORMED HIM THAT SHE WAS A NUN, AND HE WAS REBUFFED. ACTUALLY, DIANA IS A RELIGIOUS WORKER, AND NOT A NUN.

16. EMBOFFS OFFERED TO ACCOMPANY FATHER JANSEN TO A MEETING WITH THE GUATEMALAN MINISTER OF INTERIOR SCHEDULED FOR 8:00 A.M. ON 3 NOVEMBER. THEY ALSO OFFERED THE ASSISTANCE OF THE CONSULAR SECTION IN KEEPING ABREAST OF THE POLICE SEARCH; IN CONTACTING SENIOR POLICE OFFICIALS AND THE NATIONAL POLICE IN ANTIGUA; IN HELPING THE FAMILY IN THE U. S. INFORMED; AND TO BE AVAILABLE 24 HOURS PER DAY UNTIL DIANA WAS LOCATED.

17. AT 8:30 A.M. ON NOVEMBER 3, POLOFF IN AN EMBASSY VAN PICKED UP THE REPRESENTATIVES FROM THE MARYKNOLL HOUSE TO ACCOMPANY THEM TO THE MEETING WITH THE MINISTER OF INTERIOR.

18. AT 9:50 A.M., AS CONOFF AND AN FSN INVESTIGATOR WERE LEAVING THE EMBASSY TO GO TO ANTIGUA, WORD CAME BY RADIO FROM THE POLICE WHO HAD MET WITH THE MINISTER OF INTERIOR THAT DIANA HAD BEEN LOCATED, AND HAD BEEN BROUGHT TO THE MARYKNOLL HOUSE, 20 CALLE, 11-44, GUATEMALA CITY, JUST A FEW MOMENTS BEFORE.

19. WHEN EMBOFFS ARRIVED AT MARYKNOLL HOUSE, THEY WERE TOLD THAT DIANA WAS NOT ABLE TO BE INTERVIEWED BECAUSE OF PSYCHOLOGICAL TRAUMA. DARIENE CEMIELEWSKI

[illegible] WAS TOO UPSET TO BE INTERVIEWED. MARYKNOLL FATHER BEALEY REPORTED THAT HE, TOGETHER WITH A DRIVER AND TWO FEMALE MARYKNOLL COLLEAGUES, HAD PICKED UP DIANA FROM ZONE 1 IN GUATEMALA CITY. BEALEY HAD LITTLE ADDITIONAL INFORMATION TO OFFER BECAUSE APPARENTLY THERE WAS NO CONVERSATION IN THE CAR. HE INDICATED THAT DIANA HAD FACIAL BRUISES, AND COMPLAINED OF BACK PAIN.

16. AT MARYKNOLL OFFICES ALSO TALKED TO THE LAWYER OF THE ARCHDIOCESE, LIC. MARIA EUGENIA BERGER, WHO HAD ALLEGEDLY INTERVIEWED DIANA. BERGER REPORTED THAT DIANA HAD NO FACIAL BRUISES, AND THAT SHE WAS UNDER THE PROTECTION OF THE CHURCH. LATER, THE LAWYER INDICATED THAT SHE HAD NOT ACTUALLY SEEN DIANA, AND HAD NO INFORMATION TO OFFER. CONOFF ASKED WHETHER DIANA HAD RECEIVED MEDICAL TREATMENT FOR THE BRUISES OR FOR PSYCHOLOGICAL TRAUMA. THE LAWYER ANSWERED THAT SHE WAS UNDER THE PROTECTION OF THE ARCHDIOCESE, AND THAT SHE WOULD RECEIVE WHAT WAS NEEDED LATER. CONOFF AGAIN ASKED WHETHER THERE WAS A CLINIC AT MARYKNOLL HOUSE THAT COULD OFFER DIANA SOME RELIEF. THE ANSWER WAS THE SAME -- THAT SHE WAS UNDER THE PROTECTION OF THE ARCHDIOCESE.

17. FATHER DANIEL JANSEN STATED THAT DIANA WAS IN A STATE OF SHOCK, THAT SHE HAD ESCAPED FROM A POLICE CAR IN ZONE 6. SHE WALKED TO HATER'S TRAVEL AGENCY (USED BY THE MARYKNOLL) IN ZONE 1, FROM WHERE SHE TELEPHONED THE POSADA BELEN IN ANTIGUA. THE POSADA BELEN IN ANTIGUA TOLD HER TO GO TO THE MARYKNOLL HOUSE IN GUATEMALA CITY. FATHER JANSEN ADDED THAT DIANA SHOWED EVIDENCE OF CIGARETTE BURNS.

18. AT THE MARYKNOLL HOUSE WITH THE PRIESTS WERE THE POLICE CHIEF FROM ANTIGUA, AND AN OFFICER FROM THE GUATEMALAN PUBLIC RELATIONS OFFICE. THE POLICE OFFICIALS TOO WERE DENIED PERMISSION TO TO SEE OR TALK TO DIANA, BECAUSE DIANA ALLEGEDLY SAID THAT AT ONE POINT IN THE ABDUCTION THE POLICE WERE INVOLVED.

19. FATHER JANSEN PROMISED TO TAKE DIANA TO THE EMBASSY AS SOON AS SHE WAS ABLE. CONOFF INQUIRED AS TO WHETHER THE FAMILY IN THE U. S. HAD BEEN NOTIFIED THAT DIANA HAD BEEN LOCATED. THE ANSWER WAS NEGATIVE, OWING TO INADEQUATE TELEPHONE SERVICE. LATER CONOFF PROVIDED THE STATE DEPARTMENT WITH THE TELEPHONE NUMBERS OF THE FATHER, PILAR ORTIZ IN NEW MEXICO, [redacted] AND OF A URSULINE SISTER, [redacted] IN THE U. S., AND THE MARYKNOLL HOUSE, 15-22-18, AND THE EMBASSY OF THE HOLY SEE, IN GUATEMALA CITY. B6

20. ABOUT 3:42 P.M. ON NOVEMBER 4, FATHER JANSEN CALLED BACK MARYKNOLL HOUSE TO REPORT A NEW DEVELOPMENT. APPARENTLY AFTER EMBASSY LEFT THERE ABOUT 10:30 A.M., THE NATIONAL POLICE ARRIVED TO TALK TO DIANA. WHEN THEY WERE REFUSED PERMISSION TO INTERVIEW HER, THEY LEFT TO OBTAIN A LEGAL DOCUMENT THAT WOULD REQUIRE HER COOPERATION. AFTER THE POLICE LEFT, DIANA AND DARLENE CHMIELEWSKI WERE TRANSFERRED ISLAGERE FOR SAFEKEEPING. CONOFF WAS ALSO INFORMED THAT MARYKNOLL HOUSE DIRECTOR FR MOORE AND FATHER BARRY WOULD NOT BE AVAILABLE TO TALK TO THE AMBASSADOR AT 2:30 P.M. DANIEL JANSEN STATED HE WOULD BE AVAILABLE TO TALK TO THE AMBASSADOR, BUT THAT HE DID NOT HAVE MUCH INFORMATION TO OFFER.

13. AT 11:45 A.M. THE PAO REPORTED ANOTHER CONVERSATION WITH FATHER JANSEN WHICH TOOK PLACE WHEN THE PAO WENT TO MARYKNOLL HOUSE TO SET UP THE MEETING FOR THE AMBASSADOR. THE PAO OFFERED THE PROTECTION OF THE U.S. AMBASSADOR'S RESIDENCE AND AN EMBASSY VEHICLE TO PROVIDE SECURITY FOR DIANA WHILE IN GUATEMALA CITY AND TO TRANSPORT HER TO THE AIRPORT IF SHE LEFT TO RETURN TO THE U.S. JANSEN TOLD THE PAO THAT THE PLAN FROM THE BEGINNING WAS TO TRANSFER DIANA AND CHMIELEWSKI TO THE EMBASSY OF THE HOLY SEE BECAUSE OF QUESTIONABLE SECURITY AND THE WIDE-OPENNESS AT MARYKNOLL HOUSE, AND THE POSSIBLE DANGER OF MOVING ABOUT GUATEMALA CITY.

14. JANSEN GAVE FOLLOWING ADDITIONAL INFORMATION REGARDING DIANA'S ORDEAL: SHE WAS ABDUCTED FROM THE

POSSIBLY GUNNED BY THREE MEN, AND TAKEN BY PUBLIC BUS TO GUATEMALA CITY). THE THREE ABDUCTORS DECLARED HER A GRENADE AND SOLD HER IF SHE DID NOT COOPERATE THEY WOULD FREE HER BUS AND THROW THE GRENADE AT THE BUS, KILLING ALL THE OCCUPANTS INCLUDING DIANA. SHE WAS TAKEN TO GUATEMALA CITY BY A POLICE CAR, WHERE SHE WAS INTERROGATED. THEY SPOKE FOR THE PHOTOGRAPH OF A MAN UNKNOWN TO HER, INSISTING THAT SHE MUST KNOW HIM. WHEN SHE DENIED KNOWING HIM, SHE WAS BEATEN UP AND BURNED BY CIGARETTES.

2. ON NOVEMBER 3 POLOFF REPORTED HIS CONVERSATION IN THE EMBASSY CAR WITH DIANA'S MARYKNOLL COLLEAGUES ON THE WAY TO AND FROM THE MINISTRY OF INTERIOR. APPARENTLY WHEN DIANA HAD BEEN THREATENED IN ZONE 1 IN JUNE AND HAD BEEN TOLD TO LEAVE THE COUNTRY, SHE WAS CONVERSING WITH WOMEN GAM DEMONSTRATORS, WITH WHOM SHE HAD REACQUAINTED.

SUBJECT: KIDNAPPING OF AMERICAN CITIZEN

1. AT 12:30 P.M. ON NOVEMBER 2, THE EMBASSY WAS INFORMED THAT DIANA ORTIZ, AN AMERICAN URSULINE NUN, HAD BEEN KIDNAPPED FROM THE COURTYARD OF A RELIGIOUS RETREAT CENTER IN ANTIGUA WHERE SHE WAS ATTENDING A 6-WEEK RELIGIOUS TRAINING COURSE. THE CALLER WAS MS. DARLENE CHMIELEWSKI, ALSO A URSULINE NUN, WHO STATED THAT DIANA ORTIZ ARRIVED IN ANTIGUA ABOUT 1 1/2 WEEKS AGO FROM SAN MIGUEL ACATAN, HUEHUETENANGO, WHERE THE TWO OF THEM HAD BEEN WORKING FOR A MARYKNOLL PARISH. ACCORDING TO SOURCE, SISTER DIANA HAD BEEN TEACHING YOUNG CHILDREN AND WAS ALSO LEARNING THE INDIGENOUS DIALECT OF THE AREA. REPORTEDLY, SHE HAD NOT BEEN INVOLVED IN ANY CONTROVERSIAL OR POLITICAL ACTIVITIES. REPORTEDLY, SISTER DIANA SUSTAINED FACIAL LACERATIONS AND ACCORDING TO FATHER HEALEY, A MARYKNOLL PRIEST, COMPLAINED OF BACK PAINS.

2. SUBSEQUENT TO HER RELEASE ON NOVEMBER 3 AND DEPARTURE FROM GUATEMALA ON NOVEMBER 5, EMBASSY OFFICIALS WERE UNABLE TO INTERVIEW HER DUE TO THE PSYCHOLOGICAL TRAUMA SHE SUSTAINED. SISTER DIANA HAS NOW RETURNED TO THE UNITED STATES, BUT WE ARE UNAWARE OF EXACLTY WHERE. SHE MAY HAVE GONE TO EITHER KENTUCKY (MOTHER HOUSE OF THE URSULINE ORDER), OR NEW MEXICO (HER PARENTS' HOME). GIVEN YOUR INTEREST IN A PREVIOUS KIDNAPPING CASE INVOLVING AN AMERICAN CITIZEN, WE ARE PASSING THIS INFORMATION FOR APPROPRIATE INVESTIGATION BY YOUR AGENCY. FYI, POST WILL BE RETRANSMITTING GUATEMALA 13252, A CONSULAR SUMMARY OF THE CASE TO LEGATT.

3. WE WOULD APPRECIATE KNOWING THE RESULTS OF YOUR INQUIRY. STROOCK

Ursuline Sister Diana Ortiz's Account of her Kidnapping

PRIOR EVENTS:

Sister Diana Ortiz had received several anonymous written threats telling her to leave the country. She received three (3) of these letters in San Miguel Acatan, state of Huehuetenango in the parish where she worked with children, another was received in Guatemala City, and the last in the Belen Sisters' Retreat House in Antigua, Guatemala. Also she had been accosted in the center of Guatemala City, by a man unknown to her, who told her to leave the country.

DETAILS OF THE KIDNAPPING

Diana was participating in a course in the Belen Retreat House in Antigua, Guatemala. On Thursday, November 2, 1989, about 8:00AM, Diana asked the caretaker to open the door to the enclosed gardens. She entered the garden alone with the intention of praying awhile before classes were to begin. She was there alone ten (10) minutes reading the Bible when a man put his hand on her shoulder and said: "Hola mi amor" (which is a derogatory greeting coming from a man she doesn't know). He was the same man that had accosted her in Guatemala City. This man said that she had to come with him because he had to ask her some questions. Then another unknown man appeared. The first insisted that she had to accompany them. She said she wouldn't go. So they showed her a pistol and said they would harm her friends if she didn't go with them. With that she felt obligated to leave with them through the back of the gardens where there was a garbage dump and an opening in the wall.

They took her along the dry river bed of the Rio Pensativo to the street leaving Antigua where they boarded an inter-urban bus. As they got on the bus A[illegible] showed her a hand grenade and said that if she tried to escape, innocent people would die. Upon arriving at the crossroads to Mexico (1/2 hour from the capital -- Guatemala City) they got off the bus and walked about ten (10) minutes along a dirt road with few houses until they came to a white police car. Inside there was a uniformed policeman. They put her into the car and blindfolded her. The policeman said to the men, "I see that your trip was successful."

After a trip of approximately 1/2 hour, they stopped and took her inside a place that seemed like a warehouse because there was a lot of echo. They went downstairs where she heard screams of a woman in a great deal of pain and moans of men. They put her in a dark and very cold room that had a chair and a desk. They left her there for many hours. Then three (3) men entered: the policeman, the two men who had kidnapped her from the gardens. They told her that they had business to take care of and that they were going to explain the rules of the game to her; they were going to ask her some questions; if she gave an answer they liked they would let her smoke! if they didn't like the answer, they would burn her back with a cigarette. When she said the rules were unjust: she received the first burn.

They removed her sweat shirt and the policeman began to abuse her sexually. But the man who accosted her in Guatemala City said, "let's take care of business first and then we'll have fun." They removed her blindfold and showed her some pictures. One was of her in the Plaza of San Miguel Acatan and in the village of Yalaj. Both were during fiesta days. She recalls that those were 2 occasions when the military were present. They kept burning her for every answer she gave. Then they showed pictures of two (2) indigenous people: a man and a woman carrying guns. She had never seen them before and said so. But they insisted that she was that woman even though there wasn't any resemblance. She received approximately 75 cigarette burns on her back.

One of the men blindfolded her again. One man hit her so hard in the face she fell to the floor, receiving lesions on the left side of her face. They pulled her up to a sitting position on the floor and began to abuse her sexually, in several ways, but not in actual rape, because in that moment a fourth man entered the room.

Someone said "Alejandro, come have some fun." But he answered them with an obscene word common in English among North Americans. He said - "Idiots, she is a North American. Let her alone. It's already on the news on television." The fourth person approached her and helped her replace her tee shirt and sweat shirt. He removed her blindfold and said. Let's get out of here. He conducted her through a garage toward a grey Suzuki Jeep and drove out onto the street.

During the trip Diana spoke in English and he answered in Spanish, but with an non-Guatemalan accent.

He asked her to pardon them because they had confused her with someone else and that they had tried to prevent this with the anonymous letters and that she hadn't taken them seriously. She replied that she had stayed because of her commitment to a suffering people. ~~They~~ He said they had something in common. That is, he also was concerned about the people and consequently, was working to liberate them from communism. She said it wasn't the same because they ~~[illegible]~~ human life. The man told her that they were going to talk with a friend from the North American Embassy who could help her. At this point Diana realized she was in Zone 9 of the Capitol, as when they stopped in heavy traffic, she opened the door and jumped out. She ran rapidly until she found a woman from whom she asked help. The woman invited her into her house where she stayed about 2 hours resting. Then she gave her some money for phone calls and bus fare to Zone 7 where Diana proceeded to a travel agency. From there she was taken to the Maryknoll Center House.

For security reasons she was moved to the safety of the Papal Nuncio of Guatemala. Under the protection of Monsignor Oviedo Cuzzioi, Sister Diana Ortiz left Guatemala for the United States.

THE SOVIET UNION AND CUBA

"Soviet behaviour toward Cuba and Central America remains the biggest obstacle to a full across-the-board improvement in relations between the United States and the Soviet Union."

-- U.S. Secretary of State James Baker, before the annual assembly of the Organization of American States, November 13, 1989

* "Why must we help everybody else...when we don't have enough for ourselves?"

"We lack housing, schools, hospitals. Infant mortality is higher than in Japan and the United States. In Bratsk, we are being issued ration coupons -- half a kilo [1.1 pounds] of meat, a kilo of sugar a month...but we still help, help, help."

"In our family, we eat meat only on a holiday, and you have to wait for 25 to 30 years for an apartment. Now it's time for my daughter to get married, but we don't have any money to celebrate the occasion. Perhaps we can borrow some from the government. It must be rich. It helps everybody else."

(Letters from Soviet citizens to the Soviet newspaper Socialist Industry, as reported in the Washington Post, January 15, 1989)

* In an unprecedented appearance before the International Affairs Committee of the Soviet legislature on February 11, 1990, Secretary of State James Baker criticized recent Soviet shipments of MiG-29 airplanes to Cuba and challenged the Soviet Union to stop arming Cuba. (The Washington Post, February 11, 1990)

* In a speech before the Congress of People's Deputies, Soviet economist Nikolai Shmelyov of the Institute for the Study of the USA and Canada outlined a plan to forestall the collapse of the Soviet economy and proposed that the Soviet Union increase hard currency savings by cutting off aid to Cuba. (The Baltimore Sun, June 9, 1989)

* Excerpts from official Cuban Communist Party organ Granma announcing ban on Soviet publications Moscow News and Sputnik, August 4, 1990, Foreign Broadcast Information Service:

"They publish formulas that favor anarchy, shielding themselves in the indispensable diversity of views. The analysis of the way to behave and use the main principles of Marxism-Leninism in line with the new historic conditions introduces elements that lead to its denial. The necessary search for new methods to guide the economy intends to deny the political-ideological component of all economic policies and appears to not recognize that leading the socialist economy is more than using techniques and mechanisms."

"In their pages, one can discover the apology of the bourgeois democracy as a supreme form of popular participation as well as the fascination with the U.S. way of life. Imperialism has disappeared. Those in the Soviet Union who today deny the guiding role of the party and demand multiple parties, proclaim the free action of the laws of the market, sublimate foreign investments, rediscover private property, question internationalism and solidarity aid to other countries, are portrayed by these publications as radical left-wing democrats defenders of the interests of the people. Even supporters of the women's home service slavery find a place in these publications."

"One thing we can already regret is the negative consequences we have noticed as a result of having among us these distortions, confusions, fabrications which, in sum, they constitute painful evidence of lack of political education and education in general...."

"...Publications such as these do not correspond to our situation and our interests, thus, they are not for us."

* Excerpts from interview with A.D. Bekarevich, deputy director of the USSR Academy of Sciences Latin America Institute, October 26, 1989, FBIS:

[Reporters] ...Western scientists and publicists have long been accusing Cuba of "economic freeloading." It has become a commonplace to claim that, according to CIA data, "the maintenance of Cuba costs the Soviet Union" $8 billion a year. ...And yet it is an open secret that things are really bad in our own country....

[Bekarevich] ...Yes, our aid [to Cuba] was considerable: Approximately 460 national economic projects alone were constructed during the years of cooperation. As regards the present day, the Soviet Union meets Cuba's needs for oil and petroleum products by 100 percent, for fertilizers by 91 percent, for rolled ferrous and nonferrous metals by 70 percent, for grain crops by 94 percent, and for trucks and passenger cars by 70 percent. The sum total of credits between 1960 and the present amounts to R6 billion. Additional long-term targeted credit was granted to Cuba for 1986-1990 to the tune of R2.5 billion.

Today we are giving Cuba technical assistance in the construction of 174 industrial projects. These include a nuclear power station, a thermal power station, a nickel plant, a large-capacity oil base with wharves and pipelines, and so forth.

...For the future I favor an open discussion in parliament of the size of the aid and the state of our foreign trade.

[Reporters] ...In 30 years we have never managed to balance our trade with Cuba. Today the Cubans owe us for goods worth R2,386,000,000.... We realize that in the past both Cuba and Nicaragua needed our assistance. Today the situation in that part of the world is changing. Tension is declining, in particular, around Nicaragua....

[Bekarevich] Trade has always been a unique barometer of the general state of affairs. In this case we have inherited the trade imbalances with Cuba and Nicaragua to a certain extent from complex times. Today we should put our trade relations with those countries on a footing of mutual advantage, not curtail or abandon them altogether, as certain people urge.

In the past we really did not always determine correctly the size of aid or its channels. Then we were helping Cuba to survive, as we are doing today in Nicaragua. You can also frequently hear rebukes that, by supplying Cuba with oil, for example, we lose currency, because petroleum products could be sold on the free market. But Cuba supplies us with commodities which our country would have to pay currency to acquire. I mean citrus fruits, sugar, and nickel. Cuban deliveries meet 40% of our needs for oranges and lemons, 30% with regard to sugar, and approximately 20% for cobalt and nickel ores.

[Reporters] Today the whole country is going over to economic accountability. We do not know whether Foreign Ministry staffers will agree with us, but this process probably will not bypass our foreign policy. Speaking of trade, it seems to us that it must be carried on even with our close partners on mutually advantageous terms....

[Bekarevich] ...I see the instilling of order in the sphere of export-import prices as the key to the qualitative improvement of our trade and economic relations.

* In an interview with the Orlando Sentinel, Soviet Ambassador to the United States Yuri Dubinin, commenting on the lack of changes in Cuba, said "Change in Cuba will depend on the Cuban people. It will also depend on the international situation in [the region]. But the main principle is the freedom of choice by all people." (Orlando Sentinel, December 24, 1989)

* The London Daily Telegraph reported on February 8, 1990, that Mikhail Gorbachev was using economic pressure against Cuba to force Fidel Castro to moderate his criticisms of Soviet-style reforms. The article said that the Soviets had reduced oil and wheat shipments to Cuba and that there existed a shortage of ships to transport Cuban citrus products to East Europe. "The Soviet Union is not fulfilling its promises regarding wheat shipments to Cuba, and this has forced the Castro regime to reduce bread rations and raise the prices of related foodstuffs," the article said.

In the matter of Soviet oil exports, a portion of which Cuba re-sells to other Latin American countries, Moscow has reduced its subsidy to Cuba in the amount of over $10 million. The article said Cuba had been forced to reduce its export of oranges, lemons, and grapefruit because of the shortage of Polish, East German, and Soviet ships. It was reported that Poland and East Germany had demanded that Moscow pay them in hard currency for the use of their ships and apparently the Soviet Union had refused. (The London Daily Telegraph, February 8, 1990)

* Excerpts from "Soviet foreign aid: Is it always put to wisest use?" by Andrei Kortunov, Moscow News, December 3, 1989:

"It would be good to interpret [Soviet] generosity as bearing witness to the priority of universal human interests over national ones in Soviet policies. But do we really help those in need? The geographic distribution of our aid shows that this isn't so. According to Western estimates...Cuba accounts for at least a quarter of the total volume of economic assistance -- about 3 billion rubles a year. It is no secret that we buy Cuban sugar for a price four times the world average."

"It is no secret that many Third World recipients of Soviet aid are notorious for their authoritarian or dictatorial methods of rule, the cults of their leaders, a ruthless suppression of the opposition, and for corruption."

"It is time to put things in order.... There is a need to publish detailed information on our system of giving aid, the terms of granting it, and its distribution according to countries and regions."

"In mapping out future aid programs, there is a need to discard as soon as possible the Cold War stereotypes, when any anti-American regime in the Third World, declaring allegiance to Marxism-Leninism, could count on Soviet support."

* Excerpts from letter to Moscow News by Alexei Izyumov, Weekly No. 7, 1990:

"I agree with Andrei Kortunov: Soviet aid is excessive and hardly effective."

"The ineffectiveness of our aid mirrors the ineffective economic system prevailing in most of the countries we help and in the Soviet Union itself."

"What if from the cost of our 'currency saving' on Cuban sugar we deduct the cost of the fuel, grain and raw materials we sent to Cuba, rather than selling them for hard currency on the world market? And if our economic relations with Cuba are so profitable, why is Cuba's debt to the USSR estimated at 10-20 billion dollars?"

"Thus, from the information available today, it follows that Soviet aid doesn't have much in common with either the economy or humanitarian purposes, and remains primarily an instrument of our foreign and military policy. If it were used effectively in this capacity, it would be half the trouble. The problem is that even the political fruits of our assistance are insignificant. Or so Castro's recent statements would indicate."

* Excerpts from "Being True to Principles or Principles Being True," by Vladamir Orlov, Moscow News, Weekly No. 10, 1990:

"That's devotion to principles [in Castro's speeches]. But whether these principles are correct is never questioned."

"...Havana's intention [is] to take over the role of a sage who alone can know the right way."

"Such directness in Cuba takes place alongside rationing of all goods which insures people against poverty, but is no incentive to work."

"...stability [in Cuba] is ensured through a network of Committees for the Defense of the Revolution (CDR) encompassing the entire country.... The Committees have a finger in every pie.... Their activists snoop around for those who listen to "Radio Marti" broadcast from the USA and for those who voice politically immature ideas. CDRs closely cooperate with the national revolutionary police and other services."

"Today Cubans, especially young intellectuals, are closely and sympathetically following Soviet perestroika."

"A new situation is taking shape in the island...there is a shift from social apathy to passive, still rather latent disaffection. There are now nearly fifteen dissident groups whose demands are as diverse as support of the policy of perestroika in the USSR and freedom of religion in Cuba."

"Alexander Solzhenitsyn's article 'To Live Not According to Lies' is being circulated in Spanish translation in typewritten form. There have been cases of students refusing to sign statements that are usually adopted to support Castro's speeches."

* The Soviet weekly Argument and Fact severely criticized the Cuban leadership and specifically Fidel Castro, calling for "new solutions for old problems." The March 18, 1990, issue said, "The numerous and recent changes in the Soviet Union and the countries of Eastern Europe, in particular the advances of political pluralism and the market economy, have not been warmly welcomed in Cuba -- far from it." It accused Fidel Castro of having "categorically rejected the possibility of applying similar reforms in Cuba."

The weekly also said it is without a doubt that there exist in Cuba "partisans of Soviet- or East European-style reforms," adding that not everyone in Cuba is in agreement with the policies of the Cuban government. "It is not a secret to anyone that hundreds of thousands in the past three decades 'have voted with their feet' for capitalism in emigrating to the United States."

The signs of crisis in the economy increase, "the standard of living decreases," and "unemployment is becoming visible," the article said.

The weekly asked if the Soviets "don't have a moral responsibility for the numerous errors made in Cuba's political economy," because their ideas were "inspired" by "our specialists."

* In a March 27, 1990, press conference at the U.N. Correspondents Club, Vitaly Korotich, director of the influential Soviet magazine Ogonyok, said that the Soviet Union needs to revitalize its economy and therefore has to be more realistic in its support for Cuba in the future. He said it is impossible for the Soviets to continue paying such a high price to maintain the Cuban regime. He added that if the Cubans can maintain their regime without changes that's fine, but that the USSR shouldn't be obligated to pay so much for someone so far away. (Agence France Presse, El Nuevo Herald, March 28, 1990)

* Excerpts from "The Giving Hand is Generous," by B. Sergeyev, Ekonomika I Zhizn, March 1990, FBIS:

"The lack of complete official data makes it impossible to analyze thoroughly the effectiveness of the USSR's foreign ties and is one of the reasons for our not always successful orientation in the system of the international division of labor.... [But] even removal of the stamp of secrecy here is perhaps not enough to obtain a complete picture of the volumes and directions of our aid to other states. It is not only direct credits and gifts."

"A considerable portion of aid involves inflating the prices we pay for imported goods and lowering the cost of our own exports, preferential interest rates on credits, tariffs on services.... There are facts that have already been made public: we pay 7-9 times more for Cuban sugar than we do to other foreign suppliers, thus transferring to Cuba more than R2 billion of hidden aid each year under this item alone...."

"...in light of the new political thinking, the former payment only for a show of values is clearly excessive.... We must look for a mutually acceptable way out of reckless philanthropy."

"...some of our fellow countrymen, it seems, consider the present situation unshakable. Thus in Moskovskiye Novosti (No. 52, 1989) S. Tarasenko, chief of an administration of the USSR Ministry of Foreign Affairs, clearly idealized, in my opinion, our business relations with Cuba. And the arguments are convincing at first glance. One of them goes like this: it is better to overpay some 2 billion rubles than to pay several hundred million dollars for the same amount of sugar on the world market. But, you see, each year we supply Cuba with 6 million tons of petroleum products and a mass of other goods, the currency price of which on the world market far exceeds our dollar savings in sugar."

"The Midas list of other advantages which, for example, our Aeroflot, Maritime Fleet, and military and intelligence services receive on the faraway island are also not very convincing. What is it worth just to have about 300 Soviet vessels engaged in servicing Cuba, while the Cuban fleet earns currency for itself for shipping cargo of other countries?

"What about our partners? It seems that instead of searching for acceptable solutions and increasing the effectiveness of cooperation, they prefer for the time being rhetoric aimed against us, and the first time we call for equality in barter, they regard it as a restriction and discrimination. Thus, the Spanish newspaper Independente on 22 January this year carried the following words of Fidel Castro: 'If the USSR is going to practice an unequal trade exchange in its relations with Cuba, selling its goods at a higher price with each day and buying our agricultural products at cheaper prices, this will mean the same thing the United States is practicing with respect to developing countries.' Is he contradicting the truth? But on the other hand, it was clearly inspired by the arguments of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs representative."

"What constructive can be proposed here? The main thing is to separate aid from commerce and trade from politics. We must apply complete glasnost to this sphere. Here it is especially noticeable that the less glasnost, the less responsibility."

* U.S. intelligence sources told The Washington Times that the Soviet Union is expanding its large electronic listening post at Lourdes, outside of Havana. The 28-square-mile complex, which is manned by 6,000 Soviet technicians and personnel, enables the Soviets to monitor U.S. government high-frequency communications, particularly fleet communications, as well as to intercept all telephone calls carried by satellite within the southeastern United States. (The Washington Times, April 5, 1990)

* A Soviet diplomat told The Washington Times that Cuba owes the Soviet Union $11 billion, of which $7 billion is in hard currency.* Also, that Moscow has told Cuba that it wants to pay for Cuban sugar something closer to the world market price of $280 per ton, rather than the $450 a ton agreed to in 1986. On the subject of oil, the Soviets exported 13.5 million tons to Cuba in 1986, for which Cuba paid $15 a barrel. (The Washington Times, April 6, 1990) (*Note: a former Cuban economic minister says Cuba's debt to the Soviet Union amounts to at least $34 billion. See The Wall Street Journal, April 7, 1989.)

* In an editorial published on April 9, 1990, the official organ of the Soviet Communist Party, Pravda, cited numerous inequalities in Soviet-Cuban economic relations and asserted that a profound revision in Soviet aid to Cuba was necessary. According to Pravda, Soviet industries have a declining interest in economic cooperation with Cuba, given that Cuba pays the Soviet state in convertible rubles for supplies and nothing to the businesses. Soviet industries now have other possibilities to sell production, much more appealing than those offered by Cuba. The newspaper noted that Soviet economists want prices to reflect those on the world market, and to end preferential rates.

Pravda lamented also that the defects of the Soviet economy have been "transferred across the ocean," like for example the mania for gigantic projects, the interminable length of time to complete projects, and the interruption in services. It complained about Soviet cargo ships wasting too much time waiting in Cuban ports to be off-loaded, and concluded that, "The hour has come to abolish the centrally planned economy." (AFP, El Nuevo Herald, April 10, 1990)

* The Soviet Union and Cuba signed a one-year trade protocol on April 17, 1990, worth 9.2 billion rubles (approximately $14.7 billion), which will allow for a slight increase in trade between the two for 1990, the final year of a five-year economic cooperation agreement.

The Soviets indicated, however, they want to keep their options open in future trade relations with Cuba and said that any new economic cooperation agreement would probably last less than the traditional five years and would take into account economic reforms instituted in the USSR.

It was also announced that a special committee would be established to discuss future trade relations and to make trade between the countries more efficient.

According to the Mexican news agency Notimex, Leonid Abalkin, deputy chairman of the USSR Council of Ministers, said the fast pace with which his country is moving toward a market economy will force the establishment of a new trade basis with Cuba. Abalkin said the USSR will adapt to CEMA outlines on prices and the international market.

On the future of Soviet trade with Cuba, he said there is no answer at this time inasmuch as they cannot predict the outlook of their own development.

However, he added that future trade agreements will have to be more flexible and that mechanisms will probably be introduced for free individual contracts.

Neither the Soviets nor Cubans released details of the 1990 trade pact, but said it represented an 8.7 percent increase in trade over 1989. Cuba's Prensa Latina reported that the pact covers fuel, grain, spare parts, food and raw material. (The Miami Herald, April 19, 1990, and Notimex, April 19, 1990, FBIS.)

* Soviet Ambassador to Cuba Yuri Petrov, discussing Soviet-Cuban economic relations said, "I believe we must start looking for new paths and scopes in the area of cooperation because there is a wide range of things to do here in Cuba" and "the most important aspect of our economic cooperation is of course to increase its efficiency." (FBIS, May 1, 1990)

* In a May 4 speech before the USIA Third International Council Conference, White House Chief of Staff John Sununu expressed the Bush Administration's disappointment over Moscow's continued dealings with Fidel Castro. He said Mikhail Gorbachev "is still the patron" of the Cuban economy, "to the tune of a few billion dollars a year."

* In an exchange of messages noting the 30th anniversary of the re-establishment of Soviet-Cuban relations, Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze indicated to his Cuban counterpart, Isodoro Malmierca, "the Soviet Union's dissatisfaction with Cuba's continued resistance to institute reforms." (UPI, Diario las Americas, May 9, 1990)

SUBJECT: FMLN LEADER REPORTEDLY SAYS SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS INTERESTED IN TALKING WITH USG

1. A THIRD COUNTRY JOURNALIST INFORMED US NOVEMBER 14 THAT HE HAD JUST RETURNED FROM A MANAGUA PRESS CONFERENCE HELD BY MARIO LOPEZ, A MEMBER OF THE FMLN'S "MILITARY-DIPLOMATIC COMMISSION." LOPEZ, ACCORDING TO THE JOURNALIST, TOLD REPORTERS THAT THE FMLN WAS "VERY INTERESTED IN "SITTING DOWN" WITH THE BUSH ADMINISTRATION REGARDING THE CURRENT FMLN "OFFENSIVE" IN EL SALVADOR. LOPEZ WAS ASKED DIRECTLY IF THE GON WAS AIDING THE FMLN; HE REPORTEDLY REPLIED THAT THIS "WAS NOT AN IMPORTANT QUESTION" AND REFUSED TO SAY ANY MORE ON THE MATTER. THE PRESS CONFERENCE WAS HELD AT THE INTERNATIONAL PRESS HEADQUARTERS IN MANAGUA. NO OTHER FMLN MEMBERS WERE PRESENT.

EXTRAJUDICIAL EXECUTIONS

PASCUCIO GOMEZ (60) was stabbed to death November 7 by several armed men in Tzacuacal, San Lucas Toliman, Solola.

MERY ANGELY ESTZABEL VALDEZ (12) was in a pickup truck in front of her house, in a busy zone in the capital, on her way to school the morning of Nov. 8, when she heard shots and saw a man bathed in blood. When she screamed, one of the three men who had shot MAXIMO DE JESUS GUERRA (49) turned towards her and shot through the windshield of the pickup, injuring her in the chest. MERY ANGELY went back to her house, and the attackers fled. She was immediately driven to a nearby private hospital, but because no doctor was on duty she died without receiving treatment. Approximately 20 people were at a bus stop about 20 meters from the attack and witnessed everything. The victims were shot with 9 mm automatic pistols.

ADRIAN SANDOVAL MEDINA (56) was shot to death and his son HERNAN SANDOVAL ORELLANA (30) was injured in the arm by unidentified men at kilometer 38 on the road from San Vicente Pacaya, Escuintla. (Nov. 9)

The bodies of sister and brother MARIA and ROBERTO CASTRO MORALES, from Guatemala City, were found in a ditch along the highway from Escuintla to Taxisco, Santa Rosa. They died from blows to the chest and abdomen. (Nov. 9)

This fourth man drove Sister Diana into the capital. When they stopped in heavy traffic, Diana jumped out of the vehicle and ran away. She found a woman who took Diana into her home and gave her money for phone calls and bus fare. Diana then made her way to Zone 7 and ultimately to the Maryknoll Center House. For security reasons, she was moved to the home of the Papal Nuncio.

Under the protection of Monsignor Oriano Quilici, Sister Diana Ortiz left Guatemala for the United States and is now recuperating from her physical and emotional trauma.

SUBJECT: TFES01: COSTA RICAN ACTING FOREIGN MINISTER RIVERA ON THE SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights Special Project (1993)

REF: SAN JOSE 14474

1. [redacted] - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: ACCORDING TO ACTING FOREIGN MINISTER RIVERA, A CONFIDANT OF PRESIDENT ARIAS, COSTA RICA IS DOING ALL IT CAN TO SUPPORT SALVADORAN PRESIDENT CRISTIANI, INCLUDING SENDING MEDICINES AND OTHER HUMANITARIAN AID. THE GOCR HAS BEEN IN TOUCH WITH FMLN REPRESENTATIVES IN MEXICO AND CONSIDERS THE FMLN OFFENSIVE TOTALLY UNJUSTIFIED. RIVERA EXPRESSED FRUSTRATION THAT THE CURRENT SITUATION OFFERS FEW POSSIBILITIES FOR CONSTRUCTIVE DIPLOMACY. HE ACCEPTS OUR INTERPRETATION THAT THE FMLN OBJECTIVE WAS TO BRING THE CRISTIANI GOVERNMENT DOWN AND COMMENTED THAT THE OFFENSIVE HAD TO HAVE BEEN PLANNED AT THE TIME OF THE OCTOBER 16-17 FMLN/GOES TALKS IN SAN JOSE. END SUMMARY.

3. IN A NOVEMBER 22 MEETING ON ANOTHER SUBJECT, THE AMBASSADOR PROVIDED RIVERA WITH A COPY OF ASSISTANT SECRETARY ARONSON'S CONGRESSIONAL TESTIMONY ON EL SALVADOR AND ASKED RIVERA HOW THE GOCR ASSESSES THE CURRENT SITUATION.

4. RIVERA SAID THE GOCR SEES FEW POSSIBILITIES FOR CONSTRUCTIVE ACTION, "EVEN FEWER TODAY," AFTER RENEWED FMLN HOSTILITIES IN SAN SALVADOR. RIVERA SAID THE GOCR HAS BEEN IN FREQUENT CONTACT IN THE LAST TWO WEEKS WITH FMLN REPRESENTATIVES IN MEXICO. THE GUERRILLAS PROFESS A WILLINGNESS TO RENEW TALKS WITH THE GOES, RIVERA SAID, BUT AFTER THE EVENTS OF THE LAST TWO WEEKS, WHAT WOULD THEY DISCUSS? WHEN THE OFFENSIVE WAS FIRST BEGUN, THE FMLN TOOK THE POSITION THAT IT WAS INTENDED TO ENHANCE ITS NEGOTIATING POSITION. BUT THE ONLY THING IT HAS ACHIEVED IS TO REDUCE PRESIDENT CRISTIANI'S

NEGOTIATING SPACE AND IS TOTALLY UNJUSTIFIED. HOW DO THE GUERRILLAS ATTEMPT TO JUSTIFY THEIR ACTIONS? THEY OFFER EXPLANATIONS THAT DON'T EXPLAIN, RIVERA SAID.

5. RIVERA SAID HE HAD JUST MET WITH SALVADORAN AMBASSADOR RODOLFO REVELO, WHO HAD REQUESTED MEDICAL AND OTHER HUMANITARIAN AID. THE GOCR WOULD TRY TO RESPOND POSITIVELY. CRISTIANI NEEDED TO BE SUPPORTED PUBLICLY, RIVERA NOTED. THE AMBASSADOR REFERRED TO THE PRE-OFFENSIVE VISIT HERE (NOVEMBER 6) OF AN FMLN DELEGATION, JUST AFTER THE FMLN ANNOUNCED IT WAS BREAKING OFF THE TALKS. THE DELEGATION HAD BEEN A LOW-LEVEL ONE, THE AMBASSADOR SAID, IN ITSELF SOMETHING OF A SLAP AT PRESIDENT ARIAS. MORE IMPORTANT, THE OFFENSIVE HAD TO HAVE BEEN PLANNED AT THAT TIME, WHICH MADE A MOCKERY OF THE FMLN'S PROFESSED INTEREST IN DIALOGUE. RIVERA AGREED. NOT ONLY THAT, HE ADDED, BUT THE OFFENSIVE MUST HAVE BEEN PLANNED EVEN AT THE TIME OF THE OCTOBER 16-17 TALKS IN SAN JOSE. THE AMBASSADOR SAID THAT WE HAD EVIDENCE, IN THE FORM OF A VIDEO WHICH WE HAVE NOW RELEASED TO THE PRESS, OF SANDINISTA SUPPORT/TRAINING FOR THE FMLN. THE VIDEO SHOWED NEW WEAPONS, INCLUDING MORTARS, BEING TESTED IN THE PRESENCE OF FMLN OFFICIALS. WE BELIEVE IT WAS MADE ABOUT JULY. RIVERA SAID THE PRESIDENT HAD MADE A "FIRM ALLUSION" TO THE PREMEDIATED QUALITY OF FMLN ACTIONS IN HIS PUBLIC STATEMENT (REF).

6. THE AMBASSADOR SAID WE HAD NOTED PRESIDENT ARIAS'S STATEMENT NOVEMBER 20 AT THE INAUGURATION OF A CONVENTION OF COFFEE PRODUCERS. ARIAS HAD SPOKEN OF THE NEED TO ACT. WHAT DID THE GOCR HAVE IN MIND? RIVERA REPEATED THAT THERE ARE FEW POSSIBILITIES NOW, BUT THE GOCR IS THREATENING THE FMLN WITH A MORE EXPLICIT COSTA RICAN DENUNCIATION.

7. COMMENT: ARIAS AND RIVERA HAVE BEEN INTENT ON KEEPING OPEN THE POSSIBILITY OF FURTHER COSTA RICAN MEDIATION IN THE SALVADORAN CONFLICT AND HAVE BEEN RELUCTANT TO CONDEMN THE FMLN FOR THAT REASON. ALTHOUGH THEY MAY BE FINALLY LOSING PATIENCE, PAST EXPERIENCE SUGGESTS THEY WILL SWALLOW THEIR

The verbal statement by the American leadership in connection with the situation in El Salvador and the incident involving an aircraft with air defense systems on board have been seen in Moscow with all seriousness. Naturally, we decline attempts to link us directly or indirectly with this incident and moreover to make unsubstanciated conclusions with regard to our policy.

At the same time, taking into account the US side's statement we instructed our Ambassadors in Managua and in Havana to discuss the situation with the leadership of Nicaragua and Cuba, expressing our concern over the developments in El Salvador and reaffirming the Soviet position according to which the problems of Central America should be settled by political means and through the implementation of the Guatemala accord and other agreements reached by the countries of the region themselves.

The Soviet Union does not supply arms to the FMLN in any way. We do not know the origin of the air defense missiles in question. According to press reports, there were incidentally also American Red-eye missiles there. Nevertheless, we have deemed it necessary to once again remind the Nicaraguans and the Cubans that we expect them to see to it that the Soviet weapons transferred to them for their own defense needs are not used for other purposes.

We have taken these steps because we share the US side's concern over a sharp exacerbation of the situation in El Salvador, and are prepared to continue to cooperate with you in creating favorable outside conditions for a peaceful settlement of the conflict in this country and in the region as a whole.

Nevertheless, there is no reason for creating a crisis situation, let alone for calling into question the very prospect of the Soviet-American dialogue. After all, the Soviet Union in this case could also embark upon making claims and ultimatums. Take Afghanistan, for example, where, as is known, civilians are dying as a result of US-made rocket shelling, and the ways those rockets get there are not unknown to Washington.

But such an approach would only throw us back to the times of confrontation and at least would not be conducive to a political solution either in Central America, or Afghanistan, or any other part of the world.

We are convinced that the only reasonable way out of this situation is to continue and intensify efforts to contribute to the settlement of regional conflicts.

In this connection, we note with satisfaction the statement by the US side contained in its message that the US favors political dialogue and not continued military conflict in Central America. For its part, the Soviet Union has acted and will continue to act exactly in this manner.

Both you and we are supporting the agreements reached by the Central Americans themselves. Therefore, we do have a basis for a more effective cooperation. Of course, it will only be effective when neither the United States, nor the Soviet Union attempts to impose its will on the parties directly involved in the conflict, and shall act with due regard for their legitimate interests.

The whole process of the Central American settlement is rather fragile. The efforts of the countries of the region need constant positive support. It seems to us that both of us could, either jointly or in parallel, give this process a new political impetus. Specifically, one could think of bringing into action the UN and OAS Secretaries General whose efforts proved useful in the past, and to involve the neighboring countries such as Mexico, Venezuela and Cuba in the political negotiations of the five Central American states.

Involvement of Cuba is particularly important at this stage. Here we are proceeding from the positive experience which was gained in the course of the peaceful settlements in Africa.

We would like to know the view of the US side about the possibility of these initiatives by both of us.

В Москве со всей серьезностью отнеслись к обращению американского руководства в связи с ситуацией, сложившейся в Сальвадоре, и инцидентом с самолетом, на борту которого находились средства ПВО. Разумеется, мы отклоняем попытки связать нас прямо или косвенно с этим инцидентом и тем более делать из этого необоснованные выводы в отношении нашей политики.

Вместе с тем, с учетом обращения американской стороны мы дали указания нашим послам в Манагуа и Гаване обсудить ситуацию с руководством Никарагуа и Кубы, выразив нашу озабоченность развитием событий в Сальвадоре и подтвердив позицию Советского Союза, согласно которой проблемы Центральной Америки должны быть урегулированы политическими средствами путем реализации Гватемальского соглашения и других договоренностей, достигнутых самими странами этого региона.

Советский Союз никаким путем не предоставляет оружия ФНОФМ. Нам неизвестно, каково происхождение ракет ПВО, о которых идет речь. По сообщениям печати, там, кстати, были и американские ракеты "Ред-Ай". Тем не менее, мы сочли необходимым вновь напомнить никарагуанцам и кубинцам, что, как мы ожидаем, они позаботятся о том, чтобы переданное им для их собственных оборонных нужд советское оружие не использовалось для иных целей.

Мы предприняли эти шаги, разделяя обеспокоенность американской стороны резким обострением обстановки в Сальвадоре, и готовы и впредь взаимодействовать с ней в создании благоприятных внешних условий для мирного урегулирования конфликта в этой стране и в регионе в целом.

Вместе с тем нет никаких оснований создавать обстановку кризиса, а тем более ставить под вопрос саму перспективу советско-американского диалога. Ведь и Советский Союз в таком случае мог бы встать на путь претензий и ультиматомов. Возьмем хотя бы Афганистан, где, как известно, мирное население гибнет под обстрелом ракет американского производства, и попадают они туда не какими-то неведомыми Вашингтону путями.

Но такой подход лишь отбрасывал бы нас к временам конфронтации и уж во всяком случае не помогал бы политическому решению ни в Центральной Америке, ни в Афганистане, ни в другом районе мира.

По нашему убеждению, единственный разумный выход в сложившейся ситуации – это продолжение и интенсификация усилий по содействию урегулированию региональных конфликтов.

В этой связи мы с удовлетворением отмечаем содержащееся в американском обращении заявление о том, что США выступают за политический диалог, а не за продолжение военного конфликта в Центральной Америке. Со своей стороны Советский Союз действовал именно таким образом и будет так действовать впредь.

И вы и мы выступаем в поддержку договоренностей, достигнутых самими центральноамериканцами. Следовательно, основа для более эффективного взаимодействия у нас имеется. Конечно, оно будет эффективным лишь при том условии, что ни США, ни СССР не станут пытаться навязать свою волю непосредственно вовлеченным в конфликт сторонам, будут действовать с учетом их законных интересов.

Весь процесс центральноамериканского урегулирования достаточно хрупок. Усилия стран региона нуждаются в постоянной позитивной поддержке. Как нам представляется, мы с вами могли бы совместно или параллельно придать этому процессу новый политический импульс. Конкретно можно было бы подумать о том, чтобы быстро задействовать ранее уже оправдавшие себя усилия генеральных секретарей ООН и ОАГ, подключить к политическим переговорам пяти центральноамериканских государств также соседние страны, такие, как Мексика, Венесуэла и Куба.

Подключение Кубы именно сейчас особенно актуально. При этом мы исходим из того позитивного опыта, который был получен в ходе мирного урегулирования в Африке.

Мы хотели бы узнать мнение американской стороны о возможности таких наших с вами инициативных шагов.

Estimado Señor Brod:

Para su conocimiento deseamos informarle que el dia 4 de Diciembre, un retén del FMLN detuvo temporalmente al ciudadano norteamericano Jack Cooper Warren, sobre la 75 Av. Norte, Colonia Escalon. El señor Cooper fue identificado como asesor militar asignado al Hangar 3 de la Fuerza Aerea Salvadoreña. El iba acompañado de una empleada de la Cooperativa de la Fuerza Armada.

El señor Cooper y su acompañante fueron puestos en libertad tras planteársele que la actual confrontación militar no está dirigida contra personal norteamericano.

Creemos que éste es un ejemplo concreto que viene a reafirmar la disposición del FMLN de respetar la integridad del personal Norteamericano.

Asimismo, queremos expresarle una preocupación: tanto en el articulo "Americans Freed After Salvador Siege" del New York Times del 1 de diciembre, asi como en "La Guerrilla Salvadoreña Anuncia un 'Diálogo' con EE UU", publicado en el diario español El Pais el 5 de diciembre, han aparecido referencias a contactos recientes entre representantes del FMLN y funcionarios de la Administración Norteamericana.

Deseamos afirmarle que dicha información no ha salido de fuentes nuestras, ya que consideramos que hacer público este tipo de contactos no es conveniente para ninguna de las partes interesadas en buscar alternativas de soluciones politicas al conflicto que vive nuestro pais.

Mucho le agradeceriamos que transmita esta información, tanto al Sr. Romero como al Sr. Sullivan.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

NOTE: The following report was prepared by the International Center. No attempt has been made to achieve a consensus among the U.S. participants.

The International Center sponsored a meeting with high-level representatives of the FMLN and key private U.S. citizens in Cocoyoc, Mexico during 21-24 July 1989. This meeting was the first in a series of discussions designed to help foster a political settlement to the decade-long war in El Salvador. The International Center believes that although violence in El Salvador has recently intensified, the prospects for compromise and peace have never been better.

Guarded optimism is appropriate because: (1) the FMLN has apparently made major modifications in its demands and goals; (2) the new Bush administration has indicated some willingness to reassess U.S. policy in El Salvador; (3) internal events within El Salvador point to impending social and economic crises that will fortify a popular mandate for a negotiated settlement; and (4) tensions in other regional conflicts have been reduced due to the changing nature of U.S.-U.S.S.R. rivalry in the developing world.

Debate on various issues during the Cocoyoc meeting was spirited and open. Although many statements by the Salvadoran delegation reflected significant ambiguity (which they attributed to their ongoing critical re-evaluation of policy), the attending leadership attempted to explain and clarify their political proposals and military actions. Although the participants from the United States attended as individuals and not as a representative delegation, they generally attempted to explain and interpret public reactions to the FMLN and the political realities of U.S. government policy processes concerning El Salvador.

The most important result of the meeting was that the FMLN reinforced their long-claimed desire for a peaceful resolution to the war through a negotiated political settlement by outlining detailed points on (1) what will condition negotiations, (2) what is to be negotiated, and (3) their vision of a post-war El Salvador. Though many of the U.S. participants (to include the International Center) believe the sincerity of the FMLN requires further testing, most agreed that the insurgent group is led by reasonable and thoughtful people who would engage in serious discourse with the Salvadoran and U.S. governments.

The most significant points made by the FMLN at Cocoyoc were as follows:

1. There is a major internal debate underway within the FMLN concerning actions that have resulted in violence against civilians (assassinations and urban bombings). They claimed that a number of these actions were mistakes. They admitted that some urban operations citizens will continue to exercise their legitimate right to demand the termination or conditioning of such assistance. U.S.

have not been sufficiently controlled by the high command, which nevertheless, takes full responsibility for those actions (they admitted, for the first time, responsibility for the April 1989 bombing death of the attorney general, Roberto Garcia Alvarado). They will soon publicly enunciate a clarified policy on assassinations.

2. A political settlement, not military victory, is their stated priority. The FMLN desires a negotiated end to the war which will allow them to achieve their goals peacefully and openly in a restructured political system. They claim that they have the capability, but not the desire, to expand and prolong the war. The costs of intensifying the war would be too high to El Salvador's society and economy. Consequently, they are seeking alternatives to war.

3. Negotiations should include all political forces in El Salvador, not just the government and the FMLN. There are no preconditions to the negotiation process but negotiators for the government must be both representative and authoritative, which is not the case now [This position was problematic, however, in that they rejected the legitimacy of the current National Republican Assembly (ARENA) government]. The Salvadoran military must be purged of its most egregious human rights offenders (they cited an estimated 50 officers) and restructured before the FMLN will participate in elections. Most other contentious issues can be resolved through truly free elections within an open political system.

4. Recent intensification of violence by the FMLN is not intended to provoke right-wing terrorism by the governing ARENA party or the military. Although other means are preferred, the FMLN is using its military force to press the government toward serious negotiations. Mass mobilization and insurrection would be ideal in pressing for a negotiated settlement, and thus, provoking repression against the people would not be logical. They are convinced that the country will eventually be ungovernable, not only because of the FMLN's military pressure, but also due to ARENA's inability to convince its constituency to surrender privileges and incorporate meaningful political and economic reform.

5. Citing their ability to be realistic, the FMLN stated that continued U.S. military and economic support for the government of El Salvador will not be an obstacle to the negotiation process. A cut-off of military aid, however, is desirable, and it is hoped that U.S. citizens will continue to exercise their legitimate right to demand the termination or conditioning of such assistance. U.S. economic aid after the war will be essential and "responsible" foreign investment in a mixed economy would be welcomed. They recognize that the United States can play as much of a positive role in the future as it has played a negative role thus far. Because of the discussions at Cocoyoc, the FMLN says it now better understands U.S. policy. They continue to be optimistic that the Bush Administration will take an [illegible]

FROM THE MOMENT THAT THIS OUTRAGE OCCURED, THERE HAVE BEEN A GREAT MANY MISINFORMED AND UNSUBSTANTIATED STATEMENTS OFFERED BY PERSONS IN POSITIONS OF AUTHORITY. THE VERSION OF EVENTS SURROUNDING THE TAKING OF TESTIMONY IN FLORIDA FROM A WITNESS, THAT WAS PROVIDED TO THE ARCHBISHOP, IS INCORRECT.

Q: WAS SHE POLYGRAPHED?

A: YES, OVER A PERIOD OF THREE DAYS, SHE TOOK AT LEAST SIX POLYGRAPH TESTS.

UNCLASSIFIED
UNCLASSIFIED

A: IT IS NOT A QUESTION OF LYING. THE WITNESS MAY HAVE BEEN NERVOUS BECAUSE OF THE ENTIRE PROCEDURE, AS WELL AS THE EFFECT OF TRAVELING TO A NEW COUNTRY, MEETING WITH OFFICIALS, ETC. ALL THAT ONE CAN CONCLUDE IS THAT IT IS NOT CLEAR WHICH VERSION OF EVENTS SHE OFFERED IS THE MORE ACCURATE.

Q: ABSOLUTELY NOT. THE PURPOSE OF THE LEGAL OFFICER

ACCOMPANYING HER ON THE AIRCRAFT, AND THE PROCEDURES THAT FOLLOWED, WAS TO MAKE HER AS COMFORTABLE AS POSSIBLE.

A: ON WHAT BASIS DO YOU BELIEVE, OR NOT BELIEVE, HER TESTIMONY?

A: IT IS NOT A QUESTION OF BELIEVING OR NOT BELIEVING. EVEN THE MOST DETAILED OF THE VERSIONS SHE OFFERED PROVIDES FEW NEW LEADS. SHE IS NOT ON TRIAL. SHE IS A COOPERATING WITNESS. THE PURPOSE WAS TO OBTAIN AS MUCH INFORMATION AS SHE MIGHT HAVE, TO ALLOW THE INVESTIGATION TO PROCEED AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE.

Q: WHO TOOK CARE OF HER IN MIAMI?

A: THE USG PROVIDED HER WITH FULL SUPPORT AND PROTECTION DURING HER FIRST TEN DAYS IN MIAMI.

Q: WAS SHE THREATENED WITH DEPORTATION?

Diplomatic Relations of the People's Republic of China and Taiwan[1]

Intelligence Research Report No. 214
December 13, 1989

Summary

As of December 1, 1989, China recognized and maintained diplomatic relations with 134 nations and the self-declared "state" of Palestine.[2] Since April 1988 China has exchanged diplomatic recognition with Bahrain, Qatar, and the self-declared Palestinian "state" but has suspended relations with Grenada, Liberia, and Belize.

Taiwan currently is recognized by 26 nations, up from 22 in April 1988. Most of the nations recognizing Taiwan are in Central America and the Caribbean, although the Republic of Korea, Saudi Arabia, and South Africa also recognize Taiwan. In 1989, Belize, Grenada, and Liberia switched diplomatic recognition from China to Taiwan; The Bahamas did so in 1988.

(1) it is crucial to international antidrug efforts that funds be made available for crop substitution programs and alternative employment opportunities to provide alternative sources of income for those individuals in major coca producing countries who are dependent on illicit drug production activities, as well as for eradication, enforcement, rehabilitation and treatment, and education programs in those countries; and

(2) the United States and other major donor countries (including European countries and Japan) should provide increased economic assistance, on an urgent basis, to those major coca producing countries which have taken concrete steps to attack illicit coca production, processing, and trafficking, by eradication, interdiction, or other methods which significantly reduce the flow of cocaine to the world market.

(b) PLAN TO ADDRESS NEED FOR ASSISTANCE.—The Congress, therefore, urges the Director of National Drug Control Policy to submit to the Congress in February 1990, as part of the National Drug Control Strategy report required by section 1005 of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (21 U.S.C. 1504), a plan which addresses the need outlined in subsection (a).

(c) ANDEAN SUMMIT.—The Congress urges the President in the strongest possible terms to include the following issues on the formal agenda of the meeting between the President and the heads of government of Bolivia, Colombia, and Peru, scheduled for early February 1990: Bolivia. Colomb. Peru.

(1) Bilateral and multilateral antidrug efforts that make funds available for crop substitution programs and alternative employment opportunities in major coca producing countries, as well as for eradication, enforcement, rehabilitation and treatment, and education programs in those countries.

(2) Initiatives to improve and expand antidrug efforts in the Andean region, including through the use of United States international economic, commercial, and other policies.

(3) Prior bilateral discussions aimed at increasing multilateral economic development assistance from Japan, Canada, and Western European countries for antidrug efforts in the Andean region.

(4) Debt-for-drugs exchanges that forgive Andean bilateral debt held by the United States and other creditor countries in return for commitments by Andean governments to use the savings in debt service for antidrug programs, pursuant to agreements negotiated under section 481(h)(2)(B) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2291(h)(2)(B)) and other international agreements and initiatives.

(5) Bilateral and multilateral efforts to halt the transfer of arms, precursor chemicals, and sophisticated communications equipment and technology from legitimate sources to drug trafficking organizations.

(d) REPORT ON ANDEAN SUMMIT MEETING.—Not later than 30 days after the conclusion of the Andean summit meeting described in subsection (c), the President shall report to the Congress on the outcome of that meeting. President

(e) SUPPLEMENTAL BUDGET REQUESTS.—At the same time as he submits the report required by subsection (d), the President shall submit to the Congress such supplemental budget requests for fiscal years 1990 and 1991 as may be necessary to cover the United States share of the cost of additional economic assistance to implement an Andean antidrug strategy, including the commitments made at the Andean summit meeting described in subsection (c). President

SEC. 3. MILITARY AND LAW ENFORCEMENT ASSISTANCE FOR BOLIVIA, COLOMBIA, AND PERU. 22 USC

(a) PURPOSES OF ASSISTANCE.—Assistance provided under this section shall be designed to—

(1) enhance the ability of the Government of Bolivia, the Government of Colombia, and the Government of Peru to control illicit narcotics production and trafficking;

(2) strengthen the bilateral ties of the United States with those governments by offering concrete assistance in this area of great mutual concern; and

(3) strengthen respect for internationally recognized human rights and the rule of law in efforts to control illicit narcotics production and trafficking.

OVERVIEW

The following report on the Andean Drug Summit is submitted to Congress pursuant to the International Narcotics Control Act of 1989, H.R. 3611 P.L. 101-231, Section 2(d). The major issues Congress urged the President to raise in the formal agenda of the Andean Drug Summit are presented below per P.L. 101-231, section 2(c)(1-5). Testimony on the Andean Drug Summit was provided to the House Select Committee on Narcotics Abuse and Control on March 7 by Assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs Bernard Aronson and Assistant Secretary of State for International Narcotics Matters Melvyn Levitsky. Assistant Secretary Aronson's prepared testimony is provided at Tab 1.

President George Bush met with President Virgilio Barco of Colombia, President Jaime Paz Zamora of Bolivia and President Alan Garcia of Peru on February 15, 1990, in Cartagena, Colombia, to strengthen cooperation in attacking the production, trafficking and consumption of illicit drugs. Colombia, Bolivia and Peru are the principal sources of the world's supply of cocaine; the United States is the world's largest consumer.

There was a genuine dialogue in Cartagena. Each President educated the others as to his country's specific problems on combatting narcotics. Until recently, fundamentally different U.S. and Andean views of the nature and effects of the cocaine industry offered little hope that an integrated, comprehensive strategy of cooperation could be launched. Now, we are near a historic breakthrough -- the argument over who is "responsible," the Andean "producers" or the U.S. "consumer," is ending. Understanding that the problems of one reinforce the problems of the other is producing agreement that we must simultaneously attack production, distribution and consumption, and that enforcement and alternative development are complementary. The Summit nations agreed to hold a high-level follow-up meeting within the next six months and called for a world anti-narcotics meeting in 1991.

The four Presidents signed the Declaration of Cartagena (Tab 2) which provides the framework for a comprehensive anti-narcotics strategy. The Declaration acknowledges that a successful program will necessarily involve economic and development cooperation and will support intensified actions aimed at reducing trafficking and demand. The Presidents also stressed the need to increase public awareness of the dangers of trafficking and use, and to undertake diplomatic initiatives aimed at building international support.

The Declaration calls for strengthened bilateral cooperation. The United States and Bolivia signed agreements on the control of essential chemicals, weapons exports, and on public awareness (Tab 3). The United States and Peru signed accords on the exchange of tax information and public awareness and exchanged notes on extradition (Tab 4). Other agreements are under negotiation.

The following is a discussion of the major issues Congress urged the President to raise in the formal agenda of the Andean Drug Summit per P.L. 101-231 Section 2(c)(1-5).

Section 2 (c)(1): Bilateral and multilateral anti-drug efforts that make funds available for crop substitution and alternative employment opportunities, eradication, enforcement and education programs.

President Bush came away from Cartagena with a greater appreciation of the economic context which leads Peruvian and Bolivian farmers to cultivate coca and of the economic costs Colombia has paid and continues to pay in its war against the cartels. The President agreed that effective counter-narcotics programs are needed to make coca growing less attractive both economically and socially. He said that one objective of the Andean Strategy was to support Andean efforts to halt the growth of illicit drug production by helping to develop self-sustaining income alternatives for coca farmers. He pointed out that the U.S. would help provide the host countries with balance of payments support and development assistance to permit them to establish self-sustaining income alternatives to coca growing, within the framework of effective drug control programs and sound economic policies.

The Declaration of Cartagena includes an "Understanding Regarding Economic Aspects and Alternative Development." Actions to be taken by the United States and the Andean nations for alternative development and crop substitution are discussed in this section. With regard to alternative development and crop substitution, the United States will support measures aimed at broad-based rural development, promotion of non-traditional exports, and building a productive infrastructure. The United States and the Andeans will work together to identify alternative income activities for external financing. The United States is ready to consider financing activities such as research, extension credit and other agricultural support services as well as support of private-sector initiatives for the creation of micro-enterprises and agro-industries. Of particular note in this section of the Declaration are U.S. and Andean efforts to determine the economic assistance required to ensure sound economic policies to sustain alternative development and crop substitution. President Bush also stated that the United States will assist with coca eradication efforts in areas where eradication can be effective.

President Bush stated that the United States viewed border interdiction and international programs as an integral part of our demand reduction efforts, the first two lines of defense against drug use. He stated that as a nation the United States was serious about ending illicit drug consumption and drug supply within our own national borders. He explained plans to intensify demand reduction efforts within the U.S., which would include treatment facilities, education, and community actions.

Section 2(c)(2): Improve and expand anti-drug efforts through the use of economic, commercial and other policies.

President Bush told the Andean Summit nations that he recognized that the war against drugs will have continuing costs for the economies of these countries. He acknowledged that the Andean Summit nations are facing these costs at the same time they are trying to create alternative jobs, income and foreign exchange to replace those generated by the drug trade.

President Bush committed the United States to provide economic assistance, both bilaterally and through multilateral efforts, according to the needs and circumstances of each individual country. He said that a solid commitment to attack the narcotics traffickers and implement sound economic policies was necessary to unlock the potential resources available from the United States, other countries and the international financial institutions. Sound economic policies are needed to ensure effective use of the assistance, to promote private investment and to expand trade.

UNCLASSIFIED

Another aspect of the Declaration of Cartagena, under the "Understanding Regarding Economic Aspects and Alternative Development" section, includes actions to be taken by the United States and the Andean nations for trade initiatives, incentives to export and private foreign investment, and mitigating the social impact of counter-narcotics efforts. The Declaration, signed by all Summit parties, states that the United States is also prepared to provide balance of payment support to help the Andeans meet foreign exchange needs.

Other economic measures being explored include: tax information exchange agreements; multilateral development bank programs which complement traditional lending; additional food aid; and, where appropriate, promotion of mineral investment. The President said he was prepared to send teams to each of these countries to discuss these and other economic issues. He informed the Summit nations that he had instructed USG officials to work closely with the management of the World Bank and Inter-American Development Bank to exploring ways these institutions can help the Andean countries pursue alternative development.

Section 2(c)(3): Bilateral discussions aimed at increasing multilateral economic/development assistance from Japan, Canada and Western Europe.

President Bush and other Administration officials, including Secretary of State Baker, have held numerous high-level bilateral meetings with leaders from a number of developed nations regarding assistance they could provide the Andean nations for anti-drug efforts. These nations include Japan, France, the United Kingdom, Spain, Italy, and West Germany. At the Andean Summit, President Bush expressed support for continued discussions in international fora on assistance to the Andes.

In the Declaration of Cartagena, the United States and the Andean nations also stressed the importance of the document issued by the Trilateral Meeting in Madrid by the governments of Italy, Spain and the United States. The Declaration also highlighted the efforts undertaken in Europe, particularly those of the European Community, with a view to adopting specific policies and initiatives against illicit drug trafficking. The United States and the Andean nations called for a world conference in 1991 to strengthen international cooperation in the elimination of improper consumption, illegal trafficking in and production of drugs.

UNCLASSIFIED

Section 2(c)(4): Andean Bilateral Debt

At the Summit, President Bush recognized the significant debt problems faced by the Andeans. While debt-for-drugs exchanges were not discussed at Cartagena, the President pledged that the United States would continue to work for constructive solutions in the area of debt relief, based on the unique problems and economic circumstances of each country. The President emphasized to the Andean Presidents the importance of the Paris Club as the proper place to discuss rescheduling of official debt.

Section 2(c)5): Bilateral and multilateral efforts to halt the transfer of arms, precursor chemicals, and sophisticated communications equipment and technology to drug trafficking sources.

President Bush committed the United States to assist the Andean countries in their efforts to isolate key coca growing areas and deny traffickers access to these areas by air, river, and road. He said that the United States will support cooperative efforts to block the shipment of key precursor chemicals to cocaine-producing areas.

The second part of the Declaration of Cartagena deals with "Understandings Regarding Attacking Illicit Drugs." This part details efforts by the United States and the Andean nations to step up interdiction and eradication, as well as work to reduce demand for narcotics. This section includes understandings on sharing of information, cooperation in controlling financial activities of drug traffickers, and the forfeiture and sharing of seized assets among the signatories. In addition, the United States and the Andean nations agreed to take steps to control the use and export of weapons, planes, ships, explosives, communications equipment, and chemicals to prevent their use in the production and transport of narcotics. Various side agreements, as mentioned in the overview, were signed to support the understanding in the Declaration.

TESTIMONY OF BERNARD W. ARONSON
ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INTER-AMERICAN AFFAIRS
BEFORE THE HOUSE SELECT COMMITTEE ON NARCOTICS
March 7, 1990

UNCLASSIFIED

The February 15 Andean Drug Summit in Cartagena, Colombia, marked the beginning of a new relationship with the Andes. The four presidents, Virgilio Barco of Colombia, Alan Garcia of Peru, Jaime Paz Zamora of Bolivia and President Bush, agreed on a common strategy for dealing with the scourge of drugs and signed six specific side agreements. But more importantly each president came away with a better understanding of how the cocaine network threatens each country, and a commitment to implement a coordinated, intensified anti-narcotics strategy in his own country.

President Bush's initial meeting with the three Andean presidents proved so useful and informative that it continued straight through for two and a half hours, one hour more than had been scheduled. The presidents had an extremely cordial and fruitful discussion about how each nation faces the drug problem.

A new era in United States and Andean perspectives on the drug problem has begun. The debate on who was to blame ended at Cartagena. The United States recognized that its internal demand must be reduced to curtail drug trafficking from the Andes. Bolivia, Colombia and Peru accepted their responsibility as well to move aggressively against the cartels. We have now agreed that both consumers and producers have a common problem and a common responsibility to do something about it.

The argument of interdiction versus economic development was also put to rest at the summit. Both must go forward simultaneously. Economic development will fail if coca prices do not go down as a result of interdiction. Interdiction will prove to be an endless task if there is no alternative development. We are willing to help the Andean drug producing countries if they are aggressively attacking the coca trade. After a significant increase in law enforcement assistance in FY-90, we are providing a major increase in economic assistance in FY-91.

At the summit six bilateral agreements were signed; three with Bolivia (on the control of essential chemicals, weapons export control, and public awareness) and three with Peru (on tax information exchange, public awareness, and an exchange of diplomatic notes confirming that narcotics trafficking is covered by the 1899 U.S.-Peru extradition treaty). We are continuing to negotiate other side agreements with Bolivia, Colombia and Peru.

In explaining our National Drug Control strategy, President Bush told the Summit partners that in order to pay for all our FY-91 anti-drug programs, he is asking

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

Congress to appropriate $10.6 billion in drug-related budget authority -- a $4.3 billion (69 percent) increase since the President took office. He stressed our determination to reduce demand in the United States and informed the Andean leaders that casual drug use in the United States has dropped since 1985.

President Bush noted that in FY-91, we plan to allocate $7.6 billion of Federal funds for demand and supply reduction within the U.S. In the area of treatment we plan to spend $1.5 billion, an increase of $600 million since President Bush took office. Additionally, we plan to hire more agents in all areas of law enforcement and to create a National Drug Intelligence Center to consolidate law enforcement information related to drug enforcement.

At the same time, President Bush stressed that we cannot reduce demand for illicit drugs in the United States if the supply of such drugs remains unabated. We view border interdiction and international programs as an integral part of our demand reduction efforts. To this end we plan to expand and develop cooperative efforts with transit countries in drug enforcement and the disruption of money laundering. We will increase our bilateral and multilateral law enforcement information-sharing arrangements. We will strengthen our ability to detect, investigate and prosecute international money laundering, and to seize and obtain the forfeiture of drug-related assets. And we will also develop better ways to share seized assets with cooperating nations.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

The President also pointed out that we are intensifying our efforts to stop the illegal flow of munitions from the United States to other countries, and to help other countries control the flow of munitions within their own borders. We have also initiated a major effort to stop the diversion of precursor chemicals into the drug trade.

As part of our international strategy, the President noted that we would work to include the issue of illicit drugs on the agendas of the Houston Economic Summit, the recently concluded United Nations Special Session on Narcotics, and other international meetings. He added that we would work with the developed nations to enhance international assistance to drug-producing countries.

The President stressed the need to emphasize international demand reduction efforts, by improving international exchanges of 'nformation about successful drug prevention, education, and workplace programs. He also mentioned that we seek a World Drug Conference, to discuss the efforts of all nations to end the problem.

Focusing on the Andes, President Bush noted that our national anti-narcotics strategy gives special attention to the Andean region. The goal of the Andean strategy is to support the Andean governments in their efforts to stop the production and trafficking of cocaine at the source. To achieve this, the President stated we have established three major interrelated objectives:

UNCLASSIFIED

-- The first objective is to support the Andeans ability to win the war against the illicit drug trafficking organizations, to break up international money laundering operations, and to seize the assets of drug traffickers.

-- The second objective is to work with the Andeans to stop the flow of cocaine by suppressing the production, processing and trafficking of the substance.

-- And the third objective is to support the efforts by the Andeans to halt the growth of illicit drugs, by helping to develop self-sustaining income alternatives for coca farmers.

To attain these objectives, the President stated that we are proposing to double the amount of money available for programs and operations in the Andean Region from FY-90 to FY-91, to provide law enforcement, military, and economic assistance to all three Andean countries.

Of the FY-91 funds, about half, over $200 million, will go for economic assistance. And the totals will grow further in FY-92, all in the areas of economic assistance. We will support efforts to increase trade and investment opportunities, thus strengthening and sustaining overall economic growth.

UNCLASSIFIED

The President stated that our specific program objectives for the Andean nations call for providing expanded law enforcement, military and intelligence assistance to strengthen the capability of the Andean nations to confront the cocaine trade.

In order to obtain the assistance required to help the Andeans fight the drug war, the President underscored that it was necessary that the U.S. Congress appropriate the funds. He told the Andean presidents that he needed to show Congress that their counternarcotics programs were effective, as Colombia's massive effort clearly is, and that their alternative development and other economic efforts are built on sound economic policies, as is essential for any country obtaining external economic assistance. The Andean strategy must work in order for it to continue.

The Andean presidents explained their countries' situation to President Bush. The President came away with a greater appreciation of the economic context which leads Peruvian and Bolivian farmers to cultivate coca and of the economic costs Colombia has paid and continues to pay in its war against the cartels.

The key document signed at Cartagena is the Declaration of Cartagena. It contains the strategy that the four countries will implement and is designed to attack simultaneously every link in the cocaine chain from production to distribution to consumption. The Declaration addresses both interdiction and alternative development commits the Andeans to using military forces in the war on drugs, and makes clear that our assistance will be based upon the Andean countries' anti-narcotics performance and implementation of sound economic policy.

The first portion of the Declaration is entitled "Understandings Regarding Economic Aspects and Alternative Development." Actions to be taken by the United States and the Andean nations for alternative development and crop substitution, mitigating the social impact, trade initiatives, and incentives to exports and private foreign investment are contained here.

Of particular note in this section are United States and Andean efforts to determine the economic assistance required to ensure sound economic policies to sustain alternative development and crop substitution. The United States is also prepared to provide balance of payments support to help the Andeans meet foreign exchange needs.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

The second part of the Declaration deals with "Understandings Regarding Attacking Illicit Drugs." This part details efforts by the United States and the Andean nations to step up interdiction and eradication, as well as work to reduce demand for narcotics. The section also included understandings on sharing of information and intelligence, cooperation in controlling the finances of drug traffickers, and the forfeiture and sharing of illegal drug proceeds among the signatories. In addition, the United States and the Andean nations agreed to take steps to control the use and export of weapons, planes, ships, explosives, communications equipment, and chemicals to prevent their use in the production and transport of narcotics.

The final part of the Declaration outlines "Understandings Regarding Diplomatic Initiatives and Public Opinion." The United States and the Andean countries pledged to seek from the international community an intensified program of public information stressing the dangers of drug trafficking. The section lists international fora that will be used by the United States and the Andean nations to seek support from developed nations in providing economic assistance, and from regional bodies such as the OAS, for hemispheric cooperation in attacking the drug trade.

The Declaration also calls for a world conference against illicit drug trafficking in 1991 in order to progress towards the goals agreed upon at the Cartagena Summit. Such a conference would strengthen international cooperation in the elimination of improper consumption, illegal trafficking and production of drugs.

UNCLASSIFI

There was a strong plea by the Andean countries that this become a multilateral effort. The drug problem also affects the societies of the United Nations Fund for Drug Abuse Control (UNFDAC) donor nations.

The summit participants also agreed to hold a high-level follow up meeting within six months; this meeting may be expanded to include others.

The Cartagena Summit was an historic occasion. Each leader understood its significance and meaning. All recognized that the narcotics problem can only be stopped through continued cooperation and assistance. We must assist the Andean nations and they have vowed to help us fight the dangers of the drug trade. In that spirit President Bush returned from Colombia even more committed to helping the Andean nations. All four governments must work together to make this cooperative venture work. It will not be easy. We will not be able to declare victory and walk away. What is required is a sustained commitment to reduce demand at home and to attack every link of the cocaine chain from production to consumption. It is the only way we can succeed.

UNCLASSIFIED

The Presidents of Bolivia, Colombia, the United States of America and Peru, met in Cartagena de Indias, Colombia on the fifteenth day of February one thousand nine hundred and ninety, and issued the following:

DECLARATION OF CARTAGENA

The Parties consider that a strategy which commits the Parties to implement or strengthen a comprehensive, intensified anti-narcotics program must address the issues of demand reduction, consumption and supply. Such a strategy also must include understandings regarding economic cooperation, alternative development, encouragement of trade and investment, as well as understandings on attacking the traffic in illicit drugs, and on diplomatic and public diplomacy initiatives.

The Parties recognize that these areas are interconnected and self-reinforcing. Progress in one area will help achieve progress in others. Failure in any of them will jeopardize progress in the others. The order in which they are addressed in the document is not meant to assign to them any particular priority.

Economic cooperation and international initiatives cannot be effective unless there are concomitant, dynamic programs attacking the production of, trafficking in and demand for illicit drugs. It is clear that to be fully effective, supply reduction efforts must be accompanied by significant reduction in demand. The Parties recognize that the exchange of information on demand control programs will benefit their countries.

The Parties recognize that the nature and impact of the traffic in and interdiction of illicit drugs varies in each of the three Andean countries and cannot be addressed fully in this document. The Parties will negotiate bilateral and multilateral agreements, consistent with their anti-narcotics efforts, specifying their responsibilities and commitments with regard to economic cooperation and intensified enforcement actions.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

A. UNDERSTANDINGS REGARDING ECONOMIC ASPECTS AND ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT

The Parties recognize that trafficking in illicit drugs has a negative long-term impact on their economies. In some of the Parties, profits from coca production and trade and from illicit drug trafficking contribute, in varying degrees, to the entry of foreign exchange and to the generation of employment and income. Suppression of coca production and trade will result in significant, immediate, and long-term economic costs that will affect, in various ways, each of the Andean countries.

The President of the United States will request Congress to authorize new funds for the program during fiscal years 1991 to 1994, in order to support the Andean Parties' efforts to counteract the short- and long-term socio-economic impact of an effective fight against illicit drugs. This contribution by the United States would be made within the framework of actions against drug trafficking carried out by the Andean Parties. The Andean Parties reiterate the importance of implementing or strengthening sound economic policies for the effective utilization of such a contribution. The United States is also prepared to cooperate with the Andean Parties in a wide range of initiatives for development, trade and investment in order to strengthen and sustain long-term economic growth.

Alternative development, designed to replace the coca economy in Peru and Bolivia and illicit drug trafficking in all the Andean Parties, includes the following areas of cooperation. In the short-term, there is a need to create and/or to strengthen social emergency programs and balance of payments support to mitigate the social and economic costs stemming from substitution. In the medium- and long-term, investment programs and measures will be needed to create the economic conditions for definitive substitution of the coca economy in those countries where it exists or of that sector of the economy affected by narcotics trafficking. It is also necessary to implement programs to preserve the ecological balance.

1. ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT AND CROP SUBSTITUTION

In order to foster increased employment and income opportunities throughout the entire productive system and implement or enhance a sound economic policy to sustain long-term growth, the United States will support measures aimed at stimulating broad-based rural development, promoting non-traditional exports, and building or reinforcing productive infrastructure, among other measures. The Parties, in accordance with the respective policies of Bolivia, Colombia, Peru and the United States, will determine the economic assistance required to ensure sound economic policies and sustain alternative development and crop substitution, which in the medium-term will help replace the income, employment and entry of foreign exchange in the countries in which these have been generated by the illegal coca economy. The United States is prepared to finance economic activities of this kind with new and concessional resources.

UNCLASSIFIED

In order to achieve a complete program of alternative development and crop substitution, the Parties agree that in addition to the cooperation provided by the United States, economic cooperation, as well as greater incentives to investment and foreign trade from other sources, will be needed. The Parties will make concerted efforts to obtain the support of multilateral and other economic institutions for these programs, as the three Andean Parties implement or continue sound economic policies and effective programs against drugs.

The Parties are convinced that a comprehensive fight against illicit drug traffic will disrupt the market for coca and coca derivatives and will reduce their prices. As success is achieved in this fight, those employed in growing coca and in its primary processing will seek alternative sources of income either by crop substitution or by changing jobs. The Parties will work together to identify alternative income activities for external financing. The United States is ready to consider financing of activities such as research, extension, credit and other agricultural support services and support of private-sector initiatives for the creation of micro-enterprises and agro-industries.

The United States will also cooperate with the Andean Parties to promote viable domestic and foreign markets to sell the products generated by alternative development and crop substitution programs.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

2. MITIGATION OF THE SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC IMPACT OF THE FIGHT AGAINST ILLICIT DRUG TRAFFICKING

As the Andean Parties implement or continue to develop effective programs of interdiction of the flow of illicit drugs and of crop eradication, they will need assistance of the fast disbursement type to mitigate both small- and large-scale social and economic costs. The Parties will cooperate to identify the type of assistance required. The United States is prepared to provide balance of payments support to help meet foreign exchange needs. The United States will also consider funding for emergency social programs, such as the successful one in Bolivia, to provide employment and other opportunities to the poor directly affected by the fight against illicit drugs.

3. TRADE INITIATIVES, INCENTIVES TO EXPORTS AND PRIVATE FOREIGN INVESTMENT

An increase in trade and private investment is essential to facilitate sustained economic growth and to help offset the economic dislocations resulting from any effective program against illicit drugs. The Parties will work together to increase trade among the three Andean countries and the United States, effectively facilitating access to the United States market and strengthening export promotion, including identification, development and marketing of new export products. The United States will also consider providing appropriate technical and financial assistance to help Andean agricultural products comply with the admission requirements.

The Parties may consider the establishment of economic and investment policies, as well as legislation and regulations to foster private investment. Where favorable conditions exist, the United States will facilitate private investment in the three Andean countries, taking into account the particular conditions and potential of each.

UNCLASSIFIED

B. UNDERSTANDINGS REGARDING ATTACKING ILLICIT DRUGS

The Parties reaffirm their will to fight drug trafficking in a comprehensive manner attacking all facets of the trade: production, transportation and consumption. Such comprehensive action includes the following:

-- Preventive actions to reduce consumption and therefore demand.

-- Control and law enforcement activities against illegal cultivation, processing, and marketing of illicit drugs.

-- Control of essential chemicals for the production of illegal drugs and the means used for their transport.

-- Seizure, forfeiture, and sharing of illegal proceeds and property used in committing narcotics-related crimes.

-- Coordination of law enforcement agencies, the military, prosecutors and courts, within the framework of national sovereignty of each of the Parties.

-- Actions to bring about a net reduction in the illegal cultivation of coca.

The Parties undertake to engage in an ongoing evaluation of their cooperation, so that the President of the United States, as appropriate, may request Congress to provide additional assistance to the Andean Parties.

Given that the Parties act within a framework of respect for human rights, they reaffirm that nothing would do more to undermine the war on drugs than disregard for human rights by participants in the effort.

1. PREVENTION AND DEMAND

The Parties undertake to support development and expansion of programs on comprehensive prevention, such as preventive public education in both rural and urban areas, treatment of drug addicts, and information to encourage the public opposition to illegal drug production, trade and consumption. These programs are fundamental if the drug problem is to be successfully confronted.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCL

The Parties recognize that prevention efforts in the four countries will benefit from shared information about successful prevention programs and from bilateral and multilateral cooperation agreements to expand efforts in this field.

To this end, the Parties undertake to contribute economic, material and technical resources to support such comprehensive prevention programs.

2. INTERDICTION

A battle against an illicit product must focus on the demand for, production of and trade in that product. Interdiction of illegal drugs, as they move from producer to consumer, is essential. The Parties pledge to step up efforts within their own countries to interdict illegal drugs and to increase coordination and cooperation among them to facilitate this fight. The United States is ready to provide increased cooperation in equipment and training to the law enforcement bodies of the Andean Parties.

3. INVOLVEMENT OF THE ARMED FORCES OF THE RESPECTIVE COUNTRIES

The control of illegal trafficking in drugs is essentially a law enforcement matter. However, because of its magnitude and the different aspects involved, and in keeping with the sovereign interest of each State and its own judicial system, the armed forces in each of the countries, within their own territory and national jurisdictions, may also participate. The Parties may establish bilateral and multilateral understandings for cooperation in accordance with their interests, needs and priorities.

4. INFORMATION SHARING AND INTELLIGENCE COOPERATION

The Parties commit themselves to a greater exchange of information and intelligence in order to strengthen action by the competent agencies. The Parties will pursue bilateral and multilateral understandings on information and intelligence cooperation, consistent with their national interests and priorities.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNC

5. ERADICATION AND DISCOURAGEMENT OF ILLICIT CROPS

Eradication can play an essential part in the anti-drug fight of each country. In each case, eradication programs have to be carefully crafted, measuring their possible effect on total illicit drug production in each country; their cost-benefit ratio relative to other means of fighting illicit drugs; whether they can be most effective as voluntary or compulsory programs or a combination of the two; and their probable political and social consequences.

The Parties recognize that to eradicate illicit crops, the participation of the growers themselves is desirable, adopting measures that will help them obtain legal sources of income.

New economic opportunities, such as programs for alternative development and crop substitution, shall be fostered to help to dissuade growers from initiating or expanding illegal cultivation. Our goal is a sustained reduction in the total area under their illegal cultivation.

Eradication programs must safeguard human health and preserve the ecosystem.

6. CONTROL OF FINANCIAL ASSETS

The Parties agree to identify, trace, freeze, seize, and apply other legal procedures for the disposition of drug crime proceeds in their respective countries, and to attack financial aspects of the illicit drug trade. In accordance with their respective laws, each of the Parties will seek to adopt measures to define, categorize, and criminalize money laundering, as well as to increase efforts to implement current legislation. The Parties agree to establish formulas providing exceptions to banking secrecy.

7. FORFEITURE AND SHARING OF ILLEGAL DRUG PROCEEDS

The Parties pledge to implement a system for forfeiture and sharing of illegal drug profits and assets, and to establish effective programs in this area.

In United States cases related to forfeiture of property of illegal drug traffickers where Bolivia,

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCL

Colombia, and Peru provide assistance to the United States Government, the Government of the United States pledges to transfer to the assisting government such forfeited property, to the extent consistent with United States' laws and regulations. The Parties will also seek asset sharing agreements for Bolivia, Colombia, and Peru, and with other countries.

8. CONTROL OF ESSENTIAL CHEMICALS USED IN THE PRODUCTION OF ILLICIT DRUGS

The control in the United States of the export of chemical substances used in the processing of cocaine is vital. In addition, there is a need for greater control of the import and domestic production of such substances by the Andean Parties. Joint efforts must be coordinated to eliminate the illicit trade in such substances.

The Parties agree:

-- to step up interdiction of the movements of essential chemicals that have already entered the country, legally or illegally, and are being diverted for illicit drug processing. This includes controlling choke points as well as establishing investigative and monitoring programs in close cooperation with all the Parties' law enforcement agencies.

-- to further develop an internal system to track essential chemicals through sale, resale and distribution to the end user.

-- to cooperate bilaterally and multilaterally to provide each other with information necessary to track domestic and international movements of essential chemicals for the purpose of controlling their sale and use.

-- to support the efforts under the Organization of American States (OAS) auspices to develop and implement a regional inter-American agreement on essential chemicals.

9. CONTROL OF WEAPONS, PLANES, SHIPS, EXPLOSIVES AND COMMUNICATIONS EQUIPMENT USED IN ILLEGAL DRUG TRAFFICKING

Illicit drug trafficking is heavily dependent on weapons, explosives, communications equipment, and air, maritime and riverine transportation throughout the illicit cultivation and the production and distribution process.

The Parties agree:

-- to strengthen controls over the movement of illegal weapons and explosives and over the sale, resale and the registration of aircraft and maritime vessels in their respective countries, which should be carried out by their own authorities.

The Parties agree to establish within their own territory control programs that include:

-- the registration of ships and aircraft;

-- the adoption of legal standards that permit effective forfeiture of aircraft and vessels;

-- controls on pilot licenses and training;

-- registration of airfields in their respective countries;

-- development of control measures over communications equipment used in illegal drug trafficking to the extent permitted by their respective laws and national interests.

The United States agrees to work with the Andean Parties to stem weapons exports from the United States to illegal drug traffickers in the three Andean nations.

10. LEGAL COOPERATION

The Parties pledge to cooperate in the sharing of instrumental evidence in forms admissible by their judicial proceedings. The Parties also agree to seek mechanisms that permit the exchange of information on legislation and judicial decisions in order to optimize legal proceedings against the traffic in illicit drugs.

The Parties recognize the value of international cooperation in strengthening the administration of justice, including the protection of judges, judicial personnel, and other individuals who take part in these proceedings.

C. UNDERSTANDINGS REGARDING DIPLOMATIC INITIATIVES AND PUBLIC OPINION

The scourge of illicit drug trafficking and consumption respects no borders, threatens national security, and erodes the economic and social structures of our nations. It is essential to adopt and carry out a comprehensive strategy to promote full awareness of the destructive effects of illegal production, illicit trafficking and the improper consumption of drugs. Toward this end, the Parties commit themselves to use all political and economic means within their power to put into effect programs aimed at achieving this goal.

1. STRENGTHENING PUBLIC OPINION IN FAVOR OF INTENSIFYING THE FIGHT AGAINST ILLEGAL DRUG TRAFFICKING

Public awareness should be enhanced also by means of active and determined diplomatic action. The Parties pledge to strengthen plans for joint programs leading to the exchange of ideas, experiences, and specialists in the field. The Parties call upon the international community to intensify a program of public information stressing the danger of drug trafficking in all of its phases. In this regard, the Parties undertake to give active support to inter-american public awareness and demand reduction programs, and will support the development of a drug prevention education plan at the Inter-American meeting in Quito this year.

2. ECONOMIC SUMMIT

The 1989 Economic Summit in Paris established a Financial Action Task Force to determine how governments could promote cooperation and effective action against the laundering of money gained through illegal drug trafficking.

UNCLASSIFIED

The United States will host the next Economic Summit on July 9-11, 1990, in Houston. The United States will use this opportunity to seek full attention on a priority basis to the fight against illegal drug trafficking.

The Parties call upon the Economic Summit member countries, and on the other participants in the Financial Action Task Force, to give greater emphasis to the study of economic measures which may help to reduce drug trafficking. In particular, the Parties call upon the Economic Summit countries to take the steps necessary to ensure that assets seized from illicit drug trafficking in Bolivia, Colombia and Peru are used to finance programs for interdiction, alternative development and prevention in our countries.

3. MULTILATERAL APPROACHES AND COORDINATION

The Parties intend to coordinate their actions in multilateral economic institutions in order to ensure for Bolivia, Colombia and Peru, broader economic cooperation within the framework of a sound economic policy.

4. REPORT TO THE UN SPECIAL SESSION ON ILLICIT TRAFFICKING IN DRUGS

The United Nations has recognized that the problem of drug trafficking presents a grave threat to the security of the states and economic stability. It has called for a Global Action Plan and it has convened a Special Session, February 20-23, 1990, to discuss the magnitude of this problem. This will be a proper occasion to reiterate the need to bring into force as quickly as possible the UN Convention Against Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Pyschotropic Substances, which provides for energetic measures against illegal drug trafficking, while recognizing the ancestral and traditional uses of coca leaf.

The Parties request that consideration be given during the Special Session to the inclusion of the cooperative efforts outlined in this document to develop concrete programs for strengthening multilateral responses to the drug problem, as recommended in Resolution No. 44/141 of the United Nations General Assembly.

5. REPORT TO THE OAS MEETING OF MINISTERS AND CICAD

The Organization of American States has called an Inter-American meeting of Ministers responsible for national narcotics programs, to be held on April 17-20, 1990 in Ixtapa, Mexico. The Parties urge that the meeting of Ministers and the Inter-American Drug Abuse Control Commission (CICAD) give priority to the understandings set forth in this document and lend support to their early implementation within the context of regional cooperation against drugs.

6. MADRID TRILATERAL MEETING

The Parties stress the importance of the document issued by the Trilateral Meeting in Madrid and the efforts undertaken in Europe, particularly the participation of the European Community, with a view to adopting specific policies and initiatives against illicit trafficking of drugs.

7. WORLD MINISTERIAL SUMMIT TO REDUCE DEMAND FOR DRUGS AND TO COMBAT THE COCAINE THREAT

The Parties note with satisfaction the convening of a World Ministerial Summit to Reduce Demand for Drugs and to Combat the Cocaine Threat, to be held on April 9-11, 1990 in London. This meeting will serve to highlight the role demand reduction must play in the international community's efforts to reduce the trade in illicit drugs and will underline the social, economic and human costs of the trade. The Parties agree to coordinate their actions and future strategies in this area with the objective of building upon this important initiative.

8. DEMARCHES TO TRANSIT COUNTRIES

Through specialized agencies of the United Nations such as the Heads of National Law Enforcement Agencies, our countries participate in important coordination efforts. The Parties undertake to strengthen cooperation with transit countries on interdiction of traffic in illicit drugs.

9. WORLD CONFERENCE AGAINST ILLICIT DRUG TRAFFICKING

In order to progress towards the goals agreed upon at the Cartagena Summit, the Parties call for a world conference in 1991 to strengthen international cooperation in the elimination of improper consumption, illegal trafficking and production of drugs.

10. FOLLOW-UP MEETING TO THE CARTAGENA SUMMIT

In order to follow up on progress of agreements arising under the foregoing understandings, the Parties agree to hold a high level follow-up meeting within a period of not more than six months.

Bolivia and the United States recognize that the process of production, distribution and use of illegal drugs knows no boundaries. No country is immune. Any one of these drug chain activities inevitably leads to establishment of the others at home and abroad. Recognizing this, Bolivia and the United States are determined to take steps now to reduce consumption as well as production. Bolivia and the United States have held dialogue on eradication, criminal activity, public awareness, and demand reduction. They now intend to expand this dialogue into a coordinated multilateral, multi-dimensional effort as described in this Memorandum of Understanding.

Bolivia and the United States intend to carry out long term, continuous cooperative programs to raise public awareness and galvanize public support for these efforts. These may be bilateral, fully multilateral or regional projects. All parties expect to utilize each others' ideas and experience. Co-sponsors from all communities will be welcomed to come forward and participate in this effort.

In this fully cooperative endeavor, the United States looks forward to benefiting from the experience and expertise available from our Andean partners. Ideas and programs from government and the private sector will flow north as well as south, so that the United States, as the great consumer of illicit drugs, can benefit from the experience of the three Andean countries.

Bolivia and the United States recognize that cross-fertilization of ideas, experience and activities is essential to the success of this overall effort. To move toward this objective, the countries intend to:

-- Establish and share in the International Narcotics Information Network (ININ), a computerized data base, so that research and other forms of information on anti-drug activities in the United States, the Andes and elsewhere can be made accessible and easily obtainable to those needing this information.

UNCLASSIFIED

-- Jointly co-sponsor mass media projects that promote the sharing of information about illicit drug problems and solutions. Geographic barriers and distance between Bolivia and the United States will no longer block the vital information our citizens need to fight the scourge of drugs. This effort should result in greater media (electronic and print) cooperation. Mechanisms will be strengthened to facilitate the regular appearance of items produced by journalists of one country in the media of the other.

-- Co-produce and sponsor the distribution and dissemination of media products aimed at children and young adults for use in schools, religious and other non-governmental community-based organizations.

-- Co-operate in the production of educational materials using all available media--print and electronic--that can be utilized by all sectors of society; establish a library/bank for concerned ministries and private groups; materials would be indexed on the ININ computerized database.

UNC

-- Co-sponsor efforts to educate the private and public sectors of the Andean countries to take full advantage of the United States Andean Trade Initiative (ATI). This will include activities such as seminars and workshops, written and electronic promotional materials.

-- Encourage the international academic exchange communities in each country to develop exchange programs focusing on drug-related matters; provide for the exchange of curriculum consultants to assist in the development of drug education materials for their nations' schools.

-- Assist Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs) in the development of education, prevention and treatment programs.

-- Produce and distribute a series of pamphlets that focus on drug abuse awareness and education.

FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF THE REPUBLIC OF PERU:

FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA:

UNCLASSIFIED

The Government of the United States of America presents its compliments to the Government of the Republic of Peru and has the honor to refer to the mutual desire of our countries to enhance effective law enforcement cooperation and to recognize the importance of the return of fugitives to stand trial to this effort. In this regard, the Government of the United States has the honor to refer to the Treaty Between the United States of America and the Republic of Peru Providing for the Extradition of Criminals of November 28, 1899 and confirm the understanding of the United States Government that the treaty remains in full force and effect.

Important steps were taken toward forging an international consensus on extradition matters during the negotiation of the United Nations Convention Against Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances ("Vienna Convention"), which representatives of both of our countries signed on December 20, 1988 in Vienna. Integral to that consensus is the sense that, with all due deference to national differences in identifying crimes, offenses based on the same underlying facts, however denominated, shall be covered as extraditable offenses.

In order to reflect that understanding and to move toward early implementation of the Vienna Convention, it is the desire of the Government of the United States to confirm its understanding that narcotics offenses are incorporated as extraditable offenses under Article 2 of the 1899 Treaty by reference to the Single Convention on Narcotic Drugs of March 30, 1961 as amended by the March 25, 1972 Protocol, to which both of our countries are parties. It is the view of the Government of the United States that narcotic drug offenses are incorporated in the 1899 Treaty by reference to Article 36(2)(b)(i) of the Single Convention, as amended.

Article 36(1) and 2(a)(ii) cover a wide range of drug-related offenses including possession, offering for sale, distribution, dispatch in transit and importation and exportation. Conspiracy to commit, attempt to commit, and financial operations connected with drug-related offenses are also included. It is the view of the Government of the United States that Article 3 of the Vienna Convention elucidates in further detail narcotics and related offenses identified in the Single Convention, as amended.

In furtherance of the purpose of Article XII of the 1899 Treaty that the requesting party shall not bear expenses from services of public officers of the requested state, the United States Department of Justice will provide upon the request of the Government of Peru representation for the Government of Peru in judicial proceedings arising from Peruvian requests for the extradition of fugitives from the United States. The Government of the United States seeks assurance that the Government of Peru will undertake a reciprocal obligation. In this regard, to facilitate the prompt and efficient processing of extradition requests, the requested party shall make all necessary arrangements for and meet the costs of representation of the requesting party in any proceedings arising out of a request for extradition.

As an indication of good faith to work together to insure effective and timely extraditions, the Government of the United States shall insure prompt presentation of an extradition request from the Government of Peru to the appropriate judicial authorities, upon receipt of the formal extradition request through diplomatic channels.

This exchange of reciprocal notes between the Government of the United States and the Government of Peru, on the fifteenth of February 1990, constitutes an agreement between the parties.

The Government of the United States avails itself of this opportunity to reiterate to the Government of Peru assurances of its highest consideration.

THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY, LARGELY WITHOUT SERIOUS INCIDENT. HOWEVER, ACCORDING TO MEDIA REPORTS IN MID-AFTERNOON, TWO GUNMEN SHOT AND KILLED A CARABINERO ON ELECTION GUARD DUTY IN A WORKING-CLASS SECTION OF SANTIAGO. A FOREIGN MINISTRY RELEASE ISSUED BEFORE THAT KILLING DESCRIBED THE VOTING AS NORMAL AND WITHOUT INCIDENT. A MEDIA REPORT PUT OUT BY THE OPPOSITION COALITION IN THE EARLY AFTERNOON AGREED IN ESSENCE, SAYING THAT THERE HAD BEEN "ONLY MINOR INCIDENTS" AT VOTING STATIONS. ALTHOUGH THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT DOES NOT OFFICIALLY RECOGNIZE THE STATUS OF ELECTION OBSERVERS, NEITHER EMBOFFS NOR INTERNATIONAL VISITORS HAVE REPORTED ANY DIFFICULTY IN ENTERING POLLING PLACES TO VIEW THE ELECTORAL PROCESS. END SUMMARY.

2. AN ORDERLY PROCESS: AT ABOUT 1000, AN INTERIOR MINISTRY SUBSECRETARY TOLD THE PRESS THAT 95.4 PERCENT OF THE COUNTRY'S VOTING TABLES WERE IN OPERATION. A FOREIGN MINISTRY RELEASE, THE FIRST OF THREE PLANNED FOR DECEMBER 14-15, REPORTED THAT AT NOON THE VOTING WAS PROCEEDING NORMALLY AND WITHOUT INCIDENT. A MEDIA REPORT PUT OUT BY THE OPPOSITION COALITION IN THE EARLY AFTERNOON AGREED IN ESSENCE, SAYING THAT THERE HAD BEEN "ONLY MINOR INCIDENTS" AT VOTING STATIONS.

4. MASSIVE PARTICIPATION, LONG WAITS: THROUGHOUT SANTIAGO, MASSIVE PARTICIPATION AND A RELATIVELY COMPLEX VOTING PROCEDURE -- WHICH REQUIRES EACH VOTER TO MARK SEPARATE BALLOTS FOR PRESIDENT, SENATE, AND CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES -- PRODUCED LONG LINES AT MANY POLLING PLACES DURING THE MORNING. EMBOFFS CALLING IN REPORTS FROM OTHER CHILEAN CITIES DESCRIBED SIMILARLY LONG LINES AT THE POLLS IN METROPOLITAN AREAS OUTSIDE THE CAPITAL AS WELL. THE ONLY DIFFICULTY OF

WOULD ACCOMPLISH SEVERAL OTHER OBJECTIVES: STRENGTHEN DEMOCRACY, REDUCE PRESSURE FROM SUBVERSION AND IMPROVE INTERNAL SECURITY. THE AMBASSADOR NOTED THAT MILITARY ASSISTANCE IN GENERAL FACES ACROSS THE BOARD CUTS, AND

THAT HE HAS PERSONALLY URGED THAT GUATEMALA CONTINUE TO RECEIVE SOME MILITARY ASSISTANCE.

4. ECONOMIC AID. RIVERA SAID THE COURAGEOUS ECONOMIC DECISIONS TAKEN BY THE GOG, FLOATING THE QUETZAL AND INTEREST RATES AND FREEING PRICES, SHOULD DESERVE CONTINUED ECONOMIC SUPPORT BY THE USG. DEMOCRACY IS BEST STRENGTHENED BY A VIABLE ECONOMY. THE AMBASSADOR AGREED, NOTING AGAIN THAT ECONOMIC SUPPORT FUNDS ARE UNDER CONSIDERABLE PRESSURE THIS YEAR, BUT THAT HE IS REASONABLY SURE THAT THE GOG WILL CONTINUE TO RECEIVE SIGNIFICANT ASSISTANCE, GIVEN ITS POSITIVE PERFORMANCE.

5. SUPPORT FOR DEMOCRACY. RIVERA SAID THE VOICE OF THE USG IS EXTREMELY IMPORTANT IN GUATEMALA AND OUR CONTINUED VOCAL SUPPORT FOR THEIR FRAGILE DEMOCRACY WOULD BE VERY IMPORTANT.

6. REGIONAL PEACE PROCESS. RIVERA NOTED THAT CERTAINLY THE USG AND GOG GOALS FOR PEACE ARE IDENTICAL. WHAT WE DO DIFFER ON IS THE MEANS TO ACHIEVE THEM, I.E. THE BEST WAY TO DEAL WITH NICARAGUA. HE SUGGESTED THAT WE CONTINUE TO CONSULT ON THIS TOPIC.

7. NARCOTICS. GUATEMALA WILL SOON NEED THE SORT OF ECONOMIC DISLOCATION ASSISTANCE THE USG IS CONTEMPLATING FOR PERU, I.E. MAKING IT WORTH THE WHILE OF PEASANT GROWERS TO DIVERSIFY OUT OF OPIUM POPPY INTO HIGH VALUE ADDED LEGITIMATE CROPS.

8. COMMERCIAL. GUATEMALA NEEDS ACCESS TO THE US MARKET FOR ITS EXPORTS. RIVERA SAID HE WAS NOT REFERRING MERELY TO TEXTILES, WHERE QUOTAS HAVE BEEN APPLIED TO SOME CATEGORIES, BUT TO THE WHOLE SPECTRUM OF PRODUCTS.

AMBASSADOR REPLIES

9. THE AMBASSADOR NOTED THAT HE HAS BEEN TASKED BY THE PRESIDENT TO PURSUE THREE THEMES IN GUATEMALA: COMBATTING NARCOTICS, SUPPORTING THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS AND ASSISTING THE GOG IN COMBATTING VIOLENCE AND CORRUPTION. THE FIRST TWO TOPICS HAVE BEEN INCLUDED BY RIVERA IN HIS EXPOSITION, NOTED THE AMBASSADOR. HE WANTS TO ADDRESS THE THIRD, VIOLENCE AND CORRUPTION.

10. RIVERA SAID THERE ARE THREE KINDS OF VIOLENCE IN GUATEMALA, AND THE USG CAN HELP COMBAT ALL THREE. SUBVERSIVE VIOLENCE CAN BE STEMMED BY STRENGTHENING THE ARMY. NARCOTICS-GENERATED VIOLENCE CAN BE FOUGHT BY POLICE PROGRAMS SUCH AS ICITAP. AND CRIME AND HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLENCE CAN BE FOUGHT BY A CONTINUATION OF PROGRAMS SUCH AS THE HARVARD PROGRAM.

11. MARTINI ADDED THAT THE GUATEMALAN MEDIA EXACERBATES BOTH VIOLENCE AND NARCOTICS TRAFFICKING. THE AMBASSADOR EMPHASIZED THAT THE DISAPPEARANCE OF STUDENTS IS NOT A PUBLIC RELATIONS PROBLEM. STUDENTS DISAPPEAR AND ARE FOUND DEAD, AND NO ONE IS CHARGED. THERE IS CONSIDERABLE DOUBT IN THE US ABOUT THE POLITICAL WILL OF THE GOG TO PROSECUTE SUCH CRIMES. THIS IS A SERIOUS PROBLEM FOR THE GOG, ONE THAT TINGES ITS ABILITY TO RECEIVE FURTHER AID. THE AMBASSADOR SAID THAT THE WEAKNESS OF THE LEGISLATIVE BRANCH IS SOMETHING THAT WE ARE ATTEMPTING TO HELP AS WELL. IF THE JUDICIARY AND LEGISLATIVE COULD BE BROUGHT UP TO SPEED, DEMOCRACY WOULD REALLY BEGIN TO TAKE HOLD. RIVERA AGREED.

11. COMMENT: THE CONVERSATION WAS WIDE-RANGING AND HARD HITTING. RIVERA AND MARTINI SEEMED TAKEN ABACK AT FIRST BY THE FRANK TONE SET BY THE AMBASSADOR, BUT SOON JOINED IN THE SPIRIT OF THE TALKS. WE HAVE AGREED TO MEET EVERY TWO WEEKS TO CONTINUE THIS EXCHANGE. STROOCK.

[redacted] DURING THE RECENT OFFENSIVE, CLAIMING THAT SEVERAL THOUSAND INTERNATIONALISTAS WERE PREPARED TO JOIN THE COMBAT FROM UNSPECIFIED THIRD COUNTRIES. THESE LATEST REPORTS WHICH COL. PONCE REFERRED TO ARE THE SAME KIND OF DISINFORMATION. THERE IS NO TRUTH TO THEM. HERE ARE THE FACTS.

4. THE U.S. GOVERNMENT, LIKE THE GOES, HAS MAINTAINED POLITICAL DISCUSSIONS WITH THE DEMOCRATIC CONVERGENCE PARTY LED BY RUBEN ZAMORA FOR THE LAST TWO YEARS. [redacted] A3,A5
[redacted] INFORMED AS ARONSON IN WASHINGTON THAT ZAMORA HAD PROPOSED SOME IDEAS TO PRESIDENT CRISTIANI ABOUT A NEW CD NEGOTIATING PROPOSAL THE PREVIOUS WEEK IN SAN SALVADOR. [redacted] A3,A5 A REPORT FROM HIS AMBASSADOR IN SAN SALVADOR OUTLINING THE CD PROPOSALS.

5. ZAMORA AT THE SAME TIME SENT WORD TO AS ARONSON THAT HE WISHED TO SHARE THESE IDEAS WITH THE U.S. GOVERNMENT ALSO THROUGH HECTOR SILVA, A MEMBER OF HIS PARTY. ARONSON THEREFORE MET WITH HECTOR SILVA, A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE MNR. THERE IS ABSOLUTELY NOTHING NEW IN SUCH A MEETING. U.S. OFFICIALS INCLUDING THE VICE PRESIDENT, AMBASSADOR, AND STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS HAVE REGULARLY MET WITH ZAMORA AND HIS PARTY REPRESENTATIVES. INDEED, IT IS A GOAL OF U.S. POLICY TO ENCOURAGE THE PEACEFUL REINCORPORATION INTO THE DEMOCRATIC POLITICAL PROCESS OF THESE INDIVIDUALS.

6. SILVA OUTLINED SEVERAL POINTS, NONE OF WHICH ARE INCLUDED IN THE SUPPOSED REPORTS FROM EITHER FMLN [redacted]

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights Special Project (1993)

REPRESENTATIVE SALVADOR SAMOYA IN MEXICO OR EVIDENTLY IN THE CAPTURED DOCUMENTS PONCE REFERRED TO. SILVA'S PROPOSAL PRIMARILY DEALT WITH A NOT VERY REALISTIC CEASEFIRE PROPOSAL STARTING WITH SAN SALVADOR. ZAMORA HAD ALREADY SHARED THIS IDEA WITH PRESIDENT CRISTIANI. AS ARONSON REITERATED THE USG'S POLICY OF FAVORING A NEGOTIATED SETTLEMENT TO THE CONFLICT BUT RULED OUT ANY DIRECT TALKS WITH THE FMLN AT THIS TIME, NOTING IN PARTICULAR THAT THE FMLN REFUSED TO NEGOTIATE WITH THE CRISTIANI GOVERNMENT.

7. THERE WAS NO REPEAT NO DISCUSSION OF ANY PURGE OF THE ARMED FORCES AT ANY TIME NOR WAS SUCH A PROPOSAL INCLUDED IN THE CD'S PROPOSAL. WHAT WAS SAID IS THAT THE USG WANTS TO SEE A SERIOUS INVESTIGATION OF THE ELLUCARIA KILLINGS AND PROSECUTION OF THOSE RESPONSIBLE NO MATTER WHO THEY ARE.

8. VIRTUALLY THE ENTIRE CONTENT OF THE FMLN'S DESCRIPTION OF THESE DISCUSSIONS IS A FICTION. SO WHAT ELSE IS NEW? IT SHOULD COME AS NO SURPRISE THAT THE FMLN WILL SPREAD DISINFORMATION WHENEVER IT CAN. WHAT THE GOES SHOULD BE REASSURED ABOUT IS OUR REJECTION OF ANY PRIVATE NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE FMLN WITHOUT THEIR KNOWLEDGE.

9. AS TO PONCE'S CONCERNS ABOUT "OTHER" ALLEGED CONVERSATIONS WITH THE FMLN DURING THE FINAL OFFENSIVE: JUNIOR LEVEL STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS MADE IT CLEAR TO JUNIOR LEVEL FMLN POLITICAL REPRESENTATIVES IN WASHINGTON DURING THE SHERATON INCIDENT THAT HARM TO U.S. CITIZENS WOULD BE TAKEN SERIOUSLY. THIS WAS A PRUDENT, RESPONSIBLE MESSAGE TO SEND. IT WAS NOT A DIALOGUE OR A NEGOTIATION.

10. EMBASSY SAN SALVADOR SHOULD MAKE THE FACTS KNOWN [redacted]

TO THE GOES IMMEDIATELY AND CAUTION THAT WE CAN AND SHOULD EXPECT CONTINUING EFFORTS BY THE FMLN TO SPREAD SUCH DISINFORMATION AND THAT THE GOES SHOULD BRING SUCH RUMORS TO OUR ATTENTION IMMEDIATELY SO THAT WE CAN RESPOND WITH THE FACTS.

4. VOTE TALLIES WILL BE AVAILABLE EARLY: THE INTERIOR MINISTRY HAS ANNOUNCED THAT IT WILL BEGIN MAKING THE VOTE COUNT PUBLIC AS SOON AS 1000 VOTING TABLES (REPRESENTING ABOUT 350,000 VOTERS) HAVE REPORTED THEIR RETURNS, PROBABLY AT ABOUT 2030 HOURS LOCAL TIME (1830 EDT). REF: SANTIAGO 12665

1. UPDATED RETURNS: AS OF ABOUT 2115 ON DECEMBER

14, WITH 4.9 MILLION VOTES OFFICIALLY COUNTED IN CHILE'S PRESIDENTIAL RACE (FROM THE 78.7 PERCENT OF VOTING TABLES REPORTING NATIONWIDE), PATRICIO AYLWIN OF THE COALITION OF PARTIES FOR DEMOCRACY (COPODE) HAD 54.2 PERCENT OF THE TOTAL, CENTER-RIGHT CANDIDATE HERNAN BUCHI 28.6 PERCENT, AND F. J. ERRAZURIZ 14.9 PERCENT. NULL BALLOTS ACCOUNTED FOR 1.4 PERCENT OF THE TOTAL, AND BLANKS ONE PERCENT. (FACTORING OUT NULL AND BLANK BALLOTS, AYLWIN HAD 55.5 PERCENT, BUCHI 29.3 PERCENT, AND ERRAZURIZ 15.2 PERCENT.)

2. OTHER CANDIDATES' REACTION: SHORTLY BEFORE THESE ALL BUT FINAL RESULTS WERE ANNOUNCED, CANDIDATE FRANCISCO JAVIER ERRAZURIZ WAS INTERVIEWED ON TELEVISION. HE PUGNACIOUSLY REFUSED TO DESCRIBE THE RESULTS AS A "DEFEAT" AND PROCLAIMED THAT HE WOULD BE FORMING A NEW POLITICAL PARTY TO CONTINUE THE POLITICAL STRUGGLE. ON THE OTHER HAND, HERNAN BUCHI IMMEDIATELY AFTERWARDS APPEARED ON TELEVISION WITH AN ELEGANT CONCESSION STATEMENT FROM HIS CAMPAIGN HEADQUARTERS.

3. PINOCHET: AT ABOUT THE SAME TIME, PRESIDENT PINOCHET MET BRIEFLY WITH THE PRESS AT THE LA MONEDA PALACE. HE DESCRIBED THE ELECTION AS HAVING BEEN A NORMAL PROCESS WITH VERY LITTLE VIOLENCE EXCEPT FOR THE CARABINERO'S DEATH IN SANTIAGO (REFTEL). HE WAS UNCLASSIFIED

ASKED BY A REPORTER WHY AYLWIN WON SUCH A LARGE VOTE. THE PRESIDENT REPLIED, "THEY ARE BETTER ORGANIZED THAN WE ARE."

4. VICTORY CELEBRATION: POLOFF AT AYLWIN'S CAMPAIGN HEADQUARTERS IN THE HOTEL SAN FRANCISCO REPORTED AT 2100 THAT ANTICIPATION AMONG THE PARTY FAITHFUL THERE IS BUILDING. AYLWIN AND HIS FAMILY ARE NOW AT THE HOTEL. EXPECTATION IS THAT AYLWIN WILL SHORTLY ADDRESS THE CROWD, PERHAPS SETTING OFF A LARGE, NOISY VICTORY DEMONSTRATION. THE UNEXPECTEDLY EARLY ARRIVAL OF RETURNS FROM THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY MAY MAKE IT IMPOSSIBLE FOR COPODE TO POSTPONE ITS DECLARATION OF VICTORY UNTIL MIDNIGHT -- A STRATEGY ORIGINALLY DESIGNED TO PREVENT DEMONSTRATIONS WHICH COULD RESULT IN CONFRONTATIONS WITH THE POLICE.

5. COMMENT: WITH AYLWIN NOW VIRTUALLY ASSURED THE EXPECTED FIFTY-FIVE PERCENT OF THE VOTE, COPODE

LEADERS ARE TRYING VERY HARD TO AVOID VIOLENCE. THEY ARE LOATHE TO SEE THE INTERNATIONAL HEADLINES ABRUPTLY FOCUS ON CONFRONTATIONS IN THE STREETS AFTER WHAT HAS UP TO NOW BEEN A VIRTUALLY PICTURE-PERFECT DEMOCRATIC ELECTION. GILLESPIE

OFFICIAL RESULTS: SHORTLY BEFORE MIDNIGHT ON DECEMBER 14, INTERIOR MINISTER CARLOS CACERES ANNOUNCED THAT PATRICIO AYLWIN OF THE COALITION OF PARTIES FOR DEMOCRACY (COPODE) IS CHILE'S NEW PRESIDENT-ELECT. WITH ABOUT 93 PERCENT OF THE VOTING TABLES REPORTING, THE OFFICIAL TOTALS ARE AS FOLLOWS (DISALLOWING NULL AND BLANK BALLOTS):

-- PATRICIO AYLWIN: 3,577,669 (55.2 PERCENT);

-- HERNAN BUCHI: 1,901,668 (29.4 PERCENT);

-- FRANCISCO JAVIER ERRAZURIZ: 998,783 (15.4 PERCENT).

2. OTHER CANDIDATES CONGRATULATE AYLWIN: AT ABOUT 2300 ON DECEMBER 14, CENTER-RIGHT CANDIDATE HERNAN BUCHI WENT TO AYLWIN'S CAMPAIGN HEADQUARTERS IN THE HOTEL SAN FRANCISCO TO CONGRATULATE HIS SUCCESSFUL RIVAL. THE TWO MEN POSED FOR THE CAMERAS, THEN TALKED PRIVATELY FOR ABOUT 15 MINUTES. (IN HIS ELEGANT CONCESSION SPEECH AT 2215, BUCHI HAD PLEDGED TO MAINTAIN "A CONSTRUCTIVE OPPOSITION" DURING THE AYLWIN ADMINISTRATION.) THE OTHER CANDIDATE, FRANCISCO JAVIER ERRAZURIZ, ALSO MADE AN APPEARANCE AT HOTEL SAN FRANCISCO TO OFFER HIS CONGRATULATIONS TO AYLWIN.

FORMER VICE PRESIDENT OF THE CHILEAN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION AND FREI AMBASSADOR TO THE SOVIET UNION MAXIMO PACHECO CAPTURED AYLWIN'S OLD SENATE SEAT. JUAN PABLO LETELIER, SON OF ASSASSINATED FOREIGN MINISTER ORLANDO LETELIER, APPEARS HEADED FOR THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES. THE CENTER-RIGHT (WITH NINE CONSERVATIVE APPOINTED SENATORS) WILL HAVE A MAJORITY IN THE SENATE. WHILE THERE ARE SEVERAL DISPUTED RACES IN THE LOWER CHAMBER, IT APPEARS THE CENTER-LEFT WILL HAVE A COMFORTABLE MAJORITY, BUT LESS THAN THE TWO-THIRDS WHICH HAD BEEN PREDICTED.

4. AYLWIN SPEAKS TO SUPPORTERS: ADDRESSING A LARGE GATHERING OF HIS SUPPORTERS AT HIS CAMPAIGN HEADQUARTERS AT MIDNIGHT, AYLWIN PROMISED TO BE "PRESIDENT OF ALL CHILEANS." HE REMINDED HIS AUDIENCE THAT COPODE HAD SCHEDULED A VICTORY CELEBRATION FOR LATE ON THE AFTERNOON OF DECEMBER 15, AND CALLED ON THEM TO GO HOME CALMLY FOR THE TIME BEING. POINTING OUT THAT THE VOTE COUNT IN CONGRESSIONAL RACES WAS STILL UNDERWAY, AYLWIN SAID THAT "WE NEED THE

5. A PARTY, BUT NO VIOLENCE: THERE WAS MUCH MERRY-MAKING IN THE STREETS OF SANTIAGO AFTER ALWYIN'S VICTORY WAS ASSURED, BUT NO VIOLENCE. THE PRESIDENT-ELECT'S APPEAL FOR CALM PROBABLY HELPED PREVENT ANY EXCESSES BY HIS SUPPORTERS, AND COPODE'S CAREFULLY-LAID PLANS, INCLUDING A LATE-AFTERNOON CELEBRATION ON THE DAY AFTER THE ELECTION, ALSO HELPED REDUCE THE RISK OF CONFRONTATIONS BETWEEN OVEREXUBERANT AYLWIN PARTISANS AND THE POLICE. ALTHOUGH WATER CANNONS WERE TURNED ON CELEBRANTS IN VALPARAISO, THERE HAVE BEEN NO REPORTS OF SIGNIFICANT VIOLENCE ANYWHERE IN THE COUNTRY.

2. I MET WITH PRESIDENT-ELECT PATRICIO AYLWIN AT MIDDAY DECEMBER 15. AS ONE WOULD EXPECT, HE WAS IN EXCELLENT SPIRITS AND LOOKED SURPRISINGLY VIGOROUS FOR A MAN WHO MUST HAVE BEEN UP MOST OF THE NIGHT. I DELIVERED PRESIDENT BUSH'S MESSAGE OF CONGRATULATIONS. FUTURE "TO ASSURE THE SUCCESS OF YOUR GOVERNMENT." HE CONFIRMED THAT HE PLANS TO COME TO WASHINGTON, PROBABLY IN THE THIRD WEEK OF JANUARY. WITH THE ELECTION BEHIND HIM, AYLWIN SAID HE WAS LOOKING FORWARD TO SOME PRIVATE TIME WITH HIS FAMILY -- NOT JUST TO REST UP, BUT TO THINK THINGS THROUGH FOR THE FUTURE.

3. THE AYLWIN CAMP HAS SMOOTHLY SHIFTED GEARS AND TRANSFORMED ITSELF FROM CAMPAIGNERS INTO A PRESIDENT-ELECT'S STAFF. ARRANGEMENTS AT THE HOTEL SAN FRANCISCO FOR RECEIVING VISITORS, WHILE RETAINING ELEMENTS OF AYLWIN'S GRACIOUS PERSONAL STYLE, COULD NOT HAVE BEEN MORE EFFICIENT. THE CRUSH OF VARIOUS INTERNATIONAL DELEGATIONS AND HUNDREDS OF JOURNALISTS WAS BEING HANDLED WITH AN ADMIRABLE DEGREE OF PROFESSIONALISM NOF ALWAYS APPARENT DURING THE MORE INFORMAL HURLY-BURLY OF THE CAMPAIGN. (A FULL-TIME, PLAINCLOTHS SECURITY DETAIL FROM THE CARABINEROS IS IN PLACE.)

4. AYLWIN WAS WARM AND CORDIAL, BUT PROJECTS A NEW AURA OF EXECUTIVE AUTHORITY. HE'S A GOOD, DECENT MAN WHO CLEARLY SENSES THE HEAVY RESPONSIBILITIES HE NOW FACES. HE SHOWS EVERY SIGN OF HAVING THE QUALITIES NECESSARY TO GUIDE THIS COUNTRY THROUGH THE DIFFICULT TIMES AHEAD. CERTAINLY, THE MAJORITY OF CHILEANS THINK SO. GILLESPIE

SUBSECRETARY GONZALO GARCIA PRESENTED THE FIRST OFFICIAL TOTALS IN THE CHILEAN PRESIDENTIAL RACE TO THE PRESS AT 1920 HOURS ON DECEMBER 14. WITH 467,420 VOTES COUNTED (FROM THE 6.9 PERCENT OF THE VOTING TABLES REPORTING NATIONWIDE), PATRICIO AYLWIN OF THE COALITION OF PARTIES FOR DEMOCRACY (COPODE) HAD A CLEAR MAJORITY WITH 54.23 PERCENT OF THE VOTE, CENTER-RIGHT CANDIDATE HERNAN BUCHI 29.39 PERCENT, AND POPULIST FRANCISCO JAVIER ERRAZURIZ 14.40 PERCENT. NULL BALLOTS ACCOUNTED FOR 1.08 PERCENT AND BLANKS 0.89 PERCENT.

2. COPODE BRIEFING: DURING A BRIEFING FOR THE DIPLOMATIC COMMUNITY AT 1900 HOURS, AYLWIN CAMPAIGN MANAGER ENRIQUE SILVA CIMMA SAID THAT WITH 800 TABLES REPORTING NATIONWIDE, COPODE'S COMPUTATIONS SHOWED AYLWIN AT 56 PERCENT, BUCHI 27 PERCENT, ERRAZURIZ 17 PERCENT. HE ANTICIPATED THAT AFTER NULL AND BLANK BALLOTS WERE FACTORED OUT, AYLWIN WOULD HAVE CLOSE TO 59 PERCENT OF THE TOTAL. SILVA CIMMA NOTED THAT THERE WAS A MARKED INCREASE IN THE RURAL VOTE FOR AYLWIN OVER THE TOTAL FOR THE "NO" COMMAND IN THE 1988 PLEBISCITE. HE ALSO INFORMED THE GROUP THAT COPODE HAD HEARD FROM THE INTERIOR MINISTRY THAT THE GOVERNMENT PLANS TO ADVANCE THE TIME FOR ANNOUNCING FINAL RESULTS IN THE PRESIDENTIAL RACE TO 1200 MIDNIGHT. COPODE IS STILL PLANNING TO HOLD ITS UNCLASSIFIED

VICTORY RALLY AT 1800 ON DECEMBER 15, AND HAS INTENTIONALLY LOCATED IT IN THE AREA OF THE NATIONAL STADIUM -- AS FAR AS POSSIBLE FROM THE CENTER OF TOWN -- IN ORDER TO MINIMIZE THE POSSIBILITY OF CLASHES WITH THE AUTHORITIES.

3. BUCHI BRIEFING: DURING A PRESS BRIEFING AT 2000 HOURS, A BUCHI CAMPAIGN SPOKESMAN RELEASED FIGURES DRAMATIZING THE FACT THAT MEN'S VOTING TABLES ARE REPORTING MUCH MORE RAPIDLY THAN WOMEN'S (22.2 PERCENT OF MEN'S TABLES HAVE REPORTED, AS OPPOSED TO ONLY 6.7 PERCENT OF WOMEN'S). THE SPOKESMAN POINTED OUT THAT, ACCORDING TO THE FIGURES AVAILABLE TO THE BUCHI CAMPAIGN, BUCHI IS DOING MUCH BETTER AMONG WOMEN VOTERS THAN AMONG MEN: WOMEN ARE GIVING BUCHI 36.05 PERCENT, ERRAZURIZ 16.14, AND AYLWIN 47.81; MEN ARE VOTING ONLY 26.96 PERCENT FOR BUCHI, 15.06 FOR ERRAZURIZ, AND 58.01 FOR AYLWIN. (IN THE COPODE BRIEFING, SILVA CIMMA ALSO COMMENTED ON THE FACT THAT WOMEN'S VOTING TABLES ARE REPORTING MUCH MORE SLOWLY THAN MEN'S.) HOWEVER, EVEN IF THIS TREND WERE TO CONTINUE, IT APPEARS THAT AYLWIN WOULD STILL RECEIVE A CLEAR MAJORITY.

4. EXIT POLL: INITIAL RESULTS OF A NATIONWIDE EXIT POLL CONDUCTED BY THE FRENCH FIRM IFOP AND THE SANTIAGO FIRM DIAGNOS SHOW AYLWIN WITH 57, BUCHI WITH 31.2 AND ERRAZURIZ WITH 11.8. THESE PRELIMINARY TOTALS ARE BASED ON A SAMPLE OF 2400 VOTERS. FINAL RESULTS OF THE POLL, BASED ON A SAMPLE OF 5500 VOTERS IN THE SECOND TO THE TENTH REGIONS,

5. ASSASSINATION OF CARABINERO: AT 1810 A POLICE SPOKESMAN GAVE THE PRESS SOME DETAILS CONCERNING THE ASSASSINATION OF CARABINERO PATRICIO ANTONIO CASTILLO LARA (REFTEL). THE SHOOTING TOOK PLACE AT 1350 ON DECEMBER 14, WHILE THE 23-YEAR-OLD CASTILLO WAS SERVING AS A GUARD AT A VOTING TABLE IN THE SOUTHERN SANTIAGO DISTRICT OF LA GRANJA. THE ASSAILANT DREW A GUN, SHOT THE CARABINERO, THEN TOOK CASTILLO'S WEAPON FROM HIS FALLEN BODY AND FIRED IT INTO HIM. AT THE BRIEFING FOR AMBASSADORS (PARA 2), COPODE CAMPAIGN MANAGER SILVA CIMMA SAID THAT THE PERPETRATOR OF THE MURDER HAS BEEN CAUGHT AND TURNS OUT TO BE A COMMON CRIMINAL, WITH NO POLITICAL MOTIVE FOR THE KILLING. CONTRARY TO EARLIER REPORTS, ONLY ONE PERSON WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE ATTACK, NOT TWO.

6. REPORTS FROM THE PROVINCES: EMBOFFS IN MAJOR CITIES OUTSIDE SANTIAGO -- ANTOFAGASTA, VALPARAISO, AND CONCEPCION -- REPORT ONLY MINOR IRREGULARITIES IN THE ELECTORAL PROCESS, AND NO INCIDENTS OF SIGNIFICANT VIOLENCE. AS WELL AS AN INCREASE IN THE NUMBER OF COLOMBIAN TRAFFICKERS OPERATING WITHIN GUATEMALA. PERSISTENT RUMORS OF INCIPIENT COCA CULTIVATION OR MONEY LAUNDERING CONTINUE TO CIRCULATE, BUT WE ARE UNABLE TO CONFIRM THE EXISTENCE OF EITHER ACTIVITY.

OUR OPIUM POPPY ERADICATION PROGRAM OPERATED ONLY DURING THE LAST FIVE MONTHS OF 1989. AIRWING PILOTS ESTIMATE 2250 HECTARES OF OPIUM POPPY ARE CURRENTLY UNDER CULTIVATION, HOWEVER, NEW REPORTS SUGGEST POPPY CULTIVATIONS ARE SPREADING TO NEW AREAS. WE CONSERVATIVELY PLACE THE ACTUAL AMOUNT OF POPPY AT 2500 HECTARES. RECENT INTELLIGENCE INDICATES OPIUM CAN BE HARVESTED AT LEAST THREE TIMES PER YEAR IN GUATEMALA'S BENEVOLENT CLIMATE. POTENTIAL OPIUM PRODUCTION THUS APPROXIMATES 72 METRIC TONS ANNUALLY. A 1987 SURVEY DISCOVERED LESS THAN 300 HECTARES OF POPPY -- INDICATING AN 800 PERCENT INCREASE IN POPPY CULTIVATION OVER THE LAST TWO YEARS. USING 1988 FIGURES FOR COMPARATIVE PURPOSES, GUATEMALA CURRENTLY RIVALS THAILAND AS THE WORLD'S 7TH LARGEST POTENTIAL PRODUCER OF OPIUM POPPY.

MARIJUANA CULTIVATION IS CONCENTRATED ALONG THE INTERNATIONAL BORDERS WITH MEXICO AND BELIZE. SMALL CULTIVATIONS ARE BEGINNING TO APPEAR IN THE COUNTRY'S INTERIOR DEPARTMENTS OF CHIMALTENANGO AND JUTIAPA. MARIJUANA CULTIVATION DOES NOT APPEAR TO BE INCREASING. WE ESTIMATE 240 HECTARES OF MARIJUANA ARE CURRENTLY GROWN LOCALLY.

THE MOST WORRISOME ELEMENT IN THE DRUG STRUGGLE IS GUATEMALA'S GROWING IMPORTANCE AS A TRANSIT COUNTRY FOR COLOMBIAN COCAINE BOUND FOR THE U.S. TRAFFICKERS TAKE ADVANTAGE OF GUATEMALA'S

ROUGH TERRAIN WHICH IS DOTTED WITH DOZENS OF UNCONTROLLED AIRFIELDS. THE GOG HAS NO RADAR CAPABLE OF TRACKING THE LIGHT AIRCRAFT BRINGING COCAINE INTO GUATEMALA, NOR THE INTERDICTION CAPACITY TO INTERCEPT THEM ONCE DETECTED. AIRCRAFT CONTAINING COCAINE EITHER REFUEL AND CONTINUE THEIR JOURNEY NORTHWARD, OR OFFLOAD COCAINE WHICH IS THEN PLACED ON U.S. BOUND SAILING VESSELS. THE INCIDENCE OF COCAINE SMUGGLED IN COMMERCIAL SHIPPING CONTAINERS IS INCREASING. THERE HAS BEEN AT LEAST ONE LARGE SEIZURE OF COCAINE FOUND IN A COMMERCIAL CONTAINER ORIGINATING FROM GUATEMALA.

CHEMICALS WHICH CAN BE USED FOR NARCOTICS PROCESSING ROUTINELY ENTER GUATEMALA. MOST OF THESE CHEMICALS ARE TRANSSHIPPED TO OTHER COUNTRIES IN CENTRAL AND SOUTH AMERICA. A SMALL AMOUNT OF THESE CHEMICALS IS NOW USED IN POPPY GROWING AREAS FOR THE PROCESSING OF RAW OPIUM TO MORPHINE BASE.

THERE IS NO RELIABLE EVIDENCE CONCERNING DOMESTIC MONEY LAUNDERING. IN NOVEMBER 1989, A WEST GERMAN CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATION PUBLICLY ACCUSED THE BANCO IMPERIAL OF MONEY LAUNDERING, REPEATING A RUMOR CURRENT IN GUATEMALAN SOCIETY. BANK SECRECY LAWS MAKE IT DIFFICULT TO DETERMINE TO WHAT EXTENT MONEY LAUNDERING IS TAKING PLACE OR WHICH BANKS ARE INVOLVED IN THIS ACTIVITY.

POLICE/TREASURY POLICE ANTI-NARCOTICS SQUAD. SEVERAL POLICE OFFICIALS TRAVELLED TO THE U.S. AND OTHER LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES FOR NARCOTICS INVESTIGATIONS MANAGEMENT TRAINING. IN OCTOBER, A JOINT INFORMATION COMPUTER CENTER (JICC) WAS SET UP IN GUARDIA DE HACIENDA HEADQUARTERS. THIS INFORMATION SYSTEM WILL PROVIDE VITAL INFORMATION FOR USE IN TRACKING SUSPICIOUS INDIVIDUALS AND VESSELS USED IN DRUG TRAFFICKING. A COMPUTER LINK WITH DEA'S EPIC INTELLIGENCE SYSTEM WILL PROVIDE MUCH GREATER INSIGHT CONCERNING GUATEMALA'S PLACE IN COCAINE TRAFFICKING PATTERNS.

THE GUARDIA DE HACIENDA HAS CREATED A CHEMICAL CONTROL SECTION WHICH WILL TAKE AN ACTIVE ROLE IN THE STUDY OF CHEMICAL DIVERSION INTO ILLICIT ACTIVITIES. DEA WILL USE THIS OFFICE TO MONITOR AND COMPLY WITH THE IMPLEMENTATION OF NEW U.S. CHEMICAL CONTROL LAWS.

THE U.S. COAST GUARD CONDUCTED A PORT SAFETY AND SECURITY TRAINING AT THE PACIFIC NAVAL BASE OF PUERTO SAN JOSE. MARITIME LAW ENFORCEMENT TRAINING WAS CONDUCTED AT BOTH SAN JOSE AND THE ATLANTIC PORT, PUERTO BARRIOS. THIS TRAINING WAS ATTENDED BY GUATEMALAN NAVAL, GUARDIA DE HACIENDA AND CUSTOMS PERSONNEL. THIS TRAINING WAS APPLIED SUCCESSFULLY WHEN THE GUATEMALAN NAVY CAPTURED A PRIVATE SAILBOAT OFF THE PACIFIC COAST CARRYING NEARLY 800 KILOS OF COCAINE.

DESPITE AN EIGHT MONTH INTERRUPTION, THE STATE DEPARTMENT AIRWING SPRAYED OVER 1,200 HECTARES OF OPIUM POPPY FROM SEPTEMBER THROUGH DECEMBER. THE PILOTS ALSO SPRAYED 80 HECTARES OF MARIJUANA. THE STATE DEPARTMENT ASSIGNED TWO ADDITIONAL SPRAY AIRCRAFT TO GUATEMALA IN MID-DECEMBER. THIS SHOULD MAKE IT POSSIBLE TO ELIMINATE AN ADDITIONAL 1000 HECTARES BY FEBRUARY 1, 1990.

THE MINISTRY OF INTERIOR HAS SIGNED A FUNDING AGREEMENT WITH USAID TO CONTRACT LEGAL EXPERTS AID IN REDRAFTING LOCAL DRUG LAWS ON SEPTEMBER 22, WHICH WILL STRENGTHEN THE HAND OF LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES IN PROSECUTING DRUG OFFENSES. USAID AND USIS ARE ALSO FUNDING THE PUBLICATION OF 50,000 PAMPHLETS DESIGNED TO EDUCATE GUATEMALAN PARENTS ON DRUG ABUSE.

IN 1989, USIS PLAYED A MAJOR ROLE IN PUBLICIZING NARCOTICS AS A MAJOR POLITICAL AND SOCIAL ISSUE. USIS PLACED 35 ARTICLES ON THE DRUG PROBLEM IN MAJOR GUATEMALAN PUBLICATIONS, AND BRIEFED THE INTERNATIONAL PRESS ON THE GUATEMALAN SITUATION. USIS ARRANGED THE VISIT OF FIVE U.S. EXPERTS ON DRUG ABUSE AND EDUCATION AND ARRANGED THREE MEETINGS TO BRING TOGETHER PRIVATE SECTOR DRUG EDUCATION GROUPS TO COORDINATE THEIR EFFORTS. IN ADDITION, TWO GUATEMALANS TRAVELED TO THE U.S. ON THE INTERNATIONAL VISITOR PROGRAM TO VIEW U.S. EFFORTS TO INCREASE DRUG AWARENESS.

CY89 SAW A DRAMATIC INCREASE IN THE GOG'S OWN PUBLIC INFORMATION CAMPAIGNS DEALING WITH ALL ASPECTS OF GUATEMALA'S DRUG PROBLEM. PUBLIC AND MEDIA INTEREST AND AWARENESS OF THE PROBLEM ALSO INCREASED SIGNIFICANTLY AND THE NARCOTICS ISSUE MAY PLAY A MAJOR ROLE IN GUATEMALA'S 1990 PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION. GOG OFFICIALS NOW SEEM GENUINELY CONVINCED OF THE DANGEROUS EFFECT NARCOTICS CAN HAVE ON FLEDGLING DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS.

THE GOG IS CURRENTLY CONSIDERING TWO EXTRADITION REQUESTS FOR NARCOTICS OFFENDERS -- ONE OF AN AMERICAN CITIZEN AND THE OTHER OF A GUATEMALAN NATIONAL -- WHICH HAVE RECEIVED WIDE PUBLICITY. ATTEMPTS TO INTIMIDATE JUDGES HANDLING NARCOTICS-RELATED CASES ARE BECOMING MORE COMMON. IN NOVEMBER 1989, FIVE JUDGES RECEIVED DEATH THREATS WARNING THEY WOULD BE KILLED IF ANY GUATEMALAN WAS EXTRADITED TO THE U.S. ON NARCOTICS CHARGES. THE SUPREME COURT, WHICH ALSO ADMINISTERS LOWER COURTS, WILL CREATE A SPECIAL POLICE FORCE FOR THE PROTECTION OF JUDGES AND WITNESSES IN 1990.

LOCAL LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES OFTEN LACK BASIC RESOURCES AND TRAINING FOR CONDUCTING NARCOTICS INVESTIGATIONS. THE NARCOTICS TASK FORCE IS NOW BEING EQUIPPED TO PLAY THE LEAD ROLE IN NARCOTICS INVESTIGATIONS. THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, THROUGH ICITAP (INTERNATIONAL CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIONS AND ASSISTANCE PROGRAM), WILL PROVIDE TRAINING IN BASIC INVESTIGATIVE TECHNIQUES TO APPROXIMATELY HALF OF THE TASK FORCE'S INVESTIGATORS IN 1990. COOPERATION BETWEEN THE NATIONAL POLICE, THE GUARDIA DE HACIENDA AND MILITARY POLICE HAS IMPROVED DUE TO THE INSTITUTION OF THEIR JOINT ACTION GROUP, THE SIPROCI (SISTEMA DE PROTECCION CIVIL - CIVIL PROTECTION SYSTEM). THE SIPROCI WAS CREDITED WITH SEVERAL MAJOR SEIZURES IN 1989.

A.5 DOMESTIC DRUG ABUSE

USAID AND GUATEMALAN PRIVATE SECTOR ORGANIZATIONS WILL INITIATE THE FIRST SURVEY OF DOMESTIC DRUG CONSUMPTION IN EARLY 1990. AT THIS JUNCTURE, OUR ASSESSMENT OF LOCAL USE IS PURELY ANECDOTAL. COCAINE AND MARIJUANA CONSUMPTION IS FAIRLY COMMON AMONG UPPER AND MIDDLE CLASS YOUTH IN GUATEMALA CITY. LESS AFFLUENT DRUG ABUSERS INHALE GLUE OR SOLVENTS. IN A RECENT VISIT, AN AMERICAN EXPERT ON DRUG EDUCATION DISCOVERED THAT PRIMARY SCHOOL CHILDREN IN THE CAPITAL CITY WERE NOT ONLY WELL ACQUAINTED WITH A WIDE VARIETY OF DRUGS, BUT ALSO CLAIMED TO KNOW DRUG USERS. DRUG CONSUMPTION PATTERNS IN SMALLER CITIES

AND THE COUNTRYSIDE ARE UNKNOWN. THERE ARE NO REPORTS YET OF OPIUM ADDICTION IN POPPY GROWING AREAS, ALTHOUGH THERE IS SOME EVIDENCE OF MARIJUANA USE WHERE IT IS GROWN.

GUATEMALANS WORKING IN THE AREA OF DRUG AND ALCOHOL EDUCATION AND REHABILITATION ESTIMATE THAT 25 PERCENT OF ALL ADULTS SUFFER FROM SOME SORT OF CHEMICAL DEPENDENCY. THESE SOURCES ESTIMATE THAT IT MAY BE 18 - 25 PERCENT IN THE 10 - 20 AGE GROUP. MOST GUATEMALANS AGREE THAT DRUG USE HAS INCREASED MARKEDLY OVER THE LAST TWO YEARS, BUT THAT ALCOHOL ABUSE REMAINS THE MOST COMMON FORM OF SUBSTANCE ABUSE.

THE GOG HAS INITIATED AN ANTI-DRUG MEDIA CAMPAIGN FOCUSING ON GOG/USG COOPERATIVE EFFORTS IN DRUG ERADICATION AND INTERDICTION, BUT HAS DONE LITTLE TO DEVELOP ANTI-DRUG EDUCATION OR REHABILITATION PROGRAMS. THE GOG HAS BEGUN TO PAY ATTENTION TO DRUG ABUSE, BUT HAS YET TO RESPOND WITH CONCRETE PROGRAMS. HIGH LEVEL GOG OFFICIALS WILL MEET WITH MISSION OFFICERS AND PRIVATE SECTOR ORGANIZATIONS IN MID-JANUARY TO INITIATE THE DEVELOPMENT OF A NATIONAL DRUG EDUCATION STRATEGY.

GUATEMALA'S BORDERS WITH BELIZE AND MEXICO. THESE AREAS LACK THE ECONOMIC INFRASTRUCTURE WHICH COULD ENCOURAGE FARMERS TO BRING LEGITIMATE CROPS TO MARKET. MEXICAN AND BELIZEAN NATIONALS INTRODUCED OPIUM POPPIES AND MARIJUANA TO GUATEMALAN FARMERS AND CONTINUE TO PLAY A MAJOR ROLE IN THEIR CULTIVATION, WITH MEXICAN NATIONALS PROVIDING FINANCING, SEED AND A MARKET TO LOCAL GROWERS. PROFITS FROM GROWING POPPY ARE SEVERAL TIMES

GREATER THAN FOR GROWING ANY LEGITIMATE CROP.

POPPY GROWING REGIONS WHICH ABUT MEXICO ARE CURRENTLY ENJOYING AN ECONOMIC BOOM. OVERFLIGHTS OF THE AREA REVEAL MUCH NEW CONSTRUCTION; CONTACTS ON THE GROUND DESCRIBE A RISE IN DISPOSABLE INCOME BY LOCAL GROWERS AND MERCHANTS.

B.2 FACTORS AFFECTING PRODUCTION

GUATEMALA'S VARIED CLIMATE AND RICH VOLCANIC SOIL PROVIDE NEARLY PERFECT CONDITIONS IN SEVERAL REGIONS FOR THE GROWING OF POPPIES AND MARIJUANA. THE AVAILABILITY OF GREATER PROFITS ENCOURAGES THE RURAL POPULACE TO CULTIVATE OPIUM. PROXIMITY TO MEXICO, AND THE LACK OF A ROAD NETWORK WHICH PERMITS EASY ACCESS TO THE REST OF GUATEMALA, ALLOWS MEXICAN TRAFFICKERS TO CONTROL THE FLOW OF OPIUM INTO MEXICO AND ALLOWS EASY ACCESS OF THE RAW PRODUCT TO PROCESSING LABS IN MEXICO. MARIJUANA, GROWN MOSTLY ON THE BELIZEAN BORDER, IS GENERALLY SHIPPED TO THE U.S. VIA BELIZE.

B.3 MAXIMUM ACHIEVABLE REDUCTIONS

THE EMBASSY BELIEVES IT IS POSSIBLE TO ERADICATE 80 PERCENT OF ALL MARIJUANA CULTIVATIONS. IT IS EXTREMELY DIFFICULT TO DETERMINE THE TRUE EXTENT OF MARIJUANA GROWN IN GUATEMALA DUE TO THE SMALL SIZE AND REMOTENESS OF CULTIVATIONS. THE STATE DEPARTMENT AIRWING SPRAYS ALL MARIJUANA DISCOVERED, BUT AS MUCH AS 20 PERCENT OF THE MARIJUANA CROP MAY REMAIN UNDISCOVERED.

IN 1989, THE AERIAL POPPY ERADICATION PROGRAM OPERATED ONLY DURING THE FINAL FOUR MONTHS OF THE YEAR. SINCE BEGINNING

SPRAYING OPERATIONS IN EARLY SEPTEMBER WITH TWO SPRAY PLANES, 1200 HECTARES OF OPIUM HAVE BEEN ERADICATED. TWO ADDITIONAL SPRAY AIRCRAFT ARRIVED IN GUATEMALA ON DECEMBER 15, AND ALL POPPY CULTIVATIONS SHOULD BE SPRAYED AT LEAST ONCE BY EARLY FEBRUARY. THE RAPID INCREASE IN THE NUMBER OF HECTARES CULTIVATED, AND THE SPEED WITH WHICH POPPY PLOTS ARE REPLANTED AFTER AERIAL SPRAYING, MAY PREVENT TOTAL ELIMINATION OF THE OPIUM CROP. IF EXTRA RESOURCES ARE MAINTAINED IN GUATEMALA DURING THE GROWING (DRY) SEASON -- NOVEMBER THROUGH APRIL -- IT MAY BE POSSIBLE TO ELIMINATE 90 PERCENT OF THE OPIUM CROP.

B.4 METHODOLOGY FOR ESTIMATES

ESTIMATES ON DRUG CULTIVATION ARE BASED ON AERIAL RECONNAISSANCE BY AIRWING PILOTS WORKING IN GUATEMALA. LOCAL LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES PROVIDED INFORMATION ON THE AMOUNT OF COCAINE AND OTHER DRUGS SEIZED AND AMOUNTS OF POPPY AND MARIJUANA MANUALLY ERADICATED.

SUMMARY AND INTRODUCTION:

GUATEMALA IS A BOTH A MAJOR NARCOTICS PRODUCER AND STAGING AREA FOR TRAFFIC IN COLOMBIAN COCAINE. SIMPLE LABORATORIES FOR THE REFINING OF RAW OPIUM TO MORPHINE BASE ARE NOW IN OPERATION, MARKING GUATEMALA'S PASSAGE FROM A DRUG PRODUCING TO A DRUG PROCESSING COUNTRY. WHILE THERE ARE PERSISTENT RUMORS OF INCIPIENT COCA CULTIVATION AND MONEY LAUNDERING, THERE IS NO EVIDENCE TO CONFIRM EITHER THE EXISTENCE OR EXTENT OF THESE ACTIVITIES.

DESPITE 1989'S MARKED INCREASED IN DRUG ACTIVITY, WE CAN STILL GAIN THE UPPER HAND IN GUATEMALA'S DRUG WAR. WE ARE BEHIND RIGHT NOW, BUT WE DO NOT FACE THE DAUNTING ODDS HERE THAT CONFRONT US IN THE ANDES. GUATEMALA'S ADVANTAGE LIES IN THE RELATIVE NOVELTY OF ITS DRUG TRADE AND THE CONSERVATIVE NATURE OF ITS LOCAL POPULACE, WHICH VIEWS DRUG TRAFFICKING WITH SUSPICION AND FEAR. GUATEMALANS HAVE SEEN THE RESULTS OF ANDEAN DRUG TRAFFICKING AND ARE AWARE THAT TRAFFICKERS CAN MUCH MORE EASILY OVERWHELM THEIR FRAGILE DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS AND ECONOMY THAN THEY DID THOSE OF LARGER COUNTRIES. OUR GOAL MUST BE TO TRAIN AND EQUIP GUATEMALA'S PUBLIC AND PRIVATE SECTORS TO COMBAT THIS PROBLEM ON A VARIETY OF DIFFERENT FRONTS: LAW ENFORCEMENT, THE STRENGTHENING OF JUDICIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND DRUG EDUCATION AND AWARENESS. THE FOLLOWING ARE OUR CONCRETE SUGGESTIONS AS TO WHERE USG AID CAN BE DIRECTED FOR GREATEST EFFECT. END SUMMARY AND INTRODUCTION.

I. PROGRAM OBJECTIVE: RETARD THE PRODUCTION OF OPIUM POPPY THROUGH EFFECTIVE, CONTINUING ERADICATION

I.A. TARGET OF PERFORMANCE: DESTROY OPIUM POPPY CULTIVATIONS THROUGH AERIAL ERADICATION

MILESTONES:

I.A.1. SPRAY 1500 HECTARES OF POPPY BY JANUARY 15 (FROM 9/89 - 1/15/90)

I.A.2. SPRAY AN ADDITIONAL 1000 HECTARES OF POPPY BY FEBRUARY 1

I.A.3. OBTAIN ONE ADDITIONAL SAR HELICOPTER BY JANUARY 15

I.A.4. CONDUCT TRAINING OF 60 GUARDIA DE HACIENDA AGENTS IN SECURITY AND DEFENSIVE TECHNIQUES IN SUPPORT OF AERIAL ERADICATION PROGRAM BY JUNE 15

I.A.5. MONITOR OPIUM CROP MONTHLY AND RESPRAY 80 PERCENT OF REPLANTED CULTIVATIONS AS THEY REAPPEAR.

I.A.6. MEASURE OF EFFECTIVENESS: DESTRUCTION OF 90 PERCENT OF OPIUM POPPY DISCOVERED.

I.B. TARGET OF PERFORMANCE: INCREASE GUARDIA DE HACIENDA MANUAL ERADICATION OF POPPY

MILESTONES:

I.B.1. PROVIDE TWENTY TRUCKS TO GUARDIA DE HACIENDA FOR ERADICATION OPERATIONS BY AUGUST 1 (THESE TRUCKS WOULD ALSO BE USED FOR DRUG INTERDICTION)

I.B.2. INSTALL SECOND PHASE OF SECURE RADIO SYSTEM COVERING ERADICATION OPERATIONAL AREAS BY APRIL 15

I.B.2. MEASURE OF EFFECTIVENESS: INCREASE NUMBER OF HECTARES OF POPPY ERADICATED BY GUARDIA DE HACIENDA BY 25 PERCENT (NOTE: THE GUARDIA ERADICATED 140 HECTARES OF POPPY IN CY89)

I.C. TARGET OF PERFORMANCE: INCREASE GUATEMALAN PARTICIPATION IN SPRAY MISSION

MILESTONES:

I.E. FUNDING: GIVEN THAT THE BULK OF FY89 AERIAL ERADICATION FUNDS HAVE NOT YET BEEN SPENT, WE RECOMMEND THAT INM PROVIDE US ONLY AN ADDITIONAL 300,000 DOLLARS TO SUPPORT CONTINUED AERIAL ERADICATION IN FY90. WE ALSO REQUEST THE FOLLOWING:

VEHICLES 250,000

MANUAL ERADICATION 50,000

COMMUNICATIONS 150,000 (SECOND STAGE OF 3 YEAR PROGRAM)

(NOTE: TRAINING FUNDS FOR GUARDIA DE HACIENDA AND HELICOPTER PILOTS HAVE ALREADY BEEN PROVIDED FROM FY89 INM FUNDING. SEE REF B.)

I.F. JUSTIFICATION: CULTIVATION OF OPIUM POPPY HAS INCREASED 800 PERCENT SINCE 1987 AND CONTINUES TO EXPAND AT AN ALARMING RATE. ASSUMING THAT ONE HECTARE OF POPPY PRODUCES ONE-HALF TO ONE KILO OF HEROIN PER HARVEST AND THAT FARMERS BRING HOME THREE HARVESTS PER YEAR, GUATEMALA POTENTIALLY PRODUCES 7.2 METRIC TONS OF HEROIN ANNUALLY.
LIMITED OFFICIAL USE

[redacted]

WITHOUT OUR ERADICATION PROGRAM, GUATEMALA COULD BECOME THE WORLD'S SEVENTH LARGEST PRODUCER OF HEROIN.

IN TERMS OF ASSETS, WE REQUIRE FOUR THRUSHES DURING THE DRY SEASON, WHEN FIELDS ARE MOST PRODUCTIVE. THE POPPY CROP CAN BE CONTROLLED DURING THE RAINY SEASON BY TWO AIRCRAFT.

II. PROGRAM OBJECTIVE: RETARD THE CULTIVATION OF MARIJUANA THROUGH CONTINUOUS, EFFECTIVE ERADICATION

II.A. TARGET OF PERFORMANCE: ELIMINATE MARIJUANA CULTIVATION THROUGH AERIAL ERADICATION

MILESTONES:

LOCAL AGENCIES LACK BASIC EQUIPMENT AND RESOURCES TO CONDUCT INVESTIGATIONS (COMMENT: RECENTLY THE NARCOTICS TASK FORCE ASKED DEA TO PROVIDE GASOLINE FOR PATROL CARS, SOMETHING THAT THE NATIONAL POLICE COULD NOT PROVIDE.) THE OPENING OF THE JICC ALSO PROVIDES THE FIRST STEP IN DEVELOPING A LOCAL INTELLIGENCE NETWORK TO SUPPORT NARCOTICS INVESTIGATIONS. OVER THE LAST 12 MONTHS LOCAL POLICE HAVE SEIZED OVER 4 METRIC TONS OF COCAINE (A TENFOLD INCREASE OVER 1988), DEMONSTRATING NOT ONLY THAT SIGNIFICANT AMOUNTS OF COCAINE ARE TRANSITTING GUATEMALA BUT ALSO GUATEMALAN COMMITMENT TO THIS ISSUE, ONCE PROVIDED THE PROPER ASSISTANCE AND PRODDING.

2. ON DECEMBER 19 DCM CALLED ON FATHER GIUSEPPE PITTAU, ACTING SUPERIOR GENERAL OF THE JESUIT ORDER, TO EXPLAIN CIRCUMSTANCES SURROUNDING THE QUESTIONING OF MRS. BARRERA DE CERNA IN THE UNITED STATES. DCM USED REFTEL TALKING POINTS IN POINTING OUT THAT BARRERA TRAVELED TO THE U.S. BECAUSE THE SALVADORAN JESUITS AS WELL AS THE SPANISH AND FRENCH AMBASSADORS BELIEVED THE [redacted]

WITNESS WAS IN DANGER IN EL SALVADOR. FAR FROM THREATENING TO RETURN THE WITNESS TO EL SALVADOR IF HER TESTIMONY WERE NOT SATISFACTORY, DCM TOLD PITTAU THAT WE, AT THE OUTSET, GAVE HER AND FAMILY HUMANITARIAN PAROLE. DCM STRESSED THAT DURING THE QUESTIONING PERIOD, MRS. BARRERA DE CERNA NEVER COMPLAINED. SHE AND HER HUSBAND WERE THANKFUL FOR THE ATTENTION SHOWN THEM. THEY UNDERSTOOD THE NEED FOR SECURITY AND NEVER WERE

3. DCM TOLD FATHER PITTAU THAT ACTING ASSISTANT SECRETARY KOZAK AND U.S. PERMREP EINAUDI HAD CALLED ON NUNCIO PIO LAGHI TO DISCUSS THE CASE AND TO OFFER COMPLETE VIDEO TAPES OF THE QUESTIONING. DCM SAID THAT WE WERE GOING TO GREAT LENGTHS IN AN EFFORT TO SET THE RECORD STRAIGHT BECAUSE OUR INTEREST IS IN FULL INVESTIGATION WHICH WILL GET JUSTICE. WE HAVE BEEN DISTURBED BY MISREPRESENTATIONS AND MISIMPRESSIONS HELD EVEN BY INFLUENTIAL JESUITS IN THE U.S.

4. FATHER PITTAU THANKED EMBASSY DCM FOR THE BRIEFING AND REMARKED THAT RUSH TO JUDGEMENT MADE BY SOME JESUITS TENDS TO POLARIZE THE SITUATION AND IS NOT HELPFUL IN THE SEARCH FOR JUSTICE. HE SAID HE HAS TOLD THE JESUITS FROM CENTRAL AMERICA THAT THEY SHOULD NOT BE EMOTIONAL ON THE ISSUE. THERE HAD TO BE A CAREFUL AND RATIONAL INVESTIGATION IN ORDER THAT JUSTICE (NOT REVENGE) BE DONE IN THE INTEREST OF EL SALVADOR. [redacted]

CC

5. FATHER PITTAU CONSIDERED THE OFFER OF VIDEO TAPES TO THE NUNCIO TO BE USEFUL. HE WAS ESPECIALLY PLEASED TO HEAR THAT LUIGI EINAUDI WAS OUR AMBASSADOR TO THE OAS AND HAD BRIEFED PIO LAGHI. PITTAU SAID THAT HE HAD THE HIGHEST REGARD FOR EINAUDI AND REMEMBERED HIM FONDLY FROM THE DAYS WHEN PITTAU WAS AT HARVARD AND EINAUDI AT YALE. IN CLOSING, PITTAU SAID THAT HE WOULD INFORM FATHER KOLVENBACH OF THE DCM'S EXPLANATION AND AGREED WITH DCM ON THE USEFULNESS OF FURTHER DISCUSSIONS IN THE NEW YEAR WITH THE JESUITS AT ROME HEADQUARTERS RESPONSIBLE FOR CENTRAL AND SOUTH AMERICA.

MARKET AND STRONG MULTIPARTISAN SUPPORT FOR PRESIDENT-ELECT PATRICIO AYLWIN. WHILE FOREIGN OBSERVERS PRAISED THE WAY CHILEANS WENT TO THE POLLS, SOME DOMESTIC CRITICS ATTACKED THE UNIQUE BINOMINAL SYSTEM THAT DISPROPORTIONATELY FAVORED THE RIGHT AND MODERATE CENTER. VICTORY CELEBRATIONS IN SOME AREAS GOT OUT OF HAND, BUT DID NOT APPRECIABLY MAR THE UPBEAT NATIONAL MOOD. AN AYLWIN-PINOCHET MEETING TO CHART A SMOOTH TRANSITION IS SET FOR DECEMBER 21. MEANWHILE, THE PRESIDENT-ELECT IS TAKING TIME OFF TO REST, CHOOSE HIS CABINET AND PLAN FOR HIS JANUARY VISIT TO THE U.S. END SUMMARY.

2. (U) GETTING BACK TO NORMAL: HAVING CONCENTRATED THEIR ENERGY ON POLITICS FOR MANY MONTHS, GROGGY CHILEANS AWOKE THIS WEEKEND FROM THE ELECTORAL FRENZY TO THE REALIZATION THAT CHRISTMAS WAS ONLY A WEEK AWAY. SHOPPING CENTERS IN SANTIAGO WERE PACKED AS THE COUNTRY RETURNED TO NORMAL. REASSURED BY THE ELECTION OF A MODERATE CONGRESS (REF A) AND AGREEMENT WITH THE OPPOSITION ON THE COMPOSITION OF THE CENTRAL BANK'S GOVERNING BOARD REF B), THE STOCK MARKET PICKED UP STEAM AND THE PESO STRENGTHENED THE DAY AFTER THE ELECTION. EVEN PRESIDENT PINOCHET CONTRIBUTED TO THE UPBEAT MOOD. IN HIS TELEVISED ADDRESS TO THE NATION ON DECEMBER 16, HE CONGRATULATED CHILEANS ON THE "ORDERLY, RESPECTFUL, AND RESPONSIBLE" WAY THEY HAD ELECTED THEIR NEXT PRESIDENT

AND CONGRESS AND EXHORTED THEM TO "FACE WITH HOPE THE NEW HORIZON WE OURSELVES HAVE OPENED TO OUR CHILDREN." NOTABLY MISSING FROM THAT SPEECH WAS ANY HINT OF CONGRATULATION FOR PRESIDENT-ELECT AYLWIN. HOWEVER, IN COMMENTS TO THE INTERNATIONAL PRESS PINOCHET ACKNOWLEDGED THAT "THE (NEXT) PRESIDENT IS THE MAXIMUM AUTHORITY OF THE COUNTRY, TO WHOM IS OWED ACCEPTANCE AND DEFERENCE TO WHAT HE SAYS." DENYING THAT HE WAS BITTER, HE REITERATED THAT HE PLANS TO STAY IN CHILE AND REMAIN AS COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF THE ARMY, CONFINING HIMSELF TO MILITARY MATTERS.

3. (C) NEXT STEPS: TO PLAN FOR THE TRANSITION, AYLWIN'S CAMPAIGN CHIEFS ENRIQUE SILVA CIMMA AND ENRIQUE KRAUSS MET THE DAY AFTER THE ELECTION WITH MINISTER OF INTERIOR CARLOS CACERES AND FOREIGN MINISTER HERNAN FELIPE ERRAZURIZ REF D). AYLWIN STATED THAT HE WAS PREPARED TO SIT DOWN WITH PRESIDENT PINOCHET IN THE NEAR FUTURE, AND ON DECEMBER 18 INTERIOR MINISTER CACERES

DELIVERED A LETTER TO AYLWIN FROM PINOCHET OFFERING SUCH A MEETING. PDC PRESIDENT ANDRES ZALDIVAR TOLD POLCOUNS DECEMBER 19 THAT THE FIRST OF SEVERAL DIRECT TALKS BETWEEN THE TWO WILL TAKE PLACE ON DECEMBER 21. THE PRESIDENT-ELECT HAS SAID HE WILL CONSULT WITH HIS ADVISORS TO PLAN FOR THE NEW ADMINISTRATION BEFORE JOINING HIS FAMILY FOR A PRIVATE CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR VACATION. ENRIQUE KRAUSS HAS BEEN CHARGED WITH THE OVERALL ADMINISTRATION OF AYLWIN'S TRANSITION TEAM, AND ALEJANDRO FOXLEY WILL HANDLE THE ECONOMIC PORTFOLIO. THE NEW CABINET WILL BE ANNOUNCED IN EARLY JANUARY.

2.4 PERCENT OF THE BALLOTS WERE LEFT BLANK OR VOIDED, A SURPRISINGLY LOW NUMBER CONSIDERING THE COMPLEXITY AND NOVELTY OF THE HISTORIC CONCURRENT PRESIDENTIAL AND PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS. IN THEIR MEETING WITH MONICA JIMENEZ, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF CHILE'S NONPARTISAN CIVIC EDUCATION ORGANIZATION "PARTICIPA," REPRESENTATIVES OF VARIOUS INTERNATIONAL ELECTION OBSERVER GROUPS LAUDED THE EFFICIENCY AND SPEED WITH WHICH THE ELECTION TABULATION TOOK PLACE. THEY PRAISED CHILE'S ELECTORAL SYSTEM, THE HIGH VOTER TURNOUT, THE PEACEFULNESS OF THE PROCESS AND THE CONDUCT OF POLLING OFFICIALS AND THE PARTICIPATION OF POLLWATCHERS FROM POLITICAL PARTIES AND GROUPINGS ACROSS THE BOARD.

5. (U) CONGRESSIONAL BREAKDOWN: IN GENERAL, THE BINOMINAL SYSTEM OF REPRESENTATION FAVORED THE MODERATE CENTER ON BOTH SIDES OF THE POLITICAL SPECTRUM, TO THE DETRIMENT OF THE EXTREME LEFT -- ESPECIALLY THE COMMUNISTS -- AND CHILE'S SMALLER POLILTICAL PARTIES. THE LARGER POLITICAL PARTIES OBTAINED PROPORTIONAL IF NOT ENHANCED REPRESENTATION OVER THEIR ACTUAL VOTE COUNT. FOR EXAMPLE, THE PDC, WHICH RECEIVED 26 PERCENT OF THE TOTAL VOTES CAST FOR THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES, WILL HAVE 32 PERCENT OF ITS SEATS. THE PPD OBTAINED 11 PERCENT, AND WILL COMPRISE 14 PERCENT OF THE CHAMBER'S MEMBERS. CENTER-RIGHT NATIONAL RENEWAL (RN) OBTAINED 18 PERCENT OF THE VOTES IN THE LOWER CHAMBER, YET WILL HAVE 24 PERCENT OF THE SEATS. ITS SLATE PARTNER, THE INDEPENDENT DEMOCRATIC UNION (UDI), BROKE EVEN, TAKING NINE PERCENT OF THE VOTES AND GETTING NINE PERCENT OF THE SEATS.

6. (U) THE OPPOSITION LOST NINE SENATE AND 14 DEPUTY SEATS BECAUSE OF THE BINOMINAL SYSTEM. THE OPPOSITION

OBTAINED SECOND MAJORITIES IN THOSE RACES BUT THEIR SLATES FAILED TO DOUBLE THE TOTAL NUMBER OF VOTES RECEIVED BY THE CENTER-RIGHT DEMOCRACY AND PROGRESS LIST. THERE FOLLOW SOME NOTABLE EXAMPLES OF RACES WHERE THE LOSER ACTUALLY CAME IN SECOND IN THE POPULAR VOTE: COMMUNISTS FANNY POLLAROLO AND JORGE INSUNZA OUTDREW THE TOP CENTER-RIGHT CANDIDATE IN THEIR DISTRICTS BY SOME FIVE THOUSAND AND THREE THOUSAND VOTES, RESPECTIVELY; PDC HEAVYWEIGHT JUAN HAMILTON TOPPED THE CENTER-RIGHT VICTOR IN HIS DISTRICT BY 43,000 VOTES; FAR-LEFT CANDIDATE LUIS MAIRA (CHRISTIAN LEFT - IC) BESTED THE CENTER-RIGHT WINNER IN HIS DISTRICT BY 41,00 VOTES; AND RICARDO LAGOS (PPD) BEAT JAIME GUZMAN IN THE POPULAR VOTE COUNT BY A WHOPPING 175,000 VOTES. CENTER-RIGHT CANDIDATES, WHO WON EIGHT OF THEIR SIXTEEN SENATE SEATS IN SPITE OF THEIR THIRD PLACE SHOWING IN THE POPULAR VOTE, CLEARLY BENEFITTED FROM THE BINOMINAL SYSTEM. HOWEVER, THE RIGHT ALSO LOST TWO SEATS BECAUSE OF IT. RN-UDI CANDIDATES OBTAINED SECOND MAJORITIES IN THE POPULAR VOTE IN SENATE DISTRICTS 10 AND 19, BUT LOST OUT TO THIRD PLACE (IN THE POPULAR VOTE) OPPOSITION CANDIDATES WHO RODE THE COATTAILS OF THEIR SLATE PARTNERS TO VICTORY.

7. (U) THE PPD OBTAINED FEWER PARLIAMENTARY SEATS THAN EXPECTED, AND THE FAR-LEFT BROAD PARTY OF THE SOCIALIST LEFT (PAIS) WON ONLY TWO SEATS. DESPITE EARLIER PREDICTIONS THAT THE CENTER-RIGHT WOULD BE GREATLY DISADVANTAGED BY THE DIVISION AND NUMBER OF PARTIES ON THE RIGHT, THE MAJOR CENTER-RIGHT PARTIES (RN AND UDI) FARED WELL. IN SENATE DISTRICT NINE, HOWEVER, THE COALITION OF PARTIES FOR DEMOCRACY (COPODE) SLATE WOULD NOT HAVE DOUBLED THE RUNNER-UP RN-UDI LIST IF OTHER RIGHTIST PARTIES HAD NOT TAKEN TEN PERCENT OF THE VOTES. RN HAS EMERGED AS THE PRINCIPAL CENTER-RIGHT PARTY, AND

CONGRESS. IN THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES, THE PDC AND ITS CLOSEST ALLIES IN THE COPODE WILL HAVE A TOTAL OF 45 VOTES (38 PDC, 5 RADICAL PARTY (PR), 1 SOCIAL DEMOCRAT (PSD) AND 1 CENTER ALLIANCE PARTY (PAC). THE SOCIALISTS, COMPRISED OF THE PPD'S 17, THE SOCIALIST ALMEYDA'S 6, THE IC'S 2 AND HUMANIST PARTY'S (PH) 1, WILL HAVE 26 SEATS. THE LOYAL OPPOSITION, TNE CENTER-RIGHT (RN, UDI AND INDEPENDENTS), WILL HAVE 49 SEATS.

8. (U) COMMUNISTS: WITH SOME JUSTIFICATION, THE CHILEAN COMMUNIST PARTY (PCCH) BLAMED THE BINOMINAL SYSTEM FOR ITS FAILURE TO GAIN A SENATE OR DEPUTY SEAT. AS NOTED ABOVE, TWO OF THE THREE PCCH SENATORIAL CANDIDATES GOT THE SECOND HIGHEST NUMBER OF INDIVIDUAL VOTES, BUT WERE EDGED OUT BY THE COMBINED VOTES OF RN/UDI CANDIDATES. PCCH SECRETARY TEITELBOIM AND OTHER PCCH SPOKESMEN ALSO CRITICIZED THE PPD AND PDC: THEY SUGGESTED THAT THE COMMUNIST CANDIDATES HAD NOT BENEFITTED FROM THEIR INFORMAL PACT WITH THE PPD, ALTHOUGH THE PCCH HAD

HONORED THE PACT BY SUPPORTING COPODE'S LEFTIST CANDIDATES; AND SWIPED AT THE PDC FOR NOT AGREEING TO RUN ON THE SAME SLATE WITH THEM. THE PCCH ANNOUNCED ON DECEMBER 16 THAT IT WOULD REPRESENT ITS DISENFRANCHIZED SUPPORTERS THROUGH POPULAR AND SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS.

9. U) POLITICAL PARTIES FACING EXTINCTION: ACCORDING TO CHILE'S ELECTORAL LAW, IN ORDER FOR A POLITICAL PARTY TO MAINTAIN ITS REGISTRATION IT MUST OBTAIN AT LEAST FIVE PERCENT OF THE VOTES CAST IN THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES IN AT LEAST EIGHT REGIONS IN THE CASE OF A NATIONAL PARTY AND IN THREE CONTIGUOUS REGIONS IF IT IS REGISTERED AS A REGIONAL PARTY. AS A RESULT, MOST OF CHILE'S MINOR PARTIES STAND TO LOSE THEIR REGISTRATION. AT THIS POINT, ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

THE ONLY POLITICAL PARTIES LIKELY TO SURVIVE ARE THE PDC, RN, UDI, PPD AND POSSIBLY PAIS. INFORMED POLITICAL OBSERVERS EXPECT THE NEXT CONGRESS TO MODIFY THE ELECTORAL LAW, HOWEVER, AND LEADERS OF THE SMALLER POLITICAL ENTITIES APPEAR UNCONCERNED ABOUT THEIR FATE UNDER THE CURRENT LAW.

10. (U) ELECTORAL TRIVIA: PDC'S SENATORIAL CANDIDATE EDUARDO FREI GOT THE HIGHEST NUMBER OF VOTES, DRAWING 603,091. PDC PRESIDENT ANDRES ZALDIVAR FOLLOWED, THEN RICARDO LAGOS (PPD), WHO NONETHLESS LOST BECAUSE OF CHILE'S UNIQUE ELECTORAL SYSTEM. IN THE LOWER CHAMBER, PDC'S ANDRES PALMA HAD THE HIGHEST NUMBER OF VOTES, 83,711, FOLLOWED BY PRESIDENT-ELECT AYLWIN'S BROTHER ANDRES, WHO GOT 80,851 VOTES AND THE GREATEST OVERALL PERCENTAGE (53.3 PERCENT) OF ANY DEPUTY CANDIDATE. RN'S EVELYN MATTHEI GOT THE THIRD HIGHEST NUMBER OF VOTES, 79,592.

11. (C) VIOLENCE: VICTORY CELEBRATIONS WERE SOURED BY VIOLENCE, WITH REPORTEDLY DRUNK OR DRUGGED YOUTHS CAUSING THE MOST DAMAGE. TROUBLE BEGAN THE AFTERNOON OF DECEMBER 15 WHEN YOUTHS, SOME OF THEM WEARING MIR OR FPMR INSIGNIA, BLOCKED SANTIAGO'S MAIN THOROUGHFARE FOR OVER AN HOUR, THROWING STONES AT CARABINEROS AND THEIR VEHICLES. ORDER WAS RESTORED WITH TEAR GAS AND WATER CANNONS. LATER IN THE DAY, THE MAIN CELEBRATORY EVENT HELD ON A LARGE AVENUE NEAR THE NATIONAL STADIUM, WHERE AYLWIN ADDRESSED WELL OVER ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND CHEERING SUPPORTERS, ENDED WITH SCATTERED CONFRONTATIONS BETWEEN SMALL GROUPS OF YOUTHS AND CARABINEROS; VIOLENCE CONTINUED DOWNTOWN NEAR THE PRESIDENTIAL PALACE, BUT

CARABINEROS AGAIN USED TEAR GAS AND WATER CANNON TO DISPERSE THE TROUBLEMAKERS. A CLOSE ASSOCIATE OF

RALLY WAS AN NOTABLE CONTRAST TO THAT OF THE LARGER PRE-ELECTION RALLY, MAINLY BECAUSE OF THE PREDOMINANCE OF RAMBUNCTIOUS YOUTHS. VOLODIA TEITELBOIM, LEADER OF THE CHILEAN COMMUNIST PARTY, WAS QUICK TO DENY ANY INVOLVEMENT BY THE COMMUNIST PARTY IN THE VIOLENT EVENTS. MEDIA OBSERVERS BLAMED THE TOO-AGGRESSIVE ATTITUDE OF AMATEUR SECURITY PERSONNEL AT THE NATIONAL STADIUM FOR PROVOKING SOME OF THE TROUBLE, BUT BANDS OF YOUTHS CONTINUED TO BREAK WIDOWS AND CHALLENGE POLICE IN SANTIAGO UNTIL THE EARLY HOURS OF DECEMBER 16.

12. (U) THERE WERE OTHER SERIOUS INCIDENTS OF VIOLENCE IN VINA DEL MAR, WHERE RAMPAGING YOUTHS BROKE WINDOWS ALONG THE MAIN STREET AND LOOTED STORES. AN ATTACK ON A NATIONAL INFORMATION CENTER (CNI) HEADQUARTERS BY YOUNG MEN SHOUTING THE SLOGANS OF THE TERRORIST GROUPS, MIR AND FPMR, ENDED WITH THE WOUNDING OF ONE OF THE ATTACKERS. IN TEMUCO, A YOUNG MENTALLY-DISTURBED WOMAN WATCHING A VICTORY CARAVAN WAS KILLED WHEN HIT BY A TRUCK. THIS WAS THE ONLY DEATH RECORDED, ALTHOUGH THERE WERE SEVERAL POLICE AND DEMONSTRATORS INJURED, AND 500-600 WERE ARRESTED, MOSTLY FOR DISORDERLY CONDUCT, THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY. PATRICIO AYLWIN LED THE POLITICIANS IN CONDEMNING THE VIOLENCE.

13. (U) SUPPORT FROM ABROAD: NEWS OF AYLWIN'S ELECTORAL VICTORY WAS MET WITH A STEADY STREAM OF MESSAGES OF SUPPORT AND CONGRATULATIONS FROM AROUND THE WORLD. FRENCH PRESIDENT MITTERRAND AND WEST GERMAN CHANCELLOR KOHL SENT ESPECIALLY WARM MESSAGES AND PLEDGED THEIR STRONG SUPPORT FOR THE FUTURE GOVERNMENT. TALK OF HIGH LEVEL REPRESENTATION AT THE MID-MARCH INAUGURATION INCLUDED A STATEMENT BY KOHL'S SPOKESPERSON THAT THE GERMAN LEADER PLANNED TO ATTEND AND REPORTS FROM AN UNNAMED SOURCE THAT VICE PRESIDENT QUAYLE WOULD ALSO BE COMING FOR THE BIG EVENT.

14. (C) FOREIGN TRAVELS: IN ADDITION TO CHOOSING HIS CABINET AND MEETING WITH POLITICAL LEADERS, AYLWIN WILL TRAVEL TO THE UNITED STATES BEFORE HIS MARCH INAUGURATION. THE SPOKESMAN ADDED THAT AYLWIN ADVISORS WERE DEBATING WHETHER TO ADD A SWING THROUGH EUROPE TO VISIT A NUMBER OF EUROPEAN HEADS OF STATE WHO HAD INVITED AYLWIN FOR A PRE-INAUGURAL VISIT. THE CANADIAN EMBASSY'S DCM DAVID BICKFORD TOLD POLOFF THAT CANADA MAY BE ON THE ITINERARY AS WELL.

15. (U) INDEPENDENT FRANCISCO JAVIER ERRAZURIZ ("FRA FRA") TOOK FULL ADVANTAGE OF THE CAMERAS ON ELECTION DAY TO DECLARE HIS 15 PERCENT SHARE OF THE VOTES (ONE MILLION) A VICTORY OF SORTS AND TO CEMENT HIMSELF AS A PERMANENT FIXTURE IN CHILEAN POLITICS. HE CHARACTERIZED HIS PERCENTAGE OF THE VOTE AS SPECTACULAR AND SAID THAT THE FORCES OF THE CENTER WHICH SUPPORTED HIM WOULD NOT REMAIN ORPHANS. FRA FRA CALLED ON HIS SUPPORTERS TO JOIN A NEW PARTY TO REPRESENT THE IDEAS SET FORTH IN HIS CAMPAIGN.

1. THE FOLLOWING IS THE TEXT OF A LETTER PASSED TO ASSISTANT USTR PHILLIPS BY AMBASSADOR ERRAZURIZ ON DECEMBER 13. AS INDICATED IN REF, A GOVERNMENT MAY REQUEST RECONSIDERATION OF A GSP SUSPENSION ON WORKER RIGHTS GROUNDS AT ANY TIME. A DECISION TO UNDERTAKE A FORMAL REVIEW WILL, HOWEVER, BE MADE BASED UPON DEMONSTRATED, SUBSTANTIVE PROGRESS IN THE WORKER RIGHTS AREA. EMBASSY ANALYSIS OF, AND REACTION TO, THE ARGUMENTS MADE BY AMBASSADOR ERRAZURIZ IS REQUESTED.

2. SPECIFIC QUESTIONS CONCERNING WORKER RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE WILL FOLLOW SEPTEL, BUT WASHINGTON AGENCIES WOULD PARTICULARLY WELCOME INFORMATION ON THE LAW AMB. ERRAZURIZ REFERS TO AND WHICH HE CHARACTERIZES AS PERMITTING POLITICAL PARTY OFFICALS TO HOLD TRADE UNION POSITIONS. EMBASSY'S UNCLASSIFIED LABOR TRENDS REPORT IN MAY NOTED THAT THIS RESTRICTION WAS LIFTED FOR THE DECEMBER 1989 ELECTIONS. IN ADDITION, EMBASSY CONFIRMATION THAT AMBASSADOR ERRAZURIZ HAS ACTED UPON INSTRUCTION OF HIS GOVERNMENT WOULD BE APPRECIATED.

3. REACTION OF THE INCOMING ALYWIN GOVERNMENT AND CHILEAN TRADE UNION OFFICIALS TO THE REQUEST SHOULD BE SOLICITED. WASHINGTON AGENCIES ARE SPECIFICALLY INTERESTED IN WHETHER THERE IS SUPPORT FOR THE REQUEST AND WHETHER EITHER ALYWIN AND/OR CHILEAN TRADE UNION OFFICIALS HAVE ADDITIONAL ARGUMENTS THEY WOULD MAKE, OR INTEND TO MAKE, IN SUPPORT OF THE REQUEST.

DEAR MR. LAWRENCE:

IN DECEMBER, 1987 CHILE WAS SUSPENDED FROM THE BENEFITS OF THE UNITED STATES GENERALIZED SYSTEM OF PREFERENCES AND FROM PARTICIPATION IN THE OVERSEAS PRIVATE INVESTMENT CORPORATION.

I AM ADDRESSING THIS LETTER TO YOU IN ORDER TO FORMALLY REQUEST, ON BEHALF OF MY GOVERNMENT AND THE PEOPLE OF CHILE, THE REINSTATEMENT OF OUR COUNTRY TO THE LIST OF COUNTRIES WHICH ARE BENEFICIARIES OF THE GSP.

WE TRULY BELIEVE THAT THE SITUATION IN CHILE HAS EVOLVED TO THE POINT THAT OUR REQUEST SHOULD BE PROMPTLY FULFILLED. I WISH TO PRESENT YOU AND THE MEMBERS OF YOUR COMMITTEE FULL INFORMATION WITH RESPECT TO THIS EVOLUTION.

AT THE PRESENT TIME CHILE IS IN THE MIDST OF A PROCESS OF TRANSITION TO FULL DEMOCRACY. NEW POLITICAL AUTHORITIES, PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS, WILL BE ELECTED DECEMBER 14 AND INAUGURATED IN MARCH, 1990. ALL SECTORS IN CHILE, INCLUDING ORGANIZED LABOR, HAVE RECOGNIZED AND SUPPORT THIS PEACEFUL, ORDERLY AND OUTSTANDING DEVELOPMENT. THE BEST PROOF OF THE WILL TO MOVE TO FULL DEMOCRACY IS THE REALITY OF CHILE TODAY, WHICH CANNOT BE DENIED.

THERE ARE SEVERAL POINTS I SHOULD LIKE TO MAKE ABOUT INTERNATIONALLY RECOGNIZED WORKERS' RIGHTS:

FIRST, THE ANNUAL RESOLUTION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE UNITED NATIONS HAS EVOLVED IN A POSITIVE MANNER SINCE 1985. WHILE THE 1985 RESOLUTION ASKED FOR THE RE-ESTABLISHMENT AND EXERCISE OF LABOR RIGHTS, INCLUDING THE RIGHT TO ORGANIZE, BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY AND STRIKE, ALONG WITH COMPLIANCE WITH ILO CONVENTIONS SIGNED BY CHILE, THE 1986 RESOLUTION CITES "RESTORING TOTAL EXERCISE OF...LABOR RIGHTS," AND THE 1987 RESOLUTION MENTIONS

"RESTORING...LABOR AND UNION RIGHTS PARTICULARLY..." 1988 AND 1989 RESOLUTIONS CONTAIN NO SPECIFIC MENTION OF LABOR MATTERS.

SECOND, CHILE AS A FOUNDER AND ACTIVE MEMBER OF THE INTERNATIONAL LABOR ORGANIZATION (ILO) SINCE 1919 HAS RIGOROUSLY SUBMITTED ITSELF TO EACH OF THE ILO STANDARDS AND CONTROL AGENCIES. CHILE HAS SIGNED AND RATIFIED 40 ILO CONVENTIONS AND BASES ALL ITS LABOR LEGISLATION ON THEM. CHILEAN LABOR LEGISLATION THEREFORE CONTAINS AN ENORMOUS BODY OF PROTECTION FOR THE WORKER IN SUCH AREAS AS LENGTH OF THE WORKDAY, MINIMUM ARE, PROTECTION OF WOMEN, AND MANDATORY REST PERIODS. FURTHERMORE, FOR THE LAST TWO YEARS ILO HAS CONTINUED TO RECOGNIZE THE COMPLIANCE OF CHILEAN LABOR LEGISLATION WITH ILO STANDARDS. CHILEAN REPRESENTATIVES HAVE BEEN ACCEPTED BY THE ILO AND ATTENDED ITS ANNUAL ASSEMBLIES.

THIRD, WITH RESPECT TO THE PERSONAL SITUATION OF LABOR LEADERS IN CHILE, THE AUTHORITIES, AS A GESTURE OF GOOD WILL, DECIDED TO LIFT THE PENALTY OF RELEGATION WHICH WAS IMPOSED ON MESSRS. BUSTOS AND MARTINEZ BY THE CHILEAN COURTS. ADDITIONALLY, A LAW HAS RECENTLY BEEN ENACTED WHICH AUTHORIZES POLITICAL PARTY OFFICERS TO SERVE SIMULTANEOUSLY AS OFFICERS OF LABOR UNIONS IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE RECENTLY APPROVED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

FOURTH, THE AFL-CIO AGREED AT ITS LAST CONVENTION IN WASHINGTON, D.C., NOVEMBER 13-15, TO ENDORSE THE REQUEST OF CHILEAN LABOR LEADERS BUSTOS AND RIOS, WHO ATTENDED THE MEETING, THAT UNITED STATES AUTHORITIES REINSTATE CHILE TO THE BENEFITS OF GSP AND OPIC. WE BELIEVE THAT THE POSITION TAKEN BY THE AFL-CIO, RECOGNIZING THE ADVANCES

UNCLASSIFIED

WHICH HAVE TAKEN PLACE IN CHILE, TO BE OF THE GREATEST RELEVANCE, AS IT WAS THE AFL-CIO WHICH ASKED FOR CHILE'S SUSPENSION FROM THE GSP IN 1987.

FINALLY, I CANNOT AVOID MAKING A BRIEF EVALUATION OF THE LABOR SITUATION IN CHILE. OUR COUNTRY HAS ATTEMPTED, THROUGH LABOR LEGISLATION, TO ATTAIN TWO BASIC OBJECTIVES: INCREASE THE LEVEL OF EMPLOYMENT AND INCREASE THE LEVEL OF REAL WAGES. WE ARE CONVINCED THAT THESE TWO OBJECTIVES, MORE THAN ANY OTHERS, CONTRIBUTE TO THE WELL-BEING, DEVELOPMENT AND REAL POSSIBILITIES OF CHILEAN WORKERS. RESULTS BOTH IN TERMS OF EMPLOYMENT AND REAL WAGES ELOQUENTLY TESTIFY TO OUR SUCCESS.

ACCORDING TO THE ECONOMIC REPORT PREPARED IN OCTOBER, 1989 BY THE EMBASSY OF THE UNITED STATES IN CHILE UNEMPLOYMENT IN CHILE HAS DROPPED FROM 11.9 PERCENT IN 1985 TO 8.8 PERCENT IN 1986, TO 7.9 PERCENT IN 1987 AND TO 5.9 PERCENT IN 1988. MORE THAN A MILLION NEW PRODUCTIVE JOBS HAVE BEEN CREATED DURING THE PAST FIVE YEARS. AT THE SAME TIME, COLLECTIVE BARGAINING AND LABOR STRIKES ARE LEGAL AND HAVE OCCURRED IN CHILE.

TO QUOTE THE SAME REPORT:

"THE ECONOMY IS IN ITS SIXTH YEAR OF GROWTH, UNEMPLOYMENT IS DECLINING AND FAMILY INCOME GROWING."

"THERE ARE CURRENTLY 6,000 UNIONS, FEDERATIONS AND CONFEDERATIONS IN CHILE WITH A TOTAL MEMBERSHIP OF ABOUT 400,000 WORKERS."

"EMPLOYMENT HAS CONTINUED TO EXPAND AT OVER A 5 PERCENT ANNUAL RATE, TRANSLATING INTO SOME 210,000 NEW POSITIONS DURING THE NEXT YEAR."

UNCLASSIFIED

"REAL WAGES HAVE CLIMBED EVERY YEAR SINCE 1985."

UNFORTUNATELY, THE COST OF CHILE'S SUSPENSION FROM THE GSP HAS CONTINUED TO BE ABSORBED MOSTLY BY MEDIUM AND SMALL EXPORTERS OF NON-TRADITIONAL PRODUCTS WHICH ARE STRIVING TO COMPETE AND CREATE JOBS.

I AM CERTAIN THAT YOU AND YOUR COLLEAGUES ON THE COMMITTEE, AFTER REVIEWING THIS MATTER, WILL FULFILL OUR REQUEST IT IN A FAIR AND JUST MANNER.

SINCERELY YOURS,
OCTAVIO ERRAZURIZ

2. DEPARTMENT APPRECIATES EMBASSY'S RAPID AND SUCCINCT REPORTING ON GOG VIEWS ON THE RECENT SAN JOSE SUMMIT OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS. WE ALSO NOTE EMBASSY'S INCREASING EFFORTS TO SUSTAIN A DIALOGUE ON REGIONAL ISSUES INITIATED DURING FOREIGN MINISTER RIVERA'S MEETINGS IN WASHINGTON IN NOVEMBER.

3. FROM EMBASSY REPORTS, IT APPEARS THAT GUATEMALA IS PLAYING A MORE CONSTRUCTIVE ROLE IN THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PEACE PROCESS. REPORTEDLY, DURING THE SUMMIT, PRESIDENT CEREZO ACTIVELY PARTICIPATED IN DRAFTING THE CONDEMNATION OF THE FMLN FOR ITS VIOLENT ATTACKS AGAINST THE GOES. AS NOTED IN REFTEL D, CEREZO TOLD ORTEGA THAT GUATEMALA WOULD HAVE TO ABANDON ITS POLICY OF ACTIVE NEUTRALITY AND TAKE A MORE CONFRONTATIONAL STANCE IF VIOLATIONS OF THE PEACE AGREEMENT CONTINUE. WHILE CEREZO'S POSITIVE ROLE AT THE SUMMIT MAY HAVE BEEN PREDICATED ON THE RECENT WAVE OF URNG GUERRILLA ATTACKS IN GUATEMALA AND HIS CONCERN THAT THE COUNTRY MAY BE IN STORE FOR MORE SPILLOVER FROM EL SALVADOR, WE HAVE SOME RECENT REPORTING THAT THE FMLN AND THEIR CUBAN AND GUATEMALAN ALLIES MAY ATTEMPT TO ESTABLISH A LOGISTICS CORRIDOR THROUGH GUATEMALA FROM MEXICO. WE ARE REPEATING A CAPTIONED MESSAGE OF A CONVERSATION BETWEEN AMBASSADOR NEGROPONTE AND PRESIDENT SALINAS ON THE FMLN.

4. ACTION REQUESTED: GIVEN THAT THE IRON MAY BE HOT IN GUATEMALA AND THE FMLN ET AL MAY BE ATTEMPTING TO CONSTRUCT AN ALTERNATIVE TO NICARAGUA - BASED DELIVERIES INTO EL SALVADOR, DEPARTMENT WOULD APPRECIATE INFORMATION AS TO WHETHER THE GOG HAS HAD ANY DISCUSSIONS WITH THE GOM ON THIS ISSUE AND EMBASSY'S THOUGHTS ON WHAT STEPS THE GOG MIGHT BE WILLING TO TAKE TO BOTH BETTER PREVENT INTERDICTIONS DELIVERIES FROM MEXICO AND TO HALT FOOD BLOCKADE THROUGH GUATEMALA TO EL SALVADOR.

5. BY WAY OF NOTE FROM HERE, IT APPEARS THAT GOG-GOM RELATIONS HAVE VASTLY IMPROVED, AS PER CEREZO'S BILATERAL WITH SALINAS THIS PAST SUMMER AND COMMENTS MADE BY MGO GRANADO DURING HIS VISIT TO WASHINGTON THIS FALL. DEPARTMENT WOULD ALSO APPRECIATE EMBASSY SUGGESTIONS ON HOW BEST TO APPROACH THIS ISSUE WITH THE GOG.

7. ARMY OFFICERS ALSO EXPRESSED CONCERN OVER THE GROWING "MEXICANIZATION" OF THE AREA. ACCORDING TO THEM, IN ESSENCE MEXICO HAS INCORPORATED MUCH OF WESTERN SAN MARCOS. MANY OF THE PEOPLE IN THE AREA WORK IN MEXICO, PARTICULARLY DURING THE COFFEE HARVEST (APPROX. JUNE - FEBRUARY) AND MEXICAN CURRENCY AND NATIONALS CIRCULATE THROUGHOUT THE AREA. THE OPIUM BUSINESS IN SAN MARCOS AND THE GUERRILLAS OF ORPA (REVOLUTIONARY ORGANIZATION OF THE PEOPLE) DEPEND ON CONTINUED ACCESS TO MEXICO. THE OFFICERS GAVE EMBOFFS A SMALL BAG OF "PAPAS AMERICANAS," A NEW CROP INTRODUCED TO THE AREA BY MEXICAN TRAFFICKERS. (COMMENT: INITIAL ANALYSIS INDICATES IT COULD BE USED IN MAKING STEROIDS.)

2. AARMA AND POLMIL OFFICER VISITED, DECEMBER 19, [redacted]

CONFLICTIVE AND DRUG GROWING AREAS ALONG THE MEXICAN BORDER IN NORTHWESTERN SAN MARCOS AND IN THE CUILCO VALLEY OF SOUTHWESTERN HUEHUETENANGO. EMBOFFS FOUND, AS EXPECTED, RESENTMENT AGAINST INM'S AERIAL ERADICATION OF THE OPIUM CROP; SOME RESIDENTS TOLD UNBELIEVABLE STORIES OF THRUSH PLANES SPRAYING THEIR COMMUNITIES AND FOOD CROPS. THEY ADMITTED FIRING AT THE PLANES. ACCORDING TO AN ARMY SOURCE, OPIUM GUM SHIPMENTS TO MEXICO OCCUR DAILY FROM CUILCO.

3. COMBAT ACTIVITY IN NORTHWESTERN SAN MARCOS AND SOUTHERN HUEHUETENANGO SEEMED INTENSE AND THE ARMY AND THE GUERRILLAS REPORTEDLY ARE PREPARING OFFENSIVES FOR THE NEW YEAR. ARMY OFFICERS IN THE AREA HAVE NO DOUBTS THAT LINKS EXIST BETWEEN THE DRUG PRODUCERS AND THE GUERRILLAS AND SEEM WILLING TO DO MORE ON THE DRUG FRONT, INCLUDING USING CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS TO SPOT AND DESTROY FIELDS AND ROAD BUILDING PROJECTS TO REACH SOME CURRENTLY ALMOST INACCESSIBLE OPIUM CULTIVATION AND GUERRILLA AREAS. ARMY OFFICERS ARE ALSO WORRIED BY THE GROWING "MEXICANIZATION" OF THE AREA: MEXICAN CURRENCY, PRODUCTS, AND NATIONALS ARE FOUND THROUGHOUT WESTERN SAN MARCOS, MEXICAN MONEY HELPED BUILD THE PRIMITIVE ROAD FROM THE BORDER TO TACANA, AND BOTH THE DRUG DEALERS AND THE GUERRILLAS DEPEND ON ACCESS TO MEXICO. OFFICERS GAVE EMBOFFS A BAG OF "AMERICAN POTATOES" (PAPA AMERICANA), A NEW DRUG CROP INTRODUCED TO SAN MARCOS BY MEXICANS. A LIEUTENANT STATED THAT DRUG CULTIVATION BY GUERRILLAS HAS SPREAD NORTH OF CUILCO (HUEHUETENANGO). OFFICERS ASKED U.S. HELP IN THE DRUG WAR.

4. THE AREAS VISITED ARE VIOLENT ONES CHARACTERIZED BY ARMED CLASHES, KILLINGS, KIDNAPPINGS, AND ROBBERIES.

[redacted]

THERE IS NO NATIONAL POLICE PRESENCE, AND, ASIDE FROM THE ARMY, ALMOST NO OTHER GOG REPRESENTATION IN THE AREA, LEAVING IT OPEN TO BANDITRY, GUERRILLA ACTIVITY, AND DRUG DEALING. THE SMALL UNIT OF TREASURY POLICE (GUARDIA DE HACIENDA) IN CUILCO IS FRIGHTENED, ISOLATED, POORLY EQUIPPED, LIVING IN PRIMITIVE CONDITIONS, AND TRAPPED IN TOWN. THE ARMY CLEARLY SEEMS MUCH MORE AWARE OF THE DRUG ISSUE THAN IN THE PAST BUT STILL UNSURE AS TO HOW TO DEAL WITH IT GIVEN THE LIMITED RESOURCES AVAILABLE. DESPITE POLITICAL PROBLEMS IT WILL ENGENDER, IF SERIOUS ABOUT BEATING DRUG PRODUCERS, WE NEED TO WORK MORE WITH THE ARMY IN THE DRUG FIGHT. END SUMMARY.

INTRODUCTION

5. AARMA AND POLMIL OFFICER VISITED, DECEMBER 19, CONFLICTIVE AND DRUG-GROWING AREAS ALONG THE MEXICAN BORDER IN NORTHWESTERN SAN MARCOS DEPARTMENT AND IN THE CUILCO VALLEY OF SOUTHWESTERN HUEHUETENANGO DEPARTMENT. THEY CALLED ON THE SAN MARCOS MILITARY ZONE HQ (MZ18), TOWNS OF TACANA (SAN MARCOS) AND CUILCO (HUEHUETENANGO), AND A SMALL ARMY UNIT CAMPED ALONG THE CUILCO RIVER NEAR IXTAHUACAN (HUEHUETENANGO). EMBOFFS DISCUSSED WITH MILITARY AND CIVILIAN PERSONNEL NARCOTICS SMUGGLING AND PRODUCTION AND THE STATE OF THE ONGOING INSURGENCY IN THIS TRADITIONALLY CONFLICTIVE AREA. PLANS TO VISIT OTHER SAN MARCOS LOCALES WERE DROPPED DUE TO FIGHTING BETWEEN ARMY UNITS AND GUERRILLAS. AN MZ18 OFFICER IN CIVILIAN CLOTHES ACCOMPANIED EMBOFFS THROUGHOUT THE TOUR.

They could run for office, but they would have to give up labor union position.

MEMORANDUM

TO: ARA/SC - Jim Gutierrez

FROM: S/IL - Anthony G. Freeman

SUBJECT: Chile Human Rights Report

S/IL clears the worker rights section of the report with the following observations:

Section 6a, para 1: We have heard that the Government liberalized its stance toward union leaders participation in politics during the recent elections, i.a., by allowing them to run for office. If this is accurate shouldn't we include it in the report?

d.s courages

Section 6a para 2, sentence 3: Would it be more accurate to say that the labor code "inhibits" development of national union confederations? Also, could we add a sentence at the beginning of para 4 that would address the "harassment" question, e.g.: "There are frequent allegations that the refusal of the Government to grant legal recognition to the CUT, and the incidents mentioned below and in various ILO reports, constitute a pattern of official harassment of trade unions."

ok

Section 6a para 3, last sentence: Is 60 days the "legal limit" for a strike, or the limit after which strikers are subject to loss of benefits and jobs? (As an issue in the GSP question this needs precise treatment.)

after 60 days, strike can be fired

Section 6a: Add the following as fifth, sixth and seventh paras in this section:

(para 5)"Chile has not ratified ILO Conventions 87, on freedom of association, or 98, on collective bargaining.

(para 6)"The allegations listed above are among numerous complaints filed against Chile with the ILO by a number of national and international trade union organizations over the past several years. In its most recent interim report (June 1989) on the status of these cases, the ILO Committee on Freedom of Association (CFA) noted that the Government had provided detailed information on most of the allegations pending in the case. In its recommendations the Committee urged the Government to end the internal exile of union leaders Bustos and Martinez; noted (in the case of two leaders of the teachers union) that conviction for activities related to trade union rights should not be grounds for disqualification for union office; and, requested additional detailed information on the cases from both the Government and those filing the complaints.

(para 7)"In its review of the application of conventions in 1989, the ILO Committee of Experts (COE) reiterated its call for Chile's repeal of provisions of the Constitution and various laws which bar individuals from holding public jobs or offices, or positions in publishing or education by virtue of their membership in or association with organizations which espouse certain prohibited ideologies or political viewpoints. The COE also cited laws which provide for discharge without compensation for activities unrelated to the work place, as incompatible with ILO standards. The Committee also called on the Government to repeal laws which grant broad discretionary powers to executives of educational institutions and permit the barring of students and teachers from such institutions for the expressing of political opinions."

Section 6b: Does the law prohibit anti-union discrimination by employers? Are there effective mechanisms for resolving complaints? mechanisms to assure UR to unions are not effective, especially in small workplaces. Theoretically, yes Practically, no

Section 6b, para 3: This para should answer two questions: First are there export processing or free trade zones? And, if so, are the labor laws applied there? Do unions actually exist in the EPZs and does collective bargaining take place?

Section 6d: Are the minimum age laws effectively enforced in the formal sector?

Section 6e: Change "wages" to "wage" in the first sentence.

SUBJECT: 1990 INTERNATIONAL NARCOTICS CONTROL STRATEGY REPORT (INCSR) - BOLIVIA

1. SUMMARY

A. IN A YEAR MARKED BY A HOTLY CONTESTED PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION AND A TRANSITION TO A NEW COALITION GOVERNMENT, BOLIVIA HAS MADE PROGRESS IN COUNTERNARCOTICS ACTIVITIES IN 1989 ONLY AROUND THE MARGINS. TO BE SURE, THE COUNTRY HAS MADE PROGRESS ON SOME FRONTS. OF THREE MAJOR COCAINE TRAFFICKERS ARRESTED THIS YEAR, ONE WAS TRANSPORTED TO THE UNITED STATES, ONE WAS RELEASED AFTER THREE WEEKS OF CONFINEMENT, AND ONE REMAINS IN A LOCAL PRISON. THE AVIATION PROJECT IS A PROGRAM HIGHLIGHT AND MIGHT EVEN SERVE AS A MODEL FOR OTHER COUNTRIES, WHILE THE RIVERINE PROGRAM LANGUISHES AT A LOW EBB. COCA REDUCTION AND THE SEIZURE OF SOME COCAINE PRODUCTS AND COCA REDUCTION SHOW IMPROVEMENTS OVER PREVIOUS YEARS' PERFORMANCE LEVELS IN ABSOLUTE TERMS. HOWEVER, NEITHER INTERDICTION NOR COCA REDUCTION, EITHER INDIVIDUALLY OR COMBINED, HAVE HAD A MEASURABLE IMPACT ON THE AVAILABILITY OF BOLIVIAN-GENERATED COCAINE ON THE WORLD MARKET. COMBINED, INTERDICTION AND COCA REDUCTIONS ACCOUNTED FOR 8.2 PERCENT OF THE NATION'S ESTIMATED PRODUCTIVE CAPACITY FAILING TO KEEP PACE WITH EXPANDED PRODUCTION OF 9.2 PERCENT; ALL DESPITE A MAJOR COMMITMENT OF U.S. RESOURCES OVER THE LAST THREE YEARS AMOUNTING TO OVER USD 200 MILLION IN USAID, NARCOTICS CONTROL, AND MILITARY PROGRAMS.

B. BOLIVIAN GOVERNMENTS TRADITIONALLY HAVE NOT BEEN EAGER TO CHALLENGE NARCOTRAFFICKERS IN DETERMINED (AND

UNCLASSIFIED
UNCLASSIFIED

POLITICALLY COSTLY) FASHION. CHRONICALLY SHORT OF RESOURCES AND FACING A POTENTIALLY DANGEROUS THREAT FROM TRAFFICKERS, THEY HAVE BEEN LONG ON RHETORIC AND DEMANDING ADDITIONAL ASSISTANCE BUT SHORT ON IMPLEMENTING THE TOUGHER PROVISIONS OF THEIR OWN LAWS AND AGREEMENTS, OFTEN REFUSING TO CONFRONT THE DIFFICULT ISSUES INVOLVED -- IMPLEMENTING A TRULY EFFECTIVE COUNTERNARCOTICS PROGRAM. ALTHOUGH OVERALL PERFORMANCE IN 1989 HAS BEEN LACKLUSTER, WE ARE ENCOURAGED BY DEVELOPMENTS WITH THE NEW GOVERNMENT WHICH ASSUMED POWER

IN EARLY AUGUST.

C. TO BE SURE, THEY GOT OFF TO A SHAKY START, MAKING A NUMBER OF POOR APPOINTMENTS IN KEY POLICE POSITIONS AND ALLOWING COCA REDUCTION TO LANGUISH TOO LONG BEFORE FOCUSING ON THAT PROGRAM. BOLIVIAN OFFICIALS NEW TO OFFICE CLEARLY DID NOT UNDERSTAND THE GRAVITY OF THE NARCOTICS THREAT OR ITS CENTRALITY TO BOLIVIAN RELATIONS WITH ITS NEIGHBORS, THE U.S., OR EUROPEAN NATIONS. LATE IN THE YEAR, HOWEVER, SOME THREE MONTHS INTO THE NEW ADMINISTRATION, THERE WERE ENCOURAGING SIGNS OF A NEW REALISM IN BOLIVIAN ATTITUDE. THE GOB DEMONSTRATED STRONG POLITICAL WILL AND AN ASSUMPTION OF RISK BY ARRESTING AND REMOVING A MAJOR BOLIVIAN VIOLATOR TO THE UNITED STATES. THE GOB ALSO BEGAN FORCED COCA ERADICATION FOR THE FIRST TIME IN BOLIVIA'S HISTORY. ALTHOUGH THE NONVOLUNTARY ERADICATION CAME TOO LATE IN 1989 TO HAVE A MAJOR IMPACT ON COCA REDUCTION LEVELS, COCA REDUCTION HAS BEEN ON AN UPSWING AS THE YEAR COMES TO AN END, WITH OVER 400 HECTARES BEING REDUCED IN DECEMBER. BEARING IN MIND THAT 1989 WAS A DISRUPTIVE YEAR FOR BOLIVIA WITH GENERAL ELECTIONS IN MAY AND A THREE-MONTH TRANSITION PERIOD LEADING TO A CHANGE OF GOVERNMENT IN AUGUST, THE MISSION SUGGESTS A CAREFUL

EVALUATION OF BOLIVIA'S PERFORMANCE DESIGNED TO MAKE THE UPCOMING NARCOTICS SUMMIT USEFUL AND PRODUCTIVE. OUR RECOMMENDATION IS CONTAINED IN SECTION D.2, SEPTEL. END SUMMARY.

2. STATUS AND NATURE OF ILLICIT PRODUCTION AND TRAFFICKING (A.1 AND B.1)

....

- A. BOLIVIA IS THE WORLD'S SECOND LARGEST PRODUCE OF COCA WITH AN ESTIMATED (1989) 53,920 HECTARES OF C UNDER CULTIVATION CAPABLE OF PRODUCING 80,005 METRIC TONS (MT) OF DRY LEAF ANNUALLY, YIELDING 120 MT OF COCAINE HCL, ALLOWING FOR TRADITIONAL LEAF CONSUMPTION, SPOILAGE, AND REDUCTION. UNFORTUNATELY, THIS REPRESENTS A 9.2 PERCENT NET INCREASE OVER LAST YEAR'S (1988) SURVEY REFLECTING 49,345 HECTARES UNDER CULTIVATION YIELDING 110 MT OF COCAINE HCL, DESPITE VOLUNTARY AND LIMITED FORCED ERADICATION.

- B. BOLIVIA IS NOT SIGNIFICANT IN THE INTERNATIONAL TRAFFICKING ARENA OF DANGEROUS DRUGS, HEROIN OR MARIJUANA, NOR IS BOLIVIA A MONEY LAUNDERING CENTER, GIVEN ITS TRADITION OF ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL INSTABILITY.

- C. TRADITIONALLY, BOLIVIA WAS A COCA CULTIVATOR AND FIRST-ECHELON PROCESSOR OF LEAF INTO COCA PASTE. MOST PASTE AND LIMITED QUANTITIES OF BASE WERE EXPORTED TO

COLOMBIA. THE CHARACTER OF COCAINE TRAFFICKING IN BOLIVIA HAS CHANGED DUE TO EXCESS PRODUCTION OF COCAINE PRODUCTS ON THE SOUTH AMERICAN CONTINENT IN THE LAST FEW YEARS RESULTING IN DECLINING WHOLESALE PRICES AT EVERY ECHELON OF THE COCAINE CULTIVATION/PROCESSING/ DISTRIBUTION CHAIN. OPERATING COSTS, ON THE OTHER HAND, HAVE BEEN RELATIVELY STATIC, THUS GENERATING A PROFIT SQUEEZE. THUS, TRAFFICKING ORGANIZATIONS NOW INTEGRATE OPERATIONS VERTICALLY FROM PASTE BUYING THROUGH HCL PROCESSING, CONCENTRATING ON BASE/HCL PRODUCTION AND TRAFFICKING WHERE MARKUPS AND PROFITS TEND TO BE HIGHER,

UNCLASSIFIED

LEAVING PEASANTS AND INTERMEDIARIES TO HANDLE THE LESS PROFITABLE PASTE PRODUCTION. MAJOR BOLIVIAN ORGANIZATIONS DISTRIBUTE SOME OF THEIR FINAL PRODUCT TO THE EUROPEAN MARKET VIA ARGENTINA AND BRAZIL WHILE CONTINUING TO SUPPLY WHOLESALE QUANTITIES ON A MUCH LARGER SCALE TO U.S. MARKETS IN CONSORT WITH COLOMBIAN DISTRIBUTORS, SOMETIMES ROUTING THEIR WARES VIA MEXICO.

D. NEARLY ONE-THIRD OF BOLIVIA'S COCA IS GROWN IN THE YUNGAS AREA OF LA PAZ DEPARTMENT. MOST OF THE YUNGAS CROP IS USED TO SATISFY LEGAL, INTERNAL DEMAND FOR MASTICATION AND TEA. SOME 300,000 BOLIVIANS ARE BELIEVED TO CONSUME 10,000 MT OF DRY LEAF A YEAR. NEARLY ALL OF THE BALANCE OF BOLIVIA'S COCA IS GROWN IN THE CHAPARE AREA OF COCHABAMBA DEPARTMENT.

E. THE CHAPARE REGION IS THE HEART OF ILLICIT CULTIVATION WHERE SOME 37,000 PEASANTS CULTIVATE COCA. ALTHOUGH PEASANTS ARE INDEPENDENT OWNERS/PLANTERS, MOST ARE MEMBERS OF 640 SYNDICATES (COOPERATIVES) WHICH COMBINE TO FORM 54 CENTRALS (TOWNSHIPS). THIS SYNDICATE/CENTRAL STRUCTURE CONSTITUTES THE LOWER ECHELON OF AN ACTIVE, FUNCTIONING DEMOCRATIC FORM OF LOCAL GOVERNMENT WHICH STRONGLY INFLUENCES THE ECONOMIC, POLITICAL AND SOCIAL FABRIC OF THE CHAPARE PEASANTS' LIFE. THESE STRUCTURES ARE KEY BUILDING BLOCKS IN SECURING A SUCCESSFUL VOLUNTARY ERADICATION PROGRAM.

F. CHAPARE PEASANTS HARVEST THEIR FIELDS ABOUT FOUR TIMES A YEAR. LEAVES ARE DRIED AND USUALLY SOLD IN ONE OF SEVERAL MARKETS IN 100-POUND UNITS CALLED "CARGAS". PRICES FOR CARGAS FLUCTUATED, SOMETIMES RADICALLY THROUGHOUT 1989, RANGING FROM USD 27 TO 100. SINCE COST OF PRODUCTION AND TRANSPORT IS ESTIMATED AT USD 30, THERE IS AN UNSTABLE PROFIT TO PEASANTS, VARYING FROM 0 TO 300 PERCENT. THIS IS IN STARK CONTRAST TO PROFITS OF A THOUSAND PERCENT OR MORE ASSOCIATED WITH USD 200/CARGA 1986 PRE-BLAST FURNACE PRICES OR PEAK 1984/1985 PRICES OF USD 600-800/CARGA.

G. DRIED LEAVES ARE PROCESSED THROUGHOUT THE CHAPARE REGION IN CRUDE PASTE LABS OR MACERATION PITS, MOSTLY BY WHOLESALE LEAF BUYERS OR SOMETIMES BY CULTIVATORS THEMSELVES. ABOUT 110 KILOS OF LEAF ARE REQUIRED TO PRODUCE ONE KILO OF PASTE VALUED AT USD 125 IN 1989.

H. APPROXIMATELY 30 COCAINE ORGANIZATIONS BUY NEARLY ALL THE COCA PASTE PRODUCED IN THE CHAPARE. FIVE OF THESE ARE "BROKER" ORGANIZATIONS THAT BUY PASTE ONLY FOR

RESALE AND MAKE NO ATTEMPT TO FURTHER PROCESS IT. THE OTHER 25 ORGANIZATIONS BUY PASTE AND PROCESS IT WITHIN THEIR OWN ORGANIZATION TO PRODUCE COCAINE BASE AND/OR COCAINE HCL. AS PASTE TENDS TO DETERIORATE QUICKLY IN THE HUMID CHAPARE REGION (OVER 200 INCHES OF RAINFALL A YEAR), NEARLY FOUR KILOS OF PASTE REPORTEDLY ARE REQUIRED TO YIELD ONE KILO OF BASE, VALUED AT USD 650. BASE THEN IS CONVERTED TO HCL AT A 1:1 RATIO, THE LATTER PRODUCT SELLING FOR ABOUT USD 1,600 PER KILO, WHOLESALE. BOLIVIANS OFTEN END UP "FRONTING" THEIR COCAINE BASE AND HCL TO COLOMBIAN NETWORKS THAT MANAGE

I. MOST CULTIVATION FOR ILLICIT PURPOSES TENDS TO BE CONFINED TO A RELATIVELY SMALL AREA OF THE CHAPARE.

COCAINE BASE AND HCL PROCESSING TAKES PLACE ACROSS A MUCH BROADER REGION OF THE BENI AND SANTA CRUZ DEPARTMENTS.

3. ACCOMPLISHMENTS (A.2)

A. THE QUANTITIES OF COCAINE REMOVED BY BOLIVIA FROM THE INTERNATIONAL TRAFFICKING CIRCUIT IN 1989 REPRESENT AN INCREASE, IN ABSOLUTE TERMS, OVER COCA REDUCTION AND SEIZURES EFFECTED IN PREVIOUS YEARS IN MOST CATEGORIES. UNFORTUNATELY, THE QUANTITIES REMOVED AMOUNT TO LESS THAN NINE PERCENT OF TOTAL PRODUCTIVE CAPACITY AND HAVE NOT KEPT PACE WITH GROWTH IN THE INDUSTRY. FINAL, 1989 YEAR END FIGURES WILL BE PROVIDED SEPTEL IN EARLY JANUARY.

D. THE COCA ERADICATION CAMPAIGNCONTINUES TO BE A VIABLE PROGRAM, HAVING REMOVED 2,340 HECTARES FROM PRODUCTION THROUGH MID-DECEMBER 1989 THROUGH VOLUNTARY AND INVOLUNTARY MEANS, REPRESENTING A 59 AND 133 PERCENT INCREASE OVER 1988 AND 1987 ACTIVITY LEVELS, RESPECTIVELY. EACH HECTARE GENERATES ENOUGH RAW MATERIAL TO PRODUCE THREE KILOGRAMS OF COCAINE HYDROCHLORIDE PER YEAR. ADDITIONALLY, THE GOB BEGAN FORCED ERADICATION FOR THE FIRST TIME IN LATE OCTOBER, AND LATER IN MID-DECEMBER, REMOVING SOME NINE HECTARES IN THE YAPACANI, AND STIMULATING FARMERS TO REDUCE THE REMAINDER OF STANDING COCA IN THAT REGION WHICH, SINCE JULY, 1989, IS AN ILLICIT PRODUCTION ZONE, TO NEGLIGIBLE LEVELS.

E. UNFORTUNATELY, ERADICATION HAS NOT KEPT PACE WITH NEW PRODUCTION. THE 2,340 HECTARES REMOVED REPRESENTS ONLY 4.7 PERCENT OF OUR 1988 CROP ESTIMATE. AERIAL IMAGERY COLLECTED IN MAY, 1989 REFLECTS A NATIONWIDE INCREASE OF HECTARAGE UNDER CULTIVATION FROM 49,345 HECTARES IN 1988 TO 53,920, A NINE PERCENT EXPANSION IN ONE YEAR. ADDITIONALLY, HECTARES REDUCED FALLS WELL

F. QUALITATIVELY, BOLIVIA FALLS SHORT OF THE MARK AS WELL. LAW 1008 CLEARLY MAKES PROVISION FOR FORCED ERADICATION OF COCA UNDER SEVERAL CIRCUMSTANCES. THE PREVIOUS GOVERNMENT MADE NO EFFORT TO CONDUCT FORCED ERADICATION, PROBABLY DUE TO SENSITIVITIES OVER GENERAL ELECTIONS IN MAY AND AN UNCERTAIN TRANSITION PERIOD UNTIL AUGUST. TO ITS CREDIT, THE NEW GOB HAS CONDUCTED

LIMITED FORCED ERADICATION, ALTHOUGH LATE IN THE GAME, REMOVING SOME NINE HECTARES OF ILLEGAL COCA IN THE YAPACANI IN OCTOBER AND DECEMBER, 1989. THIS, IN PART, HAD THE EFFECT OF STIMULATING CAMPESINOS IN THE AREA TO REDUCE ALMOST ALL REMAINING COCA IN THE REGION, THUS CHECKING EXPANSION OUT OF THE EASTERN CHAPARE. NO SYSTEMATIC CAMPAIGN, HOWEVER, HAS YET BEEN LAUNCHED TO FORCIBLY DESTROY SEEDBEDS TO DISCOURAGE EXPANDED GROWTH, AND NO REDUCTION OF MATURE COCA NEAR PROCESSING CENTERS HAS BEEN REPORTED. SIMILARLY, THOUSANDS OF HECTARES LANGUISH UNMOLESTED IN THE ISIBORO NATIONAL PARK ON THE EDGE OF THE CHAPARE, AN AREA WHICH IS SUPPOSED TO BE PROTECTED FROM INCURSION BY ANY COLONISTS (I.E., IMMIGRANTS INTO THE AREA) TO PROTECT THE FRAGILE ENVIRONMENT.

ALL OF THESE CIRCUMSTANCES MUST BE FORCEFULLY ADDRESSED BY THE NEW GOVERNMENT IN 1990 TO LIMIT EXPANSION AND PROVIDE IMPETUS TO FARMERS TO EMBRACE VOLUNTARY REDUCTION PROGRAMS IN LARGE ENOUGH QUANTITIES TO ACHIEVE SIGNIFICANT REDUCTION.

G. IN POLITICAL TERMS, THE CENTRAL UNANSWERED QUESTION IS WHETHER THE NEW BOLIVIAN GOVERNMENT HAS THE WILL TO ENFORCE ITS OWN COCA CONTROL LAW 1008 AND TO SEND A CLEAR MESSAGE TO CAMPESINOS TO EMBRACE VOLUNTARY REDUCTION AND ITS EXTENSIVE SUPPORT PACKAGES. CHAPARE CAMPESINOS ARE ELIGIBLE FOR AS MUCH AS USD 2,000 PER HECTARE CASH PAYMENTS, AN AVERAGE OF USD 6,000 CREDIT FOR ALTERNATIVE CROP DEVELOPMENT, AND ACCESS TO CONSIDERABLE TECHNICAL EXPERTISE IF THEY JOIN THE VOLUNTARY REDUCTION PROGRAM, NOT A SMALL SUM CONSIDERING BOLIVIA'S USD 570 PER CAPITA INCOME. SIMILARLY, CAMPESINO COMMUNITIES ARE ELIGIBLE FOR A SERIES OF COMMUNITY PROJECTS DEPENDING ON THE LEVEL OF REDUCTION AS A UNIT. IN FACT, OVER 6,000 CHAPARE CAMPESINOS HAVE ALREADY REDUCED PORTIONS OF THEIR COCA CROP AND PERHAPS A SIMILAR NUMBER HAVE EXPRESSED ENOUGH INTEREST TO REGISTER FOR THE PROGRAM AND HAVE THEIR CROPS MEASURED. UNFORTUNATELY, THE BALANCE OF CHAPARE CAMPESINOS, PERHAPS 20,000 TO 25,000 MORE, ARE WAITING FOR A CLEAR SIGNAL OR MESSAGE FROM THEIR GOVERNMENT TO "GET WITH THE PROGRAM". INSTEAD, GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS AND POLITICIANS OF BOTH GOVERNMENTS AND ALL PARTIES HAVE SHRUNK FROM APPLYING LAW 1008 VIGOROUSLY. EVEN WORSE, SOME HAVE OPENLY SUGGESTED THAT COMPENSATION LEVELS SHOULD BE INCREASED, THUS DRIVING MANY CAMPESINOS INTO A "WAIT AND SEE" POSTURE.

H. SIMILARLY, LAW ENFORCEMENT AND INTERDICTION PROGRESS HAVE BEEN SPOTTY. AVIATION SUPPORT ON THE PART OF THE BOLIVIAN AIR FORCE CONTINUES TO BE A HIGHLIGHT AND SERVE AS A PROGRAM MODEL. IN 1989, THE NARCOTICS AVIATION TASK FORCE FLOWN EXCLUSIVELY BY BAF PILOTS, COPILOTS, AND CREWCHIEFS FLEW U.S.-LOANED HELICOPTERS 3,194 ACCIDENT FREE HOURS, MAINTAINING A PERFECT SAFETY RECORD FOR THEIR THREE YEARS OF OPERATION AND OVER 8,000 FLIGHT HOURS. ADDITIONALLY, THE BAF DEDICATED THREE FIXED-WINGED AIRCRAFT TO THE NARCOTICS PROGRAM, VALUED AT OVER USD ONE MILLION, SEIZED FROM NARCOTICS TRAFFICKERS. BAF PILOTS CONTINUE TO IMPROVE THEIR PROFICIENCY.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

IN 1989, SEVERAL PILOTS WERE QUALIFIED FOR NIGHT OPERATIONS BOTH WITH AND WITHOUT NIGHT VISION GOGGLES ALLOWING THEM TO CONDUCT SEVERAL SUCCESSFUL NIGHT OPERATIONS.

I. BY CONTRAST, RIVERINE INTERDICTION CONTINUES TO BE MARGINAL. WHILE REPRESENTING AN IMPROVEMENT OVER 1988'S SEIZURE OF ONLY 3.2 KILOS OF COCA PASTE, THE FACT REMAINS THAT THE BOLIVIAN RIVERINE TASK FORCE CONDUCTED ONLY TWO SUCCESSFUL OPERATIONS ALL YEAR, NETTING 450 KILOGRAMS OF COCAINE BASE, ONE COCAINE HCL LABORATORY AND ONE AIRCRAFT.

J. THE URBAN RURAL MOBILE POLICE (UMOPAR) CONTINUES TO IMPROVE SLOWLY AS AN INSTITUTION AND IN TERMS OF SEIZURES, BUT CONTINUES TO BE PLAGUED BY CORRUPTION. ALTHOUGH FULLY COOPERATIVE WITH DEA DURING THE CONDUCT OF COMBINED OPERATIONS, UNITS WITH LITTLE OR NO U.S. PRESENCE MAKE FEW OR NO SEIZURES. SEIZURE STATISTICS IN MOST CATEGORIES TEND TO SHOW IMPROVEMENT, IN ABSOLUTE

K. MANY APPOINTMENTS CONTINUE TO BE SUSPECT. INITIALLY, THE NEW GOVERNMENT MADE A NUMBER OF QUESTIONABLE ASSIGNMENTS OF KEY POLICE OFFICIALS, EVENTUALLY CHANGING THESE ASSIGNMENTS OR REMOVING RECENT APPOINTEES AFTER CONSIDERABLE USG PRESSURE. ON THE POSITIVE SIDE, THE NEW GOVERNMENT REPLACED A PREVIOUSLY WEAK COMMANDER OF THE SPECIAL FORCE FOR THE FIGHT AGAINST NARCOTICS TRAFFICKING WITH A MORE ENERGETIC AND PRODUCTIVE OFFICIAL. ADDITIONALLY, WE RECENTLY HAVE SEEN MOST UMOPAR OFFICERS BEING SELECTED FROM A LIST OF PERSONNEL WHO HAVE GRADUATED FROM RIGOROUS U.S.-SPONSORED TRAINING COURSES. THE TRAINING FACILITY AT CHIMORE CONTINUES TO IMPROVE, AND BOLIVIA IS NOW IN THE PROCESS OF TRAINING CADRE FROM OTHER COUNTRIES, FOSTERING A SENSE OF INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION AND COORDINATION. ADDITIONALLY, UMOPAR HAS MANAGED TO CONDUCT SEVERAL SOPHISTICATED AIRMOBILE ASSAULTS AGAINST TRAFFICKER STRONGHOLDS IN THE LATTER HALF OF THE YEAR. OVERALL, ARRESTS HAVE INCREASED OVER 1988. TRAFFICKER GODFATHER ROBERTO SUAREZ REMAINS IN PRISON AFTER HIS ARREST IN JULY, 1988.

4. PLANS, PROGRAMS, TIMETABLES -- 1990 (A.3)

A. THE PURPOSE OF THE MISSION'S ANTI-NARCOTICS PROGRAM IN BOLIVIA IS TO MINIMIZE THE AVAILABILITY OF ILLICIT COCAINE PRODUCTS GENERATED FROM THE COUNTRY'S

CONSIDERABLE COCA CULTIVATION AND TO STEM THEIR FLOW INTO THE UNITED STATES OR OTHER WORLD MARKETS. THERE IS NO SIMPLE FORMULA TO ACCOMPLISH THIS GOAL. RATHER, THE MISSION ENVISIONS A BALANCED APPROACH INVOLVING INTERDICTION, COCA REDUCTION, ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT, DISRUPTION OF THE NARCOTICS-TRAFFICKING COMMUNITY, INSTITUTION BUILDING, AND PUBLIC DIPLOMACY. SUCCESS IS CONTINGENT ON THE POLITICAL WILL OF THE GOB TO MAKE TOUGH, POSITIVE DECISIONS, AND OUR ABILITY TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THOSE DECISIONS. FLEXIBILITY IS KEY. WE MUST ATTACK THE TRAFFICKING INDUSTRY AT ITS WEAKEST POINTS TO EFFECT MAXIMUM DISRUPTION WHILE RECOGNIZING THAT GOB EFFECTIVENESS OFTEN RESTS ON THE DEDICATION OF A FEW KEY PERSONALITIES WORKING WITH LIMITED HOST COUNTRY RESOURCES. INSTITUTION-BUILDING IS ESSENTIAL FOR THE INTERMEDIATE AND LONG-TERM TO REDUCE THE ADVERSE EFFECTS OF PERSONNEL TURBULENCE AND TO STEM CORRUPTION.

B. COCAINE TRAFFICKING IN BOLIVIA REMAINS LUCRATIVE, BUT, FOR REASONS OUTLINED IN PARAGRAPH TWO, IS LESS PROFITABLE THAN IN PREVIOUS YEARS, PARTICULARLY AT THE CULTIVATION LEVEL. REDUCED PROFITS BECAUSE OF

OVERPRODUCTION ON THE SOUTH AMERICAN CONTINENT, COUPLED WITH INCREASED ENFORCEMENT/INTERDICTION ACTION, INCREASES PEASANT RECEPTIVITY TO THE CONCEPT OF VOLUNTARY ERADICATION AND CROP SUBSTITUTION. THE GOB RESPONDED TO THIS OPPORTUNITY IN 1987 BY CREATING THE SUB-SECRETARIAT OF ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT WITHIN THE MINISTRY OF AGRICULTURE TO MANAGE A PROGRAM OF VOLUNTARY COCA REDUCTION, VERIFICATION, DIRECT PAYMENT, AND ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT HEAVILY UNDERWRITTEN BY BILATERAL AND MULTILATERAL ARRANGEMENTS CONTINGENT ON ACTUAL REDUCTION. THE BOLIVIAN LEGISLATURE PASSED A TOUGH COCA LAW IN 1988 WHICH ESTABLISHED LEGAL REQUIREMENTS, DECLARED CULTIVATION ILLEGAL IN MOST OF THE COUNTRY, DEFINED THE CHAPARE AS A TRANSITION ZONE, AND CALLED FOR REDUCTION AT A RATE OF 5,000 TO 8,000 HECTARES A YEAR. THE U.S. MISSION WILL TAKE MAXIMUM ADVANTAGE OF THESE FAVORABLE DYNAMICS TO ENSURE AS MUCH COCA REDUCTION AS POSSIBLE IN 1990 -- A POTENTIAL TOTAL OF 5,000 HECTARES OR MORE.

C. NET COCA REDUCTION CANNOT BE ACCOMPLISHED IN A VACUUM. IT IS DEPENDENT ON EFFECTIVE INTERDICTION AND THE POLITICAL WILL TO CARRY OUT INVOLUNTARY ERADICATION OF COCA SEED BEDS, NEW CULTIVATIONS DISCOVERED OUTSIDE LEGALLY DEFINED CULTIVATION REGIONS IN ACCORDANCE WITH BOLIVIA'S COCA LAW AND IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS. SUSTAINED INTERDICTION IS ESSENTIAL TO DISRUPT THE COCAINE INDUSTRY: ILLICIT COCAINE PRODUCTS AND TRAFFICKING ASSETS MUST BE SEIZED, PROCESSING FACILITIES

DESTROYED, AND ARRESTS AND PROSECUTION SUCCESSFULLY CARRIED OUT. EXPERIENCE HAS SHOWN THAT SUCH ACTIVITY SIGNIFICANTLY RAISES COSTS OF OPERATIONS, REDUCES PROFITS, AND GENERALLY STEPS UP THE LEVEL OF UNCERTAINTY, ESPECIALLY AT LOWER ECHELONS OF THE PRODUCTION CHAIN, THUS MAKING PEASANTS RECEPTIVE TO A HOST OF ALTERNATIVE-DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS.

D. UMOPAR IS THE PRINCIPAL ACTION ARM FOR INTERDICTION. THE MISSION BELIEVES THAT A FORCE OF 640 PERSONNEL PROPERLY EQUIPPED, TRAINED AND LED AND, WHEN

E. AIR MOBILITY IS ESSENTIAL. THE FAB'S COOPERATION TO DATE HAS BEEN EXEMPLARY, AND WE INTEND TO CONTINUE TO FOSTER THE AIR UNIT'S PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT. WE

TO THAT END, WE LOOK TO SOUTHCOM SUPPORT AND AUGMENTED BENNETT PLAN FUNDING TO ESTABLISH A JOINT, COMBINED, ALL-SOURCE INTELLIGENCE CENTER AND ATTENDANT COLLECTION SYSTEM IN 1990. PENDING RESULTS, WE MAY NEED TO AUGMENT EXISTING OR PLANNED AIR ASSETS IN OUT YEARS.

THE LATTER IS A RELATIVELY NEW FACET, AND THE U.S. MISSION WILL MAKE EVERY EFFORT TO EDUCATE THE GOB AS TO THE WISDOM OF SEIZING AND USING TRAFFICKERS' ASSETS WITHIN THE LIMITS OF BOLIVIAN AND U.S. LAWS. BOLIVIA'S NEW COCA LAW PROVIDES FOR SPECIAL, THREE-JUDGE NARCOTICS TRIBUNALS FOR EACH DEPARTMENT (STATE). 5. ADEQUACY OF LEGAL AND LAW-ENFORCEMENT MEASURES

(A.4)

A. BOLIVIA'S 155-ARTICLE COMPREHENSIVE COCA CONTROL LAW 1008 PASSED IN JULY, 1988, AND RELATED IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS ARE ADEQUATE TO CONTROL THE NARCOTICS TRAFFICKING SITUATION IN BOLIVIA. WHAT IS LACKING, HOWEVER, HAS BEEN THE POLITICAL WILL TO ENFORCE THE TOUGHER PROVISIONS OF THE LAW.

B. IN PARTICULAR, THE NEW GOB MUST ENFORCE THE FORCED ERADICATION PROVISIONS OF LAW 1008 TO LIMIT EXPANSION OF COCA CULTIVATION AND TO PROVIDE A CLEAR MESSAGE AND STIMULUS TO CAMPESINOS TO EMBRACE VOLUNTARY COCA REDUCTION PROGRAMS. ADDITIONALLY, THE GOVERNMENT SHOULD FOCUS MORE HEAVILY ON ASSET SEIZURE PROVISIONS TO BOLSTER ITS LIMITED RESOURCES AND APPLY PROVISIONS RELATING TO CORRUPTION TO REMOVE AND PROSECUTE ERRANT

C. LAW 1008 PROVIDES FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF SPECIAL NARCOTICS TRIBUNALS. THE GOB HAS TAKEN ACTION TO ESTABLISH THE FIRST COURT IN LA PAZ, BUT HAS BEEN HAMPERED IN PROPERLY DEVELOPING THAT PROGRAM DUE TO DELAYS IN BILATERAL AND MULTILATERAL SUPPORT FUNDS. THAT PROBLEM APPEARS RESOLVED THROUGH IMF NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE UNITED NATIONS FUND FOR DRUG ABUSE CONTROL TO PROVIDE A SUPPORT PACKAGE IN 1990.

B. ADDITIONALLY, THE NATIONAL POLICE HERE WORKED WELL WITH U.S. MILITARY TRAINERS AT CHIMORE, ESTABLISHING A PROFESSIONAL TRAINING FACILITY NOW CONDUCTED PRIMARILY BY BOLIVIAN POLICE PERSONNEL. BOLIVIA HAS OPENED ITS DOORS TO INTERNATIONAL TRAINING, ACCEPTING AND TRAINING FOREIGN POLICE CADRE. IN 1990, THE GOB, WITH USG SUPPORT, HOPES TO DEVELOP CHIMORE INTO A TRUE INTERNATIONAL NARCOTICS INTERDICTION TRAINING FACILITY.

C. THE BOLIVIAN GOVERNMENT HAS PROVIDED, AND IT IS EXPECTED THAT THEY WILL CONTINUE TO PROVIDE, 90 AIR FORCE PILOTS AND MAINTENANCE PERSONNEL FOR THE HELICOPTERS UTILIZED TO ATTACK COCAINE PROCESSING FACILITIES IN SUPPORT OF OPERATION SNOWCAP. THREE SEIZED FIXED-WING AIRCRAFT ALSO HAVE BEEN USED IN SUPPORT OF COUNTERNARCOTICS OPERATIONS. THE MINISTRY OF INTERIOR HAS COMMITTED THEIR UMOPAR PERSONNEL TO WORK IN CONCERT WITH DEA AGENTS IN SUPPORT OF OPERATION SNOWCAP BOTH IN THE CHAPARE AND TRINIDAD. UMOPAR'S AUTHORIZED STRENGTH HAS BEEN FIXED AT 640 PERSONNEL. NINE BOLIVIAN PROSECUTORS (FISCALES) HAVE BEEN ASSIGNED TO WORK WITH DEA/UMOPAR AGENTS, AND ACTUALLY GO ON THE OPERATIONS TO FACILITATE DESTRUCTION AND SEIZURE ORDERS. THEY ALSO SERVE IN THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM TO INSURE THE EFFECTIVENESS OF PROCEEDINGS AGAINST PERSONS IMPLICATED IN OWNER/OPERATOR ACTIVITIES OF COCAINE PRODUCTION FACILITIES, AND OF PROPERTY SEIZURES FROM THESE INDIVIDUALS.

D. NO ASSETS SEIZED IN THE U.S. HAVE BEEN TURNED OVER TO THE GOB. THE GOB, HOWEVER, IS NOW USING THREE FIXED-WINGED AIRCRAFT SEIZED FROM TRAFFICKERS IN COUNTERNARCOTICS OPERATIONS ALONG WITH SEVERAL VEHICLES.

A. UNFORTUNATELY, THERE DO NOT YET EXIST ANY CONCLUSIVE DATA ON THE LEVEL OF DRUG ABUSE IN BOLIVIA. HOWEVER, THE NAU-FUNDED NARCOTICS AWARENESS GROUP "CESE" (EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN AGAINST DRUGS) HAS FOUND IN ITS INITIAL DATA BANK INVESTIGATIONS THAT A SIGNIFICANT AMOUNT OF DRUG USE IS APPARENT AND THAT A HIGHER PERCENTAGE OF THE YOUNG POPULATION CAN FAIRLY BE DESCRIBED AS A HIGH-RISK GROUP. THAT TENTATIVE CONCLUSION IS REINFORCED BY THE EXPERIENCE OF THE DRUG ABUSE HOT LINE INSTITUTED BY CESE IN 1988.

PRECISELY THE EXTENT OF SUBSTANCE ABUSE AMONG THE COUNTRY'S YOUTH.

B. THE GOB HAS FORMED A NATIONAL-LEVEL PREVENTION AND EDUCATION ENTITY WHOSE ACRONYM IS "CONAPRE," WITH AFFILIATES IN EACH OF THE COUNTRY'S DEPARTMENTS (STATES) - COCHABAMBA, CHUQUISACA, EL BENI, LA PAZ, ORURO, PANDO, POTOSI, SANTA CRUZ AND TARIJA. IT IS NOT YET CLEAR WHETHER THE ROLE OF THE GROUP WILL FINALLY BE TO COORDINATE AND ESTABLISH POLICY OR ACTUALLY TO CARRY OUT PREVENTION PROGRAMMING. NAU'S CESE HAS WORKED CLOSELY WITH CONAPRE PERSONNEL IN HUMAN RESOURCE TRAINING AND THE DEVELOPMENT OF PREVENTION AND EDUCATIONAL MATERIALS FOR INCORPORATION INTO SCHOOL CURRICULA. CONAPRE HAS ACCEPTED CESE'S MATERIAL AND PEDAGOGICAL MODEL FOR USE IN THE BOLIVIAN SCHOOLS, AND THE TWO GROUPS MAINTAIN CLOSE CONTACT. ALSO WORKING IN THE FIELD OF AWARENESS SINCE 1986 IS A LOCAL PVO IDENTIFIED WITH THE PRIVATE BUSINESSMEN'S CONFEDERATION AND FUNDED BY AID TO A CURRENT LEVEL OF USD 1.9 MILLION. "SEAMOS" FUNDS AND ORGANIZES A RANGE OF PREVENTION ACTIVITIES, INCLUDING A HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL TELEVISION CAMPAIGN. CIVIC GROUPS SUCH AS THE LIONS AND ROTARY CLUBS HAVE BEGUN TO FOCUS ON THE PROBLEM OF DRUG ABUSE AND TO PLAY A MORE PROACTIVE ROLE. CESE HAS MADE CONTACT WITH REPRESENTATIVES FROM THOSE GROUPS AND HAS OFFERED FACILITATIVE AND SUBSTANTIVE ASSISTANCE AS THEY BECOME MORE CONSISTENTLY INVOLVED IN COMMUNITY PREVENTION ACTIVITIES.

9. FACTORS AFFECTING PRODUCTION (B.2)

A. GROWING DEMAND FOR COCAINE IN THE UNITED STATES AND EUROPEAN MARKETS, COUPLED WITH UNSTABLE ECONOMIC CONDITIONS IN BOLIVIA, WERE MORE THAN ENOUGH INCENTIVE TO GENERATE A "COCA BOOM" IN BOLIVIA DURING THE EARLY AND MID 1980'S. THE RETURN OF DEMOCRACY AND ECONOMIC REFORMS HAVE RESTORED SOME MEASURE OF STABILITY, THUS LAYING THE FOUNDATION FOR ALTERNATIVE PROGRAMS FOR COCA FARMERS.

B. MORE IMPORTANTLY, HOWEVER, THERE HAS BEEN A DRAMATIC FALL IN DRY LEAF PRICES FROM A HIGH OF USD 600 TO 800 PER HUNDRED WEIGHT (CARGA) IN THE CHAPARE DURING 1984 AND 1985 TO A LOW OF USD 10 DURING OPERATION BLAST FURNACE IN LATE 1986. ALTHOUGH PRICES HAVE REBOUNDED SUBSTANTIALLY FROM THEIR NADIR AND HAVE BEEN RELATIVELY STABLE THROUGHOUT THE 1987 THROUGH 1989 TIME PERIOD AT

USD 40 TO 90/CARGA, PEASANTS NO LONGER ENJOY THE SUSTAINED HIGH PROFIT MARGINS TO WHICH SO MANY HAD BEEN ACCUSTOMED IN THE EARLY YEARS. THIS WAS PARTICULARLY TRUE IN 1989 WHEN PRICES VARIED, SOMETIMES RADICALLY, FROM USD 27 TO 100/CARGA. COSTS OF CULTIVATION ARE ESTIMATED AT USD 30/CARGA.

C. LOWER COCA-LEAF PRICES ARE A FUNCTION OF BOTH OVERPRODUCTION ON THE SOUTH AMERICAN CONTINENT AND SUPPRESSIVE INTERDICTION OPERATIONS. OVERPRODUCTION HAS A BROAD-BASED, LONGER-TERM IMPACT OVER WHICH THE BOLIVIAN TRAFFICKING COMMUNITY HAS LITTLE INFLUENCE. INTERDICTION IS MORE SHORT-TERM IN NATURE, AND BOLIVIAN TRAFFICKERS ATTEMPT TO COUNTER ITS IMPACT BY MODIFYING THEIR METHODS OF OPERATIONS AND UNDERMINING THE GOB'S POLITICAL WILL OR ABILITY TO CARRY ON EFFECTIVELY PROGRAMS THROUGH POLITICAL ACTION AND CORRUPTION.

10. MAXIMUM ACHIEVABLE REDUCTION (B.3)

A. BOLIVIA'S FUTURE OUTPUT IS DIRECTLY PROPORTIONAL TO ITS LEVEL OF CULTIVATION SINCE IT IS NOT A COCAINE-TRANSIT COUNTRY. WHILE IMPROVED INTERDICTION EFFORTS SHOULD RESULT IN LARGER, MORE COSTLY SEIZURES, NOTICEABLE, LONG-TERM REDUCTIONS IN COCAINE OUTPUT CAN BEST BE ACHIEVED THROUGH A NET REDUCTION IN THE COCA CROP'S SIZE. IN BOLIVIA, THAT MEANS VOLUNTARY, MANUAL ERADICATION IN THE CONTEXT OF A VIABLE CROP

THE END OF ANY CALENDAR YEAR GIVEN A CLEAR AND CONSISTENT DEMONSTRATION OF POLITICAL WILL ON THE PART OF THE GOB. SEVERAL USAID FINANCED PROGRAMS ARE IN PLACE, INCLUDING NEW CREDIT ARRANGEMENTS, RELAXED RULES FOR COMMUNITY SUPPORT PACKAGES, AND EXPANDED ALTERNATIVE CROP AVAILABILITY, ALL OF WHICH SHOULD MAKE THE ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT PACKAGE AND RELATED COCA REDUCTION MORE ATTRACTIVE. ADDITIONALLY, BOLIVIA WILL NOT FACE THE DISRUPTION IN 1990 OF GENERAL ELECTIONS, WHICH ADVERSELY AFFECTED THE GOB'S WILLINGNESS TO IMPLEMENT A CONTROVERSIAL COCA LAW IN 1989. ACHIEVEMENT OF THIS GOAL, HOWEVER, IS DEPENDENT ON A NUMBER OF FACTORS, INCLUDING THE DECISIVE SUPPORT OF GOB POLICY MAKERS, THE CONTINUED INVOLVEMENT OF KEY SUB-MINISTERIAL LEVEL OFFICIALS, AN EFFECTIVE INTERDICTION PROGRAM, CONTAINMENT OF TRAFFICKER COUNTER-ACTION, ETC. MAXIMUM DISRUPTION OF THE BOLIVIAN TRAFFICKING COMMUNITY VIA VIGOROUS INTERDICTION OF 10 METRIC TONS OF COCAINE HCL OR ITS EQUIVALENT IN BASE AND/OR PASTE AND ARREST/PROSECUTION OF SEVERAL MAJOR TRAFFICKERS WOULD PERFORM THE DUAL FUNCTION OF DISTRACTING MAJOR VIOLATORS FROM THEIR ATTEMPTS TO DISMANTLE THE COCA REDUCTION

THREE POSSIBLE WITNESSES WHO MAY HAVE SEEN THE PERSON WHO PLACED THE BOMB IN THE BATHROOM ARE BEING QUESTIONED BY THE CARABINEROS INVESTIGATING THIS INCIDENT.

5. THE DIRECTOR HAD INCREASED SECURITY MEASURES AT THE BNC AFTER THE US ACTION IN PANAMA OCCURRED. SHE CANCELLED ALL CULTURAL ACTIVITIES AND CLOSED THE LIBRARY. THE ONLY ACTIVITIES BEING HELD AT THE BNC WERE LANGUAGE CLASSES.

DAILIES CARRIED STORIES ON THE STATEMENT BY MEXICAN FOREIGN SECRETARIAT REFUTING THE AP REPORT THAT THE YUCATAN PENINSULA IS BEING USED AS A TRANSHIPMENT POINT FOR CUBAN ARMS ON THEIR WAY TO THE GUERRILLAS IN EL SALVADOR. THE PAPERS REPORTED THAT THE MEXICAN FOREIGN SECRETARIAT HAS ASKED THE USG, THROUGH AMBASSADOR NEGROPONTE, TO PASS ANY INFORMATION TO THE MEXICAN AUTHORITIES SO THAT THEY CAN ACT ON THIS MATTER. LEFTIST DAILY "LA JORNADA " WAS THE ONLY PAPER TO COMMENT EDITORIALLY ON THE STORY, REASONING THAT THE ISSUE MAY BE USED TO MAKE MEXICO MORE VULNERABLE TO PRESSURE TO ALIGN ITSELF WITH THE U.S. INVASION OF PANAMA.

4. (U) SAMPLE HEADLINES OF SOME OF THE MAJOR DAILIES: " EXCELSIOR" "MEXICAN FOREIGN SECRATARIAT DENIES THAT FMLN RECEIVES WEAPONS THROUGH MEXICO"; "EL UNIVERSAL" " THE U.S. SHOULD DEMONSTRATE THAT MEXICO IS A TRANSSHIPMENT POINT TO SEND WEAPONS TO SALVADORAN INSURGENTS"; " LA JORNADA" " THE MEXICAN FOREIGN SECRETARIAT REJECTS U.S. ALLEGATIONS THAT MEXICO IS A TRANSSHIPMENT POINT FOR WEAPONS FOR THE FMLN"; "UNOMASUNO" " MEXICAN FOREIGN SECRETARIAT DENIES MEXICO IS TRANSSHIPMENT POINT FOR WEAPONS SENT FROM CUBA TO EL SALVADOR".

5. (U) THE FOLLOWING IS AN EXCERPT FROM THE DECEMBER 28 "LA JORNADA" EDITORIAL ;

BEGIN EXCERPT :

"SENIOR MILITARY AUTHORITIES IN EL SALVADOR ARE PAYING SPECIAL ATTENTION TO THIS ISSUE AND CONSIDER THE ALLEGED TRAFFIC OF WEAPONS A FACT. MEANWHILE, THE MEXICAN FOREIGN SECRETARIAT HAS STRONGLY DENIED THAT MEXICAN TERRITORY, AT THE AFOREMENTIONED AREA OR AT OTHER, IS BEING USED FOR SUCH TRAFFIC OF WEAPONS.

THE IRRESPONSIBILITY OF THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT IN REPEATING ANONYMOUS ALLEGATIONS IS TRULY AMAZING. BUT WASHINGTON IS STILL MORE IRRESPONSIBLE, AS A SOURCE OF DANGEROUS LIES. IF THERE IS A NORMAL FLOW OF COMMUNICATION BETWEEN MEXICO AND THE U.S., WHY THEN WAS NOT THIS INFORMATION TRANSMITTED TO THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT THROUGH DIPLOMATIC CHANNELS, PARTICULARLY TAKING INTO CONSIDERATION THE SERIOUSNESS OF THIS MATTER? WHY WERE UNIDENTIFIED USG SPOKESPERSONS USED TO LEAK THE NEWS, AND THE CRISTIANI GOVERNMENT USED TO ECHO THIS ALLEGATION?

IT WAS VERY SIGNIFICANT FOR OUR CHANCERY TO HAVE QUICKLY AND EFFECTIVELY STOPPED THIS SCALE OF LIES THAT MAY BE

END EXCERPTS.

6. (U) THE DEFENSE AND MARINE SECRETARIATS HAVE BOTH DENIED THE EXISTENCE OF A CUBAN ARMS ROUTE TO EL SALVADOR THROUGH MEXICAN TERRITORY. ADDITIONALLY THE GOVERNORS OF THE STATES OF YUCATAN AND QUINTANA ROO HAVE ALSO ISSUED STATEMENTS DENYING THAT CUBAN ARMS HAVE LANDED IN THEIR STATES. IN SPITE OF ALL DENIALS, ACCORDING TO AN SRE COMMUNIQUE, MEXICAN AUTHORITIES HAVE ORDERED INCREASED VIGILANCE TO STOP ILLEGAL ARMS TRAFFICKING.
7. (U) THE ATTORNEY GENERALS OFFICE (PGR) IS ALSO SAID TO HAVE RECENTLY INSTRUCTED THE FEDERAL JUDICIAL POLICE

TO KEEP A STRICT WATCH ON ARMS TRAFFIC WITHIN MEXICAN TERRITORY. THE PGR FOR SOME TIME NOW HAS HAD IN PLACE A SERIES OF ANTI-DRUG CHECK POINTS ON THE ROADS IN THE STATES OF QUINTANA ROO AND YUCATAN. THE MISSION OF THESE CHECKPOINTS COULD EASILY BE EXPANDED TO INCLUDE THE CHECKING OF SOUTHBOUND TRUCKS FOR CUBAN WEAPONS.

8. (C) FERNANDO SOLANA MORALES, THE FOREIGN SECRETARY AND SERGIO GONZALEZ GALVEZ FOREIGN RELATIONS UNDER

SECRETARY IN DECEMBER 27, CONVERSATIONS WITH THE AMBASSADOR, EXPRESSED THE GOM'S SURPRISE AT LEARNING FROM THE NEWS MEDIA THAT CUBA WAS SENDING ARMS TO THE FMLN GUERRILLAS THROUGH MEXICO. THEY ASKED IF THE AMBASSADOR HAD ANY ADDITIONAL INFORMATION REGARDING THIS ISSUE AND REQUESTED THAT THE USG SHARE ANY INFORMATION ON CUBAN ARMS TRAFFICKING THROUGH MEXICO SO THAT THE GOM CAN PUT A STOP TO IT. THE AMBASSADOR REPLIED THAT HE DID NOT HAVE ANY INFORMATION TO THIS EFFECT AND WOULD CERTAINLY APPRISE THE SRE IF ADDITIONAL INFORMATION CAME TO HIM.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

9. (C) IT IS THE OPINION OF THE EMBASSY THAT THE CUBANS ARE AT PRESENT NOT SENDING ARMS THROUGH MEXICO. IN THE PAST THE CUBANS HAVE SENT ARMS THROUGH MEXICO TO SUPPORT THE NICARAGUAN REVOLUTION BUT ON THE CONCLUSION OF THAT CONFLICT THE NETWORK WAS SHUT DOWN. TO SUCCESSFULLY SMUGGLE WEAPONS FROM THE YUCATAN TO GUATEMALA BY TRUCK IN QUANTITIES LARGE ENOUGHT TO BE USEFUL TO THE FMLN WOULD HAVE TO HAVE THE ACTIVE COLLUSION OF MEXICAN OFFICIALS. EMBOFFS BELIEVE THAT AS LONG AS THE CUBANS CAN DELIVER WEAPONS FOR THE FMLN TO NICARAGUA A MEXICAN ROUTE NEED NOT BE DEVELOPED.

10. (C) THE LACK OF ROADS TO THE GUATEMALAN BORDER IS ANOTHER FACTOR THAT WOULD INHIBIT THE SHIPMENT OF WEAPONS FROM THE YUCATAN (THE THREE MAIN ROUTES LEADING SOUTH ARE HIGHWAYS 200 THROUGH TAPACHULA, 190 THROUGH CIUDAD CUAUHTEMOC AND 307 THROUGH CHETUMAL INTO BELIZE). THE ANTI-DRUG CHECKPOINTS THAT THE GOM HAS ESTABLISHED ON THESE ROADS WOULD INCREASE THE RISK OF DISCOVERY FOR THESE WEAPONS SHIPMENTS FROM THE YUCATAN TO AN UNACCEPTABLE LEVEL.

11. (C) FOR SOME TIME EMBASSY HAS BEEN AWARE THAT THERE HAS BEEN SMALL SCALE SMUGGLING OF ARMS AND EXPLOSIVES FROM MEXICO TO THE GUATEMALAN INSURGENTS. IN THE PAST EMBOFFS HAVE RECEIVED REPORTS OF ARMS SMUGGLING THAT HAS INVOLVED SMALL QUANTITIES OF WEAPONS PURCHASED IN THE UNITED STATES BY MEXICAN NATIONALS AND THEIR SHIPMENT THROUGH MEXICO FOR DELIVERY TO THE GUATEMALAN REBELS. WEAPONS FOR THE GUATEMALANS HAVE BEEN MOSTLY SMUGGLED THROUGH THE JUNGLE SO AS TO AVOID DETECTION BY MEXICAN MILITARY AND POLICE AUTHORITIES. OCCASIONALLY THESE WEAPONS AND OTHER EQUIPMENT HAVE BEEN SMUGGLED INTO GUATEMALA CONCEALED IN PASSENGER CARS AND TRACTOR TRAILERS.

12. (C) THE SMUGGLERS ARE ABLE TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE RUGGED TERRAINOIN THE BORDER REGION WHICH MAKES THE DEPLOYMENT OF MEXICAN RESOURCES DIFFICULT. GOODS AND

DECLASSIFIED UNCLASSIFIED

PEOPLE ARE ABLE TO CROSS THE GUATEMALAN-MEXICAN BORDER WITHOUT DETECTION IN MANY PLACES BECAUSE THE LACK OF ACCESS ROADS HAS MADE IT ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE FOR THE GOM OR THE GOG TO ESTABLISH AN EFFECTIVE PRESENCE IN THE AREA SUFFICIENT TO STOP ILLEGAL CROSSINGS.

13. (C) COMMENT: THE CUBAN ARMS STORY HAS ANGERED MANY MEXICANS BOTH IN THE GOVERNMENT AND THE PRESS. AS THE "LA JORNADA" EDITORIAL POINTS OUT MANY GOM OFFICIALS ARE ALSO ASKING WHY THE USG DID NOT PRESENT ITS CASE THROUGH DIPLOMATIC CHANNELS. THE ATTITUDE OF FOREIGN SECRETARY SOLANA AS EXPRESSED TO THE AMBASSADOR IS PROBABLY REFLECTIVE OF THE ATTITUDE OF PRESIDENT SALINAS. SOME SEE THE ALLEGATION AS PART OF A COORDINATED EFFORT WITH EL SALVADOR TO PRESSURE THE GOM INTO SUPPORTING THE U.S. INTERVENTION IN PANAMA AND GIVING THE NEW ENDARA GOVERNMENT QUICK RECOGNITION. PENDING WASHINGTON GUIDANCE TO THE CONTRARY EMBASSY PLANS TO RESPOND TO EITHER OFFICIAL OR PRESS INQUIRIES BY SAYING THAT WE HAVE NO INFORMATION ON ALLEGED CUBAN ARMS SHIPMENTS TO THE FMLN THROUGH MEXICO AND HAVE SO INFORMED THE SRE. WE WILL ADD THAT IF WE RECEIVE ANY

SINCE REFTEL (A). POST BELIEVES THAT MOST, IF NOT ALL OF THESE INCIDENTS, OCCURRED AS A RESULT OF THE RECENT US ACTION IN PANAMA:

-- ON DECEMBER 26 AT 1588 HRS. UNKNOWN PERSONS PUSHED AN ENVELOPE UNDERNEATH THE DOOR OF AN APARTMENT

OCCUPIED BY BEN HELSTEN, AN AMCIT WHO IS THE GENERAL MANAGER OF MTS LTDA., A CHILEAN FIRM. WHEN HELSTEN OPENED THE ENVELOPE A WHITE POWDER ESCAPED WHICH PRODUCED A TEAR GAS LIKE EFFECT. THE MISSION AMCIT NASA REPRESENTATIVE ALSO LIVES IN THE BUILDING WHERE THE INCIDENT OCCURRED.
-- ON DECEMBER 28 AT 1900 HRS. A SIMULATION OF A BOMB WAS DISCOVERED INSIDE THE LINCOLN SCHOOL IN THE CITY OF ARICA AFTER AN UNIDENTIFIED YOUNG WOMAN CALLED IN A BOMB THREAT TO THE SCHOOL. THE BI-NATIONAL CENTER IN ARICA IS LOCATED 400 METERS FROM THE LINCOLN SCHOOL.

-- ON DECEMBER 29 AT 0115 HRS. SIX INDIVIDUALS, DESCRIBED AS FOUR YOUNG MEN AND TWO YOUNG WOMEN, POURED GASOLINE AROUND THE ENTRANCE OF A MORMON CHAPEL LOCATED IN THE VILLA FREI SECTION OF SANTIAGO. THESE INDIVIDUALS THEN IGNITED THE GASOLINE AND FLED. PAMPHLETS FROM THE TERRORIST GROUP FRENTE JUVENIL LAUTARO MJL) WERE FOUND AT THE SCENE. DAMAGE WAS DESCRIBED AS SUPERFICIAL.

-- THE SECURITY OFFICER AT THE CITIBANK IN THE CITY OF VINA DEL MAR REPORTED THAT UNKNOWN PERSONS PLACED A BOMB IN FRONT OF THE BANK THAT EXPLODED ON DECEMBER 29 AT 0315 HRS. NO ONE WAS INJURED. THE FRONT OF THE BANK SUSTAINED MODERATE DAMAGE.

-- ON DECEMBER 29 AT 1200 HRS. APPROXIMATELY TWENTY PEOPLE, BELIEVED TO BE PANAMANIANS, GATHERED IN FRONT OF THE CONSULATE AND UNFURLED CHILEAN AND PANAMANIAN FLAGS AS THEY SHOUTED ANTI AMERICAN SLOGANS. POLICE QUICKLY DISPERSED THE GROUP. NO ARRESTS WERE MADE AND NO ONE WAS INJURED.

-- IN ADDITION TO THE INCIDENTS MENTIONED ABOVE, THREE OTHER MORMON CHURCHES HAVE RECENTLY BEEN BOMBED (REFTEL B) AND A BOMB EXPLODED INSIDE THE BI-NATIONAL CENTER IN SANTIAGO (SEPTEL).

3. MISSION PERSONNEL ARE AWARE THAT THERE IS A HEIGHTED SECURITY RISK AS RESIDENT TERRORIST GROUPS NOW APPEAR TO BE FOCUSING ON USG INSTALLATIONS, AMERICAN BUSINESSES AND PRIVATE AMCITS. POST WILL CONTINUE TO MONITOR THIS SITUATION AND REPORT ON ALL INCIDENTS THAT COME TO OUR ATTENTION. GILLESPIE

SUBJECT: LA PENCA REPORT FINGERS JOHN HULL AMONG OTHERS

1. (U) LOCAL PRESS REPORTS THE EXISTENCE OF A FIFTY-TWO PAGE PUBLIC MINISTRY PRELIMINARY REPORT ON THE LA PENCA INCIDENT. THE REPORT, DELIVERED DECEMBER 26 TO SAN CARLOS JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES (WITH COPIES ALSO SENT TO THE SUPREME COURT), NAMES JOHN HULL AND FELIPE VIDAL AS THE INTELLECTUAL AUTHORS OF THE MAY 30, 1984 ATTEMPT ON EDEN PASTORA'S LIFE. IT RECOMMENDS HULL AND VIDAL BE CHARGED WITH MURDER. IN THE BOMBING, THREE PERSONS DIED (INCLUDING US CITIZEN LINDA FRAZIER) AND SEVERAL WERE INJURED.

2. (U) THE REPORT NAMES A FOREIGNER USING THE ALIAS PEER ANKER ANSEN (AKA AMAC GALIL AND AHMED KHALIL) AS [redacted]

HAVING CARRIED OUT THE ATTACK. ANSEN ALLEGEDLY WAS HIRED TO KILL PASTORA BY THE MEDELLIN CARTEL "THAT SUPPORTED HULL, FELIPE VIDAL AND HIS CUBAN MOVEMENT." THE INITIATIVE BEHIND THE CARTEL'S ACTION CAME FROM HULL AND VIDAL, ACCORDING TO THE REPORT. HULL WAS ACQUAINTED WITH CARTEL FIGURES DUE TO THE SUPPOSED USE OF HIS FARM AS A TRANSSHIPMENT POINT FOR DRUGS (AND ARMS). THE MOTIVE BEHIND THE ATTEMPT ON PASTORA'S LIFE, THE REPORT SAYS, INVOLVED HULL'S AND VIDAL'S BELIEF THAT COMANDANTE CERO WAS A COMMUNIST AND WAS CAUSING PROBLEMS FOR THE "CONSOLIDATION" OF THE SOUTHERN RESISTANCE FRONT.

3. (U) THE REPORT FURTHER ALLEGES THAT ROBERT OWEN, IDENTIFIED AS WORKING FOR ADOLFO CALERO AND BEING A COURIER FOR OLIVER NORTH, KNEW OF THE PLAN. IT IS ALSO ALLEGED THAT AN EFFORT WAS MADE TO "DISORIENT" THE INVESTIGATION IN ORDER TO PROTECT OLIVER NORTH'S RESISTANCE AID OPERATION. IN THIS VEIN, THE REPORT CHARGES THAT THE ORIGINAL OIJ INVESTIGATORS MAY BE GUILTY OF "NON-FULFILLMENT OF THEIR DUTY." THE REPORT DISCARDS THE POSSIBILITY OF CIA INVOLVEMENT DUE TO THE EXISTENCE OF US LEGAL RESTRICTIONS AGAINST ASSASSINATIONS.

4. (C) COMMENT: ALTHOUGH THIS REPORT HAS BEEN LEAKED TO THE PRESS, IT IS NOT A PUBLIC DOCUMENT. WE SUSPECT ITS LEAKING IS INTENDED TO SHOW THAT THE GOCR HAS NOT ABANDONED ITS INVESTIGATION AND MAY HAVE BEEN IN RESPONSE TO PRESSURE FROM THE COSTA RICAN JOURNALISTS' ASSOCIATION FOR A NEW INVESTIGATION. IN THE PAST YEAR, THE JOURNALISTS, WHO WERE CRITICAL OF THE PREVIOUS INVESTIGATION, HAVE TWICE TRIED TO GET

THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY TO INVESTIGATE LA PENCA. THE ASSOCIATION HAS ALSO RECEIVED THE SUPPORT OF THE NATIONAL RECONCILIATION COMMISSION IN ITS EFFORT TO PRESS FOR WHAT IT WOULD REGARD AS A FULLER ACCOUNTING. ALTHOUGH THIS ISSUE AGAIN HAS COME TO PUBLIC ATTENTION AS THE ELECTORAL CAMPAIGN ENTERS ITS FINAL MONTH, WE DO NOT SEE ANY OBVIOUS IMPLICATIONS FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

3. U.S. ANTI-NARCOTICS ASSISTANCE HAD A POSITIVE EFFECT ON GUATEMALA'S NARCOTICS PROBLEM IN 1989. U.S. CONTRIBUTIONS OF EQUIPMENT AND TRAINING RESULTED IN AN INCREASE IN BOTH ERADICATION AND INTERDICTION OF ILLEGAL NARCOTICS. LOCAL LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES, HOWEVER, CONTINUED TO SUFFER FROM A LACK OF RESOURCES AND TRAINING WHICH COULD GUARANTEE THEIR SUCCESS AGAINST DRUG TRAFFICKERS AND PRODUCERS. THE GOG HAS NOT DEVELOPED A COORDINATED DRUG STRATEGY THAT WOULD ALLOW IT TO PLAY A MORE INDEPENDENT AND AGGRESSIVE ANTI-NARCOTICS ROLE.

4. WE ARE CURRENTLY IN WHAT SHOULD BE CONSIDERED THE FIRST STAGE OF OUR GUATEMALAN CAMPAIGN: U.S. AGENCIES CURRENTLY PROVIDE THE LION'S SHARE OF FUNDING AND DIRECTION FOR LOCAL COUNTER-NARCOTICS EFFORTS. IN THE PAST YEAR, HOWEVER, GOG AGENCIES TOOK THEIR FIRST STEPS TO ATTACK THE DRUG MENACE INDEPENDENTLY. OUR STRATEGY IS TO PREPARE THE GUATEMALANS TO HANDLE THEIR DRUG PROBLEMS ON THEIR OWN. TO THIS END WE PROVIDED TRAINING TO THE OFFICIALS WHO LED GUATEMALAN LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES AND THE EQUIPMENT UTILIZED IN ANTI-NARCOTICS OPERATIONS. WE ALSO HELPED THE GUATEMALANS ESTABLISH INTELLIGENCE GATHERING SYSTEMS TO SUPPORT FUTURE ANTI-NARCOTICS ACTIVITIES.

ERADICATION AND INTERDICTION

5. THE STATE DEPARTMENT AIRWING ERADICATED OVER 1400 HECTARES OF OPIUM POPPY AND 200 HECTARES OF MARIJUANA IN 1989. GUATEMALAN HELICOPTER PILOTS WERE TRAINED IN SEARCH [redacted]

[redacted]

AND RESCUE SUPPORT OF SPRAY AIRCRAFT. THE LOCAL AERIAL ERADICATION PROGRAM IS DIRECTED ENTIRELY BY U.S. AGENCIES WITH COMPLETE GOG COOPERATION. WE ARE LOOKING FOR WAYS IN WHICH TO INCREASE GUATEMALAN PARTICIPATION IN THE FUTURE.

6. IN 1989, THE U.S. PROVIDED FUNDS FOR THE PURCHASE OF FOUR WHEEL DRIVE VEHICLES USED BY TREASURY POLICE IN ERADICATION AND INTERDICTION OPERATIONS. THE POLICE PUT THESE VEHICLES TO GOOD USE, ERADICATING 140 HECTARES OF OPIUM POPPY AND 50 HECTARES OF MARIJUANA. LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES ALSO INTERDICTED A SIGNIFICANTLY GREATER AMOUNT OF COCAINE: 4005 KILOGRAMS OF COCAINE IN CY 1989, COMPARED WITH 488 KILOS OF COKE SEIZED IN 1988.

INTELLIGENCE GATHERING CAPABILITIES

7. DEA CONTINUES TO DEVELOP THE BULK OF OPERATIONAL INTELLIGENCE FOR ANTI-DRUG ACTIONS. IN 1989, INM PROVIDED FUNDS FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A JOINT INFORMATION COMPUTER CENTER (JICC) LOCATED IN TREASURY POLICE HEADQUARTERS. THE JICC ALLOWS TREASURY POLICE TO CONSULT DEA'S EPIC SYSTEM AND HELPS PROVIDE TIMELY INFORMATION CONCERNING THE MOVEMENTS OF SUSPECTED NARCOTICS TRAFFICKERS AND AIRCRAFT AND SAILING VESSELS USED IN DRUG SMUGGLING. THIS WILL EVENTUALLY ALLOW TREASURY POLICE TO INITIATE ITS OWN DRUG INVESTIGATIONS AND OPERATIONS.

DRUG EDUCATION AND AWARENESS

8. AS THE GOG HAS STILL FAILED TO DEVELOP ANTI-DRUG STRATEGIES, MUCH OF THE CREDIT FOR DEVELOPING AND COORDINATING DRUG EDUCATION PROGRAMS MUST GO TO USIS, WORKING WITH PRIVATE SECTOR GROUPS. IN 1989, USIS TOOK

9. DESPITE THE LARGE INCREASE IN THE AMOUNT OF US

[redacted]AL

ASSISTANCE IN 1989, OPIUM CULTIVATION DOUBLED. WHILE IT IS DIFFICULT TO GAUGE PRECISELY THE AMOUNT OF COCAINE ENTERING GUATEMALA, 1989'S TEN-FOLD INCREASE IN THE AMOUNT OF COCAINE SEIZED IMPLIES A SIMILAR INCREASE IN THE ABSOLUTE AMOUNT OF COCAINE TRANSITING GUATEMALA. GUATEMALA'S DRUG PROBLEM IS RAPIDLY INCREASING AND U.S. EFFORTS WILL NOT HOLD BACK THE TIDE UNTIL THE GOG DEMONSTRATES THE POLITICAL RESOLVE TO CONFRONT IT. UNFORTUNATELY, GOG LETHARGY AND/OR INCOMPETENCE HAS PREVENTED MUCH OVERALL PROGRESS ON THIS ISSUE. PERSISTENT ALLEGATIONS OF DRUG CORRUPTION AMONG LEADING POLITICAL FIGURES WILL ALSO CONTINUE UNTIL THESE INDIVIDUALS ACT SERIOUSLY TO CONFRONT THE DRUG PROBLEM. IN THE PAST YEAR, THE GUATEMALAN PUBLIC HAS GROWN INCREASINGLY AWARE OF THE DANGERS OF LOCAL DRUG ABUSE AND TRAFFICKING. WORKING LEVEL LAW ENFORCEMENT, JUDICIAL OFFICIALS, AND PRIVATE SECTOR GROUPS ARE ALSO CONCERNED ABOUT THE EXTENT OF THE PROBLEM AND COOPERATE CLOSELY WITH US ON NARCOTICS ISSUES. THE NECESSARY ELEMENT TO GUARANTEE THAT DRUG TRAFFICKERS DO NOT PICK UP AND MOVE TO GUATEMALA FROM

INCREASINGLY HOSTILE SITUATIONS IN COLOMBIA AND PANAMA IS STRONG GOG LEADERSHIP ON THIS ISSUE. WE'RE STILL WAITING. END COMMENT.

2. SUMMARY: CHILE'S PRINCIPAL SOCIALIST FACTIONS FORMALLY JOINED FORCES ON DECEMBER 29 TO FORM A UNITED CHILEAN SOCIALIST PARTY (PS), AFTER A TEN YEAR SPLIT. THE SECOND MOST INFLUENTIAL POLITICAL FORCE AFTER THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS (PDC) IN THE AYLWIN GOVERNMENT, THE NEW PS ASPIRES TO EUROPEAN-STYLE DEMOCRATIC SOCIALISM AND IS EXPECTED TO FIGURE PROMINENTLY IN AYLWIN'S CABINET. ALTHOUGH MANY OF ITS MEMBERS ARE ALSO MEMBERS OF THE PARTY FOR DEMOCRACY (PPD), THE PS WILL ATTEMPT TO LEGALLY REGISTER AS A POLITICAL PARTY, AND TO TRANSFORM THE PPD INTO A NON-COMPETING POLITICAL MOVEMENT. SOCIALIST UNIFICATION AUGURS WELL FOR INCREASED STABILITY DURING THE UPCOMING TRANSITION AND WILL FURTHER ISOLATE THE ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

MORIBUND COMMUNIST PARTY. END SUMMARY.

3. DIVIDED SINCE 1979, THE TWO PRINCIPAL FACTIONS WHICH ARE THE SUCCESSORS TO SALVADOR ALLENDE'S SOCIALIST PARTY--THE CLODOMIRO ALMEYDA SOCIALISTS AND THE MORE MODERATE SOCIALISTS LED BY JORGE ARRATE--COMBINED ON DECEMBER 29 TO FORM A UNITED CHILEAN SOCIALIST PARTY (PS). JOINED BY THE SMALL LEFTIST MOVEMENT OF POPULAR UNITY ACTION (MAPU), THE NEW PS WILL BE THE SECOND MOST INFLUENTIAL POLITICAL FORCE AFTER THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS IN PRESIDENT-ELECT PATRICIO AYLWIN'S GOVERNMENT, AND COUNTS FOUR SENATORS AND 19 DEPUTIES IN ITS RANKS. WITH CLODOMIRO ALMEYDA AS ITS PRESIDENT AND JORGE ARRATE ELECTED SECRETARY-GENERAL, THE PS HIEARCHY INCLUDES TWO UNDER SECRETARIES (LUIS ALVARADO AND CARLOS LAZO), A UNDER SECRETARIES (LUIS ALVARADO AND CARLOS LAZO), A SEVEN-MEMBER SECRETARIAT, A 43-MEMBER NATIONAL COUNCIL AND 200-MEMBER CENTRAL COMMITTEE. THE PS WILL HOLD ITS "SALVADOR ALLENDE NATIONAL CONGRESS" NEXT SEPTEMBER.

4. AGAINST A BACKDROP OF A LARGE PICTURE OF SALVADOR ALLENDE AND A BANNER PROCLAIMING "FOR DEMOCRACY AND SOCIALISM," THE SOCIALIST PARTY'S YEAR-END REUNIFICATION CEREMONY TOOK PLACE AT THE DOWNTOWN SANTIAGO TUPAHUE HOTEL. WITH ALL OF CHILE'S PROMINENT SOCIALISTS ON HAND, THE OCCASION WAS MARKED BY THE RATIFICATION OF A UNITY PACT, ADDRESSES BY THE NEW PS LEADERSHIP AND LETTERS OF GREETINGS FROM AN ARRAY OF POLITICAL LUMINARIES, INCLUDING SALVADOR ALLENDE'S WIDOW HORTENSIA BUSSI AND PATRICIO AYLWIN. SPEAKING ON BEHALF OF HER MOTHER, ISABEL ALLENDE EMPHASIZED THAT THE PS WAS A MODERN PARTY WHICH HAD LEARNED FROM ITS PAST MISTAKES AND WHOSE FUTURE POLITICAL BEHAVIOR WOULD BE BASED ON THE NEW REALITIES IN ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

CHILE AND IN THE WORLD. IN HIS LETTER, PRESIDENT-ELECT AYLWIN UNDERSCORED THE IMPORTANT CONTRIBUTION CHILEAN SOCIALISTS HAVE MADE TO THE COALITION OF POLITICAL PARTIES FOR DEMOCRACY (COPODE). AYLWIN SAID THAT THE MODERNIZATION, RENOVATION AND EVOLUTION OF CHILEAN SOCIALISM HAVE BEEN DECISIVE FACTORS IN THE DEMOCRATIC OPENING AND TRANSITION.

5. PS SECRETARY-GENERAL JORGE ARRATE SAID THE PS INTENDED TO CONSTRUCT A BROAD NON-SECTARIAN ORGANIZATION, CONTRIBUTE RESPONSIBLY TO CHILE'S DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION AND PARTICIPATE CREATIVELY IN NEW WORLD SOCIALISM. HE SAID THAT CHILEAN SOCIALISTS WERE COMMITTED TO OVERCOMING THEIR INTOLERANCE AND EXAGGERATED ABSTRACT IDEOLOGIES OF THE PAST. ARRATE ALSO EMPHASIZED THAT THE NEW PS WAS NOT BASED ON MARXIST-LENINIST TENETS, INCLUDED MANY "CHRISTIAN" SECTORS AND WHOLEHEARTEDLY SUPPORTED THE GOVERNMENT OF PATRICIO AYLWIN.

6. ACCORDING TO ARRATE, THE PS INTENDS TO LEGALLY REGISTER AS A POLITICAL PARTY AS SOON AS POSSIBLE. HE HAS ATTEMPTED TO PLAY DOWN THE FACT THAT MANY PS MEMBERS, INCLUDING THREE OF ITS FOUR SENATORS AND 13 OF ITS 19 DEPUTIES, ARE ALSO MEMBERS OF THE PPD. WHILE BOTH THE PPD AND PS LEADERSHIP UNDERSCORED THEIR DESIRE TO MAINTAIN CLOSE TIES, ARRATE ENVISIONS THE PPD TRANSFORMED EVENTUALLY FROM A POLITICAL PARTY INTO A POLITICAL MOVEMENT. APPARENTLY, THE PS AND PPD DO NOT SEE ANY CONFLICT OF INTEREST IN THE NEAR TERM, AND PPD PRESIDENT RICARDO LAGOS IS A MEMBER OF BOTH THE PS NATIONAL COUNCIL AND CENTRAL COMMITTEE. EVEN SO, LAGOS CONTINUES TO MAINTAIN THAT THE PPD WILL CONTINUE TO EXIST AS A DISTINCT POLITICAL ENTITY. THIS DOUBLE PARTY MEMBERSHIP

MAY, HOWEVER, RUN AFOUL OF THE POLITICAL PARTIES LAW.

7. PS UNDER SECRETARY LUIS ALVARADO CONFIRMED TO POLOFF ON JANUARY 4 THAT PS REGISTRATION WAS AN IMMEDIATE PRIORITY. THE ISSUE OF PPD/PS DOUBLE PARTY MEMBERSHIP OR MILITANCY WAS OF NO CONCERN BECAUSE THE CURRENT POLITICAL PARTIES LAW WOULD BE CHANGED IN DUE COURSE. ALVARADO EXPANDED ON THE IDEA OF CONVERTING THE PPD INTO A CENTER-LEFT UMBRELLA MOVEMENT OR ORGANIZATION, TO INCLUDE SOCIAL DEMOCRATS, RADICAL SOCIALIST DEMOCRATS, HUMANISTS AND OTHERS ON THE LEFT. MEANWHILE, THE PS WOULD PURSUE ITS LEGALIZATION TO ESTABLISH ITSELF AS A PERMANENT AND MAJOR POLITICAL FIXTURE IN THE CHILEAN POLITICAL SCENE. THE PS LEADERSHIP ESTIMATES IT WILL HAVE THE SUPPORT OF AT LEAST 25 PERCENT OF THE CHILEAN ELECTORATE, WITH THE ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

PDC IN THE 25-30 PERCENT RANGE AND THE CENTER-RIGHT NATIONAL RENEWAL (RN) ALSO AT 25 PERCENT. ALVARADO SAID THAT THE ROLE AND REPUTATION OF THE PS WOULD BE ENHANCED

IN AN AYLWIN GOVERNMENT. IT WAS EXPECTED TO HAVE AT LEAST SIX CABINET POSITIONS, COMPARED TO EIGHT FOR THE PDC AND TWO FOR THE RADICALS, WITH THE REMAINING FEW POSITIONS SPLIT AMONG THE MINOR COPODE PARTIES. THE AYLWIN GOVERNMENT WOULD TRULY BE A CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC-SOCIALIST ONE.

8. ALVARADO ALSO RECOUNTED THE MONTHS-LONG NEGOTIATIONS LEADING TO SOCIALIST PARTY REUNIFICATION. HE SAID THE ARRATE SOCIALISTS NEGOTIATED FROM A POSITION OF STRENGTH GIVEN THE EVENTS IN EASTERN EUROPE AND THE ELECTORATE'S ABHORENCE OF COMMUNIST VIOLENCE. HE SAID THAT CLODOMIRO ALMEYDA NEVER HAD MUCH CHOICE BUT TO ACCEPT UNIFICATION ON ARRATE'S TERMS, I.E., NON-MARXISM-LENINISM AND WESTERN EUROPEAN-STYLE DEMOCRATIC SOCIALISM. CLAIMING A SIGNIFICANT VICTORY FOR THE FORCES OF MODERATION, ALVARADO SAID THE FINAL UNIFICATION PACT DOCUMENT MENTIONED MARXISM ONLY IN THE CONTEXT OF ONE OF MANY HISTORICAL CULTURAL OR PHILOSOPHICAL INFLUENCES ON THE NEW PS. NOWHERE IS LENINISM ESPOUSED, VIOLENCE IS EXPRESSLY REJECTED, AND COMPLETE ADHERENCE TO THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS AND INSTITUTIONS ARE REAFFIRMED. ACCORDING TO ALVARADO, THE CHILEAN COMMUNIST PARTY HAS EMERGED THE BIG LOSER, JUST AS THE MODERATE SOCIALISTS PLANNED. THE PS WANTED A CLEAN BREAK WITH THE PAST, AND IT WAS NECESSARY TO ISOLATE THE UNREPENTANT COMMUNISTS WHO CONTINUE TO RESIST DEMOCRATIC CHANGE.

9. COMMENT: THE SOCIALIST PARTY HAS BEEN UNITED FOR ONLY 14 OF ITS 56-YEAR EXISTENCE. WHILE SOCIALIST

REUNIFICATION AFTER PINOCHET IN ITSELF IS NOT SURPRISING, THE NEW PS IS NOTABLE FOR ITS EVOLUTION TOWARDS EUROPEAN-STYLE DEMOCRATIC SOCIALISM AND AWAY FROM ITS MARXIST-LENINIST DOGMA OF THE LATE 1960'S. WITHOUT A DOUBT, THE ONGOING SOCIALIST TRANSFORMATION IN EASTERN EUROPE AND THE CHILEAN ELECTORATE'S MOVE TOWARDS THE CENTER INFLUENCED THIS TREND. IN THE NEAR TERM, SOCIALIST UNIFICATION AUGURS WELL FOR INCREASED POLITICAL STABILITY DURING THE UPCOMING TRANSITION. THE COMMUNISTS AND OTHERS ON THE EXTREME-LEFT OF THE CHILEAN

POLITICAL SPECTRUM WILL BECOME FURTHER ISOLATED GIVEN THEIR REFUSAL TO ADAPT TO THE CHANGING POLITICAL REALITIES. WHILE THE THE PPD MAY TURN OUT TO BE A VICTIM OF SOCIALIST UNITY, THE PS IN ALL PROBABILITY WILL ATTEMPT TO FILL THE RESULTING VACUUM BY ASSIMILATING THE PPD'S MODERATE AND NON-MARXIST PLATFORM WHICH MADE THE PPD SO ATTRACTIVE TO THE CHILEAN ELECTORATE IN THE FIRST PLACE.

NR

WE TOLD SILVA CIMMA THAT WE HAD ALREADY PASSED INFORMATION ON PANAMA AND OTHER MATTERS TO THE AYLWIN TEAM (IT WAS OBVIOUS IT HAD NOT BEEN HANDED ON TO HIM). WE OFFERED TO SET UP A MORE DIRECT CHANNEL AND SILVA CIMMA ASKED THAT WE ESTABLISH A CLOSE WORKING RELATIONSHIP IMMEDIATELY. HE SAID HIS KEY AIDE (AND PRESUMABLY THE MFA UNDER SECRETARY) WILL BE EDMUNDO VARGAS, UNTIL RECENTLY A MEMBER OF THE OAS PERMANENT COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS. SILVA CIMMA ALSO TOLD US

5. SILVA CIMMA OBSERVED THAT NARCOTICS WILL CONTINUE TO BE A MAJOR ISSUE FOR LATIN AMERICA IN THE NEXT DECADE, AND ASKED FOR THE AMBASSADOR'S APPRECIATION OF THE SITUATION IN NORTHERN CHILE. THE AMBASSADOR SAID OUR PAO HAD RECENTLY RETURNED FROM A VISIT TO ARICA, IQUIQUE AND ANTOFAGASTA WHERE HE FOUND WIDESPREAD CONCERN ABOUT DRUG TRAFFICKING AND CONSUMPTION. THE AMBASSADOR ADDED, HOWEVER, THAT CHILE HAS NO DIAGNOSTIC BASE FROM WHICH TO ASSESS THE NATURE AND EXTENT OF THE COUNTRY'S DRUG PROBLEM. HE NOTED THAT WE ARE WORKING WITH CURRENT FOREIGN MINISTER ERRAZURIZ ON A PROJECT TO ADDRESS THAT SHORTFALL AND HOPE WE CAN PROVIDE SOME HELP. SILVA CIMMA EXPRESSED INTEREST IN KNOWING MORE ABOUT THE U.S. EXPERIENCE WITH COCAINE, AND INDICATED THAT HE WOULD LIKE TO CONTINUE AND DEEPEN THE DIALOGUE THE AMBASSADOR HAS BEGUN WITH ERRAZURIZ. HE ENCOURAGED US TO PURSUE THIS MATTER WITH THE OUTGOING GOVERNMENT IN THE MEANTIME.

7. SILVA CIMMA SAID THE TOUGHEST SUBSTANTIVE PROBLEM HE WOULD FACE AT THE BEGINNING OF HIS TENURE IS THE INTERNATIONAL PERCEPTION OF HOW THE AYLWIN GOVERNMENT WILL HANDLE HUMAN RIGHTS CASES FROM THE PINOCHET ERA. HE COMMENTED IN THIS REGARD THAT A FRENCH LAWYER HAS ALREADY BEGUN A STUDY OF POLITICAL PRISONERS IN CHILE. WITH MORE THAN A TRACE OF EXASPERATION, SILVA CIMMA SAID HE DID NOT KNOW WHETHER, FOR EXAMPLE, THIS OUTSIDE OBSERVER WOULD INSIST ON CHARACTERIZING THE KILLER OF A CARABINERO STANDING OUTSIDE A BANK OR PUBLIC BUILDING AS A POLITICAL PRISONER." HE CLEARLY DOES NOT LIKE THE IDEA OF FOREIGNERS LOOKING OVER THE NEW GOVERNMENT'S SHOULDER (FISCALIZANDO) AND CRITICIZING ITS MOVES. THE AMBASSADOR SUGGESTED THAT IT WOULD BE IMPORTANT FOR SILVA CIMMA, AS FOREIGN MINISTER, TO EXPLAIN THE NEW GOVERNMENT'S EFFORTS

FOR THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY. ONE APPROACH, THE AMBASSADOR SUGGESTED, MIGHT BE TO CALL IN CHIEFS OF MISSION FROM TIME TO TIME FOR AN EXPOSITION OF THE PROBLEM AND HOW IT WAS BEING ADDRESSED. SILVA CIMMA SEEMED EXTREMELY INTERESTED IN THIS IDEA, AND INDICATED HE INTENDED TO PURSUE IT.

8. IN THIS GENERAL CONTEXT THE AMBASSADOR SAID IT WOULD BE IMPORTANT TO COORDINATE CLOSELY ON THE MAIN BILATERAL PROBLEMS ON THE AGENDA: LETELIER/MOFFITT AND GSP/OPIC. ON THE FORMER, THE AMBASSADOR SAID THAT, WHILE WE ARE AWARE EXTRADITION OF CONTRERAS AND ESPINOSA IS PROBLEMATIC, IT IS ESSENTIAL THAT THE GOC CREDIBLY COOPERATE TO BRING THEM TO JUSTICE. SILVA CIMMA AGREED, AND WONDERED WHETHER IT WOULD BE SUFFICIENT TO INDEMNIFY THE FAMILIES PURSUANT TO THE U.S. CIVIL JUDGMENT. THE AMBASSADOR SAID MUCH WOULD DEPEND ON HOW THE FAMILIES REACT. IT IS IMPORTANT THAT JUSTICE BE PERCEIVED TO HAVE

CHILE. (SILVA CIMMA SAID THAT AYLWIN HAD AGREED TO FOLLOW UP ON THE OFFER INDIRECTLY, THROUGH THE CATHOLIC CHURCH'S VICARIATE OF SOLIDARITY, WHICH SHOULD BE ABLE TO JUDGE THE OFFICER'S BONA FIDES.) THE AMBASSADOR CONCLUDED THAT THE IMPORTANT THING IS TO DEVELOP A SOUND STRATEGY AND TO ADDRESS THE ISSUE EFFECTIVELY AND QUICKLY SO THAT, IF WARRANTED, THE U.S. PRESIDENT COULD SIGN A LETTER OF CERTIFICATION, POSSIBLY AS EARLY AS THE END OF MARCH. SILVA CIMMA ASKED THAT WE BEGIN DISCUSSING THIS CASE AMD OTHER MATTERS OF MUTUAL INTEREST WITH HIM AND EDMUNDO VARGAS AS SOON AS AYLWIN NAMES HIS CABINET (PROBABLY ON JANUARY 9).

9. ON GSP/OPIC, THE AMBASSADOR SAID THE KEY WILL BE TO DEMONSTRATE A QUALITATIVE DIFFERENCE IN THE NEW GOVERNMENT'S APPROACH TO LABOR. SILVA CIMMA AGREED WE SHOULD COORDINATE CLOSELY ON THIS MATTER AS WELL.

INAUGURATION PLANS

10. WE ASKED HOW PLANS WERE EVOLVING FOR THE TRANSFER OF POWER CEREMONIES ON MARCH 11 OR 14. SILVA CIMMA COMMENTED THAT A LEGAL JUDGMENT HAD NOT BEEN RENDERED ON THE DATE OF THE INAUGURATION CEREMONY (PINOCHET INSISTS ON MARCH 11, AYLWIN SAYS THAT ACCORDING TO THE CONSTITUTION IT SHOULD BE THE 14TH), BUT THAT HE EXPECTS A RULING IN FAVOR OF THE 11TH. THE CEREMONY WILL TAKE PLACE AT THE NEW CONGRESS BUILDING IN VALPARAISO (ABOUT 90 MINUTES BY CAR FROM SANTIAGO). IT IS ALMOST CERTAIN, HOWEVER, THAT THE FOLLOWING DAY'S TE DEUM (WHICH SILVA CIMMA CHARACTERIZED AS ALMOST AS IMPORTANT AS LAYING ON THE SASH OF THE PRESIDENCY) WILL BE IN SANTIAGO, NOT LEAST BECAUSE SANTIAGO ARCHBISHOP CARDINAL FRESNO WILL INSIST ON PRESIDING.

11. A SERIOUS PROBLEM, SILVA CIMMA SAID, IS ARRANGING PARTICIPATION OF THE HEADS OF STATE (SUCH AS CAP, LACALLE AND MITTERRAND) WHO REFUSE TO DEAL WITH PINOCHET, WITHOUT CREATING AN UNTENABLY UNCOMFORTABLE SITUATION FOR ALL CONCERNED. SILVA CIMMA THINKS THAT THIS COULD BE ACCOMPLISHED BY SOME FOREIGN VISITORS ARRIVING AFTER THE SWEARING IN AND CALLING ON AYLWIN AT THE MONEDA PALACE IN SANTIAGO LATE ON MARCH 11 OR THE 12TH, LEAVING THEIR AMBASSADORS TO REPRESENT THEM AT VALPARAISO. (THE AMBASSADOR OBSERVED THAT OUR DELEGATION WOULD HAVE NO PROBLEM ATTENDING THE VALPARAISO CEREMONY.) SILVA CIMMA CONCLUDED BY SAYINGTHAT EVEN ISSUING FORMAL INVITATIONS IS A PROBLEM, SINCE THESE PROPERLY SHOULD COME FROM THE SITTING CHIEF OF STATE. (TO ENSURE SENSIBILITIES AREN'T TOO BADLY RUFFLED, THE CONCERTACION MIGHT SEND OUT A PARALLEL SET.)

12. COMMENT: ALTHOUGH IT WAS PART OF OUR STRATEGY TO REACH OUT TO SILVA CIMMA, HE CLEARLY HAD SIMILAR THOUGHTS. SOMEWHAT UNPREPOSSESSING, HE IS SERIOUS, DIRECT AND PROJECTS HONESTY AND SINCERITY. GIVEN HIS SI CONNECTION AND CLOSE RELATIONSHIP WITH THE NEW CHILEAN PRESIDENT, HE WILL HAVE HIGH CREDIBILITY WITH WESTERN EUROPEANS FROM THE OUTSET. WE JUDGE THAT HE CAN BE AN EFFECTIVE FOREIGN MINISTER FOR A PRESIDENT WHO, IT APPEARS, INTENDS TO CONCENTRATE MOST OF HIS ENERGIES ON DEPOLARIZING CHILEAN SOCIETY AND BALANCING SOCIAL DEMANDS WITH ECONOMIC REALITIES. END COMMENT.

THE NEW PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS WILL ASSUME OFFICE IN MARCH 1990; UNTIL THEN, PRESIDENT PINOCHET WILL REMAIN PRESIDENT, AND THE MILITARY JUNTA WILL CONTINUE TO EXERCISE THE LEGISLATIVE FUNCTION. THERE IS A SEPARATE JUDICIAL BRANCH, BUT CRIMES RELATING TO STATE SECURITY CONTINUE TO BE HEARD IN MILITARY TRIBUNALS. IN A PLEBISCITE HELD JULY 30, 1989, AMENDMENTS TO THE 1980 CONSTITUTION WERE APPROVED BY 85 PERCENT OF THOSE VOTING.

SECTION I. A. POLITICAL KILLINGS.

PARA 1 SHOULD NOW READ: DEATHS AND INJURIES RESULTING FROM POLITICAL VIOLENCE CONTINUED DURING 1989. ACCORDING TO THE VICARIATE OF SOLIDARITY, THE HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATION OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH, 24 PERSONS HAD DIED IN ACTS OF POLITICAL VIOLENCE AS OF DECEMBER 31. THE INDEPENDENT CHILEAN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION (CHRC) INDICATES THAT 30 DEATHS HAD OCCURRED DUE TO POLITICAL VIOLENCE AS OF OCTOBER 30. (FOR A DISCUSSION OF THE BASES OF THE STATISTICS PROVIDED BY THESE TWO GROUPS, SEE SECTION 4.) OF THE 24 DEATHS LISTED BY THE VICARIATE AS POLITICALLY MOTIVATED, TEN OF THE VICTIMS WERE MEMBERS OF THE MILITARY AND SECURITY FORCES. THE LAUTARO YOUTH MOVEMENT (MJL) TOOK RESPONSIBILITY FOR AMBUSHING AND ASSASSINATING NINE CARABINEROS, AND THE MANUEL RODRIQUEZ PATRIOTIC FRONT (FPMR) KILLED AN ARMY OFFICER DURING AN ASSAULT ON AN ARMY AIR STATION IN AUGUST.

PARA 2. DELETE SECOND SENTENCE BEGINNING, "EVIDENCE WAS FOUND..." (NOTE: ACCORDING TO VICARIATE OF SOLIDARITY OFFICIALS, THIS GOVERNMENT STATEMENT HAS NOT BEEN SUBSTANTIATED.)

PARA 2. ADD AT END OF THIS PARA: IN JUNE, A FORMER AIR FORCE OFFICER, WHO HAD BEEN CHARGED WITH HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES BUT WHOSE CASE WAS DISMISSED BECAUSE IT WAS COVERED BY THE 1978 AMNESTY LAW, WAS ASSASSINATED BY THE FPMR.

PARA 3. SECOND SENTENCE. TO MORE ACCURATELY REFLECT 'THE OPINION OF MOST OBSERVERS, THE PERCEIVED ASSASINS OF JECAR NEGHME SHOULD BE CHARACTERIZED AS "A RIGHT WING GROUP WITH TIES TO THE SECURITY FORCES."

PARA 4. SECOND SENTENCE SHOULD READ: ACCORDING TO GOVERNMENT REPORTS, TERRORIST GROUPS IN 1989 CAUSED FIVE CIVILIAN DEATHS AND 69 PERSONAL INJURIES IN ATTACKS WHICH INCLUDED 273 BOMBINGS, ONE OF WHICH OCCURRED ACROSS THE STREET FROM THE U.S. EMBASSY AND SIX OF WHICH OCCURRED AT AMERICAN-CHILEAN BI-NATIONAL CENTERS. THERE WERE 12 ATTACKS, INCLUDING BOMBINGS, OF MORMON CHURCHES.

PARA 4. AT END OF PARA ADD: IN NOVEMBER, THE CAR OF JOURNALIST MONICA GONZALEZ WAS BOMBED AND THE HOME OF THE DIRECTOR OF THE MAGAZINE "ANALISIS" WAS SET ON FIRE. ALSO IN NOVEMBER, A CABLE TV STATION AND THE OFFICES OF "RADIO MINERIA" WERE BOMBED, ALLEGEDLY BY LEFTIST TERRORIST GROUPS. A SPECIAL INVESTIGATOR WAS APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE THESE ATTACKS ON THE MEDIA.

SUBJ: 9 JANUARY MEETING WITH PRESIDENT-ELECT AYLWIN

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. PRESIDENT-ELECT PATRICIO AYLWIN ASKED ME TO CALL ON HIM 9 JANUARY WITHOUT SPECIFYING SUBJECT MATTER. I TOOK THE DCM. AYLWIN MET WITH US ALONE. WE WERE PART OF A STREAM OF VISITORS TO THE SMALL SUBURBAN HOUSE WHERE AYLWIN SET UP FOR THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN. AYLWIN'S STAFF HANDLED IT ALL SMOOTHLY AND WITH EVIDENT GOOD HUMOR. SECURITY WAS GOOD. ABOUT TWENTY MEMBERS OF THE WORKING PRESS WERE UNDER REASONABLE CONTROL.
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

3. WELL TANNED FROM A REST IN THE SOUTH OF CHILE, AYLWIN WAS VIBRANT, RELAXED AND CONFIDENT--HE LOOKED AT LEAST TEN YEARS YOUNGER THAN WHEN I LAST SAW HIM THE DAY AFTER THE ELECTION. SHORTLY BEFORE MY CALL, HE ANNOUNCED HIS CABINET; IN THE MORNING, NAVY CHIEF AND GOVERNING JUNTA MEMBER JOSE TORIBIO MERINO AND HIS FIVE TOP ADMIRALS MADE A PROTOCOL VISIT TO THE PRESIDENT ELECT. (SO FAR, NO SIGN THAT THE CHILEAN ARMY INTENDS TO JOIN THE NAVY, AIR FORCE AND CARABINEROS WHO HAVE NOW MADE THIS VISIBLE GESTURE OF SUBORDINATION.)

4. AYLWIN TOLD ME HE WISHED TO EXPLAIN PERSONALLY HIS DECISION NOT TO TRAVEL TO THE U.S. BEFORE HIS INAUGURATION, SINCE HE HAD DISCUSSED SUCH A TRIP WITH ME SEVERAL TIMES IN THE PAST. THE PROBLEM, HE SAID, IS TIME. HE MUST MAKE SURE THAT HIS TEAM IS WELL ORGANIZED AND ABLE TO FUNCTION EFFECTIVELY IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE INAUGURATION. HE BELIEVES IT IMPORTANT TO STAY AT HOME AND KEEP HIS PEOPLE FOCUSED ON THE WORK AHEAD. HE APOLOGIZED FOR THE FACT THAT HIS DECISION HAD APPEARED IN THE PRESS BEFORE HE COULD GET WORD TO US. HE HAD BEEN CORNERED BY REPORTERS BEFORE HIS KEY AIDE (AND MINISTER-SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE PRESIDENCY-DESIGNATE) EDGARDO BOENINGER WAS ABLE TO GET WORD TO ME DIRECTLY.

5. I THANKED AYLWIN FOR HIS GESTURE AND ASSURED HIM THAT NO EXPLANATION WAS NEEDED, THAT HIS REASONS FOR POSTPONING THE VISIT WERE WELL UNDERSTOOD. I NOTED THAT HIS BRAZILIAN COUNTERPART WAS TAKING SUBSTANTIAL HEAT FOR ABSENTING HIMSELF FROM THE COUNTRY DURING HIS TRANSITION. THE IMPORTANT THING, I SAID, IS TO KEEP OUR LINES OF COMMUNICATION OPEN AND WORKING DURING THE ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

TRANSITION AND AFTERWARDS. BOENINGER AND I ARE IN TOUCH. WE HAVE MET WITH SILVA CIMMA, THE FOREIGN MINISTER DESIGNATE. THERE WILL BE CONTACTS WITH OTHER CABINET OFFICERS AND MEMBERS OF AYLWIN'S TEAM. MOREOVER, WE WILL CONTINUE TO LOOK AT THE POSSIBILITIES OF AN OFFICIAL VISIT AS SOON AS MUTUALLY CONVENIENT AFTER MARCH. I MENTIONED THAT WE EXPECT SEVERAL HIGH LEVEL

VISITS TO CHILE DURING THE COMING MONTHS, REFLECTING DEEP U.S. INTEREST IN THE RELATIONSHIP.

6. I CONGRATULATED AYLWIN ON THE SMOOTH PROGRESS OF THE TRANSITION AND PARTICULARLY THE FORMATION OF HIS MINISTERIAL TEAM. HE IS EVIDENTLY PLEASED BY HOW THINGS ARE GOING. ON THE CABINET, HE SAID HE WORKED TO ENSURE REPRESENTATION OF ALL MAJOR "CONCERTACION" CURRENTS (ALTHOUGH THERE WERE, OF COURSE, MORE CANDIDATES THAN POSITIONS AVAILABLE). AS FOR FOREIGN POLICY, HE COMMENTED THAT HE HAD CHOSEN HIS TEAM CAREFULLY, WITH A SPECIFIC OBJECTIVE IN MIND. AYLWIN SAID MANY OF THE CONCERTACION'S FOREIGN AFFAIRS SPECIALISTS (PROBABLY ALLUDING TO JUAN SOMAVIA AND HERALDO MUNOZ, AMONG OTHERS) FAVOR A "SPECTACULAR" RE-ENTRY ONTO THE INTERNATIONAL STAGE. AYLWIN NOTED THAT INSTEAD HE OPTED FOR A "SERIOUS", MEASURED APPROACH TO FOREIGN RELATIONS, SPECIFICALLY MENTIONING EDMUNDO VARGAS, WHO WILL BE FOREIGN MINISTER-DESIGNATE SILVA CIMMA'S PRINCIPAL DEPUTY. I NOTED THAT CHILE'S REPUTATION FOR SERIOUS, PROFESSIONAL, NATIONAL-INTEREST ORIENTED DIPLOMACY WOULD LIKELY LEAD TO THE COUNTRY'S EMERGENCE AS A KEY HEMISPHERIC PLAYER IN INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS, BUT I AGREED THERE IS NO NEED TO PUSH IT.

7. ALYWIN MUSED ABOUT THE PROTOCOL DIFFICULTIES ASSOCIATED WITH THE INAUGURATION (REFTEL). HE SAID THE CURRENT GOVERNMENT HAD SENT HIM ITS PROPOSALS THAT DAY, AND HIS PEOPLE WOULD REVIEW THEM. HE EXPECTS THE GOVERNMENT TO ISSUE ITS INVITATIONS ON 15 JANUARY. HE PLANS THEN TO SEND SOME PERSONAL INVITATIONS BECAUSE THERE ARE MORE THAN A FEW HEADS OF STATE AND GOVERNMENT WHO WILL FIND IT DIFFICULT TO ACCEPT PINOCHET'S. HE SAID HE UNDERSTANDS A U.S. REPRESENTATIVE WILL NOT DEMAND SUCH SPECIAL HANDLING. ON THE CEREMONY ITSELF, HE TOLD ME THAT HE WILL NOT BE OFFENDED IF VISITING DELEGATIONS MEET WITH PINOCHET ("I MEET WITH HIM MYSELF").

8. AYLWIN MENTIONED ADMIRAL MERINO'S CALL WITH EVIDENT SATISFACTION. HE DEEMED IT IMPORTANT THAT THE FIVE TOP

ADMIRALS IN THE NAVY ACCOMPANIED THEIR CHIEF. I ASKED HIM WHETHER MERINO WOULD STAY ON AFTER THE INAUGURATION. AYLWIN SAID HE CLEARLY EXPECTS MERINO TO GO BEFOREHAND. (MERINO, IN FACT, CONFIRMED TO THE PRESS ON LEAVING AYLWIN'S RESIDENCE THAT HE HAD NOT BEEN ASKED TO STAY AND THAT HE NOT CHANGED HIS MIND ABOUT LEAVING BEFORE 11 MARCH.)

9..COMMENT: CLASSY MOVE BY THE NEW PRESIDENT, WHO WANTS US TO UNDERSTAND THAT HE HAS HIS SIGHTS ON U.S.-CHILE RELATIONS. HE ALSO CONFIRMED OUR READING THAT HE INTENDS TO START OUT WITH A DOMESTIC FOCUS. HIS CAMPAIGN PLEDGE TO BRING CHILEANS BACK TOGETHER WAS REAL. OVER THE COMING WEEKS WE WILL BE WORKING ON SERIOUS BILATERAL ISSUES (LETELIER-MOFFITT, PATENT LAW, ETC.) WITH AYLWIN'S MINISTERIAL TEAM; WE SHOULD BE ABLE TO GAUGE HOW WELL HE HAS TRANSMITTED HIS INTERESTS TO THE WORKFORCE. IT'S NOT TOO EARLY TO CONTEMPLATE THE POSSIBILITY OF A SERIOUS, PRODUCTIVE, MUTUALLY BENEFICIAL RELATIONSHIP WITH THE NEW GOVERNMENT. OUR CONTACTS, IN BOTH WASHINGTON AND SANTIAGO, SHOULD BE PREDICATED ON THAT ASSUMPTION FOR THE TIME BEING. END COMMENT.

FORTY-SIXTH SESSION OF THE UN COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS

Question of Human Rights in Chile
(Agenda Item 5)
(Document Not Received)

POSITION PAPER

PROBLEM:

-- To end the mandate of the Special Rapporteur on Chile and, if necessary, replace him with an expert and advisory services.

-- To eliminate the separate agenda item on Chile at future Commission meetings.

-- To ensure that any resolution which the Commission may pass on Chile reflects (a) the dramatic improvement in the human rights situation in Chile and (b) that free and fair elections took place there December 14 and will result in the orderly, peaceful transfer of power to a new, democratic government on March 11.

RELATIVE IMPORTANCE FOR THE U.S.:

It is important to the U.S. that the practice of singling out Chile for unwarranted criticism be ended and that the time and effort the Commission currently spends on Chile be re-allocated to other issues.

1. In light of the dramatic improvement in Chile's record on democratic and civil rights, there is no longer any reason to have a Special Rapporteur on this country. USDEL should lobby for an end to the mandate of the Rapporteur while at the same time praising the incumbent's, Volio's, past work. While the U.S. would prefer not to have the Rapporteur replaced with an expert, USDEL may agree to this if necessary in achieving our other objectives.

2. At the current session, USDEL should urge moving the discussion on Chile from agenda item 5 to item 13 (where other country-specific issues are discussed). More importantly, USDEL should lobby vigorously to have a separate item on Chile eliminated from future Commission agendas.

3. The U.S. does not believe that a resolution on Chile is needed (unless it is to end the mandate of the Special Rapporteur). If others propose a resolution, USDEL should urge that it include language which applauds (a) the dramatic improvement in the human rights situation in Chile and (b) ~~that~~ the fact that free and fair elections took place there in December and will result in the orderly, peaceful transfer of power to a new, democratic government in March. If a resolution citing specific countries is proposed on the dramatic and positive developments in 1989 in civil and political rights, USDEL should urge that Chile be included.

BACKGROUND:

The US remains attentive to the human rights situation in Chile but objects to discriminatory treatment whereby Chile is treated more harshly than other countries where serious human rights violations have also taken place. The US has attempted to ensure that the resolutions on Chile reflect the situation in that country ~~including positive as well as negative steps~~ regarding the ~~protection of~~ human rights and democratic institutions.

Since 1974, the UN has adopted annual resolutions on the human rights situation in Chile. The resolutions, usually sponsored by Mexico, were sometimes unbalanced to the degree that the USG was unable to join consensus. The resolution passed by the 44th (1988) UNHRC, for example, was tabled before the report of the Special Rapporteur on Chile was published and hence did not accurately reflect the content and tone of the report, especially in reference to positive steps by the GOC. At the 45th (1989) session, the question of human rights in Chile was considered, at the urging of the United States and other WEOG states, along with the other "country-specific" resolutions under agenda item 12. The resolution, although still unbalanced, was much less so than in previous years. While the US abstained, it did note that the resolution made substantial progress in presenting a more balanced picture of the human rights situation in Chile. The Government of Chile has cooperated with the efforts of the Special Rapporteur, Fernando Volio of Costa Rica. In general, his reports are considered balanced and factual by both the Chilean Government and Chilean human rights committees, and his mandate was extended for an additional year by the 1989 resolution.

In the presidential plebiscite on October 5, 1988, Chilean voters turned out in huge numbers and voted by a margin of 55 percent to 43 percent not to extend President Pinochet's rule until 1997. The ~~actual~~ voting and vote counting processes were orderly and fair. Under the Chilean constitution, open multi-candidate elections were conducted on December 14 1989. presidential and Parliamentary

BUDGETARY IMPLICATIONS:

The resolution under consideration would be carried out within existing resources.

-- The U.S. opposes the selective targeting by UN bodies and others of Chile as a violator of human rights while the abuses perpetrated by others, such as Nicaragua, are ignored.

-- The U.S. applauds (a) the dramatic improvement in the human rights situation in Chile and (b) ~~that~~ the fact that free and fair elections took place there in December and will result in the orderly, peaceful transfer of power to a new, democratic government in March.

-- In light of the dramatic improvement in Chile's record on democratic and civil rights, the U.S. believes there is no longer any reason to have a Special Rapporteur on Chile and believes that the Commission should end his mandate.

-- Prof. Fernando Volio has done an objective and praiseworthy job as Special Rapporteur on Chile and deserves the gratitude of all members of the Commission and everyone else dedicated to promoting and protecting human rights.

-- The U.S. notes that the report of the Special Rapporteur indicates that the outgoing Government of Chile has been correcting human rights problems and that a new, democratically elected government will take office in March.

-- The U.S. believes that the discussion on Chile should be moved from agenda item 5 to item 13 (where other country-specific issues are discussed) and that we do not need to have a separate item on Chile on future Commission agendas.

-- It is significant that the voting and vote counting in the December 14 election were carried out in a fair and orderly manner and that the people of Chile overwhelmingly participated in this election.

-- (If a resolution on the h.r. situation in Chile is unavoidable) It is important that any resolution on the human rights situation in Chile accurately reflect reality and draw on the conclusions in the report of the Special Rapporteur.

-- (If a resolution on the h.r. situation in Chile is unavoidable) It is also important that any resolution point that the most effective way of guaranteeing human rights is to have vigorous democratic system which includes freedom of speech, genuine and fair elections, and an independent judiciary--Chile is well on its way to having such a system.

REPORT OF THE DECEMBER 1990 URSULINE DELEGATION TO GUATEMALA

Limited Case Background:

On November 2, 1989, Sister Dianna Ortiz, a missionary from the Ursuline Sisters of Maple Mount, Kentucky working in Guatemala, was kidnapped, tortured, and raped by members of the Guatemalan security forces.

In March of 1989, the Government of Guatemala officially closed the case of Sr. Dianna Ortiz and declared it to be a self-kidnapping. In April 1990, the Ursulines of Maple Mount, Kentucky sent a delegation headed by Sr. Fran Wilhelm to Guatemala in protest. As a result of that trip, the President of Guatemala officially reopened the case and agreed to appoint a Special Commission to investigate the case. (For further background and details see Report of April Delegation.)

When more than one month passed with no further action, the entire Kentucky and New Mexico congressional delegations wrote to President Cerezo urging him to appoint the Commission. In June, he appointed the Special Commission which included representatives of the Guatemala Congressional Human Rights Office (Ombudsman, Mr. Ramiro Carpio de Leon), the administration (unnamed), the religious community (Catholic Archbishop, Msgr. Prosper Penados), and the victim (Sr. Dianna's lawyer, Mr. Paul Soreff).

December Delegation:

However, by November of 1990, the Commission had not met. In fact, President Cerezo never responded to Mr. Soreff's repeated inquiries regarding the Commission. Accordingly, the Ursuline Community sent a legal delegation to Guatemala in December of 1990, headed by Sr. Fran Wilhelm. Mr. Paul Soreff and Ms. Shawn Roberts accompanied Sr. Wilhelm.

The delegation's primary purpose was to try and get President Cerezo to convene the Commission before leaving office in January, to secure support for the Commission's investigation of this case from the Presidential candidates (Jorge Serrano and Jorge Carpio), and to meet with each of the Commission's members.

Commission Members:

When we arrived in Guatemala we learned that President Cerezo, the Vice President, the Interior Minister, and the Vice Ministers of the Interior refused to meet with us. When we met with the Ombudsman (Ramiro Carpio de Leon) we learned that he had never been contacted by the President and did not even know about the Commission. He said that, although he was cautious about giving credibility to Commissions that do nothing, he would be willing to serve on this Commission if invited. He was very interested in this case and agreed to actively investigate. We found this meeting to be one of the most hopeful aspects of our trip.

We also met with Archbishop Penados. He expressed his willingness to serve on the Commission and informed us that President Cerezo had asked him to head the Commission. He also confirmed that the Interior Minister, Villatoro Morales had been vigorously opposing the Commission.

Presidential Candidates:

Jorge Carpio: Although our Embassy had arranged an appointment for us with Mr. Garcia Rodas, an aide to candidate Jorge Carpio, he was not there and despite our repeated efforts, we were not able to see either him or Mr. Carpio

Jorge Serrano: We first met at length with his campaign manager, Mr. Manuel Conde, who, although not very familiar with the case, was very solicitous of us. During our discussion, he expressed a lot of interest in the Commission and agreed to discuss the case with Mr. Serrano. He subsequently arranged for us to meet briefly with Mr. Serrano. When we met with Mr. Serrano the next day, he said that, if elected, his government would pursue human rights cases vigorously and he agreed to convene the Commission to investigate the Ortiz case as soon as possible.

Meetings with the Chief of Police and Judge:

We met with the Judge in Antigua who had been appointed to this case. We had previously been advised that he was a highly respected member of the court who would be fair. We found him to be an older and gentle man of great dignity who had already concluded that Sr. Dianna's entire story was a hoax. He did not believe that she had been tortured or burned and said that, in fact she had been burned, it had occurred after she left Guatemala. At first he did not recall there being any file on the case. Later he summoned a clerk who brought the thick court file which the Judge then allowed us to review.

When we met with Chief of the National Police, Caballeros, he told us that his office had lost the file on the case. He gave us the brief four page summary that remained. Sr. Dianna has stated that the Guatemalan police car she was transported in had the #7 in the license plate. In our meeting we learned that only approximately 32 police cars had a number 7 and that any of these cars could have been in Mixco at the time of the kidnapping.

U.S. Embassy and Congressional Delegation:

U.S. Ambassador Strook was very upset that Sr. Dianna had given a statement to Diane Sawyer of ABC. The fact that Sr. Dianna had, shortly thereafter, arranged to meet with a representative of the U.S. State

During ur most recent meeting with you there was a lengthy discussion f on-going efforts by the Department of State to pursue its spousal request on behalf of my clients.

It was our understanding at the conclusion of the meeting hat while there were on-going efforts to obtain extradition of hose potentially criminally liable for the assassinations, to ursue the formation of an arbitral tribunal and to further spouse the claim for compensation, much was dependent on the itcome of the scheduled Presidential elections. Given the ecent election of the Coalition candidate, we would appreciate ie opportunity to meet with you, or other appropriate ndividuals in the Department of State, to discuss the effects of ie election and current plans for pursuing this matter.

No mention of extradition

We are quite concerned by recent information that we have eceived regarding contacts between Ambassador Gillespie and ewly-elected government officials. While our information is ly hearsay and has not been confirmed, we have been advised that Ambassador Gillespie has informed the new government that payment of compensation and resolution of the Letelier case are not a priority in normalization of relationships with this country. If indeed any such statements were made they would be contrary to the representations made to us during our meetings with the Department of State. We would like to clarify this matter as soon as possible.

REPORT ON COLOMBIA

UNCLASSIFIED

REF: STATE 384942

1. THE FOLLOWING IS BOGOTA'S CONTRIBUTION TO THE 1990 INTERNATIONAL NARCOTICS CONTROL STRATEGY REPORT (INCSR).

A.1. STATUS OF ILLICIT NARCOTICS PRODUCTION AND TRAFFICKING

2. THE DRUG WAR IN COLOMBIA IS FAR FROM OVER, BUT COLOMBIA'S ACHIEVEMENTS OF 1989 WERE NOTHING SHORT OF SPECTACULAR. THE COUNTRY IS A MODEL FOR ANTI-DRUG COMMITMENT. COLOMBIA EXCELLED IN DRUG SEIZURES, LAWS REVAMPED, EXTRADITIONS ORDERED, ASSETS SEIZED, AND MOST OF ALL, TANGIBLE COMMITMENT BY THE GOVERNMENT. ALL THIS WAS TOPPED OFF BY THE RAID BY COLOMBIA FORCES IN MID-DECEMBER THAT FELLED ONE OF THE BIGGEST TRAFFICKERS IN THE WORLD.

. COCA/COCAINE: IN 1989 COLOMBIA CONTINUED TO BE THE WORLD'S LEADING PRODUCER OF COCAINE HCL. COLOMBIAN LABORATORIES RELY HEAVILY ON IMPORTED COCAINE BASE FROM PERU AND BOLIVIA FOR CONVERSION TO COCAINE HYDROCHLORIDE ALTHOUGH THERE IS A SIZEABLE DOMESTIC COCA CROP. A COCA SURVEY CONDUCTED IN 1989 SHOWS EXPANSION OF THE CROP TO 42,500 HECTARES. POST ACCEPTS THE NET FIGURE AND HAS INCORPORATED IT INTO THE SUMMARY TABLES. HOWEVER, THE ESTIMATE DOES NOT INCLUDE THE PUTUMAYO GROWING AREA AND SHOWS EXPANSION OF THE CROP IN AREAS WHERE CREDIBLE SOURCES SAY PRODUCTION IS DOWN. POST HAS A LOW LEVEL AERIAL SURVEY PLANNED FOR 1990 TO VERIFY THE INFORMATION. THE HEAVIEST AREAS OF CULTIVATION ARE THE DEPARTMENTS OF PUTUMAYO, CAQUETA, GUAVIARE, AND VAUPES, WITH SUBSTANTIAL

EXPANSION OF THE CROP INTO BOLIVAR DEPARTMENT. THE SURVEY CONFIRMS REPORTS BY RECONNAISSANCE PILOTS OF THE EXPANDED CROP IN BOLIVAR, PLACING THE ESTIMATE FOR THAT AREA AT 4,500 HECTARES. THE ESTIMATE FOR 1988 HAS BEEN ADJUSTED BASED ON THE SURVEY DATA.

4. THE STRENGTH OF COLOMBIAN TRAFFICKERS IS DERIVED FROM THEIR ABILITY TO FINISH THE PROCESSING OF MULTI-TON QUANTITIES OF INTERMEDIATE PRODUCT AND THEIR CONTROL OF TRAFFICKING ROUTES. THE LARGE, INDUSTRIAL-COMPLEX SIZE

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

LABORATORIES REMAIN ACTIVE. THE MAJOR "DISCOVERY" OF 1989 WAS THE NUMBER OF THESE LABS FOUND TO BE RELATIVELY NEAR POPULATED AREAS. POLICE RAIDS FOUND A CONCENTRATION OF LARGE LABS IN AN AREA KNOWN AS THE MAGDALENA MEDIO IN CENTRAL COLOMBIA, OWNED BY THE SO CALLED MEDELLIN CARTEL. MANY WERE ACCESSIBLE BY ROAD AND OFTEN WITHIN SIGHT OF LUXURY HOMES. THE LABS WERE SOPHISTICATED, WITH EVIDENCE OF CHEMICAL RE-CYCLING AT THE SITES. LABS AND AIRSTRIPS IN THE EASTERN AND SOUTHERN JUNGLE CONTINUE TO OPERATE.

5. POST ESTIMATES THAT 447 METRIC TONS OF COCAINE HCL WERE REFINED IN COLOMBIA OR ENTERED THE COLOMBIAN COCAINE PIPELINE. THIS ESTIMATE IS A PERCENTAGE OF TOTAL PASTE/BASE PRODUCED IN PERU AND BOLIVIA (FROM DATA SUPPLIED BY THE EMBASSIES AT LIMA AND LAPAZ) ALONG WITH PRODUCTION FROM COLOMBIAN DOMESTIC COCA LEAF. POST ESTIMATES THAT 65 PERCENT (68 METRIC TONS) OF COCAINE BASE PRODUCED IN BOLIVIA IS REFINED IN COLOMBIA (OR IS BOLIVIAN-PRODUCED HCL THAT ENTERS THE COLOMBIAN DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM). FURTHER, 90 PERCENT OF PERUVIAN PASTE/BASE (326 METRIC TONS) PASSES INTO COLOMBIA FOR REFINING. THE INTERMEDIATE PRODUCT FROM THESE TWO COUNTRIES YIELDS APPROXIMATELY 394 METRIC TONS OF COCAINE

53 METRIC TONS OF HCL.

6. THERE IS THE POSSIBILITY THAT THE TOTAL COCAINE PRODUCED IN COLOMBIA IS MUCH HIGHER, POSSIBLY AS MUCH AS TWICE THE AMOUNT ESTIMATED ABOVE. THERE IS LITTLE CURRENT HARD DATA ON CONVERSION RATIOS OF COCA LEAF TO COCAINE HCL TO SUPPORT EITHER ESTIMATE. INFORMANT REPORTING TO DEA VARIES GREATLY, WITH SOME REPORTS SHOWING THAT MUCH LESS COCA LEAF IS NEEDED TO PROCESS COCAINE THAN IS NOW ESTIMATED. THE REPORTS SHOW THAT THE RATIO MAY BE AS LOW AS 100 KILOS OF LEAF TO TO MAKE ONE KILO OF COCAINE HCL (CURRENTLY USED RATIO FOR COLOMBIA IS 500 TO 1). EVIDENCE OF RECYCLING OF CHEMICALS FURTHER CLOUDS THE ESTIMATE PROCESS, PUTTING DOUBT ON THE STANDARD RATIO OF 12 KILOS (OR 4 GALLONS) OF ESSENTIAL CHEMICALS (ETHER, ACETONE, OR SOME COMBINATION) TO MAKE ONE KILO OF HCL. HOWEVER, UNTIL POST HAS VERIFIED DATA AND EVIDENCE THAT THE NEWER PROCESSES ARE WIDELY USED IN COLOMBIA, PERU AND BOLIVIA, WE WILL CONTINUE TO USE PREVIOUSLY ESTABLISHED YIELD AND RATIO DATA.

7. THE FORCES BEHIND THE COCAINE INDUSTRY IN COLOMBIA ARE NAMES SUCH AS ESCOBAR AND OCHOA, AND UNTIL MID-DECEMBER, RODRIGUEZ GACHA. THESE MAJOR TRAFFICKERS HAVE ACQUIRED SO MUCH WEALTH (IN THE BILLIONS OF DOLLARS) THAT THEY HAVE FOR SOME TIME BEEN ABLE TO MAINTAIN THEIR OSTENTATIOUS LIFESTYLES IN COLOMBIA WITHOUT FEAR OF SERIOUS REPRISAL BY THE GOVERNMENT. WHEN EXTRADITION WAS REINSTATED THROUGH PRESIDENTIAL DECREE ON AUGUST 18, 1989, IT AGAIN BECAME ONE OF THE MAJOR FOCAL POINTS FOR THE NARCO'S BATTLE

AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT, WITH TERRORISM AS THEIR WEAPON. THEIR PRIMARY TARGETS ARE LAW ENFORCEMENT, THE JUDICIARY AND THE CONGRESS, ALTHOUGH GENERAL TERRORISM IS ALSO A TOOL OF THE TRAFFICKERS. THIS GENERAL TERRORISM HAS BEEN AIMED AT SUCH DIVERSE ECONOMIC INTERESTS AS THE TOURIST TRADE, BANKS, TRANSPORTATION, AND POSSIBLY THE NATIONAL AIRLINE. THE GOC'S CONFRONTATION WITH KINGPIN JOSE GONZALO RODRIGUEZ GACHA, RESULTING IN HIS DEATH DURING THE GUNBATTLE ON DECEMBER 15, MARKS A NEW ERA IN COLOMBIA FOR THE TRAFFICKERS. WHETHER HIS DEMISE RESULTS IN ANY SERIOUS SHAKEUP IN THE TRAFFICKING INFRASTRUCTURE OR WHETHER COCAINE TRAFFICKING DECLINES REMAINS TO BE SEEN.

8. POLITICAL INSURGENTS HAVE USED THE DRUG BUSINESS TO PROVIDE FAST MONEY TO FINANCE THEIR EFFORTS; AT TIMES FORMING ALLIANCES WITH THE TRAFFICKERS. HOWEVER, THE MOST RECENT TREND IS FOR THE BIGGER NARCOS TO OPPOSE THEM. IN THE LATE 1980'S THE NARCOS BEGAN SUPPORTING SO-CALLED SELF DEFENSE GROUPS ACTIVE IN THE MAGDALENA MEDIO REGION WHICH HAVE BEEN FIGHTING INSURGENTS IN THAT AREA. IN OTHER AREAS, INSURGENT NARCO-TRAFFICKING CONTINUES. THUS THE RELATIONSHIPS OF THE "UNDERWORLD" ARE TENUOUS, WITH SELF INTERESTS ALWAYS ABOVE POLITICAL IDEALS.

9. CANNABIS/MARIJUANA: AERIAL RECONNAISSANCE PILOTS SIGHTED LESS THAN 500 HECTARES OF CANNABIS GROWING IN COLOMBIA IN 1989. POST HAS CONSERVATIVELY PLACED THE TOTAL AT 2,000 HECTARES COUNTRY-WIDE, TO ACCOUNT FOR AREAS (UNKNOWN TO THE POLICE AND EMBASSY) THAT HAVE A FEW HUNDRED HECTARES PLANTED AND TO ACCOUNT FOR CULTIVATIONS THE SPRAY PILOTS DID NOT SEE DURING OVERFLIGHTS. THE ACTUAL TOTAL MAY BE MUCH LOWER. THIS IS A REMARKABLE

UNCLASSIFIED

DECLINE FROM THE 9,200 HECTARES ESTIMATED IN 1988.

10. EXPERIENCED U.S. PILOTS REPEATEDLY OVERFLEW ALL "TRADITIONAL" GROWING AREAS AND MANY "SUSPECTED" GROWING AREAS THROUGHOUT THE YEAR. CULTIVATIONS IN THE SANTA MARTA AND PERIJA MOUNTAINS CONTINUED A FIVE YEAR STEADY DECLINE, STEMMING FROM THE AERIAL HERBICIDE EPADICATION PROGRAM WHICH BEGAN IN 1984. THE PILOTS FOUND ONE CULTIVATION OF ABOUT 150 HECTARES IN SANTA MARTA AND A FEW

KNOWN AS THE MAJOR CANNABIS GROWING AREA OF COLOMBIA APPEARS TO HAVE BEEN VIRTUALLY CANNABIS FREE IN 1989.

11. DURING RECONNAISSANCE MISSIONS OVER CORINTO (CAUCA DEPARTMENT) IN SOUTHWEST COLOMBIA PILOTS SAW ONLY 100 HECTARES OF CANNABIS UNDER CULTIVATION. THE PLOTS WERE NUMEROUS, BUT VERY SMALL (AVERAGING LESS THAN A HECTARE EACH). POST'S ESTIMATE FOR TOTAL CULTIVATION IN THIS AREA IS 200 HECTARES, CAPABLE OF PRODUCING 1,400 METRIC TONS OF MARIJUANA IN 1989. THIS AREA WAS ESTIMATED TO HAVE 1,200 HECTARES GROWING IN 1988. THIS DECLINE WAS LARGELY A RESULT OF AN AGGRESSIVE GROUND ERADICATION PROGRAM IN LATE 1988 AND GOVERNMENT ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE TO THE AREA. CANNABIS APPEARS TO HAVE NOT BEEN PLANTED IN THE SAN LUCAS MOUNTAINS (BOLIVAR DEPARTMENT) IN COMMERCIAL QUANTITIES IN 1989, AS FARMERS SWITCHED TO THE POTENTIALLY MORE LUCRATIVE COCA CROP. THE DECLINE IN CANNABIS CULTIVATIONS THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY WAS SO GREAT THAT THE EMBASSY FIRST POSTPONED AND THEN LATER CANCELLED PLANS FOR A CROP YIELD SURVEY FOR LACK OF SUFFICIENT FIELDS IN VARIOUS AREAS TO BE TESTED.

12. THE DECLINE IN CULTIVATIONS IS SUPPORTED BY A DECLINE IN BULK MARIJUANA SEIZURES, FROM 923 METRIC TONS IN 1988 TO ABOUT 708 METRIC TONS IN 1989. IN THE LARGEST SEIZURE OF THE YEAR, THE CNP SEIZED 107 METRIC TONS OF MARIJUANA IN DECEMBER FROM CULTIVATIONS IN SOUTHWEST COLOMBIA. THIS AMOUNT, WHILE QUITE LARGE, REPRESENTS THE YEARLY PRODUCTION OF ONLY 15 HECTARES OF CANNABIS FROM THAT AREA. THE COLOMBIAN NATIONAL POLICE (CNP) BELIEVE THAT MUCH OF THE MARIJUANA BEING SEIZED IN NORTHERN COLOMBIA

ORIGINATES IN VENEZUELA. WE ARE FAIRLY CERTAIN THAT THERE ARE NO LARGE COMMERCIAL SIZE (MULTI-HUNDRED HECTARES) AREAS OF CANNABIS IN COLOMBIA.

A.2. ACCOMPLISHMENTS IN 1989

13. 1989 WAS THE BEST YEAR EVER FOR COLOMBIA'S ANTI-DRUG EFFORT, ALTHOUGH THE COUNTRY PAID A BLOODY, VIOLENT PRICE FOR IT. SEIZURES FOR A SECOND YEAR WERE AT RECORD LEVELS: 37 METRIC TONS OF COCAINE SEIZED, 1,164 ANTI-NARCOTICS RAIDS CONDUCTED, 452 LABORATORIES DESTROYED

(FEWER IN NUMBER, BUT LARGER LABS), 50 AIRCRAFT SEIZED AND HELD FOR FORFEITURE, 3,607 TRAFFICKERS ARRESTED, AND TWO MILLION GALLONS OF ESSENTIAL CHEMICALS TO MAKE COCAINE DESTROYED. INTELLIGENCE AGENCIES INFILTRATED MAJOR NETWORKS, AND AS A RESULT, MADE AGGRESSIVE RAIDS ON TRAFFICKER CONTROL HOUSES. THE PRICE WAS THE DEATHS OF EIGHT JUDGES, MORE THAN TWO HUNDRED BOMBINGS, ONE OF WHICH WAS THE MOST POWERFUL EVER IN COLOMBIA AND VIRTUALLY DESTROYED THE BUILDING HOUSING THE DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATIVE SECURITY (DAS). ESCALATING ASSASSINATIONS OF PROMINENT JURISTS, AMONG THEM A WIDELY RESPECTED MAGISTRATE OF BOGOTA'S HIGHER TRIBUNAL, LED THE GOC TO DEVELOP A SERIES OF EMERGENCY DECREES. THEIR ANNOUNCEMENT COINCIDED WITH THE MURDER -- IN PUBLIC -- OF LEADING PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE LUIS CARLOS GALAN ON AUGUST 18. THE DECREES PROVIDED FOR EXTRADITION BY ADMINISTRATIVE DETERMINATION, SEIZURES OF NARCO ASSETS, AND LONGER DETENTION TIMES. OUTRAGED BY THE GALAN KILLING, THE GOC BEGAN APPLYING THE DECREES WITH VIGOR.

14. A COLOMBIAN ECOLOGIST IS PARTICIPATING IN THE COCA HERBICIDE TESTING BEING CONDUCTED IN PERU, REPORTING BACK TO THE HIGHEST LEVELS OF THE GOC. NO HERBICIDES HAVE BEEN USED OR TESTED AGAINST COCA IN COLOMBIA SINCE 1986. UNTIL A SAFE, EFFECTIVE HERBICIDE IS FOUND AND APPROVED FOR USE,

PRESIDENT VIRGILIO BARCO VARGAS HAS REQUESTED THAT BOTH REMAIN IN POSITION UNTIL THE END OF HIS ADMINISTRATION IN AUGUST 1990.

A.3. PLANS PROGRAMS AND TIMETABLES (1990)

16. THE INFUSION OF FUNDS FROM THE U.S. AND THE REST OF THE WORLD IN SUPPORT OF THE GOC'S ANTI-DRUG INITIATIVES SHOWED IMMEDIATE EFFECTS AND WILL ALLOW THE INITIATIVES TO CONTINUE AND GREATLY EXPAND IN 1990. THE CNP QUICKLY ABSORBED THE UH-1H HELICOPTERS BROUGHT IN UNDER 506A EMERGENCY FUNDS AND HAD THEM FLYING OPERATIONS IN LESS THAN THREE DAYS. THERE ARE PLANS FOR EXPANSION AND IMPROVEMENT IN VIRTUALLY ALL AREAS OF THE GOC'S ANTI-DRUG PLAN, INCLUDING IMPROVED RADIO NETS, ENHANCED INTELLIGENCE COLLECTION CAPABILITIES, SPECIALIZED ANTI-DRUG ARMY STRIKE UNITS, BETTER CHEMICAL CONTROLS, AND HELP TO STRENGTHEN AND PROTECT THE JUDICIARY, TO NAME BUT A FEW. IN 1990 THE GOC'S PLAN IS TO CONTINUE AND EXPAND THE ASSAULT ON TRAFFICKER HIDEOUTS AND LABORATORY OPERATIONS, WITH THE MAJOR OBJECTIVES OF CATCHING THE MAJOR NARCOS AND DISRUPTING HCL PRODUCTION.

A.4. ADEQUACY OF LEGAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT MEASURES

17. THE PRESIDENTIAL DECREES OF AUGUST WERE A

UNCLASSIFIED

BREAKTHROUGH FOR THE WEAKENED COLOMBIAN JUDICIAL SYSTEM. DURING THE FIRST HALF OF 1989 THE GOC SECRETLY DRAFTED EMERGENCY DECREES UNDER THE PRESIDENT'S STATE OF SIEGE AUTHORITY TO CONFRONT THE GROWING NARCO MENACE. UNDER THE LEADERSHIP OF THEN JUSTICE MINISTER MONICA DE GREIFF, THE GOVERNMENT PROMULGATED THE DECREES FOLLOWING THE KILLING OF THE POLICE CHIEF OF ANTIOQUIA DEPARTMENT (MEDELLIN) AND SEVERAL PROMINENT JURISTS WHO WERE HANDLING NARCOTICS CASES. THEIR ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE DECREES CAME THE VERY EVENING OF GALAN'S ASSASSINATION. THE MOST IMPORTANT OF THESE DECREES IMPLEMENTED EXTRADITION BY ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURE OF PERSONS CHARGED WITH NARCOTICS OFFENSES, AND

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

GAVE THE GOVERNMENT BROAD POWERS TO SEIZE PROPERTY OF SUSPECTED NARCOS AND ULTIMATELY CONFISCATE PROPERTY WHEN ITS OWNER IS CONVICTED OF A NARCOTICS OFFENSE. OTHER DECREES TO CONTROL MONEY LAUNDERING AND THE SHIPMENT OF PRECURSOR CHEMICALS ARE BEING PREPARED.

18. SPURRED BY PUBLIC OUTRAGE OVER THE GALAN KILLING, AS WELL AS THOSE OF THE POLICE CHIEF AND GOVERNOR OF ANTIOQUIA DEPARTMENT, AND THE JUDGES, THE GOC PROCEEDED TO APPLY THE DECREES WITH UNUSUAL DISPATCH. THE FIRST FIVE EXTRADITIONS (UNDER THE ADMINISTRATIVE MEASURES) TOOK PLACE WITHIN TWO MONTHS. A CRITICAL JUNCTURE CAME WHEN THE SUPREME COURT, IN A COURAGEOUS DECISION, UPHELD THE CONSTITUTIONALITY OF THE EMERGENCY DECREES. THIS WAS LATER BOLSTERED BY A SIMILAR STATEMENT BY THE COUNCIL OF STATE, COLOMBIA'S HIGHEST TRIBUNAL OF ADMINISTRATIVE LAW.

UNCLASSIFIED

20. VIRTUALLY ALL LAW ENFORCEMENT/MILITARY COMPONENTS OF THE GOC ARE INVOLVED IN ANTI-NARCOTICS WORK. THE COLOMBIAN NATIONAL POLICE ANTI-NARCOTICS DIRECTORATE (DAN) HAS PRIMARY RESPONSIBILITY FOR NARCOTICS LAW ENFORCEMENT.

FIELD COMPANIES, AND AN INTELLIGENCE SERVICE. UTILIZING
AIR MOBILE TACTICS, THE DAN IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE SEIZURE OF ABOUT 85 PERCENT OF THE DRUGS FOUND IN COLOMBIA. THE INVESTIGATIVE PLAINCLOTHES DIVISION OF THE CNP, KNOWN AS
F-2, MADE SIGNIFICANT RAIDS ON TRAFFICKER HEADQUARTERS, COLLECTING INTELLIGENCE ON THEIR FINANCIAL EMPIRES.

21. THE NEWLY ESTABLISHED (APRIL 1989) ELITE CORPS, UNDER THE DIRECTION OF A BRIGADIER GENERAL OF THE CNP, ALSO CONDUCTS ANTI-NARCOTICS RAIDS, ALTHOUGH THEY ARE NOT SPECIFICALLY MANDATED FOR THIS USE. ELITE CORPS TROOPS WERE ON-BOARD DAN UH-1H HELICOPTERS (506A PROVIDED) FOR THE RAID IN WHICH RODRIGUEZ GACHA DIED. THE OTHER BRANCHES OF THE POLICE ALSO CONTRIBUTED TO THE ANTI-NARCOTICS EFFORT, CONDUCTING RAIDS AND MANNING
ROADBLOCKS AND SEARCHES AT WATER AND AIR PORTS.

22. THE COLOMBIAN ARMY, SUPPORTED BY THE AIR FORCE AND MARINES, HAS INCREASED ITS ANTI-NARCOTICS EFFORTS, PARTICULARLY IN THE LAST FEW MONTHS AT THE DIRECTION OF THE PRESIDENT, AND SHOULD PLAY AN EVEN GREATER ROLE IN 1990. ONE RAID IN BOGOTA PRODUCED BOOKS AND RECORDS OF MAJOR TRAFFICKER JOSE GONZALO RODRIGUEZ GACHA THAT LED TO THE FREEZING OF SOME $62 MILLION IN ASSETS IN THROUGHOUT THE WORLD. THE COLOMBIAN NAVY, HOWEVER, IS STILL THE LEAST ACTIVE BRANCH OF THE SERVICE ALTHOUGH IT HAS BEGUN TO SHOW SOME INTEREST IN INCREASING RIVERINE COUNTER
NARCOTICS OPERATIONS. IT HAS DONE VERY LITTLE AT-SEA OPERATIONS AGAINST THE TRAFFICKERS.

23. BRIGADIER GENERAL MIGUEL MAZA MARQUEZ, THE HEAD OF THE DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATIVE SECURITY (DAS) IN THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH, HAS BROUGHT HIS AGENCY BACK INTO ANTI-DRUG INVESTIGATIONS. THE SUCCESS OF MAZA'S AGENCY IS PERHAPS MOST VIVIDLY SHOWN BY THE EXTENT THE TRAFFICKERS
HAVE GONE TO TRY TO KILL MAZA. IN 1989, THERE WERE THREE ATTEMPTS MADE ON HIS LIFE. TWO BOMBS WERE DETONATED, ONE AIMED AT HIS CAR KILLED SEVEN INNOCENT BYSTANDERS AND THE OTHER AT HIS DAS HEADQUARTERS WHILE HE WAS IN HIS OFFICE KILLED 64 PEOPLE WHO HAPPENED TO ON THE STREET OR IN THE BUILDING. IN THE THIRD INCIDENT, A CACHE OF DYNAMITE

INTENDED FOR USE AGAINST HIM WAS LOCATED BY THE POLICE.

24. COLOMBIA IS IN COMPLIANCE WITH THE PROVISIONS OF THE CHILES AMENDMENT. A BILATERAL NARCOTICS AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE U.S. AND COLOMBIA HAS BEEN IN EFFECT SINCE 1974. THERE IS ALSO AN AGREEMENT TO DRASTICALLY REDUCE DRUG CONSUMPTION. THE GOC HAS NOT YET RATIFIED THE 1988 VIENNA CONVENTION, BUT THE PRESIDENTIAL DECREES OF AUGUST 18 SUCCESSFULLY IMPLEMENTED EXTRADITION AND ASSET SEIZURE. THE GOC EXTRADITED TWELVE NARCO-TRAFFICKERS TO THE U.S. IN 1989. FINAL CONFISCATION OF ASSETS, HOWEVER, REQUIRES A NARCOTICS CONVICTION AGAINST THE OWNER OF THE ASSET. THE GOC IS IN THE PROCESS OF PREPARING EMERGENCY DECREES TO CONTROL PRECURSOR CHEMICAL SHIPMENTS AND TRACE THE FINANCIAL INFRASTRUCTURE OF THE NARCOTICS MAFIAS.

25. COMPLIANCE WITH SECTION 2013 REQUIREMENTS ON ANTI-CORRUPTION ACTIVITIES: THE GOVERNMENT OF COLOMBIA DOES NOT AS A MATTER OF POLICY ENCOURAGE OR FACILITATE THE PRODUCTION OR DISTRIBUTION OF ILLEGAL DRUGS. NO SENIOR OFFICIAL HAS BEEN INDICTED FOR NARCOTICS RELATED CORRUPTION. AN INVESTIGATION IS UNDERWAY OF A FORMER CHIEF OF THE NATIONAL POLICE. SOME PROMINENT POLITICIANS ARE CLOSELY CONNECTED TO DRUG TRAFFICKERS, AND THERE ARE

CLEAR INDICATIONS THAT SOME JUDGES HAVE BEEN SUBJECT TO BRIBES, INTIMIDATIONS OR THREATS FROM TRAFFICKERS. THE GOC ACTS SWIFTLY TO REMOVE OFFICIALS FROM THEIR RANKS WHEN THERE IS EVIDENCE OF CORRUPTION AND IT IS CLEAR THAT THE POLICE AND MILITARY ARE MOVING AGAINST CORRUPTION NOW AS NEVER BEFORE.

26. THERE HAS NOT BEEN A NATIONWIDE DRUG ABUSE STUDY DONE

UNCLASSIFIED

IN COLOMBIA SINCE 1987, WHEN A STUDY FOUND THAT DRUG ABUSE IS A GROWING, PARTICULARLY URBAN PHENOMENON. A 1988 BOGOTA STUDY FOUND THAT TEN PERCENT OF YOUNG ADULTS (18-24 YEARS OLD) USE ILLEGAL DRUGS. THE GOC HAS HAD SINCE 1985 AN OFFICIAL NATIONAL PLAN FOR DRUG ABUSE PREVENTION. THE MINISTRIES OF EDUCATION AND COMMUNICATION AND THE COLOMBIAN INSTITUTE OF FAMILY WELFARE WORK TO SOME EXTENT IN PREVENTION PROGRAMS, BUT IN GENERAL, HAVE NOT VIGOROUSLY PURSUED DEMAND REDUCTION PROJECTS. SOME PRIVATE ORGANIZATIONS HAVE ORGANIZED CAMPAIGNS, AND THE MAYOR'S OFFICE OF BOGOTA HAS BEEN PARTICULARLY ACTIVE. THE DRUG ABUSE PROBLEM IN COLOMBIA DOES NOT DRIVE PRODUCTION, AND ACCOUNTS FOR USE OF ONLY A SMALL FRACTION OF TOTAL DRUGS PRODUCED IN COUNTRY.

B.1. AND B.2. NATURE OF ILLICIT DRUG PRODUCTION AND FACTORS AFFECTING PRODUCTION

27. RATHER THAN POLITICAL, ECONOMIC, AND SOCIAL FACTORS CONTRIBUTING TO COCAINE PRODUCTION, IT IS BETTER SAID THAT COCAINE PRODUCTION IS WEAKENING THE DEMOCRATIC POLITICS OF COLOMBIA. COLOMBIANS INCREASINGLY RECOGNIZE THAT THE NARCOTICS TRADE IS HARMING THE ECONOMY AND SOCIETY AT LARGE. COLOMBIANS HAVE LEARNED THAT IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO SEPARATE DRUG TRAFFICKING FROM THE VIOLENCE AND LAWLESSNESS GENERATED BY IT. COLOMBIA IS THE PRIME EXAMPLE TO THE WORLD OF THE INSIDIOUS EFFECTS OF THE ILLEGAL DRUG INDUSTRY ON A NATION. IT IS THE MAJOR THREAT TO DEMOCRACY IN COLOMBIA AND HAS DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY AFFECTED VIRTUALLY EVERYONE AND EVERYTHING IN THE COUNTRY.
UNCLASSIFIED
UNCLASSIFIED

28. THE COLOMBIAN NEWS MEDIA IS ONE OF THE ELEMENTS HIT HARD BY THE TRAFFICKERS. TWELVE PEOPLE ASSOCIATED WITH THE PRINT AND VOICE MEDIAS WERE KILLED IN 1989, INCLUDING TWO NEWSPAPER DISTRIBUTORS IN MEDELLIN FOR DISTRIBUTING A MAJOR DAILY WHICH IS STRONGLY ANTI-DRUG. THE SECOND LARGEST DAILY IN COLOMBIA, EL ESPECTADOR, WAS SEVERELY DAMAGED BY A BOMB IN SEPTEMBER AS WAS THE LEAD DAILY OF A MAJOR PROVINCIAL NEWSPEAPER CHAIN IN NOVEMBER. WRITERS ARE RELUCTANT TO USE BYLINES. THE BASIC FREEDOMS PERMITTED BY THE GOVERNMENT ARE BEING DENIED BY THE TRAFFICKERS.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

29. ALTHOUGH THE GOVERNMENT RESTRICTS THE IMPORTATION OF ESSENTIAL CHEMICALS INTO THE COUNTRY, THE PROFITS INVOLVED IN CHEMICAL SHIPMENTS HAVE BEEN AN INCENTIVE TO OVERCOME THE CONTROLS. SUPPLYING CHEMICALS TO COCAINE LABS HAS BECOME A MAJOR COMMERCIAL ACTIVITY. TO DEFEAT THE GOVERNMENT'S CONTROLS ON CHEMICALS, CHEMISTS PRODUCE ACCEPTABLE SUBSTITUTES OR BEGIN PRODUCING THE CHEMICALS LOCALLY IN CLANDESTINE LABS. THE INTERMEDIATE PRODUCT, COCAINE BASE, IS FLOWN IN FROM PERU AND BOLIVIA ACROSS A BORDER WITH VIRTUALLY UNCONTROLLED AIRSPACE.

30. THE ISSUE FOR 1990 WILL BE WHETHER THE GOC CAN SUSTAIN A HARD PRESS FOR A LONG ENOUGH PERIOD TO EFFECT PERMANENT CHANGE. THE OPERATIONS IN LATE AUGUST AND SEPTEMBER FORCED A DECLINE IN COCAINE REFINING AND A RIPPLE EFFECT OF LOWER PRICES FOR COCA LEAF IN PERU AND BOLIVIA AS THE DEMAND FOR COCAINE BASE DECLINED. ONE MEASURE OF SUCCESS WILL BE CONTINUED LOWER PRICES.

B.3. MAXIMUM ACHIEVABLE REDUCTIONS

31. FOR 1990 THE GOC HAS THE POLITICAL WILL AND THE HARDWARE TO CONTINUE AND EXPAND ITS PRESS AGAINST THE

UNCLASSIFIED

TRAFFICKERS AND THEIR OPERATIONS. A GREATLY EXPANDED EFFORT BY THE COLOMBIAN MILITARY SHOULD ALLOW THE GOC TO DOUBLE ITS 1989 ACHIEVEMENTS, ASSUMING THAT ALL PROMISED AID ARRIVES IN TIME TO BE UTILIZED THROUGHOUT MUCH OF THE YEAR. HOWEVER, IF ALL FORCES FOCUS HEAVILY ON CAPTURING PABLO ESCOBAR AND OTHER MAJOR TRAFFICKERS, LABORATORY AND COCAINE SEIZURES MAY NOT REACH THESE EXPECTATIONS. THERE IS ALSO THE POSSIBILITY, ALTHOUGH REMOTE, THAT THE CAPTURE OF THE DRUG HIERARCHY OF COLOMBIA COULD SERIOUSLY ROCK THE

--PROCESSING OF HASHISH IS NOT FACTORED INTO ESTIMATES DUE TO A LACK OF INFORMATION ON IN-COUNTRY PROCESSING. HASHISH PROCESSING IS BELIEVED TO BE VERY LIMITED AND WOULD NOT GREATLY AFFECT PRODUCTION ESTIMATES.

Q Do you have anything on the assassination of Hector Oqueli in Guatemala?

A Yes, we do.

We condemn the killings of Hector Oqueli and Gilda Flores in the strongest possible terms. We are revolted and outraged. Such political killings are an outrageous violation of human rights. They are an attempt to make peaceful political activity impossible and roll back the gains democracy has made in the region in recent years.

Our Embassy in Guatemala City has been in touch with the Government of Guatemala. We have urged in the strongest terms that the Government of Guatemala undertake immediately an urgent, thorough and professional investigation of these murders so that those responsible are brought to justice.

We note that there has been a very troubling increase in the number of unsolved political killings in Guatemala. We cannot overstate our abhorrence of this particular crime as well as the similar crimes of political violence.

I should also note that our Ambassador has raised this with the President of Guatemala, and the President assured him that he would pursue an aggressive investigation.

Q And just to follow on that: The FMLN released a communique, saying as a result of this, they were reconsidering their agreement last week to participate in new talks with Perez de Cuellar. Did you have any guidance on that?

A I haven't seen that.

Q Can you give us the date of the last U.S. contact or meeting with the PLO, please?

A The last time that Pelletreau had a meeting?

Q Well, sometimes you call them contacts. I don't want to exclude that.

A The last time that Pelletreau had a contact?

Q Well, I --

A I know I don't have that at my fingertips.

Q Well, I assume Pelletreau is still the only vehicle, the only channel.

A That's right. It's a single channel.

Q Because Arafat's been in Cairo twice --

HUMAN RIGHTS UPDATE #3
JANUARY 17, 1990

EXTRAJUDICIAL EXECUTIONS

ROBERTO RIVERA DE LEON (46), assistant mayor of Cruz Roja in El Tumbador, San Marcos, was abducted on January 5 by three unidentified men. On Jan. 12 in Tilapa, Coatepeque, Quezaltenango, his body appeared with a bullet wound in the head and signs of having been strangled.

Along with the body of Rivera de Leon were found the bodies of CARLOS LORENZO DE LEON, MARIO RUBEN RAMIREZ VELASQUEZ, FERNANDO AROLDO MALDONADO and MARIO EFRAIN VASQUEZ MAZARIEGOS, all bearing lesions, bruises and signs of strangulation. The four men had been kidnaped Dec. 29 by eight armed men who drove into San Jose El Rodeo, San Marcos, in several vehicles and forced the men out of their homes and into the vehicles.

Unidentified men shot JOSE LUIS HERRERA ORTIZ on Jan. 1 in Zone 7 of Guatemala City. He died in San Juan Hospital.

The body of JUAN JOLOMOCOX BARRERA (39), bearing several bullet wounds, was found Jan. 5 in San Pedro Sacapulas, El Quiche.

VICTORIANO MARTIN (46) was shot several times by unidentified men in Santa Maria Cauque, Sacatepequez, on Jan. 8. He was taken to Roosevelt Hospital in the capital, where he died.

OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS

MARCO TULIO RECINOS FLORES was standing on the sidewalk in front of his house in Jalapa, Jalapa, on Jan. 4, when unidentified men threw an explosive which injured him and damaged a vehicle with license plates #218CLD from the state of Connecticut in the U.S.

While distributing food to poor children in the parish house on Dec. 31, MONSIGNOR JOSE MERCEDES CARRERA, Vicar-General of San Marcos Diocese, was intimidated by armed men who pulled out a gun and threatened to kill him. (Jan. 8)

Representative Otto Ruano denounced before the Congressional Human Rights Commission a violation of the law by the army in recruiting into the military young men who are exempt from service.

OTHER INFORMATION

Motion to reopen case of Sr. Diana Ortiz Congressional Human Rights Commission Vice-President Oliverio Garcia Rodas will ask the government to reopen the case of the kidnaping and torture of Sr. Diana Ortiz because she has now formally denounced the crime in the U.S., according to documents received in Dec. by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. According to Rodas, "That [information] contradicts what was said by Chancellor Ariel Rivera, who stated that the nun could not be located in the United States, and as a result, the Guatemalan government could not continue the investigation." (Jan. 12)

German politician blames government for murders West German Social Democrat Jannis Sakellariou blamed the governments of Guatemala and El Salvador for the murders of Salvadoran opposition leader Hector Oquelí Colindres and Guatemalan lawyer Gilda Flores. [See HRA #1, 1/16/90.] Sakellariou declared that lies about death squads, which have been used for years by both governments to hide their complicity in kidnapings, torture and killings, can no longer be believed. He asked the European Economic Community to suspend aid to these two countries. (Jan. 13)

Measles epidemic reported At least 150 people, mostly children, have died in outbreaks of measles occurring in various parts of the country, according to estimates made by Health Minister Dr. Carlos Gehler Mata. In three Huehuetenango municipalities alone, 80 deaths--over 65% being children under five--were cited. There are believed to be 400 cases of measles throughout the country; 5% have so far ended in death. According to Representative Miguel Montepeque, the use of expired medicines during a vaccination campaign against measles could be the cause of the epidemic. Many of those affected had been vaccinated, according to Representative Otto Ruano. (Jan. 16)

New restrictions for entering Guatemala Interior Secretary General Carlos Morales Villatoro announced that Central Americans, who have been free to enter Guatemala without visas, will now be screened and required to obtain visas in order to enter the country. He said these new restrictions have been implemented due to constant terrorist acts in recent weeks and the government's belief that international terrorist commandos are operating in Guatemala. (Jan. 16)

Cerezo reports on his fourth year in office Vinicio Cerezo on Jan. 14 issued a report to the Congress on his fourth year as president. He said repeatedly that 1989 was a difficult year for Guatemala--politically, economically and socially. He called it a year of destabilization, citing the May 9 coup attempt. But he placed responsibility for the country's problems on other sectors; and he failed to mention key issues such as drug trafficking, corruption and inefficiency in public administration. He praised the role played by the army, saying that it has converted itself into the backbone of Guatemala's democratic system.

Fuel crisis Guatemala is suffering a severe fuel shortage that is threatening to paralyze vehicular traffic. The problem will be particularly serious if the capital runs out of basic fuel supplies, because it is also short on propane gas and no short-term solution is in sight. (Jan. 17)

This information was compiled by the Comision de Derechos Humanos de Guatemala (CDHG) in Mexico, from La Hora, Excelsior, El Grafico and Prensa Libre. Dates in parentheses indicate when CDHG obtained the information.

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT

SUMMARY

2. IN MANY WAYS THE SOVIET LATIN AMERICA POLICY-MAKING APPARATUS REMAINS A BASTION OF OLD THINKKING. HOWEVER, SOVIET VIEWS ARE PROBABLY ALSO INFLUENCED BY THE SPECIAL RELATIONSHIP WITH CUBA AND WHAT THEY SEE AS AN INFLEXIBLE, AT TIMES AGGRESSIVE U.S. POLICY IN THE REGION. IF PERESTROYKA AND GLASNOST' CONTINUE, WE CAN EXPECT THE SOVIET MEDIA, AND NEWLY EMERGING POLITICAL INSTITUTIONS, TO TAKE A MORE CRITICAL VIEW OF NICARAGUA AND CUBA, WITH INCREASING DEMANDS FOR MORE PRAGMATIC ECONOMIC RELATIONS WITH SOVIET CLIENTS. THE SOVIETS ALSO HOPE TO DEVELOP CLOSER TRADE AND POLITICAL TIES WITH THE MORE IMPORTANT COUNTRIES IN LATIN AMERICA. THESE FACTORS WILL UNDOUBTEDLY AFFECT SOVIET POLICY IN THE YEARS AHEAD, BUT FOR THE MOMENT, IT APPEARS UNLIKELY THAT THE SOVIETS WILL MAKE EXTRAORDINARY EFFORTS TO PRESSURE THEIR ALLIES OVER U.S. CONCERNS ABOUT THEIR BEHAVIOR.

3. WE WOULD OFFER THE FOLLOWING PROGNOSIS FOR THE SOVIET APPROACH TO LATIN AMERICA:

--THE SOVIETS DO NOT WANT LATIN AMERICAN PROBLEMS TO BECOME AN OBSTACLE TO THE RESOLUTION OF MORE IMPORTANT ISSUES IN THE BILATERAL RELATIONSHIP.

--THE SOVIETS SUPPORT THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PEACE PROCESS AND WILL PRESS NICARAGUA TO CARRY ON WITH FREE ELECTIONS.

--U.S. POLICY IN THE REGION MAY BE PUTTING FOR NICARAGUA AND CUBA. THE SOVIET MEDIA HAS BEEN INCREASINGLY CRITICAL OF NICARAGUAN FOOT DRAGGING ON THE PEACE PROCESS. A RECENT "NEW TIMES" COMMENTARY PARTICULARLY ACCUSES THE...

GORBACHEV UNDER PRESSURE FROM THE SOVIET "RIGHT" TO MAINTAIN A TOUGH STANCH ON CENTRAL AMERICA.

--THE SOVIETS SEE THEIR LEVERAGE ON THE SANDINISTAS, AND THE CUBANS, AS LIMITED, OR AT LEAST WOULD LIKE TO MAKE IT APPEAR THAT WAY.

--FOR A VARIETY OF HISTORICAL, STRATEGIC, AND POLITICAL REASONS, THE SOVIETS ARE LIKELY TO STAND BY CASTRO FOR THE FORESEEABLE FUTURE. HOWEVER, THE RELATIONSHIP WILL BE MORE TENSE AS ECONOMIC COMMITMENTS ARE REDUCED AND THE SOVIETS PRESSURE CASTRO TO MODIFY HIS BEHAVIOR SO THAT IT DOES NOT COMPLICATE SOVIET RELATIONS WITH THE U.S.

END SUMMARY.

4. NEW THINKING IN SOVIET FOREIGN POLICY SEEMS TO HAVE RUN UP AGAINST ITS MOST SERIOUS OBSTACLE IN THE LATIN AMERICA AREA. THE ANTI-AMERICAN RHETORIC AND CONTINUED SOVIET SUPPORT FOR HARDLINE REGIMES IN MANAGUA AND HAVANA OFTEN SEEM OUT OF PLACE IN LIGHT OF SOVIET WORDS AND DEEDS REGARDING OTHER PARTS OF THE WORLD. FOR EXAMPLE, IN THE JANUARY 1 EDITION OF THE SOVIET NEWS PROGRAM VREMYA, AMONG MORE POSITIVE STORIES ON THE HOPES FOR INCREASED SOVIET-AMERICAN COOPERATION AND ARMS REDUCTIONS, THE CUBAN CHARGE D'AFFAIRES IN MOSCOW HAS PERMITTED TO DELIVER THE CUBAN NATIONAL DAY MESSAGE WHICH WAS LITTLE MORE THAN AN OLD-STYLE DIATRIBE AGAINST U.S. "IMPERIALISM."

5. SUCH ATTITUDES ARE REFLECTED IN DAY-TO-DAY DEALINGS WITH THE SOVIET MFA LATIN AMERICA ADMINISTRATION, WHICH, ALONG WITH THE LATIN AMERICA INSTITUTE, IS CONSIDERED BY DIPLOMATS HERE TO BE A BASTION OF OLD THINKING. WITH THE EXCEPTION OF YURIY PAVLOV, WHO OCCASIONALLY SPEAKS MORE OPENLY, OFFICIALS IN THE LATIN AMERICA ADMINISTRATION ARE USUALLY RELUCTANT TO DEPART FROM THE OFFICIAL LINE ON CENTRAL AMERICA AND CUBA. PAVLOV WILL HEAD THE SOVIET SIDE AT THE JANUARY 22-23 U.S.-SOVIET EXPERTS MEETING IN LONDON.

SOVIET VIEWS OF U.S. POLICY

6. WHILE SOVIET LATIN AMERICA POLICY OFTEN SEEMS INCONSISTENT WITH SOVIET "NEW THINKING" ON OTHER REGIONS, THE SOVIETS MAINTAIN THAT IT IS U.S. POLICY WHICH IS OUT OF SYNC. MFA OFFICIALS AND OTHER CONTACTS ARGUE THAT U.S. POLICY IN LATIN AMERICA IS ESPECIALLY AGRESSIVE AND INFLEXIBLE, CITING THE U.S. REFUSAL TO DEAL DIRECTLY WITH CUBA, THE TV MARTI PROJECT WHICH "VIOLATES CUBAN SOVEREIGNTY," U.S. SUPPORT FOR EL SALVADOR AND OF COURSE U.S. ACTIONS IN PANAMA. TAKING A TRADITIONAL COLD WAR BALANCE-OF-POWER APPROACH, THEY ARGUE THAT U.S. ACTIONS IN THE REGION REQUIRE RESPONSES FROM THE SOVIET UNION AND ESPECIALLY CUBA, WHICH IS SEEN AS THE ONLY CHECK ON EXCESSIVE U.S. INFLUENCE IN THE AREA. AT THE SAME TIME, SOVIET OFFICIALS CONSISTENTLY EMPHASIZE THEIR SUPPORT FOR FREE ELECTIONS IN NICARAGUA, AND EXPRESS COMPLETE CONFIDENCE THAT THE SANDINISTAS WILL CARRY OUT THE ELECTIONS IN A FREE AND FAIR MANNER. WHILE EXPRESSING A WILLINGNESS TO USE THEIR LEVERAGE ON NICARAGUA IN REGARD TO THE ELECTIONS, THE SOVIETS CONSISTENTLY MAINTAIN THAT WE ARE OVERESTIMATING THEIR INFLUENCE ON NICARAGUA AND CUBA.

PANAMA - A BOON FOR THE SOVIET "RIGHT"?

7. THE JANUARY 1 ISSUE OF THE SOVIET NEWS MAGAZINE "NEW TIMES" CALLS THE U.S. ACTION IN PANAMA "A GIFT FOR THE CONSERVATIVE ELEMENTS IN THE U.S.S.R. WHO OPPOSE CUTBACKS IN OUR ARMED FORCES." CONTACTS AT THE SUPREME SOVIET NOTED THAT UPON THE U.S. INTERVENTION IN PANAMA AN INSTANT REFRAIN WAS BEARD FROM CONSERVATIVES AND THE MILITARY. SERGEY CHELNOKOV OF THE SUPREME SOVIET'S INTERNATIONAL DEPARTMENT SAID THAT HE AND ANOTHER PERSON WERE TASKED TO DEVELOP ARGUMENTS TO DEFLECT THIS LINE BUT COULD NOT. THE IMPRESSION WAS CLEARLY THAT CONSERVATIVES WOULD USE THE U.S. ACTION TO DIG IN THEIR HEELS AND AS A FOIL TO GORBACHEV'S FOREIGN POLICY. THIS SUGGESTS THE POSSIBILITY THAT GORBACHEV COULD BE FORCED TO MAINTAIN A TOUGH STANCE ON CENTRAL AMERICA IN ORDER TO PACIFY THE SOVIET "RIGHT WING."

8. THE SOVIETS SEEM ANXIOUS TO NOT ALLOW DIFFERENCES ON LATIN AMERICA TO AFFECT MORE IMPORTANT ASPECTS OF THE SOVIET-AMERICAN RELATIONSHIP. WHILE STRONGLY CRITICAL OF THE PANAMA ACTION ITSELF, THE SOVIET MEDIA HAS BEEN MORE CAUTIOUS IN ASSESSING ITS IMPACT ON U.S.-SOVIET RELATIONS. AFTER CRITICIZING THE U.S. ACTION IN PANAMA, "NEW TIMES" (JANUARY 1) CONCLUDES THAT THE MOVE DOES NOT HERALD A "FUNDAMENTAL REVISION" IN U.S. POLICY. A PRAVDA COMMENTATOR (DECEMBER 26) SIMILARLY MAINTAINS THAT THE RECENT TREND OF WORLD EVENTS HAS GONE TOO FAR TO ALLOW A RETURN TO THE COLD WAR, AND SEES THE U.S. ACTION IN PANAMA AS AN ABERRATION.

9. MFA CONTACTS, WHILE CERTAINLY TAKING ADVANTAGE OF THE PANAMA ACTION TO SCORE RHETORICAL POINTS, HAVE GIVEN NO INDICATION THAT IT WOULD AFFECT ANY POSSIBLE U.S.-SOVIET COOPERATION ON THE REGION. LATIN AMERICAN DIPLOMATS HERE CONSIDER THE SOVIET'S RESPONSE ON PANAMA RELATIVELY MILD AND UNSUBSTANTIVE. A BRAZILIAN DIPLOMAT TOLD POLOFF THE SOVIETS HAD NOT EVEN DISCUSSED THE ISSUE WITH HIS GOVERNMENT.

SIGNS OF CHANGE

10. DESPITE THE PERSISTENCE OF SOVIET OLD THINKING ON LATIN AMERICA, THERE IS EVIDENCE THAT GLASNOST' AND PERESTROYKA ARE HAVING SOME EFFECTS. VIRTUALLY ALL SOVIET OBSERVERS AGREE THAT ECONOMIC RESTRUCTURING IN THE SOVIET UNION AND INCREASING CONCERN OVER THE AMOUNT OF MONEY SPENT ON FOREIGN ASSISTANCE ARE CERTAIN TO DECREASE THE LEVEL OF SOVIET MATERIAL SUPPORT FOR NICARAGUA AND CUBA. THE SOVIET MEDIA HAS BEEN INCREASINGLY CRITICAL OF NICARAGUAN FOOT DRAGGING ON THE PEACE PROCESS. A RECENT "NEW TIMES" COMMENTARY VIRTUALLY ACCUSES THE

MOSCOW 02395 00 OF 03 2812262 022962 08298

SANDINISTA GOVERNMENT OF LYING IN ITS ASSERTIONS THAT IT IS NOT SUPPLYING ARMS TO THE FMLN. CASTRO STILL SEEMS EXEMPT FROM CRITICISM, BUT THIS COULD CHANGE AS THE CUBAN REGIME BECOMES AN INCREASINGLY MORE ISOLATED EXAMPLE OF AN OLD THINKING COMMUNISM. THE OUTCRY HERE OVER THE "HYPOCRISY" OF THE SUDDEN TURNAROUND IN THE OFFICIAL SOVIET LINE ON ROMANIA MAY INSPIRE A MORE CRITICAL APPROACH ON CUBA.

11. WHILE MOST ATTENTION IS FOCUSSED ON CENTRAL AMERICA, PANAMA, AND CUBA, THERE IS LITTLE DOUBT THAT THE SOVIETS HOPE TO DEVELOP CLOSER TIES WITH THE MORE IMPORTANT ECONOMIC POWERS IN THE REGION, SUCH AS MEXICO, BRAZIL, AND ARGENTINA. LATIN AMERICAN DIPLOMATS NOTE THAT THE SOVIETS ARE NOW MUCH MORE CAREFUL IN THEIR DIPLOMATIC RHETORIC REGARDING THE REGION, ATTEMPTING TO AVOID OFFENDING THE SENSITIVITIES OF THE LARGER COUNTRIES. VISITS OF OFFICIAL DELEGATIONS, CULTURAL EXCHANGES, AND STUDENT SCHOLARSHIPS HAVE SIGNIFICANTLY INCREASED, BUT STRUCTURAL PROBLEMS IN BOTH THE SOVIET AND LATIN AMERICAN ECONOMIES ARE SEEN AS LIMITING THE POTENTIAL FOR SIGNIFICANTLY INCREASED TRADE. BRAZILIAN-SOVIET TRADE, FOR EXAMPLE, HAS BEEN SEVERELY HAMPERED NOT ONLY BY SOVIET INEFFICIENCY BUT ALSO BY BRAZIL'S OWN CHAOTIC ECONOMY.

12. DESPITE THIS DESIRE TO FORGE CLOSER TIES TO THE MORE MODERATE COUNTRIES IN THE REGION, THERE ARE AS YET NO INDICATIONS THAT THE SOVIETS INTEND TO ABANDON CASTRO. CUBA'S STRATEGIC IMPORTANCE, ITS LONGSTANDING SPECIAL RELATIONSHIP WITH THE SOVIETS, AND CASTRO'S STATUS AND REVOLUTIONARY MYSTIQUE ARE CITED BY OUR CONTACTS AS FACTORS WHICH WILL MAKE IT DIFFICULT FOR THE SOVIETS TO CHANGE THE POLITICAL RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES. IN ADDITION, AS ONE SOVIET ACADEMIC POINTED OUT, AT PRESENT THERE APPEARS TO BE NO ALTERNATIVE TO CASTRO ON THE CUBAN POLITICAL SCENE. "IF THERE WERE A CUBAN VERSION OF GORBACHEV," HE NOTES, "THINGS MIGHT BE DIFFERENT." WHILE THE SOVIETS WILL NOT ABANDON CASTRO, THEY WILL BE REDUCING THEIR ECONOMIC COMMITMENT TO HIM AND PRESSURING HIM TO MODIFY HIS BEHAVIOR SO THAT IT DOES NOT COMPLICATE SOVIET RELATIONS WITH THIRD PARTIES (I.E., THE U.S.). THE RELATIONSHIP WILL THEREFORE CONTINUE TO BECOME MORE TENSE.

SUBJECT: 1990 INTERNATIONAL NARCOTICS CONTROL STRATEGY
- REPORT (INCSR) - PERU

REF: STATE (89) 384942

SUMMARY: NINETEEN EIGHTY-NINE WAS A YEAR OF SIGNIFICANT PROGRESS IN JOINT U.S.-PERUVIAN ANTI-NARCOTICS COOPERATION. NOTWITHSTANDING A STAND-DOWN IN ERADICATION EFFORTS, A MAJOR NEW BASE FOR INTERDICTION OPERATIONS WAS COMPLETED, AND HIGHLY EFFECTIVE OPERATIONS AGAINST CLANDESTINE LABORATORIES AND AIR STRIPS CARRIED OUT. COOPERATION WITH THE GOVERNMENT OF PERU BECAME EVER MORE CLOSE AS AN INPORTANT JOINT TRAINING PROGRAM COMPLETED ITS FIRST PHASE.
NONETHELESS, NARCOTICS CONTROL HAD TO COMPETE IN 1989 WITH A DETERIORATING ECONOMY AND MOUNTING TERRORISM. ASSASSINATIONS AND KIDNAPPINGS OF OFFICIALS, BOMBING OF GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS AND ELECTRIC POWER PYLONS, AMBUSHES OF POLICE AND ARMY CONVOYS, SHORTAGES OF SPARE PARTS, GRAINS, EVEN OF POTABLE WATER IN SOME AREAS AND A DRAMATIC COLLAPSE IN THE GNP DOMINATED THE COUNTRY'S HEADLINES. THE PERUVIAN GOVERNMENT CONTINUED ITS STRONG COMMITMENT TO COOPERATION WITH THE UNITED STATES ON DRUG ISSUES. ALTHOUGH THE ENCOURAGING PROGRESS UNDERWAY IN 1988 CONTINUED FOR THE FIRST MONTH OF THE NEW YEAR, A SHARP DETERIORATION IN SECURITY IN THE KEY UPPER HUALLAGA VALLEY (UHV) POSED A DIRECT THREAT TO U.S. AND PERUVIAN PERSONNEL NGAGED IN ERADICATION AND INTERDICTION OPERATIONS, LEADING TO THEIR SUSPENSION IN MID-FEBRUARY.

SECURITY CONSIDERATIONS IN THE UHV WERE AN OVERRIDING

CONCERN FOR BOTH THE U.S. AND PERUVIAN GOVERNMENTS. DURING 1988 HELICOPTER-SUPPORTED RAIDS ON DRUG LABORATORIES AND FORCED MANUAL ERADICATION OF COCA BUSHES DID SIZEABLE DAMAGE TO THE UHV'S MASSIVE DRUG INDUSTRY. TRAFFICKING GROUPS, PREDOMINANTLY COLOMBIAN, BEGAN COLLABORATING WITH THE INDIGENOUS SENDERO LUMINOSO INSURGENCY, THREATENING TO TARGET AND ATTACK JOINT PERUVIAN-AMERICAN OPERATIONS IN THE VALLEY. ON FEBRUARY 10, THE U.S. AMBASSADOR SUSPENDED USG PARTICIPATION UNTIL SECURITY MEASURES DEEMED URGENT BY AN INSPECTION/SURVEY

TEAM COULD BE PUT IN PLACE. THE SUSPENSION LASTED NEARLY SEVEN MONTHS.

IN THIS PERIOD, A SECURE BASE WAS BUILT FOR THE PERUVIAN NATIONAL POLICE (PNP) AT SANTA LUCIA, NEAR UCHIZA IN SAN MARTIN PROVINCE; CONSTRUCTION WAS COMPLETED ON A 1500 METER ALL-WEATHER RUNWAY, CAPABLE OF HANDLING C-130 AIRCRAFT, THAT REACHED FULL OPERATION BY MID-SEPTEMBER. TRAINING COURSES WERE CONDUCTED FOR HELICOPTER PILOTS, MECHANICS, SECURITY GUARDS AND ARMED POLICE UNITS ENGAGED IN AIR-MOBILE OPERATIONS. TESTS WERE CONDUCTED ON AN ENVIRONMENTALLY SAFE AND EFFECTIVE HERBICIDE TO ERADICATE COCA AERIALLY. IN JANUARY, MANUAL ERADICATION OF 1285 HECTARES OF COCA WAS CONDUCTED BY THE U.S.-SUPPORTED CORAH ERADICATION FORCE (WHICH TURNED INTO A HIGHLY-EFFICIENT CONSTRUCTION BRIGADE DURING THE STAND-DOWN, BUILDING MUCH OF THE SANTA LUCIA BASE AND AIRFIELD WITH HEAVY EQUIPMENT ON LOAN FROM USAID).

(OFECOD), IN THE DIRECTORATE FOR DRUG ENFORCEMENT (DIPOD), IN THE UPPER HUALLAGA COCA REDUCTION AGENCY (CORAH) AND IN THE NEWLY-CONSOLIDATED PERUVIAN NATIONAL POLICE (PNP). IN THE U.S. GOVERNMENT, THE BUSH ADMINISTRATION APPOINTED A NEW ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INTERNATIONAL NARCOTICS MATTERS AND NEW DEPUTIES TOOK OVER TOP LEVELS OF THE KEY ANTI-DRUG BUREAU (INM) FOR OVERSEAS OPERATIONS. IN LIMA, A NEW AMBASSADOR ARRIVED, FOLLOWING THE ROUTINE TRANSFER OF MANY OF THE EMBASSY'S COUNSELOR-LEVEL OFFICIALS.

A.1 STATUS OF ILLICIT NARCOTICS PRODUCTION AND TRAFFICKING

A. PRODUCTION: PERU REMAINS THE LEADING PRODUCER OF COCA WITH AN ESTIMATED 132,457 HECTARES OF BOTH LICIT AND ILLICIT COCA UNDER CULTIVATION. THE BEST ESTIMATES

COMPILED FROM RELIABLE LOCAL SOURCES REVEAL THAT APPROXIMATELY 65 PERCENT OF THE TOTAL AMOUNT IS GROWN IN THE UPPER HUALLAGA VALLEY. OF THAT, AN ESTIMATED ONE HUNDRED PERCENT IS DESTINED FOR CLANDESTINE PROCESSING FOR ONWARD MOVEMENT INTO INTERNATIONAL CONDUITS AFTER PROCESSING IN COLOMBIA OR OTHER COUNTRIES NORTH AND WEST OF PERU. OFECOD ESTIMATES THAT THERE ARE APPROXIMATELY 17,913 HECTARES DULY LICENSED FOR LICIT PRODUCTION IN SIX (6) OF THE TWENTY-FIVE (25) DEPARTMENTS (INCLUDING LIMA AND CALLAO). THE LICIT GROWING AREAS CONSIST OF PUNO, CUZCO, AND AYACUCHO IN THE SOUTH; JUNIN AND HUANUCO IN THE CENTRAL AREA; AND LA LIBERTAD IN THE NORTH. ALL OF THE COCA NORTH OF TINGO MARIA IS LOCATED IN THE DEPARTMENTS OF SAN MARTIN AND UCAYALI; NEITHER HAS ANY LICENSED AREAS.

B. ESTIMATES OF YIELDS: FOR COMPUTATION PURPOSES THE ESTIMATES ARE BASED ON FOUR SEPARATE LEAF HARVESTS PER YEAR WITH THE AMOUNT OF LEAF DECLINING DURING THE DRY SEASON. FROM A PURELY MATHEMATICAL PERSPECTIVE, PERU COULD HAVE 116,000 HECTARES AVAILABLE FOR CLANDESTINE PROCESSING INTO PASTE, BASE AND ULTIMATELY INTO HCL. THESE FIGURES ASSUME THAT ALL OF THE 17,913 LICENSED HECTARES ARE CHANNELED INTO LICIT PROCESSING I.E., CHEWING, MEDICINAL, FLAVORING, AND NONE IS DIVERTED INTO CLANDESTINE ENDS. CONSIDERING THAT ENACO, THE LICIT PERUVIAN COCA ENTERPRISE, PAYS THE INTIS EQUIVALENT OF FOURTEEN CENTS (USD .14) PER POUND FOR DRY LEAF AS OPPOSED TO THE FAIRLY STABLE CLANDESTINE PRICE OF USD 1.00 EQUIVALENT PER POUND OF DRY LEAF IN THE UHV (RATIO IS 7:1), THERE IS LITTLE LIKELIHOOD OF LARGE SCALE LICIT COCA CULTIVATION. FOR REPORTING PURPOSES, THE BEST ESTIMATES AVAILABLE INDICATE THAT ONE HECTARE OF COCA GENERALLY YIELDS 1.14 METRIC TONS OF DRY LEAF PER YEAR BASED ON FOUR HARVESTS. THE TOTAL LEAF PRODUCTION IN PERU WOULD

C. IMPEDIMENTS: ESCALATING ATTACKS BY SUBVERSIVES AND NARCOTICS TRAFFICKERS, A SERIOUS ECONOMIC CRISIS AND APPROACHING PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS DOMINATED 1989 IMPEDING THE ATTAINMENT OF GOALS AND OBJECTIVES FOR DRUG CONTROL FORECAST EARLIER IN THE YEAR. ON FEBRUARY 10, OUR AMBASSADOR TEMPORARILY SUSPENDED FIELD OPERATIONS IN THE UPPER HUALLAGA VALLEY UNTIL SECURITY MEASURES DEEMED URGENT BY THE EMBASSY AND MANDATED BY A USG INSPECTION/SURVEY TEAM HAD BEEN INITIATED OR IMPLEMENTED. IN ADDITION TO SECURITY MEASURES, TRAINING REQUIREMENTS DESIGNED TO UPGRADE THE PROFICIENCY LEVELS OF PNP/UMOPAR FIELD COMMANDERS, TROOPERS, AVIATION PILOTS, AND MECHANICS WERE REQUIRED. MAJOR POLITICAL CHANGES AT POLICY LEVELS OF THE GOP ALSO TOOK PLACE, WITH TURNOVERS AT HIGH LEVELS OF OFECOD, DIPOD, CORAH, AND UMOPAR. ALL KEY SECTIONS OF THE PERUVIAN NATIONAL POLICE AND THE MINISTRY OF INTERIOR ALSO CHANGED LEADERSHIP DURING CY 1989. THE NARCOTICS CONTROL PROGRAM SUSPENSION LASTED FROM EARLY FEBRUARY UNTIL EARLY SEPTEMBER. THE EMBASSY AND INM ALSO UNDERWENT MAJOR CHANGES DURING THE MID-YEAR WITH THE DEPARTURES OF AMBASSADOR WATSON, ARRIVAL OF AMBASSADOR QUAINTON AND REPLACEMENT OF THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INTERNATIONAL NARCOTICS MATTERS. PERU'S GEOGRAPHY SEVERELY COMPLICATED OPERATIONS INVOLVING AIRCRAFT THIS YEAR; AN ACCIDENT CAUSED THE LOSS OF NINE LIVES AND ONE AIRPLANE IN MAY 1989. UNPREDICTABLE WEATHER IN THE UHV

A.2 ACCOMPLISHMENTS

A. GENERAL OVERVIEW. DURING 1989, COUNTER-NARCOTIC INTERDICTION EFFORTS IN PERU FOLLOWED MUCH THE SAME TARGETTING STRATEGY AS IN 1988; TO LOCATE AND DESTROY OR DISRUPT THE MOST PROFITABLE ASPECTS OF NARCOTICS TRAFFICKING IN PERU, FOCUSING ON COCAINE BASE/HCL PROCESSING FACILITIES AND THE TRANSHIPMENT SECTOR.

OPERATIONS IN 1989 WERE HINDERED BY MORE THAN SEVEN MONTHS OF SELF-IMPOSED INACTIVITY, DUE TO THE ESCALATION OF VIOLENCE IN PERU'S UPPER HUALLAGA VALLEY. THE RESPONSE WAS A MAJOR U.S. GOVERNMENT UNDERTAKING TO CONSTRUCT A SECURE BASE FROM WHICH TO STAGE A NEW ROUND OF INTERDICTION AND ERADICATION OPERATIONS AS WELL AS FUTURE DEVELOPMENT ASSISTANCE ACTIVITIES. THE AMBASSADOR ORDERED A "STAND-DOWN" OF INTERDICTION AND ERADICATION ON FEBRUARY 10, 1989. INTERDICTION ACTIVITIES RESUMED ON SEPTEMBER 8, 1989.

SEIZURES RESULTING FROM INTERDICTION OPERATIONS IN 1989 WERE SUBSTANTIALLY REDUCED AS COMPARED WITH THE PREVIOUS YEAR. DESPITE SEVEN MONTHS OF SUSPENDED INTERDICTION, MANY OFFICIAL VISITS TO THE UHV, AND LOGISTICS PROBLEMS CAUSED BY SECURITY, WEATHER, AND EQUIPMENT MALFUNCTION, 66 TARGETS WERE STRUCK IN 1989 OVER A PERIOD OF 20 WEEKS COMPARED TO 88 OVER A 36 WEEK PERIOD THE PREVIOUS YEAR. THE EMBASSY IS OPTIMISTIC THAT SECURITY ENHANCEMENTS ACHIEVED DURING THE STAND-DOWN PLUS NEW RESOURCES DICTATED BY THE ANDEAN STRATEGY WILL TRANSLATE NOT ONLY INTO GREATER EFFICIENCY IN CY 1990, BUT GREATER OVERALL EFFECTIVENESS WITH THE ATTAINABLE GOAL OF MOUNTING DAILY

THIS YEAR HAS ALSO SEEN A SIGNIFICANT DOWNWARD TREND IN PRICES FOR COCA PASTE AND COCAINE BASE SOLD IN PERU, WHICH ROUGHLY COINCIDES WITH THE COLOMBIAN GOVERNMENT'S CRACKDOWN ON TRAFFICKERS IN MID-AUGUST 1989. PRICES FOR COCA DERIVATIVES DURING 1988 AND UNTIL AUGUST 1989 WERE FAIRLY STABLE, AVERAGING APPROXIMATELY USD 350.00/KG. FOR COCA PASTE AND USD 1,050.00/KG. FOR COCAINE BASE. POST-AUGUST 1989 PRICES HAVE BEEN SIGNIFICANTLY LOWER ON AVERAGE, AT USD 180.00 AND USD 850.00 RESPECTIVELY. THERE ARE ALSO SEVERAL INDICATIONS THAT BOTH COCA FARMERS AND TRAFFICKERS ARE FEELING THE EFFECTS OF SOFTENED PRICES AND THAT PERUVIAN TRAFFICKING ORGANIZATIONS (WHICH TYPICALLY SELL COCA BASE TO THE COLOMBIAN CARTELS FOR COCAINE HCL PROCESSING AND DISTRIBUTION) ARE ATTEMPTING TO CUT SUCH COSTS AS BRIBES AND AIRSTRIP USE FEES, AND ARE MOVING TO REMOTE AND NON-CONTROLLED AREAS. THERE ARE ALSO SOME INDICATIONS THAT COCA LEAF AND PASTE PRODUCERS ARE ATTEMPTING TO ORGANIZE THENSELVES AND DRIVE UP THE PRICE OF THESE COMMODITIES.

IN WHAT APPEARS TO BE A DIRECT REACTION TO THE DESTRUCTION OF MORE THAN 75 COCAINE BASE LABORATORIES AND 13 AIRSTRIPS IN 1988, THE TRAFFICKERS IN THE UHV SHIFTED HEAVILY TO NIGHTTIME OPERATION OF LABORATORIES (PRESUMABLY KNOWING THE AUTHORITIES AS YET HAVE NO NIGHTTIME RESPONSE CAPABILITY) AND ARE REMOVING EXPENSIVE AND/OR HARD TO REPLACE ITEMS FROM THE LABORATORIES WHEN NOT IN USE. RESULT, SEIZURES OF DRUGS, ESSENTIAL CHEMICALS AND EQUIPMENT ARE DOWN SIGNIFICANTLY FROM 1988, EVEN AFTER ADJUSTING FOR THE AMOUNT OF OPERATIONAL TIME PER YEAR. THERE HAS BEEN A SHIFT AS WELL FROM LARGE LABORATORY COMPLEXES LOCATED AWAY FROM POPULATION CENTERS AND READILY IDENTIFIABLE FROM THE AIR AS CLANDESTINE LABORATORIES TO SMALLER LABORATORIES NEAR POPULATION CENTERS CAMOUFLAGED AS TYPICAL PEASANT DWELLINGS. THIS SHIFT TO SMALLER LABORATORIES LOCATED INSIDE HOUSES DOES NOT LEND ITSELF TO IDENTIFICATION BY AERIAL RECONNAISSANCE AND REQUIRES BETTER HUMAN SOURCE INTELLIGENCE FOR DETECTION.

THE POLITICAL MILITARY COMMAND FOR THE UHV WAS ESTABLISHED IN LATE APRIL 1989. THE ZONE COMMANDER SOON PUT RESTRICTIONS ON COUNTER-NARCOTICS INTERDICTION IN SOME AREAS BY REQUIRING ADVANCE NOTICE OF PNP/DEA OPERATIONS. HE PUT THE CITY OF UCHIZA COMPLETELY OFF-LIMITS AND A CONSOLIDATION OF TRAFFICKING IN AND AROUND UCHIZA QUICKLY DEVELOPED. HOWEVER, SINCE AUGUST, INDICATIONS ARE THAT TRAFFICKERS ARE RELOCATING AWAY FROM UCHIZA AND OTHER CONTROLLED AREAS IN AN ATTEMPT TO CUT COSTS AT A TIME OF SOFTENING PRICES AND REDUCED PROFITABILITY.

LOGISTICS HAD A SIGNIFICANT IMPACT ON INTERDICTION OPERATIONS DURING 1989. ON THE POSITIVE SIDE, THE MOVE TO THE PERUVIAN NATIONAL POLICE BASE AT SANTA LUCIA IMPROVED INTERDICTION RESULTS BY LOCATING ANTI-NARCOTICS OPERATIONS IN THE CENTER OF THE UHV AND SHARPLY REDUCED TRAVEL TIME. OPENING THE AIRFIELD AT SANTA LUCIA, MORE THAN ANY OTHER FACTOR, ALLOWED HELICOPTERS TO BE USED FOR OPERATIONAL RATHER THAN LOGISTICAL SUPPORT MISSIONS. NEVERTHELESS, PROBLEMS WITH FIXED-WING AIR SUPPORT TO SANTA LUCIA REDUCED THE BENEFITS OF THE NEW AIRFIELD BY DELAYING DELIVERY OF SUPPLIES, EQUIPMENT AND FUEL. HELICOPTER

CORAH ACCOUNTED FOR 1,285 HECTARES OF COCA DESTROYED DURING THE FIRST FORTY DAYS OF CY 1989. HAD THE PACE BEEN SUSTAINED, THE PLANNED 12,000 TO 15,000 HECTARES COULD HAVE BEEN ERADICATED. SECURITY CONSIDERATIONS AND THE NEED TO BUILD THE SANTA LUCIA BASE REQUIRED THE SEVEN-MONTH STAND-DOWN. ERADICATION EFFORTS HAVE NOT BEEN RESUMED SINCE ALL AVAILABLE RESOURCES ARE NOW FOCUSED ON INTERDICTION.

OFFICERS OF THE STATE DEPARTMENT'S BUREAU OF DIPLOMATIC SECURITY, DEA SNOWCAP PERSONNEL ON TEMPORARY DUTY AND EMBASSY FIELD ADVISORS PROVIDED ADDITIONAL ON-SITE TRAINING IN THE UHV, CONCENTRATING ON MEDICAL SERVICES, TELECOMMUNICATIONS, WEAPONS USE, AIRFIELD CRATERING, PERIMETER DEFENSE, AND ESTABLISHMENT OF FIXED EMPLACEMENTS. IN ADDITION, THE EMBASSY PROVIDED BOTH MILITARY AND CIVILIAN EXPERTS FOR SECURITY ENHANCEMENT AND RUNWAY CONSTRUCTION AT THE SANTA LUCIA PNP BASE.

D. SANTA LUCIA BASE: PROVIDING SECURITY, SETTING UP TEMPORARY BUILDINGS AND DEVELOPING A 1500 METER RUNWAY WERE ALL MAJOR ACHIEVEMENTS OF A COLLECTIVE EFFORT BY PERUVIAN AND U.S. ENTITIES THIS YEAR. ACTIVE PARTICIPATION BY THE ENTIRE EMBASSY NARCOTICS ACTION COMMITTEE WAS TESTIMONY TO A COORDINATED EFFORT AMONG MANY USG AGENCIES. SANTA LUCIA IS REGARDED AS THE BEST PNP BASE IN PERU. DIVERTING THE HUALLAGA RIVER WITH EARTHWORKS TO PROVIDE A GRAVEL SITE FOR RUNWAY CONSTRUCTION. OTHER MAJOR GOALS ACHIEVED WERE: ESTABLISHING A PERMANENT AIR BRIDGE BETWEEN LIMA AND THE UHV (PLUS MAZAMARI) TO AIRLIFT PERSONNEL AND ESSENTIAL RESOURCES; RESOLVING MEDICAL, HEALTH, WATER PROBLEMS; CONSTRUCTING LIVING QUARTERS AT TINGO MARIA AND SANTA LUCIA; DEVELOPING THE TELECOMMUNICATIONS LINK; LAYING OUT BUNKERS AND TOWERS FOR PERIMETER DEFENSE; ERECTING REVETMENTS FOR HELO PADS AND FUEL STORAGE SITES; PROVIDING HANGAR FACILITIES FOR MAINTENANCE OF FIXED- AND ROTARY-WING AIRCRAFT; FUEL STORAGE FACILITIES FOR AVIATION AND HEAVY EQUIPMENT USE; AN INDEPENDENT ELECTRICAL POWER SOURCE FOR CRITICAL EQUIPMENT; AND BUNKERS FOR AMMO/DEMOLITIONS STORAGE.

IN EARLY SEPTEMBER, A U.S. COAST GUARD C-130 LANDED AT THE SANTA LUCIA RUNWAY APPROXIMATELY TEN WEEKS AFTER RUNWAY CONSTRUCTION COMMENCED. AT THE PRESENT TIME, MOST OF THE MAJOR CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS ARE IMPEDED TO SOME DEGREE BECAUSE OF HEAVY SEASONAL RAINS IN THE UHV. LIMA'S AIR BRIDGE IS ALSO DEPENDENT ON WEATHER CONDITIONS AND LIMITED VISIBILITY.

E. THE AID-SUPPORTED UPPER HUALLAGA AREA DEVELOPMENT PROJECT (PEAH): THE AID-SUPPORTED UPPER HUALLAGA AREA DEVELOPMENT PROJECT CONTINUED TO COMPLEMENT DRUG LAW ENFORCEMENT AND COCA ERADICATION EFFORTS BUT AT A SIGNIFICANTLY REDUCED LEVEL OF ACTIVITY. THE SLOWDOWN IS DUE TO CONTINUED DETERIORATION IN AREA SECURITY, TO CORRESPONDING REDUCTIONS IN BOTH GOVERNMENT OF PERU (GOP)

AND USG OFFICIAL PRESENCE AND INABILITY TO TRAVEL IN THE AREA AS WELL AS THE FALTERING PERUVIAN ECONOMY.

HYPERINFLATION HAD A SEVERE IMPACT ON STAFFING. MORE THAN ONE THIRD OF THE PROJECT'S AUTHORIZED POSITIONS REMAINED UNFILLED. GOP SALARY INCREASES IN LATE MARCH FOR SPECIAL PROJECTS HALTED STAFF RESIGNATIONS BUT THE HIGH COST ASSOCIATED WITH LIVING IN A COCA-INFLATED ECONOMY HAS HINDERED PEAH'S ABILITY TO FILL CRITICAL STAFF VACANCIES AT THE PROFESSIONAL LEVEL. ADDITIONALY, PEAH'S INABILITY TO LIQUIDATE PREVIOUS AID ADVANCES AND DEVELOP AN

FOR THE PROJECTS ROAD MAINTENANCE COMPONENT, PEAH HAS SECURED FUNDS FROM THE DEPARTMENTAL DEVELOPMENT CORPORATIONS, LOCAL MUNICIPALITIES AND PRIVATE FIRMS TO ALLOW EMERGENCY REPAIRS OF IMPASSABLE SECTIONS OF THE MARGINAL HIGHWAY, AN IMPORTANT MAJOR ARTERY. THE WORK IS BEING COMPLETED IN COORDINATION WITH SECURITY FORCES PROVIDED BY THE MILITARY. PEAH HAS SIGNED AGREEMENTS TO RENT HEAVY EQUIPMENT TO CORAH FOR CONSTRUCTION OF THE AIRSTRIP AT SANTA LUCIA; TO SECURE AGRICULTURE RESEARCH EXPERTISE FROM THE MINISTRY OF AGRICULTURE; TO OBTAIN AGRICULTURAL TRAINING FROM THE STAFF OF THE NATIONAL AGRICULTURE UNIVERSITY OF THE HIGH JUNGLE; AND TO REQUEST MAPPING AND SOCIOLOGICAL DATA ANALYSIS FROM OTHER GOP AGENCIES.

A. OVERVIEW: THE U.S. EMBASSY IN LIMA SHARES A PRIMARY MISSION WITH OUR ANDEAN POSTS TO THE NORTH AND SOUTH: THAT IS TO REDUCE THE FLOW OF COCAINE AND OTHER DANGEROUS DRUGS DESTINED FOR THE U.S. AND OTHER INTERNATIONAL MARKETS. THERE ARE TWO MAJOR OBSTACLES IN PERU, THE ECONOMIC CRISIS AND A HIGH SECURITY THREAT IN THE UHV. NOTWITHSTANDING THESE TWO MAJOR OBSTACLES, PROGRAM EFFORTS ARE STRONGLY UNDERWAY IN LAYING THE GROUNDWORK FOR (1) AERIAL ERADICATION; (2) INTERDICTION/ENFORCEMENT; (3) ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT; (4) INTELLIGENCE COLLECTION; (5) LEGISLATION REFORM AND JUDICIAL PROCESSING; (6) DEMAND REDUCTION THROUGH EDUCATION, PREVENTION AND REHABILITATION; AND (7) PUBLIC DIPLOMACY.

B. THE ECONOMIC SITUATION: THE GENERAL ECONOMIC CRISIS IN PERU AND CONTINUED HIGH DEMAND FOR COCA LEAF ARE THE PRIME INCENTIVES TO INCREASED COCA PRODUCTION. THE INDIVIDUAL FARMER WHO OPTS TO CULTIVATE COCA IS ONLY ONE PART OF THE NARCOTICS ECONOMIC PROCESS. SMALL BUSINESSMEN IN TOWNS SELL THE TOOLS, SPRAY EQUIPMENT, HERBICIDES AND FERTILIZERS; CARPENTERS, ELECTRICIANS AND ROOFERS BUILD THE LABORATORIES; AND FINALLY, HIRED GUNS PROTECT LOADS OF COCA DERIVATIVES BEING PROCESSED AT LABS OR TRANSPORTED TO AIRSTRIPS. ATTACKS BY INSURGENT GROUPS COMPLICATE THE

UNCLASSIFIED

SITUATION FURTHER, REQUIRING COORDINATED POLICE/MILITARY EFFORTS TO REGAIN CONTROL OF THE VALLEY.

C. THE SECURITY SITUATION IN THE UHV

THE GREATEST THREAT TO THE SANTA LUCIA BASE (SLB) IS SENDERO LUMINOSO WHICH, ACCORDING TO INFORMATION PROVIDED BY PERUVIAN NATIONAL POLICE AND DEA SOURCES, CURRENTLY FIELDS SOME THREE HUNDRED TO FIVE HUNDRED ARMED GUERRILLAS IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD OF THE BASE. AS RECENTLY AS LATE DECEMBER, SL MOUNTED SERIOUS ATTACKS AGAINST A PERUVIAN

AN AVERAGE OF TWENTY USG CITIZEN MISSION EMPLOYEES WORK AT AND REMAIN OVERNIGHT AT THE SLB. PROVISION OF ADEQUATE SECURITY IS HAMPERED BY SEVERAL FACTORS INCLUDING POOR SITE LOCATION, AND INADEQUATE TRAINING AND STRENGTH LEVELS OF THE PNP. THE FIRST PROBLEM IS BEING RECTIFIED IN LARGE MEASURE BY ON-GOING CONSTRUCTION OF A NEW BASE WITH A GREATER STAND-OFF AREA AND IMPROVED PERIMETER SECURITY. THE SECOND PROBLEM IS PRESENTLY BEING ADDRESSED FROM SEVERAL DIFFERENT PERSPECTIVES INCLUDING A DEDICATED SECURITY FORCE, TRAINING BY A U.S. ARMY SPECIAL FORCES TEAM, AND CONCURRENT TRAINING SCHEDULED AT THE SLB. THE FREQUENCY OF REACTION DRILLS HAS BEEN INCREASED SHARPLY OVER THE PAST TWO MONTHS.

D. USE OF MILITARY: THE PERUVIAN ARMED FORCES HAVE BEEN RELUCTANT TO BECOME INVOLVED DIRECTLY IN COUNTER-NARCOTICS EFFORTS IN THE UHV. THE MILITARY HOLDS THAT ERADICATION OF COCA AND DESTRUCTION OF PBC LABORATORIES ARE

CONSTITUTIONALLY-DESIGNATED POLICE FUNCTIONS. SINCE ESTABLISHMENT OF AN EMERGENCY ZONE AND NAMING OF A POLITICAL/MILITARY COMMANDER IN APRIL 1989, THE ARMY'S PRIMARY OBJECTIVE HAS BEEN TO SEVER THE LINKS BETWEEN THE NARCOTRAFFICKERS AND THE INSURGENTS, AND THEN ELIMINATE THE INSURGENCY FROM THE VALLEY. IN EARLY 1990, THE PERUVIAN MILITARY STATED ITS WILLINGNESS TO BECOME MORE DIRECTLY INVOLVED IN COUNTERNARCOTICS OPERATIONS BY PROVIDING SECURITY IN THE HIGH THREAT AREA OF THE UHV.

A.4. ADEQUACY OF LEGAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT MEASURES

A. THE PERUVIAN SYSTEM OF JURISPRUDENCE AND LAW ENFORCEMENT PROVIDES A SYSTEMIC HIERARCHY OF CHECKS AND BALANCES. THE NAPOLEONIC CODE-BASED LEGAL SYSTEM DOES NOT HAVE PROVISIONS FOR UNDERCOVER OPERATIONS, CIVIL FORFEITURE OR CONSPIRACY STATUTES. LAW ENFORCEMENT, INCLUDING THE INITIAL INVESTIGATION OF CASES, FALLS UNDER THE DIRECTION OF THE MINISTRY OF INTERIOR. ADDITIONAL INVESTIGATION AND THE PROSECUTION OF CASES IS PURSUED BY STATE PROSECUTING ATTORNEYS WHO WORK FOR THE PUBLIC MINISTRY, A SEPARATE CABINET LEVEL AGENCY. JUDGEMENT AND SENTENCING FALL UNDER THE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE NATIONAL JUDICIAL AUTHORITY, ALSO SEPARATE FROM THE INTERIOR AND PUBLIC MINISTRIES, AND THE INCARCERATION OF THOSE CONVICTED FALLS UNDER THE JUPISDICTION OF THE JUSTICE MINISTRY.

B. REGARDING THE REQUIREMENTS OF SECTION 2013 OF P.L. 99-570, THE GOVERNMENT AS A MATTER OF POLICY DOES NOT

UNCLASSIFIED

ENCOURAGE OR FACILITATE THE PRODUCTION OR DISTRIBUTION OF ILLICIT DRUGS. NO SENIOR OFFICIAL HAS BEEN INDICTED FOR NARCOTICS-RELATED CORRUPTION. THE GOVERNMENT'S ENFORCEMENT OF LAWS PROHIBITING BRIBERY AND PUBLIC CORRUPTION IN NARCOTICS ENFORCEMENT IS SPORADIC BUT CAN BE VIGOROUS. IN THOSE INSTANCES WHERE EVIDENCE OF CORRUPTION WITHIN POLICE RANKS WAS ESTABLISHED, THE GOVERNMENT TOOK DECISIVE ACTION TO CORRECT THE PROBLEM. IT IS DIFFICULT TO ASSESS THE IMPACT OF EFFORTS TO ELIMINATE CORRUPTION, HOWEVER, IN LIGHT OF PERU'S ONGOING ECONOMIC CRISIS AND THE GOP'S INABILITY TO PAY JUDGES AND LAW ENFORCEMENT

C. WHILE THERE IS WIDESPREAD SPECULATION THAT PROCEEDS FROM ILLICIT DRUG TRAFFICKING ARE AN INCREASINGLY IMPORTANT SOURCE OF REVENUE FOR THE GOVERNMENT DURING ITS ECONOMIC CRISIS, THERE IS ABSOLUTELY NO EVIDENCE THAT THE GOVERNMENT IS ENCOURAGING OR FACILITATING PRODUCTION OR DISTRIBUTION OF NARCOTICS. PERUVIAN LAW STILL MAKES NO PROVISION FOR CONSPIRACY-TYPE PROSECUTION OR UNDERCOVER OPERATIONS. BOTH ARE ESSENTIAL TO EFFECTIVE INVESTIGATION AND PROSECUTION OF HIGH ECHELON TRAFFICKERS. PERU DOES NOT HAVE AN EXTRADITION TREATY IN FORCE WITH THE U.S. THAT PERMITS THE EXTRADITION OF EITHER COUNTRY'S NATIONALS FOR DRUG OFFENSES. EFFORTS ARE UNDERWAY TO OPEN NEGOTIATIONS TOWARDS A NEW TREATY.

D. GENERAL DRUG ENFORCEMENT EFFORTS AT POST ARE HANDLED BY THE DEA PERSONNEL PERMANENTLY ASSIGNED TO THE MISSION. THEIR WORK FOCUSES ON THE IDENTIFICATION AND INVESTIGATION OF MAJOR PERUVIAN TRAFFICKING ORGANIZATIONS; THE INVESTIGATION OF MAJOR CHEMICAL PRECURSOR IMPORTERS AS WELL AS THE SEIZURE OF ILLEGALLY IMPORTED OR DIVERTED CHEMICALS; AND GATHERING INFORMATION ABOUT FINANCIAL TRANSACTIONS RELATED TO DRUG TRAFFICKING.

E. THE DEA IN LIMA WORKS CLOSELY WITH THE TECHNICAL POLICE ARM (PNP - POLICIA TECNICA OR DINTID). DURING THE PAST YEAR AND A HALF, DINTID HAS BEEN REORGANIZED TO PROVIDE A FRAMEWORK FOR MAJOR DRUG ENFORCEMENT EFFORTS THAT CLOSELY COINCIDE WITH U.S. PRIORITIES. DINTID HAS GROUPS THAT INVESTIGATE MAJOR TRAFFICKERS, CHEMICAL PRECURSORS AND FINANCIAL TRANSACTIONS, AS WELL AS ONE GROUP SPECIALIZING IN THE USE OF TECHNICAL EQUIPMENT. ALL OF THESE GROUPS FUNCTIONED EFFECTIVELY DURING THE PAST YEAR. DINTID INTELLIGENCE CONCENTRATES ON MAJOR TRAFFICKERS AND HAS IDENTIFIED THIRTEEN PERUVIAN ORGANIZATIONS SUPPLYING COCAINE BASE AND HCL TO COLOMBIA, THE U.S. AND SEVERAL EUROPEAN COUNTRIES. DINTID OPERATIONAL GROUPS HAVE SUCCESSFULLY IMMOBILIZED THREE OF THESE TARGETS DURING THE PAST YEAR. DINTID HAS ALSO WORKED CLOSELY WITH THE DEA TO CONTROL CHEMICAL PRECURSORS, RESPONDING TO NEW U.S. LAWS FOR CONTROLLING PRECURSOR CHEMICAL SHIPMENTS AND TO THE 1988 VIENNA CONVENTION AGAINST DRUG TRAFFICKING.

A.5. DOMESTIC DRUG ABUSE

A. PERUVIANS OVERWHELMINGLY BELIEVE THAT THE PROBLEM OF DRUG ABUSE IS INCREASING IN THEIR COUNTRY. A 1988 STUDY BY THE CENTER FOR DRUG EDUCATION AND INFORMATION (CEDRO) REPORTED THAT THREE-QUARTERS OF PERU'S POPULATION THINK

THAT CONSUMPTION IS GROWING. THE REASON MOST OFTEN GIVEN IS SEEING MORE ADDICTS (47 PER CENT), BUT A SUBSTANTIAL PORTION (16 PER CENT) ALSO LINK THE INCREASE IN CONSUMPTION TO A PERCEIVED INCREASE IN NARCOTICS TRAFFICKING. MOREOVER, MOST RESPONDENTS WHO THINK THAT CONSUMPTION IS INCREASING LINK THAT JUDGEMENT TO A WIDESPREAD AVAILABILITY OF DRUGS IN PERU.

THIS LINKAGE WAS RECONFIRMED BY THE PRELIMINARY RESULTS OF A RECENT CEDRO STUDY CONDUCTED AMONG YOUNG PEOPLE IN THE UPPER HUALLAGA CITIES OF TARAPOTO AND TINGO MARIA. THERE,

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

THREE EFFORTS AT DRUG ABUSE PREVENTION ARE UNDERWAY IN PERU. THE AID-FINANCED GROUP CEDRO HAS ORGANIZED MOST OF THEM. CEDRO WAS DESIGNATED AS A CLEARINGHOUSE AND DOCUMENTATION CENTER DURING AN INTERNATIONAL MEETING ON COMMUNITY AND DRUG ABUSE PREVENTION RECENTLY. TWO OTHER SETS OF EFFORTS UNDERWAY INVOLVE OTHER PRIVATE SECTOR ORGANIZATIONS AND MANY PUBLIC SECTOR GROUPS.

A. THE COCA BONANZA IN THE UHV COMMENCED ABOUT A DECADE AGO DUE TO CONSECUTIVE CROP FAILURES OF COTTON AND RICE, AS WELL AS THE DECLINE IN WORLD COFFEE PRICES. THE DRIVING FORCE BEHIND THE DEFORESTATION AND EXPANDED CULTIVATION OF COCA IS THE HIGH PRICE PAID FOR DRY COCA LEAF FOR CLANDESTINE PROCESSING INTO PASTE, BASE AND COCAINE HCL. OTHER FACTORS WHICH MAY ENHANCE COCA PRODUCTION STATISTICS INCLUDE COCA LEAF DIVERTED FROM LEGALLY LICENSED PLOTS. AND ILLICIT COCA CULTIVATED IN REMOTE AREAS OUTSIDE THE UHV . SO FAR, THE UHV LACKS THE INFRASTRUCTURE TO SUPPORT TRADITIONAL AGRICULTURE OR INDUSTRY. NARCOTICS TRAFFICKERS ARE HELPING TO PROVIDE THEIR OWN INFRASTRUCTURE BOTH BY OFFERING PROCESSING SITES AND PICKING UP THE FINISHED PRODUCT IN AIRPLANES, PAYING IN CASH AT HIGH PRICES.

A. ECONOMIC: REFER TO A.3.B.

B. PUBLIC OPINION. THE CLIMATE OF OPINION FOR ANTI-DRUG ACTIVITIES IN PERU IS GENERALLY VERY POSITIVE. ABOUT NINE-IN-TEN PERUVIANS SAY THAT BOTH DRUG PRODUCTION AND TRAFFICKING ARE HARMFUL FOR THEIR COUNTRY AND THEY REJECT OVERWHELMINGLY THE IDEA THAT ECONOMIC BENEFITS OUTWEIGH THE DAMAGE. PERUVIANS GENERALLY BELIEVE THAT THE COUNTRY'S DRUG PROBLEMS REQUIRE THEIR GOVERNMENT'S URGENT ATTENTION, AND THEY WANT TO WORK WITH OTHER PRODUCER COUNTRIES, BOLIVIA AND COLOMBIA IN PARTICULAR, AS WELL AS CONSUMER COUNTRIES, SUCH AS THE U.S., TO STOP DRUG TRAFFICKING.

PERUVIANS RANK THE DRUG PROBLEM IN PRIORITY BELOW THE OVERWHELMING ECONOMIC AND INSURGENCY CRISES THE COUNTRY FACES. THIS DOES NOT MEAN THAT THEY EXPECT THE GOVERNMENT TO IGNORE THE DRUG PROBLEM. IN A 1987 STUDY, THREE-IN-FOUR PERUVIANS SAID THE GOVERNMENT WAS TAKING THE DRUG PROBLEM SERIOUSLY, BUT IN A 1989 SURVEY ABOUT THE SAME PROPORTION SAID IT WAS NOT. IN THE 1988 CEDRO SURVEY THE ONLY AREA IN WHICH AT LEAST HALF THE PUBLIC FELT THE GOVERNMENT HAD "ADEQUATE" PROGRAMS FOR DEALING WITH DRUG

THE CONCERN FOR GREATER EFFECTIVENESS IN ERADICATION EXPRESSED BY THE GENERAL PUBLIC IN PERU IN 1988 IS NOT SHARED BY MOST PERUVIAN ELITES. ON THE CONTRARY, THE PRELIMINARY RESULTS OF A CEDRO SURVEY OF 2,600 PERUVIAN LEADERS CONDUCTED IN OCTOBER-NOVEMBER 1989 INDICATE THAT THE MAJORITY MAY NOW BE OPPOSED TO LARGE SCALE ERADICATION PROGRAMS AND ADVOCATES THE DEVELOPMENT OF PROGRAMS TO SUBSTITUTE OTHER CROPS FOR COCA BEFORE PEASANTS ARE THREATENED WITH CROP ERADICATION. THE ADVENT AND SPREAD OF SUPPORT FOR CROP SUBSTITUTION PROGRAMS IN PERU HAVE BEEN ABRUPT. INDEED, THE IDEA HAD SO LITTLE CURRENCY IN PERU IN 1987 AND 1988 THAT QUESTIONS ABOUT IT WERE NOT EVEN ASKED ON PUBLIC OPINION SURVEYS ABOUT DRUG PROGRAMS. BUT THE SHIFT IN THE FOCUS OF CONCERN IS NOW SO GREAT THAT MOST MEDIA DISCUSSION OF ANTI-DRUG PROGRAM CENTERS ON QUESTIONS RELATED TO CROP SUBSTITUTION AND THE EFFORTS NEEDED TO PREVENT COCA GROWERS FROM SUPPORTING TERRORISTS.

B.3. MAXIMUM ACHIEVABLE RESULTS: CORAH WAS SPECIFICALLY CREATED AND FUNDED TO MOUNT AN INTENSIVE CROP CONTROL STRATEGY AGAINST COCA CULTIVATION IN CONSONANCE WITH THE PEAH PROJECT. PEAH WAS DESIGNED TO ENCOURAGE LICIT AGRICULTURAL CROPS AS ALTERNATIVES TO COCA. IN FEBRUARY 1989, DETERIORATING SECURITY IN THE UHV FORCED THE STAND-DOWN OF ERADICATION OPERATIONS. SINCE THE RESUMPTION OF NARCOTICS INTERDICTION OPERATIONS IN SEPTEMBER, WORKING LEVEL GOP CONTACTS HAVE REPEATEDLY ASKED ABOUT THE OFFICIAL U.S. POSITION REGARDING COCA ERADICATION, AND HAVE URGED US TO CONCENTRATE PRIMARILY ON NEW GROWTH AND SEEDLINGS. HOWEVER, MOVING TO A SAFE, EFFECTIVE, AERIALLY-APPLIED HERBICIDE IS THE ONLY VIABLE WAY TO ACHIEVE RAPID AND EXTENSIVE SUCCESS IN ERADICATION.

AS THE RESULTS IN THE LATER PART OF 1988 DEMONSTRATED, MANUAL ERADICATION BASED ON IMPROVED SECURITY RELIABLE AIRLIFT, AND GOOD FLYING WEATHER COULD RESULT IN 12,000 TO 15,000 HECTARES OF COCA DESTROYED PER ANNUM. THIS RATE OF ERADICATION WOULD KEEP EXPANDED GROWTH IN CHECK, BUT MIGHT NOT PROVE POLITICALLY FEASIBLE. KEEPING A MANUAL ERADICATION PROGRAM ALIVE MEANS KEEPING AN EVENTUAL HERBICIDAL PROGRAM ALIVE. ANY TYPE OF ERADICATION CAUSES CONTROVERSY. THEREFORE, A SELECTIVE APPROACH, SEEKING TO ERADICATE 500 HECTARES PER MONTH, CONCENTRATED IN NEWLY CULTIVATED, SPARSELY POPULATED AREAS, COMBINED WITH AN ATTACK ON SEEDBEDS WOULD SEEM TO BE A POSSIBLE ALTERNATIVE.

B.4. METHODOLOGY FOR ESTIMATES

A. THE FOLLOWING IS BASED ON CONSERVATIVE ESTIMATES AND AVERAGES.

-- COCA PLANT YIELD PER HECTARE IS 25 ARROBAS PER HARVEST (ONE ARROBA EQUALS 11.36 KGS). PERUVIAN COCA GROWERS AVERAGE FOUR HARVESTS PER YEAR. AVERAGE MANUAL YIELD PER HECTARE PER YEAR IS 1,000 KILOGRAMS.
DURING THE LAST THREE MONTHS OF 1988 AND JANUARY OF 1989, CORAH WORKERS, ARMED WITH BRUSH TRIMMERS AND MACHETES, ON A TYPICAL DAY (40 MACHINES, 90 MACHETES)

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

COULD AVERAGE 100 HECTARES. DISCOUNTING WEATHER, MAINTENANCE AND SECURITY PROBLEMS, 20 DAYS PER MONTH OF WORK WOULD BE TYPICAL AND 24,000 HECTARES OF MATURE PLANTS POTENTIALLY ERADICATED IS THEORETICALLY POSSIBLE. HOWEVER, DUE TO THE UNCLEAR FUTURE OF THE MANUAL ERADICATION PROGRAM AND THE UNDETERMINED GOALS OF ANY HERBICIDE PROGRAM, A 6,000 HECTARES GOAL FOR 1990 IS MORE REALISTIC.

B. METHODOLOGY FOR PRODUCTION ESTIMATES

- 1 HECTARE YIELDS 1.14 METRIC TON OF DRY LEAF PER YEAR.
- 136 KG DRY LEAF YIELDS 1 KG COCA PASTE.
- 2.5 KG BASE YIELDS 1 KG COCAINE BASE.
- 1.0 KG BASE YIELDS 1 KG COCAINE HCL.

(THE LEAF FOR 1 HECTARE COULD PRODUCE 8.3 KG OF PASTE OR 3.3 KGS OF COCAINE BASE HCL)

Over the past seven years, a limited number of persons and organizations have played a key role in supporting the FMLN/FDR in El Salvador and in opposing the democratic process in Central America. Disputes about the political coloration and agendas of certain Salvadoran organizations marked the early years of the El Salvador debate. Later evidence, however, has now exposed an array of some 11 front organizations created by the FMLN/FDR and linked to various counterpart organizations in the U.S. While many supporters of these U.S. counterpart organizations did so ostensibly in opposition to a repressive situation in El Salvador, the political solution of the FMLN/FDR front groups being supported was not democracy, but a Marxist-Leninist political system. Opposition to repression was simply a vehicle to mobilize U.S. support to achieve their concealed political goals.

A review of the leadership and affiliation of the U.S. organizations which have supported the FMLN/FDR front groups evidences a web of entanglement which involves a range of persons from members of the U.S. Communist Party (CPUSA) to well-intentioned activist individuals opposed to the non-democratic system which prevailed in El Salvador prior to President Duarte's election in 1984. A review of these U.S. FMLN/FDR support organizations suggests that many were, and some remain, under the control or influence of the CPUSA and that the CPUSA tried to inject itself into many organizations which did not share fully CPUSA objectives. In many instances, members of Congress endorsed organizations and activities without sufficient research into the nature of the organization or the backgrounds of the persons involved.

The ubiquitous Soviet front group, the World Peace Council, emerges as a link in the chain of organizations affecting U.S. policy toward El Salvador. The World Peace Council is controlled by the Soviet Committee for the Defense of Peace, which is a Moscow based "public" organization that receives direction and overall guidance from the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. The Committe is presided over by Genrikh Borovik who was identified during a London libel trial as a former agent of the Tenth Department of the KGB's Second Chief Directorate and brother-in-law of Vladimir Kyuchkov, head of the KGB's First Chief Directorate, responsible for all Soviet intelligence activities abroad.

The World Peace Council was headed until April 24, 1986, by Romesh Chandra, a member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of India. In a reorganization of the WPC orchestrated by the International Department of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU)(headed by former Soviet Ambassador to the U.S. Anatoly Dobrynin), Chandra was continued as WPC President. Effective control, however, was given to Finnish Soviet-line Communist Party member Johannes Pakaslahti who was elected to the restored position of Secretary General. Chandra was made WPC President in 1977 when the Secretary General position was abolished in a previous reorganization. Former Cuernavaca Bishop Sergio Mendez Arceo is Honorary President of the World Peace Council. Former Berkeley, California, Mayor Eugene "Gus" Newport appears as another link in the chain, serving as Vice Chairman of the World Peace Council, as Co-chairman of the World Peace Council U. S. affiliate, the U.S. Peace Council, and as Executive Director of the FMLN/FDR support group New El Salvador Today (NEST).

While mayor, Newport's political career was supported by Rep. Ron Dellums whose Eighth Congressional District includes Berkeley. In 1978 Representatives Dellums, John Conyers (D-MI), Don Edwards (D-CA), and Charles Rangel (D-NY) set up a World Peace Council leadership meeting in Washington, D.C. That meeting was attended by World Peace Council President Chandra, Oleg Kharkhardin of the CPSU Central Committee, and KGB Colonel Radomir Bogdanov. In 1981 Dellums, together with Representatives Conyers, Edwards, George Crockett (D-MI), Ted Weiss (D-NY), Mickey Leland (D-TX), and Mervyn Dymally (D-CA), organized a meeting in the Rayburn House Office Building for then World Peace Council Chairman Chandra to lobby members of Congress. In 1986 Rep. Dellums' Administrative Assistant Carlottia Scott attended the World Peace Council World Congress in Copenhagen on behalf of Dellums, who was listed as a member of the International Preparatory Committee of the Copenhagen Congress.

Newport's NEST organization provides support to the Popular Liberation Forces (FPL) faction of the FMLN, primarily through a sister city-type program that links Berkeley, California, with San Antonio Los Ranchos, Chalatenango; Cambridge, Massachusetts, with San Jose Las Flores, Chalatenango; Madison, Wisconsin, with Arcatao, Chalatenango and Baltimore, Maryland, with El Barillo, Cuscatlan. All four towns are in areas influenced by the FPL.

NEST's Board of Endorsers includes Representatives Dellums and Dymally, and, among others, SANE Executive Director David Cortright, Susana Cepeda (Rainbow Coalition/SANE/Women's International Democratic Federation/Washington D.C. Council of Hispanic Agencies), Bill Zimmerman (Chairman, Medical Aid to El Salvador (MAES)), Christina Courtright (President, MAES), Ed Asner (Board of Directors, MAES) and Blase Bonpane (founder and Director, Office of the Americas). Bonpane is a former Maryknoll priest and liberation theologian, who in 1982 was asked by Rosario Murillo, common-law wife of Daniel Ortega, to organize delegations of prominent Americans to visit Nicaragua. The Office of the Americas was created primarily for this purpose. In 1984 Bonpane organized a nine-city tour in favor of the Sandinista government that included Jackson Brown, Diane Ladd, and MAES-endorsers Mike Farrell and then-Georgia State Senator Julian Bond.

Two key CPUSA members served together with Eugene "Gus" Newport on the U.S. Peace Council: Michael Myerson, a longtime Communist activist and member of the CPUSA Political Committee, and Alexandra "Sandy" Pollack of the CPUSA Central Committee. After helping to found the U.S. Peace Council in 1979, Myerson was named its Executive Director and Pollack the International Solidarity Coordinator. Pollack died in a plane crash in Cuba on January 19, 1985, while en route to Managua. In addition to her U.S. Peace Council role, Pollack was a founding member in 1980 of the Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador (CISPES).

After helping to found the U.S. Peace Council in 1979 and CISPES in 1980, CPUSA member Pollack helped found the World Front in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador, in Mexico City in 1982. Another founder and first President of the World Front was Bill Zimmerman, who, in 1981, had founded Medical Aid to El Salvador patterned after his previous organization Medical Aid to Indochina which provided aid to the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong. After Zimmerman was elected President of the World Front, Pollack was assigned to the Permanent Bureau of the World Front together with Honorary World Peace Council President former Cuernavaca Bishop Sergio Mendez Arceo. In addition to his World Peace Council and World Front activities, Msgr. Mendez Arceo established a reputation as a fundraiser and manager of FMLN bank accounts in Mexico. Heidi Tarver, National Coordinator of CISPES, was named a member of the Executive Secretariat of the World Front. Tarver also appears on letterhead as one of the original endorsers--together with Msgr. Mendez Arceo--of the "Salvadorean Humanitarian Aid, Research and Education Foundation" (SHARE), founded in 1981.

Rep. Dellums' Administrative Assistant Carlottia Scott figures as another link in the chain of FMLN/FDR support organizations. Scott travelled to El Salvador April 25-May 4, 1986, under New El Salvador Today auspices. In addition to her participation in World Peace Council activities, Scott's other involvement with leftist groups in the hemisphere was well established in documents captured following the death of Grenada's New Jewel Movement leader Maurice Bishop and the subsequent U.S. liberation of the island.

On July 10, 1986, Carlottia Scott and NEST Director Tracey Schear (Newport's number two in the organization) spoke at a Capitol Hill cocktail "to welcome New El Salvador Today to Washington, D.C." The sponsors of the NEST gathering were Representatives Dellums, Dymally, and Conyers and the National Rainbow Coalition, Inc., together with David Cortright (Executive Director, SANE), Hilda Howland (Member-at-large, Council of the District of Columbia); Lindsay Mattison

(Executive Director, Center for Development Policy and member of the NEST Board of Endorsers), Melinda Rorick (Director, International Section, Commission on U.S.-Central American Relations) and Marcus Raskin, (Senior Fellow, Institute for Policy Studies).

Rep. Dellums' and his Administrative Assistant Scott's involvement with Sandy Pollack, Rev. Phil Wheaton and others in the establishment of CISPES was documented with the capture of the diary belonging to Farid Handal, brother of Salvadoran Communist Party General Secretary Shafik Handal and head of the Commission for Finance of the FMLN's United Revolutionary Directorate (DRU). The diary recorded Farid Handal's use of Dellum's Congressional offices when Handal coordinated with Sandy Pollack and members of the Washington, D.C. chapter of the CPUSA on the establishment of the Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador (CISPES) in February 1980. Farid Handal's diary concerning his visit to establish CISPES in 1980 states the following :

> "The comrades of the Cuban Mission had recommended Juan Ferreira, from Uruguay. I contacted him at WOLA (Washington Office on Latin America). He helped me at WOLA and at the National Council of Churches....
> "I contacted Isabel Letelier who had prepared a seminar at the Institute for Policy Studies of Washington. The seminar would be based on a talk by Napoleon Gonzalez, which had already been announced. Gonzalez was in Washington at the invitation of Amnesty International. Napoleon Gonzalez had already spoken at WOLA, at which time he had mainly covered the situation of his newspaper and his person as objects of repression. Isabel Letelier informed me that at the last moment Napoleon had declined participation saying he was leaving for Los Angeles. Because of this Isabel asked that I take over the talk. I agreed, of course. It took place Monday from 12:30 until 3:00 PM.
> "That same Monday at 4:00 PM the meeting with Congressman Dellums and his work team took place. At the beginning of the meeting which took place in the offices of the Congressman located in the Capitol building, his political counselor (comment: Carlottia Scott) made known that my visit could not have arrived at a better moment."

The U.S. Peace Council appears listed as a member of the Advisory Council of CISPES. According to a February 19, 1987 statement, other CISPES endorsers include Rep. Mike Barnes' replacement as Western Hemisphere subcommittee chairman Rep. George Crockett, David Cortright (Executive Director, SANE), Eugene "Gus" Newport (Executive Director, NEST), Jack O'Dell (listed as International Affairs Advisor to Rev. Jesse Jackson, Rainbow Coalition), Rev. William Boteler (Superior General, Maryknoll Fathers and Brothers), Dave Dellinger (listed as a member of the Vermont Rainbow Coali- tion) and Haskell Wexler. In the original CISPES endorsement, only Crockett's name appeared. Subsequently, CISPES was endorsed by Representatives Dellums, Conyers, Dymally, and Leland.

In addition to his CISPES endorsement, Haskell Wexler also appears listed as an endorser of Blase Bonpane's Office of the America's and as a fundraiser for the tax-exempt Central America Media Education Project. Wexler, a radical film-maker, circulated a fundraising letter on behalf of the Central American Media Education Project that said the Media Project "works with" Witness for Peace, Medical Aid for El Salvador, the Washington Office on Latin America (WOLA), the National Sanctuary Defense Fund, the Christic Institute, the Institute for Policy Studies "and dozens of others."

Two members of the Central America Media Education Project Board of Directors also appear listed as Board Members of the San Francisco-based anti-Contra group Neighbor-to-Neighbor. The latter group works closely with the Committee of Concern for Central America, an anti-Contra group headed by Mike Farrell, who also appears as a fundraiser for Medical Aid for El Salvador. Rosarillo Murillo is reported to have been involved in facilitating the formation of the Committee of Concern. Neighbor-to-Neighbor and the Committee of Concern, produced in 1985 a controversial documentary entitled "Faces of War."

The Arca Foundation of Washington, D.C., which funds the Committee of Concern, also funds the Central America Media Education Project. The head of the Arca Foundation is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Media Education Project.

According to Wexler's fundraising letter, the Central America Media Education Project (though a registered not-for-profit organization) is actually run by Fenton Communications, formed January 8, 1982 by former 1970's White Panther Party radical and Rolling Stone magazine Staffer David S. Fenton. Fenton Communications' Washington office is headed by Nick Allen, formerly Executive Director of Neighbor-to-Neighbor and Executive Producer of the "Faces of War" documentary. Wexler's letter states that Fenton and Allen directly supervise "the day-to-day work of the Media Project" which Fenton Communications "carries out."

RELEASED

According to Wexler, under the rubric of the Media Education Project, Fenton Communications contacts journalists "to pitch our story ideas." Since its inception, Fenton Communications has registered under the Foreign Agents Registration Act to represent the Sandinista Government, the Grenada Government of Maurice Bishop and the Marxist-Leninist MPLA Government in Angola. During the 1984 Presidential elections in El Salvador, Fenton Communications contacted journalists to provide them with numbers to contact FMLN/FDR officials for press interviews. Fenton Communications and Neighbor-to-Neighbor are both involved in "Countdown '87," a lobbying effort aimed at defeating further assistance to the Nicaraguan Democratic Resistance.

Members of Jesse Jackson's Rainbow Coalition feature prominantly in several of the related FMLN/FDR support organizations. Jack O'Dell, International Affairs Advisor; Susana Cepeda, then-Latin American Affairs Advisor; and Suzanne Ross are only a few of the Rainbow Coalition members whose names appear as endorsers of these groups. Suzanne Ross, in addition to her Rainbow Coalition activities served as National Coordinator for Organizational Relations for CISPES. Cepeda has had several incarnations, most recently as Director of the Council of Hispanic Agencies of Washington, D.C. In 1978 Cepeda attended the World Peace Council leadership meeting in Washington, D.C., set up by Representatives Dellums, Conyers, Edwards, and Rangel, participating as a member of the "Women's International Democratic Federation," whose U.S. branch is controlled by the CPUSA. Cepeda also has served as a member of SANE under Executive Director David Cortright, and as a member of the Board of Endorsers of NEST. David Cortright, on the Board of Endorsers of both NEST and CISPES, is an active participant in the U.S. Peace Council under Eugene "Gus" Newport.

Bill Zimmerman, following on his Viet Nam experience and his management, in 1976, of Jane Fonda's husband Tom Hayden's unsuccessful Senate race, founded Medical Aid to El Salvador (MAES) in 1981, with the endorsement of actors Ed Asner, Mike Farrell, and Martin Sheen, who also appears on letterhead as an endorser of Blase Bonpane's Office of the Americas. Zimmerman appears, together with former MAES President Christina Courtright, on Newport's NEST letterhead as a member of the Board of Endorsers.

Several members of Congress including Rep. Ron Dellums and Rep. John Conyers, and then Representative, now Senator Tom Harkin, have endorsed MAES since its founding, sending out fundraising circulars under private official congressional letterhead.

Senator Harkin currently serves as Co-chair of the Center for International Policy, headed by former U.S. Ambassador to El Salvador Robert White. The Center for International Policy and the Center for Defense Information are creations of the Fund for Peace, which was founded in 1967. Board of Trustees of the Fund include leftist philanthropist Stewart Mott and Susan Horowitz, both of whom also serve on the Board of Advisers of White's Center for International Policy. Caleb Rossiter, a staff member of the Congressional Arms Control and Foreign Policy Caucus appears on the letterhead as a fellow on the staff of White's Center for International Policy.

In addition to serving as head of the Center for International Policy, former Ambassador White is also head of the Commission on U.S.-Central American Relations, established in 1982 as a project of the Center for Development Policy, itself established in 1977 by members of the Institute for Policy Studies. Lindsay Mattison, Executive Director of the Center for Development Policy is a member of the NEST Board of Endorsers. As noted earlier, Mattison, Melinda Rorick (Director, International Section of the Commission on U.S.-Central American Relations) and Marcus Raskin (Institute for Policy Studies) were among the sponsors of the July 10, 1986 reception for NEST. That reception was held at the Washington, D.C. home of Stewart Mott.

The Commission members include, among others, David Cortright (Executive Director, SANE/U.S. Peace Council/NEST), Bill Zimmerman (World Front in Solidarity with El Salvador/MAES/NEST), Ed Asner (MAES/NEST), Martin Sheen (MAES/Office of the Americas), Charlie Clements (MAES, Salvador Medical Relief Fund/Office of the Americas), Frances Parenthold (CISPES endorser), Noam Chomsky (CISPES endorser), George Wald (CISPES endorser), Joe Eldridge (WOLA), John H. Coatsworth (NEST endorser), and Richard Feinberg (Institute for Policy Studies).

Charles Clements, a medical doctor who wrote Witness to War about time spent with the FMLN guerrillas, appears listed as an endorser of both MAES and Bonpane's Office of the Americas. Clements is a fund-raiser for Salvadoran Medical Relief Fund (SMRF), another FMLN/FDR support group. A 1986 CISPES "El Salvador Alert" article urged that funds be raised for NEST, MAES, and the Salvadoran Medical Relief Fund--with funds payable through CISPES.

Another MAES Board of Directors member is Joan Anderson, a member of the National Lawyers Guild which is considered controlled by the International Association of Democratic

Lawyers, another Soviet front organization similar to the World Peace Council. Marc Van der Hout appears on the letterhead of NEST as "President, National Lawyers Guild."

SHARE's Executive Director Eileen Purcell was associated for eight years with the Catholic Social Services office of the San Francisco Archdiocese headed by Archbishop Quinn, where she also served as representative for the American Friends Services Committee on the pro-Sandinista Emergency Response Network together with Rep. Ron Dellums' Administrative Assistant Carlottia Scott and William Wipfler, Director of the Human Rights Office of the National Council of Churches. On June 21-26, 1986, Wipfler served as Delegation Coordinator for an "International Ecumenical Delegation Visit to El Salvador" made up of seven clergymen including Dr. Jorge Laura Braud, of the Presbyterian Church (USA), Professor at San Francisco Theological Seminary, in representation of the National Council of Churches (USA).

Laura Braud appears on letterhead among the original endorsers of SHARE, together with Msgr. Mendez Arceo, Rep. Ron Dellums, Rep. Robert Garcia, former-State Senator Julian Bond, Detroit Archbishop Thomas Gumbleton, former Attorney General Ramsey Clark, and journalist I.F. Stone. The original Board of Directors included Isabel Letelier of the Institute for Policy Studies (IPS) and Larry Birns of the Council on Hemispheric Affairs (COHA).

On May 14, 1986, now-former Representative Mike Barnes, then Chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee Western Hemisphere Subcommittee, held hearings on "The Air War and Political Developments in El Salvador." The campaign for the hearing originated with CISPES and was the subject of articles in the CISPES publication "El Salvador Alert." Among the persons testifying at the hearing were: Rep. John Conyers, then-Berkeley mayor Eugene "Gus" Newport (NEST), and Eileen Purcell (SHARE, representing Archbishop John R. Quinn of San Francisco). Rep. Dellums' Administrative Assistant Carlottia Scott submitted a written statement "regarding her recent trip to El Salvador as a member of a delegation sponsored by New El Salvador Today (NEST)." Rep. Conyers thanked the Committee for allowing him to bring Mayor Newport to the hearing.

Another witness at the Barnes' committee hearing was Michael Urquhart, Co-chairman of the Washington Area Labor Committee on Central America and the Caribbean, and President of Local 12 of the American Federation of Government Employees (AFGE). Urquhart played a prominent role in organizing U.S. labor participation in the November 22-23, 1986, "In Search of Peace Conference" organized by the FMLN labor front National Organization of Salvadoran Workers (UNTS) in San Salvador. Urquhart placed in the record of the Barnes' hearing a tract from an April 3-5, 1986, UNTS meeting. While Susana Cepeda, David Cortright, Br. Joseph Nangle and Mike Urquhart denied during the 1986 conference that UNTS was affiliated with the FMLN/FDR, UNTS spoke out directly in favor of the FMLN/FDR during the October 4-5, 1987, dialogue between the FMLN/FDR and the Government of El Salvador. The position laid out in the UNTS document submitted to the Barnes hearing was identical to the FMLN/FDR position. The demonstrations during the dialogue in favor of the FMLN/FDR, recorded and reported by the international media, were led by Marco Tulio Lima, head of UNTS. During the dialogue, UNTS members carried red flags, chanted in favor of the FMLN/FDR, and demanded a "peoples government." Subsequent articles written in the University of El Salvador newspaper by university organizations which are members of UNTS confirmed the relationship.

The organizers of the "In Search of Peace Conference" were Francisco Acosta, a member of the Salvadoran Armed Forces of National Resistance (FARN/FAPU)-controlled labor federation FENASTRAS and representative of UNTS in the United States and Susana Cepeda, both of whom appear on the Conference letterhead as Conference Directors. Acosta is housed at 1300 Connecticut Avenue, the Machinists Union building, in Washington, D.C. FENASTRAS has observer status with the Moscow-line World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU) headquartered in Prague, Czechoslovakia. Only two U.S. labor officials attended the November 13-15, 1986, FENASTRAS conference in San Salvador, one of them, Jerry Oliveira of the International Association of Machinists, endorsed FENASTRAS by allowing his name to be placed on a FENASTRAS newspaper ad.

Acosta works closely in Washington, D.C., with America Soza, head of the U.S. office of the FMLN/FDR human rights front group organization Comadres, which won the 1984 Robert F. Kennedy Human Rights Award. According to FMLN/FARN defector Violeta Jovel, who was serving at the time as head of Comadres' Propaganda Commission, the Kennedy prize money went to the FMLN/FARN bank accounts in Mexico. The competition for that award was conducted by persons affiliated with, among others, the Institute for Policy Studies, which is financed by Cora Weiss, an heiress, benefactor of the Riverside Memorial Church's pastor Rev. William Sloane Coffin, and Director of the Church's Disarmament Program.

Among her other activities, Weiss funds the pro-Castro lobbying group NACLA (North American Congress on Latin America) and appears as a sponsor of SHARE. In 1977 Weiss funded a counter-ad to Joan Baez' "Appeal to the Conscience of Viet Nam." Weiss' ad was signed by, among others, CISPES-endorser Dave Dellinger of "Liberation" magazine and Richard Barnet of the Institute for Policy Studies. Michael T. Klare, a well-known NACLA member is also an "associate fellow" of the Institute for Policy Studies.

Among those appearing as endorsers of the 1986 UNTS "In Search of Peace" conference are: Jesse Jackson, Cora Weiss, CISPES, Ed Asner, Chicago Mayor Harold Washington, the Washington Area Labor Committee on Central America and the Caribbean (Mike Urquhart), David Cortright (SANE), Blase Bonpane (Office of the Americas), Archbishop Thomas Gumbleton, the United States Student Assciation (known as a front of the CPUSA), Br. Joseph Nangle (then-Director, National Conference of Superiors of Men) and Rev. William Sloane Coffin (Riverside Memorial Church). Sloane Coffin had given the eulogy for CPUSA Politburo member Sandy Pollack at the Riverside Church memorial service after her death in Cuba on January 15, 1985. Congressional sponsors of the UNTS Conference appearing in an ad in San Salvador papers December 19, 1986 included Representatives Conyers, Dellums, Dymally, Edwards, plus David Bonior (D-MICH), Michael Espy (D-MISS), Charles Hayes (D-ILL), Edward Markey (D-MASS), and Delegate Walter Fauntroy (D-DC).

Br. Joseph Nangle appears on letterhead as one of the original endorsers of CISPES. Nangle is mentioned in the October 10, 1987, press as "one of 10 American church activists who tried to accompany (Salvadoran) refugees from their camp in Honduras" to El Salvador. While organized by the refugees, the return movement was affected by two FMLN front groups, the Christian Committee for the Displaced (CRIPDES) and the National Repopulation Coordinator (CNR), which organized foreign participation in the event both in Honduras and El Salvador through SHARE. In a November 1985 publication, SHARE established its direct working relationship with and support for CRIPDES. CNR is an offshoot of CRIPDES, which, in turn, is a member of the FMLN/FDR labor front UNTS. A flyer produced by an organization calling itself "U.S. Interfaith Committee in Support of the Refugees of Mesa Grande" requested that tax-deductible contributions be sent to "Going Home/SHARE Foundation;" P.O. ten-member Interfaith/Going Home delegation was San Francisco Bishop Gustav Shultz of the Association of Lutheran Evangelical Churches who also appears on the letterhead as an endorser of the 1986 UNTS "In Search of Peace" conference. Among others signing a paid ad that ran October 15, 1987, in San Salvador newspapers supporting the Mesa Grande repatriation to Berkeley "sister city" San Antonio Los Ranchos was Lori Hancock, who replaced Eugene "Gus" Newport as mayor of Berkeley; and Congresswomen Barbara Boxer (D-CA) and Nancy Pelosi (D-CA).

Many of the persons involved in these organizations came together during the April 25, 1986, Mobilization Actions for Peace, Jobs and Justice in Central America and South Africa. The Convenor of the Mobilization was David Reed, Director of the 60-member organization Coalition for a New Foreign and Military Policy (in 1981, the Coalition denied entry to the U.S. Peace Council in an 18-4 vote to ensure that its decisions were "not influenced by organizations that may have associations with a foreign power"). CPUSA politburo member Sandy Pollack had served as "labor liaison" for the 1982 New York disarmament rally, and was involved in putting together the coalition for the April 20, 1985, "Actions" before her January 19, 1985, death in Cuba. The Steering Committee for the April 25, 1986, Mobilization included, among others, David Cortright (SANE), the American Federation of Government Employees (AFGE), CISPES, the Rainbow Coalition, Witness for Peace, the National Council of Churches, and the Inter-Religious Task Force on Central America, which, in 1981, published a background paper which states "the majority of the people of El Salvador have chosen to unite under the leadership of the FDR, recognizing it as their legitimate representative." The Inter-Religious Task Force also appears as an endorser of the 1986 UNTS "In Search of Peace" conference.

The Mobilization Program Committee, which selected the speakers for the event, included Jack O'Dell (Rainbow Coalition), Angela Sanbrano (Executive Director, CISPES), Leslie Cagan (Mobilization for Survival), David Dyson (Head of the Union Label Department of the Almagamated Clothing and Textiles Workers Union and of the National Labor Committee for Democracy and Human Rights in El Salvador), Sister Maureen Fiedler of the Quixote Center, Rob Jones of the American Committee on Africa, and George Chauncey of the Presbyterian Church.

Selected to speak at the Mobilization were Rev. Jesse Jackson (Rainbow Coalition), Bishop Thomas Gumbleton (SHARE endorser), Ed Asner (Board of Directors of Medical Aid to El Salvador), AFGE President Kenneth Blaylock (UNTS conference endorser), and Eleanor Smeal, then-President of the National Organization for Women.

In addition to its support for the various mobilizations, the National Council of Churches finances the Ecumenical Program for Inter-American Communication and Action (EPICA) which is run by Rev. Phil Wheaton. Wheaton was a founding member of CISPES in 1980 together with Sandy Pollack. Wheaton accompanied Farid Handal during the West Coast portion of his 1980 trip to set up CISPES. Wheaton is a member of Christians for Socialism, a frequent contributor to Philip Agee's "Counter-spy" publication and also was an endorser of the UNTS "In Search of Peace" conference and as a sponsor of MAES. The National Network in Solidarity with the People of Nicaragua (Nicaragua Network), a Sandinista-sponsored public relations operation, was originally established in Wheaton's EPICA offices. In 1983, EPICA published an attack on AFL-CIO policies in Central America and accused Mike Hammer, one of two AFL-CIO land reform officials killed by a right-wing death squad in San Salvador on January 3, 1981, of being an agent of the CIA. EPICA was also involved in 1981 in the distribution of a forged State Department dissent document. CISPES' tax exempt Institute for Effective Action was patterned after the Nicaragua Network's Humanitarian Aid for Nicaraguan Democracy (HAND) tax exempt foundation. Wheaton travelled to El Salvador November 20, 1987, as part of a Central American Refugee Network (CARNET) sanctuary movement delegation.

The overlapping membership in these organizations by these individuals demonstrates just how few persons have been at the heart of the FMLN/FDR support network in the United States. Membership affiliations also suggest a higher degree of penetration by the CPUSA than is generally recognized. Through fraternal relations between the Communist Party of El Salvador and the CPUSA, and through front organizations such as the World Peace Council and its U.S. affiliate the U.S. Peace Council, the FMLN/FDR has sought to manipulate U.S. public opinion against U.S. support for the democratic process in El Salvador. Instruments include the World Front in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador, CISPES, NEST, MAES, SMRP, Office of the Americas, and SHARE--with the support of a small handful of members of Congress who have endorsed these organizations, including the current Chairman of the House Western Hemisphere Affairs Subcommittee, Rep. George Crockett.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE
WASHINGTON

MEMORANDUM FOR: THE PRESIDENT

FROM: The Acting Secretary

SUBJECT: Presidential Report to Congress and Determination on Military Assistance to El Salvador.

ESSENTIAL FACTORS

Pursuant to the requirements of the FY91 Foreign Operations Act that the President submit a report to Congress on El Salvador sixty days after the date of enactment (November 5), the attached report and accompanying documents are provided.

According to the Act, the report must describe, in part, the willingness of the Government of El Salvador and the FMLN to negotiate seriously and in good faith for a settlement to the conflict in El Salvador, including a ceasefire. The Act also provides that the withheld portion of military assistance may be released if the President determines that the FMLN has engaged in certain activities described in the legislation. Conversely, the Act also provides that all military assistance to El Salvador must be cut off if the President determines that the government has engaged in certain activities.

The attached report supports making a presidential determination to release the withheld portion of the assistance. Since November 5, the FMLN has launched an offensive that has caused hundreds of civilian casualties; it has escalated the intensity of the conflict by successfully employing surface-to-air missiles; and it has continued to receive lethal military assistance from outside El Salvador. While the government's conduct has not been wholly satisfactory, it has made progress in the investigation and prosecution of the Jesuit case, and we believe that there is an ample basis to make the determinations regarding FMLN conduct without making any regarding the conduct of the government.

Our preliminary consultations with Congress indicate strong bipartisan support for this approach, as well as some warnings against immediate release. Senator Richard Lugar, ranking Republican on the Western Hemisphere Subcommittee, said he favored the 60 day delay because, "it would be a mistake to risk a polarizing debate over El Salvador at the very moment we are going to have a difficult debate over the Gulf." Senator Pat Leahy, Chairman of the Foreign Operations Subcommittee and co-author of the legislation, said he could "live with" release of the money if coupled with a 60 day delay, as proposed. Representative David Obey, Senator Leahy's House counterpart, has suggested through staff consultations that he may zero out FY92 military assistance if we simply release the money immediately. Representative Joseph Moakley, Chairman of the Rules Committee, opposes any determination to release the money, even if there is a 60 day withholding, but said he could "live with" this approach, if necessary.

RECOMMENDATION

The Department of State recommends that you sign the attached determination regarding the FMLN, but refrain from obligating the funds for a period of 60 days. El Salvador's Ambassador favors such a determination with delayed release of funds. President Cristiani told Ambassador Walker on January 8 that he also supports our strategy of releasing the funds, but holding them back to put pressure on the FMLN at the bargaining table. By making the determination, you send a clear signal to the FMLN that their continued militancy is unacceptable. By refraining from obligating the money which is not currently needed militarily for a set period, we allow time for the negotiations to produce a ceasefire before the Salvadoran legislative elections in March. At the same time, the threat of resumed military assistance provides leverage over the FMLN to remain at the negotiating table.

I would stress also that withholding release of these funds for 60 days will have no negative effect on El Salvador's security. The Administration has just obligated $48 million in military assistance to El Salvador on an expedited basis. It would be extremely difficult to channel additional amounts in the next 60 days. (We have never spent El Salvador's military assistance that rapidly in the past). Moreover, your determination, as we recommend it, states clearly that should the security of either El Salvador or of American citizens require it, you would not hesitate to release the additional aid immediately without waiting for the 60 day period to elapse. We believe strongly that such a formulation will put maximum pressure on the FMLN while maintaining the moral and political high ground for the Administration on the issue of peace and negotiations.

If you concur, we would provide your signed determination, and the enclosed report and justification, to the Congress.

Report on El Salvador
Required Under the Foreign Assistance Appropriations Act of 1991

January 1991

Negotiations

In his inaugural address on June 1, 1989, President Cristiani called for talks between the Government of El Salvador (GOES) and the guerrillas of the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front (FMLN). Direct talks were held in September and October 1989. Further rounds were scheduled for November and December, and the GOES sent a negotiating team to Caracas in November, but the meeting did not take place when the FMLN launched a major offensive into San Salvador, which claimed 3,500 lives.

In December 1989, President Cristiani, joined by the other Central American presidents, called for the UN Secretary General to assist in peace talks. Representatives of the GOES and the FMLN met in Mexico City in March 1990 for preparations and in Geneva in April to begin UN-sponsored talks. The GOES proposed an immediate ceasefire under international supervision. The FMLN took the position that a ceasefire could not be agreed upon until political issues had been resolved. The parties agreed in May in Caracas that the "initial objective" of the talks was to achieve political accords on the armed forces, human rights, the judicial system, the electoral system, constitutional reform, social and economic problems, and UN verification of agreements in order to reach a ceasefire agreement by mid-September. After a ceasefire, negotiations are to continue on implementation of the political accords.

Subsequent talks have focused on human rights and military reform. The FMLN in June proposed that certain armed forces elements be dissolved, the officer corps be purged of certain individuals, and that "exemplary prosecutions" take place in four cases of human rights abuses. The government put forward a proposal for restructuring the armed forces and security forces upon a ceasefire leading to cessation of the conflict. This proposal included: (a) separation of the police and military forces and strengthening civilian control; (b) reduction of the armed forces to at least prewar levels; (c) the dissolution of certain units on a phased basis to begin upon declaration of a ceasefire; (d) acceptance of exemplary prosecution in the four cases proposed by the FMLN as well as in four cases attributed to the guerrillas; and (e) a prompt and systematic examination of the professional qualifications of all military officers, including their human rights performance. During the talks, the government has moved several officers with unsatisfactory records on human rights out of command positions.

Starting with the July round, the government requested that the UN mediator put forward proposals on armed forces reform as a means of breaking the impasse that had developed. The FMLN refused to consent to such active mediation on the armed forces issue.

In July, the two sides signed an agreement on human rights drafted by the UN and agreed to support the establishment of a UN human rights monitoring commission. In September, the parties agreed that the UN human rights monitoring commission should begin its work immediately. The UN has indicated, however, that the monitoring will not begin until both parties agree to a ceasefire, although it has agreed to set up an office to prepare for an eventual monitoring commission.

In August the FMLN tabled a new proposal on military reform which contained more extensive demands than did its previous position. It called for the dissolution of the armed forces, the removal of all colonels and generals, and trials and punishment in thousands of cases of alleged human rights abuses.

In September the FMLN said that it was not prepared to discuss active UN mediation or the issue of armed forces reform, but was prepared to discuss: access by journalists to conflictive zones; formation of a joint FMLN-GOES commission to look into the investigation of the Jesuit murder case; provision to the FMLN of a purported National Intelligence Directorate investigation of the Romero killing; inclusion of national and international public opinion at the negotiating table; and the effort within the UN Security Council to pass a resolution on the talks. The government suggested forming working groups on specific issues, extending the talks by several days, and meeting again in two weeks, rather than the customary four-week interlude between rounds. The FMLN rejected the proposals and insisted on meeting again in six weeks.

In September, while in New York for a meeting with UN Secretary General Perez de Cuellar, FMLN delegation members Shafik Handal, Salvador Samayoa, Mercedes de Carmen Letona and Miguel Saenz made the following comments regarding the peace talks to a group of Americans: "The negotiation doe· not have a lot of admirers, particularly not among you. But we have to view it as a very important political instrument for the change of the correlation of forces in the country. Everything they offer; we say it is not enough; we want more. So now we have reached an impasse. It has been very important for us that it be projected as an impasse in order to counteract the publicity campaign of the government (intended to) project an image of great will towards peace, of the possibility of peace being at hand. We then did what we had to do. We devised a scheme of failure and deadlock and we were able to avoid the deadline that we had for the middle of September. We are now going to be able to play it more at ease during the negotiation."

In October the FMLN dropped its refusal to consent to active UN mediation on the armed forces issue, and ideas emerged which both parties indicated could serve as the basis for further negotiation. On November 20 the FMLN began a military offensive which continued until December 28, when the FMLN announced a "suspension" of the offensive for December 31. No further face-to-face meetings between the parties occured until January 3.

The Interparty Dialogue Commission

The Interparty Dialogue Commission (IPDC), made up of representatives of all nine registered political parties, (including those with political ties to the FMLN) reached agreement on an electoral reform proposal on September 17, the day the September round of government-FMLN talks was scheduled to adjourn. The government suggested that the sides remain in session to ratify the accord. The FMLN refused. Among other provisions, the IPDC agreement would raise the number of National Assembly deputies to 84 from the current 60, with 20 members elected from a national list, extend the voter registration deadline, and regulate campaign access to the electronic information media. The changes are designed primarily to help opposition political parties. Most of the key reforms have been passed into law, although the provisions on campaign spending on the media were not passed by the Assembly, and some IPDC participants have objected to this failure.

FMLN Receipt of Lethal Military Assistance

On November 22 the guerrillas began using sophisticated SA-14 surface-to-air missiles, shooting down two GOES aircraft to date. The use of the missiles significantly escalates the conflict. It also allows the guerrillas to operate in larger units and maintain contact with government forces for longer periods.

On November 22 the firing tube from an expended SA-14 missile was found in the area where one of the aircraft was shot down on November 23. The Government of the Soviet Union subsequently confirmed to the United States that the missile had been supplied to the Sandinista Popular Army (EPS) in Nicaragua in February 1986. On January 2, 1991 the EPS issued a communique stating that four Sandinista military officers and eleven Salvadoran citizens had been arrested for illegal arms trafficking of: six SA-14 firing mechanisms, sixteen SA-14 rockets, two SA-7 firing mechanisms, and twelve SA-7 rockets. The communique stated that the weapons had been sold in Managua in October 1990 for "thousands of dollars" to FMLN leader Joaquin Villalobos and another FMLN representative identified as "Rodrigo". The EPS also confirmed the Soviet information that the captured missile tube had been provided to the EPS by the USSR and announced the creation of a Soviet/EPS commission to look into the illegal diversion.

In July 1990, two FMLN members were arrested in Managua by Nicaraguan authorities after a search of their vehicle revealed 20 hand grenades and 7 rocket-propelled grenade rounds. On August 27, 1990 a van driven by a Frenchwoman was stopped by Honduran troops as it entered Honduras from Nicaragua carrying: 229 81mm mortar tails with charges, 28 bags with 30 charges each for 81mm mortars, and 80 packages with 10 charges each for 81mm mortars. The van was also carrying FMLN battle plans, code books, transmission manuals, falsified identification documents, and 4 plotting boards for 81mm mortars. FMLN attacks in Usulutan during their November 1990 offensive closely followed the plans captured.

The FMLN's heavy expenditure of ammunition during the offensive launched on November 20, 1990 indicates that they do not foresee shortages of ammunition for their Soviet- and North Korean-made weapons. We also have not had any reports of significant logistical problems, as we have received in the past when the guerrillas have begun to run low on ammunition.

The FMLN has no source of supply in El Salvador for their Soviet-style weapons and relies on external support for ammunition and other materiel. This support has continued since the FY91 Appropriations Act was signed into law on November 5. Intelligence sources continued to report suspected seaborne deliveries from Nicaragua during November. Furthermore, the Government of Nicaragua has admitted that members of the Sandinista army supplied Soviet-made surface-to-air missiles to the FMLN, in violation of their agreement with the Soviet Union. The evidence of this continuing support was shared with Congress on January 8, 1991.

FMLN Attacks on Civilians and Injuring Civilians

US Embassy statistics indicate that in the first seven months of 1990 there were 55 noncombat killings of civilians for suspected political motives. Of these, 31 appear to have been killed by the FMLN (including those attacks for which the FMLN has claimed credit) 4 by the military (see below) and 20 by assailants who are as yet unidentified. On April 3, the day before the UN-mediated talks were announced, a guerrilla car bomb in San Salvador killed six civilians and injured dozens. During the August round of negotiations, an FMLN mortar attack aimed at the President's offices hit a residential area and left six civilians wounded. Church and business groups, political parties and non-governmental human rights organizations have condemned the FMLN's use of homemade catapult type mortars called "rampas" and "tepezquintles" in populated areas due to their inaccuracy and resulting civilian casualties. On October 23, heavy explosive charges thrown from such primitive mortars were launched against the military High Command headquarters but instead destroyed at least one home, killing two children, aged 8 and 18, and wounding several others.

On November 20 the FMLN launched the largest military offensive since their so-called "general" offensive of November 1989 which had resulted in the deaths of about 3,500 people. Auxiliary Bishop of San Salvador Rosa Chavez labeled the "violent actions launched by the FMLN a slap in the face to the Salvadoran people". The presidents of all four neighboring Central American republics acting jointly, the Colombian, Venezuelan and Mexican Foreign Ministers also acting jointly, the Soviet Foreign Ministry, Canada's Foreign Minister, the State Department and the Secretary General of the United Nations all also issued calls for cessation of the violence soon after the FMLN launched their offensive.

El Salvador: Human Rights

In this latest offensive, the FMLN used mortars in many attacks, causing heavy civilian casualties and damage to the hospital in Chalatenango. The FMLN also used civilian homes as cover in Usulutan and Chalatenango, sometimes forcing the occupants to remain in order to inhibit Armed Forces counter-fire. Preliminary indications are that 16 civilians have been killed and 108 wounded from November 20 to the end of December as a result of the offensive.

The Puntarenas, Costa Rica, Central American Presidents' Summit [December 15-17] declaration denounced the FMLN for the offensive The presidents stated they were troubled by the"qualitative escalation of the armed conflict", demanded that the FMLN immediately halt the use of its sophisticated weapons, and called upon the UN observer group in Central America (ONUCA) to conduct an investigation to determine where the weapons came from. The presidents recognized that the GOES has agreed to hold "open and serious talks on all topics included in the peace process agenda, including that of the Salvadoran armed forces." They demanded the FMLN observe an immediate ceasefire, refrain from hindering the March legislative and municipal elections, give up the armed struggle, and rejoin the democratic life of El Salvador.

On March 13, 1990 the FMLN General Command, saying that they were "responding to the calls of the various social political and economic sectors of the country" promised "total suspension of sabotage" against public transport, commercial establishments, and telephonic communications. They also promised "total suspension" of attacks against civilians and public servants not part of the Salvadoran Armed Forces. Despite the March communique, however, the FMLN offensive in late November 1990 included a significant increase in FMLN attacks on civilian targets. There were no military assets, for example, in Nejapa, Apopa, or Quetzaltepeque, the sites of heavy guerrilla attacks. The FMLN attacked coffee and cotton farms and processing equipment, crop dusters, public transport, telephone equipment, bank branches, and other purely civilian property in various locations.

Specific attacks on civilian targets during the offensive launched November 20, 1990 include the following: On November 25, FMLN urban commandos bombed 6 banks in the capital. On November 27, FMLN forces destroyed an estimated $195,000 worth of machinery in a coffee processing plant in northern Usulutan Department. During the month of November the FMLN carried out more than 100 sabotage attacks on the electrical power grid. The damage to the system left some areas, including many lower-income neighborhoods, without water. On December 4, an FMLN attack using explosives damaged the local telephone office, town hall, jail, and a bank in Tonacatepeque, located north of the capital. On December 5, the FMLN established a roadblock near El Barillo in La Libertad Department and damaged 3 buses, 2 trucks, and 4 cars. The guerrillas told the drivers that these actions were in reprisal for their lack of support during the November 1989 offensive. On December 5 and 7, FMLN urban commandos bombed two banks in San Salvador. On December 10, the FMLN burned two buses in La Libertad. On December 12, FMLN urban commandos dynamited 4 more banks in San Salvador. On December 12 guerrillas also attacked the Osicala municipality building, destroying the mayor's office and the telephone office.

In conducting attacks, the FMLN routinely invades civilian homes to use them as firing positions, thus exposing the inhabitants to danger from combat. During the November 1990 offensive the FMLN repeated tactics of the November 1989 "general" offensive by knocking holes in the walls of civilian homes to be able to move more easily between firing positions in the neighborhoods they had invaded.

Recent examples of attacks by the FMLN harming civilians include:

-- On November 28, in Los Chorros, an 8-year-old girl selling tortillas along the roadside was shot and killed when FMLN guerrillas attacked her soldier-customers. A 70-year old woman also was killed in the incident.

-- On November 29, the FMLN attacked Mariona Prison on the outskirts of San Salvador, killing 2 soldiers, a guard, and an inmate. At least 13 civilians also were wounded in the attack.

-- On November 30, the FMLN exploded a bomb in San Salvador's crowded central market, wounding nine civilian bystanders, including four children, plus two soldiers.

-- On December 5, a 13-month-old girl was killed by shrapnel during an FMLN attack on a small contingent of Salvadoran Marines guarding a gas station in Jiquilisco, Usulutan department.

-- On December 6, a woman in Usulutan department was wounded when an explosive charge launched by the FMLN toward a nearby army base struck her home instead.

-- On December 11, an explosive charge placed on a power pole in the outskirts of San Salvador by the FMLN wounded 2 girls playing nearby.

-- Also on December 11, an FMLN attempt to bombard the army's 5th brigade in San Vicente left one civilian wounded and damaged two private homes and at least one municipal building located near the military base.

FMLN Attack on US Helicopter

On January 2, 1991 at about 2:30 p.m., three US Army crew members were killed when their transport helicopter was shot down by small arms fire in eastern El Salvador. The FMLN claimed responsibility. The helicopter was returning from a routine resupply mission from San Salvador to its base in Honduras. The FMLN at first said that the three servicemen were found dead inside their aircraft but later said that they had administered first aid to the crewmen and sent them to a hospital with peasants. Eyewitness reports and forensic studies indicate that two of the US servicemen survived a controlled crash and were subsequently executed by the FMLN. US personnel in El Salvador are non-combatants. The helicopter shot down had no role in supporting the Salvadoran Armed Forces and no role in combat in El Salvador.

Armed Forces Attacks on Civilians and Injuring Civilians

The United Nations' Human Rights Commission October 1990 annual report on El Salvador indicated that there were fewer human rights violations in 1990 than in 1989, although the situation continues to be serious. The report cites both the Catholic Archbishopric legal aid office Tutela Legal and the government Human Rights Commission as noting that summary executions alleged to have been committed by the security forces were down markedly in the first seven months of 1990. The UN report concluded that government institutions, including the President, made a conscientious effort to improve human rights practices and that military personnel are liable to prosecution for offenses. On July 31, 1990 the Salvadoran Armed Forces issued a general order establishing new procedures for arrests and detentions to conform with the human rights accords reached with the FMLN on July 26. This has reportedly resulted in a significant decrease in arrests by the military.

Strict rules of engagement designed to avoid collateral damage to civilians have been laid down by the government. In one incident, however, the Armed Forces admitted fault in the rocketing of San Jacinto Guancorita, Chalatenango by an Air Force helicopter on February 11, 1990 as a guerrilla unit retreated through the town. The Air Force was ordered to pay compensation to the families of the victims. The Salvadoran Government states that it is determining the amounts and recipients of this compensation.

The following is an update on human rights violations reported to have been committed by the military:

-- Two sergeants accused of raping a woman and killing her father in March 1990 are in custody and the case against them should be ready for trial by the end of the year.

-- On May 3, a jury convicted an enlisted man (later sentenced to 16 years in prison) for the 1982 murder of US citizen Michael Kline, but acquitted the other two defendants.

-- In May, twenty-six members of the Civil Defense Forces were sentenced to thirty years in prison for the 1982 rape and murder of twenty-three people.

-- Also in May, seven Civil Guards were sentenced to thirty years in prison for the murder and robbery of four people in 1984.

-- In June, an Army sergeant was sentenced to thirty years in prison, for the murder of two people in March 1988.

-- On June 4, a jury found a soldier innocent of killing a television soundman on election day in 1989.

-- A soldier who killed a 17-year old on August 22, 1989 was turned over to a civilian court, but a trial date has not yet been set.

-- On December 13 1990, artillery brigade soldiers in La Libertad allegedly beat Roberto Linares Cambara and burned him with cigarettes. Mr. Linares is a member of the National Council of the Popular Social Christian Movement National Council. Officers of the US Embassy interviewed Mr. Linares, officers of the Artillery Brigade and Minister of Defense Ponce. Ponce stated that an investigation has begun.

Other reported incidents which the Embassy has been unable to confirm include:

-- The Catholic Archbishopric legal aid office, Tutela Legal, reports that a man was reported to have been killed on April 1 1990 by Civil Defense personnel on suspicion of being a guerrilla.

-- Tutela Legal reports that on May 16 1990 two unidentified men are reported to have been taken by men in uniform with Second Brigade patches into a wooded area. Their bodies were found with what Tutela Legal says were wounds caused by M-16 rifles and 45 caliber pistols.

-- The non-governmental Human Rights Commission reports that on July 11 a man was captured by the Belloso Immediate Reaction Battalion and that his body was found on July 16. The man's mother is reported to maintain that her son was killed by the same troops that captured him. The National Police and the Belloso Battalion deny the accusation.

There is ample evidence that death squad activity was conducted in the past with the direct participation and involvement of elements of the Armed Forces. The present government has clearly condemned such practices and is committed to ending them, but persons suspected of past involvement in death squad killings remain at liberty and continued vigilance is required to prevent the resumption of such practices.

Civil Defense forces in particular are alleged to continue to engage in human rights abuses. Although the GOES has successfully brought to trial several Civil Defense members accused of such abuses, credible reports persist of isolated, unapproved violations by such personnel. The US has made clear that it expects the GOES to continue to vigorously prosecute offenders so as to deter further abuses. The GOES has proposed to dissolve the Civil Defense upon a ceasefire with the FMLN. All but 8 of the 33 military officers named by the FMLN in October 1989 in San Jose on an initial list of human rights offenders have been moved out of command positions as of January 1991.

Specific Cases

The Jesuit Case: Nine members of the Salvadoran military have been accused of the murder of six Jesuit priests and two others on November 16, 1989. The case was raised to the trial stage on December 7, 1990 on charges of acts of terrorism, murder, destruction of evidence, perjury and conspiracy.

Since January, the judge in the case has also detained three enlisted men on perjury charges. In addition, Lieutenant Colonel Carlos Camilo Hernandez, the Deputy Director of the Military Academy at the time of the murders, has been indicted for obstruction of justice for allegedly burning the logbooks kept at the military school on the night of the slaying.

President Cristiani assigned the Special Investigative Unit (SIU) to the case, which by January 1990 had developed forensic evidence that implicated the accused in the murders. In January, a military honor board was also formed to investigate the case and concluded that there was considerable evidence implicating the accused in the massacre. On January 16, 1990, Colonel Guillermo Alfredo Benavides Moreno, the director of the Military Academy, was arrested in connection with the crime. Three lieutenants and four enlisted men were arrested on charges of having committed the murders. A ninth soldier, who deserted in December, was also charged with murder but has not been located.

This is the first case in which a Salvadoran colonel has been prosecuted for involvement in a human rights violation. Nevertheless, the Armed Forces' cooperation in the investigation has not been satisfactory to date. Some military officers have provided sketchy or contradictory testimony and the absence of full cooperation by all military officers has raised questions about possible involvement beyond those currently indicted, although no firm evidence yet exists on this point.

Senior government officials, Legislative Assembly members, and Salvadoran military officers of the rank of colonel and above are not required under law to give legal testimony in person. On September 7, President Cristiani waived his privileges and gave four hours of personal testimony in the judge's chambers. A number of senior Salvadoran military officers followed suit, waiving their privilege and testifying in person before the judge, while others testified in writing.

Scotland Yard, the FBI, and the Spanish National Police reviewed the investigatory work of the SIU.

Col. Benavides and seven other defendants have been under detention since January 1990. On December 7, 1990 Fourth Penal Court Judge Zamora raised the case to the trial stage. This decision was immediately appealed by the defendants. If the appeals court concurs with Judge Zamora, he will establish an eight-day period in which new evidence and testimony can be received. New suspects can also be indicted during this period. At the end of the eight days, a jury will be selected and a trial date set.

The Administration has emphasized to the GOES that the United States Government, both executive and legislative branches, remain united in our belief that the prosecution and investigation of these crimes must be thorough and professional. Moving the case to the trial phase must not mean that the investigation as a whole ends. Additional questions remain unanswered. All possible efforts must be made to determine whether all those responsible for planning or executing these crimes have been identified. We hope and expect that vigorous prosecution of those accused of either perjury or obstruction of evidence in the case may lead to additional evidence. The United States will continue to closely monitor the conduct of this case and hold the Salvadoran Government, and especially the Armed Forces, to the highest standards as the case moves through the judicial process.

Murder of Ten Peasants Near San Francisco (San Sebastian Case): On September 12, 1988, a military patrol detained ten peasants from Canton San Francisco, San Sebastian Municipality, San Vicente Department. Soon afterwards, villagers heard two explosions and small arms fire. The next day, they found the dead bodies of all ten peasants. The military claimed that eight suspected FMLN collaborators and two captured guerrillas were killed when the column escorting the detainees to the helicopter was ambushed by guerrillas. The victims' families allege that the military executed all ten. The judge in San Sebastian investigated the killings and concluded that the villagers had been murdered. In November 1988, then-President Duarte assigned the case to the SIU.

There was little progress in the case until Vice President Quayle visited El Salvador in February 1989 and emphasized US concern about the case. A special military honor board was formed to review the evidence and found cause to dismiss two officers and seven enlisted men from military service and turn them over to a civilian judge for prosecution. Eventually, a total of twelve soldiers were arrested between February 13 and March 2, 1989. Several writs of habeas corpus filed in March 1989 were not resolved by the Supreme Court until September 1989 when the case was remanded to the court in San Sebastian.

On February 8, 1990, the judge of the first instance court of San Sebastian ruled that there was insufficient evidence to proceed to trial against ten of the accused and ordered their release. At the same time, he ordered trial proceedings initiated against Major Mauricio de Jesus Beltran and a sub-sergeant. The defense and the prosecution immediately filed appeals of the judge's ruling.

On April 27, the San Vicente appeals court ordered trial proceedings initiated against Beltran in the original court but held that there was insufficient evidence to initiate trial proceedings against the sub-sergeant. In addition, the appeals court also confirmed the finding of insufficient evidence against the other ten defendants, dropped all charges against them, and ordered their immediate release.

Major Beltran, the only remaining defendant, is in custody and awaiting trial. On June 26, the Supreme Court granted a petition from the prosecutors and transferred the case against Major Beltran from San Sebastian to the Sixth Criminal Judge of San Salvador.

Murders of Michael Hammer, Mark Pearlman and Jose Rodolfo Viera (The Sheraton Case): On January 4, 1981 Jose Rodolfo Viera, head of the Agrarian Reform Institute, Michael Hammer and Mark Pearlman, both of the American Institute for Free Labor Development (AIFLD) were murdered. In April 1981 the Salvadoran Government arrested Ricardo Sol Meza, the owner of the Sheraton hotel where the murders had been committed, and requested the extradition of Hans Christ, a businessman who had fled to the United States. In the fall of 1981 a judge suspended all action in the case on the grounds that there was insufficient evidence to implicate Christ and Sol Meza in the murders. That decision was upheld by a court of appeals in April 1982 and Sol Meza was released. In September 1982 two Salvadoran National Guard enlisted men confessed to having committed the murders and had alleged that Lt. Rodolfo Lopez Sibrian and Capt. Eduardo Ernesto Alfonso Avila and businessman Hans Christ ordered them to kill Viera and the two Americans. In December 1982 the case against Lopez Sibrian was dismissed due to insufficient evidence against him. In April 1983 an appellate court upheld the dismissal of charges against Lopez Sibrian and in November 1983 the supreme court denied the appeal of the appellate court decision. On December 19, 1983, as a result of the direct intervention by then-Vice President Bush, Captain Avila was arrested. On March 22, 1984 Avila was released. The two enlisted men were convicted of the murders on February 14, 1986.

Bombing of FENASTRAS Headquarters: A bomb killed ten people and wrecked the offices of the FENASTRAS labor federation on October 31, 1989. In the days following the bombing, President Cristiani called for an investigatory commission to look into the crime, FENASTRAS initially refused to permit the SIU to conduct a physical examination of the site or the bodies. Salvadoran investigators, assisted by FBI explosives incidents personnel, were not permitted by FENASTRAS to visit the site until November 8, 1989. By then the site had been cleaned up by FENASTRAS employees, which destroyed much of the evidence. Efforts to investigate the bombing were further hampered by the beginning of the FMLN's major military offensive eleven days after the bombing. In September 1990, FENASTRAS leaders offered to present new evidence regarding the bombing and asked the US Embassy for assistance. To date, however, they have produced no new evidence or witnesses.

Preliminary Report on FDR Members in the United States

RELEASED IN PART
ST 1

We do not have a reliable estimate on the number of Salvadorans who are politically active in the United States and are also associated with the Democratic Revolutionary Front (FDR). The number, however, may be quite small. Those who undertake speaking engagements, readily admit to being representatives of the FDR but are generally very evasive about their names. Only top FDR leaders will give their true identities (see attachment I). The FDR concentrates its obviously well-orchestrated PR effort largely on college campuses not only in the more liberal, larger cities but in small towns throughout the United States.

Visa Status of FDR Members

While there are perhaps 500,000 or more illegal Salvadorans now in the United States, Department officials believe most of the politically active Salvadorans are here with legitimate multiple entry visas, good for up to four years, which were obtained in El Salvador, or elsewhere in Central America, some time ago. All key FDR members are now out of El Salvador and can fulfill the normal requirements for obtaining a U.S. visitor's visa by establishing residence in another country. Many have done so in either Mexico, Nicaragua or Panama. If a Salvadoran is not on the visa watch list and is otherwise qualified, consular officers have no legitimate reason at present not to issue a visitor's visa to an FDR member.

Tracking down FDR members and revoking their existing visas would be extremely difficult and could become politically contentious both here and abroad. In addition, unless we can provide correct names and usually the exact places and dates of birth, it would be impossible to determine these people's visa status. Developing this information would in most cases require surveillance by the FBI -- an expensive and time-consuming task.

Even with names, the Department would have a difficult time checking on their status. Visa applications are now filed only chronologically. Unless we know when and where a Salvadoran applied for a visa, it is next to impossible to find the application, unless someone at post happens to remember the particular applicant in question. Furthermore, all posts are required to keep visa applications on file for only one year, and normally only refusals of known visa fraud cases are kept longer.

not true aliens who overstay and deported all the time if caught

Prosecution and Deportation of Expired Visa Cases

The courts usually rule against the government in expired visa cases or cases where aliens have overstayed the terms of their entry as set by the Immigration and Nationalization Service. During the Iranian crisis, the courts ruled that the government could not deport Iranians in either category. The Attorney General's Office would presumably not want to be burned a second time.

Any attempt, furthermore, to restrict those FDR members who are already in this country from speaking out publicly in support of the rebel cause would be a non-starter. Such an attempt would undoubtedly become a legal test of not only their possible constitutional rights to free speech but the right of the U.S. public to hear what the FDR has to say. The government could not hope to win either case.

Foreign and Domestic Policy Implications

Prosecution and attempted deportation of FDR members with expired visas would probably do more harm than good to our Central American policy. The mail coming into the State Department is 9 to 1 against our Central American policies. Therefore, the government could presumably not count on the public to support rounding up illegal Salvadorans (or even for putting them on a visa watch list). Such a move would also further alienate Latin America and our European allies while providing excellent propaganda for the FDR and their Cuban and Soviet backers.

Future Exclusion of FDR from U.S. Entry

Perhaps a less deleterious course of action would be to deny new visitor visas to known FDR members under the provisions for exclusion of Section 212(a) 27 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (see attachment II). Under this section, aliens shall be ineligible to receive visas if the consular officer or the Attorney General ascertains that they seek to enter the United States "to engage in activities which would be prejudicial to the public interest, or endanger the welfare, safety, or security of the United States."

FDR - otherwise 212(a)28(F)

Under Section 212 of the visa law, each visa application must be judged individually, on a case-by-case basis, and refusals must be approved by the Department. Furthermore, each refusal applies to only one visa application by any one individual.

To date, the greatest number of refusals under Section 212 have occurred under subsection 28--allowing the Department to refuse entry to officials of a Communist government intent on lobbying and propagandizing for "worldwide Communism" in the United States.

No single group has ever been excluded as a class under subsection 27, and a stiff standard of evidence is required to keep out aliens under this provision.

Problems in Application

There are a number of problems in applying "27" to the FDR:

1) While the rebel fighting force, the FMLN, has been categorized as a "category II" organization, a communist front organization, the insurgents' political arm, the FDR, has not;

2) The Department has, to date, not been able to offer enough evidence to list the FMLN as a "Category IV" organization, i.e. a violent group;

3) Most FDR members coming to the U.S. already have multiple-entry visas, and perhaps no more than 3 FDR or FDR affiliated members made new visa applications in the last 9 months which could have been turned down using a political "27" exclusion;

4) If an alien has been turned down on this basis, he may still receive a visa to go to New York exclusively to speak or to carry out consultations at the United Nations; and

5) We simply don't know who most of the FDR members active in the United States are.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Necessary Course of Action

To apply this particular exclusion, several steps -- some difficult, but not impossible -- would be necessary:

1) Assistant Secretary of State Enders must inform Consular Affairs that the FDR and the FMLN are synonymous, i.e. that they are both violent insurgent groups. (Indeed, Ungo is President of both, and the FDR uses a joint FDR - FMLN letterhead on all official correspondence.);

2) In order to learn the names and visa status of FDR members active in the U.S., a major effort will be required by the FBI (going to FDR speeches and debates to discover names) and the INS (then going to the revealed FDR members and asking for their papers);

3) A direct order from the White House would be needed to overcome the reluctance of both the FBI and the INS to become involved in such an effort, which could attract unfavorable publicity; and

4) After all consular posts have been advised to look out for all members of the FDR and FDR affliates, each case will have to be referred to the Department for a review by both ARA and CA.

One advantage of this policy is that in reviewing each individual case, the Department would retain a great deal of flexibility. The government for example, may decide that admitting various members of the FDR's top leadership may be more in the interest of the United States -- to keep the door open for negotiations with the Left --than in keeping them out. On the other hand, we would be breaking new ground in the application of visa law, and the government would undoubtedly be brought to court for applying "27" on strictly political grounds.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

In sum, this policy of stopping FDR members from renewing expired visas may show only a limited positive return in the near future and will necessitate a major coordinated effort not only by ARA, L, and CA within the Department but between the Department, the FBI, INS, the Justice Department and the White House.

Dear Dr. Folk:

This is in response to your February 22 letter to the President regarding the FMLN's offer to abide by the results of delayed elections in El Salvador. I regret the delay in our response.

Following the FMLN's January proposal, and encouraged by the guerrillas' apparent willingness to end the violence and participate in the democratic electoral process, representatives of the major Salvadoran political parties met with FMLN representatives in February in Mexico. It became clear at that meeting that the FMLN's positions were non-negotiable demands. Their fundamental requirements for negotiations and participation in the electoral process -- a seat at the table of government, changes to the electoral code, and integration of the guerrilla and national armies -- remained unchanged. Successive Salvadoran governments found these pre-conditions unacceptable.

Nonetheless, President Duarte sought to maintain momentum in the initiative by offering to engage in immediate, face-to-face negotiations with the guerrillas, and by instituting a unilateral cease-fire. Unfortunately, the guerrillas rejected Duarte's effort to engage them in negotiations and to end the violence.

Rather than submit their policies to the electorate, the FMLN chose to use violence to prevent democratic voting. They enforced a nationwide traffic ban, under which any vehicles on the roads were subject to destruction. They unleashed a nationwide wave of violence on election day, resulting in the deaths and woundings of nearly 50 innocent civilians. Ten soldiers lost their lives defending the democratic process that day, while nearly 100 guerrillas were killed trying to subvert it.

Despite guerrilla depradations, 54% of the registered electorate voted in the March 19 presidential elections and 54% of the voters chose Alfredo Cristiani of the ARENA party. On June 1, President Duarte passed the sash of office to President Cristiani in the first democratic transition from one party to another in more than 50 years in El Salvador. In his inauguration speech, President Cristiani offered to engage in a dialogue with the guerrillas, but they refused to speak to his dialogue commission. The President is now working on another commission.

We hope that the guerrillas will agree to a dialogue with the government, and that it will lead to discussions aimed at ending the violence. It is clear that violence in El Salvador only serves the interests of the political extremists who wish to derail El Salvador's democratic process. We are convinced that the democratic electoral system is the proper way to address El Salvador's problems.

I hope this information has proven useful to you.

MEMORANDUM

TO: ARA/FO
ARA/FO

FROM: ARA/CEN

SUBJECT: El Salvador Negotiations: Outstanding Issues

The two main areas for further negotiation are completion of a political accord on armed forces issues and on a cease-fire.

Other issues such as economic and social matters that were included on the Caracas Agenda have not received much attention, and may be shunted aside to the electoral political process. Exceptions may arise to this arrangement, such as the FMLN's insistence that landholding limits be reduced.

The most important outstanding issues for a political accord on armed forces issues are the composition and selection of the Ad Hoc Commission to review the human rights performance of Armed Forces personnel. The GOES' official position remains that the Commission should be made up of five people, two of whom should be military officers with the right to vote. This position continues extant despite the GOES' having indicated to us that they would be willing to accept one non-voting military member on the Commission. The GOES wants the UNSYG to propose candidates for the President to appoint. The FMLN remains opposed to any military representation on the Commission or appointment of its members by the GOES.

Although the Mexico Accords lay out most of the details of the Truth Commission on key human rights cases, the choice of what cases are to be reviewed will likely be divisive. The FMLN only wants review of cases that they think can be blamed on the ESAF, whereas the GOES/ESAF will likely insist that the murder of the mayors, Rodriguez Porth, or other cases attributable to the FMLN be included. We may wish to seek inclusion of the Jesuit Case and/or the Pickett/Dawson murders on the Commission's agenda.

The most important issue in the cease-fire accords may prove to be the location, size and other attributes of the "specified locations" and "designated areas" for the FMLN during the cease-fire period. A related question will be the relationship between these areas and concentrations of civilian population, particularly the resettlement camps. U/SYG Goulding says that the GOES has proposed four "small, malarial, and landmined" areas whereas the FMLN has produced a huge map showing numerous "zones of predominance", "zones in dispute", and military bases.

The length of the cease-fire period has not been defined, and the FMLN does not want it defined. Despite our expressions of concern on this topic, U/SYG Goulding has apparently bought onto the FMLN view and not sought to limit the duration of the cease-fire. The GOES/ESAF are thinking in terms of 60-90 days, Goulding is thinking in terms of 6-9 months, and at least some in the FMLN intend for the cease-fire to last until the 1994 presidential elections.

The FMLN insists that any discussion of their own demobilization will only take place during Phase II of the peace process, i.e. between the cease-fire and peace. U/SYG Goulding said that those in the GOES who think that FMLN demobilization will follow automatically from a cease-fire (as in Nicaragua) are badly mistaken. Demobilization is not even on the table now.

When signing the Mexico Accords, the FMLN gave notice that the drafting of Article 211, in particular the point that defines the armed forces as a "permanent" institution, is not in accord with its position on the matter. The FMLN also gave notice that it considers that constitutional reforms are still in need of negotiation regarding demilitarization, article 105 regarding limits on rural land ownership, and the need to open a mechanism for reforming the constitution, either by reform of article 248 or by other mechanisms for popular consultation. The FMLN maintains its position on all these matters.

The FMLN continues to talk about the eventual dissolution of the armed forces, although at other times they talk about the reduction of the armed forces to pre-war levels (about 12,000). They are not clear about timing, but it appears that they mean that the ESAF should be reduced to pre-war levels before the FMLN disarms and demobilizes. The ESAF, on the other hand, is internally discussing reducing by fifty percent over four years. (There are currently about 45,000 in the ESAF and 13,000 in the security services under ESAF control.)

The timing of the disbanding of the Immediate Reaction Infantry Batalions (BIRI's) is also an outstanding issue. The FMLN has talked about having BIRI Atlacatl disbanded immediately upon a cease-fire, whereas the ESAF does not want to differentiate among the BIRI's and says that they will be disbanded when peace is achieved. Achievement of peace is a vague term, but appears to mean the disarmament and demobilization of the FMLN.

The ESAF has wanted to get rid of the Civil Defense forces for several years, but is holding the date of their disbanding as a bargaining chip.

The new National Civil Police is supposed to be created in time to patrol during the cease-fire with ONUSAL. The GOES/ESAF does not appear to have any detailed plan for creation of such a force, however. The FMLN has indicated that it does not want any current policemen to be part of the new Civil force and that National Civil Police serving in areas now under FMLN control should be residents of those areas or drawn from the FMLN. These are probably non-starters with the ESAF.

The FMLN also wants political rights during the cease-fire period. U/SYG Goulding gave the GOES Dialogue Commission (CODIAL) a list from the FMLN which included: the presence of FMLN political leaders in San Salvador, permission to open offices and print shops, repeal of laws proscribing FMLN activities and the release of prisoners held under those laws, and the expansion of broadcast media so that popular organizations can purchase channels or frequencies. The list clearly signals FMLN intentions to form its own political party, and highlights FMLN concerns that it return to San Salvador not as a defeated guerrilla movement, but as a political force to be reckoned with. The GOES is not likely to accept the majority of these provisions as written since the GOES resists giving the FMLN any direct political access until after complete demobilization -- in order to encourage demobilization.

It is not known at what point amnesty for crimes committed during the war will come into play. The ESAF will, however, probably insist on some sort of blanket amnesty for their own war crimes in exchange for pardoning the FMLN. The choice of cases to be reviewed by the Ad Hoc Commission and the Truth Commission will therefore be extremely politicized. The amnesty issue could also prove controversial on the Hill, particularly if it covers the murders of U.S. citizens, committed by either the right or the left.

ONUSAL's projected size is unknown at this point because it would depend on factors still under negotiation, such as the location and size of the specified locations. Goulding has said that if ONUCA forces stripped from elsewhere in Central America could be used as the nucleus for the military component of ONUSAL, the ONUSAL could be geared up very quickly. The FMLN may, however, oppose any such effort because of deep grudges against ONUCA.

THE INTERLOCKING FMLN/FDR SUPPORT NETWORK

Over the past seven years, a limited number of persons and organizations have played a key role in supporting the FMLN/FDR in El Salvador and in opposing the democratic process in Central America. Disputes about the political coloration and agendas of certain Salvadoran organizations marked the early years of the El Salvador debate. Later evidence, however, has now exposed an array of some 11 front organizations created by the FMLN/FDR and linked to various counterpart organizations in the U.S. While many supporters of these U.S. counterpart organizations did so ostensibly in opposition to a repressive situation in El Salvador, the political solution of the FMLN/FDR front groups being supported was not democracy, but a Marxist-Leninist political system. Opposition to repression was simply a vehicle to mobilize U.S. support to achieve their concealed political goals.

A review of the leadership and affiliation of the U.S. organizations which have supported the FMLN/FDR front groups evidences a web of entanglement which involves a range of persons from members of the U.S. Communist Party (CPUSA) to well-intentioned activist individuals opposed to the non-democratic system which prevailed in El Salvador prior to President Duarte's election in 1984. A review of these U.S. FMLN/FDR support organizations suggests that many were, and some remain, under the control or influence of the CPUSA and that the CPUSA tried to inject itself into many organizations which did not share fully CPUSA objectives. In many instances, members of Congress endorsed organizations and activities without sufficient research into the nature of the organization or the backgrounds of the persons involved.

The ubiquitous Soviet front group, the World Peace Council, emerges as a link in the chain of organizations affecting U.S. policy toward El Salvador. The World Peace Council is controlled by the Soviet Committee for the Defense of Peace, which is a Moscow based "public" organization that receives direction and overall guidance from the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. The Committe is presided over by Genrikh Borovik who was identified during a London libel trial as a former agent of the Tenth Department of the KGB's Second Chief Directorate and brother-in-law of Vladimir Kyuchkov, head of the KGB's First Chief Directorate, responsible for all Soviet intelligence activities abroad.

The World Peace Council was headed until April 24, 1986, by Romesh Chandra, a member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of India. In a reorganization of the WPC orchestrated by the International Department of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU)(headed by former Soviet Ambassador to the U.S. Anatoly Dobrynin), Chandra was continued as WPC President. Effective control, however, was given to Finnish Soviet-line Communist Party member Johannes Pakaslahti who was elected to the restored position of Secretary General. Chandra was made WPC President in 1977 when the Secretary General position was abolished in a previous reorganization. Former Cuernavaca Bishop Sergio Mendez Arceo is Honorary President of the World Peace Council. Former Berkeley, California, Mayor Eugene "Gus" Newport appears as another link in the chain, serving as Vice Chairman of the World Peace Council, as Co-chairman of the World Peace Council U. S. affiliate, the U.S. Peace Council, and as Executive Director of the FMLN/FDR support group New El Salvador Today (NEST).

While mayor, Newport's political career was supported by Rep. Ron Dellums whose Eighth Congressional District includes Berkeley. In 1978 Representatives Dellums, John Conyers (D-MI), Don Edwards (D-CA), and Charles Rangel (D-NY) set up a World Peace Council leadership meeting in Washington, D.C. That meeting was attended by World Peace Council President Chandra, Oleg Kharkhardin of the CPSU Central Committee, and KGB Colonel Radomir Bogdanov. In 1981 Dellums, together with Representatives Conyers, Edwards, George Crockett (D-MI), Ted Weiss (D-NY), Mickey Leland (D-TX), and Mervyn Dymally (D-CA), organized a meeting in the Rayburn House Office Building for then World Peace Council Chairman Chandra to lobby members of Congress. In 1986 Rep. Dellums' Administrative Assistant Carlottia Scott attended the World Peace Council World Congress in Copenhagen on behalf of Dellums, who was listed as a member of the International Preparatory Committee of the Copenhagen Congress.

Newport's NEST organization provides support to the Popular Liberation Forces (FPL) faction of the FMLN, primarily through a sister city-type program that links Berkeley, California, with San Antonio Los Ranchos, Chalatenango; Cambridge, Massachusetts, with San Jose Las Flores, Chalatenango; Madison, Wisconsin, with Arcatao, Chalatenango and Baltimore, Maryland, with El Barillo, Cuscatlan. All four towns are in areas influenced by the FPL.

NEST's Board of Endorsers includes Representatives Dellums and Dymally, and, among others, SANE Executive Director David Cortright, Susana Cepeda (Rainbow Coalition/SANE/Women's International Democratic Federation/Washington D.C. Council of Hispanic Agencies), Bill Zimmerman (Chairman, Medical Aid to El Salvador (MAES)), Christina Courtright (President, MAES), Ed Asner (Board of Directors, MAES) and Blase Bonpane (founder and Director, Office of the Americas). Bonpane is a former Maryknoll priest and liberation theologian, who in 1982 was

THE INTERLOCKING FMLN/FDR SUPPORT NETWORK

Over the past seven years, a limited number of persons and organizations have played a key role in supporting the FMLN/FDR in El Salvador and in opposing the democratic process in Central America. Disputes about the political coloration and agendas of certain Salvadoran organizations marked the early years of the El Salvador debate. Later evidence, however, has now exposed an array of some 11 front organizations created by the FMLN/FDR and linked to various counterpart organizations in the U.S. While many supporters of these U.S. counterpart organizations did so ostensibly in opposition to a repressive situation in El Salvador, the political solution of the FMLN/FDR front groups being supported was not democracy, but a Marxist-Leninist political system. Opposition to repression was simply a vehicle to mobilize U.S. support to achieve their concealed political goals.

A review of the leadership and affiliation of the U.S. organizations which have supported the FMLN/FDR front groups evidences a web of entanglement which involves a range of persons from members of the U.S. Communist Party (CPUSA) to well-intentioned activist individuals opposed to the non-democratic system which prevailed in El Salvador prior to President Duarte's election in 1984. A review of these U.S. FMLN/FDR support organizations suggests that many were, and some remain, under the control or influence of the CPUSA and that the CPUSA tried to inject itself into many organizations which did not share fully CPUSA objectives. In many instances, members of Congress endorsed organizations and activities without sufficient research into the nature of the organization or the backgrounds of the persons involved.

The ubiquitous Soviet front group, the World Peace Council, emerges as a link in the chain of organizations affecting U.S. policy toward El Salvador. The World Peace Council is controlled by the Soviet Committee for the Defense of Peace, which is a Moscow based "public" organization that receives direction and overall guidance from the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. The Committe is presided over by Genrikh Borovik who was identified during a London libel trial as a former agent of the Tenth Department of the KGB's Second Chief Directorate and brother-in-law of Vladimir Kyuchkov, head of the KGB's First Chief Directorate, responsible for all Soviet intelligence activities abroad.

The World Peace Council was headed until April 24, 1986, by Romesh Chandra, a member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of India. In a reorganization of the WPC orchestrated by the International Department of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU)(headed by former Soviet Ambassador to the U.S. Anatoly Dobrynin), Chandra was continued as WPC President. Effective control, however, was given to Finnish Soviet-line Communist Party member Johannes Pakaslahti who was elected to the restored position of Secretary General. Chandra was made WPC President in 1977 when the Secretary General position was abolished in a previous reorganization. Former Cuernavaca Bishop Sergio Mendez Arceo is Honorary President of the World Peace Council. Former Berkeley, California, Mayor Eugene "Gus" Newport appears as another link in the chain, serving as Vice Chairman of the World Peace Council, as Co-chairman of the World Peace Council U. S. affiliate, the U.S. Peace Council, and as Executive Director of the FMLN/FDR support group New El Salvador Today (NEST).

While mayor, Newport's political career was supported by Rep. Ron Dellums whose Eighth Congressional District includes Berkeley. In 1978 Representatives Dellums, John Conyers (D-MI), Don Edwards (D-CA), and Charles Rangel (D-NY) set up a World Peace Council leadership meeting in Washington, D.C. That meeting was attended by World Peace Council President Chandra, Oleg Kharkhardin of the CPSU Central Committee, and KGB Colonel Radomir Bogdanov. In 1981 Dellums, together with Representatives Conyers, Edwards, George Crockett (D-MI), Ted Weiss (D-NY), Mickey Leland (D-TX), and Mervyn Dymally (D-CA), organized a meeting in the Rayburn House Office Building for then World Peace Council Chairman Chandra to lobby members of Congress. In 1986 Rep. Dellums' Administrative Assistant Carlottia Scott attended the World Peace Council World Congress in Copenhagen on behalf of Dellums, who was listed as a member of the International Preparatory Committee of the Copenhagen Congress.

Newport's NEST organization provides support to the Popular Liberation Forces (FPL) faction of the FMLN, primarily through a sister city-type program that links Berkeley, California, with San Antonio Los Ranchos, Chalatenango; Cambridge, Massachusetts, with San Jose Las Flores, Chalatenango; Madison, Wisconsin, with Arcatao, Chalatenango and Baltimore, Maryland, with El Barillo, Cuscatlan. All four towns are in areas influenced by the FPL.

NEST's Board of Endorsers includes Representatives Dellums and Dymally, and, among others, SANE Executive Director David Cortright, Susana Cepeda (Rainbow Coalition/SANE/Women's International Democratic Federation/Washington D.C. Council of Hispanic Agencies), Bill Zimmerman (Chairman, Medical Aid to El Salvador (MAES)), Christina Courtright (President, MAES), Ed Asner (Board of Directors, MAES) and Blase Bonpane (founder and Director, Office of the Americas). Bonpane is a former Maryknoll priest and liberation theologian, who in 1982 was asked by Rosario Murillo, common-law wife of Daniel Ortega, to organize delegations of prominent Americans to visit Nicaragua. The Office of the Americas was created primarily for this purpose. In 1984 Bonpane organized a nine-city tour in favor of the Sandinista government that included Jackson Brown, Diane Ladd, and MAES-endorsers Mike Farrell and then-Georgia State Senator Julian Bond.

Two key CPUSA members served together with Eugene "Gus" Newport on the U.S. Peace Council: Michael Myerson, a longtime Communist activist and member of the CPUSA Political Committee, and Alexandra "Sandy" Pollack of the CPUSA Central Committee. After helping to found the U.S. Peace Council in 1979, Myerson was named its Executive Director and Pollack the International Solidarity Coordinator. Pollack died in a plane crash in Cuba on January 19, 1985, while en route to Managua. In addition to her U.S. Peace Council role, Pollack was a founding member in 1980 of the Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador (CISPES).

After helping to found the U.S. Peace Council in 1979 and CISPES in 1980, CPUSA member Pollack helped found the World Front in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador, in Mexico City in 1982. Another founder and first President of the World Front was Bill Zimmerman, who, in 1981, had founded Medical Aid to El Salvador patterned after his previous organization Medical Aid to Indochina which provided aid to the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong. After Zimmerman was elected President of the World Front, Pollack was assigned to the Permanent Bureau of the World Front together with Honorary World Peace Council President former Cuernavaca Bishop Sergio Mendez Arceo.

In addition to his World Peace Council and World Front activities, Msgr. Mendez Arceo established a reputation as a fundraiser and manager of FMLN bank accounts in Mexico. Msgr. Mendez Arceo currently lives in Managua where he is head of "Christians for Peace," a "popular church" liberation theology center supportive of the Sandinista regime.

Heidi Tarver, National Coordinator of CISPES, was named a member of the Executive Secretariat of the World Front. Tarver also appears on letterhead as one of the original endorsers--together with Msgr. Mendez Arceo--of the "Salvadorean Humanitarian Aid, Research and Education Foundation" (SHARE), founded in 1981.

Rep. Dellums' Administrative Assistant Carlottia Scott figures as another link in the chain of FMLN/FDR support organizations. Scott travelled to El Salvador April 25-May 4, 1986, under New El Salvador Today auspices. In addition to her participation in World Peace Council activities, Scott's other involvement with leftist groups in the hemisphere was well established in documents captured following the death of Grenada's New Jewel Movement leader Maurice Bishop and the subsequent U.S. liberation of the island.

On July 10, 1986, Carlottia Scott and NEST Director Tracey Schear (Newport's number two in the organization) spoke at a Capitol Hill cocktail "to welcome New El Salvador Today to Washington, D.C." The sponsors of the NEST gathering were Representatives Dellums, Dymally, and Conyers and the National Rainbow Coalition, Inc., together with David Cortright (Executive Director, SANE), Hilda Howland (Member-at-large, Council of the District of Columbia); Lindsay Mattison (Executive Director, Center for Development Policy and member of the NEST Board of Endorsers), Melinda Rorick (Director, International Section, Commission on U.S.-Central American Relations) and Marcus Raskin, (Senior Fellow, Institute for Policy Studies).

Rep. Dellums' and his Administrative Assistant Scott's involvement with Sandy Pollack, Rev. Phil Wheaton and others in the establishment of CISPES was documented with the capture of the diary belonging to Farid Handal, brother of Salvadoran Communist Party General Secretary Shafik Handal and head of the Commission for Finance of the FMLN's United Revolutionary Directorate (DRU) and identified January 21, 1988 by Havana Television Service as the current FMLN representative in Cuba. The diary recorded Farid Handal's use of Dellum's Congressional offices when Handal coordinated with Sandy Pollack and members of the Washington, D.C. chapter of the CPUSA on the establishment of the Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador (CISPES) in February 1980. Farid Handal's diary concerning his visit to establish CISPES in 1980 states the following :

> "The comrades of the Cuban Mission had recommended Juan Ferreira, from Uruguay. I contacted him at WOLA (Washington Office on Latin America). He helped me at WOLA and at the National Council of Churches....

"I contacted Isabel Letelier who had prepared a seminar at the Institute for Policy Studies of Washington. The seminar would be based on a talk by Napoleon Gonzalez, which had already been announced. Gonzalez was in Washington at the invitation of Amnesty International. Napoleon Gonzalez had already spoken at WOLA, at which time he had mainly covered the situation of his newspaper and his person as objects of repression. Isabel Letelier informed me that at the last moment Napoleon had declined participation saying he was leaving for Los Angeles. Because of this Isabel asked that I take over the talk. I agreed, of course. It took place Monday from 12:30 until 3:00 PM.

"That same Monday at 4:00 PM the meeting with Congressman Dellums and his work team took place. At the beginning of the meeting which took place in the offices of the Congressman located in the Capitol building, his political counselor (comment: Carlottia Scott) made known that my visit could not have arrived at a better moment."

The U.S. Peace Council appears listed as a member of the Advisory Council of CISPES. According to a February 19, 1987 statement, other CISPES endorsers include Rep. Mike Barnes' replacement as Western Hemisphere subcommittee chairman Rep. George Crockett, David Cortright (Executive Director, SANE), Eugene "Gus" Newport (Executive Director, NEST), Jack O'Dell (listed as International Affairs Advisor to Rev. Jesse Jackson, Rainbow Coalition), Rev. William Boteler (Superior General, Maryknoll Fathers and Brothers), Dave Dellinger (listed as a member of the Vermont Rainbow Coalition) and Haskell Wexler. In the original CISPES endorsement, only Crockett's name appeared. Subsequently, CISPES was endorsed by Representatives Dellums, Conyers, Dymally, and Leland.

In addition to his CISPES endorsement, Haskell Wexler also appears listed as an endorser of Blase Bonpane's Office of the America's and as a fundraiser for the tax-exempt Central America Media Education Project. Wexler, a radical film-maker, circulated a fundraising letter on behalf of the Central American Media Education Project that said the Media Project "works with" Witness for Peace, Medical Aid for El Salvador, the Washington Office on Latin America (WOLA), the National Sanctuary Defense Fund, the Christic Institute, the Institute for Policy Studies "and dozens of others."

Two members of the Central America Media Education Project Board of Directors also appear listed as Board Members of the San Francisco-based anti-Contra group Neighbor-to-Neighbor. The latter group works closely with the Committee of Concern for Central America, an anti-Contra group headed by Mike Farrell, who also appears as a fundraiser for Medical Aid for El Salvador. Rosarillo Murillo is reported to have been involved in facilitating the formation of the Committee of Concern. Neighbor-to-Neighbor and the Committee of Concern, produced in 1985 a controversial documentary entitled "Faces of War."

The Arca Foundation of Washington, D.C., which funds the Committee of Concern, also funds the Central America Media Education Project. The head of the Arca Foundation is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Media Education Project.

According to Wexler's fundraising letter, the Central America Media Education Project (though a registered not-for-profit organization) is actually run by Fenton Communications, formed January 8, 1982 by former 1970's White Panther Party radical and Rolling Stone magazine Staffer David S. Fenton. Fenton Communications' Washington office is headed by Nick Allen, formerly Executive Director of Neighbor-to-Neighbor and Executive Producer of the "Faces of War" documentary. Wexler's letter states that Fenton and Allen directly supervise "the day-to-day work of the Media Project" which Fenton Communications "carries out."

According to Wexler, under the rubric of the Media Education Project, Fenton Communications contacts journalists "to pitch our story ideas." Since its inception, Fenton Communications has registered under the Foreign Agents Registration Act to represent the Sandinista Government, the Grenada Government of Maurice Bishop and the Marxist-Leninist MPLA Government in Angola. During the 1984 Presidential elections in El Salvador, Fenton Communications contacted journalists to provide them with numbers to contact FMLN/FDR officials for press interviews.

Fenton Communications and Neighbor-to-Neighbor are both involved in "Countdown '87," a lobbying effort aimed at defeating further assistance to the Nicaraguan Democratic Resistance. Television and radio spots for the "Countdown '87" effort were prepared by Bill Zimmerman's California-based media consulting firm Zimmerman, Fiman and Dixon. "Countdown '87" Executive Director Rosa de Lauro was formerly Chief of Staff to Senator Christopher Dodd.

Members of Jesse Jackson's Rainbow Coalition feature prominently in several of the related FMLN/FDR support organizations. Jack O'Dell, International Affairs Advisor; Susana Cepeda, then-Latin American Affairs Advisor; and Suzanne Ross are only a few of the Rainbow Coalition members whose names appear as endorsers of these groups. Suzanne Ross, in addition to her Rainbow Coalition activities served as National Coordinator for Organizational Relations for CISPES. Cepeda has had several incarnations, most recently as Director of the Council of Hispanic Agencies of Washington, D.C. In 1978 Cepeda attended the World Peace Council leadership meeting in Washington, D.C., set up by Representatives Dellums, Conyers, Edwards, and Rangel, participating as a member of the "Women's International Democratic Federation," whose U.S. branch is controlled by the CPUSA. Cepeda also has served as a member of SANE under Executive Director David Cortright, and as a member of the Board of Endorsers of NEST. David Cortright, on the Board of Endorsers of both NEST and CISPES, is an active participant in the U.S. Peace Council under Eugene "Gus" Newport.

Bill Zimmerman, following on his Viet Nam experience and his management, in 1976, of Jane Fonda's husband Tom Hayden's unsuccessful Senate race, founded Medical Aid to El Salvador (MAES) in 1981, with the endorsement of actors Ed Asner, Mike Farrell, and Martin Sheen, who also appears on letterhead as an endorser of Blase Bonpane's Office of the Americas. Zimmerman in addition to his "Countdown '87 media activities, appears, together with former MAES President Christina Courtright, on Newport's NEST letterhead as a member of the Board of Endorsers.

Several members of Congress including Rep. Ron Dellums and Rep. John Conyers, and then Representative, now Senator Tom Harkin, have endorsed MAES since its founding, sending out fundraising circulars under private official congressional letterhead.

Senator Harkin currently serves as Co-chair of the Center for International Policy, headed by former U.S. Ambassador to El Salvador Robert White. The Center for International Policy and the Center for Defense Information are creations of the Fund for Peace, which was founded in 1967. Board of Trustees of the Fund include leftist philanthropist Stewart Mott and Susan Horowitz, both of whom also serve on the Board of Advisers of White's Center for International Policy. Caleb Rossiter, a staff member of the Congressional Arms Control and Foreign Policy Caucus appears on the letterhead as a fellow on the staff of White's Center for International Policy.

In addition to serving as head of the Center for International Policy, former Ambassador White is also head of the Commission on U.S.-Central American Relations, established in 1982 as a project of the Center for Development Policy, itself established in 1977 by members of the Institute for Policy Studies. Lindsay Mattison, Executive Director of the Center for Development Policy is a member of the NEST Board of Endorsers. As noted earlier, Mattison, Melinda Rorick (Director, International Section of the Commission on U.S.-Central American Relations) and Marcus Raskin (Institute for Policy Studies) were among the sponsors of the July 10, 1986 reception for NEST. That reception was held at the Washington, D.C. home of Stewart Mott.

The Commission members include, among others, David Cortright (Executive Director, SANE/U.S. Peace Council/NEST), Bill Zimmerman (World Front in Solidarity with El Salvador/MAES/NEST, "Countdown '87"), Ed Asner (MAES/NEST), Martin Sheen (MAES/Office of the Americas), Charlie Clements (MAES, Salvador Medical Relief Fund/Office of the Americas), Frances Farenthold (CISPES endorser), Noam Chomsky (CISPES endorser), George Wald (CISPES endorser), Joe Eldridge (WOLA), John H. Coatsworth (NEST endorser), and Richard Feinberg (Institute for Policy Studies).

Charles Clements, a medical doctor who wrote Witness to War about time spent with the FMLN guerrillas, appears listed as an endorser of both MAES and Bonpane's Office of the Americas. Clements is a fund-raiser for Salvadoran Medical Relief Fund (SMRF), another FMLN/FDR support group. A 1986 CISPES "El Salvador Alert" article urged that funds be raised for NEST, MAES, and the Salvadoran Medical Relief Fund--with funds payable through CISPES.

Another MAES Board of Directors member is Joan Anderson, a member of the National Lawyers Guild which is considered controlled by the International Association of Democratic Lawyers, another Soviet front organization similar to the World Peace Council. Marc Van der Hout appears on the letterhead of NEST as "President, National Lawyers Guild."

SHARE's Executive Director Eileen Purcell was associated for eight years with the Catholic Social Services office of the San Francisco Archdiocese headed by Archbishop Quinn, where she also served as representative for the American Friends Services Committee on the pro-Sandinista Emergency Response Network together with Rep. Ron Dellums' Administrative Assistant Carlottia Scott and William Wipfler, Director of the Human Rights Office of the National Council of Churches. On June 21-26, 1986, Wipfler served as Delegation Coordinator for an "International Ecumenical Delegation Visit to El Salvador" made up of seven clergymen including Dr. Jorge Laura Braud, of the Presbyterian Church (USA), Professor at San Francisco Theological Seminary, in representation of the National Council of Churches (USA).

Laura Braud appears on letterhead among the original endorsers of SHARE, together with Msgr. Mendez Arceo, Rep. Ron Dellums, Rep. Robert Garcia, former-State Senator Julian Bond, Detroit Archbishop Thomas Gumbleton, former Attorney General Ramsey Clark, and journalist I.F. Stone. The original Board of Directors included Isabel Letelier of the Institute for Policy Studies (IPS) and Larry Birns of the Council on Hemispheric Affairs (COHA).

On May 14, 1986, now-former Representative Mike Barnes, then Chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee Western Hemisphere Subcommittee, held hearings on "The Air War and Political Developments in El Salvador." The campaign for the hearing originated with CISPES and was the subject of articles in the CISPES publication "El Salvador Alert." Among the persons testifying at the hearing were: Rep. John Conyers, then-Berkeley mayor Eugene "Gus" Newport (NEST), and Eileen Purcell (SHARE, representing Archbishop John R. Quinn of San Francisco). Rep. Dellums' Administrative Assistant Carlottia Scott submitted a written statement "regarding her recent trip to El Salvador as a member of a delegation sponsored by New El Salvador Today (NEST)." Rep. Conyers thanked the Committee for allowing him to bring Mayor Newport to the hearing.

Another witness at the Barnes' committee hearing was Michael Urquhart, Co-chairman of the Washington Area Labor Committee on Central America and the Caribbean, and President of Local 12 of the American Federation of Government Employees (AFGE). Urquhart played a prominent role in organizing U.S. labor participation in the November 22-23, 1986, "In Search of Peace Conference" organized by the FMLN labor front National Organization of Salvadoran Workers (UNTS) in San Salvador. Urquhart placed in the record of the Barnes' hearing a tract from an April 3-5, 1986, UNTS meeting. While Susana Cepeda, David Cortright, Br. Joseph Nangle and Mike Urquhart denied during the 1986 conference that UNTS was affiliated with the FMLN/FDR, UNTS spoke out directly in favor of the FMLN/FDR during the October 4-5, 1987, dialogue between the FMLN/FDR and the Government of El Salvador. The position laid out in the UNTS document submitted to the Barnes hearing was identical to the FMLN/FDR position. The demonstrations during the dialogue in favor of the FMLN/FDR, recorded and reported by the international media, were led by Marco Tulio Lima, head of UNTS. During the dialogue, UNTS members carried red flags, chanted in favor of the FMLN/FDR, and demanded a "peoples government." Subsequent articles written in the University of El Salvador newspaper by university organizations which are members of UNTS confirmed the relationship. Documents being transmitted from ERP Commander Joaquin Villalobos to FARN Commander Ferman Cienfuegas were captured by the Salvadoran military in February 1988. Those documents, referring to UNTS by the code name "Encendedor" describe in detail the FMLN-UNTS relationship.

The organizers of the "In Search of Peace Conference" were Francisco Acosta, a member of the Salvadoran Armed Forces of National Resistance (FARN/FAPU)-controlled labor federation FENASTRAS and representative of UNTS in the United States and Susana Cepeda, both of whom appear on the Conference letterhead as Conference Directors. Acosta is housed at 1300 Connecticut Avenue, the Machinists Union building, in Washington, D.C. FENASTRAS has observer status with the Moscow-line World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU) headquartered in Prague, Czechoslovakia. Only two U.S. labor officials attended the November 13-15, 1986, FENASTRAS conference in San Salvador, one of them, Jerry Oliveira of the International Association of Machinists, endorsed FENASTRAS by allowing his name to be placed on a FENASTRAS newspaper ad.

Acosta works closely in Washington, D.C., with America Soza, head of the U.S. office of the FMLN/FDR human rights front group organization Comadres, which won the 1984 Robert F. Kennedy Human Rights Award. According to FMLN/FARN defector Violeta Jovel, who was serving at the time as head of Comadres' Propaganda Commission, the Kennedy prize money went to the FMLN/FARN bank accounts in Mexico. The competition for that award was conducted by persons affiliated with, among others, the Institute for Policy Studies, which is financed by Cora Weiss, an heiress, benefactor of the Riverside Memorial Church's pastor Rev. William Sloane Coffin, and Director of the Church's Disarmament Program.

Among her other activities, Weiss funds the pro-Castro lobbying group NACLA (North American Congress on Latin America) and appears as a sponsor of SHARE. In 1977 Weiss funded a counter-ad to Joan Baez' "Appeal to the Conscience of Viet Nam." Weiss' ad was signed by, among others, CISPES-endorser Dave Dellinger of "Liberation" magazine and Richard Barnet of the Institute for Policy Studies. Michael T. Klare, a well-known NACLA member is also an "associate fellow" of the Institute for Policy Studies.

Among those appearing as endorsers of the 1986 UNTS "In Search of Peace" conference are: Jesse Jackson, Cora Weiss, CISPES, Ed Asner, Chicago Mayor Harold Washington, the Washington Area Labor Committee on Central America and the Caribbean (Mike Urquhart), David Cortright (SANE), Blase Bonpane (Office of the Americas), Archbishop Thomas Gumbleton, the United States Student Association (known as a front of the CPUSA), Br. Joseph Nangle (then-Director, National Conference of Superiors of Men) and Rev. William Sloane Coffin (Riverside Memorial Church). Sloane Coffin had given the eulogy for CPUSA Politburo member Sandy Pollack at the Riverside Church memorial service after her death in Cuba on January 15, 1985. Congressional sponsors of the UNTS Conference appearing in an ad in San Salvador papers December 19, 1986 included Representatives Conyers, Dellums, Dymally, Edwards, plus David Bonior (D-MICH), Michael Espy (D-MISS), Charles Hayes (D-ILL), Edward Markey (D-MASS), and Delegate Walter Fauntroy (D-DC).

Br. Joseph Nangle appears on letterhead as one of the original endorsers of CISPES. Nangle is mentioned in the October 10, 1987, press as "one of 10 American church activists who tried to accompany (Salvadoran) refugees from their camp in Honduras" to El Salvador. While organized by the refugees, the return movement was affected by two FMLN front groups, the Christian Committee for the Displaced (CRIPDES) and the National Repopulation Coordinator (CNR), which organized foreign participation in the event both in Honduras and El Salvador through SHARE. In a November 1985 publication, SHARE established its direct working relationship with and support for CRIPDES. CNR is an offshoot of CRIPDES, which, in turn, is a member of the FMLN/FDR labor front UNTS. A flyer produced by an organization calling itself "U.S. Interfaith Committee in Support of the Refugees of Mesa Grande" requested that tax-deductible contributions be sent to "Going Home/SHARE Foundation;" P.O. Box 21, Cardinal Station, Washington, D.C. 20064. The "Interfaith Committee" is coordinated by Jose Escobar of the "U.S. Office for Human Rights in El Salvador," (P.O. Box 14303; San Francisco, California) which is affiliated with FMLN/FDR front groups CRIPDES and the Non-Governmental Human Rights Commission (CDHES-NG). The leader of the ten-member Interfaith/Going Home delegation was San Francisco Bishop Gustav Shultz of the Association of Lutheran Evangelical Churches who also appears on the letterhead as an endorser of the 1986 UNTS "In Search of Peace" conference. Among others signing a paid ad that ran October 15, 1987, in San Salvador newspapers supporting the Mesa Grande repatriation to Berkeley "sister city" San Antonio Los Ranchos was Lori Hancock, who replaced Eugene "Gus" Newport as mayor of Berkeley, and Congresswomen Barbara Boxer (D-CA) and Nancy Pelosi (D-CA).

Many of the persons involved in these organizations came together during the April 25, 1986, Mobilization Actions for Peace, Jobs and Justice in Central America and South Africa. The Convenor of the Mobilization was David Reed, Director of the 60-member organization Coalition for a New Foreign and Military Policy (in 1981, the Coalition denied entry to the U.S. Peace Council in an 18-4 vote to ensure that its decisions were "not influenced by organizations that may have associations with a foreign power"). CPUSA politburo member Sandy Pollack had served as "labor liaison" for the 1982 New York disarmament rally, and was involved in putting together the coalition for the April 20, 1985, "Actions" before her January 19, 1985, death in Cuba. The Steering Committee for the April 25, 1986, Mobilization included, among others, David Cortright (SANE), the American Federation of Government Employees (AFGE), CISPES, the Rainbow Coalition, Witness for Peace, the National Council of Churches, and the Inter-Religious Task Force on Central America, which, in 1981, published a background paper which states "the majority of the people of El Salvador have chosen to unite under the leadership of the FDR, recognizing it as their legitimate representative." The Inter-Religious Task Force also appears as an endorser of the 1986 UNTS "In Search of Peace" conference.

The Mobilization Program Committee, which selected the speakers for the event, included Jack O'Dell (Rainbow Coalition), Angela Sanbrano (Executive Director, CISPES), Leslie Cagan (Mobilization for Survival), David Dyson (Head of the Union Label Department of the Almagamated Clothing and Textiles Workers Union and of the National Labor Committee for Democracy and Human Rights in El Salvador), Sister Maureen Fiedler of the Quixote Center, Rob Jones of the American Committee on Africa, and George Chauncey of the Presbyterian Church.

Selected to speak at the Mobilization were Rev. Jesse Jackson (Rainbow Coalition), Bishop Thomas Gumbleton (SHARE endorser), Ed Asner (Board of Directors of Medical Aid to El Salvador), AFGE President Kenneth Blaylock (UNTS conference endorser), and Eleanor Smeal, then-President of the National Organization for Women.

In addition to its support for the various mobilizations, the National Council of Churches finances the Ecumenical Program for Inter-American Communication and Action (EPICA) which is run by Rev. Phil Wheaton. Wheaton was a founding member of CISPES in 1980 together with Sandy Pollack. Wheaton accompanied Farid Handal during the West Coast portion of his 1980 trip to set up CISPES. Wheaton is a member of Christians for Socialism, a frequent contributor to Philip Agee's "Counter-spy" publication and also was an endorser of the UNTS "In Search of Peace" conference and as a sponsor of MAES. The National Network in Solidarity with the People of Nicaragua (Nicaragua Network), a Sandinista-sponsored public relations operation, was originally established in Wheaton's EPICA offices. In 1983, EPICA published an attack on AFL-CIO policies in Central America and accused Mike Hammer, one of two AFL-CIO land reform officials killed by a right-wing death squad in San Salvador on January 3, 1981, of being an agent of the CIA. EPICA was also involved in 1981 in the distribution of a forged State Department dissent document. CISPES' tax exempt Institute for Effective Action was patterned after the Nicaragua Network's Humanitarian Aid for Nicaraguan Democracy (HAND) tax exempt foundation. Wheaton travelled to El Salvador November 20, 1987, as part of a Central American Refugee Network (CARNET) sanctuary movement delegation.

FDR leaders Guillermo Ungo, Ruben Zamora and Hector Oquelí returned to El Salvador November 23. The international support group that accompanied the FDR leaders included Bianca Jagger, Heather Foote (Former WOLA Director, now Coordinator for the Unitarian Universalist Service Committee), David Dyson (Amalgamated Clothing and Textiles Union/member of Mobilization Program Committee for the April 25, 1986, mobilization "Actions for Peace, Jobs and Justice in Central America and South Africa"), Rep. Moakley Staffer Jim McGovern, Rep. Lantos Staffer and Congressional Human Rights Caucus Member Alexandra Arreaga, and Jaqueline Mazza of the House Democratic Study Group. Other U.S. members of the international support group included Br. Joe Nangle (CISPES/participant in the November 1986 UNTS "In Search of Peace" Conference/October 1987 Mesa Grande Repatriation), WOLA's David Holiday, Rep. Gejdenson Staffer Kathleen Bertelson, and Rev. Benton Rhoades of the National Council of Churches.

The overlapping membership in these organizations by these individuals demonstrates just how few persons have been at the heart of the FMLN/FDR support network in the United States. Membership affiliations also suggest a higher degree of penetration by the CPUSA than is generally recognized. Through fraternal relations between the Communist Party of El Salvador and the CPUSA, and through front organizations such as the World Peace Council and its U.S. affiliate the U.S. Peace Council, the FMLN/FDR has sought to manipulate U.S. public opinion against U.S. support for the democratic process in El Salvador. Instruments include the World Front in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador, CISPES, NEST, MAES, SMRF, Office of the Americas, and SHARE--with the support of a small handful of members of Congress who have endorsed these organizations.

Notwithstanding actions taken to close the Palestine Liberation Organization Information Office in Washington, D.C., the FDR Solidarity Information Office (Box 2793 New York, N.Y. 10163), Comadres (Box 21299 Washington, D.C. 20009-0799) and UNTS/FENASTRAS (1300 Connecticut Avenue, Room 808, Washington, D.C. 20036) continue to function as foreign agents for the communist Salvadoran guerrillas of the FMLN/FDR--with the help of a number of U.S. support organizations.

THE INTERNATIONAL FRONT SUPPORT NETWORK

Over the past seven years, a limited number of persons and organizations have played a key role in supporting the FMLN/FDR in El Salvador and in opposing the democratic process in Central America. Disputes about the political coloration and agendas of certain Salvadoran organizations marked the early years of the El Salvador debate. Later evidence, however, has now exposed an array of some 11 front organizations created by the FMLN/FDR and linked to various counterpart organizations in the U.S. While many supporters of these U.S. counterpart organizations did so ostensibly in opposition to a repressive situation in El Salvador, the political solution of the FMLN/FDR front groups being supported was not democracy, but a Marxist-Leninist political system. Opposition to repression was simply a vehicle to mobilize U.S. support to achieve their concealed political goals.

A review of the leadership and affiliation of the U.S. organizations which have supported the FMLN/FDR front groups evidences a web of entanglement which involves a range of persons from members of the U.S. Communist Party (CPUSA) to well-intentioned activist individuals opposed to the non-democratic system which prevailed in El Salvador prior to President Duarte's election in 1984. A review of these U.S. FMLN/FDR support organizations suggests that many were, and some remain, under the control or influence of the CPUSA and that the CPUSA tried to inject itself into many organizations which did not share fully CPUSA objectives. In many instances, members of Congress endorsed organizations and activities without sufficient research into the nature of the organization or the backgrounds of the persons involved.

The ubiquitous Soviet front group, the World Peace Council, emerges as a link in the chain of organizations affecting U.S. policy toward El Salvador. The World Peace Council is controlled by the Soviet Committee for the Defense of Peace, which is a Moscow based "public" organization that receives direction and overall guidance from the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. The Committe is presided over by Genrikh Borovik who was identified during a London libel trial as a former agent of the Tenth Department of the KGB's Second Chief Directorate and brother-in-law of Vladimir Kyuchkov, head of the KGB's First Chief Directorate, responsible for all Soviet intelligence activities abroad.

The World Peace Council was headed until April 24, 1986, by Romesh Chandra, a member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of India. In a reorganization of the WPC orchestrated by the International Department of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU)(headed by former Soviet Ambassador to the U.S. Anatoly Dobrynin), Chandra was continued as WPC President. Effective control, however, was given to Finnish Soviet-line Communist Party member Johannes Pakaslahti who was elected to the restored position of Secretary General. Chandra was made WPC President in 1977 when the Secretary General position was abolished in a previous reorganization. Former Cuernavaca Bishop Sergio Mendez Arceo is Honorary President of the World Peace Council. Former Berkeley, California, Mayor Eugene "Gus" Newport appears as another link in the chain, serving as Vice Chairman of the World Peace Council, as Co-chairman of the World Peace Council U. S. affiliate, the U.S. Peace Council, and as Executive Director of the FMLN/FDR support group New El Salvador Today (NEST).

While mayor, Newport's political career was supported by Rep. Ron Dellums whose Eighth Congressional District includes Berkeley. In 1978 Representatives Dellums, John Conyers (D-MI), Don Edwards (D-CA), and Charles Rangel (D-NY) set up a World Peace Council leadership meeting in Washington, D.C. That meeting was attended by World Peace Council President Chandra, Oleg Kharkhardin of the CPSU Central Committee, and KGB Colonel Radomir Bogdanov. In 1981 Dellums, together with Representatives Conyers, Edwards, George Crockett (D-MI), Ted Weiss (D-NY), Mickey Leland (D-TX), and Mervyn Dymally (D-CA), organized a meeting in the Rayburn House Office Building for then World Peace Council Chairman Chandra to lobby members of Congress. In 1986 Rep. Dellums' Administrative Assistant Carlottia Scott attended the World Peace Council World Congress in Copenhagen on behalf of Dellums, who was listed as a member of the International Preparatory Committee of the Copenhagen Congress.

Newport's NEST organization provides support to the Popular Liberation Forces (FPL) faction of the FMLN, primarily through a sister city-type program that links Berkeley, California, with San Antonio Los Ranchos, Chalatenango; Cambridge, Massachusetts, with San Jose Las Flores, Chalatenango; Madison, Wisconsin, with Arcatao, Chalatenango and Baltimore, Maryland, with El Barillo, Cuscatlan. All four towns are in areas influenced by the FPL.

NEST's Board of Endorsers includes Representatives Dellums and Dymally, and, among others, SANE Executive Director David Cortright, Susana Cepeda (Rainbow Coalition/SANE/Women's International Democratic Federation/Washington D.C. Council of Hispanic Agencies), Bill Zimmerman (Chairman, Medical Aid to El Salvador (MAES)), Christina Courtright (President, MAES), Ed Asner (Board of Directors, MAES) and Blase Bonpane (founder and Director, Office of the Americas). Bonpane is a former Maryknoll priest and liberation theologian, who in 1982 was asked by Rosario Murillo, common-law wife of Daniel Ortega, to organize delegations of prominent Americans to visit Nicaragua. The Office of the Americas was created primarily for this purpose. In 1984 Bonpane organized a nine-city tour in favor of the Sandinista government that included Jackson Brown, Diane Ladd, and MAES-endorsers Mike Farrell and then-Georgia State Senator Julian Bond.

Two key CPUSA members served together with Eugene "Gus" Newport on the U.S. Peace Council: Michael Myerson, a longtime Communist activist and member of the CPUSA Political Committee, and Alexandra "Sandy" Pollack of the CPUSA Central Committee. After helping to found the U.S. Peace Council in 1979, Myerson was named its Executive Director and Pollack the International Solidarity Coordinator. Pollack died in a plane crash in Cuba on January 19, 1985, while en route to Managua. In addition to her U.S. Peace Council role, Pollack was a founding member in 1980 of the Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador (CISPES).

After helping to found the U.S. Peace Council in 1979 and CISPES in 1980, CPUSA member Pollack helped found the World Front in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador, in Mexico City in 1982. Another founder and first President of the World Front was Bill Zimmerman, who, in 1981, had founded Medical Aid to El Salvador patterned after his previous organization Medical Aid to Indochina which provided aid to the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong. After Zimmerman was elected President of the World Front, Pollack was assigned to the Permanent Bureau of the World Front together with Honorary World Peace Council President former Cuernavaca Bishop Sergio Mendez Arceo. In addition to his World Peace Council and World Front activities, Msgr. Mendez Arceo established a reputation as a fundraiser and manager of FMLN bank accounts in Mexico. Heidi Tarver, National Coordinator of CISPES, was named a member of the Executive Secretariat of the World Front. Tarver also appears on letterhead as one of the original endorsers--together with Msgr. Mendez Arceo--of the "Salvadorean Humanitarian Aid, Research and Education Foundation" (SHARE), founded in 1981.

Rep. Dellums' Administrative Assistant Carlottia Scott figures as another link in the chain of FMLN/FDR support organizations. Scott travelled to El Salvador April 25-May 4, 1986, under New El Salvador Today auspices. In addition to her participation in World Peace Council activities, Scott's other involvement with leftist groups in the hemisphere was well established in documents captured following the death of Grenada's New Jewel Movement leader Maurice Bishop and the subsequent U.S. liberation of the island.

On July 10, 1986, Carlottia Scott and NEST Director Tracey Schear (Newport's number two in the organization) spoke at a Capitol Hill cocktail "to welcome New El Salvador Today to Washington, D.C." The sponsors of the NEST gathering were Representatives Dellums, Dymally, and Conyers and the National Rainbow Coalition, Inc., together with David Cortright (Executive Director, SANE), Hilda Howland (Member-at-large, Council of the District of Columbia); Lindsay Mattison

Rep. Dellums' and his Administrative Assistant Scott's involvement with Sandy Pollack, Rev. Phil Wheaton and others in the establishment of CISPES was documented with the capture of the diary belonging to Farid Handal, brother of Salvadoran Communist Party General Secretary Shafik Handal and head of the Commission for Finance of the FMLN's United Revolutionary Directorate (DRU). The diary recorded Farid Handal's use of Dellum's Congressional offices when Handal coordinated with Sandy Pollack and members of the Washington, D.C. chapter of the CPUSA on the establishment of the Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador (CISPES) in February 1980. Farid Handal's diary concerning his visit to establish CISPES in 1980 states the following :

> "The comrades of the Cuban Mission had recommended Juan Ferreira, from Uruguay. I contacted him at WOLA (Washington Office on Latin America). He helped me at WOLA and at the National Council of Churches....
> "I contacted Isabel Letelier who had prepared a seminar at the Institute for Policy Studies of Washington. The seminar would be based on a talk by Napoleon Gonzalez, which had already been announced. Gonzalez was in Washington at the invitation of Amnesty International. Napoleon Gonzalez had already spoken at WOLA, at which time he had mainly covered the situation of his newspaper and his person as objects of repression. Isabel Letelier informed me that at the last moment Napoleon had declined participation saying he was leaving for Los Angeles. Because of this Isabel asked that I take over the talk. I agreed, of course. It took place Monday from 12:30 until 3:00 PM.

The U.S. Peace Council appears listed as a member of the Advisory Council of CISPES. According to a February 19, 1987 statement, other CISPES endorsers include Rep. In the original CISPES endorsement, only Crockett's name appeared. Subsequently, CISPES was endorsed by Representatives Dellums, Conyers, Dymally, and Leland.

In addition to his CISPES endorsement, Haskell Wexler also appears listed as an endorser of Blase Bonpane's Office of the America's and as a fundraiser for the tax-exempt Central America Media Education Project. Wexler, a radical film-maker, circulated a fundraising letter on behalf of the Central American Media Education Project that said the Media Project "works with" Witness for Peace, Medical Aid for El Salvador, the Washington Office on Latin America (WOLA), the National Sanctuary Defense Fund, the Christic Institute, the Institute for Policy Studies "and dozens of others."

Two members of the Central America Media Education Project Board of Directors also appear listed as Board Members of the San Francisco-based anti-Contra group Neighbor-to-Neighbor. The latter group works closely with the Committee of Concern for Central America, an anti-Contra group headed by Mike Farrell, who also appears as a fundraiser for Medical Aid for El Salvador. Rosarillo Murillo is reported to have been involved in facilitating the formation of the Committee of Concern. Neighbor-to-Neighbor and the Committee of Concern, produced in 1985 a controversial documentary entitled "Faces of War."

The Arca Foundation of Washington, D.C., which funds the Committee of Concern, also funds the Central America Media Education Project. The head of the Arca Foundation is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Media Education Project.

According to Wexler's fundraising letter, the Central America Media Education Project (though a registered not-for-profit organization) is actually run by Fenton Communications, formed January 8, 1982 by former 1970's White Panther Party radical and Rolling Stone magazine Staffer David S. Fenton. Fenton Communications' Washington office is headed by Nick Allen, formerly Executive Director of Neighbor-to-Neighbor and Executive Producer of the "Faces of War" documentary. Jack O'Dell, International Affairs Advisor; Susana Cepeda, then-Latin American Affairs Advisor; and Suzanne Ross are only a few of the Rainbow Coalition members whose names appear as endorsers of these groups. Suzanne Ross, in addition to her Rainbow Coalition activities served as National Coordinator for Organizational Relations for CISPES. Cepeda has had several incarnations, most recently as Director of the Council of Hispanic Agencies of Washington, D.C. In 1978 Cepeda attended the World Peace Council leadership meeting in Washington, D.C., set up by Representatives Dellums, Conyers, Edwards, and Rangel, participating as a member of the "Women's International Democratic Federation," whose U.S. branch is controlled by the CPUSA. Cepeda also has served as a member of SANE under Executive Director David Cortright, and as a member of the Board of Endorsers of NEST. David Cortright, on the Board of Endorsers of both NEST and CISPES, is an active participant in the U.S. Peace Council under Eugene "Gus" Newport.

Over the past seven years, a limited number of persons and organizations have played a key role in supporting the FMLN/FDR in El Salvador and in opposing the democratic process in Central America. Disputes about the political coloration and agendas of certain Salvadoran organizations marked the early years of the El Salvador debate. Later evidence, however, has now exposed an array of some 11 front organizations created by the FMLN/FDR and linked to various counterpart organizations in the U.S. While many supporters of these U.S. counterpart organizations did so ostensibly in opposition to a repressive situation in El Salvador, the political solution of the FMLN/FDR front groups being supported was not democracy, but a Marxist-Leninist political system. Opposition to repression was simply a vehicle to mobilize U.S. support to achieve their concealed political goals.

A review of the leadership and affiliation of the U.S. organizations which have supported the FMLN/FDR front groups evidences a web of entanglement which involves a range of persons from members of the U.S. Communist Party (CPUSA) to well-intentioned activist individuals opposed to the non-democratic system which prevailed in El Salvador prior to President Duarte's election in 1984. A review of these U.S. FMLN/FDR support organizations suggests that many were, and some remain, under the control or influence of the CPUSA and that the CPUSA tried to inject itself into many organizations which did not share fully CPUSA objectives. In many instances, members of Congress endorsed organizations and activities without sufficient research into the nature of the organization or the backgrounds of the persons involved.

The ubiquitous Soviet front group, the World Peace Council, emerges as a link in the chain of organizations affecting U.S. policy toward El Salvador. The World Peace Council is controlled by the Soviet Committee for the Defense of Peace, which is a Moscow based "public" organization that receives direction and overall guidance from the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. The Committe is presided over by Genrikh Borovik who was identified during a London libel trial as a former agent of the Tenth Department of the KGB's Second Chief Directorate and brother-in-law of Vladimir Kyuchkov, head of the KGB's First Chief Directorate, responsible for all Soviet intelligence activities abroad.

The World Peace Council was headed until April 24, 1986, by Romesh Chandra, a member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of India. In a reorganization of the WPC orchestrated by the International Department of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU)(headed by former Soviet Ambassador to the U.S. Anatoly Dobrynin), Chandra was continued as WPC President. Effective control, however, was given to Finnish Soviet-line Communist Party member Johannes Pakaslahti who was elected to the restored position of Secretary General. Chandra was made WPC President in 1977 when the Secretary General position was abolished in a previous reorganization. Former Cuernavaca Bishop Sergio Mendez Arceo is Honorary President of the World Peace Council. Former Berkeley, California, Mayor Eugene "Gus" Newport appears as another link in the chain, serving as Vice Chairman of the World Peace Council, as Co-chairman of the World Peace Council U. S. affiliate, the U.S. Peace Council, and as Executive Director of the FMLN/FDR support group New El Salvador Today (NEST).

While mayor, Newport's political career was supported by Rep. Ron Dellums whose Eighth Congressional District includes Berkeley. In 1978 Representatives Dellums, John Conyers (D-MI), Don Edwards (D-CA), and Charles Rangel (D-NY) set up a World Peace Council leadership meeting in Washington, D.C. That meeting was attended by World Peace Council President Chandra, Oleg Kharkhardin of the CPSU Central Committee, and KGB Colonel Radomir Bogdanov. In 1981 Dellums, together with Representatives Conyers, Edwards, George Crockett (D-MI), Ted Weiss (D-NY), Mickey Leland (D-TX), and Mervyn Dymally (D-CA), organized a meeting in the Rayburn House Office Building for then World Peace Council Chairman Chandra to lobby members of Congress. In 1986 Rep. Dellums' Administrative Assistant Carlottia Scott attended the World Peace Council World Congress in Copenhagen on behalf of Dellums, who was listed as a member of the International Preparatory Committee of the Copenhagen Congress.

Newport's NEST organization provides support to the Popular Liberation Forces (FPL) faction of the FMLN, primarily through a sister city-type program that links Berkeley, California, with San Antonio Los Ranchos, Chalatenango; Cambridge, Massachusetts, with San Jose Las Flores, Chalatenango; Madison, Wisconsin, with Arcatao, Chalatenango and Baltimore, Maryland, with El Barillo, Cuscatlan. All four towns are in areas influenced by the FPL.

The campaign for the hearing originated with CISPES and was the subject of articles in the CISPES publication "El Salvador Alert." Among the persons testifying at the hearing were: Rep. John Conyers, then-Berkeley mayor Eugene "Gus" Newport (NEST), and Eileen Purcell (SHARE, representing Archbishop John R. Quinn of San Francisco). Rep. Dellums' Administrative Assistant Carlottia Scott submitted a written statement "regarding her recent trip to El Salvador as a member of a delegation sponsored by New El Salvador Today (NEST)." Rep. Conyers thanked the Committee for allowing him to bring Mayor Newport to the hearing.

Another witness at the Barnes' committee hearing was Michael Urquhart, Co-chairman of the Washington Area Labor Committee on Central America and the Caribbean, and President of Local 12 of the American Federation of Government Employees (AFGE). Urquhart played a prominent role in organizing U.S. labor participation in the November 22-23, 1986, "In Search of Peace Conference" organized by the FMLN labor front National Organization of Salvadoran Workers (UNTS) in San Salvador. Urquhart placed in the record of the Barnes' hearing a tract from an April 3-5, 1986, UNTS meeting. While Susana Cepeda, David Cortright, Br. Joseph Nangle and Mike Urquhart denied during the 1986 conference that UNTS was affiliated with the FMLN/FDR, UNTS spoke out directly in favor of the FMLN/FDR during the October 4-5, 1987, dialogue between the FMLN/FDR and the Government of El Salvador. The position laid out in the UNTS document submitted to the Barnes hearing was identical to the FMLN/FDR position. The demonstrations during the dialogue in favor of the FMLN/FDR, recorded and reported by the international media, were led by Marco Tulio Lima, head of UNTS. During the dialogue, UNTS members carried red flags, chanted in favor of the FMLN/FDR, and demanded a "peoples government." Subsequent articles written in the University of El Salvador newspaper by university organizations which are members of UNTS confirmed the relationship.

The organizers of the "In Search of Peace Conference" were Francisco Acosta, a member of the Salvadoran Armed Forces of National Resistance (FARN/FAPU)-controlled labor federation FENASTRAS and representative of UNTS in the United States and Susana Cepeda, both of whom appear on the Conference letterhead as Conference Directors. Acosta is housed at 1300 Connecticut Avenue, the Machinists Union building, in Washington, D.C. FENASTRAS has observer status with the Moscow-line World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU) headquartered in Prague, Czechoslovakia. Only two U.S. labor officials attended the November 13-15, 1986, FENASTRAS conference in San Salvador, one of them, Jerry Oliveira of the International Association of Machinists, endorsed FENASTRAS by allowing his name to be placed on a FENASTRAS newspaper ad.

Acosta works closely in Washington, D.C., with America Soza, head of the U.S. office of the FMLN/FDR human rights front group organization Comadres, which won the 1984 Robert F. Kennedy Human Rights Award. According to FMLN/FARN defector Violeta Jovel, who was serving at the time as head of Comadres' Propaganda Commission, the Kennedy prize money went to the FMLN/FARN bank accounts in Mexico. The competition for that award was conducted by persons affiliated with, among others, the Institute for Policy Studies, which is financed by Cora Weiss, an heiress, benefactor of the Riverside Memorial Church's pastor Rev. William Sloane Coffin, and Director of the Church's Disarmament Program.

Among her other activities, Weiss funds the pro-Castro lobbying group NACLA (North American Congress on Latin America) and appears as a sponsor of SHARE. In 1977 Weiss funded a counter-ad to Joan Baez' "Appeal to the Conscience of Viet Nam." Weiss' ad was signed by, among others, CISPES-endorser Dave Dellinger of "Liberation" magazine and Richard Barnet of the Institute for Policy Studies. Michael T. Klare, a well-known NACLA member is also an "associate fellow" of the Institute for Policy Studies.

Among those appearing as endorsers of the 1986 UNTS "In Search of Peace" conference are: Jesse Jackson, Cora Weiss, CISPES, Ed Asner, Chicago Mayor Harold Washington, the Washington Area Labor Committee on Central America and the Caribbean (Mike Urquhart), David Cortright (SANE), Blase Bonpane (Office of the Americas), Archbishop Thomas Gumbleton, the United States Student Assciation (known as a front of the CPUSA), Br. Joseph Nangle (then-Director, National Conference of Superiors of Men) and Rev. William Sloane Coffin (Riverside Memorial Church). Sloane Coffin had given the eulogy for CPUSA Politburo member Sandy Pollack at the Riverside Church memorial service after her death in Cuba on January 15, 1985. Congressional sponsors of the UNTS Conference appearing in an ad in San Salvador papers December 19, 1986 included Representatives Conyers, Dellums, Dymally, Edwards, plus David Bonior (D-MICH), Michael Espy (D-MISS), Charles Hayes (D-ILL), Edward Markey (D-MASS), and Delegate Walter Fauntroy (D-DC).

Br. Joseph Nangle appears on letterhead as one of the original endorsers of CISPES. Nangle is mentioned in the October 10, 1987, press as "one of 10 American church activists who tried to accompany (Salvadoran) refugees from their camp in Honduras" to El Salvador. While organized by the refugees, the return movement was affected by two FMLN front groups, the Christian Committee for the Displaced (CRIPDES) and the National Repopulation Coordinator (CNR), which organized foreign participation in the event both in Honduras and El Salvador through SHARE. In a November 1985 publication, SHARE established its direct working relationship with and support for CRIPDES. CNR is an offshoot of CRIPDES, which, in turn, is a member of the FMLN/FDR labor front UNTS. A flyer produced by an organization calling itself "U.S. Interfaith Committee in Support of the Refugees of Mesa Grande" requested that tax-deductible contributions be sent to "Going Home/SHARE Foundation;" P.O. Box 21, Cardinal Station, Washington, D.C. 20064. The "Interfaith Committee" is coordinated by Jose Escobar of the "U.S. Office for Human Rights in El Salvador," (P.O. Box 14303; San Francisco, California) which is affiliated with FMLN/FDR front groups CRIPDES and the Non-Governmental Human Rights Commission (CDHES-NG). The leader of the ten-member Interfaith/Going Home delegation was San Francisco Bishop Gustav Shultz of the Association of Lutheran Evangelical Churches who also appears on the letterhead as an endorser of the 1986 UNTS "In Search of Peace" conference. Among others signing a paid ad that ran October 15, 1987, in San Salvador newspapers supporting the Mesa Grande repatriation to Berkeley "sister city" San Antonio Los Ranchos was Lori Hancock, who replaced Eugene "Gus" Newport as mayor of Berkeley; and Congresswomen Barbara Boxer (D-CA) and Nancy Pelosi (D-CA).

Many of the persons involved in these organizations came together during the April 25, 1986, Mobilization Actions for Peace, Jobs and Justice in Central America and South Africa. The Convenor of the Mobilization was David Reed, Director of the 60-member organization Coalition for a New Foreign and Military Policy (in 1981, the Coalition denied entry to the U.S. Peace Council in an 18-4 vote to ensure that its decisions were "not influenced by organizations that may have associations with a foreign power"). CPUSA politburo member Sandy Pollack had served as "labor liaison" for the 1982 New York disarmament rally, and was involved in putting together the coalition for the April 20, 1985, "Actions" before her January 19, 1985, death in Cuba. The Steering Committee for the April 25, 1986, Mobilization included, among others, David Cortright (SANE), the American Federation of Government Employees (AFGE), CISPES, the Rainbow Coalition, Witness for Peace, the National Council of Churches, and the Inter-Religious Task Force on Central America, which, in 1981, published a background paper which states "the majority of the people of El Salvador have chosen to unite under the leadership of the FDR, recognizing it as their legitimate representative." The Inter-Religious Task Force also appears as an endorser of the 1986 UNTS "In Search of Peace" conference.

The Mobilization Program Committee, which selected the speakers for the event, included Jack O'Dell (Rainbow Coalition), Angela Sanbrano (Executive Director, CISPES), Leslie Cagan (Mobilization for Survival), David Dyson (Head of the Union Label Department of the Almagamated Clothing and Textiles Workers Union and of the National Labor Committee for Democracy and Human Rights in El Salvador), Sister Maureen Fiedler of the Quixote Center, Rob Jones of the American Committee on Africa, and George Chauncey of the Presbyterian Church.

RELEASED

Selected to speak at the Mobilization were Rev. Jesse Jackson (Rainbow Coalition), Bishop Thomas Gumbleton (SHARE endorser), Ed Asner (Board of Directors of Medical Aid to El Salvador), AFGE President Kenneth Blaylock (UNTS conference endorser), and Eleanor Smeal, then-President of the National Organization for Women.

In addition to its support for the various mobilizations, the National Council of Churches finances the Ecumenical Program for Inter-American Communication and Action (EPICA) which is run by Rev. Phil Wheaton. Wheaton was a founding member of CISPES in 1980 together with Sandy Pollack. Wheaton accompanied Farid Handal during the West Coast portion of his 1980 trip to set up CISPES. Wheaton is a member of Christians for Socialism, a frequent contributor to Philip Agee's "Counter-spy" publication and also was an endorser of the UNTS "In Search of Peace" conference and as a sponsor of MAES. The National Network in Solidarity with the People of Nicaragua (Nicaragua Network), a Sandinista-sponsored public relations operation, was originally established in Wheaton's EPICA offices. In 1983, EPICA published an attack on AFL-CIO policies in Central America and accused Mike Hammer, one of two AFL-CIO land reform officials killed by a right-wing death squad in San Salvador on January 3, 1981, of being an agent of the CIA. EPICA was also involved in 1981 in the distribution of a forged State Department dissent document. CISPES' tax exempt Institute for Effective Action was patterned after the Nicaragua Network's Humanitarian Aid for Nicaraguan Democracy (HAND) tax exempt foundation. Wheaton travelled to El Salvador November 20, 1987, as part of a Central American Refugee Network (CARNET) sanctuary movement delegation.

The overlapping membership in these organizations by these individuals demonstrates just how few persons have been at the heart of the FMLN/FDR support network in the United States. Membership affiliations also suggest a higher degree of penetration by the CPUSA than is generally recognized. Through fraternal relations between the Communist Party of El Salvador and the CPUSA, and through front organizations such as the World Peace Council and its U.S. affiliate the U.S. Peace Council, the FMLN/FDR has sought to manipulate U.S. public opinion against U.S. support for the democratic process in El Salvador. Instruments include the World Front in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador, CISPES, NEST, MAES, SMRF, Office of the Americas, and SHARE--with the support of a small handful of members of Congress who have endorsed these organizations, including the current Chairman of the House Western Hemisphere Affairs Subcommittee, Rep. George Crockett.

Notwithstanding actions taken to close the Palestine Liberation Organization Information Office in Washington, D.C., the FDR Solidarity Information Office (Box 2793 New York, N.Y. 10163), Comadres (Box 21299 Washington, D.C. 20009-0799) and UNTS/FENASTRAS (1300 Connecticut Avenue, Room 808, Washington, D.C. 20036) continue to function as foreign agents for the communist Salvadoran guerrillas of the FMLN/FDR--with the help of a number of U.S. support organizations.

SUBJECT: U.S. MEXICO ENERGY BILATERALS - 12TH SESSION

1. SUMMARY: AT THE RECENT U.S. - MEXICO ENERGY BILATERAL, PEMEX OFFICIALS STATED THE FUTURE OIL EXPORT MIX WILL HAVE MORE HEAVY CRUDES AND LESS LIGHT CRUDES. THEY SEE FAIRLY STABLE PRICES WITH NO LIKELIHOOD OF A PRICE COLLAPSE. MEXICO'S DOMESTIC USE OF ENERGY GREW AT A FAST PACE IN 1989, WITH GASOLINE DEMAND UP 13 PERCENT. MEXICO IS INTERESTED IN ADDITIONAL NATURAL GAS IMPORTS FROM THE U.S. THE TWO DELEGATIONS AGREED TO GO AHEAD ON THE ELECTRICITY STUDY THAT HAS STRONG SUPPORT FROM SEMIP OFFICIALS. THE DOE DELEGATES SAID DOE IS VERY SUPPORTIVE OF THE CLEAN AIR STUDY BUT COULD NOT MAKE ANY FIRM COMMITMENT. END SUMMARY

2. THE 12TH U.S.-MEXICO ENERGY BILATERALS WERE HELD IN MEXICO CITY ON DECEMBER 8-9, 1989. THE U.S. DELEGATION

WAS HEADED BY DOE DAS FOR INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS THAD GRUNDY.

3. IN DISCUSSING THE INTERNATIONAL OIL MARKET, PEMEX OFFICIALS BELIEVF THERE IS NO DANGER OF AN OIL PRICE COLLAPSE. THEY ANTICIPATE FLAT U.S. CONSUMPTION AND GROWTH IN THE DEVELOPING WORLD. THEY STATED THAT NON-OPEC PRODUCTION IS NOW A NON-ISSUE AND THAT OPEC HAS MORE MARKET CONTROL OF THE OIL MARKET THAN IT HAS HAD IN MANY YEARS. PEMEX OFFICIALS UNDERSTAND THAT SOVIET PRODUCTION IS LESS THAN ANTICIPATED. THEY LOOK FOR SWEET CRUDE PRICES TO CONTINUE TO BE STRONGER THAN SOUR CRUDE PRICES. ANALYZING THE FIRST QUARTER OF 1990, THE KEY ISSUE IS THE PRODUCTION OF KUWAIT AND UAE.
4. PEMEX OFFICIALS POINTED OUT THE PRICE DIVERGENCES AMONG THE VARIOUS CRUDES USED AS MARKET YARDSTICKS, SUCH AS WTI, ANS, BRENT AND DUBAI. THESE DIVERGENCES MAKE THE PRICING FORMULAS FOR MEXICAN CRUDES MORE DIFFICULT TO MANAGE. FROM THE MEXICAN POINT OF VIEW, CRUDE SALES TO THE FAR EAST ARE NOW FINANCIALLY UNATTRACTIVE COMPARED TO OTHER MARKETS, BUT DIVERSIFICATION OF BUYERS REMAINS AN IMPORTANT CONSIDERATION FOR PEMEX. IN THE FUTURE MEXICO WILL BE EXPORTING GREATER QUANTITIES OF MAYA CRUDE AND LESS QUANTITIES OF THE LIGHTER CRUDES. PEMEX OFFICIALS STRESSED FUTURE OIL MARKET CONDITIONS WILL PUT A PREMIUM ON THE MARKETING ABILITY OF OIL PRODUCING FIRMS. PEMEX WILL BE DOING MORE PRODUCT TRADING, PERHAPS SOME PROCESSING DEALS. PEMEX HAS EIGHTEEN CLIENTS IN THE UNITED STATES AND ABOUT 56 PERCENT OF MEXICAN OIL GOES TO THE UNITED STATES.

5. THE SEMIP DELEGATES SUMMARIZED THE RECENT PERFORMANCE OF THE MEXICAN ECONOMY, EMPHASIZING THE DECLINE IN

INFLATION AND THE GROWTH OF CERTAIN SECTORS OF THE ECONOMY, ESPECIALLY THE MANUFACTURING SECTOR. MEXICO'S USE OF ENERGY GREW AT A FAST PACE IN 1989. RESIDENTIAL ELECTRICITY USE INCREASED 12.5 PERCENT, AGRICULTURAL WAS UP 11.8 PERCENT AND INDUSTRIAL USE WENT UP 8 PERCENT. INSTALLED CAPACITY FOR ELECTRICITY GENERATION GREW 7.3 PERCENT FROM JANUARY THROUGH SEPTEMBER 1989. GASOLINE DEMAND JUMPED 13 PERCENT BUT SEMIP OFFICIALS HOPE THE ANTI-POLLUTION MEASURES WILL CUT THE GROWTH OF GASOLINE DEMAND. SEMIP OFFICIALS EXPLAINED THAT EACH CAR IN MEXICO CITY IS ASSIGNED ONE OF FIVE COLORS BASED ON LAST DIGIT OF THE LICENSE PLATE. EACH CAR MUST NOT BE DRIVEN ONE WORK DAY OF THE WEEK, DEPENDING ON THE COLOR. SEMIP OFFICIALS

ESTIMATE THAT MEXICO CITY HAS AT LEAST 2 MILLION VEHICLES AND TWO-THIRDS ARE OLDER THAN FIVE YEARS. THE GASOLINE SAVINGS COME FROM FEWER VEHICLES ON THE ROAD AND THESE VEHICLES COMPLETING TRIPS IN LESS TIME THAN BEFORE. MEXICO HAS RAISED ELECTRICITY PRICES, BUT NOT ENOUGH TIME HAS PASSED TO DETERMINE IF THIS WILL HALT THE INCREASE IN ELECTRICITY DEMAND.

6. THE MEXICAN DELEGATION WAS VERY INTERESTED IN THE OUTLOOK FOR THE U.S. NATURAL GAS MARKET PECAUSE MFXICO IMPORTS NATURAL GAS FROM THE UNITED STATES AND WOULD LIKE TO INCRFASE NATURAL GAS PURCHASES IN THE FUTURE. DOE OFFICIALS EXPLAINED THAT THE NATURAL GAS BUBBLE THAT HELD DOWN U.S. PRICES IS NOW ENDING, EXCEPT FOR SPECIAL CIRCUMSTANCES IN SOME REGIONAL MARKETS. DOE OFFICIALS PRFDICT THAT NATURAL GAS PRICES WILL RISE TO LFVFLS IN THF COMING YFARS WHERE NATURAL GAS BEGINS TO PRICE ITSELF OUT OF THE RESIDENTIAL AND COMMFRCIAL MARKFTS. THF MFXICAN DELEGATIOM STATFD THEIR HIGHEST PRIORITY FOR NATURAL GAS IS FOR THE PFTROCHEMICAL INDUSTRY AND FOR ISE BY INDUSTRIES IN CITIES WITH POLLUTION PROBLFMS, SUCH AS MEXICO CITY.

PROCESS THAT DOE IS CONDUCTING IM THE UNITED STATES TO FORM A NEW NATIONAL ENERGY STRATEGY. HE STATED THE OBJECTIVFS WERE TO GUARANTEE FNERGY EFFICIENCY; STRENGTHEN LINKS WITH THE ECONOMY, SOCIETY, AND ENVIRONMENT; AND SEEK BETTER INTEGRATION OF FNERGY POLICIFS. IMPORTANT SUBJECTS TO BE INCLUDED IN FORMULATING THE STRATEGY INCLUDE INCREASING ENERGY PRODUCTIVITY, THE ROLE FOR CONSERVATION, AND DIVERSIFICATION OF FNERGY SOURCES. BECAUSE U.S. ENERGY POLICY AFFECTS MEXICO, DAS GRUNDY ENCOURAGED THE MEXICANS TO PARTICIPATE IN THE HEARING PROCESS BY SUBMITTING THEIR COMMENTS ON U.S. ENERGY POLICIFS TO DOE.

THE BENEFITS TO THE TWO SIDES OF INCREASED LOAD SHARING BECAUSE PEAK LOAD TIMFS ARE DIFFERENT ON THE TWO SIDES OF THE BORDER. UNDERSECRETARY ESCOFET WILL LFAD THE MFXICAN PARTICIPATION IN MEETINGS ON THE ELECTRICITY STUDY.

9. THF MEXICAN DFLEGATION STATED THAT FUTURE PLANS CALL FOR COAL BURNING PLANTS ON THE COASTS AND NEW HYDROELFCTRIC PLANTS IN THE SOUTHERN PART OF MFXICO. MEXICO WILL PROBAlLY HAVE TO IMPORT COAL TO FIRE THESF NFW COAL BURNING PLANTS. THF MEXICAN DELFGATION ESTIMATFD THAT THE ELECTRICITY SECTOR NFEDS ABOUT 18 BILLION DOLLARS DURING THE 1989-1994 SEXENIO FOR ALL OF THE FLECTRICITY PROJFCTS. SEMIP FACES BUDGET CONSTRAINTS AND DOES NOT HAVE SUFFICIEMT RESOURCES FOR THESE ELECTRICITY PROJFCTS. SEMIP IS CONSIDERING VARIOUS SCHEMES FOR FINANCING THE NEW GENERATING CAPACITY. ONE POSSIBILITY IS THE CONSTRUCTION AND FINANCIAL SCHEME KNOWN AS "BUILD, LEASE AND TRANSFER." POSSIBLE EQUITY SHARING SCHEMES COULD BE CONSIDERED, BUT CFE (THE NATIONAL ELECTRIC COMPANY) WOULD OPERATE THE PLANTS. THE MEXICAN DELEGATION SAID CONSTRUCTION OF NEW NUCLEAR PLANTS WOULD ONLY BE CONSIDERED AT SOME FUTURE TIME ONCE LAGUNA VERDE IS RUNNING LIKE A SWISS WATCH.

10. THE DOE DELEGATION REVIEWED THE DECLINES IN U.S. OIL

PRODUCTION, WITH 1989 LEVELS DOWN ABOUT 500,000 BARRELS PER DAY COMPARED TO 1988 FIGURES. DOE OFFICIALS PREDICTED THAT U.S. PRODUCTION WILL FALL IN 1990. A MAJOR REASON FOR THE DROP IS THAT THE UNITED STATES IS A HIGH COST PRODUCER.

11. THE MEXICAN DELEGATION COVERED RECENT CHANGES IN MEXICO'S PETROCHEMICAL INDUSTRY WHERE BASIC

PETROCHEMICALS, WHICH ARE RESERVED FOR PEMEX, ARE NOW LIMITED TO 20 PRODUCTS. THE SECONDARY SECTOR FOREIGN FIRMS MAY OWN 40 PERCENT OF THE JOINT VENTURE AND MEXICAN PRIVATE SECTOR FIRMS 60 PERCENT. THE SECONDARY PETROCHEMICAL SECTOR NOW HAS 66 PETROCHEMICAL PRODUCTS, COMPARED WITH AT LEAST 500 BEFORE. FOREIGN INVESTORS CAN HAVE 100 PERCENT OWNERSHIP OF COMPANIES PRODUCING TERCIARY PETROCHEMICALS.

12. SEMIP AND PEMEX ARE WORKING TOGETHER TO SIMPLIFY THE PERMIT PROCESS TO ESTABLISH PETROCHEMICAL VENTURES. MANY FOREIGN COMPANIES HAVE EXPRESSED INTEREST IN PETROCHEMICAL INVESTMENTS IN MEXICO BECAUSE OF THE CHANGES IN REGULATIONS.

13. THE MEXICAN DELEGATION COMMENTED THAT ENERGY PRODUCTION IS RESERVED FOR THE STATE AND THIS WILL NOT CHANGE. ENERGY INVESTMENT IN 1988 AMOUNTED TO 35 PERCENT OF ALL PUBLIC INVESTMENT IN TH AT YEAR. DURING THE 1985-1988 PERIOD IT PROVIDED 43 PERCENT OF ALL PUBLIC TAXES.

14. IN 1989 MEXPETROL, A JOINT VENTURE OF PEMEX AND SEVERAL MEXICAN PRIVATE COMPANIES INCLUDING ICA AND PROTEXA, BEGAN OPERATING. THE FIRM SEEKS OVERSEAS CONTRACTS TO BUILD PETROLEUM FACILITIES AND APPLY THE TECHNOLOGY THAT MEXICO HAS DEVELOPED. PLANS INCLUDE PROJECTS IN ARGENTINA AND PERU.
15. DOE DAS GRUNDY EMPHASIZED THAT U.S. SUPPLIERS TO THE PETROLEUM SECTOR SEEK OVERSEAS WORK AND ASKED ABOUT OPPORTUNITIES IN MEXICO. PEMEX OFFICIALS STATED THAT THE BUDGET OUTLOOK FOR PEMEX IS GOOD AND THE 1990 PEMEX BUDGET HAS SOLID INCREASES OVER THE 1989 BUDGET, AFTER DISCOUNTING INFLATION AND DEVALUATION. PEMEX OFFICIALS NOTED THAT THE UNITED STATES IS THE MAIN SUPPLIER FOR PEMEX AND THAT PEMEX HAS A PURCHASING OFFICE IN HOUSTON.

SAMPLE TALKING POINTS

TALKING POINTS

- We welcome revisions in the Nicaraguan electoral law and Sandinista concessions in the August 4 agreement with the internal opposition, but much more needs to be done.

- The Nicaraguan government should sit down with UNO and discuss UNO's well-considered requests for further reforms, including:

  -- provisions for registration and voting for Nicaraguans living abroad;

  -- greater access to television, especially on the only state network that reaches the entire country;

  -- full amnesty now for all political prisoners.

- For elections to be truly fair -- and not just technically above board -- the playing field must be level.

- As things stand now, that is not the case. The Sandinistas are mobilizing the army, bureaucracy, schools, mass organizations and state media for partisan purposes. In contrast, UNO is desperately short of resources.

- In short, this election pits a party coalition -- UNO -- against an entire state apparatus.

- UNO has asked the friends of democracy worldwide for help in gaining a fair chance against the FSLN.

- We have put together a package of infrastructure support for UNO, as well as funding for the electoral process in Nicaragua.

- I urge your governments to do what they can to support UNO, and to ensure that the February elections are truly fair.

- This election presents a choice between democracy and totalitarianism. We have an obligation to support the only side which believes in democracy.

DEVELOPMENT

- After growing rapidly in the 1960's and 1970's, Latin America has had painfully low economic growth in the 1980's: overall increases in gross domestic product (GDP) averaged only 1.5% a year in real terms from 1981-88, while real per capita GDP fell by 6.6%.

- The chief cause is bad economic policy. But there is growing realization in both government and the private sector that statist, inward-looking policies dissuade investment and domestic savings and spur capital flight.

  -- This trend reverses Latin America's long distrust of free markets and its total faith in leadership by technical or ideological elites.

  -- Chile, Mexico and Costa Rica have made great strides toward more market-oriented economies and more open trading regimes. Bolivia, Colombia, Guatemala, and Uruguay have undertaken impressive reform programs. Venezuela, Paraguay, El Salvador, and Argentina have now begun similar efforts.

  -- But there remain enormous distortions and disincentives to savings and investment throughout the region. For example, regional capital flight nearly totals the region's outstanding debt.

- Growth in some countries has been hindered by the heavy external debt burden. However, debt is often used as an excuse for low growth when the main cause is gross economic mismanagement and corruption.

- We are encouraging more market-based reform through bilateral and multilateral economic assistance, our debt strategy, and continued work for open world markets.

  -- Our economic aid (about $1.2 billion in FY 89) is crucial to help countries reform, grow, and spread the benefits of growth equitably. Yet, we now face deep cuts (except for Andean nations) in FY 90. U.S. aid cannot continue indefinitely, but levels must be reduced gradually, as needs dictate, to avoid endangering gains achieved thus far.

- The CBI provides Central America and the Caribbean improved U.S. trade opportunities which have helped create many new jobs where good economic policy reigns.

Basic Talkers For Letelier Meeting
January 26

- Your letter reports hearsay that Ambassador Gillespie is saying in Santiago that payment of compensation and resolution of the Letelier case is not a high priority in normalization of relations with Chile.

- This charge is totally false.

- There has been no change in our position.

- We remain committed to compensation for the families.

- We will never cease efforts to punish those indicted for the crime.

- The elections change only the fact that there may now be new ways open to pursue these objectives.

- Resolution of the Letelier case remains our high priority.
- Amb. Gillespie has reiterated this position on various occasions publicly and privately.
- Without satisfaction we will never be able to have a normal relationship.

* * * *

- There appears to be some prospect that the new government may be prepared to make an ex gratia payment in settlement of your claims.

- Have you discussed this with Emundo Vargas?

- Is this acceptable to you in principle? Have you discussed amounts?

- If the GOC agreed to an adequate settlement, would you drop your case? Would you drop your FSIA amendment initiative?

- We would like to see a satisfactory settlement on the civil side between yourself and the new government.

- We believe it is useful to maintain the 1914 Treaty initiative as a possible alternative vehicle for dealing with the GOC. It maintains a focus on the need to resolve the case, and it will be useful back-up if a settlement effort fails.

2 ITEMS ON LETELIER:

① Sam Buffone wrote identical letters to you and Aronson wanting to know what is going on and complaining about alleged comments of Amb. Gillespie. We need to offer the families a meeting soon. Do you want to take the lead? We also need to respond on the record to rebut the hearsay about Gillespie.

② The cable indicates the new government's thinking. I think it meshes with yours. They will be looking for the bottom line on what it will take for the U.S. to be satisfied on the criminal side of the case so that we will make the Kennedy-Hatch certification. Do you want to meet with Vargas next week when he is in town?

CJ/sou

R. Happy to meet them.
Also, I do want to meet Vargas. He seems to understand the need to keep our treaty initiative on track. I want to discuss this with him.

HONDURAS

(S) Nicaraquans propose Bilateral Commission. CIA 26671 reports that Nicaraguan Ambassador to Honduras Francisco Lacayo told a close Callejas advisor on January 18 that Nicaragua would like to establish a joint commission with Honduras to address bilateral issues. Lacayo did not give details but implied that the GON seeks quicker responses from the Honduran MFA. Callejas subsequently indicated he would discuss this with the MFA after his inauguration. Issues of interest to the GON include return of an MI-25 helicopter flown to Honduras by a defector in December 1988 and possible investment in Nicaragua by Honduran investors. (CJSandrolini)

(C) GOH urgently seeks corn donation. USAID Tegucigalpa has received an urgent request from the GOH (Azcona administration) for 13,700 metric tons of corn. Production shortfalls during a time of political and economic policy transition have nearly doubled corn prices in Honduras since October 1989. The Callejas team supports the request and has apparently agreed to USAID requirements that the corn be sold to merchants at a price based on the market exchange rate (3.5 lempiras/dollar, vice 2:1 at the official rate). The per pound cost will be roughly that now paid by the consumer. CEN comment: This is a breakthrough for the mission, as subsidized grain has been a disincentive for local production. The mission has asked quick approval of the request by A.I.D. (CJSandrolini, Tegu 1644)

(C) February 4 Elections — Update: The latest polls indicate that the presidential race has narrowed. The Costa Rican Gallup affiliate shows opposition PUSC candidate Rafael Calderon ahead by five percentage points and a PLN poll has its candidate, Carlos Castillo leading by two points. The Embassy believes that the PLN survey's population sample was somewhat biased. It appears, in any event, that election day results will hinge on the ability of the parties to get their supporters to the polls; the PLN has the edge in this. The legislative contest should also be close. The PLN and PUSC are expected to split 54 of the 57 assembly seats, with minor parties (including the communist coalition) picking up the remainder. The campaign has been short on issues and uncharacteristically long on personal attacks. Castillo has been hounded by allegations of PLN narco-corruption. The "liberacionistas" attack Calderon as inexperienced and intellectually shallow. PUSC supporters are confident of a Calderon victory. Calderon's likely Foreign Minister Bernd Niehaus requested our views on his visiting Managua after February 4 elections and on a Calderon, Niehaus visit to Washington in February or March. (LOU) Status of American Airlines: AA has almost cleared the last few bureaucratic hurdles for their Miami/Guatemala City run. Speedy final approval is expected, though it is unlikely they will be able to begin service before mid-February. Embassy notes that the recent resignation of Transport Minister Lopez should have little effect on the process. (Guatemala 00978, DMcCarthy, x71145).

(C) Status of Ortiz kidnapping case: The case of the American nun allegedly kidnapped and tortured in Guatemala in early November is attracting renewed Congressional interest. The case has been stalled due to lack of information and of witnesses. Sr. Ortiz refused to speak to either Embassy or local officials prior to her return to the U.S.. Her lawyer has now presented an affidavit recounting the event. It has been passed on to the Foreign Ministry and the National Police. The GOG is finalizing the necessary documents to have Sr. Ortiz interviewed by a judge in the U.S. So far, she has not acceded to GOG requests to speak to her. THE POSSIBILITY OF HOLDING SUCH AN EXCHANGE WITH MEXICO WAS RAISED BY THE EMBASSY IN JUNE AND JULY 1989 IN CONNECTION WITH THE PROVISION OF RECENTLY PUBLISHED SANDIA DOCUMENTS ON PHYSICAL/SABOTAGE PROTECTION. C) INFCIRC/225: CURRENT PRACTICES IN PHYSICAL PROTECTION OF NUCLEAR FACILITIES AND MATERIALS IN TRANSPORT, A COMPARATIVE DISCUSSION OF REVISION 1 VS. REVISION 2, AND ANY CHANGES FORSEEN IN DOMESTIC IMPLEMENTATION AS A RESULT OF THE CHANGES CONTAINED IN THE RECENTLY PUBLISHED REVISION 2.

D) THE INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION ON PHYSICAL PROTECTION OF

NUCLEAR MATERIALS: THE CURRENT DOCUMENT, PROSPECTS/TOPICS FOR EXPERTS GROUPS AND THE REVIEW CONFERENCE IN 1992. THE IMPACT OF THE INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION ON DOMESTIC PHYSICAL PROTECTION PROGRAMS.

E) INTERNATIONAL TRANSPORTATION ISSUES: POLICIES AND PRACTICES, INCLUDING IMPLEMENTATION OF THE INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION ON PHYSICAL PROTECTION AND INFCIRC/225, REV. 2.

THE U.S. TEAM WILL OUTLINE U.S. POLICIES IN THESE AREAS, GIVE A PRESENTATION ON U.S. PRACTICES, AND PROVIDE RECENTLY PUBLISHED DOCUMENTS WHERE AVAILABLE. WE SUGGEST THE MEXICANS MAKE SIMILAR PRESENTATIONS ON THEIR EFFORTS. ALSO, THE DISCUSSIONS WILL PROVIDE THE CNSNS AND OTHER MEXICAN ORGANIZATIONS WHICH THE CNSNS MAY INVITE AN OPPORTUNITY TO DISCUSS THE CONTENTS OF THE PHYSICAL/ SABOTAGE PROTECTION REPORTS PROVIDED TO THE CNSNS IN JULY 1989. WE ENVISION THE DISCUSSIONS TAKING TWO-TO-THREE DAYS WITH A BRIEF WRAP-UP DISCUSSION AT THE CONCLUSION OF TWO DAYS OF FACILITY TOURS. DURING THE VISIT, THE U.S. TEAM WILL ISSUE AN INVITATION TO THEIR MEXICAN COUNTERPARTS TO VISIT THE U.S. FOR ADDITIONAL DISCUSSIONS AND TOURS OF U.S. NUCLEAR FACILITIES.

5. FACILITY TOURS: IN CONNECTION WITH THESE DISCUSSIONS, THE U.S. TEAM WOULD APPRECIATE THE OPPORTUNITY TO TOUR THE LAGUNA VERDE NUCLEAR PLANT AND THE SALAZAR RESEARCH REACTOR. SUCH TOURS ARE AN INTEGRAL PART OF THE PHYSICAL PROTECTION BILATERAL EXCHANGE PROGRAM AND PROVIDES AN OPPORTUNITY FOR THE HOST GOVERNMENTS TO DEMONSTRATE HOW NATIONAL REQUIREMENTS TRANSLATE INTO EFFECTIVE SECURITY MEASURES.

6. THE U.S. TEAM: EXACT COMPOSITION OF THE U.S. TEAM WILL BE DETERMINED ONCE FULL RANGE OF TOPICS WHICH THE MEXICANS WISH TO HAVE INCLUDED ARE KNOWN. IN GENERAL, HOWEVER, IT IS ANTICIPATED THAT THE U.S. TEAM WILL BE COMPRISED OF REPRESENTATIVES FROM U.S. GOVERNMENT AGENCIES DIRECTLY INVOLVED IN THE REVIEW CONFERENCE OF THE INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION ON PHYSICAL PROTECTION AND KEY TECHNICAL EXPERTS, INCLUDING POSSIBLE NATIONAL LABORATORY PERSONNEL, WITH DIRECT RESPONSIBILITY FOR PROGRAM ACTIVITIES IN PHYSICAL PROTECTION OF NUCLEAR FACILITIES AND MATERIALS (5

TO 6 INDIVIDUALS IN ALL). PARTICIPATION BY THE EMBASSY SCIENCE OFFICE WOULD ALSO BE WELCOMED. BAKER

1. IN JANUARY 26 CONVERSATION WITH MEXICAN EMBASSY LEGAL COUNSELOR (NARCOTICS ISSUES) GONZALEZ BAEZA, INM/T DIRECTOR THOMS INVITED THE GOM TO SEND APPROPRIATE OFFICIALS TO OBSERVE AIR WING OPIUM SPRAYING OPERATIONS CURRENTLY BEING CONDUCTED IN GUATEMALA. EXTENSION OF THE INVITATION RESULTED FROM A JAN. 5 ARA/INM MEETING WITH GONZALEZ IN THE DEPARTMENT, DURING WHICH THE IDEA OF POSSIBLE MEXICAN AERIAL ERADICATION USING THRUSH AIRCRAFT WAS RAISED. GONZALEZ SAID HE WOULD CONTACT MEXICO CITY WITH A VIEW TO OBTAINING THE NAMES OF THE OFFICIALS AND BE BACK IN TOUCH NEXT WEEK.

2. ACTION REQUEST: IF POST AGREES, POST SHOULD APPROACH GOG AUTHORITIES FOR GOG CONSENT TO THE MEXICAN OBSERVATION OF THESE OPERATIONS. PENDING GOG APPROVAL, POST NARCOTICS COORDINATOR SHOULD BE PREPARED TO RECEIVE UNCLASSIFIED

1. THIS IS AN ACTION CABLE. SEE PARAS 2 AND 4.

2. (C) SUMMARY AND ACTIONS REQUESTED: THE WASHINGTON SUMMIT WORKING GROUP HAS REVIEWED AND APPROVED THE SANTA CRUZ VERSION OF THE DRAFT DOCUMENT OF CARTAGENA WITH A NUMBER OF CHANGES. WHILE SOME OF THEM ARE SUBSTANTIVE, NONE COMPROMISES THE BASIC CONSENSUS REACHED AT SANTA CRUZ ON ANY SIGNIFICANT POINT.

OUR CHANGES FALL INTO THREE BROAD CATEGORIES: 1) EDITORIAL CHANGES PROPOSED BY US AND THE COLOMBIANS FOR CLARITY AND PRECISION; 2) SUBSTANTIVE CHANGES TO ADDRESS COLOMBIAN CONCERNS; AND 3) MINOR SUBSTANTIVE CHANGES SUGGESTED BY USTR. ALL OF THE CHANGES ARE BRACKETED IN THE TEXT OF THE DOCUMENT AT PARA 3. AT THE CONCLUSION OF EACH PARAGRAPH IN THE TEXT OF OUR REVISED SANTA CRUZ VERSION IS AN EXPLANATION FOR THE CHANGE.

TO SUMMARIZE:

-- WE HAVE ACCEPTED IN SOME FORM ALL OF THE CHANGES THAT COLOMBIA CONSIDERED "ESSENTIAL" PER REF A., PARA 7. IN SOME CASES, WE USED DIFFERENT LANGUAGE THAN THAT SUGGESTED BY THE COLOMBIANS.

-- WE DID NOT ACCEPT ANY OF THE COLOMBIAN CHANGES

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

SUGGESTED IN REF A, PARA 8 TITLED "DESIRED, BUT LESS ESSENTIAL CHANGES".

-- WE HAVE ACCEPTED MOST OF THE MINOR CHANGES PROPOSED BY THE COLOMBIANS WHICH MAKE CLEAR THAT SOME OF THE ACTIONS CALLED FOR IN THE CARTAGENA DOCUMENT ARE ALREADY BEING UNDERTAKEN, AND THAT THE PROBLEMS AND IMPACT OF COCAINE TRAFFICKING DIFFER FROM COUNTRY TO COUNTRY.

-- THROUGHOUT THE TEXT, FOR CONSISTENCY AND STYLE, WE HAVE USED THE TERM "PARTIES" RATHER THAN "PRESIDENTS". ALSO, WE HAVE USED THE WORDS "ANDEAN PARTIES" WHEN REFERRING TO THE "THREE ANDEAN PARTIES".

-- WE RECOGNIZE THAT THE DOCUMENT STILL CONTAINS SOME STILTED AND REDUNDANT LANGUAGE. HOWEVER, BECAUSE OF THE SPECIAL INTERESTS OF VARIOUS PARTIES TO THIS DOCUMENT, AND THEIR COMMITMENT TO SPECIFIC PROSE THAT DEALS WITH THEM, WE DO NOT WANT TO TINKER FURTHER AT THIS LATE DATE.

ACTIONS REQUESTED: POSTS SHOULD PRESENT THE NEW TEXT TO HOST GOVERNMENTS AT THE EARLIEST OPPORTUNITY USING ARGUMENTATION FOR THE CHANGES THAT IS NOTED AT THE END OF EACH AFFECTED PARAGRAPH; SEEK THEIR ACCEPTANCE; AND INFORM [redacted]

THE DEPARTMENT. ALSO, POSTS SHOULD INFORM HOST GOVERNMENTS THAT WE WISH TO AVOID ANOTHER NEGOTIATING MEETING IF POSSIBLE. THE SPANISH TEXT WILL BE FORWARDED AS SOON AS IT IS TRANSLATED. IN SEPTEL WE WILL BE TRASMITTING OUR DRAFT SUMMIT COMMUNIQUE FOR APPROVAL BY HOST GOVERNMENTS. END SUMMARY AND ACTIONS REQUESTED.

3. BEGIN TEXT:

ANDEAN SUMMIT

CARTAGENA, COLOMBIA
FEBRUARY 15, 1990

(DRAFT DOCUMENT OF CARTAGENA)

THE PARTIES CONSIDER THAT A STRATEGY WHICH COMMITS THE PARTIES TO IMPLEMENT OR STRENGTHEN A COMPREHENSIVE, INTENSIFIED ANTI-NARCOTICS PROGRAM MUST ADDRESS THE ISSUES OF DEMAND REDUCTION, CONSUMPTION AND SUPPLY. SUCH A STRATEGY ALSO MUST INCLUDE UNDERSTANDINGS REGARDING ECONOMIC COOPERATION, ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT, ENCOURAGEMENT OF (TRADE) AND INVESTMENT, AS WELL AS UNDERSTANDINGS ON ATTACKING THE (TRAFFIC) IN ILLICIT DRUGS, AND ON DIPLOMATIC AND PUBLIC DIPLOMACY INITIATIVES.

UNCLASSIFIED

(NOTE: USTR HAS REQUESTED THAT THE WORD "EXPORTS" BE REPLACED BY "TRADE" AND THE WORD "FOREIGN" BE REMOVED BEFORE THE WORD "INVESTMENT". THEIR RATIONALE IS THAT TRADE IS A BROADER TERM AND EMBRACES EXPORTS AND IMPORTS, WHICH TOGETHER ARE REQUIRED FOR ECONOMIC GROWTH. SIMILARLY, "FOREIGN INVESTMENT" IS TOO NARROW A TERM, SINCE INTERNAL INVESTMENT AND RETURN OF FLIGHT CAPITAL ARE ALSO ESSENTIAL FOR ECONOMIC GROWTH. IF THE HOST GOVERNMENT STRONGLY OBJECTS, USTR DOES NOT INSIST ON DELETION OF THE WORD "FOREIGN". THE SAME CHANGE IN [redacted]

THE PARTIES RECOGNIZE THAT THESE AREAS ARE INTERCONNECTED AND SELF-REINFORCING. PROGRESS IN ONE AREA WILL HELP ACHIEVE PROGRESS IN OTHERS. FAILURE IN ANY OF THEM WILL JEOPARDIZE PROGRESS IN THE OTHERS. THE ORDER IN WHICH THEY ARE ADDRESSED (IN THE DOCUMENT) IS NOT MEANT TO ASSIGN TO THEM ANY PARTICULAR PRIORITY.

ECONOMIC COOPERATION AND INTERNATIONAL INITIATIVES CANNOT BE EFFECTIVE UNLESS THERE ARE CONCOMITANT, DYNAMIC PROGRAMS ATTACKING THE (PRODUCTION OF, TRAFFICKING) IN AND DEMAND FOR ILLICIT DRUGS. IT IS CLEAR THAT TO BE FULLY EFFECTIVE, SUPPLY REDUCTION EFFORTS MUST BE ACCOMPANIED BY SIGNIFICANT REDUCTION IN DEMAND. THE PARTIES RECOGNIZE THAT THE EXCHANGE OF INFORMATION ON DEMAND CONTROL PROGRAMS WILL BENEFIT THEIR COUNTRIES.

(THE PARTIES RECOGNIZE THAT THE NATURE AND IMPACT OF THE TRAFFIC IN AND INTERDICTION OF ILLICIT DRUGS VARIES IN EACH OF THE THREE ANDEAN COUNTRIES AND CAN NOT BE ADDRESSED FULLY IN THIS DOCUMENT.) THE PARTIES WILL NEGOTIATE BILATERAL AND MULTILATERAL AGREEMENTS, (CONSISTENT WITH THEIR ANTI-NARCOTICS EFFORTS), SPECIFYING THEIR RESPONSIBILITIES AND COMMITMENTS WITH REGARD TO ECONOMIC COOPERATION AND INTENSIFIED ENFORCEMENT ACTIONS.

(NOTE: THE TWO ADDITIONS ARE MEANT TO ADDRESS COLOMBIAN [redacted]

CONCERNS THAT RELATIVE ECONOMIC IMPACT OF TRAFFICKING, AND INTERDICTION PROGRESS IN THEIR COUNTRY ARE DIFFERENT THAN

UNCLASSIFIED

THOSE OF PERU AND COLOMBIA.)

A. UNDERSTANDINGS REGARDING ECONOMIC ASPECTS AND ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT

-- (THE PARTIES RECOGNIZE THAT THE ILLICIT TRAFFIC IN DRUGS HAS A NEGATIVE NET LONG TERM IMPACT ON THEIR ECONOMIES. HOWEVER, PROFITS FROM PRODUCTION AND TRAFFICKING OF DRUGS DO CONTRIBUTE TO THE FLOW OF FOREIGN EXCHANGE AND TO THE GENERATION OF EMPLOYMENT AND INCOME. SUPRESSION OF THE ILLICIT DRUG TRADE WILL RESULT IN SIGNIFICANT, IMMEDIATE ECONOMIC COSTS OF VARIOUS KINDS IN EACH OF THE ANDEAN COUNTRIES.)

(NOTE: WE HAVE REDRAFTED THIS PARAGRAPH IN ORDER TO ADDRESS COLOMBIAN OBJECTIONS TO REFERENCES TO A "COCA ECONOMY" AND TO "SUPPRESSION OF THE COCA TRADE CAUSING DISRUPTIONS THROUGHOUT ALL PRODUCING COUNTRIES".)

-- THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES WILL REQUEST CONGRESS TO AUTHORIZE NEW FUNDS FOR THE PROGRAM DURING FISCAL YEARS 1991 TO 1994, IN ORDER TO SUPPORT THE ANDEAN PARTIES' EFFORTS TO (COUNTERACT) THE SHORT AND LONG-TERM (SOCIO-ECONOMIC IMPACT) OF AN (EFFECTIVE FIGHT AGAINST ILLICIT DRUGS). THIS CONTRIBUTION BY THE UNITED STATES WOULD BE MADE WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF ACTIONS AGAINST DRUG TRAFFICKING CARRIED OUT BY THE ANDEAN PARTIES. THE ANDEAN PARTIES REITERATE THE IMPORTANCE OF (IMPLEMENTING OR STRENTHENING) SOUND ECONOMIC POLICIES FOR THE EFFECTIVE UTILIZATION OF SUCH A CONTRIBUTION. THE UNITED STATES IS ALSO PREPARED TO COOPERATE WITH THE ANDEAN PARTIES IN A WIDE RANGE OF INITIATIVES FOR DEVELOPMENT, TRADE AND INVESTMENT IN ORDER TO STRENGTHEN AND SUSTAIN LONG-TERM (ECONOMIC) GROWTH.

(NOTE: MINOR EDITS FOR CLARITY)

ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT DESIGNED FOR THE SUBSTITUTION OF THE (ILLICIT DRUG TRAFFICKING) INCLUDES THE FOLLOWING AREAS OF COOPERATION. IN THE SHORT TERM (THERE IS A NEED) TO CREATE OF STRENGTHEN SOCIAL EMERGENCY PROGRAMS AND BALANCE OF PAYMENTS SUPPORT TO MITIGATE THE SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC COSTS STEMMING FROM SUBSTITUTION. (IN THE MEDIUM AND LONG TERM, IMPLEMENTATION OF INVESTMENT PROGRAMS AND OF MEASURES TO PRESERVE ECOLOGICAL BALANCE WILL CREATE THE ECONOMIC CONDITIONS FOR DEFINITIVE SUBSTITUTION OF THE ILLICIT DRUG TRADE ECONOMY.

(NOTE: CHANGES ARE FOR CLARITY AND PRECISION AND TO REMOVE REFERENCE TO "COCA ECONOMY" WHICH COLOMBIANS FOUND

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

OBJECTIONABLE)

-- 1. ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT AND CROP SUBSTITUTION

-- IN ORDER TO FOSTER INCREASED EMPLOYMENT AND INCOME OPPORTUNITIES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE PRODUCTIVE SYSTEM AND (IMPLEMENT OR ENHANCE) A SOUND ECONOMIC POLICY TO SUSTAIN LONG TERM GROWTH, THE UNITED STATES WILL SUPPORT MEASURES AIMED AT STIMULATING BROADBASED RURAL DEVELOPMENT, PROMOTING NON-TRADITIONAL EXPORTS, BUILDING (OR REINFORCING) A PRODUCTIVE INFRASTRUCTURE, AND OTHERS. THE PARTIES, IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE RESPECTIVE POLICIES OF BOLIVIA, COLOMBIA, PERU AND THE UNITED STATES, SHALL DETERMINE THE ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE REQUIRED TO ENSURE SOUND ECONOMIC POLICIES AND SUSTAIN ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT, WHICH IN THE MEDIUM TERM WILL HELP REPLACE THE INCOME, EMPLOYMENT AND FOREIGN EXCHANGE HERETOFORE GENERATED BY [redacted]

THE ILLEGAL COCA ECONOMY. THE UNITED STATES IS PREPARED TO FINANCE DEVELOPMENT ACTIVITIES OF THIS KIND WITH NEW AND CONCESSIONAL RESOURCES.

(NOTE: COLOMBIANS WANTED THIS LANGUAGE TO INDICATE VARYING LEVELS OF PROGRESS IN THE THREE COUNTRIES)

-- IN ORDER TO ACHIEVE A COMPLETE PROGRAM OF ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT, THE PARTIES AGREE THAT IN ADDITION TO THE COOPERATION PROVIDED BY THE UNITED STATES, ECONOMIC COOPERATION, AS WELL AS GREATER INCENTIVES TO INVESTMENT AND FOREIGN TRADE FROM OTHER SOURCES, WILL BE NEEDED. THE PARTIES WILL MAKE CONCERTED EFFORTS TO OBTAIN THE SUPPORT OF MULTILATERAL AND OTHER ECONOMIC INSTITUTIONS FOR THESE PROGRAMS, AS THE ANDEAN PARTIES CARRY OUT SOUND ECONOMIC POLICIES AND EFFECTIVE PROGRAMS AGAINST DRUGS.

-- THE PARTIES ARE CONVINCED THAT A (COMPREHENSIVE) FIGHT AGAINST ILLICIT DRUG TRAFFIC WILL DISRUPT THE MARKET FOR COCA AND COCA DERIVATIVES AND WILL REDUCE THEIR PRICES. AS SUCCESS IS ACHIEVED IN THIS FIGHT, THOSE EMPLOYED IN GROWING COCA AND IN ITS ORIGINAL PROCESSING WILL SEEK ALTERNATIVE SOURCES OF INCOME EITHER BY CROP SUBSTITUTION OR BY CHANGING JOBS. THE PARTIES WILL WORK TOGETHER TO IDENTIFY ALTERNATIVE-INCOME ACTIVITIES FOR EXTERNAL FINANCING. THE UNITED STATES IS READY TO CONSIDER FINANCING OF ACTIVITIES SUCH AS RESEARCH, EXTENSION, CREDIT AND OTHER AGRICULTURAL SUPPORT SERVICES AND SUPPORT OF PRIVATE SECTOR INITIATIVES FOR THE CREATION OF MICRO-ENTERPRISES AND AGRO-INDUSTRIES.

(NOTE: MINOR EDIT)

-- THE UNITED STATES WILL ALSO COOPERATE WITH THE ANDEAN PARTIES TO PROMOTE VIABLE DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MARKETS TO SELL THE PRODUCTS GENERATED BY ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS.

-- 2. MITIGATION OF THE SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC IMPACT OF THE FIGHT AGAINST ILLICIT DRUG TRAFFICKING

-- AS THE ANDEAN PARTIES IMPLEMENT (OR CONTINUE TO DEVELOP) EFFECTIVE PROGRAMS OF INTERDICTION OF THE FLOW OF ILLICT DRUGS AND OF CROP ERADICATION, THEY WILL NEED ASSISTANCE OF THE FAST DISBURSEMENT TYPE TO MITIGATE BOTH SMALL AND LARGE SCALE SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC COSTS. THE PARTIES WILL (COOPERATE) TO (IDENTIFY) THE (TYPE) OF THE ASSISTANCE REQUIRED. THE UNITED STATES IS PREPARED TO PROVIDE BALANCE OF PAYMENTS SUPPORT (TO HELP MEET FOREIGN EXCHANGE NEEDS.) THE UNITED STATES WILL ALSO CONSIDER FUNDING FOR EMERGENCY SOCIAL PROGRAMS, SUCH AS THE SUCCESSFUL ONE IN BOLIVIA, TO PROVIDE EMPLOYMENT AND OTHER OPPORTUNITIES TO THE POOR DIRECTLY AFFECTED BY THE FIGHT AGAINST ILLICIT DRUGS.

(NOTE: USTR PROPOSES "TO HELP MEET FOREIGN EXCHANGE NEEDS" AS MORE ALL EMBRACING, THAN THE SANTA CRUZ VERSION "TO FINANCE IMPORT AND HELP SERVICE DEBT TO INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS".)

.-- 3. TRADE INITIATIVES, INCENTIVES TO EXPORTS AND PRIVATE FOREIGN INVESTMENT

-- (AN INCREASE IN) TRADE AND (PRIVATE) INVESTMENT IS ESSENTIAL TO FACILITATE SUSTAINED ECONOMIC GROWTH AND TO HELP OFFSET THE ECONOMIC DISLOCATIONS RESULTING FROM ANY EFFECTIVE PROGRAM AGAINST ILLICIT DRUGS. THE PARTIES WILL WORK TOGETHER TO INCREASE TRADE AMONG THE THREE ANDEAN COUNTRIES AND THE UNITED STATES, EFFECTIVELY FACILITATING

ACCESS TO THE UNITED STATES MARKET AND STRENGTHENING EXPORT PROMOTION, INCLUDING IDENTIFICATION, DEVELOPMENT AND MARKETING OF NEW EXPORT PRODUCTS. (THE UNITED STATES WILL ALSO CONSIDER PROVIDING APPROPRIATE TECHNICAL AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO HELP ANDEAN AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS COMPLY WITH THE ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS.)

(NOTE: USTR ELIMINATED "FOREIGN" TRADE, TO EMPHASIZE BENEFITS OF TWO-WAY TRADE, AND ADDED "PRIVATE" INVESTMENT TO UNDERSCORE IMPORTANCE OF THAT TYPE OF INVESTMENT. LAST SENTENCE INSERTED AT REQUEST OF COLOMBIA.)

-- THE PARTIES MAY CONSIDER THE ESTABLISHMENT OF ECONOMIC AND INVESTMENT POLICIES, AS WELL AS LEGISLATION AND REGULATIONS TO FOSTER PRIVATE INVESTMENT. WHERE FAVORABLE CONDITIONS EXIST, THE UNITED STATES WILL (FACILITATE) PRIVATE INVESTMENT IN THE THREE ANDEAN COUNTRIES, TAKING INTO ACCOUNT THE PARTICULAR CONDITIONS AND POTENTIAL OF EACH.

(NOTE: USTR PREFERS "FACILITATE" BECAUSE THEY CONSIDERED THE ORIGINAL "FOSTER" AS TOO PRO-ACTIVE.)

B. UNDERSTANDINGS REGARDING ATTACKING THE TRADE IN ILLICIT DRUGS

-- THE PARTIES REAFFIRM THEIR WILL TO FIGHT DRUG TRAFFICKING IN A COMPREHENSIVE MANNER ATTACKING ALL FACETS OF THE TRADE: PRODUCTION, TRANSPORTATION AND CONSUMPTION. SUCH COMPREHENSIVE ACTION INCLUDES THE FOLLOWING:

-- PREVENTIVE ACTIONS TO REDUCE CONSUMPTION AND THEREFORE DEMAND.

-- CONTROL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT ACTIVITIES AGAINST ILLEGAL CULTIVATION, PROCESSING, AND MARKETING OF ILLICIT DRUGS.

[redacted]

-- CONTROL OF ESSENTIAL CHEMICALS FOR THE PRODUCTION OF ILLEGAL DRUGS AND THE MEANS USED FOR THEIR TRANSPORT.

-- SEIZURE, FORFEITURE, AND SHARING OF ILLEGAL PROCEEDS AND PROPERTY USED IN COMMITTING NARCOTICS-RELATED CRIMES.

-- COORDINATION OF LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES, THE MILITARY, PROSECUTORS AND COURTS.

-- ACTIONS TO BRING ABOUT A NET REDUCTION IN THE ILLEGAL CULTIVATION OF COCA.

THE PARTIES UNDERTAKE TO ENGAGE IN AN ONGOING EVALUATION OF THEIR COOPERATION. BASED ON THIS EVALUATION, THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT WILL REQUEST CONGRESS TO PROVIDE ADDITIONAL (ASSISTANCE TO THE ANDEAN PARTIES FOR THEIR) LAW ENFORCEMENT AND MILITARY (AGENCIES) AS WELL AS ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE.

(NOTE: WE REJECT COLOMBIAN PROPOSAL TO INSERT "IN THIS CONTEXT" IN REPLACEMENT OF "BASED ON THIS EVALUATION", LANGUAGE WHICH WAS AGREED UPON AFTER HARD BARGAINING AT SANTA CRUZ. THE COLOMBIAN LANGUAGE WATERS DOWN CONDITIONALITY.)

GIVEN THAT THE PARTIES ACT WITHIN A FRAMEWORK OF RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, THEY REAFFIRM THAT NOTHING WOULD DO MORE TO UNDERMINE THE WAR ON DRUGS THAN DISREGARD FOR HUMAN RIGHTS BY PARTICIPANTS IN THE EFFORT.

(NOTE: WE REJECT COLOMBIAN PROPOSAL TO REPLACE THIS PARAGRAPH WITH "WITHIN THIS FRAMEWORK, THE PARTIES [redacted] REITERATE THEIR COMPLETE RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS" AS AN INADEQUATE COVERAGE OF A KEY ISSUE FOR US.)

1. PREVENTION AND DEMAND

-- (THE PARTIES UNDERTAKE TO SUPPORT DEVELOPMENT AND EXPANSION OF PROGRAMS ON COMPREHENSIVE PREVENTION, SUCH AS PREVENTIVE PUBLIC EDUCATION IN BOTH RURAL AND URBAN COUNTRIES, TREATMENT OF DRUG ADDICTS, AND INFORMATION TO ENCOURAGE THE PUBLIC OPPOSITION TO ILLEGAL DRUG PRODUCTION, TRADE AND CONSUMPTION.) THESE PROGRAMS ARE FUNDAMENTAL IF THE DRUG PROBLEM IS TO BE SUCCESSFULLY CONFRONTED.

-- THE PARTIES RECOGNIZE THAT PREVENTION EFFORTS IN THE FOUR COUNTRIES WILL BENEFIT FROM SHARED INFORMATION ABOUT SUCCESSFUL PREVENTION PROGRAMS AND FROM BILATERAL AND MULTILATERAL COOPERATION AGREEMENTS TO EXPAND EFFORTS IN THIS FIELD.

-- TO THIS END, THE PARTIES UNDERTAKE TO CONTRIBUTE ECONOMIC, MATERIAL AND TECHNICAL RESOURCES TO SUPPORT SUCH INTEGRATED PREVENTION PROGRAMS.

(NOTE: EDIT FOR CLARITY)

-- 2. INTERDICTION

-- A BATTLE AGAINST AN ILLICIT PRODUCT MUST FOCUS ON THE (DEMAND FOR), PRODUCTION OF AND TRADE IN THAT PRODUCT. INTERDICTION OF ILLEGAL DRUGS, AS THEY MOVE FROM PRODUCER TO CONSUMER, IS ESSENTIAL. THE PARTIES PLEDGE TO STEP UP EFFORTS WITHIN THEIR OWN COUNTRIES TO INTERDICT ILLEGAL DRUGS AND TO INCREASE COORDINATION AND COOPERATION AMONG THEM TO FACILITATE THIS FIGHT. THE UNITED STATES IS READY [redacted]

TO PROVIDE INCREASED COOPERATION IN EQUIPMENT AND TRAINING TO THE LAW ENFORCEMENT BODIES OF THE ANDEAN PARTIES.

(NOTE: COLOMBIAN FIX TO COMPLETE THOUGHT)

-- 3. INVOLVEMENT OF THE ARMED FORCES

-- THE CONTROL OF ILLEGAL TRAFFICKING IN DRUGS IS ESSENTIALLY A LAW ENFORCEMENT MATTER. HOWEVER, BECAUSE OF ITS MAGNITUDE AND THE DIFFERENT ASPECTS INVOLVED, AND IN KEEPING WITH THE (SOVEREIGN) INTEREST OF EACH STATE AND ITS OWN JUDICIAL SYSTEM, THE ARMED FORCES (IN EACH OF THE COUNTRIES) MAY ALSO PARTICIPATE. THE ARMED FORCES MAY PROVIDE RESOURCES TO SUPPORT LAW ENFORCEMENT OPERATIONS AGAINST DRUG TRAFFICKING WHEN SUCH OPERATIONS EXCEED THE CAPACITY OF LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES. THEREFORE, THE PARTIES PLEDGE TO ESTABLISH APPROPRIATE BILATERAL AND MULTILATERAL UNDERSTANDINGS FOR COOPERATION IN ACCORDANCE WITH THEIR INTERESTS, NEEDS AND PRIORITIES.

(NOTE: COLOMBIAN EDITS TO EMPHASIZE SOVERIEGNTY CONCERNS.)

-- 4. INFORMATION SHARING AND INTELLIGENCE COOPERATION

-- THE PARTIES COMMIT THEMSELVES TO A GREATER EXCHANGE OF INFORMATION AND INTELLIGENCE IN ORDER TO STRENGTHEN ACTION BY THE ARMED FORCES AND LAW

ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES. THE PARTIES WILL PURSUE BILATERAL AND MULTILATERAL UNDERSTANDINGS ON INFORMATION AND INTELLIGENCE COOPERATION, CONSISTENT WITH THEIR NATIONAL INTERESTS AND PRIORITIES.

[redacted]

-- 5. ERADICATION AND DISCOURAGEMENT OF ILLICIT CROPS

-- ERADICATION CAN PLAY AN ESSENTIAL PART IN THE ANTI-DRUG FIGHT OF EACH COUNTRY. IN EACH CASE, ERADICATION PROGRAMS HAVE TO BE CAREFULLY CRAFTED, MEASURING THEIR POSSIBLE EFFECT ON TOTAL ILLICIT DRUG PRODUCTION IN EACH COUNTRY; THEIR COST-BENEFIT RATIO RELATIVE TO OTHER MEANS OF FIGHTING ILLICIT DRUGS; WHETHER THEY CAN BE MOST EFFECTIVE AS VOLUNTARY OR COMPULSORY PROGRAMS OR A COMBINATION OF THE TWO; AND THEIR PROBABLE POLITICAL AND SOCIAL CONSEQUENCES.

(NOTE: WE REJECTED COLOMBIAN PROPOSAL TO REPLACE THE WORDS "CAN PLAY" IN FIRST SENTENCE WITH "IS" BECAUSE OF

UNCLASSIFIED

OUR CERTAINTY THAT BOLIVIA AND PERU WOULD REJECT LANGUAGE THEY INSISTED ON AT SANTA CRUZ. WE ALSO REJECTED COLOMBIA PROPOSAL TO DROP PHRASES REFERRING TO "VOLUNTARY OR COMPULSORY" PROGRAMS AND "PROBABLE AND SOCIAL CONSEQUENCES". COLOMBIAN PROPOSAL WOULD CHANGE SUBSTANTIVELY LANGUAGE AGREED TO AT SANTA CRUZ AFTER LENGTHY NEGOTIATION ON SENSITIVE SUBJECT.)

-- THE PARTIES RECOGNIZE THAT TO ERADICATE ILLICIT CROPS, THE PARTICIPATION OF THE GROWERS THEMSELVES IS DESIRABLE, ADOPTING MEASURES THAT WILL HELP THEM OBTAIN LEGAL SOURCES OF INCOME.

-- NEW ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITIES, SUCH AS PROGRAMS FOR ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT AND CROP SUBSTITUTION, SHALL BE FOSTERED TO HELP TO DISSUADE GROWERS FROM INITIATING OR EXPANDING ILLEGAL CULTIVATION. OUR GOAL IS A SUSTAINED REDUCTION IN THE TOTAL AREA UNDER ILLEGAL CULTIVATION.

[redacted]

-- (ERADICATION PROGRAMS MUST SAFEGUARD HUMAN HEALTH AND PRESERVE THE ECOSYSTEM.)

(NOTE: COLOMBIAN EDIT FOR CLARITY)

-- 6. CONTROL OF FINANCIAL ASSETS

-- THE PARTIES AGREE TO IDENTIFY, TRACE, FREEZE, SEIZE, AND APPLY OTHER LEGAL PROCEDURES FOR THE DISPOSITION OF DRUG CRIME PROCEEDS IN THEIR RESPECTIVE COUNTRIES, AND TO ATTACK FINANCIAL ASPECTS OF THE ILLICIT DRUG TRADE BY ADOPTING STRONG MEASURES TO CRIMINALIZE MONEY LAUNDERING. THE PARTIES AGREE TO ESTABLISH FORMULAS PROVIDING EXCEPTIONS TO BANKING SECRECY.

(NOTE: WE REJECT COLOMBIAN PROPOSED ELIMINATION OF THE WORD "CRIMINALIZE" MONEY LAUNDERING, SINCE THE ESTABLISHMENT OF PENAL SANCTIONS FOR MONEY LAUNDERING ARE REQUIRED UNDER VIENNA CONVENTION.)

-- 7. FORFEITURE AND SHARING OF ILLEGAL DRUG PROCEEDS

-- THE PARTIES PLEDGE TO IMPLEMENT A SYSTEM FOR FORFEITURE AND SHARING OF ILLEGAL DRUG PROFITS AND ASSETS, AND TO ESTABLISH EFFECTIVE PROGRAMS IN THIS AREA. SUCH PROGRAMS WILL INCLUDE MECHANISMS FOR THE SEIZURE OR LEGAL FORFEITURE OF SUCH PROPERTIES WHICH ARE EITHER THE PROCEEDS OF ILLICIT DRUG-RELATED OFFENSES OR EMPLOYED IN THE COMMISSION OF SUCH OFFENSES AND PROPERTY EQUIVALENT TO PROPERTY DERIVED FROM THE PROCEEDS OF ILLICIT DRUG-RELATED OFFENSES.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

-- IN UNITED STATES CASES RELATED TO FORFEITURE OF SUCH PROPERTY OF ILLEGAL DRUG TRAFFICKERS WHERE BOLIVIA, COLOMBIA, AND PERU PROVIDE ASSISTANCE TO THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES PLEDGES TO TRANSFER TO THE ASSISTING GOVERNMENT SUCH FORFEITED PROPERTY, TO THE EXTENT CONSISTENT WITH UNITED STATES' LAWS AND REGULATIONS. THE PARTIES WILL ALSO SEEK ASSET SHARING AGREEMENTS (FOR) BOLIVIA, COLOMBIA, AND PERU, (WITH) OTHER COUNTRIES.

(NOTE: EDIT FOR CLARITY)

-- 8. CONTROL OF ESSENTIAL CHEMICALS USED IN THE PRODUCTION OF ILLICIT DRUGS

-- (THE CONTROL IN THE UNITED STATES OF EXPORT OF CHEMICAL SUBSTANCES USED IN THE PROCESSING OF COCAINE IS VITAL. IN ADDITION, THERE IS A NEED TO CONTROL THE IMPORT AND DOMESTIC PRODUCTION OF SUCH SUBSTANCES BY THE ANDEAN PARTIES. JOINT EFFORTS MUST BE COORDINATED TO ELIMINATE THE ILLICT TRADE IN SUCH SUBSTANCES.)

(NOTE: REWRITE FOR CLARITY. ALSO WE CAN CONTROL OUR EXPORTS, BUT NOT OUR DOMESTIC PRODUCTION OF PRECURSORS)

-- THE PARTIES AGREE:

- TO STEP UP INTERDICTION OF THE MOVEMENTS OF ESSENTIAL CHEMICALS THAT HAVE ALREADY ENTERED THE COUNTRY, LEGALLY OR ILLEGALLY, AND ARE BEING DIVERTED FOR ILLICIT DRUG PROCESSING. THIS INCLUDES CONTROLLING CHOKE POINTS AS WELL AS ESTABLISHING INVESTIGATIVE AND MONITORING PROGRAMS IN CLOSE COOPERATION WITH ALL THE PARTIES' LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES.

- TO FURTHER DEVELOP AN INTERNAL SYSTEM TO TRACK

[redacted]

ESSENTIAL CHEMICALS THROUGH SALE, RESALE AND DISTRIBUTION TO THE END USER.

- TO COOPERATE BILATERALLY AND MULTILATERALLY TO PROVIDE EACH OTHER WITH INFORMATION NECESSARY TO TRACK DOMESTIC AND INTERNATIONAL MOVEMENTS OF ESSENTIAL CHEMICALS FOR THE PURPOSE OF CONTROLLING THEIR SALE AND USE.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

- TO SUPPORT THE EFFORTS UNDER THE ORGANIZATION OF AMERICAN STATES (OAS) AUSPICES TO DEVELOP AND IMPLEMENT A REGIONAL INTER-AMERICAN AGREEMENT ON ESSENTIAL AND OTHER CHEMICALS.

-- 9. CONTROL OF WEAPONS, PLANES, SHIPS, EXPLOSIVES AND COMMUNICATIONS EQUIPMENT USED IN ILLEGAL DRUG TRAFFICKING

-- ILLICIT DRUG TRAFFICKING IS HEAVILY DEPENDENT ON WEAPONS, EXPLOSIVES, COMMUNICATIONS EQUIPMENT, AND AIR, MARITIME AND RIVERINE TRANSPORTATION THROUGHOUT THE GROWING-PRODUCTION-DISTRIBUTION PROCESS.

-- THE PARTIES AGREE:

- TO STRENGTHEN CONTROLS OVER THE MOVEMENT OF ILLEGAL WEAPONS AND EXPLOSIVES AND OVER THE SALE, RESALE AND THE REGISTRATION OF AIRCRAFT AND MARITIME VESSELS IN THEIR RESPECTIVE COUNTRIES, WHICH SHOULD BE CARRIED OUT BY THEIR OWN AUTHORITIES.

-- THE PARTIES AGREE TO ESTABLISH (WITHIN THEIR OWN TERRITORY) CONTROL PROGRAMS THAT INCLUDE:

[redacted]

(NOTE: TO ADDRESS COLOMBIAN SOVEREIGNTY CONCERNS)

- THE REGISTRATION OF SHIPS AND AIRCRAFT;

- THE ADOPTION OF LEGAL STANDARDS THAT PERMIT EFFECTIVE FORFEITURE OF AIRCRAFT AND VESSELS;

- CONTROLS ON PILOT LICENSES AND TRAINING;

- REGISTRATION OF AIRFIELDS IN THEIR RESPECTIVE COUNTRIES;

- DEVELOPMENT OF CONTROL MEASURES OVER COMMUNICATIONS EQUIPMENT USED IN ILLEGAL DRUG TRAFFICKING TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY THEIR RESPECTIVE LAWS AND NATIONAL INTERESTS.

-- THE UNITED STATES AGREES TO WORK WITH THE ANDEAN PARTIES TO STEM WEAPONS EXPORTS FROM THE UNITED STATES TO ILLEGAL DRUG TRAFFICKERS IN THE THREE ANDEAN NATIONS.

-- 10. LEGAL COOPERATION

-- THE PARTIES PLEDGE TO COOPERATE IN THE SHARING OF (INSTRUMENTAL) EVIDENCE IN FORMS ADMISSIBLE (BY THEIR) JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS. THE PARTIES ALSO AGREE TO SEEK MECHANISMS THAT PERMIT THE EXCHANGE OF INFORMATION ON

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

LEGISLATION AND JUDICIAL DECISIONS IN ORDER TO OPTIMIZE LEGAL PROCEEDINGS AGAINST THE TRAFFIC IN ILLICIT DRUGS.

(NOTE: OUR LAWYERS INSIST ON "INSTRUMENTAL" TO REPLACE "DOCUMENTARY", WHICH THEY SAY HAS DIFFERENT MEANING. WE ACCEPTED COLOMBIAN PROPOSAL TO DROP "AND TO SEEK THE PROMPT ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE", SINCE IT SEEMED MEANINGLESS TO US.)

-- THE PARTIES RECOGNIZE THE VALUE OF INTERNATIONAL

[redacted]

COOPERATION IN STRENGTHENING THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE, INCLUDING THE PROTECTION OF (JUDGES), JUDICIAL PERSONNEL, AND OTHER INDIVIDUALS WHO TAKE PART IN THESE PROCEEDINGS.

(NOTE: EDIT FOR CLARITY.)

C. UNDERSTANDINGS REGARDING DIPLOMATIC INITIATIVES AND PUBLIC OPINION

- THE PROBLEM OF ILLICIT DRUG TRAFFICKING AND CONSUMPTION RESPECTS NO BORDERS, THREATENS NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL SECURITY, AND ERODES THE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL STRUCTURES OF OUR NATIONS. IT IS ESSENTIAL TO ADOPT AND CARRY OUT A (COMPREHENSIVE) STRATEGY TO PROMOTE FULL AWARENESS OF THE DESTRUCTIVE EFFECTS OF ILLEGAL PRODUCTION, ILLICIT TRAFFICKING AND THE IMPROPER CONSUMPTION OF DRUGS. TOWARD THIS END, THE PARTIES COMMIT THEMSELVES TO USE ALL POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC MEANS WITHIN THEIR POWER TO PUT INTO EFFECT PROGRAMS AIMED AT ACHIEVING THIS GOAL.

(NOTE: EDIT FOR CLARITY)

-- 1. STRENGTHENING PUBLIC OPINION IN FAVOR OF INTENSIFYING THE FIGHT AGAINST ILLEGAL DRUG TRAFFICKING

-- PUBLIC AWARENESS SHOULD ALSO BE ENHANCED BY MEANS OF ACTIVE AND DETERMINED DIPLOMATIC ACTION. THE PARTIES PLEDGE TO STRENGHTEN PLANS FOR JOINT PROGRAMS (LEADING TO THE) EXCHANGE OF IDEAS, EXPERIENCES, AND SPECIALISTS IN THE FIELD. THE PARTIES CALL UPON THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY TO (INTENSIFY A PROGRAM) OF PUBLIC INFORMATION (STRESSING) THE DANGER OF DRUG TRAFFICKING IN ALL OF ITS

[redacted]

PHASES. (IN THIS REGARD), THE PARTIES UNDERTAKE TO GIVE

UNCLASSIFIED

 UNCLASSIFIED

ACTIVE SUPPORT TO INTER-AMERICAN PUBLIC AWARENESS AND DEMAND REDUCTION PROGRAMS. TO INITIATE THIS EFFORT, THE PARTIES WILL PROPOSE THE PREPARATION OF A DRUG PREVENTION EDUCATION PLAN AT THE INTER-AMERICAN MEETING IN QUITO THIS YEAR.

(NOTE: ALL MINOR EDITS FOR CLARITY AND PRECISION)

-- 2. ECONOMIC SUMMIT OF THE SEVEN

-- AT THE GROUP OF SEVEN SUMMIT IN PARIS, IN JULY OF 1989, A FINANCIAL ACTION TASK FORCE WAS ESTABLISHED TO DETERMINE HOW GOVERNMENTS COULD

PROMOTE COOPERATION AND EFFECTIVE ACTION AGAINST THE LAUNDERING OF MONEY GAINED THROUGH ILLEGAL DRUG (TRAFFICKING).

-- THE UNITED STATES WILL HOST THE NEXT ECONOMIC SUMMIT IN JULY, 1990, IN HOUSTON. (THE UNITED STATES WILL USE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO SEEK FULL ATTENTION ON A PRIORITY BASIS) TO THE FIGHT AGAINST ILLEGAL DRUG TRAFFICKING.

(NOTE: EDIT FOR CLARITY)

-- THE PARTIES CALL UPON THE GROUP OF SEVEN MEMBER COUNTRIES, AND ON THE OTHER PARTICIPANTS IN THE FINANCIAL ACTION TASK FORCE, TO GIVE GREATER EMPHASIS TO THE STUDY OF ECONOMIC MEASURES WHICH MAY HELP TO REDUCE DRUG TRAFFICKING. (IN PARTICULAR, THE PARTIES CALL UPON THE GROUP OF SEVEN COUNTRIES TO TAKE THE STEPS NECESSARY TO ENSURE THAT) ASSETS SEIZED FROM ILLICIT DRUG TRAFFICKING IN BOLIVIA, COLOMBIA AND PERU ARE USED TO FINANCE PROGRAMS OF INTERDICTION, ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT AND PREVENTION IN OUR COUNTRIES.

[redacted]

(NOTE: EDIT FOR CLARITY)

-- 3. MULTILATERAL/BILATERAL APPROACHES AND COORDINATION

-- THE PARTIES (INTEND TO) COORDINATE THEIR ACTIONS IN MULTILATERAL AND BILATERAL ECONOMIC INSTITUTIONS IN ORDER TO ENSURE FOR BOLIVIA, COLOMBIA AND PERU, BROADER ECONOMIC COOPERATION WITHIN THE (FRAMEWORK) OF A SOUND ECONOMIC POLICY. IN DECEMBER OF 1989, THE UNITED STATES PRESENTED SUCH A PLAN TO THE ORGANIZATION OF ECONOMIC COOPERATION AND DEVELOPMENT (OECD) THROUGH ITS DEVELOPMENT ASSISTANCE COMMITTEE. BOLIVIA, COLOMBIA AND PERU SUPPORT THE UNITED STATES' PRESENTATION TO THE OECD AND TRUST THAT ITS PROPOSALS WILL INCLUDE (EFFECTIVE) STRATEGIES FOR DEVELOPMENT OF NEW INITIATIVES AGAINST ILLEGAL DRUG TRAFFICKING.

(NOTE: EDITS FOR CLARITY)

-- 4. REPORT TO THE UN SPECIAL SESSION ON ILLICIT TRAFFICKING IN DRUGS

-- THE UNITED NATIONS (HAS RECOGNIZED) THAT THE PROBLEM OF DRUG TRAFFICKING PRESENTS A GRAVE THREAT TO INTERNATIONAL SECURITY AND ECONOMIC STABILITY. IT HAS CALLED FOR A GLOBAL ACTION PLAN AND IT HAS CONVENED A SPECIAL SESSION, FEBRUARY 20-23, 1990, TO DISCUSS THE MAGNITUDE OF THIS PROBLEM. (THIS WILL BE A PROPER OCCASION TO) REITERATE THE NEED TO BRING INTO FORCE AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE THE UN CONVENTION ON NARCOTIC

DRUGS AND PSYCHOTROPIC SUBSTANCES, WHICH PROVIDES FOR [redacted]

ENERGETIC MEASURES AGAINST ILLEGAL DRUG TRAFFICKING, WHILE RECOGNIZING THE ANCESTRAL AND TRADITIONAL USES OF COCA LEAF.

(NOTE: EDITS FOR CLARITY. THE DOJ WOULD LIKE TO DROP THE THE PHRASE "WHILE RECOGNIZING ANCESTRAL AND TRADITIONAL USES OF COCA". THEIR RATIONAL IS THAT REFERENCE TO A MINOR SECTION OF THE VIENNA DRUG CONVENTION GIVES UNDUE IMPORTANCE TO THIS ISSUE AND IS OUT OF PLACE IN AN COMPREHENSIVE ANTI-NARCOTICS STRATEGY DOCUMENT TO BE SIGNED BY FOUR PRESIDENTS.)

-- THE PARTIES REQUEST THAT CONSIDERATION BE GIVEN DURING THE SPECIAL SESSION TO THE INCLUSION OF THE COOPERATIVE EFFORTS OUTLINED IN (THIS DOCUMENT) TO (DEVELOP) CONCRETE PROGRAMS FOR STRENGTHENING MULTILATERAL RESPONSES TO THE DRUG PROBLEM, AS RECOMMENDED IN RESOLUTION NO. 44/141 OF THE UNITED NATIONS GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

(NOTE: FOR STYLE, AND TO MAKE THE DOCUMENT MORE PRESIDENTIAL, WE HAVE DROPPED EXPLICIT REFERENCE TO SPECIFIC SECTIONS OF THE THE CARTAGENA DOCUMENT. ALSO, FOR PRECISION, WE SUBSTITUTED "DEVELOP" FOR "SPECIFY".)

-- 5. REPORT TO THE OAS MEETING OF MINISTERS AND CICAD

-- THE ORGANIZATION OF AMERICAN STATES HAS CALLED AN INTER-AMERICAN MEETING OF MINISTERS RESPONSIBLE FOR NATIONAL NARCOTICS PROGRAMS, TO BE HELD IN MEXICO CITY. THE PARTIES URGE THAT THE MEETING OF MINISTERS AND THE INTER-AMERICAN DRUG ABUSE CONTROL COMMISSION GIVE PRIORITY TO THE UNDERSTANDINGS SET FORTH IN THIS DOCUMENT AND LEND SUPPORT TO THEIR EARLY IMPLEMENTATION WITHIN THE CONTEXT OF REGIONAL COOPERATION AGAINST DRUGS.

-- 6. MADRID TRILATERAL MEETING

[redacted]

-- THE PARTIES STRESS THE IMPORTANCE OF THE DOCUMENT ISSUED BY THE TRILATERAL MEETING IN MADRID AND THE EFFORTS UNDERTAKEN IN EUROPE, PARTICULARLY THE PARTICIPATION OF THE EUROPEAN ECONOMIC COMMUNITY, WITH A VIEW TO ADOPT SPECIFIC POLICIES AND INITIATIVES AGAINST ILLICIT TRAFFICKING OF DRUGS.

-- 7. INTERNATIONAL MEETING ON DEMAND REDUCTION OF NARCOTICS AND ILLICIT DRUGS, LONDON, APRIL 1990

-- THE PARTIES NOTE WITH SATISFACTION THE CONVENING OF THE FIRST INTERNATIONAL MEETING ON DEMAND REDUCTION OF NARCOTICS AND ILLICIT DRUGS, WHICH THEY BELIEVE WILL HAVE AN IMPACT ON DEMAND. THE PARTIES AGREE TO COORDINATE JOINT ACTIONS AND PROPOSALS TO ENCOURAGE SIIMILAR INITIATIVES.

-- 8. DEMARCHES TO TRANSIT COUNTRIES

-- THROUGH SPECIALIZED AGENCIES OF THE UNITED NATIONS SUCH AS THE HEADS OF NATIONAL LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES, OUR COUNTRIES PARTICIPATE IN IMPORTANT COORDINATION EFFORTS. THE PARTIES UNDERTAKE TO STRENGTHEN COOPERATION WITH TRANSIT COUNTRIES ON INTERDICTION OF TRAFFIC IN ILLICIT DRUGS.

(NOTE: EDITED TO REMOVE REDUNDANCIES)

-- 9. WORLD CONFERENCE AGAINST ILLICIT DRUG TRAFFICKING

-- IN ORDER TO (PROGRESS TOWARDS) THE GOALS AGREED UPON AT THE CARTAGENA SUMMIT, THE PARTIES CALL FOR A WORLD

[redacted]

CONFERENCE IN 1991 TO STRENGTHEN INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION IN THE ELIMINATION OF IMPROPER CONSUMPTION, ILLEGAL TRAFFICKING AND PRODUCTION OF DRUGS.

(NOTE: EDITED FOR STYLE).

-- IN ORDER TO FOLLOW UP ON PROGRESS OF AGREEMENTS ARISING UNDER THE FOREGOING UNDERSTANDINGS, THE PARTIES AGREE TO HOLD A HIGH LEVEL FOLLOW-UP MEETING WITHIN A PERIOD OF NOT MORE THAN SIX MONTHS.

4. ACTIONS REQUESTED:

IN ADDITION TO THE ACTIONS REQUESTED IN PARA 2, POSTS SHOULD MAKE THE FOLLOWING POINTS:

FOR LIMA:

REGARDING C. 4 (REPORT TO THE UN SPECIAL SESSION ON ILLICIT TRAFFICKING IN DRUGS), WE WISH TO ELIMINATE THE LAST PHRASE OF THE FIRST PARAGRAPH BEGINNING "WHICH PROVIDES FOR ENERGETIC MEASURES AGAINST ILLIGAL DRUG TRAFFICKING, WHILE RECOGNIZING THE ANCESTRAL AND TRADITIONAL USES OF COCA LEAF". GIVEN THE HARD POSITION THE PERUVIANS TOOK AT SANTA CRUZ ON TRADITIONAL USE OF COCA LEAF, WE RECOGNIZE THIS WILL BE DIFFICULT TO ACCOMPLISH. WE SUGGEST AS A COMPROMISE, THEREFORE, TO END THE ENTIRE SENTENCE AFTER "SUBSTANCES". USE ARGUMENTATION IN THE NOTE ABOVE UNDER THIS PARAGRAPH.)

FOR BOGOTA: INFORM GOC THAT WE DID NOT ELIMINATE THE REFERNECE TO THE BOLIVIAN SOCIAL WELFARE PROGRAM IN A.2 , [redacted]

AS THE GOC REQUESTED. WE AGREE, IN HINDSIGHT, THAT NO REFERENCE SHOULD HAVE BEEN MADE TO A SPECIFIC COUNTRY. HOWEVER, AT THIS POINT, THE BOLIVIANS ALMOST CERTAINLY WILL VOCIFEROUSLY OBJECT TO ITS DELETION.

1. [redacted] SUMMARY: GUILLERMO UNGO REVELO, LEADER OF THE SALVADORAN DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION (MNR), WILL VISIT WASHINGTON AND NEW YORK JANUARY 28 TO FEBRUARY 5 TO DISCUSS THE RECENT KILLINGS OF SIX JESUIT PRIESTS IN EL SALVADOR. DURING A VISIT TO THE CONSULAR SECTION TO COMPLETE VISA AND WAIVER APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS, UNGO TOLD CONOFF THAT HE PLANS TO MEET WITH MEMBERS OF CONGRESS, AT THE INVITATION OF CONGRESSMAN MOAKLEY, AND LATER WITH MEMBERS OF THE U.S.-LATIN AMERICA COMMISSION, INCLUDING ROBERT WHITE, WITH THE UNITED NATIONS SECRETARY GENERAL, AND WITH DR. HENRY KISSINGER. COMMENTING ON THE SHOOTING DEATHS OF THE SIX JESUIT PRIESTS, HE SAID THAT HE BELIEVES THAT MORE THEN 40 PEOPLE WERE INVOLVED IN THE JESUIT KILLINGS, MOST OF THEM IN THE MILITARY HIGH COMMAND, BUT SOME AT THE VICE-MINISTERIAL LEVEL OF THE GOVERNMENT. UNGO ALSO CLAIMED TO HAVE CONVINCING EVIDENCE OF A LINK BETWEEN RIGHT-WING ASSASSINS IN EL SALVADOR AND GUATEMALA. END SUMMARY

2. [redacted] ON JANUARY 25 GUILLERMO UNGO APPLIED FOR A VISA AT THE EMBASSY IN MEXICO CITY AS THE CONSULAR SECTION HAD PREVIOUSLY BEEN ADVISED BY REFTEL B. DURING THE COURSE OF AN INTERVIEW TO OBTAIN NECESSARY INFORMATION FOR AN SAO ADVISORY REQUEST, UNGO SPOKE CANDIDLY WITH CONOFF ABOUT THE PURPOSE OF HIS VISIT AND HIS VIEWS ON THE PROSPECTS FOR A SETTLEMENT OF THE CONFLICT IN EL SALVADOR. UNGO SHOWED CONOFF A LETTER FROM CONGRESSMAN JOSEPH MOAKLEY INVITING HIM TO TESTIFY ON THE SALVADORAN SITUATION ON JANUARY 29 TO FEBRUARY 2. WHILE IN WASHINGTON, UNGO WILL BE STAYING AT A PRIVATE RESIDENCE OF MELINDA DE LASHMUTT, OF THE U.S.-LATIN AMERICA COMMISSION, TEL (202) 745-1889. IN ADDITION TO MEMBERS OF CONGRESS, UNGO EXPECTS TO MEET WITH FORMER AMBASSADOR ROBERT WHITE AND DR. HENRY KISSINGER DURING HIS STAY IN WASHINGTON. HE SAID, IF POSSIBLE, HE WOULD LIKE TO MEET WITH ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE ARONSON ON FEBRUARY 2. (CONOFF DID NOT RESPOND OR OFFER TO TRANSMIT THIS INTEREST IN MEETING WITH ASST. SEC. ARONSON TO THE DEPARTMENT.) UNGO PLANS TO TRAVEL TO NEW YORK WHERE HE WILL MEET WITH U.N. SECRETARY GENERAL CUELLAR AND ALVARO DE SOTO, A U.N. OFFICIAL DEALING WITH CENTRAL AMERICA. DURING HIS VISIT TO NEW YORK, HE WILL BE STAYING AT THE HOTEL WELLINGTON.

3. [redacted] UNGO TOLD CONOFF THAT HE BELIEVED THAT THE SIX OFFICIALS ARRESTED IN CONNECTION WITH THE JESUIT KILLINGS WERE "JUST THE TIP OF THE ICEBERG." HE BELIEVES THAT "MORE THAN FORTY" INDIVIDUALS WERE INVOLVED. HE CLAIMED MOST OF THESE WERE IN THE MILITARY HIGH COMMAND, BUT HE SUSPECTS THAT THERE WERE SEVERAL OTHERS AT THE VICE MINISTERIAL LEVEL OF THE GOVERNMENT. ACCORDING TO UNGO, EVEN THOUGH PRESIDENT CRISTIANI MIGHT WISH TO REMOVE FROM OFFICE THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE KILLINGS, HE LACKS THE POWER TO DO SO. COMMENTING ON THE PROSPECTS FOR A RESOLUTION OF THE SALVADORAN CONFLICT, UNGO SAID THAT THE CHANCES OF AN ACCORD IN THE NEXT SIX MONTHS WERE "ABOUT 33 PERCENT." HE SAID THAT MORE THAN ANYTHING ELSE THIS DEPENDS ON WASHINGTON "SENDING THE RIGHT SIGNALS" TO THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT AND MILITARY. EXACTLY WHAT THESE SIGNALS WERE, HE DID NOT SAY.

4. UNGO TOLD CONOFF THAT HE MET WITH COLONEL RENE PONCE, CHIEF OF STAFF OF THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES, ON JANUARY 21 AND WAS GIVEN "SURPRISING" INFORMATION THAT UNGO CONSIDERS CLEAR EVIDENCE OF A LINK BETWEEN RIGHT-WING ASSASSIN GROUPS IN EL SALVADOR AND GUATEMALA. DURING THE MEETING WITH PONCE, UNGO REFERRED TO COL. FRANCISCO MORAN, A FORMER DIRECTOR OF THE POLICIA DE HACIENDA. IT SEEMS THAT PONCE THOUGHT UNGO WAS REFERRING TO COL. DENNIS MORAN, A NOTORIOUS FIGURE WHO WAS PURPORTEDLY IMPLICATED IN THE KILLINGS OF TWO U.S. AGRICULTURAL ADVISORS IN THE SAN SALVADOR SHERATON SEVERAL YEARS AGO. IN AN APPARENTLY INADVERTENT REMARK, PONCE REVEALED THAT DENNIS MORAN HAS BEEN ASSIGNED AS MILITARY ATTACHE TO THE SALVADORAN EMBASSY IN

GUATEMALA. UNGO SAYS THAT HIS ACCREDITATION THERE DEMONSTRATES THAT A FORM OF REFUGE FROM PROSECUTION IS BEING PROVIDED BY GUATEMALA TO KNOWN ASSASSINS.

2. (C) SUMMARY AND ACTIONS REQUESTED: THE WASHINGTON SUMMIT WORKING GROUP HAS REVIEWED AND APPROVED THE SANTA CRUZ VERSION OF THE DRAFT DOCUMENT OF CARTAGENA WITH A NUMBER OF CHANGES. WHILE SOME OF THEM ARE SUBSTANTIVE, NONE COMPROMISES THE CONSENSUS REACHED AT SANTA CRUZ ON ANY SIGNIFICANT POINT.

OUR CHANGES FALL INTO THREE BROAD CATEGORIES: 1) EDITORIAL CHANGES PROPOSED BY US AND THE COLOMBIANS FOR CLARITY AND PRECISION; 2) SUBSTANTIVE CHANGES TO ADDRESS COLOMBIAN CONCERNS; AND 3) MINOR SUBSTANTIVE CHANGES SUGGESTED BY USTR. ALL OF THE CHANGES/ADDITIONS ARE BRACKETED IN THE TEXT OF THE DOCUMENT AT PARA 3. AT THE CONCLUSION OF EACH PARAGRAPH IN THE TEXT OF OUR REVISED SANTA CRUZ VERSION IS AN EXPLANATION FOR THE CHANGE.

TO SUMMARIZE:

WE HAVE ACCEPTED IN SOME FORM ALL OF THE CHANGES THAT COLOMBIA CONSIDERED "ESSENTIAL" PER REF A., PARA 7. IN SOME CASES, WE USED DIFFERENT LANGUAGE THAN THAT SUGGESTED BY THE COLOMBIANS.

[redacted]

WE DID NOT ACCEPT ANY OF THE COLOMBIAN CHANGES SUGGESTED IN REF A, PARA 8 TITLED "DESIRED, BUT LESS ESSENTIAL CHANGES."

WE HAVE ACCEPTED MOST OF THE MINOR CHANGES PROPOSED BY THE COLOMBIANS WHICH MAKE CLEAR THAT SOME OF THE ACTIONS CALLED FOR IN THE CARTAGENA DOCUMENT ARE ALREADY BEING UNDERTAKEN, AND THAT THE PROBLEMS AND IMPACT OF COCAINE TRAFFICKING DIFFER FROM COUNTRY TO COUNTRY.

THROUGHOUT THE TEXT, FOR CONSISTENCY AND STYLE, WE HAVE USED THE TERM "PARTIES" RATHER THAN "PRESIDENTS". ALSO, WE HAVE USED THE WORDS "ANDEAN PARTIES" WHEN REFERRING TO THE "THREE ANDEAN PARTIES".

WE RECOGNIZE THAT THE DOCUMENT STILL CONTAINS SOME REDUNDANT LANGUAGE. HOWEVER, BECAUSE OF THE SPECIAL INTERESTS OF VARIOUS PARTIES TO THIS DOCUMENT, AND THEIR COMMITMENT TO SPECIFIC PROSE THAT DEALS WITH THEM, WE DO NOT WANT TO TINKER FURTHER AT THIS LATE DATE.

ACTIONS REQUESTED: POSTS SHOULD PRESENT THE NEW TEXT TO HOST GOVERNMENTS AT THE EARLIEST OPPORTUNITY USING ARGUMENTATION FOR THE CHANGES THAT IS NOTED AT THE END OF EACH AFFECTED PARAGRAPH; SEEK THEIR ACCEPTANCE; AND INFORM THE DEPARTMENT. ALSO, POSTS SHOULD INFORM HOST

GOVERNMENTS THAT WE WISH TO AVOID ANOTHER NEGOTIATING

MEETING. WE HAVE ONE AS FAR AS WE CAN IN ADDRESSING COLOMBIA'S CRITICAL CONCERNS -- AND IN FACT BELIEVE THAT WE HAVE ACCOMODATE THOSE CONCERNS -- WHILE PROTECTING BOTH PERUVIAN AND BOLIVIAN INTERESTS. WE BELIEVE THAT WE HAVE ACCOMPLISHED THIS OBJECTIVE. DUE TO TIME CONSTRAINTS, EMBASSIES OBVIOUSLY SHOULD EXERCIZE, AND CONVEY IN YOUR OWN WAY, A SUBSTANTIAL MANDATE TO CUT OFF CHANGES IN THIS DOCUMENT. THE SPANISH TEXT WILL BE FORWARDED AS SOON AS

IT IS TRANSLATED. IN SEPTEL WE WILL BE TRASMITTING OUR DRAFT SUMMIT COMMUNIQUE FOR APPROVAL BY HOST GOVERNMENTS. END SUMMARY AND ACTIONS REQUESTED.

3. BEGIN TEXT:

ANDEAN SUMMIT

CARTAGENA, COLOMBIA
FEBRUARY 15, 1990

(DRAFT DOCUMENT OF CARTAGENA)

THE PARTIES CONSIDER THAT A STRATEGY WHICH COMMITS THE PARTIES TO IMPLEMENT OR STRENGTHEN A COMPREHENSIVE, INTENSIFIED ANTI-NARCOTICS PROGRAM MUST ADDRESS THE ISSUES OF DEMAND REDUCTION, CONSUMPTION AND SUPPLY. SUCH A STRATEGY ALSO MUST INCLUDE UNDERSTANDINGS REGARDING ECONOMIC COOPERATION, ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT, ENCOURAGEMENT OF (TRADE) AND INVESTMENT, AS WELL AS UNDERSTANDINGS ON ATTACKING THE (TRAFFIC) IN ILLICIT DRUGS, AND ON DIPLOMATIC AND PUBLIC DIPLOMACY INITIATIVES.

(NOTE: USTR HAS REQUESTED THAT THE WORD "EXPORTS" BE REPLACED BY "TRADE" AND THE WORD "FOREIGN" BE REMOVED BEFORE THE WORD "INVESTMENT". THEIR RATIONALE IS THAT TRADE IS A BROADER TERM AND EMBRACES EXPORTS AND IMPORTS, WHICH TOGETHER ARE REQUIRED FOR ECONOMIC GROWTH. SIMILARLY, "FOREIGN INVESTMENT" IS TOO NARROW A TERM, SINCE INTERNAL INVESTMENT AND RETURN OF FLIGHT CAPITAL ARE ALSO ESSENTIAL FOR ECONOMIC GROWTH. IF THE HOST GOVERNMENT STRONGLY OBJECTS, USTR DOES NOT INSIST ON DELETION OF THE WORD "FOREIGN". THE SAME CHANGE IN

AND SELF-REINFORCING. PROGRESS IN ONE AREA WILL HELP ACHIEVE PROGRESS IN OTHERS- FAILURE IN ANY OF THEM WILL JEOPARDIZE PROGRESS IN THE OTHERS. THE ORDER IN WHICH THEY ARE ADDRESSED (IN THE DOCUMENT) IS NOT MEANT TO ASSIGN TO THEM ANY PARTICULAR PRIORITY.

ECONOMIC COOPERATION AND INTERNATIONAL INITIATIVES CANNOT BE EFFECTIVE UNLESS THERE ARE CONCOMITANT, DYNAMIC PROGRAMS ATTACKING THE (PRODUCTION OF, TRAFFICKING) IN AND DEMAND FOR ILLICIT DRUGS. IT IS CLEAR THAT TO BE FULLY EFFECTIVE, SUPPLY REDUCTION EFFORTS MUST BE ACCOMPANIED BY SIGNIFICANT REDUCTION IN DEMAND. THE PARTIES RECOGNIZE THAT THE EXCHANGE OF INFORMATION ON DEMAND CONTROL PROGRAMS WILL BENEFIT THEIR COUNTRIES.

(THE PARTIES RECOGNIZE THAT THE NATURE AND IMPACT OF THE TRAFFIC IN AND INTERDICTION OF ILLICIT DRUGS VARIES IN EACH OF THE THREE ANDEAN COUNTRIES AND CAN NOT BE ADDRESSED FULLY IN THIS DOCUMENT.) THE PARTIES WILL NEGOTIATE BILATERAL AND MULTILATERAL AGREEMENTS, (CONSISTENT WITH THEIR ANTI-NARCOTICS EFFORTS), SPECIFYING THEIR RESPONSIBILITIES AND COMMITMENTS WITH REGARD TO ECONOMIC COOPERATION AND INTENSIFIED ENFORCEMENT ACTIONS.

(NOTE: THE TWO ADDITIONS ARE MEANT TO ADDRESS COLOMBIAN CONCERNS THAT RELATIVE ECONOMIC IMPACT OF TRAFFICKING, AND INTERDICTION PROGRESS IN THEIR COUNTRY ARE DIFFERENT THAN THOSE OF PERU AND COLOMBIA.)

(THE PARTIES RECOGNIZE THAT THE ILLICIT TRAFFIC IN DRUGS HAS A NEGATIVE NET LONG TERM IMPACT ON THEIR ECONOMIES. HOWEVER, PROFITS FROM PRODUCTION AND TRAFFICKING OF DRUGS DO CONTRIBUTE TO THE FLOW OF FOREIGN EXCHANGE AND TO THE GENERATION OF EMPLOYMENT AND INCOME. SUPRESSION OF THE ILLICIT DRUG TRADE WILL RESULT IN SIGNIFICANT, IMMEDIATE ECONOMIC COSTS OF VARIOUS KINDS IN EACH OF THE ANDEAN COUNTRIES.)

(NOTE: WE HAVE REDRAFTED THIS PARAGRAPH IN ORDER TO ADDRESS COLOMBIAN OBJECTIONS TO REFERENCES TO A "COCA ECONOMY" AND T "SUPPRESSION OF THE COCA TRADE CAUSING DISRUPTIONS THROUGHOU ALL PRODUCING COUNTRIES".)

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES WILL REQUEST CONGRES TO AUTHORIZE NEW FUNDS FOR THE PROGRAM DURING FISCAL YEARS 1991 TO 1994, IN ORDER TO SUPPORT THE ANDEAN PARTIES' EFFORT

TO (COUNTERACT) THE SHORT AND LONG-TERM (SOCIO-ECONOMIC IMPACT) OF AN (EFFECTIVE FIGHT AGAINST ILLICIT DRUGS). THIS CONTRIBUTION BY THE UNITED STATES WOULD BE MADE WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF ACTIONS AGAINST DRUG TRAFFICKING CARRIED OUT BY THE ANDEAN PARTIES. THE ANDEAN PARTIES REITERATE THE IMPORTANCE OF (IMPLEMENTING OR STRENTHENING) SOUND ECONOMIC POLICIES FOR THE EFFECTIVE UTILIZATION OF SUCH A CONTRIBUTION. THE UNITED STATES IS ALSO PREPARED TO COOPERA WITH THE ANDEAN PARTIES IN A WIDE RANGE OF INITIATIVES FOR DEVELOPMENT, TRADE AND INVESTMENT IN ORDER TO STRENGTHEN AND SUSTAIN LONG-TERM (ECONOMIC) GROWTH.

(NOTE: MINOR EDITS FOR CLARITY)

ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT DESIGNED FOR THE SUBSTITUTION OF THE [redacted]

(ILLICIT DRUG TRAFFICKING) INCLUDES THE FOLLOWING AREAS OF COOPERATION. IN THE SHORT TERM (THERE IS A NEED) TO CREATE STRENGTHEN SOCIAL EMERGENCY PROGRAMS AND BALANCE OF PAYMENTS SUPPORT TO MITIGATE THE SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC COSTS STEMMING FROM SUBSTITUTION. (IN THE MEDIUM AND LONG TERM, IMPLEMENTATION OF INVESTMENT PROGRAMS AND OF MEASURES TO PRESERVE ECOLOGICAL BALANCE WILL CREATE THE ECONOMIC CONDITIONS FOR DEFINITIVE SUBSTITUTION OF THE ILLICIT DRUG TRADE ECONOMY.

(NOTE: CHANGES ARE FOR CLARITY AND PRECISION AND TO REMOVE REFERENCE TO "COCA ECONOMY" WHICH COLOMBIANS FOUND OBJECTIONABLE)

1. ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT AND CROP SUBSTITUTION

IN ORDER TO FOSTER INCREASED EMPLOYMENT AND INCOME OPPORTUNITIES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE PRODUCTIVE SYSTEM AND (IMPLEMENT OR ENHANCE) A SOUND ECONOMIC POLICY TO SUSTAIN L TERM GROWTH, THE UNITED STATES WILL SUPPORT MEASURES AIMED STIMULATING BROADBASED RURAL DEVELOPMENT, PROMOTING NON-TRADITIONAL EXPORTS, BUILDING (OR REINFORCING) A PRODUCTIVE INFRASTRUCTURE, AND OTHERS. THE PARTIES, IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE RESPECTIVE POLICIES OF BOLIVIA, COLOMBI PERU AND THE UNITED STATES, SHALL DETERMINE THE ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE REQUIRED TO ENSURE SOUND ECONOMIC POLICIES AND SUSTAIN ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT, WHICH IN THE MEDIUM TERM WI HELP REPLACE THE INCOME, EMPLOYMENT AND FOREIGN EXCHANGE HERETOFORE GENERATED BY THE ILLEGAL COCA ECONOMY. THE UNIT STATES IS PREPARED TO FINANCE DEVELOPMENT ACTIVITIES OF THIS KIND WITH NEW AND CONCESSIONAL RESOURCES.

(NOTE: COLOMBIANS WANTED THIS LANGUAGE TO INDICATE VARYING LEVELS OF PROGRESS IN THE THREE COUNTRIES)

IN ORDER TO ACHIEVE A COMPLETE PROGRAM OF ALTERNATIVE

[redacted]

DEVELOPMENT, THE PARTIES AGREE THAT IN ADDITION TO THE COOPERATION PROVIDED BY THE UNITED STATES, ECONOMIC COOPERATION, AS WELL AS GREATER INCENTIVES TO INVESTMENT AND FOREIGN TRADE FROM OTHER SOURCES, WILL BE NEEDED. THE PARTI WILL MAKE CONCERTED EFFORTS TO OBTAIN THE SUPPORT OF MULTILATERAL AND OTHER ECONOMIC INSTITUTIONS FOR THESE PROGRAMS, AS THE ANDEAN PARTIES CARRY OUT SOUND ECONOMIC POLICIES AND EFFECTIVE PROGRAMS AGAINST DRUGS.

THE PARTIES ARE CONVINCED THAT A (COMPREHENSIVE) FIGHT AGAINST ILLICIT DRUG TRAFFIC WILL DISRUPT THE MARKET FOR COC AND COCA DERIVATIVES AND WILL REDUCE THEIR PRICES. AS SUCCE IS ACHIEVED IN THIS FIGHT, THOSE EMPLOYED IN GROWING COCA AN IN ITS ORIGINAL PROCESSING WILL SEEK ALTERNATIVE SOURCES OF INCOME EITHER BY CROP SUBSTITUTION OR BY CHANGING JOBS. THE PARTIES WILL WORK TOGETHER TO IDENTIFY ALTERNATIVE-INCOME ACTIVITIES FOR EXTERNAL FINANCING. THE UNITED STATES IS REA TO CONSIDER FINANCING OF ACTIVITIES SUCH AS RESEARCH, EXTENSION, CREDIT AND OTHER AGRICULTURAL SUPPORT SERVICES AN SUPPORT OF PRIVATE SECTOR INITIATIVES FOR THE CREATION OF MICRO-ENTERPRISES AND AGRO-INDUSTRIES.

(NOTE: MINOR EDIT)

THE UNITED STATES WILL ALSO COOPERATE WITH THE ANDEAN PARTIES TO PROMOTE VIABLE DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MARKETS TO SE THE PRODUCTS GENERATED BY ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS.

2. MITIGATION OF THE SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC IMPACT OF THE FIGHT AGAINST ILLICIT DRUG TRAFFICKING

AS THE ANDEAN PARTIES IMPLEMENT (OR CONTINUE TO DEVELOP) EFFECTIVE PROGRAMS OF INTERDICTION OF THE FLOW OF ILLICT DRU

[redacted]

AND OF CROP ERADICATION, THEY WILL NEED ASSISTANCE OF THE FA DISBURSEMENT TYPE TO MITIGATE BOTH SMALL AND LARGE SCALE SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC COSTS. THE PARTIES WILL (COOPERATE) TO (IDENTIFY) THE (TYPE) OF THE ASSISTANCE REQUIRED. THE UNITE STATES IS PREPARED TO PROVIDE BALANCE OF PAYMENTS SUPPORT (T HELP MEET FOREIGN EXCHANGE NEEDS.) THE UNITED STATES WILL ALSO CONSIDER FUNDING FOR EMERGENCY SOCIAL PROGRAMS, SUCH AS THE SUCCESSFUL ONE IN BOLIVIA, TO PROVIDE EMPLOYMENT AND OTH OPPORTUNITIES TO THE POOR DIRECTLY AFFECTED BY THE FIGHT AGAINST ILLICIT DRUGS.

(NOTE: USTR PROPOSES "TO HELP MEET FOREIGN EXCHANGE NEEDS" MORE ALL EMBRACING, THAN THE SANTA CRUZ VERSION "TO FINANCE IMPORT AND HELP SERVICE DEBT TO INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS".)

3. TRADE INITIATIVES, INCENTIVES TO EXPORTS AND PRIVATE FOREIGN INVESTMENT

(AN INCREASE IN) TRADE AND (PRIVATE) INVESTMENT IS ESSENTIAL TO FACILITATE SUSTAINED ECONOMIC GROWTH AND TO HEL OFFSET THE ECONOMIC DISLOCATIONS RESULTING FROM ANY EFFECTIV PROGRAM AGAINST ILLICIT DRUGS. THE PARTIES WILL WORK TOGETH TO INCREASE TRADE AMONG THE THREE ANDEAN COUNTRIES AND THE UNITED STATES, EFFECTIVELY FACILITATING ACCESS TO THE UNITED STATES MARKET AND STRENGTHENING EXPORT PROMOTION, INCLUDING IDENTIFICATION, DEVELOPMENT AND MARKETING OF NEW EXPORT PRODUCTS. (THE UNITED STATES WILL ALSO CONSIDER PROVIDING APPROPRIATE TECHNICAL AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO HELP ANDEA AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS COMPLY WITH THE ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

(NOTE: USTR ELIMINATED "FOREIGN" TRADE, TO EMPHASIZE BENEFI OF TWO-WAY TRADE, AND ADDED "PRIVATE" INVESTMENT TO UNDERSCO IMPORTANCE OF THAT TYPE OF INVESTMENT. LAST SENTENCE INSERT AT REQUEST OF COLOMBIA.)

[redacted]

THE PARTIES MAY CONSIDER THE ESTABLISHMENT OF ECONOMIC AN INVESTMENT POLICIES, AS WELL AS LEGISLATION AND REGULATIONS FOSTER PRIVATE INVESTMENT. WHERE FAVORABLE CONDITIONS EXIST THE UNITED STATES WILL (FACILITATE) PRIVATE INVESTMENT IN TH THREE ANDEAN COUNTRIES, TAKING INTO ACCOUNT THE PARTICULAR CONDITIONS AND POTENTIAL OF EACH.

(NOTE: USTR PREFERS "FACILITATE" BECAUSE THEY CONSIDERED TH ORIGINAL "FOSTER" AS TOO PRO-ACTIVE.)

B. UNDERSTANDINGS REGARDING ATTACKING THE TRADE IN ILLICIT DRUGS

THE PARTIES REAFFIRM THEIR WILL TO FIGHT DRUG TRAFFICKING IN A COMPREHENSIVE MANNER ATTACKING ALL FACETS OF THE TRADE: PRODUCTION, TRANSPORTATION AND CONSUMPTION. SUCH COMPREHENSIVE ACTION INCLUDES THE FOLLOWING:

PREVENTIVE ACTIONS TO REDUCE CONSUMPTION AND THEREFORE DEMAND.

CONTROL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT ACTIVITIES AGAINST ILLEGAL CULTIVATION, PROCESSING, AND MARKETING OF ILLICIT DRUGS.

CONTROL OF ESSENTIAL CHEMICALS FOR THE PRODUCTION OF ILLEGAL DRUGS AND THE MEANS USED FOR THEIR TRANSPORT.

SEIZURE, FORFEITURE, AND SHARING OF ILLEGAL PROCEEDS AND PROPERTY USED IN COMMITTING NARCOTICS-RELATED CRIMES.

COORDINATION OF LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES, THE MILITARY, PROSECUTORS AND COURTS.

[redacted]

ACTIONS TO BRING ABOUT A NET REDUCTION IN THE ILLEGAL CULTIVATION OF COCA.

THE PARTIES UNDERTAKE TO ENGAGE IN AN ONGOING EVALUATION OF THEIR COOPERATION. BASED ON THIS EVALUATION, THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT WILL REQUEST CONGRESS TO PROVIDE ADDITIONA (ASSISTANCE TO THE ANDEAN PARTIES FOR THEIR) LAW ENFORCEMENT AND MILITARY (AGENCIES) AS WELL AS ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE.

(NOTE: WE REJECT COLOMBIAN PROPOSAL TO INSERT "IN THIS CONTEXT" IN REPLACEMENT OF "BASED ON THIS EVALUATION", LANGUAGE WHICH WAS AGREED UPON AFTER HARD BARGAINING AT SANT CRUZ. THE COLOMBIAN LANGUAGE WATERS DOWN CONDITIONALITY.)

GIVEN THAT THE PARTIES ACT WITHIN A FRAMEWORK OF RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, THEY REAFFIRM THAT NOTHING WOULD DO MORE TO UNDERMINE THE WAR ON DRUGS THAN DISREGARD FOR HUMAN RIGHTS B PARTICIPANTS IN THE EFFORT.

(NOTE: WE REJECT COLOMBIAN PROPOSAL TO REPLACE THIS PARAGRA WITH "WITHIN THIS FRAMEWORK, THE PARTIES REITERATE THEIR COMPLETE RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS" AS AN INADEQUATE COVERAGE OF A KEY ISSUE FOR US.)

1. PREVENTION AND DEMAND

(THE PARTIES UNDERTAKE TO SUPPORT DEVELOPMENT AND EXPANSION OF PROGRAMS ON COMPREHENSIVE PREVENTION, SUCH AS PREVENTIVE PUBLIC EDUCATION IN BOTH RURAL AND URBAN COUNTRIE TREATMENT OF DRUG ADDICTS, AND INFORMATION TO ENCOURAGE THE PUBLIC OPPOSITION TO ILLEGAL DRUG PRODUCTION, TRADE AND CONSUMPTION.) THESE PROGRAMS ARE FUNDAMENTAL IF T DRUG PROBLEM IS TO BE SUCCESSFULLY CONFRONTED.

THE PARTIES RECOGNIZE THAT PREVENTION EFFORTS IN THE FOUR COUNTRIES WILL BENEFIT FROM SHARED INFORMATION ABOUT

[redacted]

SUCCESSFUL PREVENTION PROGRAMS AND FROM BILATERAL AND

MULTILATERAL COOPERATION AGREEMENTS TO EXPAND EFFORTS IN THI FIELD.

TO THIS END, THE PARTIES UNDERTAKE TO CONTRIBUTE ECONOMIC MATERIAL AND TECHNICAL RESOURCES TO SUPPORT SUCH INTEGRATED PREVENTION PROGRAMS.

(NOTE: EDIT FOR CLARITY)

2. INTERDICTION

A BATTLE AGAINST AN ILLICIT PRODUCT MUST FOCUS ON THE (DEMAND FOR), PRODUCTION OF AND TRADE IN THAT PRODUCT. INTERDICTION OF ILLEGAL DRUGS, AS THEY MOVE FROM PRODUCER TO CONSUMER, IS ESSENTIAL. THE PARTIES PLEDGE TO STEP UP EFFOR WITHIN THEIR OWN COUNTRIES TO INTERDICT ILLEGAL DRUGS AND T INCREASE COORDINATION AND COOPERATION AMONG THEM TO FACILITA THIS FIGHT. THE UNITED STATES IS READY TO PROVIDE INCREASED COOPERATION IN EQUIPMENT AND TRAINING TO THE LAW ENFORCEMENT BODIES OF THE ANDEAN PARTIES.
(NOTE: COLOMBIAN FIX TO COMPLETE THOUGHT)

3. INVOLVEMENT OF THE ARMED FORCES

THE CONTROL OF ILLEGAL TRAFFICKING IN DRUGS IS ESSENTIALL A LAW ENFORCEMENT MATTER. HOWEVER, BECAUSE OF ITS MAGNITUDE AND THE DIFFERENT ASPECTS INVOLVED, AND IN KEEPING WITH THE (SOVEREIGN) INTEREST OF EACH STATE AND ITS OWN JUDICIAL SYSTEM, THE ARMED FORCES (IN EACH OF THE COUNTRIES) MAY ALSO PARTICIPATE. THE ARMED FORCES MAY PROVIDE RESOURCES TO SUPPORT LAW ENFORCEMENT OPERATIONS AGAINST DRUG TRAFFICKING WHEN SUCH OPERATIONS EXCEED THE CAPACITY OF LAW ENFORCEMENT

[redacted]

AGENCIES. THEREFORE, THE PARTIES PLEDGE TO ESTABLISH APPROPRIATE BILATERAL AND MULTILATERAL UNDERSTANDINGS FOR COOPERATION IN ACCORDANCE WITH THEIR INTERESTS, NEEDS AND PRIORITIES.

(NOTE: COLOMBIAN EDITS TO EMPHASIZE SOVEREIGNTY CONCERNS.)

4. INFORMATION SHARING AND INTELLIGENCE COOPERATION

THE PARTIES COMMIT THEMSELVES TO A GREATER EXCHANGE OF INFORMATION AND INTELLIGENCE IN ORDER TO STRENGTHEN ACTION B THE ARMED FORCES AND LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES. THE PARTIES WILL PURSUE BILATERAL AND MULTILATERAL UNDERSTANDINGS ON INFORMATION AND INTELLIGENCE COOPERATION, CONSISTENT WITH THEIR NATIONAL INTERESTS AND PRIORITIES.

(NOTE: IN LAST SENTENCE, WE REPLACED THE WORD "IMPLEMENT" WITH "PURSUE" BECAUSE TO DATE THERE HAVE BEEN FEW UNDERSTANDINGS ON THIS SUBJECT)

UNCLASSIFIED

5. ERADICATION AND DISCOURAGEMENT OF ILLICIT CROPS

ERADICATION CAN PLAY AN ESSENTIAL PART IN THE ANTI-DRUG FIGHT OF EACH COUNTRY. IN EACH CASE, ERADICATION PROGRAMS HAVE TO BE CAREFULLY CRAFTED, MEASURING THEIR POSSIBLE EFFEC ON TOTAL ILLICIT DRUG PRODUCTION IN EACH COUNTRY; THEIR COST-BENEFIT RATIO RELATIVE TO OTHER MEANS OF FIGHTING ILLIC DRUGS; WHETHER THEY CAN BE MOST EFFECTIVE AS VOLUNTARY OR COMPULSORY PROGRAMS OR A COMBINATION OF THE TWO; AND THEIR PROBABLE POLITICAL AND SOCIAL CONSEQUENCES.

(NOTE: WE REJECTED COLOMBIAN PROPOSAL TO REPLACE THE WORDS "CAN PLAY" IN FIRST SENTENCE WITH "IS" BECAUSE OF OUR CERTAINTY THAT BOLIVIA AND PERU WOULD REJECT LANGUAGE THEY INSISTED ON AT SANTA CRUZ. WE ALSO REJECTED COLOMBIA PROPOS TO DROP PHRASES REFERRING TO "VOLUNTARY OR COMPULSORY" PROGRAMS AND "PROBABLE AND SOCIAL CONSEQUENCES". COLOMBIAN PROPOSAL WOULD CHANGE SUBSTANTIVELY LANGUAGE AGREED TO AT SANTA CRUZ AFTER LENGTHY NEGOTIATION ON SENSITIVE SUBJECT.)

[redacted]

THE PARTIES RECOGNIZE THAT TO ERADICATE ILLICIT CROPS, TH PARTICIPATION OF THE GROWERS THEMSELVES IS DESIRABLE, ADOPTI MEASURES THAT WILL HELP THEM OBTAIN LEGAL SOURCES OF INCOME

NEW ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITIES, SUCH AS PROGRAMS FOR ALTERNATIVE DEVELOPMENT AND CROP SUBSTITUTION, SHALL BE FOSTERED TO HELP TO DISSUADE GROWERS FROM INITIATING OR EXPANDING ILLEGAL CULTIVATION. OUR GOAL IS A SUSTAINED REDUCTION IN THE TOTAL AREA UNDER ILLEGAL CULTIVATION.

(ERADICATION PROGRAMS MUST SAFEGUARD HUMAN HEALTH AND PRESERVE THE ECOSYSTEM.)

(NOTE: COLOMBIAN EDIT FOR CLARITY)

6. CONTROL OF FINANCIAL ASSETS

THE PARTIES AGREE TO IDENTIFY, TRACE, FREEZE, SEIZE, AND APPLY OTHER LEGAL PROCEDURES FOR THE DISPOSITION OF DRUG CRI PROCEEDS IN THEIR RESPECTIVE COUNTRIES, AND TO ATTACK FINANCIAL ASPECTS OF THE ILLICIT DRUG TRADE BY ADOPTING STRO MEASURES TO CRIMINALIZE MONEY LAUNDERING. THE PARTIES AGREE TO ESTABLISH FORMULAS PROVIDING EXCEPTIONS TO BANKING SECREC

(NOTE: WE REJECT COLOMBIAN PROPOSED ELIMINATION OF THE WORD "CRIMINALIZE" MONEY LAUNDERING, SINCE THE ESTABLISHMENT OF PENAL SANCTIONS FOR MONEY LAUNDERING ARE REQUIRED UNDER VIEN CONVENTION.)

7. FORFEITURE AND SHARING OF ILLEGAL DRUG PROCEEDS

UNCLASSIFIED

THE PARTIES PLEDGE TO IMPLEMENT A SYSTEM FOR FORFEITURE A SHARING OF ILLEGAL DRUG PROFITS AND ASSETS, AND TO ESTABLISH EFFECTIVE PROGRAMS IN THIS AREA. SUCH PROGRAMS WILL INCLUDE MECHANISMS FOR THE SEIZURE OR LEGAL FORFEITURE OF SUCH PROPERTIES WHICH ARE EITHER THE PROCEEDS OF ILLICIT DRUG-RELATED OFFENSES OR EMPLOYED IN THE COMMISSION OF SUCH OFFENSES AND PROPERTY EQUIVALENT TO PROPERTY DERIVED FROM TH PROCEEDS OF ILLICIT DRUG-RELATED OFFENSES.

IN UNITED STATES CASES RELATED TO FORFEITURE OF SUCH PROPERTY OF ILLEGAL DRUG TRAFFICKERS WHERE BOLIVIA, COLOMBIA AND PERU PROVIDE ASSISTANCE TO THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES PLEDGES TO TRANSFER TO T ASSISTING GOVERNMENT SUCH FORFEITED PROPERTY, TO THE EXTENT CONSISTENT WITH UNITED STATES' LAWS AND REGULATIONS. THE PARTIES WILL ALSO SEEK ASSET SHARING AGREEMENTS (FOR) BOLIVI COLOMBIA, AND PERU, (WITH) OTHER COUNTRIES.

8. CONTROL OF ESSENTIAL CHEMICALS USED IN THE PRODUCTI OF ILLICIT DRUGS

(THE CONTROL IN THE UNITED STATES OF EXPORT OF CHEMICAL SUBSTANCES USED IN THE PROCESSING OF COCAINE IS VITAL. IN ADDITION, THERE IS A NEED TO CONTROL THE IMPORT AND DOMESTIC PRODUCTION OF SUCH SUBSTANCES BY THE ANDEAN PARTIES. JOINT EFFORTS MUST BE COORDINATED TO ELIMINATE THE ILLICT TRADE IN SUCH SUBSTANCES.)

(NOTE: REWRITE FOR CLARITY. ALSO WE CAN CONTROL OUR EXPOR BUT NOT OUR DOMESTIC PRODUCTION OF PRECURSORS)
THE PARTIES AGREE:

- TO STEP UP INTERDICTION OF THE MOVEMENTS OF ESSENTIAL CHEMICALS THAT HAVE ALREADY ENTERED THE COUNTRY, LEGALLY OR

[redacted]

ILLEGALLY, AND ARE BEING DIVERTED FOR ILLICIT DRUG PROCESSING. THIS INCLUDES CONTROLLING CHOKE POINTS AS WELL ESTABLISHING INVESTIGATIVE AND MONITORING PROGRAMS IN CLOSE COOPERATION WITH ALL THE PARTIES' LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES.

- TO FURTHER DEVELOP AN INTERNAL SYSTEM TO TRACK ESSENTIAL CHEMICALS THROUGH SALE, RESALE AND DISTRIBUTION TO THE END USER.

- TO COOPERATE BILATERALLY AND MULTILATERALLY TO PROVIDE EA

9. CONTROL OF WEAPONS, PLANES, SHIPS, EXPLOSIVES AND COMMUNICATIONS EQUIPMENT USED IN ILLEGAL DRUG TRAFFICKING

ILLICIT DRUG (TRAFFICKING) IS HEAVILY DEPENDENT ON WEAPON EXPLOSIVES, COMMUNICATIONS EQUIPMENT, AND AIR, MARITIME AND RIVERINE TRANSPORTATION THROUGHOUT THE GROWING-PRODUCTION-DISTRIBUTION PROCESS.

THE PARTIES AGREE:

- TO STRENGTHEN CONTROLS OVER THE MOVEMENT OF ILLEGAL WEAPO AND EXPLOSIVES AND OVER THE SALE, RESALE AND THE REGISTRATIO OF AIRCRAFT AND MARITIME VESSELS IN THEIR RESPECTIVE COUNTRIES, WHICH SHOULD BE CARRIED OUT BY THEIR OWN AUTHORITIES.

[redacted]

THE PARTIES AGREE TO ESTABLISH (WITHIN THEIR OWN TERRITOR CONTROL PROGRAMS THAT INCLUDE:

LEGISLATION AND JUDICIAL DECISIONS IN ORDER TO OPTIMIZE LEGA PROCEEDINGS AGAINST THE TRAFFIC IN ILLICIT DRUGS.

C. UNDERSTANDINGS REGARDING DIPLOMATIC INITIATIVES AND PUBLIC OPINION

- THE PROBLEM OF ILLICIT DRUG TRAFFICKING AND CONSUMPTION RESPECTS NO BORDERS, THREATENS NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL SECURITY, AND ERODES THE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL STRUCTURES OF O NATIONS. IT IS ESSENTIAL TO ADOPT AND CARRY OUT A (COMPREHENSIVE) STRATEGY TO PROMOTE FULL AWARENESS OF THE DESTRUCTIVE EFFECTS OF ILLEGAL PRODUCTION, ILLICIT TRAFFICK AND THE IMPROPER CONSUMPTION OF DRUGS. TOWARD THIS END, TH PARTIES COMMIT THEMSELVES TO USE ALL POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC MEANS WITHIN THEIR POWER TO PUT INTO EFFECT PROGRAMS AIMED ACHIEVING THIS GOAL.

(NOTE: EDIT FOR CLARITY)

SUBJECT: INTERIOR MINISTER AND MILITARY INTELLIGENCE STONEWALL ON THE OQUELI ASSASSINATION

REF: GUATEMALA 01172 AND PREVIOUS

1. [redacted] - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: LEGATT AND POLOFF SPENT OVER TWO FRUITLESS HOURS THE EVENING OF JANUARY 31 DISCUSSING THE OQUELI MURDER INVESTIGATION WITH MINISTER OF INTERIOR CARLOS MORALES VILLATORO AND MAJOR DIAZ OF MILITARY INTELLIGENCE. LEGATT STRESSED THAT INTELLIGENCE INFORMATION FROM SOURCES SHOULD BE USED TO SUPPLEMENT CRIMINAL INVESTIGATORS AND THE NECESSITY THAT HIGH LEVEL OFFICIALS KEEP POLICE STREET LEVEL INVESTIGATORS APERISED OF ALL INFORMATION IN THE CASE. MORALES IGNORED LEGATT'S COMMENTS, IMPLYING THE SPECIAL COMMISSION SET UP BY CEREZO AND LEGATT HIMSELF WOULD BE THE PRIMARY FORCES IN SOLVING THE CASE. DIAZ PROVIDED NOTHING OF WORTH TO THE CONVERSATION, DESPITE MORALES' CLAIM HE WAS [redacted] OFFICER IN THE CASE. END SUMMARY.

3. LEGATT [redacted] AND POLOFF VISITED THE NATIONAL PALACE JANUARY 31 TO DISCUSS THE OQUELI MURDER INVESTIGATION WITH INTERIOR MINISTER CARLOS MORALES VILLATORO AND MILITARY INTELLIGENCE CHIEF COLONEL FRANCISCO ORTEGA. THE FIRST HOUR IN MORALES' OFFICE WAS SPENT DISCUSSING POLICE PROCEDURES DURING THE INVESTIGATION AND THE ROLE OF THE PRESIDENTIAL COMMISSION SET UP TO MONITOR ITS PROGRESS. LEGATT STRESSED THAT THE COMMISSION'S ROLE SHOULD BE TO PRESSURE THE DIFFERENT GOVERNMENT AGENCIES INVESTIGATING THE CASE, NOT TO ENGAGE IN DIGGING UP CLUES. LEGATT ALSO STRESSED THAT INFORMATION COMING TO THE COMMISSION'S ATTENTION SHOULD BE PASSED IMMEDIATELY TO INVESTIGATORS WORKING THE CASE. MORALES RESPONDED THAT IT WAS EXTREMELY DIFFICULT TO CONVINCE PEOPLE TO SPEAK WITH POLICE INVESTIGATORS AND DECLARED, "PEOPLE SPEAK MUCH MORE FREELY TO ME OUT OF FRIENDSHIP." LEGATT STRESSED AGAIN THAT POLICE OFFICERS -- NOT MINISTERS -- COULD SOLVE THE MURDER CASE.

RELEASED Authority NND 969... State (...)

4. AFTER THE FIRST HOUR, POLOFF ASKED WHEN IT WOULD BE POSSIBLE TO SPEAK WITH D-2 CHIEF COLONEL ORTEGA. MORALES PUT A CALL IN TO ORTEGA'S OFFICE. HE THEN TOLD US ORTEGA WAS IN A MEETING WITH OTHER MILITARY COMMANDERS AND WOULD NOT ATTEND. MAJOR DIAZ, D-2 NUMBER TWO AND THE OFFICER HANDLING THE OQUELI CASE, WOULD SPEAK WITH US. DIAZ APPEARED SOME TIME LATER BUT SAID NOTHING WHILE MORALES CONTINUED TO REGALE US WITH HIS IDEAS ON THE GOG COMMISSION'S ROLE IN THE MURDER INVESTIGATION.

5. LEGATT AND POLOFF FINALLY BEGAN TO ASK DIAZ DIRECTLY WHETHER D-2 HAD ANY INFORMATION ON THE OQUELI MURDER. DIAZ RESPONDED THAT MILITARY INTELLIGENCE HAD FIRST BELIEVED THAT SALVADORANS CARRIED OUT THE MURDER, GIVEN THAT THE BODIES WERE DUMPED NEAR THE SALVADORAN BORDER. DIAZ ALSO CLAIMED THE BODIES WERE LEFT ONE KILOMETER BEFORE A TRAVELER HEADING SOUTH WOULD HAVE ENCOUNTERED A GUARDIA DE HACIENDA STATION, IMPLYING THAT ONLY SOMEONE WHO HAD TRAVELLED NORTH FROM SALVADOR WOULD KNOW OF THE STATION'S EXISTENCE. DIAZ CONCLUDED, HOWEVER, THAT SINCE THE INITIAL DAYS OF THE CASE, D-2 HAD HEARD "OTHER VERSIONS" CONCERNING THE CASE AND WERE NOW VERY COGNISANT OF THE CASE'S POLITICAL IMPORTANCE. DIAZ'S EXPOSITION ENDED AT THIS POINT.

6. UNDER FURTHER QUESTIONING, DIAZ DENIED THAT D-2 HAD ANY PREVIOUS INFORMATION CONCERNING THE ARRIVAL OF EITHER OQUELI OR FELLOW SALVADORAN RENE FLORES, WHO WAS TRAVELLING WITH OQUELI. LEGATT ASKED IF OQUELI OR FLORES HAD BEEN UNDER SURVEILLANCE ONCE THEY ARRIVED IN GUATEMALA. MORALES BROKE IN AND SAID, LOCKING EYES WITH POLOFF, "THEY WERE NOT UNDER SURVEILLANCE, IF THEY HAD BEEN, THIS WOULD NOT HAVE HAPPENED." DIAZ CONTINUED TO CLAIM TOTAL IGNORANCE CONCERNING THE CASE. THE MEETING CLOSED SHORTLY [redacted] WITH MORALES ASKING LEGATT WHEN HE WOULD [redacted] GUATEMALA.

THIS MEETING ILLUSTRATES THE CONTINUED RELUCTANCE OF THE GOG TO EFFECTIVELY UTILIZE THE NATIONAL POLICE AS AN INVESTIGATIVE FORCE, DESPITE INDICATIONS THAT POLICE FOLLOWED PROFESSIONAL PROCEDURES IN HANDLING THIS CASE (REPORTED SEPTEL). GIVEN THE PRESENT LACK OF SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE, AND THE ATTITUDES DESCRIBED ABOVE, WE HAVE DOUBTS THAT THIS CASE WILL BE SOLVED. END COMMENT.

APPROXIMATELY 100,000 CHILEANS HAVE SETTLED IN EUROPE SINCE 1973, MOSTLY IN SPAIN (FOR CULTURAL REASONS) OR NORTHERN EUROPE (FOR POLITICAL REASONS). THERE ARE RESETTLEMENT PROGRAMS WITH OTHER COUNTRIES, SUCH AS FRANCE, ITALY, MEXICO AND AUSTRALIA. THE INTERGOVERNMENTAL COMMISSION ON MIGRATION (ICM) REPORTS THAT IT ASSISTED 996 CHILEANS IN A SPECIAL RESETTLEMENT PROGRAM TO SETTLE ABROAD DURING 1989; 426 WENT TO AUSTRALIA, 222 TO SWEDEN AND 186 TO CANADA. ACCORDING TO THE ICM, ALMOST ALL THOSE LEAVING CHILE IN 1989 WENT TO JOIN FAMILY MEMBERS WHO HAD LEFT EARLIER FOR POLITICAL REASONS. FROM 1973 THROUGH DECEMBER 31, 1989, THE ICM HAS HELPED 30,260 CHILEANS UNDER ITS RESETTLEMENT PROGRAMS.

3. FEWER CHILEANS HAVE DEPARTED IN RECENT YEARS, IN PART BECAUSE OF THE IMPROVED ECONOMIC SITUATION, BUT ALSO BECAUSE OF THE IMPROVING HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION. MOREOVER, THE POLITICAL SITUATION HAS CHANGED DRAMATICALLY: ON DECEMBER 14, 1989, A CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT WAS DEMOCRATICALLY ELECTED AND WILL ASSUME OFFICE ON MARCH 11, 1990.

4. BEGINNING IN 1977 THROUGH DECEMBER 31, 1989, THE ICM HAS ASSISTED 5,775 CHILEANS TO RETURN. IT ASSISTED 1,385 INDIVIDUALS TO RELOCATE TO CHILE IN 1989. THE UNHCR ASSISTED 957 CHILEANS TO RETURN FROM ARGENTINA AND CUBA IN 1989. MANY OTHER CHILEANS WHO FLED FOR POLITICAL REASONS ARE BELIEVED TO HAVE RESETTLED WITHOUT ICM OR UNHCR ASSISTANCE IN ORDER TO AVOID IDENTIFICATION AS POLITICAL REFUGEES.

5. BESIDES THE ICM AND UNHCR, OTHER ORGANIZATIONS THAT AID RETURNEES ARE THE SOCIAL AID FOUNDATION OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCHES (FASIC) AND THE VICARIATE OF SOLIDARITY, SPONSORED BY THE CATHOLIC CHURCH. THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT PROVIDED NO ASSISTANCE. THE RETURNEES ENJOY THE SAME LEGAL RIGHTS AS THE CHILEAN POPULATION AS A WHOLE. ACCORDING TO ORGANIZATIONS ASSISTING THOSE RETURNING TO CHILE, THEY ARE NOT SINGLED OUT FOR HARASSMENT BY THE GOVERNMENT OR VIGILANTE GROUPS. HOWEVER, MANY OF THOSE WHO WERE OFFICIALLY EXILED HAVE HAD DIFFICULTY FINDING EMPLOYMENT; THE FACT THAT THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE, UNTIL 1985, ANNUALLY PUBLISHED A LIST OF THOSE EXILED MAY CONTRIBUTE TO EMPLOYER RELUCTANCE TO HIRE THEM. MOREOVER, THERE ARE ALLEGATIONS THAT RETURNEES HAVE A DIFFICULT TIME HAVING THEIR ACADEMIC DEGREES, EARNED DURING THEIR PERIOD OF EXILE, ACCEPTED BY THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT. THE INCREASED NUMBER OF CHILEANS WHO OPTED TO RETURN IN 1989 INDICATES, HOWEVER, THAT FEWER RESETTLEMENT PROBLEMS ARE ANTICIPATED UNDER THE NEWLY-ELECTED GOVERNMENT.

6. THE GOC LIFTED ORDERS OF EXILE IN SEPTEMBER 1988,

1. (U) REFTEL PROVIDES EMBASSY VIEW ON THE STORY BY ALLEGEDLY KIDNAPPED AMCIT URSULINE NUN DIANA M. ORTIZ. SEPTELS REPORT ON REACTIONS BY THE MINISTER OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS AND THE CONGRESSIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION. THIS MESSAGE REPORTS ON CONTINUED GOG, CHURCH, AND LOCAL PRESS REACTION TO THE STORY AND ON FURTHER EMBASSY EFFORTS TO INVESTIGATE THE MATTER.

2. (U) IN A PRESS CONFERENCE NOVEMBER 9, PRESIDENT CEREZO SAID HE DOUBTED THE STORY ABOUT THE ALLEGED KIDNAPPING, TORTURE, AND ESCAPE OF ORTIZ. CEREZO COMPLAINED THAT SHE LEFT WITHOUT PROVIDING INFORMATION WHICH COULD BE USED IN AN INVESTIGATION. "EVEN THE AMERICAN EMBASSY," HE SAID, HAS NOT GOTTEN FIRST-HAND INFORMATION.

3. (U) ON NOVEMBER 9, EMBOFF MET AN ARMY CAPTAIN IN THE PRESIDENTIAL GUARD WHOM CEREZO HAS ASKED TO LOOK INTO THE CASE. THE CAPTAIN ADMITTED THAT HE IS AT A DEAD-END. HE, HOWEVER, ALSO DOUBTS THE STORY: KIDNAPPERS DO NOT USE THE BUS.

4. (U) AMBASSADOR AND PAO MET AMCIT PRIESTS AT THE MARYKNOLL HOUSE NOVEMBER 10 TO DISCUSS FURTHER THE CASE. THE PRIESTS SAID THEY HAD NO MORE INFORMATION ON THE AFFAIR. NONE OF THEM HAD SPOKEN TO DIANA. THEY DID CONFIRM, HOWEVER, THAT WHILE SHE WAS AT MARYKNOLL HOUSE, NO DOCTOR SAW HER DESPITE THE CLAIM THAT SHE HAD SOME FIFTY - SEVENTY CIGARETTE BURNS.

5. (U) ON NOVEMBER 12, THE NATIONAL POLICE INVITED

DECONTROLLED/UNCLASSIFIED

SEVERAL PRINT AND ELECTRONIC JOURNALISTS TO ANTIGUA TO INTERVIEW A WITNESS WHO SAID HE SAW ORTIZ WALK OUT OF THE POSADA BELEN ALONE IN THE DIRECTION OF THE GUATEMALA CITY BUS STOP. THE WITNESS SAID HE HAD TOLD THIS SAME STORY TO TWO NUNS WHO HAD TALKED TO HIM ON THE AFTERNOON OF NOVEMBER 2, THE DAY DIANA ORTIZ WAS REPORTED AS MISSING. (COMMENT: AS PER REFTEL, TWO NUNS WE SPOKE TO ON THE EVENING OF NOVEMBER 2 SAID THEY HAD SPOKEN TO A WITNESS WHO CLAIMED TO HAVE SEEN DIANA LEAVE THE POSADA ALONE. END COMMENT): THE POLICE SPOKESMAN DISCOUNTED INVOLVEMENT BY POLICE PERSONNEL IN KIDNAPPING ORTIZ AND LAMENTED THE FACT THAT SHE HAD LEFT WITHOUT PROVIDING A DESCRIPTION OF THE MEN WHO HAD ALLEGEDLY KIDNAPPED HER.

6. (U) IN REACTION TO CEREZO'S COMMENTS AND THE NATIONAL POLICE PRESENTATION OF A WITNESS, ARCHBISHOP PENADOS, IN TWO TELEVISED PRESS CONFERENCES (NOV 12 AND 13), SAID HE BELIEVED ORTIZ HAD BEEN KIDNAPPED AND TORTURED, BUT HE DID NOT KNOW WHO WAS GUILTY. THE ARCHBISHOP SAID HE SAW SISTER DIANA AND SHE HAD SUFFERED A BEATING; HE THOUGHT SHE HAD FIFTY CIGARETTE BURNS ON HER BACK. PENADOS DOUBTED THE CREDIBILITY OF THE POLICE WITNESS. ON NOVEMBER 12, CONFREGUA (CONFERENCE OF RELIGIOUS PERSONS OF GUATEMALA) RAN A FULL-PAGE PAID ADVERTISEMENT IN "EL GRAFICO" REPEATING VERBATIM ORTIZ'S SUPPOSED ACCOUNT, DEMANDING AN INVESTIGATION INTO THE CASE AND A HALT TO HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN GUATEMALA.

7. (LOU) ON NOVEMBER 13, THE PAPAL NUNCIO REQUESTED A MEETING WITH THE AMBASSADOR OR THE CONGEN. WHEN CONGEN CALLED ON THE NUNCIO THAT MORNING, SHE WAS GIVEN A COPY OF AN AIDE MEMOIRE PREPARED FOR THE AMBASSADOR STATING THAT THE NUNCIO ON THE EVENING OF NOVEMBER 2 HAD PERSONALLY INFORMED THE MINISTERS OF DEFENSE, INTERIOR, AND FOREIGN RELATIONS OF ORTIZ'S KIDNAPPING.

8. (LOU) THE NUNCIO FURTHER CLAIMED THAT A DOCTOR HAD SEEN ORTIZ AT THE NUNCIO'S RESIDENCE THE EVENING OF NOVEMBER 3. HE SAID HE COULD PROVIDE CONGEN WITH THE DOCTOR'S CERTIFICATE AND ASKED IF THE CONGEN COULD QUIETLY PROVIDE IT TO GOG OFFICIALS IN A MANNER THAT WOULD NOT PUT THE DOCTOR AT RISK FROM WAYWARD SECURITY AGENTS. CONGEN DECLINED THE CERTIFICATE, SAYING THE

RELATIONS THAT ORTIZ HAD SOUGHT REFUGE AT THE NUNCIO RESIDENCE.

8. (C) COMMENT. THE NUNCIO'S REVELATION THAT ORTIZ WAS SEEN BY A DOCTOR COMES AS A SURPRISE. ON SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 4, DURING THE AMBASSADOR'S SECOND CALL AT THE NUNCIATURA, ACCOMPANIED BY THE PAO, HE ASKED WHETHER ORTIZ HAD BEEN SEEN BY A DOCTOR. THE NUNCIO AND SISTER DARLENE BOTH SAID SHE HAD NOT. THE AMBASSADOR SAID THAT AS THE FATHER OF FOUR DAUGHTERS HIMSELF, HE WAS VERY CONCERNED THAT ORTIZ RECEIVE APPROPRIATE MEDICAL ATTENTION AND OFFERED TO PROVIDE ORTIZ ACCESS TO EMBASSY HEALTH CARE. THE OFFER WAS REFUSED. END COMMENT.

9. (LOU) THE NUNCIO ALSO PROVIDED CONGEN A COPY OF THE SPANISH-LANGUAGE DECLARATION ALLEGEDLY SIGNED BY ORTIZ AND A LETTER, IN EXCELLENT SPANISH, PURPORTEDLY WRITTEN BY ORTIZ LAST JULY 18 TO THE BISHOP IN HUEHUETENANGO DETAILING THE VARIOUS THREATS SHE HAD RECEIVED AND ASKING PERMISSION TO TAKE HER VACATION EARLY.

10. (U) ON NOVEMBER 13, EMBOFF SPOKE TO OFFICIALS FROM THE POLICE OFFICE OF PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITY (OPR) WHO WERE LOOKING INTO THE CASE. THEY SAID NO POLICE CAR WITH A "NUMBER 7" PATROLS MIXCO. ONLY TWO CARS ARE ASSIGNED TO THE MIXCO AREA AND NEITHER OF THEM HAS A NUMERAL "7."

11. (LOU) COMMENT: THE NUNCIO'S AIDE MEMOIRE SEEMS DESIGNED TO ADDRESS DOUBTS THAT HAVE EMERGED ABOUT ORTIZ'S STORY IN THAT, FOR THE FIRST TIME, IT CLAIMS THAT ORTIZ WAS VISITED AND TREATED BY A DOCTOR. THE NUNCIO HIMSELF NEVERTHELESS ADMITTED DOUBTS THAT THE KIDNAPPERS USED PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION TO MOVE ORTIZ FROM ANTIGUA TO MIXCO.

12. (LOU) THE ORTIZ STORY STILL DRAWS ATTENTION FROM THE PRESS AND HIGH-LEVELS OF THE GOG. SENIOR CHURCH OFFICIALS CONTINUE TO STAND BY ORTIZ'S CLAIMS, BUT GOG AUTHORITIES ARE CLEARLY IRRITATED BY AND SKEPTICAL OF THE STORY.

13. (LOU) WE NOTE THAT THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE VERSION OF HER STORY, FAXED TO US BY ARA/CEN ON NOVEMBER 13, VARIES SLIGHTLY FROM THE SPANISH LANGUAGE VERSION. THE CURIOUS SYNTAX AND THE REFERENCES TO "NORTH AMERICAN" EMBASSY AND "NORTH AMERICAN" PERSONS SEEM TO INDICATE THAT THE STATEMENT WAS NOT WRITTEN BY A NATIVE ENGLISH SPEAKER OR WAS POORLY TRANSLATED FROM A SPANISH-LANGUAGE ORIGINAL.

SPEECH BY CUBAN UNDERSECRETARY FOR FOREIGN RELATIONS RAUL ROA KOURI ON ITEM 9, FEBRUARY 1, 1990

MADAME CHAIRMAN,

1990 IS THE 30TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE ADOPTION BY THE UN GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF ITS HISTORIC RESOLUTION 1514 (XV), WHICH CONTAINS THE DECLARATION ON THE GRANTING OF INDEPENDENCE TO COLONIAL PEOPLES AND TERRITORIES. IT IS, THEREFORE, A YEAR NOT ONLY OF COMMEMORATION, BUT ALSO A POINT OF DEPARTURE FOR THE INTERNATIONAL LEGAL COMMUNITY TO REINFORCE ITS CONCERTED ACTION AIMED AT GIVING FULL VALIDITY TO THE RICH CONCEPTUAL AND PRACTICAL SOURCE FROM WHICH IT COMES.

EVEN THOUGH IT WAS ADOPTED DURING VERY DIFFERENT HISTORICAL CIRCUMSTANCES, THE DECLARATION TODAY IS AS VALID AS EVER; PARTICULARLY REGARDING ITS CONCEPTIONS OF THE CONNECTION BETWEEN COMPLETE RESPECT OF THE PRINCIPLE OF SELF-DETERMINATION (CONSECRATED IN ARTICLE 1 OF THE SAN FRANCISCO ACCORD) AND THE REAL POTENTIAL OF PEOPLES AND INDIVIDUALS FOR THE EFFECTIVE EXERCISE OF THEIR BASIC RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL LIBERTIES. WITH A LAUDABLE VISION OF THE FUTURE THAT STILL SURPRISES, THE AUTHORS OF THE DECLARATION REACHED BEYOND THE PANORAMA OF OLD-STYLE COLONIALISM - WHOSE TOTAL ERADICATION WAS THE MAJOR CONCERN IN THOSE DAYS - AND AFFIRMED, FOR ALL TIMES, THAT NOT ONLY WAS ANCIENT COLONIALISM AN OVERRIDING OBSTACLE TO THE EFFECTIVE EXERCISE OF THOSE RIGHTS AND LIBERTIES, BUT, IN ADDITION, THESE SAME RIGHTS AND LIBERTIES

WERE UNATTAINABLE UNDER ANY FORM OF FOREIGN

DOMINATION OR OCCUPATION.

SUCH CONCERN - EXPRESSED IN UNEQUIVOCAL TERMS 3 DECADES AGO - FULL JUSTIFIES THE FACT THAT SINCE 1975 THIS COMMISSION HAS IMPOSED ON ITSELF EVERY YEAR THE TASK OF ANALYZING THE MOST RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN THE APPLICATION OF THAT ESSENTIAL RIGHT OF PEOPLES TO SELF-DETERMINATION, IN PARTICULAR THOSE PEOPLES WHO STILL SUFFER FOREIGN OR COLONIAL DOMINATION, OR ARE SUBJECTED TO MILITARY OCCUPATION OF THEIR RESPECTIVE TERRITORIES.

WE ARE STILL VERY FAR FROM THE EFFECTIVE REALIZATION OF THIS KEY PRINCIPLE OF INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS.

THIS IS TRUE IN SPITE OF THE EUPHORIA THAT THE "INFORMATION" MULTINATIONALS PROJECT AND DISSEMINATE, WHICH GIVES US AN ALMOST PANGLOSSIAN VISION IN THIS RESPECT, AND WHICH IS AT LOGGERHEADS WITH PROVEABLE REALITY.

YOU, YOURSELF, MADAME PRESIDENT, IN YOUR OPENING SPEECH, EXHORTED US TO REDOUBLE OUR EFFORTS TO ERADICATE "ALL VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS; IN PARTICULAR FLAGRANT AND MASSIVE VIOLATIONS OF THE RIGHT TO SELF-DETERMINATION."

IT IS NOT INAPPROPRIATE, THEREFORE, TO REVIEW, IF ONLY BY GIVING A BRIEF SUMMARY, SOME OF THE DEVELOPMENTS THAT HAVE OCCURRED IN THE LAST YEAR, AND WHICH PERMIT US TO DRAW A CLEARER IMAGE OF THE SITUATION.

IN THESE LAST MONTHS CERTAIN POSITIVE FACTS HAVE COME ABOUT THAT IN OUR JUDGMENT SHOULD BE HIGHLIGHTED. FIRST, THE CONSOLIDATION AND ADVANCEMENT OF THE PROCESS OF INDEPENDENCE OF NAMIBIA, TO WHICH OUR PEOPLE ARE PROUD OF HAVING CONTRIBUTED BY HAVING INFLICTED ON SOUTH AFRICA, TOGETHER WITH ANGOLAN AND SWAPO ARMED FORCES, THE MILITARY DEFEAT THAT LED FINALLY TO THE NEGOTIATING TABLE AND THE APPLICATION OF RESOLUTION 435 OF THE SECURITY COUNCIL.

INTENSE EFFORTS, WILL CONSTITUTE AN EFFECTIVE TOOL FOR PREVENTING THE USE OF MERCENARIES AGAINST THE RIGHT OF PEOPLES TO SELF-DETERMINATION OR FOR THE INTERNAL DESTABILIZATION OF SOVEREIGN STATES, AS IN THE CASE OF NICARAGUA, OR FOR THE OVERTHROW OF LEGITIMATELY CONSTITUTED GOVERNMENTS.
REGARDING OLD-WORLD COLONIALISM, IT CAN BE OBSERVED THAT THE LIST OF TERRITORIES ON THE LIST OF THE "COMMITTEE OF 24" IS STILL VERY LONG. AMONG THE COUNTRIES ON THE LIST, PUERTO RICO CONTINUES TO HAVE A SPECIAL SIGNIFICANCE FOR CUBA. THE DAY WILL COME WHEN THE PUERTO RICAN PEOPLE, FREED FROM FOREIGN TUTELAGE, WILL BE INCORPORATED, AS CORRESPONDS BY RIGHT AND IN FULL REAFFIRMATION OF ITS LATIN AMERICAN HERITAGE, TO THE ROLL OF SOVEREIGN AND INDEPENDENT COUNTRIES.

CUBA SUPPORTS
THE RIGHT TO SELF-DETERMINATION AND INDEPENDENCE FOR: THE SAHARAN PEOPLE ACCORDING TO RESOLUTIONS IN THE U.N. AND THE OAU; FOR THE BLACK MAJORITY IN SOUTH AFRICA IN ITS ATTEMPT TO LIBERATE ITSELF FROM THE YOKE OF APARTHEID; FOR THE LEBANESE IN THEIR EFFORT TO RID THEIR COUNTRY OF FOREIGN OCCUPATION, AND THE RIGHT OF SYRIA TO RECOVER THE GOLAN HEIGHTS.

THE JUST CAUSE OF THE INSURRECTION OF THE PALESTINIAN PEOPLES, WHO HAVE BEEN STRIPPED OF THEIR FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS AND FREEDOMS BY THE ISRAELI FORCES OF OCCUPATION, DESERVES AND HAS OUR UNCONDITIONAL SUPPORT.

OUR COMMISSION IS ADVISED - IN CASE ANYONE IS NOT AWARE - WHO HAS VIOLATED AND HOW THEY HAVE VIOLATED THE RIGHTS OF THE COUNTRIES IN THE THIRD WORLD, ALMOST ALWAYS IN THE NAME OF "LIBERTY AND DEMOCRACY," IF NOT IN THE NAME OF THE CONCEPT OF "NATIONAL SECURITY", IN ORDER TO IMPOSE SERVILE GOVERNMENTS WILLING TO GIVE THE RICHES AND RESOURCES OF THESE COUNTRIES TO THE RAPE OF CAPITALIST MULTINATIONAL BUSINESSES.

MRS. CHAIRMAN:

IF THESE CASES HAVE A PARTICULAR RELEVANCE, THERE IS NO DOUBT THAT THE SINGULAR FACT OF MOST IMPORTANT TRANSCENDENCE DURING THIS PERIOD, IN REFERRING TO FLAGRANT AND MASSIVE VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL LIBERTIES AS A RESULT OF FOREIGN AGGRESSIONS THAT DEPRIVE COUNTRIES OF THEIR RIGHT TO SELF-DETERMINATION, IS THE MILITARY INTERVENTION OF THE UNITED STATES IN PANAMA AND THE CONTINUED OCCUPATION OF THAT SMALL LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRY SINCE DECEMBER 20.

THERE WAS NO LACK OF EXCUSES - FROM THE "WAR AGAINST NARCOTRAFFICKING"AND THE "DEFENSE OF DEMOCRACY" TO "DEFENDING THE LIVES OF AMERICAN CITIZENS IN PANAMA." NONE OF THESE SERVES TO HIDE THE FLAGRANT TRANSGRESSION OF THE CARDINAL PRINCIPLES OF INTERNATIONAL LAW, THE UNITED NATIONS CHARTER AND

MADAM CHAIRMAN:

MY DELEGATION CONSIDERS THAT THIS COMMISSION CANNOT REMAIN SILENT BEFORE THIS MONSTROUS AGGRESSION OR BEFORE THE SPECIOUS AND CYNICAL ARGUMENTS USED TO JUSTIFY IT. THE DAY THAT WE ADMIT THAT A STATE CAN INVADE AND MILITARY OCCUPY ANOTHER COUNTRY TO "ADVANCE THE CAUSE OF HUMAN RIGHTS" WE WOULD BE CAVALIERLY PROSTITUTING THE TERM, UNFORGIVABLY TRAMPLING IN THE DIRT THE KEY PRINCIPLES OF INTERNATIONAL LAW AS TO THE ILLEGITIMATE USE OR THE THREAT OF FORCE IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS AND THE

MEDDLING IN INTERNAL AFFAIRS. IN SUM, WE WOULD, IN OTHER WORDS GO BACK TO THE LAW OF THE JUNGLE. ON DEC. 29, THE UNGA GAVE A RESPONSE WITHIN THE POLITICAL SPHERE OF ITS RESOLUTION 44/240 TO THE VANDALISTIC ACTION OF THE U.S. AGAINST PANAMA. A SHORT TIME BEFORE THE OAS HAD DONE THE SAME. . ONLY DAYS AGO IT WAS EXPRESSLY CRITICIZED BY THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT. IT IS NOW UP TO OUR COMMISSION TO EVALUATE THE CONSEQUENCES OF THE AGGRESSION AND THE CONTINUED MILITARY OCCUPATION FROM THE PERSPECTIVE

1. POST HAS OBTAINED THE FOLLOWING BIOGRAPHIC INFORMATION ON THE OFFICERS SUSPECTED OF THE MURDER OF THE JESUITS.

2. BENAVIDES MORENO, GUILLERMO ALFREDO (COL.)

(A) UNTIL THE JESUIT MURDER, BENAVIDES HAD BEEN CONSIDERED A MODERATE CONSERVATIVE, TRUSTED BY FORMER PRESIDENT DUARTE AND RECEPTIVE TO U.S. ADVICE. HE WAS RESPECTED BY COL. PONCE AND PART OF THE POWERFUL "SINFONICA TANDA," THE MILITARY ACADEMY CLASS OF 1966, BUT NOT PART OF THE INNER CIRCLE. HE IS REPORTED TO BE INTELLIGENT, WELL-INFORMED, AND FRIENDLY, BUT WAS NOT KNOWN TO TAKE THE INITIATIVE IN MILITARY MATTERS. HE WAS THE DIRECTOR OF THE MILITARY ACADEMY AT THE TIME OF THE JESUIT MURDERS. IMMEDIATELY BEFORE THE NOVEMBER OFFENSIVE, BENAVIDES' 15 YEAR OLD SON WAS CRIPPLED FROM THE NECK DOWN BY THE GUILLAIN-BARRE VIRUS.

(B) PERSONAL DATA: DOB: 18 JUNE, 1945, MARRIED.

(C) MILITARY CAREER: BENAVIDES GRADUATED FROM THE MILITARY ACADEMY IN 1966 AND WAS COMMISSIONED IN THE INFANTRY. HE WAS PROMOTED TO MAJOR IN 1976 AND LT. COL. IN 1981. IN 1983-84, HE SERVED AS EXECUTIVE OFFICER OF THE 6TH INFANTRY BRIGADE AND AS CHIEF OF OPERATIONS OF THE NATIONAL POLICE. UNDER PRESIDENT DUARTE, HE WAS MADE COMMANDER OF THE BELLOSO IMMEDIATE ACTION BATTALION IN SAN SALVADOR FROM 84-86, AN IMPORTANT POSITION. HE SERVED AS COMMANDER OF THE 3RD MILITARY DETACHMENT IN LA UNION, AND WAS MADE COMMANDER OF THE 5TH MILITARY DETACHMENT IN COJUTEPEQUE IN JUNE, 1987. HE SERVED AS HEAD OF INTELLIGENCE (J-2) FOR THE JOINT GENERAL STAFF. RAFAEL BUSTILLO AS AN EXAMPLE TO OTHER ASPIRING PILOTS. OTHER SOURCES ALLEGE THAT HE WAS REMOVED FROM THE AIR FORCE FOR FAILING TO CARRY OUT AN ORDER THAT HE BELIEVED WAS QUESTIONABLE. HE LATER ENLISTED IN THE ARMY, WENT THROUGH OCS, AND WAS COMMISSIONED AS AN ARMY OFFICER. HE RECEIVED U.S. ARMY SPECIAL FORCES, AIR ASSAULT, AND AIRBORNE TRAINING AT FORT BRAGG. HE WAS KNOWN AS A QUIET AND POLITE OFFICER WHO WOULD LISTEN TO SUBORDINATES. SUBJECT: RESPONSE TO SEN. BOREN RE CASE OF SR. DIANA ORTIZ

BEGIN TEXT

SENATOR DAVID BOREN
440 SO. HOUSTON,
SUITE 602,
TULSA, OKLAHOMA 74127

DEAR SENATOR BOREN:

I WRITE IN RESPONSE TO YOUR LETTER OF JANUARY 18 TO AMBASSADOR MICHEL RELAYING THE CONCERNS OF YOUR CONSTITUENT, SISTER JOANNE EUSTICE, REGARDING THE CASE OF SISTER DIANA N. ORTIZ. AMBASSADOR MICHEL RETURNED TO WASHINGTON LAST SUMMER AT THE CONCLUSION OF HIS TOUR HERE; I ASSUMED CHARGE OF THE U.S. EMBASSY IN GUATEMALA IN OCTOBER.

SR. DIANA ORTIZ HAS NOT SIGNED A "PRIVACY ACT WAIVER" AND AS A CONSEQUENCE I AM LIMITED IN WHAT I CAN SAY ABOUT THIS CASE. I CAN ASSURE YOU AND YOUR CONSTITUENT, NEVERTHELESS, THAT THIS EMBASSY IS WELL AWARE OF THE CASE OF SISTER DIANA ORTIZ AND HAS BEEN EXTREMELY ACTIVE FROM THE BEGINNING IN SEEKING A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION INTO ALLEGATIONS THAT SHE WAS ABDUCTED AND TORTURED LAST NOVEMBER 2 - 3. I VISITED HER MYSELF ON TWO OCCASIONS TO ENQUIRE AS TO HER HEALTH AND TO OFFER EMBASSY ASSISTANCE. OUR CONSUL GENERAL ESCORTED SR. DIANA TO THE AIRPORT TO ENSURE THAT SHE LEFT THE COUNTRY WITHOUT PROBLEM. WE CONTINUE TO WORK WITH THE LOCAL POLICE AND HAVE RECENTLY RECEIVED A COMMUNICATION FROM SR DIANA'S ATTORNEY. AS U.S. AMBASSADOR TO GUATEMALA, I CONSIDER MY FOREMOST PRIORITY TO BE THAT OF ENSURING THE SAFETY OF AMERICAN CITIZENS. UNFORTUNATELY, DESPITE OUR STRENOUS EFFORTS, WE HAVE BEEN UNABLE TO INTERVIEW SISTER DIANA. SHE REFUSES TO TALK WITH ANY U.S. OFFICIAL AND COMMUNICATES ONLY THROUGH THIRD PARTIES OR BY AFFIDAVITS FILED BY HER ATTORNEY.

YOUR CONSTITUENT ASKS THAT ALL U.S. NATIONAL GUARDS BE WITHDRAWN AND THAT ALL U.S. AID TO GUATEMALA BE SUSPENDED. I WISH TO POINT OUT THAT THERE ARE NO U.S. NATIONAL GUARD PERSONNEL HERE ON A PERMANENT BASIS. I BELIEVE YOUR CONSTITUENT IS REFERING TO THE PERIODIC MEDICAL EXERCISES CARRIED OUT BY NATIONAL GUARD DOCTORS, NURSES, DENTISTS, AND VETERINARIANS FROM VARIOUS STATES. THE PRIMARY PURPOSE OF THESE EXERCISES IS TO TRAIN U.S. MEDICAL PERSONNEL IN HOW TO FUNCTION IN A WIDE RANGE OF ENVIRONMENTS AND ARE OF SHORT TERM DURATION; THESE MEDICAL EXERCISES TAKE PLACE THROUGHOUT LATIN AMERICA.

THROUGH THE GUATEMALAN MINISTRY OF PUBLIC HEALTH AND IN CONJUNCTION WITH GUATEMALAN DOCTORS, NURSES, AND OTHER

GUATEM 01543 08 OF 02 071912Z 8442

HEALTH SPECIALISTS, U.S. NATIONAL GUARD MEDICAL PERSONNEL VISIT REMOTE AND POOR VILLAGES THAT WOULD OTHERWISE NOT SEE A DOCTOR. THIS IS PART OF AN ONGOING GUATEMALAN HEALTH PROJECT DESIGNED TO RAISE THE OVERALL HEALTH LEVELS OF ISOLATED RURAL AREAS. THEY HAVE TREATED OVER 45,000 PEOPLE AND SOME 38,000 OF THEIR ANIMALS; THIS PROGRAM IS EXTREMELY POPULAR WITH THE RURAL POOR OF GUATEMALA AND, AS STATED, PROVIDES AN EXCELLENT TRAINING OPPORTUNITY FOR OUR PERSONNEL. IT WOULD BE A SERIOUS MISTAKE TO SUSPEND SUCH A WORTHWHILE PROGRAM THAT BENEFITS THE PEOPLE OF BOTH COUNTRIES.

OUR AID TO GUATEMALA, SUSPENDED FOR EIGHT YEARS UNDER PREVIOUS MILITARY REGIMES, SEEKS TO FURTHER THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE FRAGILE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS NOW UNDERWAY. THIS AID PROMOTES THE ECONOMIC, SOCIAL, AND POLITICAL DEVELOPMENT OF THE COUNTRY--AN OBJECTIVE IN THE INTEREST NOT ONLY OF THE PEOPLE OF GUATEMALA BUT OF THE UNITED STATES AS WELL. THE MILITARY COMPONENT OF OUR ASSISTANCE HAS AVERAGED UNDER 6 PERCENT OF THE TOTAL GIVEN THE DEMOCRATICALLY-ELECTED GOVERNMENT OF PRESIDENT CEREZO. ALL OF OUR MILITARY ASSISTANCE IS IN THE FORM OF NONLETHAL AID WHICH PRIMARILY SEEKS TO HELP CARRY OUT DEVELOPMENT PROJECTS IN AREAS WHERE CIVILIAN AUTHORITIES MAY NOT YET BEEN ABLE TO ESTABLISH THEMSELVES EFFECTIVELY. IN ADDITION, WE PROVIDE OFFICER TRAINING IN THE UNITED STATES IN ORDER TO IMPART TO THEM OUR STRONG BELIEFS IN STRICT OBSERVANCE OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND IN THE PRIMACY OF CIVILIAN AUTHORITY OVER THE MILITARY. SMALL AS IT MAY BE, OUR NONLETHAL MILITARY ASSISTANCE PROGRAM IS A VITAL PART OF OUR EFFORT TO PROMOTE THE ESTABLISHMENT OF DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS AND BEHAVIOR HERE.

I HOPE THIS INFORMATION IS OF USE TO YOU AND SR. JOANNE EUSTICE. PLEASE DO NOT HESITATE TO CONTACT ME IF I CAN BE OF FURTHER HELP TO YOU. SINCERELY, THOMAS F. STROOCK, UNITED STATES AMBASSADOR. END TEXT.

LEON LINARES, POSSIBLE REVELATIONS IN THE AYUTUXTEPEQUE MURDERS, DELAYS IN THE ZONA ROSA CASE AND, MOST IMPORTANTLY, CONTINUED ESAF INACTION ON THE JESUIT CASE TO HIGHLIGHT HOW USG EFFORTS TO SUPPORT THE SALVADORAN MILITARY HAVE MET WITH CONTINUED STONEWALLING. THE ESAF AND GOES COULD NOT EXPECT CONTINUED USG SUPPORT IN THE FACE OF SUCH CONSTANT REBUFFS, NOR COULD IT HOPE TO ESCAPE [redacted]

OF ESAF ACTIONS INDICATING WHAT SEEMED TO BE DELIBERATE REFUSAL TO CONSIDER THEIR IMPACT ON THE RELATIONSHIP WITH THE USG. THIS, THE AMBASSADOR POINTED OUT, AFTER REPEATED USG EFFORTS TO SUPPORT THE MILITARY IN THE FACE OF THE FMLN OFFENSIVE, THE SAM THREAT AND THE RESULTANT LOSS OF ESAF AIRCRAFT. ESAF CLAIMS OF RECEIVING MIXED SIGNALS FROM THE USG WERE DISINGENUOUS -- OUR FREQUENT DEMARCHES, PARTICULARLY ON THE JESUIT CASE, WERE CLEAR AND SUPPORTED BY MESSAGES FROM US CONGRESSIONAL AND MILITARY FRIENDS OF EL SALVADOR.

4. THE AMBASSADOR BEGAN HIS LIST WITH THE FEBRUARY 2 DETENTION OF 18 INTERNATIONAL JOURNALISTS BY COL. LEON LINARES, WHO, AFTER ALLEGING THEY HAD RUN MILITARY ROADBLOCKS, CONFISCATED THEIR MATERIALS IN VIOLATION OF ESAF STANDING ORDERS NOT TO INTERFERE WITH JOURNALISTS. JOURNALISTS FURTHER ALLEGED THAT LINARES MADE REPEATED STATEMENTS WHICH COULD BE INTERPRETED AS THREATS AGAINST THEM. LEON LINARES' ACTIONS SERVED TO CONVERT A POTENTIAL PUBLICITY BONANZA FOR THE GOES -- FMLN-FSLN TENSIONS OVER THE MISSILES' RETURN -- INTO A SERIOUS PRESS PROBLEM. IN A SITUATION WHERE THE FMLN HAD BEEN FORCED BY ITS ERSTWHILE ALLIES TO TURN IN ADVANCED WEAPONS, THE NEWS STORY WOULD INSTEAD FOCUS ON ESAF ABUSE OF JOURNALISTS.

5. CRISTIANI THEN INTERVENED TO SAY THAT LEON LINARES HAD ORDERS NOT TO LET JOURNALISTS TRAVEL TO WITNESS THE MISSILE EXCHANGE. THE ORDERS REFLECTED REQUESTS BY THE NICARAGUAN AND MEXICAN GOVERNMENTS TO KEEP THE EXCHANGE CONFIDENTIAL, PLUS GOES CONCERNS THAT THE FMLN WOULD CONVERT THE CEREMONY INTO A CIRCUS. WELL AND GOOD, THE AMBASSADOR REPLIED, BUT DESPITE YOUR BEST EFFORTS THE JOURNALISTS ARRIVED, WITNESSED THE EXCHANGE, AND WERE ON THEIR WAY BACK -- WHAT GOOD WAS IT TO HARASS THEM ON THEIR RETURN? CRISTIANI RETURNED THAT THE JOURNALISTS WERE DELIBERATELY BREAKING GOES REGULATIONS. THE AMBASSADOR REPLIED THAT THE POINT COULD HAVE BEEN MADE IN A WAY THAT DID NOT SOUR GOES MEDIA RELATIONS AND THE POTENTIAL PR BENEFITS THE MISSILE EXCHANGE COULD HAVE PRODUCED.

5. THE AMBASSADOR THEN TURNED TO ALLEGATIONS MADE BY TUTELA LEGAL ON THE AYUTUXTEPEQUE KILLINGS OF FIRST BRIGADE INVOLVEMENT IN THE DEATHS. GIVEN THE PERSISTENT RUMORS SURROUNDING THE FIRST BRIGADE, AND THE UNRESOLVED ALLEGATIONS MADE AGAINST THE FIRST BRIGADE BY JOYA MARTINEZ, IT WAS IMPORTANT THAT THE ESAF NOT REJECT TUTELA'S ALLEGATIONS OUT OF HAND. THE SIU SHOULD CONTINUE AN ALL-OUT INVESTIGATION OF THE CASE, REFRAINING FROM COMING TO ANY PUBLIC CONCLUSIONS UNTIL ALL THE INFORMATION WAS IN. CRISTIANI SAID HE AGREED COMPLETELY. HE WOULD GET A BRIEFING FROM THE SIU ON THE CASE THAT DAY, AND THE AGREED PUBLIC

STATEMENTS WOULD INDICATE ONLY THAT THE INVESTIGATION WAS CONTINUING AND THAT IT WAS TOO EARLY TO COME TO ANY CONCLUSIONS.

7. THE AMBASSADOR THEN RAISED THE ZONA ROSA CASE, NOTING THAT IN THE LAST EIGHT MONTHS NOTHING HAS HAPPENED BECAUSE OF AN APPARENT REFUSAL BY THE MILITARY TO CONVENE THE NECESSARY COURT TO PASS ACTION BACK TO THE CIVILIAN JUDICIARY. THIS CASE HAS DRAGGED ON FOR FIVE YEARS, THE AMBASSADOR NOTED, AND WAS A DISTURBING PRECEDENT AS WE LOOKED TOWARDS A POSSIBLE

SALVADORAN PROSECUTION OF THE PICKETT/DAWSON MURDERS. CRISTIANI SAID HE HAD NO IDEA WHERE THE CASE STOOD, BUT WOULD CERTAINLY CHECK INTO IT.

8. FINALLY, THE AMBASSADOR SAID, IT IS PAINFUL TO HAVE TO EXPRESS ONE MORE TIME THE ADMINISTRATION'S FRUSTRATION OVER CONTINUING ESAF INACTION ON THE JESUIT CASE. DESPITE OUR REPEATED DEMARCHES TO THE PRESIDENT AND THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE, THE ESAF CONTINUES TO BELIEVE IT CAN SHUN ITS RESPONSIBILITY TO COME FORWARD WITH INFORMATION ON THE CASE. THIS IS NOT AN ACTION DEPENDENT ON JUDICIAL QUERIES, BUT AN ACT OF RESPONSIBILITY NECESSARY TO HEAL THE

UNFORTUNATELY, THE CURRENT MOD SEEMED UNABLE TO EITHER COMPREHEND THE NEED FOR ACT ON IT, AND WAS THUS CONTRIBUTING TO THE DAMAGE THE MILITARY AS A WHOLE, AND GOES USG RELATIONS, ARE SUFFERING.

CONTINUED. SEVERAL CONGRESSMEN, MOST RECENTLY MURTHA, HAVE COME TO EL SALVADOR SPECIFICALLY TO WARN THE ESAF THAT CONTINUED STONEWALLING ON THE CASE WOULD TRANSLATE INTO FURTHER CUTS IN MILITARY ASSISTANCE -- POSSIBLY THE TOTAL ELIMINATION OF SUCH ASSISTANCE. GENERAL JOULWAN -- WHO HAS CERTAINLY PROVEN HIS SUPPORT TO THE ESAF -- DELIVERED THE SAME MESSAGE TO MOD PONCE ON JANUARY 29, URGING HIM TO TAKE THE INITIATIVE ON THE CASE, AND "CUT THE CANCER OUT."

10. ALL OUR EFFORTS, THE AMBASSADOR CONCLUDED, WERE MET WITH NODS OF THE HEAD AND NO ACTION. PONCE HAS NEVER RESPONDED TO QUESTIONS PUT TO HIM, NOR HAS HE TAKEN ANY OF THE ACTIONS SUGGESTED TO HIM. MORE AND MORE, OUR PLEAS ARE MET WITH SILENCE. THIS WAS ALL THE MORE GRATING GIVEN OUR EFFORTS TO RESPOND TO GOES NEEDS ON THE ECONOMIC FRONT, AND SPECIFICALLY OUR EFFORTS TO SUPPORT THE MILITARY IN THE FACE OF INCREASED FMLN THREATS. ONCE MORE, THE AMBASSADOR SAID, LET ME MAKE CLEAR THAT THE JESUIT CASE REMAINS OF PREDOMINANT IMPORTANCE TO OUR RELATIONSHIP.

11. COMMENT: OUR PLEAS ON THE JESUIT CASE WERE ONCE [redacted]

AGAIN MET WITH SILENCE. IT IS BECOMING CLEAR THAT THE ESAF HAS NO INCLINATION TO MOVE FORWARD AND CRISTIANI IS NOT WILLING TO PRESS PONCE ON THE ISSUE -- WITNESS HIS ACCEPTANCE OF PONCE'S REFUSAL TO APPEAR PERSONALLY BEFORE THE COURT. SUBJECT: AMBASSADOR POINTS OUT DAMAGE ESAF ERRORS CAUSING GOES, USG POLICY

1. [redacted] ENTIRE TEXT

2. SUMMARY: ON FEBRUARY 5 THE AMBASSADOR RAISED WITH PRESIDENT CRISTIANI THE 2/2 CONFRONTATION BETWEEN JOURNALISTS AND COL. LEON LINARES, POSSIBLE REVELATIONS IN THE AYUTUXTEPEQUE MURDERS, DELAYS IN THE ZONA ROSA CASE AND, MOST IMPORTANTLY, CONTINUED ESAF INACTION ON THE JESUIT CASE TO HIGHLIGHT HOW USG EFFORTS TO SUPPORT THE SALVADORAN MILITARY HAVE MET WITH CONTINUED STONEWALLING. THE ESAF AND GOES COULD NOT EXPECT CONTINUED USG SUPPORT IN THE FACE OF SUCH CONSTANT REBUFFS, NOR COULD IT HOPE TO ESCAPE

CRITICISM AND REPERCUSSIONS FOR INACTION ON THE JESUIT CASE. END SUMMARY.

3. PRESIDENT CRISTIANI, MINISTER OF THE PRESIDENCY OSCAR SANTAMARIA, FOREIGN MINISTER MANOLO PACAS AND PRIVATE SECRETARY ARTURO TONA MADE LITTLE COMMENT AS THE AMBASSADOR, ACCOMPANIED BY DCM, REVIEWED A RANGE OF ESAF ACTIONS INDICATING WHAT SEEMED TO BE DELIBERATE REFUSAL TO CONSIDER THEIR IMPACT ON THE RELATIONSHIP WITH THE USG. THIS, THE AMBASSADOR POINTED OUT, AFTER REPEATED USG EFFORTS TO SUPPORT THE MILITARY IN THE FACE OF THE FMLN OFFENSIVE, THE SAM THREAT AND THE RESULTANT LOSS OF ESAF AIRCRAFT. ESAF CLAIMS OF RECEIVING MIXED SIGNALS FROM THE USG WERE DISINGENUOUS -- OUR FREQUENT DEMARCHES, PARTICULARLY ON THE JESUIT CASE, WERE CLEAR AND SUPPORTED BY MESSAGES FROM US CONGRESSIONAL AND MILITARY FRIENDS OF EL SALVADOR.

4. THE AMBASSADOR BEGAN HIS LIST WITH THE FEBRUARY 2 DETENTION OF 18 INTERNATIONAL JOURNALISTS BY COL. LEON LINARES, WHO, AFTER ALLEGING THEY HAD RUN MILITARY ROADBLOCKS, CONFISCATED THEIR MATERIALS IN VIOLATION OF ESAF STANDING ORDERS NOT TO INTERFERE WITH JOURNALISTS. JOURNALISTS FURTHER ALLEGED THAT LINARES MADE REPEATED STATEMENTS WHICH COULD BE INTERPRETED AS THREATS AGAINST THEM. LEON LINARES' ACTIONS SERVED TO CONVERT A POTENTIAL PUBLICITY BONANZA FOR THE GOES -- FMLN-FSLN TENSIONS OVER THE MISSILES' RETURN -- INTO A SERIOUS PRESS PROBLEM. IN A SITUATION WHERE THE FMLN HAD BEEN FORCED BY ITS ERSTWHILE ALLIES TO TURN IN

SAN SA 01650 00 OF 02 071512Z 016638 S001094

5. CRISTIANI THEN INTERVENED TO SAY THAT LEON LINARES HAD ORDERS NOT TO LET JOURNALISTS TRAVEL TO WITNESS THE MISSILE EXCHANGE. THE ORDERS REFLECTED REQUESTS BY THE NICARAGUAN AND MEXICAN GOVERNMENTS TO KEEP THE EXCHANGE CONFIDENTIAL, PLUS GOES CONCERNS THAT THE FMLN WOULD CONVERT THE CEREMONY INTO A CIRCUS. WELL AND GOOD, THE AMBASSADOR REPLIED, BUT DESPITE YOUR BEST EFFORTS THE JOURNALISTS ARRIVED, WITNESSED THE EXCHANGE, AND WERE ON THEIR WAY BACK -- WHAT GOOD WAS IT TO HARASS THEM ON THEIR RETURN? CRISTIANI RETURNED THAT THE JOURNALISTS WERE DELIBERATELY BREAKING GOES REGULATIONS -- THE AMBASSADOR REPLIED THAT THE POINT COULD HAVE BEEN MADE IN A WAY THAT DID NOT SOUR GOES-MEDIA RELATIONS AND THE POTENTIAL PR BENEFITS THE MISSILE EXCHANGE COULD HAVE PRODUCED.

6. THE AMBASSADOR THEN TURNED TO ALLEGATIONS MADE BY TUTELA LEGAL ON THE AYUTUXTEPEQUE KILLINGS OF FIRST BRIGADE INVOLVEMENT IN THE DEATHS. GIVEN THE PERSISTENT RUMORS SURROUNDING THE FIRST BRIGADE, AND THE UNRESOLVED ALLEGATIONS MADE AGAINST THE FIRST BRIGADE BY JOYA MARTINEZ, IT WAS IMPORTANT THAT THE ESAF NOT REJECT TUTELA'S ALLEGATIONS OUT OF HAND. THE SIU SHOULD CONTINUE AN ALL-OUT INVESTIGATION OF THE CASE, REFRAINING FROM COMING TO ANY PUBLIC CONCLUSIONS UNTIL ALL THE INFORMATION WAS IN. CRISTIANI SAID HE AGREED COMPLETELY. HE WOULD GET A BRIEFING FROM THE SIU ON THE CASE THAT DAY, AND THE AGREED PUBLIC

STATEMENTS WOULD INDICATE ONLY THAT THE INVESTIGATION WAS CONTINUING AND THAT IT WAS TOO EARLY TO COME TO ANY CONCLUSIONS.

7. THE AMBASSADOR THEN RAISED THE ZONA ROSA CASE, NOTING THAT IN THE LAST EIGHT MONTHS NOTHING HAS HAPPENED BECAUSE OF AN APPARENT REFUSAL BY THE MILITARY TO CONVENE THE NECESSARY COURT TO PASS ACTION BACK TO THE CIVILIAN JUDICIARY. THIS CASE HAS DRAGGED ON FOR FIVE YEARS, THE AMBASSADOR NOTED, AND WAS A DISTURBING PRECEDENT AS WE LOOKED TOWARDS A POSSIBLE

SALVADORAN PROSECUTION OF THE PICKETT/DAWSON MURDERS. CRISTIANI SAID HE HAD NO IDEA WHERE THE CASE STOOD, BUT WOULD CERTAINLY CHECK INTO IT.

8. FINALLY, THE AMBASSADOR SAID, IT IS PAINFUL TO HAVE TO EXPRESS ONE MORE TIME THE ADMINISTRATION'S FRUSTRATION OVER CONTINUING ESAF INACTION ON THE JESUIT CASE. DESPITE OUR REPEATED DEMARCHES TO THE PRESIDENT AND THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE, THE ESAF CONTINUES TO BELIEVE IT CAN SHUN ITS RESPONSIBILITY TO COME FORWARD WITH INFORMATION ON THE CASE. THIS IS NOT AN ACTION DEPENDENT ON JUDICIAL QUERIES, BUT AN ACT OF RESPONSIBILITY NECESSARY TO HEAL THE INSTITUTION AND SET IT ON A NEW COURSE. UNFORTUNATELY, THE CURRENT MOD SEEMED UNABLE TO EITHER COMPREHEND THE NEED OR ACT ON IT, AND WAS THUS CONTRIBUTING TO THE DAMAGE THE MILITARY AS A WHOLE, AND GOES-USG RELATIONS, ARE SUFFERING.

9. NOT ONLY THE EMBASSY AND THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE HAVE TRANSMITTED THIS MESSAGE, THE AMBASSADOR CONTINUED. SEVERAL CONGRESSMEN, MOST RECENTLY MURTHA, HAVE COME TO EL SALVADOR SPECIFICALLY TO WARN THE ESAF THAT CONTINUED STONEWALLING ON THE CASE WOULD TRANSLATE INTO FURTHER CUTS IN MILITARY ASSISTANCE -- POSSIBLY THE TOTAL ELIMINATION OF SUCH ASSISTANCE. GENERAL JOULWAN -- WHO HAS CERTAINLY PROVEN HIS

SUPPORT TO THE ESAF -- ~~DELIVERED THE SAME MESSAGE~~ TO MOD PONCE ON JANUARY 29, URGING HIM TO TAKE THE INITIATIVE ON THE CASE, AND "CUT THE CANCER OUT."

10. ALL OUR EFFORTS, THE AMBASSADOR CONCLUDED, WERE MET WITH NODS OF THE HEAD AND NO ACTION. PONCE HAS NEVER RESPONDED TO QUESTIONS PUT TO HIM, NOR HAS HE TAKEN ANY OF THE ACTIONS SUGGESTED TO HIM. MORE AND MORE, OUR PLEAS ARE MET WITH SILENCE. THIS WAS ALL THE MORE GRATING GIVEN OUR EFFORTS TO RESPOND TO GOES NEEDS ON THE ECONOMIC FRONT, AND SPECIFICALLY OUR EFFORTS TO SUPPORT THE MILITARY IN THE FACE OF INCREASED FMLN THREATS. ONCE MORE, THE AMBASSADOR SAID, LET ME MAKE CLEAR THAT THE JESUIT CASE REMAINS OF PREDOMINANT IMPORTANCE TO OUR RELATIONSHIP.

11. COMMENT: OUR PLEAS ON THE JESUIT CASE WERE ONCE AGAIN MET WITH SILENCE. IT IS BECOMING CLEAR THAT THE ESAF HAS NO INCLINATION TO MOVE FORWARD AND CRISTIANI IS NOT WILLING TO PRESS PONCE ON THE ISSUE -- WITNESS HIS ACCEPTANCE OF PONCE'S REFUSAL TO APPEAR PERSONALLY BEFORE THE COURT. SEPTEL WILL CONVEY AMBASSADOR'S THOUGHTS ON WHERE WE STAND WITH THE ESAF AND THE

JESUIT CASE. WALKER

SUBJECT: GON RESPONDS TO DEMARCHE ON POSSIBLE TERRORIST ATTACKS IN HONDURAS

REF: A) MANAGUA 572
B) STATE 34538

1. ~~SECRET~~ - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: CHARGE WAS CALLED TO FOREIGN MINISTRY MORNING OF FEBRUARY 6 TO RECEIVE THE GOVERNMENT OF NICARAGUA'S (GON) REPLY TO EMBASSY DEMARCHE ON POSSIBLE HONDURAN TERRORIST ATTACKS, PER REFTELS. FOREIGN MINISTER D'ESCOTO HANDED CHARGE A FOUR PARAGRAPH AIDE MEMOIRE WHICH REJECTED THE U.S. "THREAT" THAT THE GON WOULD SHARE THE RESPONSIBILITY FOR ANY HONDURAN TERRORIST ATTACKS, AND EXPRESSED CONCERN INSTEAD OVER POSSIBLE CONTRA ATTACKS AGAINST THE ELECTORAL PROCESS. THE AIDE MEMOIRE ALSO DENIED ANY GON SUPPORT FOR "HONDURAN TERRORIST GROUPS," BUT PROPOSED A MEETING BETWEEN U.S. AND GON OFFICIALS TO EXAMINE U.S. CONCERNS AND CONSIDER HOW THE GON COULD HELP. CHARGE SUGGESTED STRONGLY THAT THE GON SHOULD WARN THE TERRORISTS OFF.

~~SECRET~~

D'ESCOTO MADE A VAGUE UNDERTAKING TO DO SO. D'ESCOTO ALL THE WHILE, HOWEVER, DENIED ANY GON CONNECTION TO EITHER THE CHINCHONEROS OR OTHER HONDURAN GROUPS. EMBASSY RECOMMENDS WE NOT ENGAGE GON OFFICIALS IN DISCUSSIONS OF THE POSSIBLE THREAT TO OUR PERSONNEL IN HONDURAS, BUT SIMPLY REPEAT OUR REQUEST THAT THEY WARN OFF THE TERRORISTS. END SUMMARY.

3. FOREIGN MINISTER MIGUEL D'ESCOTO, ALONG WITH VICE MINISTER VICTOR HUGO TINOCO, NORTH AMERICA DIRECTOR MANUEL CORDERO AND NORTH AMERICA DESK OFFICER ROBERTO VARGAS, RECEIVED CHARGE AND ADCM IN HIS OFFICE FEBRUARY 6. D'ESCOTO HANDED CHARGE AN AIDE-MEMOIRE

REPLYING TO EMBASSY'NON-PAPER PER REFTELS. THE AIDE MEMOIRE SAID:

-- THE GON CATEGORICALLY REJECTS THE "THREAT" CONTAINED IN THE NON-PAPER FROM THE U.S. WHICH ATTEMPTS TO MAKE THE GON CO-RESPONSIBLE FOR REPORTED PLANS TO ATTACK CONTRA INSTALLATIONS (SIC) AND U.S. PERSONNEL IN HONDURAS.

-- THE GON ALSO REJECTS AS CATEGORICALLY FALSE THE STATEMENT THAT THE GON SUPPORTS, HAS INFLUENCE OVER, OR SHARES RESPONSIBILITY FOR ANY ACTIONS BY HONDURAN TERRORISTS.

-- NEVERTHELESS, FOR THE SAKE OF COOPERATING WITH ANYTHING HAVING TO DO WITH THE STRUGGLE AGAINST TERRORISM, THE GON IS AGREEABLE TO MEETING IMMEDIATELY WITH THE CORRESPONDING AUTHORITIES OF THE USG IN THE SECURITY AREA IN ORDER TO LEARN IN DETAIL THE BASIS ON WHICH THE ACCUSATIONS ARE FOUNDED, AND TO SEE HOW THE

[redacted]

USG THINKS THE GON COULD COOPERATE ON THIS ISSUE.

-- LASTLY, THE AIDE MEMOIRE EXPRESSES THE "PROFOUND CONCERN" OF THE GON IN THE FACE OF THE "ACCUSATIONS AND THREATS" FROM THE USG AT A TIME WHEN THE NICARAGUAN ELECTORAL PROCESS IS COMING TO A CLOSE. IT GOES ON TO ALLEGE THAT CERTAIN ELEMENTS OF THE CONTRAS, ENCOURAGED BY THE CIA, ARE TRYING TO SABOTAGE THE ELECTORAL PROCESS. FINALLY, THE AIDE MEMOIRE CLAIMS THAT CONTRA ELEMENTS MIGHT BE UTILIZED TO FABRICATE ATTACKS BY HONDURAN GROUPS, WITH THE OBJECT OF BLAMING NICARAGUA.

4. AFTER READING THE NON-PAPER, CHARGE OPENED BY ASKING WITH WHOM THE GON WOULD LIKE TO MEET. D'ESCOTO SAID SUCH A MEETING COULD BE WITH THE MFA OR WITH LENIN CERNA OF THE DGSE. CHARGE WENT ON TO SAY THERE WERE NO THREATS CONTAINED IN OUR DEMARCHE OF FEBRUARY 5. D'ESCOTO REPLIED THAT HOLDING THE GON RESPONSIBLE FOR THE ACTS OF A TERRORIST GROUP IS A THREAT. CHARGE SAID THAT WE DO NOT MAKE DEMARCHES UNLESS WE ARE CERTAIN OF OUR INFORMATION. HE THEN REPEATED WHAT HE TOLD CORDERO THE DAY BEFORE -- THAT THE USG HAS SOLID INFORMATION OF NICARAGUAN TIES TO THE CHINCHONEROS AND OTHERS. D'ESCOTO DENIED ANY GON TIES TO THESE GROUPS, ADDING THAT THE GON IS STILL DISPOSED TO COOPERATE. HE THEN LOOKED AT TINOCO AND SAID HE HADN'T HEARD OF THE CHINCHONEROS SINCE A PLANE HIJACKING SOME SIX YEARS AGO. CHARGE PRESSED, ASKING IF THE SANDINISTA PARTY HAD ANY CONTACTS WITH THESE GROUPS. AGAIN D'ESCOTO SAID NO. THEN YOU HAVE NOT COMMUNICATED WITH THESE GROUPS REGARDING OUR CONCERNS, THE CHARGE WENT ON? D'ESCOTO INDICATED THAT THE GON HAD NOT/NOT SO COMMUNICATED.

5. CHARGE THEN SAID OUR REQUEST TO THE GON WAS THAT IT TALK TO THESE GROUPS. BY THE END OF THE MEETING D'ESCOTO APPEARED TO AGREE TO DO SOMETHING ON THIS SCORE, AND TOLD TINOCO AND CORDERO TO TALK "TO THE COMMANDANTE" ABOUT THIS.

6. CHARGE THEN TOLD D'ESCOTO THAT THE CLAIMS WITH REGARD TO THE CONTRAS IN THE GON'S AIDE MEMOIRE WOULD COMPLICATE MATTERS RATHER THAN HELP. D'ESCOTO THEN SPENT SOME TIME TRYING TO EXPLAIN THAT POINT FOUR OF THE AIDE MEMOIRE WAS A GENERIC PARAGRAPH EXPRESSING THE GON'S CONCERNS, AND THAT THE GON WAS NOT LINKING FURTHER DISCUSSION OF POSSIBLE THREATS TO U.S. PERSONNEL TO THE CONTRA ISSUE.

7. CONTINUING TO PRESS THE ISSUE, CHARGE SAID THAT IT APPEARED THAT THE GON WAS NOT GIVING U.S. CONCERNS THE SAME ATTENTION THAT IT DID LAST NOVEMBER WHEN WE ASKED THAT THEY TELL THE FMLN TO NOT GO AFTER U.S. PERSONNEL IN EL SALVADOR DURING THEIR OFFENSIVE. HE CONCLUDED BY SAYING THAT THE U.S. HOPES THE GON WILL FIND A WAY TO RELAY OUR CONCERNS THIS TIME AS WELL.

8. WE ARE TRANSMITTING THE FULL SPANISH TEXT OF THE

GON AIDE MEMOIRE BY SEPTEL.

9. COMMENT AND ACTION RECOMMENDATION: ON THE ONE HAND, THE FACT THAT THE FOREIGN MINISTER REPLIED TO OUR REQUEST SHOWS THAT WE GOT THE GON'S ATTENTION. ON THE OTHER HAND, HIS INSOLENT LANGUAGE AND SPURIOUS CLAIMS SUGGEST THAT THERE IS LITTLE UTILITY IN PURSUING FURTHER DISCUSSIONS, ESPECIALLY WITH THE DGSE, WHICH WOULD TRY TO FIND OUT OUR SOURCES AND FEED US DISINFORMATION. WE SHOULD REPLY TO THIS AIDE MEMOIRE BY REPEATING OUR REQUEST, BY STATING SPECIFICALLY WHAT GROUPS WE UNDERSTAND ARE PLANNING ATTACKS AGAINST US, AND BY INDICATING THAT THE UNFOUNDED CLAIMS IN THE GON AIDE MEMOIRE INDICATE THAT A MORE EXTENDED DISCUSSION OF THE MATTER WOULD NOT BE FRUITFUL AT THIS TIME.

THE US HAS ATTEMPTED TO ENSURE THAT THE RESOLUTIONS ON CHILE ACCURATELY REFLECT THE SITUATION IN THAT COUNTRY REGARDING THE RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS. CHILE: COMMUNIST PARTY REINTEGRATION

President-elect Aylwin assured the leader of the Communist party (PCCh) in mid-January that the party would be granted legal status, but demanded it disavow violence and play a constructive role in the new democracy. High-level PCCh officials have publicly announced the end of the party's policy of "popular rebellion of the masses"; members of the armed wing of the PCCh, the Manuel Rodríguez Patriotic Front (FPMR), are being reintegrated.

Comment: Failure to win a single congressional seat in December's elections has caused the PCCh to re-evaluate its two-track strategy. Although the faction advocating abandonment of violence seems to have prevailed, a clandestine armed cadre may remain intact as a concession to hard-liners. The agreement with the PCCh does not mean an end to political violence: several other armed groups, including a dissident faction of the FPMR, remain active.

Cuba-USSR: The Cost to Cuba of the Soviet Alliance

If solidarity with the Soviet Union once made sense as the cornerstone of Cuban foreign policy, this is not the case today.

- The Soviets are no longer the reliable economic partner and military ally that they once were, and the economic, political, and military costs to Cuba of the special relationship now outweigh the benefits.

Cuba is far more dependent on the Soviet Union today than pre-revolutionary Cuba ever was on the United States. The Cuban people did not rise up in arms during the Revolution only to fall under the Soviet yoke. Yet in many respects, that is the reality today.

- At present, Moscow has powerful leverage over Havana, for Cuba depends on the USSR for more than 70 percent of its external trade and nearly all of its military supplies. In the 50's about 65 percent of Cuba's trade was with the United States.

- The Soviet Union imports 80 percent of all Cuban sugar produced and 40 percent of all Cuban citrus harvested.

- The two countries' bilateral trade last year was worth more than $10 billion, according to Soviet sources.

- The terms of trade are in favor of the Soviet Union, which earn over $2 billion more than Cuba from this trade.

Yet, as President Castro noted last July in his Rebellion Day address, the USSR increasingly is becoming an unreliable trade partner. In the past year, the Soviets have postponed deliveries of critically need commodities, talked of cutting subsidies, stretched out aid projects, and looked for ways to reduce their trade deficit at Cuba's expense.

- In June, delays in Soviet oil shipments left Cuba with only one week's stock of gasoline.

- In January, delays and cutbacks in Soviet deliveries of foodstuffs exacerbated shortages of bread and other foods.

- The Soviets recently failed to send ships to pick up Cuban citrus. Thousands of tons of fruit therefore rotted on Cuban docks.

Whether intentional or, as the Soviets claim, due to the revamping of Soviet industry and trade, delays in Soviet deliveries are severely disrupting the Cuban economy.

- Should the shortages and delays continue, Cuba will lose important markets and vital sources of imports.

- Over time Cuba's output and earnings will fall.

Even when Soviet assistance does arrive on time and in quantities promised, it is often a mixed blessing.

- Since 1985, Havana has paid above the world market price for Soviet oil. In 1988, Cuban subsidies for Soviet oil amounted to $2.2 billion.

- Soviet products are often inferior in quality and technologically out-dated. Consequently, Soviet aid has a price. Cuba must use old technology and poor goods.

- Castro has publicly noted that many of the projects the Soviets have initiated in Cuba are ill-conceived and have become "white elephants". All too often Soviet planners are unable to grasp even simple notions, such as that pitched roofs are better suited to Cuban conditions than flat ones.

- Cuban resources are limited. By diverting scarce resources to non-productive projects, Cuba must forgo economically sound projects.

Cuba must pay for many Soviet products. Cuba has amassed a $10 to 20 billion debt to the USSR.

- The Cuban Soviet debt far exceeds Havana's obligations to Western creditors.

- On a per capita basis, according to some observers, Cuba's debt is the highest in all of Latin America.

- The Soviets have never forgiven Cuba's debt, despite Castro's unflagging efforts since 1985 to champion the cause of debt relief for Third World nations.

Cuba's economic ties to Moscow have created major structural impediments to growth.

- The Soviets helped design Cuba's planned economy and cumbersome bureaucracy that stifle innovation, productivity, and efficiency. The Soviets have insisted that Cuba remain a supplier of agricultural goods and raw materials.

- Cuba has been unable to diversify its economy. Sugar still accounts for 75 percent of export earning.

- The terms of trade are unfavorable to Cuba. As Castro has pointed out, Cubans increasingly must produce more tons of sugar to receive one Soviet tractor.

- The Soviets benefitted far more than Cuba from bilateral trade, with a trade balance in 1987 of more than $2 million in Moscow's favor.

- Soviet - Cuban trade is generally on a barter basis, limiting Cuba's earnings of convertible currency.

- As a result, Cuban hard currency reserves fell to about $85 million in 1989, according to the National Bank of Cuba.

- Lack of hard currency has reduced Cuba's access to Western goods and new technology.

- Havana's close ties to Moscow, lack of hard currency, and the US embargo have discouraged some Western European states and Japan from trading with Cuba.

Close Soviet-Cuban economic ties will become even more costly to Havana in the future. The Soviet public is beginning to criticize the Cuban aid "burden". Reductions in Soviet assistance and trade seem inevitable.

- As Comecon members move toward market-based pricing, trade subsidies to Cuba will fall.

- As Comecon members move toward trade in hard currency, Cuba will not be able to afford even Soviet or Eastern European goods.

- With less central control, enterprises in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe are seeking new more profitable markets, delaying or cancelling obligations with Cuba.

- Cuba's dependence on the Soviet Union will cause tighter rationing of food and consumer goods, and greater regimentation to meet production quotas. In short, harder times will lie ahead.

Cuba's political and diplomatic ties to the USSR increasingly work to Havana's detriment. By distancing itself from Moscow, Havana would diversify its markets and its access to Western goods.

- The new Soviet leaders pay little homage to the concept of "proletarian internationalism". President Gorbachev's reforms at home are predicated on scaling down costly commitments abroad.

- Soviet leaders still view Cuba as a pawn in the game of super power competition, but one that they may value less in an era of lessening tensions.

- The Soviets may consider Cuba an obstacle to improved U.S.-Soviet relations. If so, Gorbachev may sacrifice Cuba's interests to improve relations with the US.

- Secretary of State Baker stated in his November 13, 1989, address to the OAS General Assembly: "Soviet behavior toward Cuba and Central America remains the biggest obstacle to a full, across the board improvement in relations between the United States and the Soviet Union."

Nonetheless, the Soviets continue to demand Cuban loyalty. In terms of domestic policy, they are prescribing large doses of "perestroika", and to a lesser extent "glasnost", as the remedy for Cuba's ills.

- Castro understands that political and economic liberalization may generate unrest or a change in Cuban society that he may be unable to control.

- Reforms in Cuba should reflect Cuban experience and respond to Cuba's needs, not Soviet policy or plans.

Cuba's dependence on the Soviet Union means that Havana has had to act within foreign policy parameters narrowly defined by Moscow.

- Moscow's hegemonic relations with Havana make it difficult for Cuba to pursue a nonaligned and independent foreign policy.

- Havana was forced to endorse the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in 1968, side with Moscow during the Sino-Soviet dispute of the 1970s and early 1980s, and support the Soviet occupation of Afghanistan in 1979.

- In 1980, Cuba's vote to support the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan cost Cuba a seat on the UN Security Council, cast a pall over Cuba's chairmanship of the Nonaligned Movement, and undercut Cuba's bid to be reinstated in the Organization of American States.

- Cuba's status as a Soviet client has kept it from forging closer ties to non-aligned and Western countries.

Soviet and Cuban interests increasingly will diverge. Soviet interests in this hemisphere are becoming peripheral, while to Cuba they will remain central.

- The fate of the FMLN in El Salvador and the Sandinistas in Nicaragua is not a major Soviet concern at this time, but it is a significant Cuban one.

- The Soviets may use their economic leverage to compel Cuba to toe the Soviet foreign policy line. In the late 1960s, the Soviets cut back oil deliveries to ensure that Havana's policies in this hemisphere followed Moscow's lead.

The Soviet Union helped to speed the demise of fellow Communist regimes and leaders in Eastern Europe.

- If Gorbachev would not intervene in Eastern Europe, where tens of thousands of Soviet troops are deployed, he is unlikely to intervene in Cuba.

- The Kremlin has been unwilling to challenge the United States in Nicaragua in defense of the Sandinista Revolution.

- The Soviet Union is retrenching on its regional commitments, including those to longstanding friends. As Castro has noted, the socialist camp is beginning to unravel.

Cuba's dependency on the Soviet Union is reflected in the large Soviet military and security presence on the island and the provision of billions of dollars worth of arms. This relationship has exacerbated tensions with Washington.

- Castro uses the U.S. as a scapegoat for rallying the Cuban people behind the regime and avoiding needed political and economic reform.

- The U.S. has no intention of invading Cuba. Cuba's military expenditures would be much better used for improving education, health, and housing.

- The Soviet Union is unlikely to risk a serious military confrontation with the U.S. over Cuba.

- During the Cuban missile crisis, Moscow removed the "offensive missiles" at Washington's request without even consulting Havana.

The billions of dollars worth of military equipment and training assistance the USSR has supplied since the early 1960s have been of no tangible benefit to the Cuban people.

- o Moscow's delivery of sophisticated MiG-29 aircraft to Cuba, the first of which arrived late last year, will not raise the standard of living of a single Cuban. But it will contribute to increased tension with the U.S.

- o Military assistance increases Cuba's dependence on the USSR for training assistance, spare parts, consumables, and the like.

- o The Soviet brigade and Military Advisory Group in Cuba, thousands of miles from Moscow, are, in reality, neo-colonial appendages. There is no reason why there should be a Soviet combat presence in Cuba today.

The durability of the military relationship is in doubt today as never before because Moscow, unlike in the past, now professes to be seeking diplomatic solutions to regional and international problems and has less need for Cuba.

- o Cuba's role as a possible surrogate for the USSR has diminished. The tremendous sacrifices made by the Cuban people on behalf of Soviet-sponsored adventures in Angola and Ethiopia, for example, where many Cuban (not Soviet) lives were lost, almost certainly are a thing of the past.

- o In an era of East-West detente, even the sophisticated communications and military facilities the Soviets operate in Cuba are of less value than in the past.

The Soviet-Cuban alliance also runs contrary to the very different traditions of the two countries. Cuba, by virtue of its history, culture, and language, as well as its geography, has little in common with the USSR.

- o Cuba shares a culture and history with other American republics. The Soviets and Eastern Europeans come from a radically different cultural and historical tradition.

- o It is illogical for Cuba to ally itself with a country located thousands of miles away while isolating itself from its neighbors in the region.

Cuba should begin to reduce its dependence on the USSR now, before the Soviets use their powerful economic, political, and military leverage to make unreasonable demands on Cuba that cannot be resisted.

- Negotiations for a new five-year trade protocol are likely to result in reduced economic benefits to Cuba. By making these adjustments now in an orderly manner, Cuba can minimize economic dislocations.

If Cuba adopted a truly non-aligned policy and significantly reduced or removed the Soviet military and intelligence presence, tensions would ease between Cuba and Washington. If Cuba ceased exporting revolution and expanded internal freedoms, also the way would be open for an accommodation with Washington.

- This, in turn, would allow Cuba to sell goods to the United States, its natural market. Hard currency would flow to Cuba from tens of thousands of U.S. tourists who would flock to a free Cuba. The Cuban people would be reunited with their Cuban-American friends and relatives in the United States.

- Cuba would have access to U.S. technology and Western ideas. Cuba could begin to diversify its economy to supply new markets.

Less dependence on the Soviet Union, especially if accompanied by progress toward normalization of relations with the United States, would improve Cuba's economy and encourage a free society.

- Military spending would be cut. Compulsory military service could be eliminated and thousands of Cubans could return to civilian life. Cuba is second only to Nicaragua in all of Latin America in terms of the percentage of the population in active duty in the military.

- A free Cuba would open doors to friendly relations and greater trade and investment from members of the European Community and Japan.

- A freer Cuba would speed the process of an open political dialogue and the normalization of relations with countries in this hemisphere. Cuba could then look to its Latin roots, as defined by its culture, history, and language.

The United States does not represent a threat to a peaceful non-interventionist Cuba. Washington and Havana have reached understandings on some key issues, as illustrated by the 1984 migration and the 1977 interests section agreements and the 1988 Angola troop withdrawal accords.

- o Cuba should not fear a stronger relationship with the United States.

- o Trade with the United States has made neighbors like Canada, Mexico and the nations of the Caribbean more professional than ever before in their history.

- o When they are in trouble, the United States helps its neighbors. For example, the Caribbean Basin Initiative has been immensely successful in improving the economies of the smaller Caribbean nations.

Cuba's current course leaves Cuba at the USSR's mercy. The greater the extent of Cuban dependence on Moscow, the more destabilizing the effects of a sudden withdrawal of Soviet aid.

- o If the Cuban government fears accommodation with the West on the West's terms, the Cuban people will suffer still greater loss of freedom from an oppressive and autocratic ruler.

- o The transition away from dependency on the Soviet Union should begin as soon as possible.

- o Politically and economically, Cuba should be a part of this hemisphere, not isolated as a Soviet surrogate.

SUMMARY: ON 2/12 CHILEAN UNDERSECRETARY OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS-DESIGNATE EDMUNDO VARGAS CALLED ON ASSISTANT SECRETARY ARONSON AND DAS SMCI TO DISCUSS THE AYLWIN GOVERNMENT'S PLANS FOR RESOLVING THE LETELIER CASE. VARGAS ASKED FOR USG FLEXIBILITY ON CERTIFICATION OF THE AYLWIN GOVERNMENT'S COOPERATION IN RESOLVING THE CASE, CITING THE DIFFICULTIES HE ANTICIPATES ON BOTH THE CIVIL AND CRIMINAL SIDES OF THE CASE. HE PROPOSED CONVENING THE 1914 TREATY COMMISSION AS A MEANS OF DETERMINING THE SIZE OF COMPENSATION AWARD TO THE LETELIER/MOFFITT FAMILIES. VARGAS SAID THAT SENATOR KENNEDY WAS RECEPTIVE TO INTRODUCING LEGISLATION TO MODIFY THE KENNEDY-HARKIN RESTRICTIONS ON ARMS SALES SECURITY ASSISTANCE TO CHILE.

3. ARONSON MADE A STRONG APPEAL TO VARGAS FOR CHILEAN RECOGNITION OF THE ENDARA GOVERNMENT [redacted]

[redacted] TEXT SUMMARY

4. VARGAS ON THE LETELIER CASE

CHILEAN UNDERSECRETARY OF FOREIGN RELATIONS-DESIGNATE EDMUNDO VARGAS CALLED ON ASSISTANT SECRETARY ARONSON AND DAS SMCI TO DISCUSS BILATERAL ISSUES, PRIMARILY THE LETELIER CASE. ARA SC OFFICE DIRECTOR SMITH AND DEPUTY CASSMAN WERE ADVISORS. STATE AND ARA COLSON ALSO ATTENDED THE MEETING. VARGAS SAID RESOLUTION OF THE CASE WAS ESSENTIAL AND CRUCIAL TO THE AYLWIN GOVERNMENT'S FOREIGN POLICY. IF THE NEW GOVERNMENT WAS BE ABLE TO PROCEED ONLY WITHIN THE LEGAL FRAMEWORK ESTABLISHED BY PINOCHET. VARGAS MADE THE FOLLOWING GENERAL POINTS ON HOW HE THOUGHT THE USG COULD MOVE ON THE CASE:

-- AYLWIN AND HIS TEAM AGREE WITH THE NEED TO PROSECUTE CONTRERAS AND MEDINA IN CHILE. EXTRADITION OR EXPULSION TO THE U.S. IS NOT POSSIBLE. THE CHILEAN SUPREME COURT, BASICALLY APPOINTED BY PINOCHET, WOULD BLOCK AN ATTEMPT BY THE NEW GOVERNMENT TO EXTRADITE THE TWO FORMER INTELLIGENCE OFFICERS. IN SPITE OF THIS, AYLWIN WILL REQUEST THE CHILEAN SUPREME COURT TO APPOINT A SPECIAL PROSECUTOR IN THE CASE.

-- IN THE EVENT THAT CHARGES COULD BE FILED AGAINST CONTRERAS/ESPINOZA, ACCORDING TO CURRENT CHILEAN LAW THEY WOULD BE TRIED IN MILITARY COURT. AYLWIN AND HIS TEAM WOULD LIKE TO INTRODUCE LEGISLATION TO THE CHILEAN CONGRESS TO CHANGE THE LAW SO THAT MILITARY OFFICERS ACCUSED OF COMMON CRIMES WOULD BE TRIED IN CIVIL COURTS. HOWEVER, THE SENATE HAS A CONSERVATIVE MAJORITY, AND HE DOUBTS THIS LEGISLATION WILL PASS.

-- AYLWIN ACCEPTS THE PRINCIPLE OF PAYING "EX-GRATIA" COMPENSATION TO THE LETELIER/MOFFITT FAMILIES. HOWEVER, THE AMOUNT OF COMPENSATION MUST BE DETERMINED THROUGH A LEGAL MECHANISM WHICH WOULD POLITICALLY "COVER" THE NEW GOVERNMENT. THERE WILL BE CRITICISM FROM THE POLITICAL LEFT IN CHILE IF COMPENSATION IS PAID TO LETELIER/MOFFITT AND NOT TO ALL RELATIVES OF THOSE WHO SUFFERED DURING THE PINOCHET REGIME. THE POLITICAL RIGHT WOULD ALSO BE CRITICAL OF PAYMENT TO THE FAMILIES SINCE NO CHILEAN COURT HAS ACCEPTED GOC RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE CRIME. THEREFORE, THERE IS AT PRESENT NO LEGAL BASIS IN CHILE FOR COMPENSATION.

-- THE AYLWIN GOVERNMENT WOULD FIND IT EASIER, FOLLOWING ESTABLISHED CHILEAN LEGAL PRACTICE, TO ACCEPT PAYING AN AMOUNT OF COMPENSATION DETERMINED BY AN INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION. VARGAS FAVORS CONVENING THE 1914 TREATY IN ORDER TO ESTABLISH THIS MECHANISM AND TO DETERMINE THE APPROPRIATE AMOUNT OF COMPENSATION. CHILEAN SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY FROM U.S. JURISDICTION WAS THE KEY PROBLEM WHICH WOULD BE OVERCOME BY USING THE 1914 COMMISSION. THE COMPENSATION ISSUE COULD BE ADDRESSED RAPIDLY BY THIS COMMISSION, WITHOUT GETTING INTO THE CRIMINAL SIDE OF THE CASE. VARGAS SAID THAT THE AYLWIN GOVERNMENT WOULD RESPECT THE COMMISSION'S JUDGEMENT.

-- SEN. KENNEDY MAY BE RECEPTIVE TO SPONSORING LEGISLATION TO MODIFY THE CONDITIONS ON RESTORING U.S. MILITARY ASSISTANCE/SALES TO CHILE. VARGAS NOTED THAT THE PRESENT LAW MAKES NO MENTION OF THE COMPENSATION ISSUE.

5. USG POSITION ON LETELIER CASE

ASSISTANT LEGAL ADVISOR COLSON RESPONDED TO VARGAS' POINTS BY STATING THAT OUR STRONG PREFERENCE WAS FOR AN "EX-GRATIA" PAYMENT, A RESULT OF DIRECT NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN THE AYLWIN GOVERNMENT AND THE LETELIER/MOFFITT FAMILIES. COLSON SAID THAT THE TREATY PROCESS COULD BE CUMBERSOME, LENGTHY, AND WOULD PUT THE USG AND THE AYLWIN ADMINISTRATION IN AN ADVERSARIAL STANCE IN THAT FORUM. MOREOVER, THE AYLWIN GOVERNMENT MAY END UP DEFENDING SOME OF THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT'S ACTIONS IN SUCH A PROCESS. WE ARE CONCERNED THAT THE EVENTUAL OUTCOME OF A 1914 TREATY PROCESS MAY NOT BE ENTIRELY SATISFACTORY TO THE FAMILIES AND THEREFORE, WE COULD END UP WITH A BIGGER PROBLEM FROM WHEN WE STARTED. THUS, EVEN THOUGH WE UNDERSTOOD VARGAS' CONCERNS, WE BELIEVE A WAY TO COMPENSATE THE FAMILIES BY MAKING AN ACCEPTABLE "EX-GRATIA" PAYMENT HAD TO BE FOUND. HOWEVER, WE WANT TO KEEP THE 1914 PROCESS VIABLE IN THE EVENT THAT OTHER, MORE DIRECT METHODS TO RESOLVE THE CASE FAIL. ON THE CRIMINAL SIDE, THE USG EXPECTS "MEANINGFUL STEPS" BE TAKEN BY THE

AYLWIN GOVERNMENT TO PURSUE JUSTICE. WE WOULD LIKE TO KNOW AYLWIN'S PLANS TO APPOINT A SPECIAL PROSECUTOR AND TO REOPEN THE PASSPORTS CASE. VARGAS SAID HE WAS LEAVING THE NEXT DAY FOR SANTIAGO AND WOULD BE DISCUSSING STRATEGY WITH AYLWIN AND HIS TEAM. HE PROMISED TO MEET WITH US AGAIN WITHIN A MONTH.

E. THE MARCH 11 INAUGURATION AND PANAMA

ARONSON SAID THAT THE USG WILL MAKE EVERY EFFORT TO NORMALIZE RELATIONS WITH THE NEW CHILEAN GOVERNMENT. AS A CONCRETE EXAMPLE OF OUR INTENTIONS, VICE-PRESIDENT QUAYLE WILL LEAD THE U.S. DELEGATION TO THE MARCH 11 INAUGURATION CEREMONY OF PRESIDENT-ELECT AYLWIN.

10. COMMENTS

VARGAS WAS VERY UPFRONT AND FRANK. HE ADMITTED THAT THE NEW TEAM HAS NOT FULLY THOUGHT OUT ITS FOREIGN POLICY POSITIONS. VARGAS MENTIONED TO US THAT HE WANTS TO RETURN TO WASHINGTON AS OFTEN AS POSSIBLE DURING THE NEXT FEW MONTHS TO VISIT HIS WIFE, WHO IS WORKING IN THE MONTGOMERY COUNTY SCHOOL SYSTEM AND WILL REMAIN IN THE WASHINGTON AREA. HE CLEARLY IS SEEKING MEANS FOR A RAPID RESOLUTION OF THE LETELIER CASE, BUT SEEKS CONCESSIONS FROM US ON HOW MUCH PROGRESS WE REQUIRE ON THE COMPENSATION AND JUSTICE SIDES OF THE CASE. HE MAY HOPE (UNREALISTICALLY) WE BELIEVE THAT SEN. KENNEDY MAY TAKE SOME OF THE PRESSURE OFF THE AYLWIN GOVERNMENT BY SOFTENING THE PRESENT LAW'S CONDITIONS.

E.O. 12356: DECL:OADR
TAGS: PGOV, PREL, US
SUBJECT: CRISTIANI MEETING WITH CODEL MOAKLEY

1. C - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: IN A TWO HOUR LONG MEETING FEBRUARY 13 WITH CODEL MOAKLEY, PRESIDENT CRISTIANI REITERATED HIS GOVERNMENT'S COMMITMENT TO HUMAN RIGHTS AND AN INTERNAL PEACE PROCESS WHICH WOULD REINCORPORATE THE FMLN INTO THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS. HE CONFIRMED THAT THE MILITARY RECOGNIZED AND RESPECTED CIVILIAN CONTROL, AND DEPLORED THE ACTS OF ISOLATED MILITARY MEMBERS WHICH HARMED THE REPUTATION OF THE MILITARY AS A WHOLE. MEMBERS OF CODEL MOAKLEY STRESSED TO PRESIDENT CRISTIANI THE DAMAGING IMPACT THE JESUIT MURDERS HAD HAD ON HIS AND HIS GOVERNMENT'S REPUTATION IN THE UNITED STATES. WHILE CURRENT PROGRESS ON THE INVESTIGATION WAS IMPRESSIVE, THEY WARNED THAT THE JUDICIAL PROCESS MUST CONTINUE AND THAT OVERALL HUMAN RIGHTS MUST IMPROVE. THE MEMBERS ALSO STRESSED THE IMPORTANCE OF HIS GOVERNMENT'S COMMITMENT TO END THE MILITARY CONFLICT WITH THE FMLN, AND LAUDED THE PARTICIPATION OF THE UN SECRETARY GENERAL IN THE PROCESS. WITHOUT EXCEPTION CODEL MEMBERS EXPRESSED THEIR SUPPORT FOR CRISTIANI PERSONALLY, BUT STRESSED THAT STRONG DOMESTIC PRESSURE AGAINST THE GOES WAS BUILDING IN THE US. END SUMMARY.

3. AFTER PRESIDENT CRISTIANI WELCOMED THE FIFTEEN MEMBERS OF CONGRESS, TASK FORCE CHAIRMAN JOE MOAKLEY (D-MA) BEGAN DISCUSSIONS BY THANKING THE PRESIDENT FOR RECEIVING THE DELGATION. HE NOTED THAT PRESIDENT CRISTIANI'S VISIT TO WASHINGTON DC IN EARLY FEBRUARY HAD BEEN GREATLY APPRECIATED BY MEMBERS OF CONGRESS WHO HAD BENEFITTED FROM HIS FIRST HAND REPORT ON DEVELOPMENTS IN EL SALVADOR.

4. CONGRESSMAN BUD SHUSTER (R-PA) THEN COMMENDED PRESIDENT CRISTIANI FOR HIS GOVERNMENT'S DISPATCH IN INVESTIGATING THE NOVEMBER 16 KILLINGS OF SIX JESUIT FATHERS AND TWO OF THEIR HOUSEHOLD STAFF AT THE UCA.

SAN SA 02189 01 OF 07 142145Z 023486 189422

SUCH EXPEDIENCY, MR. SHUSTER CONTINUED, DEMONSTRATED THAT PRESIDENT CRISTIANI UNDERSTOOD THE ENORMOUS CONCERN THIS TERRIBLE CRIME HAD RAISED IN THE UNITED STATES. THUS FAR, HE STATED, THE INVESTIGATION APPEARED TO BE VERY PROFESSIONAL. THE ONLY QUESTION HE HAD REGARDED THE TESTIMONY OF A US MAJOR WHO BELATEDLY REPORTED A CONVERSATION WITH SALVADORAN COL. AVILES. DURING THE CONVERSATION AVILES REPORTEDLY REVEALED THAT COLONELS RIVAS AND LOPEZ Y LOPEZ, BOTH INVOLVED IN THE INVESTIGATION, MAY HAVE WITHHELD RELEVANT INFORMATION. IT STRUCK HIM AS UNUSUAL THAT COL. AVILES HAD BEEN POLYGRAPHED, WHILE THE TWO OFFICERS MENTIONED IN THE ALLEGED DISCUSSION HAD NOT BEEN. SUCH AN ACT WOULD HELP PREEMPT THOSE IN THE UNITED STATES AND ELSEWHERE WHO WERE PROMOTING "COVER UP" THEORIES ALLEGING THAT MILITARY HIGHER-UPS WITH KNOWLEDGE OF THE CRIME WERE BEING PROTECTED.

5. CONGRESSMAN SHUSTER ADDED THAT HE WAS ALSO INTERESTED IN KNOWING THE EXTENT TO WHICH THE GOVERNMENT HAD PURSUED INVESTIGATIONS IN FMLN CRIMES - WAS THE SIU INVOLVED IN INVESTIGATING THESE AS WELL? CRISTIANI RESPONDED THAT IT WAS VERY DIFFICULT TO TRACK THE FMLN - IT WOULD TAKE AT LEAST AN ENTIRE MILITARY UNIT TO DO SO. OFTEN TIMES BREAKTHROUGHS CAME BY CHANCE. FOR EXAMPLE, THREE DIFFERENT CAPTURED GUERRILLAS HAD IMPLICATED THE FMLN IN THE OCTOBER 31, 1989 BOMBING OF THE PRO-FMLN LABOR UMBRELLA ORGANIZATION FENASTRAS. IN OTHER CASES A PROFESSIONAL INVESTIGATION WAS UNDERTAKEN, AS IN THE ZONA ROSA CASE INVOLVING THE DEATHS OF FOUR US MARINES. IN THAT INSTANCE, SUSPECTS HAD BEEN IDENTIFIED AND WERE CURRENTLY BEING TRIED.

6. CONGRESSMAN SHUSTER CONTINUED BY NOTING THAT IN THE US INFORMATION ABOUT FMLN ATROCITIES WAS RELATIVELY SCARCE. ON THE OTHER HAND, PERSONS SUCH AS JENNIFER CASOLO BROADLY CRITICIZED THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT AND ITS POLICIES. SHUSTER STATED HE

UNDERSTOOD THAT THE EVIDENCE AGAINST CASOLO WAS OVERWHELMING. HE COULD UNDERSTAND CRISTIANI'S INTEREST IN HAVING JUSTICE DONE, AND NOTED THAT SOME PRESSURE TO THE CONTRARY MAY HAVE COME FROM THE U.S. SENATE. NONETHELESS, SHUSTER FELT THAT CASOLO WAS NOW DAMAGING THE GOES IN THE US.

7. CRISTIANI SAID HE HAD RECEIVED PHONE CALLS FROM TWO MEMBERS OF THE SENATE, BUT NEITHER TRIED TO PRESSURE HIM TO RELEASE CASOLO. ON THE CONTRARY, BOTH STRESSED THAT THEIR ONLY CONCERN WAS THAT SHE BE FAIRLY TREATED. THE JUDGE IN CHARGE OF THE CASE FELT THAT IT WAS DIFFICULT TO ESTABLISH THE DEGREE OF CASOLO'S AWARENESS OF WHAT WAS BURIED IN HER BACKYARD. THE GUERRILLA INFORMANT WHO LED THEM TO HER HOUSE NEVER MENTIONED HER NAME. THAT BEING THE CASE, THE JUDGE ORDERED HER RELEASE, BUT THE CASE REMAINED OPEN. SHOULD MORE INFORMATION COME TO LIGHT, IT WAS CONCEIVABLE THAT SHE COULD BE ASKED TO RETURN.

8. CONGRESSMAN MATTHEW MCHUGH (D-NY) SAID HE APPRECIATED THE DIFFICULT NATURE OF CRISTIANI'S JOB, BUT NOTED THAT THE PROBLEM OF HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES NEEDED TO BE STRONGLY PURSUED BY THE GOES. AS A MEMBER OF THE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEEE DEALING WITH THE ISSUE OF FOREIGN ASSISTANCE TO EL SALVADOR, HE NOTED HE WOULD HAVE A DIFFICULT TIME IF IT WERE PERCEIVED THE GOVERNMENT WAS NOT PURSUING THIS ISSUE VIGOROUSLY. TURNING TO THE TOPIC OF NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE FMLN, MCHUGH NOTED THAT SOME INTERLOCUTORS HAD BEEN MORE OPTIMISTIC THAN OTHERS ON THE TOPIC, AND SOLICITED CRISTIANI'S VIEWS.

9. THE PRESIDENT RESPONDED THAT HE, TOO, TENDED TO BE OPTIMISTIC. AN IDEAL COMBINATION OF EXTERNAL AND INTERNAL CONDITIONS MADE THE PROSPECTS VERY PROMISING. EXTERNAL FACTORS INCLUDE CHANGING CONDITIONS IN THE USSR WHICH COULD AFFECT CUBA AND

THUS THE FMLN, AND A NEW CONSENSUS AMONG THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS CONDEMNING THE VIOLENT TACTICS OF THE FMLN. INTERNALLY, HE FELT THE NOVEMBER 1989 FMLN OFFENSIVE HAD CLEARLY DEMONSTRATED THE LACK OF POPULAR SUPPORT FOR THE INSURGENT ORGANIZATION. GIVEN THIS SET OF CONDITIONS, THE UN SECRETARY GENERAL COULD PLAY AN IMPORTANT ROLE IN BRINGING THE TWO PARTIES TOGETHER AND ENSURING THAT THE FMLN PARTICIPATED IN GOOD FAITH. LATER TODAY (FEBRUARY 13), HE NOTED, THE SECRETARY GENERAL'S ASSISTANT DE SOTO WOULD BE COMING TO EL SALVADOR FROM TALKS WITH THE FMLN IN MEXICO. FROM PUBLIC STATEMENTS MADE BY THE FMLN, HE CONTINUED, HE WAS OPTIMISTIC THAT THEY WERE READY TO RESUME TALKS.

10. THE PROBLEM WAS TO ENSURE THE FMLN MADE A SERIOUS EFFORT TO NEGOTIATE, CRISTIANI STATED. DESPITE EFFORTS BY HIMSELF AND HIS PREDECESSOR, THE FMLN HAD NEVER TAKEN THE NEGOTIATIONS SERIOUSLY, USING THEM AS A TACTIC IN THEIR ONGOING MILITARY STRUGGLE. CRISTIANI REFERRED TO A LETTER RECENTLY SENT BY ARCHBISHOP RIVERA Y DAMAS TO THE SALVADORAN BISHOPS NOTING THAT THE FMLN POSITION ON NEGOTIATIONS MAY BE JUST A PROPAGANDA PLOY. IN HIS DISCUSSIONS WITH THE UN SECRETARY GENERAL, CRISTIANI ADDED, HE HAD SUGGESTED THAT A PRECONDITION FOR NEGOTIATIONS SHOULD BE A HALT TO ALL FMLN VIOLENCE DIRECTED AGAINST CIVILIANS - A POSITION ENDORSED BY THE OTHER CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS IN THE SAN ISIDRO AGREEMENT SIGNED IN DECEMBER 1989. SUCH AN UNDERTAKING BY THE FMLN WOULD BE A POSITIVE SIGN OF SINCERE INTEREST IN NEGOTIATIONS. THE SECRETARY GENERAL, CRISTIANI STATED, HAD AGREED WITH CRISTIANI'S SUGGESTION AND SAID HE WOULD COMMUNICATE IT TO THE FMLN. CRISTIANI NOTED THAT A CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES WOULD MAKE IT MUCH EASIER TO REDUCE THE NUMBER OF HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES.

11. CONGRESSMAN BILL MCCOLLUM (R-FL) NOTED THAT THIS WAS HIS SIXTH VISIT TO EL SALVADOR SINCE 1983, AND THAT HE CONTINUED TO BE IMPRESSED BY THE IMPROVEMENT IN HUMAN RIGHTS AND IN THE GOES EFFORT TO RESTRAIN THE FMLN. HE NOTED THAT THE MARCH 1989 ELECTIONS WERE A MARVELOUS EXAMPLE OF DEMOCRACY AT WORK. HE WAS IMPRESSED, HE STATED, WITH THE SIU INVESTIGATION. NOTING HE HAD MET WITH CRISTIANI DURING THE LATTER'S RECENT VISIT TO WASHINGON, HE REITEREATED HIS CONCERN OVER PROGRESS ON JUDICIAL REFORM. SUCH REFORMS WERE NEEDED, HE ARGUED, NOT JUST FOR THE JESUIT CASE, BUT FOR THE MANY OTHER CASES WHICH WERE TROUBLESOME BOTH TO THE GOES AND THE US. NOTHING SHORT OF CHANGING THE RULES OF EVIDENCE COULD ACHIEVE THE DESIRED RESULTS, HE OPINED, AND ASKED WHAT EFFORTS THE GOVERNMENT HAD MADE TO IMPROVE THE JUDICIAL PROCESS.

12. NOTING THAT HIS GOVERNMENT HAD APPOINTED A SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE PROBLEMS IN THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM, CRISTIANI STATED THAT HE HAD ASKED THE COMMITTEE FOR A 1990 WORKPLAN OF RECOMMENDED CHANGES. A RANGE OF REFORMS WERE BEING CONTEMPLATED, WHICH WOULD INVOLVE NOT ONLY LEGISLATIVE BUT STRUCTURAL CHANGES IN THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM. SOME REFORMS WERE ALREADY UNDERWAY -- JUDGES, WHO USED TO BE POLITICAL APPOINTEES, WERE NOW APPOINTED BY A COMMITTEE COMPOSED OF JUDICIAL AND LEGAL EXPERTS. THE GOAL WAS TO ESTABLISH A JUDICIAL "CAREER" DURING WHICH A JUDGE WOULD ACHIEVE TECHNICAL AND LEGAL EXPERTISE.

13. CONGRESSMAN MOAKLEY INTERVENED AT THIS POINT TO NOTE THAT THE CODEL HAD RECEIVED A BRIEFING FROM COL. MANUAL RIVAS OF THE SIU THE PREVIOUS DAY, DURING WHICH THEY WERE RATHER TOUGH ON THE UNIT LEADER. NONETHELESS, THE CODEL HAD THE GREATEST RESPECT FOR THE COLONEL'S PROFESSIONALISM, PARTICULARLY WIH HIS HANDLING OF THE TECHNICAL EVIDENCE. QUESTIONING DURING THE BRIEFING, HE STATED, GOT RATHER HEAVY, BUT

WAS NOT INTENDED TO IMPUGN THE COLONEL'S PERFORMANCE.

14. CONGRESSMAN STENY HOYER (D-MD) NOTED THAT THIS WAS HIS FIRST VISIT TO EL SALVADOR, BUT HIS EXPERIENCE IN EASTERN EUROPE HAD SHOWN HIM THAT ONE OF THE FUNDAMENTAL REFORMS TAKEN THERE WAS THE DISMANTLING OF THE REPRESSIVE AND INTIMIDATING SECRET POLICE SYSTEM. THE PERCEPTION OF MANY IN THE UNITED STATES WAS THAT THE JESUIT KILLINGS REPRESENTED THE DETERMINATION OF AN IDEOLOGICAL MILITARY FORCE TO DESTROY ITS OPPONENTS. THERE ARE ALLEGATIONS, HE CONTINUED, THAT THE MILITARY "TOOK OVER" IN THE FIRST DAYS OF THE FMLN OFFENSIVE IN NOVEMBER 1989. ONE OF THE FMLN'S NEGOTIATING CONDITIONS WAS THE SEPARATION OF POLICE AUTHORITIES FROM THE MILITARY IN AN EFFORT TO IMPROVE CIVILIAN CONTROL OVER THESE FORCES. WOULD CRISTIANI CARE TO COMMENT?

15. OFFERING A GENERAL COMMENT ON CIVILIAN CONTROL OF THE MILITARY DURING THE OFFENSIVE, CRISTIANI NOTED THAT HE, IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE MILITARY, ESTABLISHED CERTAIN RULES OF ENGAGEMENT DURING THE FIRST DAYS OF THE OFFENSIVE. AS THE ATTACKS CONTINUED, HOWEVER, THE MILITARY BEGAN TO REEVALUATE ITS STRATEGY AND ON NOVEMBER 15 ASKED HIM FOR PERMISSION TO USE CAVALRY AND ARTILLERY FORCES AGAINST THE INSURGENTS. CRISTIANI SAID HE FELT THE REQUEST DEMONSTRATED THE MILITARY'S RESPECT FOR CIVILIAN AUTHORITY. REGARDING SEPARATION OF SECURITY FORCES FROM THE MILITARY, HE NOTED THAT IF THE CONFLICT WERE ENDED SUCH A RESTRUCTURING WOULD BE PROBABLE. THE TREASURY POLICE WOULD REVERT TO THE AUTHORITY OF THE MINISTRY OF FINANCE, AND THE NATIONAL POLICE TO EITHER THE MINISTRY OF JUSTICE OR THE EXECUTIVE. CRISTIANI STATED HE HAD SPOKEN TO THE MILITARY ABOUT THESE PLANS JUST THE DAY BEFORE. RIGHT NOW, HOWEVER, THESE FORCES WERE AN INTEGRAL PART OF THE NATION'S DEFENSE AGAINST THE FMLN, AND

SUCH CHANGES COULD NOT BE CONTEMPLATED UNTIL HOSTILITIES CEASED. RESPONDING TO A FOLLOW UP QUESTION ON HOW SUCH CHANGES WOULD BE IMPLEMENTED, CRISTIANI STATED THAT LEGISLATION AND EVEN CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS WOULD HAVE TO BE DRAFTED.

16. CONGRESSMAN ROBERT DORNAN (R-CA) NOTED THAT HE HAD BEEN EDUCATED BY JESUITS, AND DESCRIBED THE WIDE NETWORK OF CONTACTS THE JESUIT COMMUNITY HAD IN THE UNITED STATES. THIS ENTIRE COMMUNITY, HE CONTINUED, WAS MOBILIZED AGAINST THE GOES IN THE WAKE OF THE JESUIT KILLINGS. HE INQUIRED AS TO WHAT TYPE OF RELATIONSHIP CRISTIANI HAD HAD WITH SLAIN UCA RECTOR IGNACIO ELLACURIA. CRISTIANI RESPONDED THAT HE HAD BEEN THE FIRST ARENA CANDIDATE TO SPEAK AT UCA DURING THE CAMPAIGN, AND THAT AFTER HIS ELECTION HE WAS THE FIRST SALVADORAN PRESIDENT TO VISIT THE UNIVERSITY CAMPUS. ELLACURIA HAD BEEN CALLED "CRISTIANISTA" BY SOME OF HIS CONTACTS AFTER PUBLISHING A REVIEW OF CRISTIANI'S FIRST HUNDRED DAYS WHICH WAS IN ITS ESSENCE FAVORABLE. CRISTIANI NOTED THAT HE HAD CONSIDERED THAT ELLACURIA WAS FOR A TIME THE ONLY "LOYAL" OPPOSITION BECAUSE HE WAS EVEN-HANDED IN HIS CRITICISM AND DID NOT POLITICIZE EVERY ISSUE. DORNAN SUGGESTED THAT CRISTIANI CONTINUE HIS CONTACTS WITH UCA, THE CHURCH AND THE SPANISH (TWO OF THE SLAIN PRIESTS WERE SPANISH CITIZENS) TO TRY TO REESTABLISH GOOD RELATIONS WITH THESE SECTORS.

17. CONGRESSMAN DORNAN CONTINUED BY NOTING THAT ANOTHER CONCERN RAISED WITH HIM FREQUENTLY WERE THE ALLEGATIONS OF INDISCRIMINATE AIR FORCE BOMBING. JUST THE NIGHT BEFORE, HE STATED, SEVERAL PEASANT FAMILIES FROM CHALATENANGO HAD MET WITH THE CODEL TO DESCRIBE THEIR EXPERIENCES OF 24 HOURS BEFORE, WHEN AIR FORCE BOMBS LANDED ON SEVERAL RESIDENCES, KILLING AT LEAST FOUR CHILDREN. THESE INCIDENTS DID A GREAT DEAL OF DAMAGE TO THE GOVERNMENT - IF THEY ARE ACCIDENTS, THE GOVERNMENT SHOULD ADMIT ITS FAULT AND

ENSURE THEY ARE NOT REPEATED. CRISTIANI SHOULD BE SURE TO KEEP THE CONGRESS INFORMED OF INCIDENTS SUCH AS THESE, AND RESULTANT STEPS TAKEN, SO THAT MEMBERS OF CONGRESS COULD PUT THESE INCIDENTS IN THE PROPER PERSPECTIVE, HE CONCLUDED.

18. CONGRESSWOMAN BARBARA KENNELLY (D-CT) ECHOED MR. DORNAN'S SENTIMENTS, EXPRESSING HER RESPECT FOR PRESIDENT CRISTIANI, BUT CAUTIONING THAT HER CONSTITUENTS HAD LOST PATIENCE WITH THE STATUS QUO IN EL SALVADOR. SHE NOTED A SENSE OF DEJA VU IN THAT HER FIRST VISIT TO THE COUNTRY HAD BEEN IN THE WAKE OF THE NUNS' KILLINGS -- AND TODAY HER THIRD VISIT TOOK PLACE YEARS LATER IN THE WAKE OF THE JESUIT DEATHS. MANY OF THE SALVADORAN HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS DID NOT, SHE OPINED, REFLECT "ACCIDENTS," BUT WERE MANIFESTATIONS OF PASSIONS AND IMPATIENCE STEMMING FROM THE CONFLICT. SHE URGED PRESIDENT CRISTIANI TO USE HIS GOOD OFFICES TO PREVENT SUCH ABUSES, AND TO CAUTION THAT SUCH ACTIONS HARM THE GOVERNMENT AS A WHOLE. BACK AT HOME, THE CONGRESSWOMAN CONTINUED, UNLESS IT WAS PERCEIVED THAT THE MILITARY WAS BEING RESTRAINED, FUTURE ASSISTANCE WAS IN JEOPARDY.

19. PRESIDENT CRISTIANI SAID HE APPRECIATED HER COMMENTS, STATING THAT THE GOVERNMENT WAS CONTINUOUSLY WORKING WITH THE ARMED FORCES TO CURTAIL ABUSES. HE BELIEVED THERE HAD BEEN SOME PROGRESS. IN EVERY SECTOR, HE ADDED, THERE WERE PEOPLE WHO REACTED STRONGLY FROM EMOTION, AND WHO HELD STRONG FEELINGS AGAINST ONE GROUP OR ANOTHER. THE GOES WOULD CONTINUE TO WORK TO RESTRAIN SUCH ACTIONS.

20. CONGRESSMAN ROBERT MCEWEN (R-OH) NOTED THAT HE HAD MET WITH PRESIDENT CRISTIANI FOUR TIMES IN THE LAST SEVEN MONTHS, AND WOULD ALLOW HIS COLLEAGUES TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THIS OPPORTUNITY. HE CONGRATULATED CRISTIANI ON HIS ACHIEVEMENTS, AND WISHED HIM

CONTINUED SUCCESS.

21. CONGRESSMAN GERRY STUDDS (D-MA) RETURNED TO THE TOPIC RAISED BY CONGRESSWOMAN KENNELLY, NOTING THAT US POPULAR OPINION WAS ALERT TO HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN EL SALVADOR. LESS THAN 24 HOURS AFTER THE CHALATENANGO INCIDENT HE WAS RECEIVING FAXED MESSAGES IN HIS HOTEL ROOM FROM CONCERNED US CITIZENS. STUDDS SAID HE WAS MOST CONCERNED ABOUT ALLEGATIONS MADE BY JOYA MARTINEZ, A FORMER MEMBER OF THE ARMED FORCES, REGARDING INSTITUTIONALIZED DEATH SQUADS. WE ALL KNOW, STUDDS CONTINUED, THAT MURDERS HAVE BEEN COMMITTED BY ESAF MEMBERS, BUT THEY HAVE BEEN CHARACTERIZED AS ABERRATIONS. JOYA MARTINEZ' ALLEGATIONS, HOWEVER, SUGGEST THAT SUCH ACTIONS HAVE BEEN A MATTER OF POLICY, HE STATED. WHILE SO FAR IT HAS BEEN IMPOSSIBLE TO ESTABLISH THE VERACITY OF HIS CLAIMS, CONFIRMATION OF THEM WOULD DEAL A VERY SERIOUS BLOW TO THE GOES AND ITS CREDIBILITY IN THE US, HE WARNED.

22. PRESIDENT CRISTIANI OFFERED TWO COMMENTS, NOTING FIRST OF ALL THAT JOYA MARTINEZ IS A FUGITIVE FROM SALVADORAN JUSTICE. THE GOES HAD AN EXTRADITION REQUEST PENDING IN THE UNITED STATES, AND IT HOPED TO BRING JOYA MARTINEZ BACK TO FACE TRIAL FOR HIS ADMITTED CRIMES. SECONDLY, THE RED CROSS AND OTHER INTERNATIONAL AGENCIES, AS WELL AS US MILITARY OFFICERS, ARE CONSTANTLY MONITORING DETENTION AREAS AND MILITARY UNITS. THEY WOULD KNOW IF THERE WERE INSTITUTIONALIZED DEATH SQUADS OPERATING UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE MILITARY.

23. REPRESENTATIVE FRANK MCCLOSKEY (D-IN) STATED THAT WHILE HE PERCEIVED BROAD SUPPORT FOR CRISTIANI PERSONALLY, HE ALSO PERCEIVED WIDESPREAD MISTRUST AND HOSTILITY TOWARDS THE ARMED FORCES. HE REPEATED ALLEGATIONS MADE BY NUNS AND PEASANTS FROM CHALATENANGO (WHO HAD MET WITH CODEL THE PREVIOUS NIGHT) THAT THE GOVERNMENT IMPEDED FOOD, TIN FOR ROOFS, AND MEDICINES FROM REACHING RESETTLEMENT CAMPS. HE ASKED THAT A GOVERNMENT REPRESENTATIVE MEET WITH THESE PEASANTS TO ADDRESS THEIR CONCERNS. HE ALSO ASKED THE PRESIDENT TO MEET WITH REPRESENTATIVES OF COMADRES (MEMBERS OF CODEL HELD A MEETING WITH COMADRES REPRESENTATIVE CELIA BELTRAN ON FEBRUARY 12).

24. PRESIDENT CRISTIANI COMMENTED GENERALLY THAT IN EL SALVADOR THINGS WERE NOT BLACK AND WHITE. SEVERAL CAPTURED GUERRILLAS HAD ADMITTED THEY WERE REFUGEES WHO HAD BEEN REPATRIATED FROM THE MESA GRANDE CAMP. SOME FMLN FIGHTERS CAPTURED DURING THE OFFENSIVE HAD ALSO BEEN REPATRIATED REFUGEES. THE GOES AND THE UNHCR HAD WORKED TOGETHER TO DEVELOP A RESETTLEMENT PROGRAM WHICH WOULD HAVE TEMPORARILY PLACED REFUGEES ON AGRARIAN REFORM PROPERTIES OUT OF CONFLICTIVE AREAS. ONCE THE CONFLICT WAS OVER, THEY WOULD HAVE BEEN ABLE TO RETURN TO THEIR ORIGINAL HOMES. IF THE REFUGEES HAD ACCEPTED THAT OPTION, INCIDENTS LIKE THE ONE IN CHALATENANGO WOULD NOT HAVE HAPPENED, BECAUSE THE REFUGEES WOULD HAVE BEEN OUT OF THE WAR ZONE. CRISTIANI STRESSED HE WAS NOT TRYING TO EXCUSE WHAT MAY HAVE HAPPENED IN CHALATENANGO. HE AGREED TO SEND THE VICE MINISTER OF INTERIOR TO MEET WITH THE CHALATENANGO REPRESENTATIVES. REGARDING COMADRES, HE NOTED THAT HE CONSIDERED IT A FRONT ORGANIZATION, AN OPINION CONFIRMED BY ITS PARTICIPATION IN SUCH ACTS AS THE TAKING OVER THE COSTA RICAN EMBASSY IN LATE 1989. HE WOULD AGREE TO A MEETING, BUT NOT WITH A MASSIVE DELEGATION, AND WITHOUT MEDIA PRESENCE.

25. CONGRESSMAN MCCLOSKEY THEN NOTED THAT THE 15 DAY DETENTION PERIOD WAS VERY HARD ON FAMILY MEMBERS, WHO WERE UNABLE TO RECEIVE ANY INFORMATION ABOUT THE WELFARE OF THEIR DETAINED RELATIVES UNTIL THE 15-DAY "INCOMMUNICADO" DETENTION PERIOD WAS OVER. HE ASKED CRISTIANI WHEN THE GOES PLANNED TO REMOVE THE STATE

OF EXCEPTION WHICH EXTENDED THE DETENTION PERIOD FROM THREE TO 15 DAYS. CRISTIANI RESPONDED THAT THE GOVERNMENT HAD BEEN LIFTING VARIOUS MEASURES OF THE STATE OF EXCEPTION AS THE SITUATION PERMITTED, BUT THAT THE FMLN STILL POSED A VERY REAL THREAT TO NATIONAL SECURITY. HE DENIED THAT DETENTION WAS "INCOMMUNICADO," STATING THAT INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS HAD ACCESS TO DETENTION AREAS.

26. CONGRESSMAN DAN GLICKMAN (D-KS) RETURNED TO A MORE GENERAL THEME, CAUTIONING CRISTIANI THAT EVEN UNDER THE BEST OF CIRCUMSTANCES US AID TO EL SALVADOR WOULD NOT CONTINUE INDEFINITELY, AND ADVISING THAT THE GOVERNMENT SHOULD LET THAT REALITY GUIDE IT AS IT CONTEMPLATED RENEWED NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE FMLN. WITH THE EXTERNAL AND INTERNAL DEVELOPMENTS PREVIOUSLY MENTIONED, GLICKMAN CONTINUED, THE TIME WAS RIPE FOR SERIOUS NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE FMLN. THE GOES HAD US SUPPORT NOW, BUT WOULDN'T HAVE IT FOREVER -- THE GOVERNMENT SHOULD TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THIS PERHAPS UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY TO END THE MILITARY CONFLICT.

27. CONGRESSMAN DAVID BONIOR (D-MI) ENDORSED HIS COLLEAGUE'S STATEMENTS, NOTING THAT IN THE LAST YEAR LEADERS AROUND THE WORLD HAD MADE COURAGEOUS, OFTEN RISKY DECISIONS WHICH HAD CHANGED THE COURSE OF HISTORY. HE URGED CRISTIANI TO GO THAT EXTRA MILE TO REACH A RESOLUTION. CONGRESSMAN BONIOR ALSO INQUIRED WHETHER COL. BENAVIDES, ONE OF THOSE ACCUSED IN THE JESUIT CASE, HAD KEPT A DIARY. THE PRESIDENT RESPONDED THAT HE WAS UNAWARE OF ANY DIARY.

28. CONGRESSMAN JIM MCDERMOTT (D-WA) OPENED HIS REMARKS BY NOTING HE ALWAYS FELT UNCOMFORTABLE WHEN A CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATION ARRIVED TO TELL THE PRESIDENT HOW TO DO HIS JOB. STILL, THE ONLY ALTERNATIVE HE COULD SEE WAS CEASEFIRE AND DIALOGUE. THE GOES SHOULD BE AWARE THAT CHURCHWORKERS AND

OTHERS IN EL SALVADOR WERE IN CONSTANT CONTACT WITH US GROUPS -- THE INFORMATION CONTINUED TO FLOW AND CONTINUED TO DIRECTLY AFFECT CONGRESSMEN WHO HAD TO RESPOND TO THEIR CONSTITUENTS' CONCERNS ABOUT EL SALVADOR. MCDERMOTT URGED CRISTIANI TO TAKE HEED OF THE COFFEE BOYCOTT MOVEMENT FORMING IN CALIFORNIA, A MOVE WHICH COULD DO SERIOUS DAMAGE TO THE SALVADORAN ECONOMY. HE SALUTED THE PRESIDENT FOR DOING MORE THAN MANY HAD HOPED FOR - BUT URGED HIM TO DO EVENMORE OR RISK LOSING US ASSISTANCE.

29. PRESIDENT CRISTIANI REAFFIRMED HIS GOVERNMENT'S COMMITMENT TO DIALOGUE AND CEASE FIRE, NOTING THAT BOTH WERE ON THE GOES AGENDA DURING LATE 1989 DISCUSSIONS WITH THE FMLN - ONLY THE FMLN WOULDN'T COOPERATE. THE PREVIOUS ADMINISTRATION HAD SHARED THE EXPERIENCE OF TRYING TO CREATE POLITICAL SPACE FOR THE FMLN TO PARTICIPATE DEMOCRATICALLY - BUT NEITHER HAD SUCCEEDED BECAUSE THE FMLN WAS UNWILLING TO COMPROMISE. NEGOTIATION TAKES TWO SIDES, CRISTIANI COMMENTED, AND NO ONE WAS PRESSURING THE FMLN.

30. CONTINUING THE THEME, CONGRESSMAN GEORGE MILLER (D-CA) NOTED THAT PROPOSED US LEGISLATION TO CONDITION ASSISTANCE BASED ON PROGRESS IN GOES-FMLN NEGOTIATIONS WAS A WAY TO TEST THE FMLN'S INTENTIONS. NO ONE, HE CONTINUED, WOULD ASK CRISTIANI TO DO ANYTHING HE DID NOT FEEL WAS IN HIS NATION'S BEST INTEREST. IN FACT, MILLER CONTINUED, HE FELT CRISTIANI WAS HIS COUNTRY'S BEST HOPE IN THE CURRENT SITUATION. IN THE PAST, MILLER SAID, HE FELT THE US GOVERNMENT AS WELL AS THE GOES HAD LIED ABOUT PROGRESS ON HUMAN RIGHTS CASES -- BUT THE JESUIT INVESTIGATION OFFERED HOPE FOR A DIFFERENT OUTCOME, IF THE GOVERNMENT CONTINUED AS IT HAD BEGUN. MILER SAID HE PERSONALLY FAVORED RESTRICTED US ASSISTANCE TO EL SALVADOR, AND FELT THAT IT HAD, IN THE PAST AT LEAST, GIVEN THE CIVILIAN AUTHORITIES LEVERAGE OVER

THE MILITARY WHICH SOMETIMES WAS SLOW TO ACCEPT CONCERNS ABOUT HUMAN RIGHTS. THERE WAS SUPPORT IN CONGRESS FOR CRISTIANI, MILLER CONTINUED, BUT ADDED THAT HIS PERSONAL GOAL WAS AN END TO THE VIOLENCE IN EL SALVADOR.

31. PRESIDENT CRISTIANI RESPONDED THAT HIS GOVERNMENT APPRECIATED SUPPORT FOR AN END TO THE MILITARY CONFLICT, BUT REITERATED THAT PRESSURE ON THE GOES DID NOTHING TO ENSURE THE FMLN'S GOOD INTENTIONS. HE UNDERSTOOD THE INTENT OF LEGISLATION TIED TO PROMOTE PEACE IN EL SALVADOR BY CONDITIONING AID, BUT FELT THAT CURRENT PROPOSALS FELL VERY SHORT OF PRESSURING THE FMLN. THE FMLN ALWAYS TRIED TO PLACE THE GOES IN A POSITION WHERE IT WOULD HAVE TO SAY NO, CRISTIANI CONTINUED. IN SAN JOSE THE FMLN PROVIDED TWO AND A HALF POUNDS OF DOCUMENTS FULL OF PROPOSALS, AND DEMANDED A "YES OR NO" ANSWER FROM THE GOVERNMENT IN FIVE MINUTES. THAT WAS NOT A SERIOUS WAY TO NEGOTIATE, CRISTIANI STATED. THE FIVE CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS HAD AGREED THAT THE FMLN WAS NOT IN A POSITION TO MAKE DEMANDS -- IT SHOULD BE DEMOBILIZED, GIVEN POLITICAL SPACE, AND REINCORPORATED INTO THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS. RESTRICTIONS ON US ASSISTANCE SHOULD BE CAREFULLY CONSTRUCTED TO ENSURE THAT THEY DO IN FACT CONTRIBUTE TO AN END OF THE WAR, RATHER THAN EXACERBATE THE MILITARY CONFLICT.

32. CONGRESSMAN MCHUGH COMMENTED THAT A REPORTER HAD RECENTLY TOLD HIM THAT WHILE THERE WERE STILL INTERNAL FMLN DIVISIONS, THE MAJORITY FAVORED NEGOTIATIONS, INCLUDING JOAQUIN VILLALOBOS. CRISTIANI RESPONDED THAT, IF TRUE, IT WAS HEARTENING NEWS AND FURTHERED HIS OPTIMISM OVER PROSPECTS FOR NEGOTIATIONS.

33. REPRESENTATIVE DAVID DREIER (R-CA) NOTED HE HAD VISITED EL SALVADOR SIX TIMES IN THE LAST YEAR AND

SAN SA 02189 07 OF 07 142146Z 023494 109428

HAD DEVELOPED A REAL AFFECTION FOR THE COUNTRY. THE TASK FORCE HAD BEEN FORMED TO GET TO THE BOTTOM OF THE JESUIT KILLINGS, HE STATED, AND HE PERSONALLY WAS CONVINCED THAT THE GOVERNMENT HAD DONE EVERYTHING POSSIBLE IN THAT RESPECT. DREIER STATED THAT HE HAD BEEN IN EL SALVADOR DURING THE MARCH 1989 ELECTIONS WHICH CRISTIANI CARRIED WITH 54 PECENT OF THE VOTE - WHILE THE OTHER EXTREME RECEIVED ONLY 3.8 PERCENT. THE GOES, HE SAID, HAD BENT OVER BACKWARDS TO ACCOMMODATE NEGOTIATIONS. HE CONSIDERED THE USDOL 4 BILLION SPENT IN EL SALVADOR OVER THE LAST TEN YEARS TO HAVE BEEN AN EXCELLENT INVESTMENT WHICH HAD HELPED THE GOES STAND UP TO THE FMLN OFFENSIVE. CHANGING TOPICS, DREIER NOTED THAT CRISTIANI HAD ALSO ASSUMED A LEADERSHIP ROLE IN THE REGION, AND ASKED FOR HIS VIEWS ON WHERE THE PEACE PROCESS WAS GOING, AND HOW IT MIGHT BE AFFECTED BY THE FEBRUARY 1990 ELECTIONS IN NICARAGUA.

34. DESPITE CHANGES IN THE PRESIDENCIES OF THREE OF THE FIVE CENTRAL AMERICAN COUNTRIES (INCLUDING HIMSELF), CRISTIANI SAID HE FELT THE PEACE PROCESS WOULD CONTINUE, AND PERHAPS IMPROVE. HIS NEWLY ELECTED COLLEAGUES SHARED HIS COMMITMENT TO PEACE, AND APPRECIATED HIS POSITION THAT EL SALVADOR'S SITUATION BE CONTEMPLATED BY THE PROCESS, WHICH HAD ORIGINALLY FOCUSED ON NICARAGUA. REGARDING THE NICARAGUAN ELECTIONS, CRISTIANI SAID HE HAD RECEIVED REPORTS FROM VARIOUS COSTA RICAN OBSERVERS THAT THE REGISTRATION PROCESS HAD BEEN FLAWED, AND HE WAS GENERALLY CONCERNED ABOUT THE SITUATION. TASK FORCE CHAIR MOAKLEY THEN THANKED THE PRESIDENT, AND THE SESSION ADJOURNED.

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: THERE IS EVERY INDICATION THAT THE DEMOCRATICALLY-ELECTED GOVERNMENT OF PATRICIO AYLWIN INTENDS TO SUBSTANTIVELY REFORM THE LABOR CODE. EMBASSY RECOMMENDS THAT VICE PRESIDENT QUAYLE, DURING HIS VISIT TO CHILE, ELICIT A COMMITMENT FROM AYLWIN TO MOVE QUICKLY ON LABOR LEGISLATION. ON THE BASIS OF AYLWIN'S INDICATION OF GOOD FAITH, THE VICE PRESIDENT COULD ANNOUNCE THAT THE USG WILL ACCELERATE PROCEDURES FOR LIFTING GSP RESTRICTIONS. END SUMMARY.
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

3. WE AGREE WITH THE VALUE OF VICE PRESIDENT QUAYLE'S DISCUSSING A CONCRETE TIMETABLE FOR AN EARLY RESTORATION OF GSP PRIVILEGES ONCE THE NEW GOVERNMENT IS IN OFFICE (REF B). WE DO NOT, HOWEVER, BELIEVE THE REVIEW SHOULD BEGIN IN MID-FEBRUARY. THAT WOULD BE INTERPRETED HERE AS A POSITIVE RESPONSE TO THE "OFFENDING" GOC'S REQUEST FOR JUST SUCH ACTION. OTHER THAN THE TWO POINTS MENTIONED IN REF A (RELEASE OF BUSTOS AND MARTINEZ AND ELECTORAL PARTICIPATION FOR LABOR LEADERS), THERE HAS BEEN NO SUBSTANTIVE CHANGE IN THE GOC'S ATTITUDE TOWARD LABOR. ON THE CONTRARY, THE LABOR REFORMS PROPOSED BY PRESIDENT PINOCHET ON MARCH 11, 1989, HAVE NOT BEEN PASSED, DESPITE ASSURANCES FROM TWO LABOR MINISTERS THAT THEY WOULD BE. WE HAD SPECIFICALLY ADVISED THE GOC THAT SUBSTANTIVE REFORM OF THE LABOR CODES, ALONG THE LINES MENTIONED BY PINOCHET AND OUTLINED BY THE LABOR MINISTERS, MIGHT BE SUFFICIENT TO INITIATE A REVIEW OF CHILE'S GSP SITUATION. WE RECONFIRMED THIS POINT TO MINISTER OF LABOR MARIA TERESA INFANTE ON NOVEMBER 2, AFTER BUSTOS AND MARTINEZ WERE RELEASED (REF C). THE FAILURE OF THE GOC TO PASS EVEN MINIMAL CHANGES TO THE CODE DESPITE OUR ASSURANCES THEY WOULD BE CAREFULLY REVIEWED WITH AN EYE TO GSP RESTORATION IS AN INDICATION OF THE CONTINUING DISINTEREST OF THE GOC IN IMPROVING LABOR'S SITUATION.

4. THE INCOMING GOVERNMENT, ON THE OTHER HAND, HAS MADE LABOR REFORM ONE OF ITS PRIORITIES. THE FIRST ACT OF RENE CORTAZAR AFTER HIS NOMINATION AS MINISTER OF LABOR IN THE NEW GOVERNMENT WAS TO CALL AT THE UNIFIED LABOR CENTRAL'S CUT) HEADQUARTERS TO MEET WITH CUT PRESIDENT MANUEL BUSTOS AND OTHER OFFICIALS, TO UNDERSCORE THE NEW GOVERNMENT'S COMMITMENT TO LABOR (REF D). (IT SHOULD BE ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NOTED THAT THE CURRENT GOC HAS CONSISTENTLY REFUSED TO MEET WITH CUT OFFICIALS EXCEPT IN THEIR INDIVIDUAL CAPACITY AS LABOR FEDERATION OFFICIALS.)

5. ON JANUARY 29, LABATT RAISED INFORMALLY WITH LABOR MINISTER-DESIGNATE CORTAZAR THE USG'S INTEREST IN LABOR REFORM IN CHILE AND THE POSSIBILITY OF RESTORING GSP

PRIVILEGES QUICKLY ON THE BASIS OF CLEAR EVIDENCE THE NEW GOVERNMENT WOULD RESPECT WORKER RIGHTS. CORTAZAR OPINED THAT DRAFT LEGISLATION MIGHT NOT BE PRESENTED TO CONGRESS FOR A FEW MONTHS GIVEN THE NEW GOVERNMENT'S INTEREST IN HAVING BROAD AGREEMENT FROM LABOR AND BUSINESS ON ITS CONTENTS. LABATT SUGGESTED THAT A CLEAR STATEMENT OF INTENTION BY THE GOC TO REFORM THE CODE AND AN EXPLANATION OF THE POINTS THE NEW GOC WOULD CONSIDER ESSENTIAL ELEMENTS OF A NEW LABOR CODE MIGHT SERVE AS A VEHICLE FOR GSP REVIEW. CORTAZAR PROMISED TO SEND SUCH A DOCUMENT TO US SOON.

6. THERE IS A STRONG POSSIBILITY THAT NOT ALL LABOR LEADERS WILL BE PLEASED BY THE NEW LABOR CODE; SOME OF THE MORE RADICAL ONES, FRUSTRATED BY SIXTEEN YEARS OF ANTI-LABOR GOVERNMENT, WOULD BE SATISFIED ONLY IF THE CLOCK WERE REVERSED TO THE TIME WHEN THE GOVERNMENT ENFORCED LABOR'S WILL ON THE BUSINESS COMMUNITY. THIS IS NOT LIKELY TO HAPPEN GIVEN AYLWIN'S DETERMINATION TO MAINTAIN THE CONFIDENCE OF THE PRIVATE SECTOR WHILE REDRESSING REPRESSIVE ELEMENTS OF PINOCHET'S LABOR POLICY. WHAT IS IMPORTANT IS THAT LABOR HAVE A CHANCE TO STATE ITS CASE AND NEGOTIATE ON EQUAL FOOTING WITH GOVERNMENT AND THE BUSINESS COMMUNITY AND THAT LABOR'S RIGHT TO STRIKE, TO FORM ASSOCIATIONS AND TO BARGAIN

SUBJECT: STATEMENT BY CODEL MOAKLEY AND TRANSCRIPT OF
- FOLLOWING PRESS CONFERENCE, SAN SALVADOR,
- FEBRUARY 14, 1990

FOLLOWING IS THE TEXT OF THE FEBRUARY 14, 1990, PRESS CONFERENCE GIVEN AT THE CAMINO REAL HOTEL, SAN SALVADOR, EL SALVADOR, BY CONGRESSMAN JOE D. MOAKLEY ON BEHALF OF THE VISITING U.S. CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATION WHICH HE HEADED.

(BEGIN TEXT OF PREPARED STATEMENT)
SHORTLY AFTER THE HEINOUS MURDERS OF SIX JESUIT PRIESTS, THEIR HOUSEKEEPER AND HER YOUNG DAUGHTER ON NOVEMBER 16, 1989, SPEAKER TOM FOLEY APPOINTED A SPECIAL TASK FORCE TO MONITOR THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT'S INVESTIGATION INTO THE MURDERS AND TO REPORT BACK TO HIM. THE REPUBLICAN LEADER IN CONGRESS, CONGRESSMAN ROBERT MICHEL, APPOINTED FIVE REPUBLICAN MEMBERS LED BY CONGRESSMAN BUD SHUSTER TO JOIN THE TASK FORCE AND TO VISIT EL SALVADOR.

WE HAVE JUST COMPLETED AN INTENSIVE, A VERY INTENSIVE, FOUR DAY VISIT TO THIS COUNTRY, AND DURING OUR STAY WE HAVE BEEN BRIEFED EXTENSIVELY BY OUR AMBASSADOR AND HIS STAFF, BY THE SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE UNIT (SIU), HEADED BY COLONEL RIVAS, WHICH HAS CONDUCTED THE INVESTIGATION INTO THE MURDERS. WE HAVE MET WITH PRESIDENT CRISTIANI; THE ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF, COLONEL PONCE; VICE MINISTER OF DEFENSE, COLONEL ZEPEDA; WITH THE JESUIT'S PROVINCIAL FOR CENTRAL AMERICAN, FATHER TOJEIRA; THE JESUIT RECTOR OF UCA, FATHER ESTRADA; WITH ARCHBISHOP RIVERA Y DAMAS; THE ATTORNEY GENERAL AND THE JUDGE HANDLING THIS CASE; WITH OTHER RELIGIOUS GROUPS; DEFENSE LAWYERS; AND EVEN CAPTURED FMLN FIGHTERS.

ALL OF THE MEMBERS OF THIS DELEGATION WOULD LIKE TO EXPRESS OUR DEEPEST APPRECIATION TO THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT, THE U.S. EMBASSY AND A SPECIAL THANKS TO

THE SOCIETY OF JESUS, WHO HAVE SHARED WITH US BOTH THEIR PAIN AND THEIR WISDOM. OUR FOCUS IN THE MEETINGS HAS BEEN FOURFOLD:

- TO DETERMINE WHETHER THE INVESTIGATION HAS LED TO
- THE IDENTIFICATION OF ALL THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE - MURDERS;

- TO ASCERTSIN WHETHER IT IS LIKELY THAT THEY WILL BE
- BROUGHT TO JUSTICE;

- TO GAUGE THE OVERALL CLIMATE OF RESPECT FOR HUMAN
- RIGHTS HERE IN EL SALVADOR; AND
- TO ASSESS THE PROSPECTS FOR AN END TO THE WAR AND A
- LASTING PEACE.

WITH RESPECT TO THE INVESTIGATION, WE BELIEVE THAT IT HAS BEEN CHARACTERIZED BY GOOD POLICE WORK ON THE PART OF THE SIU AND WE COMMEND THE SALVADOREAN GOVERNMENT FOR THIS. THE TECHNICAL ASPECTS OF THIS CASE HAVE BEEN HANDLED VERY WELL.

WE BELIEVE, HOWEVER, THAT THE INVESTIGATION IS NOT OVER YET, AND THAT IMPORTANT LEADS AND ALLEGATIONS REMAIN TO BE FULLY INVESTIGATED, NAMELY REPORTS WHICH SUGGEST THAT THE INTELLECTUAL AUTHORS OF THE MURDERS MAY NOT HAVE BEEN IDENTIFIED AND SUGGESTIONS THAT THERE MAY HAVE BEEN A COVERUP OF THIS CRIME BY SOME IN THE ARMED FORCES. WE NOTE IN THIS CONNECTION THAT COLONEL PONCE TOLD US THAT NOT ONE PERSON IN THE MILITARY -- NOT ONE -- CAME FORWARD TO REPORT TO HIM THE COMPLICITY OF THE ARMY IN THE MURDERS. WE, THEREFORE, JOIN WITH OUR AMBASSADOR IN INSISTING THAT THESE SPECIFIC ALLEGATIONS BE THROUGHLY INVESTIGATED.

WITH RESPECT TO THE NEXT PHASE OF THE JUDICIAL PROCESS, WE FEAR THAT AVAILABLE EVIDENCE MAY BE INSUFFICIENT TO BRING ALL THE MURDERERS TO JUSTICE, AND WE ARE DEEPLY CONCERNED ABOUT THIS PROSPECT. WE STRONGLY SUPPORT CURRENT, AS WELL AS POSSIBLE NEW, EFFORTS BY THE UNITED STATES TO ASSIST IN EVERY POSSIBLE WAY THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT IN ITS INVESTIGATORY AND JUDICIAL EFFORTS.

WITH RESPECT TO THE OVERALL CLIMATE OF RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, WE HAVE STRONG CONCERNS. FIRST, WE CONDEMN -- IN THE STRONGEST OF ALL POSSIBLE TERMS -- THE FMLN OFFENSIVE, FOR THE NEEDLESS BLOODSHED WHICH RESULTED IN PROSECUTING THE OFFENSIVE. THE FMLN IS GUILTY OF SERIOUS VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND CAUSED A SERIOUS SETBACK TO THE PROSPECTS FOR A PEACEFUL SETTLEMENT OF THE WAR.

WITH REGARD TO THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES -- A CENTRAL QUESTION FOR THE TASK FORCE IS WHETHER THE HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS IN EL SALVADOR -- INCLUDING THE KILLINGS OF THE JESUITS -- ARE THE ACTIONS OF A FEW RENEGADE MILITARY FIGURES OR WHETHER, IN FACT, THEY STEM FROM ATTITUDES AND ACTIONS THAT GO TO THE VERY HEART OF THE ARMED FORCES AND OTHER MAJOR INSTITUTIONS IN THIS COUNTRY. ENCOURAGING GENUINE CHANGE IN THESE INSTITUTIONS REMAINS THE GREATEST CHALLENGE FACING EL SALVADOR; A CHALLENGE THAT, DESPITE ENORMOUS INVESTMENTS OF MONEY AND EFFORT, HAS NOT YET BEEN FULLY MET. GIVEN THE TRAGEDY OF THE JESUIT CASE, IT IS PARTICULARLY IMPORTANT THAT THE ARMED FORCES BE ABLE TO DISTINGUISH AS AN INSTITUTION BETWEEN THOSE WHO TAKE UP ARMS AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT AND THOSE WHOSE RELIGIOUS AND POLITICAL CONVICTIONS SIMPLY PLACE

THAT AT THIS STAGE ANYBODY COULD'VE BEEN INVOLVED, AND HE SAID THAT MILITARY UNIFORMS HAD BEEN USED BY THE FMLN BEFORE. HE DIDN'T HAVE THE INFORMATION IN HIS HAND AT THAT TIME TO DEMONSTRATE THAT THE MILITARY WAS IMPLICATED, AND I THINK AMBASSADOR WALKER WAS BEING JUDICIOUS IN HIS STATEMENT TO ME AT THAT TIME.

Q. BUT ANOTHER AMERICAN OFFICER HAD ALREADY GONE TO SALVADORAN OFFICIALS AND TOLD THEM OF THE INFORMATION HE HAD IMPLICATING COLONEL BENAVIDES AND OTHERS.

A. AMBASSADOR WALKER DID NOT HAVE THAT INFORMATION AT THAT TIME WHEN HE AND I HAD THAT CONVERSATION.

Q. WERE YOU TROUBLED BY THE FACT THAT HE DID NOT HAVE THE INFORMATION THAT OTHER AMERICAN OFFICIALS HAD AT THE TIME?

A. WELL, I'M TROUBLED BY A LOT OF THINGS ON THE FLOW OF INFORMATION. I THINK OUR INFORMATION COMES SLOW FROM WHATEVER SOURCE, BUT IN THIS INSTANCE, I DID HAVE A LONG TALK WITH AMBASSADOR WALKER, AND I AM ASSURED THAT HE DID NOT HAVE THAT INFORMATION WHEN HE MADE THE STATEMENT TO ME. (PAUSE) IS THAT IT? THANK YOU VERY MUCH.

Q. ONE MORE QUESTION. IS IT TRUE THAT YESTERDAY, WHEN ONE OF THE CONGRESSMEN WENT YESTERDAY TO THE SITE IN CHALATENANGO THAT THEY FOUND PIECES OF A U.S. MADE ROCKET NEARBY THE SITE WHERE FIVE PEOPLE WERE KILLED?

A. THAT IS TRUE, THERE WAS A PIECE OF A U.S. ROCKET BROUGHT BACK. BUT AS I SAID, WE DON'T HAVE THE FINAL REPORT; THEREFORE, THIS COMMISSION IS NOT GOING TO HAVE ANY STATEMENT ON THAT INCIDENT AT THIS TIME. WE ARE VERY SENSITIVE TO IT (THE INCIDENT), AND WE HAVE ASKED EVERYBODY INVOLVED TO GET BACK TO US AS SOON AS POSSIBLE, BUT I THINK IT WOULD NOT BE JUDICIOUS AT THIS TIME TO MAKE ANY STATEMENT ON THAT. THANK YOU. JACOBS

IMPORTANT FUNCTION, ACTING AS A THINK TANK. NEVERTHELESS, THE DUTCH ACKNOWLEDGE THAT THE SUBCOMMISSION COULD STAND FOR SOME REFORM TO RESTORE IT TO ITS ORIGINAL FUNCTION AND WOULD SUPPORT A US RESOLUTION TO THAT END.

NOTING THAT ONE OF THE FIVE MEMBERS OF THE WORKING GROUP IS DUTCH, DE VEY ARGUED THAT THE GROUP IS DEALING WITH 5000 CASES AND THAT WHILE THE WORKING GROUP HAD BEEN ESTABLISHED IN RESPONSE TO ARGENTINA'S "DIRTY WAR," ITS CASE LOAD NOW COMES FROM IRAQ, PERU, AND OTHER COUNTRIES. OBSERVING THAT IT IS "CYNICAL" TO CONSIDER DISAPPEARANCES AS SUMMARY EXECUTIONS, DE VEY ARGUED THAT DISAPPEARANCES REQUIRE EXTENSIVE INVESTIGATION TO TRACK DOWN THE DISAPPEARED, WHILE RESPONDING TO SUMMARY EXECUTIONS IS LIMITED TO PROTESTING THE ACTION. THE MOST THE DUTCH MIGHT CONSIDER IS REDUCING CONFIDENTIAL

Dear Mr. Neier:

I refer to "your" letter of January 24. As it was incorrectly addressed, it took longer than usual to arrive and, consequently, delayed my response. While having no wish to continue this exchange, I find myself forced to do so by: (1) The inadequacy of the proposed resolution to the problem you created; (2) your organization's refusal to deal with the issues I raised in my letter of January 9; and (3) "your" letter's ethnocentric, nay, imperial arrogance. Please forgive the length of this letter; I hope it is the last time I need to write you and there are matters which need clarifying.

"Your" letter is a masterpiece: In just four pages it reveals nearly every flaw of logic and political bias of which critics accuse human rights groups. I cannot believe this letter's author is the same who wrote a letter to the NY Times (May 27, 1989) acknowledging the unfortunate political uses to which human rights is put and giving a basic guide to distinguish "partisan efforts from genuine efforts to promote human rights." I keep a copy of the Times letter as it is useful in my work on human rights. I find it depressing to think you wrote both and would rather think you wrote the one to the Times and a junior aide the other.

"Your" letter objects to the language of my previous letter. I am sorry if I offended Fifth Avenue sensitivities, but let's get one thing clear: Your report states a falsehood about me and creates a danger for my family (and for Mr. Mendez, a man with whom I am often seen). Pardon me, sir, for not appreciating that and for having an adverse reaction.

I do not regard as satisfactory the language "you" propose to insert somewhere, in some report, some time in the future. Your group still seeks to avoid the main issue, to wit, you had no right at all to use my name or to cite a private discussion I had with, among others, Ms. Simon. (This aside from the fact you misrepresented that discussion.) While it mentions me by name, misspelled though it is, your report does not list the name of Ms. Simon, spelled correctly or otherwise, as the source of its information. The report seems careful, and properly so, in protecting names: Why do I get different treatment? Is the safety of U.S. personnel less important than that of other persons? Is misspelling the only protection to which I am entitled?

9HUM 1 SAN - MAY 1990

I have contacted a U.S. non-profit legal organization (after all, I am apparently up against an organization) regarding this. That organization is quite interested in the issue and agrees with me that by using your own reports on Guatemala I have an excellent claim that your irresponsible and unethical action endangers my family and me, as well as Mr. Mendez.

In addition, I have spoken to others who attended the dinner; none recalls the conversation being as reported by your group. Once again, Ms. Simon presented herself to no one as a "representative" of Americas Watch; "your" letter makes clear that despite what your report states she, in fact, was not a representative. No one at the dinner suspected that comments made in the course of a private, i.e., "off the record," and relaxed discussion could and would be shared, inaccurately at that, with the public (I believe you will hear from some of those persons). If you have begun to engage in covert activities, please engage agents who report accurately.

"Your" letter claims Ms. Simon confirmed her version of the dinner conversation. I am not impressed. You can hardly expect Ms. Simon to admit she is wrong. Any responsible organization involved in a controversy over what one of "their" reporters relates would check not only with the reporter, as maybe you did, but with the person cited and with any witnesses, of which in this case there are several. You have not done this. I withdraw my comparison of your group's style with that of a squalid supermarket tabloid; it is unfair to squalid supermarket tabloids.

More disturbing and revealing, however, is a comment Ms. Simon made during a recent call on the Ambassador. Asked why she reported a private conversation, Ms. Simon replied she felt "under attack" at the dinner. Prior to this meeting, she made a like comment to a Guatemalan. This, apparently, is how she gets even: Disagree with her, and she turns you over to "Americas Watch." A professional "representative," Mr. Neier, and ethical, too.

In your next report on Guatemala either carry my letters--and, please, "yours" too as it helps me make my case--or run the following as the lead paragraph: "In our latest report on Guatemala, we stated that U.S. Embassy human rights officer W. Lewis Amselem suggested at a private dinner that Amilcar Mendez, leader of the indigenous human rights organization CERJ, is a guerrilla. We decried that he would involve the U.S. Embassy in a campaign to depict Mr. Mendez as a guerrilla. We now know that this part of our report is false: Neither the U.S. Embassy nor Mr. Amselem made this accusation nor is either involved in any campaign to label Mr. Mendez a guerrilla. U.S. Ambassador Thomas F. Stroock publicly stated, in response to a journalist's question (El Grafico; Jan. 10, 1990), that he hopes to meet Mr. Mendez and that the U.S. Embassy does not consider him a guerrilla. We deeply regret our error and apologize to the U.S. Embassy, Mr. Mendez, and Mr. Amselem."

Since your report endangers Mr. Mendez, the least you can do is make a donation for the treatment of his wife's eye disease--she risks going blind. It would be a tiny gesture for a well-oiled Fifth Avenue organization such as yours but would show a willingness to accept responsibility for your errors.

As it turns out, on the question of the amount of military assistance to Guatemala, your report is wrong and I am right. As pointed out in my letter to you, that report incorrectly states that in FY90 we gave $9 million in such assistance. The letter you signed tries to slide around the point, arguing that the Administration requested $9 million and "your sources" state that amount will be approved. The letter you signed dodges the issues. First, your report states $9 million was provided in FY90, when in fact the FY90 budget was not approved at the time of the report. Second FY90 military aid will be under $3 million--so even your number is wrong. Some advice: Get new sources, do good research, learn the budget process.

"Your" statements about "nonlethal" aid are very interesting and should be widely publicized. "You" state that to provide even socks to a military organization is to provide lethal aid. Do you utter that argument when people send "humanitarian" aid to guerrillas in El Salvador? Do you believe the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC), in fact, provides lethal aid? Boy, would you get along with some of the neanderthals who argue just that!

"Your" paragraph on the engineers and Lake Atitlan again avoids issues and facts. The letter you signed cites, and selectively, from a "travel advisory" that mentions conditions in Solola Department south of the Lake and road travel to the lake: Our people were not south of Lake Atitlan and did not travel by road to the lake. The engineers were near the city of Solola, which is north of Lake Atitlan (some advice: Get an atlas). At the time the engineers were here, guerrilla activity at Lake Atitlan was on the south coast.

So, what's "your" point? Trying to imply that we would deliberately send American citizens into danger? Or, just testing us on our knowledge of geography?

Let me help your group with facts (you know, those pesky little things that get left out of your reports). A U.S. Army engineer platoon (13th Engineer Co. from Fort Knox), about 45 persons, deployed from April 24 to June 29, 1989 for work on a road project 2.7 miles west of the city of Solola. They helped the Ministry of Public Works, a civilian organization, build a two-mile stretch of road through difficult and rocky terrain. In their spare time, they also built a meeting hall and a school (serious human rights violations, eh?). The same unit did similar work elsewhere in Latin America. The primary purpose of the deployment was to provide our personnel practical training of a type tough to get in the U.S. The people of Guatemala will benefit from a road, school, and meeting hall. These activities took place in full view of foreign tourists vacationing along the shore of Lake Atitlan (Gasp! Tourists in a "conflictive" zone!) and the Guatemalan media, which reported very favorably on the deployment.

On the general subject of "travel advisories," please note the one on air travel to Europe. Do you, as a consequence, believe Europe a "conflictive" zone? After all, terrorists have killed more people, including U.S. Government personnel, in the air over Scotland than they have in Solola. This leads us into your group's rather flexible use of "conflictive zone." As a native of New York City, I feel it my duty to advise you that, in case you have not noticed, your offices are only a "few kilometers" from an area, the South Bronx, with a higher per capita murder rate than most of Guatemala. Mr. Neier, I wonder if you should be in a "conflictive" zone. I worry about you.

Now to your organization's misrepresentation of National Guard deployments here. Precisely because, as stated in the letter you signed, "civic action" has a pejorative connotation, your group has a responsibility to explain what it means when it says National Guard units participate in "civic action" exercises. It is not, as "your" letter claims, a matter of "semantics." "Civic action" can mean a whole range of things; it is unfair and dishonest for your group to slander by implication the National Guard units from many different states that have come here to work.

Again, let me help you with the facts (there's that odious word again). Since your report makes a point of mentioning the units are uniformed and armed, please note that when they deploy in the U.S. on annual training they are also uniformed and armed; for two weeks a year, the personnel in these units are soldiers, their uniforms, pistols, and rifles are as much a part of their equipment as their medicines and medical bags. So what's your point? Americans should be ashamed of their country's uniform? Our National Guard uses weapons to terrorize the rural poor? They engage in combat here?

UNCLASSIFIED

Be honest, Mr. Neier. You know that if our people did not wear uniforms, you would raise an outcry over soldiers in mufti engaged in "secret" activities.

The main purpose of deploying National Guard medical units to Guatemala, in what are called "Medrettes," is to provide our people with training of a type they cannot get in the U.S. Poor Guatemalans benefit by receiving some excellent and free medical care they would otherwise not receive. Medrettes have taken place in several Latin American countries, including Guyana (where I served for two years) which has a leftist government and no insurgency. From personal observation--you must try that some time--I tell you the Medrettes, carried out in conjunction with the Ministry of Public Health, a civilian organization, are extremely popular with the people in rural areas. We have petitions from communities requesting Medrettes.

"You" mention El Aguacate and say our National Guard units were only a "few kilometers" from that unfortunate village and cite this as evidence of our people in a "conflictive" zone. Presumably this means "you" have concluded that the guerrillas bear responsibility for the horror which took place there in November 1988. Can one have a conflictive zone without guerrillas? If the army did that terrible deed, would the National Guard need to worry about being "near" El Aguacate, given your claim of increasingly close military cooperation between the U.S. and Guatemala? By the way, the closest a National Guard unit came to El Aguacate was the village of Chimajoy, over 15 kilometers away by a dirt road that crosses an 8,000 ft. ridge and goes through the major town of San Andres Itzapa (how far are you from the South Bronx?). It was in Chimajoy many days before the massacre in El Aguacate, was no longer in Guatemala when that event occurred, and I trust your group will never try to imply otherwise.

"You" raise the issue of whether "a military force is the appropriate agency to provide" medical care. Is that an issue for "Americas Watch" involvement? Is it part of your mandate, too? We have many civilians here providing health care; what's wrong with taking advantage of the National Guard's willingness to assist? Would poor rural people, including children, be better off without care just to satisfy Fifth Avenue brie-and-crackers ideologues who don't like U.S. uniforms? Would you sleep better if we did not give poor people medical care? Would that make you happy? Tell us. We want you happy.

Now to "training." Here the author of "your" letter most clearly reveals his/her conception of the world. It is a view to make ol' Rudyard Kipling proud ("white man's burden" and all). Ah, me (to quote "you"), your author sees Americans as wonderful and magical creatures who by coming into contact with benighted foreigners impart wisdom and "training."

Since I do not know you at all, I will not speculate about how "thick" you are; I'll leave that to those who do know you. But is it possible for the author of the letter you signed to imagine that perhaps Americans are being trained--yes, trained--by foreigners!?! (Horrors! Oh, if the Queen found out . . .) It just so happens, Mr. Neier, that there is little, if anything, we can teach Guatemalans about jungle warfare or flying an A-37 over Guatemala's difficult terrain. They have done both for many, many, many years. When our people come here, they do so to learn about operating in the conditions present in Guatemala. Let me ask you, when we have joint deployment with the British, do you regard that as our training them? Or is it only "training" when we are with people who have skin colors that might be slightly different from most of ours? Is this the Fifth Avenue view of the world? How quaint.

I retract my statement that the author of your report engaged in a "complete fabrication" re paratrooper training. As "you" point out, that author cited a newspaper article. In my reading of your report I missed the footnote. I am sorry. Mea culpa. Let me rephrase: "The author of your report cited a complete fabrication and repeated it." Thanks for making my point. This goes to the root of my complaint about the shoddiness of your research. A newspaper article is apparently enough for you to reach a conclusion: Whatever happened to going to more than one source? Or is it that when one source says what you want to hear, that's enough? Judging from my own experience with your bunch, I know the answer to that question!

M-16s. I have yet to find anyone here out to buy another 20,000 M-16s. "Your" source probably misunderstood; the Guatemalan Army, some 45,000 men, needs at least 20,000 more rifles as its Galils are over 12 years old. There is no indication, however, that it will buy M-16s (there are other guns on the market, you know). If you have more information, please pass it to Colt Industries, they need the sale.

It is no surprise "your" letter expresses ignorance about CPRs. Your reports on Guatemala do not mention guerrilla actions that clearly violate human rights. They do not mention guerrilla assassinations of members of soldiers' families; never mention the guerrilla tactic of attacking the economic infrastructure, e.g., the Coyolate Bridge; never mention their use of children in combat.

Our 1989 human rights report on Guatemala contains some information on CPRs; please start there. If you are genuinely

This ties in with your report's description of ferrying operations by U.S. aircraft, which, by the way, were paid for by the elected Guatemalan Government. "Your" information--as it relates to Amachel and the ferrying I personally observed (didn't see any of your folks there)--that army patrols and civil patrols forced people out is just wrong. The area is one of EGP control; there are very few army patrols and the only "civil patrols" are those run by the EGP--another issue you never deal with.

Now to the Sister Diana Ortiz case.. I do not understand the point "you" seek to make. The statements issued here about the Ortiz case did not come from the Ursuline Order. The fact that she now seeks legal redress--she has an attorney who has been in touch with us--does not invalidate the points I made. "You" claim to have information on the Ortiz case. Congratulations. "You" now join all the others who claim to have information on the case and yet do not make it available so that proper action can be taken. Why are you playing games and politics with this sad case? Why not immediately make available the information to the FBI, the State Department, the Guatemalan police, and/or our Legal Attache at the U.S. Embassy in Mexico who covers Guatemala and follows the case? Are you seeking some sort of public credit? Go ahead; take the credit. Who cares? Your group should want to help solve the case quickly and ensure justice is done. This is odd behavior for a group claiming to be concerned about human rights and suffering.

I hope this confrontation is over and that we can work together on human rights issues. We all need constructive criticism in carrying out that work. None of us has all the information or sources. All of us make mistakes of fact and analysis; all of us should be willing to admit that.

What counts is not our ability to catch each other's honest mistakes but our ability to work objectively and free of political agendas, to develop accurate pictures of human rights situations, and to make a real and positive difference in the area of human rights. If your organization is willing to do that, I will be delighted to cooperate with you, to share information and sources, to relate my impressions of issues and events and to receive yours. If you are not, well, then we must continue to go down different paths. And that would be too bad.

Sincerely,

W. Lewis Amselem

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.
/------

2. IN DISCUSSIONS WITH EMBASSY OFFICERS, SOVIET OFFICIALS AND MORE "ESTABLISHMENT" SOVIET LATIN AMERICA WATCHERS CONTINUE TO DOWNPLAY THE EMERGING DIFFERENCES BETWEEN CUBA AND THE SOVIET UNION. CASTRO'S PERSONAL SENSITIVITIES AND HIS DESIRE TO REPRESENT THIRD WORLD CONCERNS OVER IMPROVING U.S.-SOVIET RELATIONS ARE OFFERED AS EXPLANATIONS FOR THE CUBAN LEADER'S RECENT CRITICISMS OF SOVIET REFORM. HOWEVER, THERE ARE INDICATIONS THAT SOVIET POLICY TOWARD CUBA IS CURRENTLY THE SUBJECT OF HEATED DEBATE WITHIN SOVIET ACADEMIC AND POLITICAL CIRCLES. MORE INDEPENDENT VOICES HERE ARE INCREASINGLY CRITICAL OF CASTRO AND SOVIET ECONOMIC SUPPORT FOR CUBA, AND IT SEEMS LIKELY THAT CUBA WILL COME UNDER INCREASINGLY CLOSE SCRUTINY IN THE MEDIA AND THE SUPREME SOVIET.

MOSCOW 05654 01 OF 07 162046Z 032854 485248

3. SOVIET OFFICIALS ARGUE THAT THEY HAVE LITTLE REAL LEVERAGE OVER CASTRO, AND CONSISTENTLY MAINTAIN THAT THE U.S. SHOULD DEAL WITH CUBA DIRECTLY. THEY HAVE BEEN ESPECIALLY VOCIFEROUS IN RECENT WEEKS REGARDING TV MARTI, WARNING THAT ITS ESTABLISHMENT WILL HAVE "VERY NEGATIVE CONSEQUENCES." ONE SOVIET ACADEMIC BELIEVES THAT A CUBA ISOLATED FROM BOTH THE SOVIET UNION AND THE U.S. COULD BECOME AN EVEN MORE DISRUPTIVE FACTOR IN THE REGION.

4. THE SOVIET MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT CAN BE EXPECTED TO CONTINUE PROMOTING CUBA'S STRATEGIC IMPORTANCE, BUT ACADEMICS HERE BELIEVE THAT FURTHER IMPROVEMENT IN U.S.-SOVIET RELATIONS WILL WEAKEN THESE ARGUMENTS. FUNDAMENTAL CHAGES IN THE CUBAN-SOVIET RELATIONSHIP ARE INCREASINGLY LIKELY, AND WILL BE DRIVEN BY ECONOMIC FACTORS AND THE DIVERGENT POLITICAL EVOLUTION OF THE TWO COUNTRIES. HOWEVER, CASTRO'S PERSONAL PRESTIGE, AN ENTRENCHED "CUBA LOBBY" IN MOSCOW, AND COMMITMENTS ALREADY MADE WILL PROBABLY FORESTALL ANY SUDDEN "ABANDONMENT" OF THE CUBAN LEADER. MORE LIKELY IS A GRADUAL SOVIET DISENGAGEMENT ACCOMPANIED BY INCREASING TENSIONS BETWEEN THE TWO GOVERNMENTS AS CASTRO BECOMES MORE AND MORE ISOLATED. END SUMMARY.

GOOD!

LIVING WITH THE CUBANS

5. SOVIET OFFICIALS AND THE SOVIET MEDIA HAVE LARGELY REACTED TO CASTRO'S INCREASING CRITICISM OF PERESTROYKA BY DOWNPLAYING THE ISSUE. MFA OFFICIALS AND SOME OTHER SOVIET CUBA-WATCHERS INSIST THAT CASTRO'S RECENT COMMENTS MUST BE SEEN IN THE PERSPECTIVE OF A LONG AND ENDURING RELATIONSHIP, AND AS A DISAGREEMENT WITHIN THE FAMILY. ALEKSANDR BADRAN OF THE MFA LATIN AMERICA ADMINISTRATION'S CUBA DEPARTMENT, RECENTLY RETURNED FROM A THREE-YEAR ASSIGNMENT IN HAVANA, REFUSES TO CRITICIZE CASTRO'S RECENT

PRONOUNCEMENTS ON PERESTROYKA, MAINTAINING THAT THE SOVIETS "RESPECT THIS VIEW." HE SAYS HIS GOVERNMENT TAKES THE SAME APPROACH TO CUBA AS IT DOES TO EASTERN EUROPE, RECOGNIZING CUBA'S "SOVEREIGN RIGHT" TO DEVELOP ITS OWN BRAND OF SOCIALISM. BADRAN MAINTAINS THAT "ALL THIS MUST BE PUT INTO PERSPECTIVE. WE ARE TALKING ABOUT A RELATIONSHIP WHICH HAS ENDURED FOR THIRTY YEARS. WE CERTAINLY HAVE NO INTENTION OF ABANDONING CUBA AT THIS POINT."

PLAYING TO THE THIRD WORLD GALLERY
/----------

6. SERGO MIKOYAN, EDITOR OF THE JOURNAL "LATIN AMERICA," AND A LONGTIME CUBA WATCHER, ACKNOWLEDGES THAT CASTRO HAS IMPORTANT IDEOLOGICAL DIFFERENCES WITH MOSCOW. UNLIKE THE CURRENT SOVIET LEADERSHIP, CASTRO'S "ROMANTIC" CONCEPTION OF SOCIALISM EXCLUDES ELEMENTS OF THE CAPITALIST ECONOMY, "HE SEES AN ABYSS, NOT A BRIDGE, BETWEEN THE TWO SYSTEMS." MORE IMPORTANT HOWEVER, IN MIKOYAN'S VIEW, IS

MOSCOW 05654 02 OF 07 162047Z 032852 405242
CASTRO'S CONCEPTION OF HIMSELF AS A LEADER OF THE THIRD WORLD. MIKOYAN SEES CASTRO'S DECEMBER 7 SPEECH (IN WHICH HE FIRST DIRECTLY CRITICIZED SOVIET REFORMS) AS REFLECTING FEARS IN MUCH OF ASIA AND AFRICA THAT SUPERPOWER COOPERATION WILL COME AT THE EXPENSE OF THE UNDERDEVELOPED WORLD. MFA LATIN AMERICA ADMINISTRATION CHIEF YURIY PAVLOV ECHOES THIS VIEW (REFTEL), NOTING THAT CASTRO IS LOOKING FOR A NEW ROLE, "WAVING THE BANNER OF THE DEVELOPING COUNTRIES."

A GORBACHEV GAFFE?

"DESPERATION?"

RELATIONS (IMEMO), VIEWS CASTRO'S RECENT BEHAVIOR AS CHARACTERISTIC OF A "DESPERATE" LEADER WHO KNOWS HE IS ON THE LOSING SIDE OF HISTORY. NADARI SIMONIA, DIRECTOR OF THE CENTER FOR DEVELOPING COUNTRIES AT IMEMO, MAINTAINS THAT CASTRO HAS GONE PUBLIC WITH HIS CRITICISMS OF SOVIET AND EAST EUROPEAN REFORM BECAUSE HE NOW REALIZES HOW SERIOUS HIS ISOLATION HAS BECOME.

MOSCOW 05654 03 OF 07 162047Z 032849 405245

EDITION OF "NEW TIMES" CARRIED AN ARTICLE ON CUBA WHICH INDIRECTLY CRITICIZED CASTRO, REFERRING TO "PROFESSIONAL SOCIALIST POLITICIANS" WHO "ARE GIVEN TO MONOPOLIZING THE TRUTH, ABSOLUTIZING DOGMAS AND BRUSHING AWAY ALL CRITICISM LEVELLED AGAINST THEM." FOLLOWING THE REVOLUTION IN ROMANIA, THERE WAS AN OUTCRY HERE OVER THE "HYPOCRISY" OF THE POSTHUMOUS SOVIET CONDEMNATION OF CEAUSESCU, WHO HAD RECEIVED NEUTRAL IF NOT FAVORABLE COVERAGE BEFORE HIS OVERTHROW. MANY OBSERVERS EXPECT CASTRO, AND OTHER SOVIET-SUPPORTED DICTATORSHIPS, TO COME UNDER INCREASING SCRUTINY IN THE SOVIET PRESS AS A RESULT.

10. BADRAN CONCEDES THAT THE SOVIET-CUBAN ECONOMIC RELATIONSHIP IS UNDERGOING A FUNDAMENTAL TRANSFORMATION, PRIMARILY DUE TO ECONOMIC CHANGES WITHIN THE U.S.S.R., AND THAT THE LEVEL OF TRADE BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES IS FALLING SIGNIFICANTLY. HE MAINTAINS HOWEVER, THAT "THE VOLUME OF TRADE IS NOT IMPORTANT, IT IS THE EFFICIENCY OF THE TRADE THAT COUNTS." IN HIS VIEW BOTH SIDES WANT MORE EFFECTIVE TRADE, AND "WE ARE OPTIMISTIC THAT THE MECHANISMS FOR THIS ARE BEING DEVELOPED." MIKOYAN EMPHASIZES THAT THE ECONOMIC RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN CUBA AND THE SOVIET UNION IS NOT SIMPLY A ONE-WAY STREET, ARGUING THAT THE SOVIETS ALSO RECEIVE MANY BENEFITS. THIS VIEW IS QUESTIONED BY A PIECE IN THE FEBRUARY 7 EDITION OF THE LIBERAL SOVIET MAGAZINE "OGONYOK." THE ARTICLE SPELLS OUT THE DETAILS OF SOVIET ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE TO CUBA, MAKING CLEAR THAT THE OVERALL BALANCE IS IN CUBA'S FAVOR, AND DEMANDING THAT THE COST OF SOVIET AID TO CUBA AND OTHER COUNTRIES BE DISCUSSED OPENLY.

E.O. 12356: DECL: OADR

SUBJECT: SOVIET-CUBAN RELATIONS: DIVERGING PATHS

11. SIMONIA AGREES THAT "IT IS NOT A MATTER OF CUTTING AID, BUT OF MAKING IT MORE EFFICIENT." HE IS MORE CRITICAL OF CASTRO IN THIS REGARD HOWEVER, NOTING THAT "HE WANTS TO BE A REVOLUTIONARY AT OUR EXPENSE AND WE ARE NOT GOING TO CONTINUE TO ALLOW THIS." SIMONIA, WHO SAYS GORBACHEV HAS CONSULTED HIM ON THESE ISSUES, PREDICTED THAT FUTURE SOVIET AID TO CUBA WILL BE CONDITIONED ON REFORM OF THE CUBAN ECONOMY ALONG THE LINES OF PERESTROYKA. HE EXPECTS THE SOVIETS TO APPLY CONSIDERABLE PRESSURE IN THIS REGARD. "IT'S NOT THAT WE WILL INTERFERE IN THEIR INTERNAL AFFAIRS, WE WILL SIMPLY BE GIVING THEM A CHOICE, REFORM THE ECONOMY OR LOSE OUR AID." SIMONIA MAINTAINS THAT CHANGES IN ECONOMIC RELATIONS WILL INEVITABLY AFFECT POLITICAL RELATIONS BETWEEN THE SOVIET UNION AND CUBA.

12. IMEMO CUBA EXPERT IRINA ZORINA, WHO SAYS HER WORK EXPERIENCE IN CUBA HAS MADE HER STRONGLY ANTI-CASTRO, ARGUES AGAINST CONTINUED SOVIET AID TO CUBA, ASSERTING THAT CASTRO'S

"ADVENTURIST POLITICS," WHILE QUITE CONSISTENT WITH THE "BREZHNEV DOCTRINE," ARE NOT IN THE INTEREST OF CURRENT SOVIET POLICY. WHILE "NOT IGNORING ACCOMPLISHMENTS IN HEALTH AND EDUCATION," ZORINA ASSERTS THAT THE CURRENT STATE OF CUBA'S ECONOMY IS PRESENTING A VERY NEGATIVE EXAMPLE TO OTHER DEVELOPING COUNTRIES. "THE SOVIET PEOPLE ARE PAYING TOO HIGH A PRICE FOR THIS MODEL WHICH DOES NOT WORK." ZORINA MAINTAINS THAT MANY DELEGATES IN THE SUPREME SOVIET FEEL STRONGLY ABOUT THIS ISSUE AND PREDICTS THAT IT WILL SOON COME TO THE FORE.

A "CUBA LOBBY"?
/----------

13. SIMONIA ASSERTS THAT ONE REASON FOR THE PERSISTENCE OF SOVIET "OLD THINKING" ON LATIN AMERICA AND CUBA IS THE TENDENCY OF THE SOVIET "LATIN AMERICA ESTABLISHMENT" TO DEFEND ITS "SELFISH INTERESTS AND PRIVILEGES." SIMONIA POINTS OUT THAT THE CLOSE SOVIET RELATIONSHIP WITH CUBA HAS PROVIDED MANY SOVIET ACADEMICS, BUREAUCRATS, AND MILITARY PERSONNEL WITH FOREIGN TRAVEL TO A RESORT ISLAND, AND MANY OTHER TANGIBLE BENEFITS. THIS GROUP HAS A VESTED INTEREST IN MAINTAINING POSITIONS AND PRIVILEGES RESULTING FROM THE CLOSE TIES. IN SIMONIA'S VIEW, GORBACHEV AND THE NEW THINKERS MUST STRUGGLE AGAINST SUCH ENTRENCHED "INTEREST GROUPS" ON THE FOREIGN POLICY SIDE JUST AS ON THE DOMESTIC SIDE.

THE STRATEGIC ISSUE

SUBJECT: SOVIET-CUBAN RELATIONS: DIVERGING PATHS

OR ANY OTHER OVERSEAS MILITARY BASE, AS A STRATEGIC NECESSITY. SIMONIA NOTES THE BEGINNING OF THE SOVIET PULL-OUT FROM CAM RANH BAY IN VIET NAM AS AN EXAMPLE OF THIS NEW THINKING TAKING HOLD. SIMONIA CONCEDES, HOWEVER, THAT THE MILITARY AND THE "DOGMATISTS" WILL CONTINUE TO DEFEND CUBA'S IMPORTANCE, AND THAT MANY COMMITMENTS HAVE ALREADY BEEN MADE FOR THE COMING YEARS. THEREFORE, "IT WILL NOT BE EASY TO END THE MILITARY RELATIONSHIP WITH ONE STROKE."

CAN CASTRO BE PRESSURED?

15. SOVIET OFFICIALS STRONGLY DENY THAT THE SOVIET UNION HAS SIGNIFICANT LEVERAGE OVER CUBA, EITHER TO EXERT INFLUENCE ON CENTRAL AMERICAN ISSUES OR TO SHAPE INTERNAL CUBAN POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC POLICIES. BADRAN MAINTAINS THAT "CUBA HAS ITS OWN VIEWS, ITS OWN ROLE IN THE REGION, AND THAT ROLE DEPENDS ON U.S. ACTIONS IN CENTRAL AMERICA; FOR EXAMPLE, THE EXTENT OF U.S. ARMS

DELIVERIES TO EL SALVADOR." BADRAN COMPARES CUBAN SUPPORT FOR THE FMLN TO U.S. SUPPORT FOR UNITA AND THE AFGHAN REBELS. "WE DON'T CONCERN OURSELVES WITH PRESSURING CUBA. WE HAVE A POLITICAL DIALOGUE, THEY HAVE A RIGHT TO THEIR OWN VIEWS JUST AS OUR EAST EUROPEAN ALLIES." MIKOYAN ARGUES THAT CASTRO'S CRITICISM OF SOVIET REFORM CONCLUSIVELY SHOWS, "AS I HAVE ALWAYS MAINTAINED, THAT CASTRO IS NOT A PUPPET AND NEVER HAS BEEN." "IT'S A TWO-WAY RELATIONSHIP," HE ASSERTS.

16. SIMONIA AND ZORINA ACKNOWLEDGE THAT THE MASSIVE SOVIET ASSISTANCE TO CUBA UNDOUBTEDLY BUYS MOSCOW SOME INFLUENCE. ZORINA BELIEVES THAT A CUBA DEPRIVED OF SOVIET AID, AND THEREFORE FREE OF ANY SOVIET INFLUENCE, COULD VERY POSSIBLY BECOME AN EVEN MORE DISRUPTIVE FORCE IN THE REGION. "CUBA WILL BE MORE AGGRESSIVE IF ISOLATED FROM US," SHE MAINTAINS, POINTING OUT THAT THE CUBANS HAVE DEVELOPED THEIR OWN ARMS INDUSTRY, AND CAN SUPPLY WEAPONS THROUGHOUT THE REGION WITHOUT ANY ASSISTANCE FROM THE SOVIETS.

SOVIETS ON U.S.-CUBAN RELATIONS
/----------

17. SOVIET OFFICIALS UNANIMOUSLY ECHO THE LINE THAT THE U.S. MUST DEAL WITH CUBA DIRECTLY TO SOLVE THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PROBLEM. BADRAN, A SPECIALIST ON U.S.-CUBAN RELATIONS, SEES U.S. REFUSAL TO TALK DIRECTLY WITH CUBA AS THE "PRIME OBSTACLE" TO RESOLUTION OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN CONFLICT. "WHO DELIVERS THE ARMS USED IN THAT CONFLICT?" HE ASKS. "THE U.S., AND, AT LEAST BY YOUR OWN ESTIMATION, CUBA." BADRAN ARGUES THAT THERE IS A "BALANCE OF INTERESTS" BETWEEN THE U.S. AND CUBA IN THE REGION WHICH IS DISTINCT FROM SOVIET INTERESTS AND REQUIRES CUBA TO COUNTER U.S. MOVES BY SUPPLYING ARMS OF ITS OWN. "THEREFORE THE U.S. AND CUBA MUST TALK." BADRAN DISMISSES U.S. CONCERN OVER HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN CUBA, MAINTAINING THAT THE SITUATION HAS BEEN WORSE IN COUNTRIES SUCH AS CHILE AND EL SALVADOR WITH WHOM THE U.S. MAINTAINS DIPLOMATIC TIES. ZORINA, DESPITE HER HARSH CRITICISM OF CASTRO, ALSO ARGUES THAT THE U.S. MUST DO EVERYTHING POSSIBLE TO MINIMIZE TENSIONS WITH CUBA, MAINLY BECAUSE CASTRO IS SUCH A DANGEROUS CHARACTER.

/----------

18. IN RECENT WEEKS, OFFICIAL SOVIET CONTACTS HAVE BEEN ESPECIALLY VEHEMENT IN CRITICISM OF TV MARTI. BADRAN EMPHASIZES THAT THE SOVIETS SEE TV MARTI AS THE "SINGLE BIGGEST OBSTACLE" TO THE IMPROVEMENT OF U.S.-CUBAN RELATIONS, ADDING THAT TV MARTI IS A "VIOLATION OF CUBAN SOVEREIGNTY," AND "HAS NO MORAL OR POLITICAL BASIS." HE PREDICTED THAT ITS ESTABLISHMENT WOULD HAVE "VERY NEGATIVE CONSEQUENCES." ACCORDING TO LEON

FUERTH, AN AIDE TO SENATOR GORE, SOVIET OFFICIALS MET BY THE SENATOR DURING HIS RECENT VISIT HERE MADE PARTICULARLY SHARP COMMENTS REGARDING TV MARTI.

INTERNAL POLITICS AND CASTRO'S FUTURE

19. BADRAN REFUSES TO ACKNOWLEDGE ANY INTERNAL DIVISIONS WITHIN THE CUBAN REGIME. "THERE IS UNITY. IT IS A COLLECTIVE LEADERSHIP, I DO NOT SEE DISCORD WITHIN THE GOVERNMENT." IN AN IMPLIED CONTRAST TO THE EAST EUROPEAN SITUATION, BADRAN ARGUES THAT CUBA IS NOT AN ILLEGITIMATE GOVERNMENT, AND ENJOYS WIDE PUBLIC SUPPORT. HE ASSERTS THAT CASTRO WOULD EASILY WIN A FREE ELECTION, DESPITE ADMITTEDLY SERIOUS ECONOMIC PROBLEMS. PAVLOV, HOWEVER, SEEMS TO CONCEDE THAT THE CUBAN LEADER POSSIBLY IS BECOMING MORE ISOLATED AND MORE DICTATORIAL WITHIN THE LEADERSHIP, NOTING THAT "NOT MANY CAN TALK SENSE TO CASTRO" (REFTEL).

20. SIMONIA AGREES THAT CASTRO HAS AN ADVANTAGE OVER DEPOSED LEADERS SUCH AS HONECKER, NOTING THAT CASTRO IS A GENUINE "HOME-GROWN HERO" AMONG MANY CUBANS, AND POSSESSES REAL CHARISMA. "BUT EVEN THIS CANNOT HELP HIM FOREVER," SIMONIA MAINTAINS. LEONID FITUNI OF THE AFRICA INSTITUTE, WHO IS WORKING ON A STUDY OF SOVIET FOREIGN POLICY TOWARD THE THIRD WORLD, NOTES THAT THE SOVIETS SEE NO ALTERNATIVE TO CASTRO, NO "CUBAN VERSIONS OF GORBACHEV." IF AN ANTI-CASTRO REFORM MOVEMENT WERE TO ARISE IN CUBA, FITUNI ARGUES, CASTRO WOULD FIND NO SUPPORT IN MOSCOW.

PROSPECTS FOR SOVIET-CUBAN RELATIONS

INTERNAL DEVELOPMENTS IN BOTH COUNTRIES AND U.S.-SOVIET RELATIONS, FUNDAMENTAL CHANGES ARE INCREASINGLY LIKELY, AND WILL BE DRIVEN BY ECONOMIC FACTORS AND THE DIVERGENT POLITICAL EVOLUTION OF THE TWO COUNTRIES. CASTRO'S PERSONAL PRESTIGE, A ENTRENCHED "CUBA LOBBY" IN MOSCOW, AND COMMITMENTS ALREADY MADE WILL PROBABLY FORESTALL ANY SUDDEN "ABANDONMENT" OF THE CUBAN LEADER, BUT LONGTERM PROSPECTS FOR SOVIET-CUBAN RELATIONS APPEAR QUITE NEGATIVE. MORE LIKELY IS A GRADUAL SOVIET DISENGAGEMENT, ACCOMPANIED BY INCREASING TENSIONS BETWEEN THE TWO GOVERNMENTS AS CASTRO BECOMES MORE AND MORE ISOLATED. END COMMENT.

Dear Mr. Buffone:

I understand that the Legal Adviser met with you on January 26 following receipt of your letters of January 16.

I also understand that he told you that the rumor you reported regarding Ambassador Gillespie's position on the Letelier case is false.

I wish to reaffirm that the Ambassador and the State Department remain fully committed to a satisfactory resolution of the Letelier case, we remain committed to compensation for the families; and, we will never cease efforts to punish those responsible for the crime.

I understand that you had a useful discussion with the Legal Adviser and other Department officials. We all appear to share the same objectives. We will need to coordinate closely in the days ahead.

Sincerely,

Bernie Aronson

(C) CHILE: OUTSPOKEN JUDGE FORCED TO RESIGN. - ON 1/12, THE CHILEAN SUPREME COURT ORDERED THE RESIGNATION OF JUDGE RENE GARCIA, WHO HAD DENOUNCED THE GOC'S USE OF TORTURE. JUDGE GARCIA WAS OUTSPOKEN IN HIS CONDEMNATION OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD OF THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT, AND RESISTED ATTEMPTS TO HAVE TORTURE CASES UNDER HIS PURVIEW TRANSFERRED TO A MILITARY COURT. INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS RALLIED TO HIS CAUSE, BUT THE SUPREME COURT REFUSED TO CHANGE THEIR DECISION. BELOW IS SUGGESTED LANGUAGE FOR PUBLIC STATEMENTS BY VICE PRESIDENT QUAYLE DURING HIS VISIT TO CHILE:

ARRIVAL STATEMENT/REMARKS AT INAUGURAL EVENTS

THIS IS A WONDERFUL TIME TO BE IN CHILE. IT IS A VERY SPECIAL MOMENT FOR DEMOCRACY, AS THIS COUNTRY JOINS THE OVERWHELMING WORLDWIDE MOVEMENT TOWARD DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT. I AM DELIGHTED TO HEAD THE U.S. DELEGATION TO THE INAUGURATION OF PRESIDENT PATRICIO AYLWIN, AND TO SHARE THIS HISTORIC MOMENT WITH THE CHILEAN PEOPLE. THE CEREMONY TOMORROW WILL MARK THE CULMINATION OF A LONG AND ARDUOUS MARCH. WE IN THE UNITED STATES GREATLY ADMIRE AND PROFOUNDLY RESPECT THE PEACEFUL, RESPONSIBLE MANNER WITH WHICH CHILEANS HAVE CONDUCTED THEIR TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY. HAPPILY, RAPID CHANGE TO DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT HAS BECOME ALMOST A COMMON OCCURRENCE -- DAILY HEADLINES BRING NEWS OF HERETOFORE UNIMAGINED PROGRESS TOWARD CONSOLIDATING THE PEOPLES' UNIVERSAL RIGHT TO GOVERN THEMSELVES. IN CHILE, WE HAVE A SUPERB EXAMPLE OF HOW THROUGH DEDICATION, RECONCILIATION AND COMPROMISE IT CAN BE ACCOMPLISHED WITHOUT VIOLENCE.

I LOOK FORWARD TO CELEBRATING WITH CHILEANS THEIR LONG-AWAITED RETURN TO THE FAMILY OF DEMOCRATIC NATIONS. WE HOPE THIS DELEGATION'S VISIT WILL HELP STRENGTHEN THE TIES BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND CHILE UNDER THE NEW GOVERNMENT, AND WE PLEDGE OUR CONTINUING SUPPORT FOR THIS COUNTRY'S ONGOING EFFORTS TO SECURE THE BLESSINGS OF LIBERTY FOR ITS PEOPLE.

DEPARTURE STATEMENT

OVER THE PAST THREE DAYS, WE HAVE WITNESSED SOME UNFORGETTABLE MOMENTS OF GLORY IN THE HISTORY OF DEMOCRACY IN THIS HEMISPHERE. IT WAS AN HONOR FOR THIS DELEGATION TO HAVE BEEN HERE WITH THE ASSEMBLED LEADERS OF THE REGION TO WELCOME A VITAL NEW DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT INTO OUR RANKS. ARRIVING AT THIS JUNCTURE WAS A DIFFICULT AND HAZARDOUS PASSAGE FOR THE CHILEAN PEOPLE. BUT AS PRESIDENT AYLWIN WELL KNOWS IN MANY WAYS THE REAL WORK ONLY NOW BEGINS. DURING THE NEXT FOUR YEARS, HE AND HIS GOVERNMENT HAVE THE GREAT CHALLENGE OF MAKING DEMOCRACY AN ENDURING SUCCESS IN CHILE, OF CON-SOLIDATING THE INSTITUTIONS OF REPRESENTATIVE

SUBJECT: Next Steps in the Letelier Case

Attached is Dave Colson's concept paper for resolution of the Letelier case. He has asked for our comments before he sends it to Judge Sofaer. I suggest that we also send it to CAG and Skol.

I have several comments on the draft:

1. Edmundo Vargas has told us repeatedly that Aylwin cannot make an ex-gratia payment without some kind of legal fig leaf placing responsibility on the GOC and determining the amount of compensation. They cannot accept the U.S. court judgement due to sovereignty issues. I think Vargas is correct on this. Aylwin has no slush funds to make a payment -- he has to go to the Chilean Congress to ask for such funds. Congress, correctly, would ask where was the legal justification for compensation. The Senate will have a rightist opposition majority.

2. Dave Colson continues to resist convening the 1914 Treaty commission for this purpose. His reasoning is that such a commission could produce a result unsatisfactory to the Letelier/Moffitt families, placing the USG in an uncomfortable position. I think this is a cop-out. The commission could be pre-cooked so that we know what the result will be before both parties enter into it.

3. Colson links both the compensation and justice issues together in the certifications required under both the Kennedy amendment and the IMET language. This sets a new and unnecessarily harsh standard for release of IMET funds. I attach copies of both laws -- clearly the IMET language sets an easier hurdle for the GOC to cross regarding Letelier. Colson is attempting to put conditions on Chile which aren't in the law.

Incidently, Edmundo Vargas is currently in Washington and has asked for another meeting with Aronson. I asked Caroline to give us a time and date.

Concept Paper

The following steps could be taken simultaneously or in the sequential order listed. They could be recorded in a memorandum of understanding between the governments or they could be taken based upon an informal understanding between governments.

1. The Government of Chile would make an ex gratia payment of an acceptable amount to the Letelier/Moffitt families, victims of the assassination which occurred in Washington, D.C., in 1976. In return:

a. the families of the victims would drop their legal efforts in the United States against the Republic of Chile;

b. the U.S. Government would drop its espousal of the claims of the families of the victims;

c. the U.S. Government would drop its claim against the Government of Chile;

d. the Department of State would inform interested members of Congress that further efforts to legislate a remedy to provide fair compensation to the families of the victims was no longer necessary.

2. The Government of Chile would inform the United States of efforts it is making, and that it intends to make, to bring to justice the persons responsible for the Letelier assassination. These would include: seeking an amendment of Chilean law to provide for prosecution in civil courts of military personnel accused of criminal conduct; reopening the "passports case;" and, appointing a special prosecutor.

3. The Governments of Chile and the United States of America would make the appointments necessary to fill the vacancies on the 1914 Treaty Commission and agree that either government could constitute the Commission if it was considered necessary to pursue justice and to resolve the Letelier case.

4. The United States would make the findings required by Sec. 726 of the International Security and Development Cooperation Act of 1981 (the Kennedy-Harkin Amendment) and by 545(c)(2) of the FY 1990 Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Act (P.L. 101-167).

MEMORANDUM

TO : L - Judge Sofaer

FROM : L/ARA - David Colson

SUBJECT: Letelier

1. ARA is reviewing the concept paper.

2. Vargas is back in town and wants a meeting with you and Aronson together. From what Vargas told ARA/SC Joel Cassman when he requested the meeting, he returns from Chile with the same message he delivered earlier - he wants to set up the 1914 Commission to consider the compensation issue; he wants the U.S. to make the findings necessary to remove the Kennedy-Harkin sanctions immediately; and Aylwin will take some unspecified steps on the criminal front.

3. Some in ARA believe we should accommodate Aylwin on this. They appear to accept the argument that Aylwin cannot make an ex gratia payment up front to the Letelier family victims when it cannot do likewise for other victims of human rights abuses. They further believe that the best way to keep the Chilean military under control is to make the Kennedy-Harkin findings so that a more normal bilateral military relationship can develop.

4. I have told these same people I think that Vargas is offering a bad deal - it defers the compensation issue (creating domestic political and legal problems for us) while providing Chile with immediate relief. I have said that I have no difficulty seeing a clear distinction between assassinations which occur up the street from the State Department and human rights abuses in Chile. I have also advised that if we are to go to the Commission on compensation, we will inevitably be put in an adversarial relationship with Chile: the U.S. seeking a maximum award and Chile belittling the matter - all which appears to me to be unhealthy.

CONFIDENTIAL
DECL: OADR

5. I have left it with ARA that if it can't accept our concept paper as the basis for a Sofaer-Aronson discussion with Vargas, we will need to resolve our differences before meeting with him.

6. I spoke with Sam Buffone this morning. He has already spoken with Vargas. Vargas made a pitch along the lines of para. 2 above; Buffone told Vargas that the 1914 Treaty Commission was not an acceptable way of determining compensation for the families. Buffone said that Vargas described a Commission process as follows: a) constitute the Commission immediately, asking it to determine the limited question of an appropriate amount for an ex gratia payment (Vargas said Aylwin would not admit responsibility); b) convene the Commission for an organizational meeting; c) at a later meeting the U.S. presents evidence; d) at another meeting both sides present argument; e) the Commission makes the determination. Vargas said this could all be done in a few months. Vargas mentioned a "Cruz" case, which I believe was an OAS Human Rights Commission case. We are checking. Vargas also discounted the U.S.G. pressing the U.S. claim.

7. Comment. Our best leverage to get an acceptable civil settlement is to withhold making the findings until we get the settlement. Buffone might accept a quick 1914 Treaty process if it was clear we wouldn't make the findings until after a final civil settlement was reached. For the time being we should hold firm in our approach along the lines of the concept paper and probe Vargas on the kind of question we would put to the Commission: there has to be some recognition of Chilean cupability, and there has to be something that would lead the Commission to examine compensatory damages as would a U.S. Court in a wrongful death case.

MEMORANDUM

February 22, 1990

TO: ARA - Bernard Aronson

FROM: ARA - Michael Skol

SUBJECT: Meeting with Chilean Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs-designate Edmundo Vargas

You last met with Vargas on February 2. Since our meeting, Vargas returned to Chile to confer with President-elect Aylwin on the Letelier case.

We are still at an exploratory stage in our discussions with the Aylwin team on the case. The Chileans have not yet presented their strategy, nor have we agreed with L on our own favored approach or bottom line. A major point outstanding, for example, is whether the 1914 Bryan Treaty should be convened on the compensation issue, or if an ex gratia payment to the families would be feasible. Vargas has told us before that an ex gratia payment presents difficulties for the new Aylwin government as any such payment would have to be publicly justified and pass the newly elected Congress. At the same time, convoking the 1914 Treaty could risk undue delays and possibly create an atmosphere of confrontation at a time when we seek normalization and smooth relations.

Another issue that may come up is the idea that Vargas mentioned in February, of seeking a change in the conditions of the Kennedy amendment. Apparently Kennedy is amenable to considering some softening of the conditions. We strongly believe that this is the wrong way to go. It is far preferable to seek a solution that once and for all removes the Kennedy amendment from the books than to reopen congressional debate on new conditionality and the case itself and still be left with residual conditionality language. We should discourage Vargas from pursuing this avenue further with Kennedy. The Chileans must take the bull by the horns and come up with a negotiable position aimed at resolving the issue for good.

I attach the reporting cable on the previous meeting with Vargas which lays out the fundamental issues involved.

Talking Points

-- Our basic position on the Letelier case has not changed. We want to see a quick and just resolution so that we can put this issue behind us once and for all.

-- We believe we should aim at meeting the Kennedy amendment conditions fully, rather than pursuing a piecemeal approach that may leave some residual legislative conditionality in place.

-- The Letelier case has been around for a very long time, and it is in our mutual interest to find a solution that removes it from the agenda once and for all.

-- I would appreciate hearing your latest thinking on how we might best approach a resolution to this case?

SUBJECT: Talking Points for Michael Moffitt on Letelier Case

We suggest the following Talking Points for your conversation with Michael Moffitt:

- The State Department has had some preliminary conversations with President-elect Aylwin's personal emissary on the Letelier case, Undersecretary of Foreign Affairs-desigante Edmundo Vargas.

- Judge Sofaer recently held a meeting with your attorney, Sam Buffone. As we told Mr. Buffone, our commitment to seek justice is a strong as ever.

- We will continue to press the Chilean government for a complete resolution of the case. Our interest is that the families receive compensation and that those responsible for the crime face justice.

- The interests of the Letelier/Moffitt families are very important to us. We will need to stay in close contact with you during the next few months when our contacts with the new Chilean government on the case intensify.

(IF ASKED ONLY)

- There is no relationship between the Letelier case and restoration of GSP for Chile. GSP is linked to workers rights.

BRIEFING PAPER

CONFIDENTIAL

Vice President's Meeting with President Aylwin

BACKGROUND:

- Patricio Aylwin, a veteran Christian Democratic politician, won the first democratic presidential election held in Chile since the 1973 military coup.
  - -- Aylwin's number one challenge is to show the Chilean military that he is in control.
  - -- His second most difficult task will be to restrain the expectations of Chile's labor unions and poorer classes who feel that they have missed out on the benefits of the country's economic growth.
- Aylwin and his chief advisors have told us that they want the U.S. to normalize its defense relationship with the Chilean military and to restore GSP, OPIC, and other trade and investment incentives.
  - -- The U.S. can offer Aylwin a modest IMET program ($50,000) and an end to sanctions on military sales (contained in the "Kennedy-Harkin" amendment) this year if his government follows through on promises to pay compensation to the Letelier/Moffitt families and seek justice for those responsible for the murders.
  - -- The interagency GSP committee has voted to accept the Chilean government's petition for review. We will inform the Aylwin administration on the timetable of the review process, and how they can participate.

OBJECTIVES:

- Assure Aylwin that he has the full support of the United States in his efforts to consolidate democracy and assert control over the Chilean military.
- Inform him that the U.S. will certify that Chile has met the conditions under the Kennedy-Harkin amendment when his government has taken the necessary steps to resolve the Letelier case.
- Announce that the U.S. has accepted the Chilean petition for GSP restoration and will begin an accelerated formal review process shortly.

Normalization of U.S. - Chile Relations

- You can count on the strong support of the U.S. Government and people as you work to consolidate Chilean democracy.
- We believe that rapid normalization of U.S. - Chilean relations, including defense, is in our mutual interest.
- We are encouraged by the discussions between the U.S. State Department and your representative on steps to resolve the Letelier case.
- When your government follows through on compensation to the Letelier/Moffitt families and pursues justice for those responsible for the murders, we expect to certify quickly that Chile has met the conditions under our law.
- Once the Letelier case is behind us, we can offer you a program of professional military training, renewal of high-level military visits, and resumption of sales of military equipment.
- Any military assistance and cooperation would be channelled through your Ministry of Defense to reinforce your efforts to assert civilian control over the Armed Forces.

U.S. Economic Assistance to Chile

- The U.S. has decided to accept for review the Chilean government's request to restore trade and investment incentives under U.S. law.
- We hope that this review process, focusing on your government's plan to improve respect for worker's rights, will have your full participation and will be expedited.
- The U.S. wants to assist your government in addressing the social needs of the Chilean people which were neglected by the military government. We are reviewing ways to expand programs of the US Agency for International Development, the US Trade and Development Program, and the Peace Corps.
- The U.S. stands ready to assist your economic team in designing a strategy to deal with Chile's external debt problem.

BRIEFING PAPER

Vice President's Meeting with General Pinochet

BACKGROUND:

- General Pinochet is turning over the Presidency after 16 years in power, but he will continue to retain significant power as Commander in Chief of the Chilean Army.
  - -- Pinochet is proud of the accomplishments of his regime, deeply suspicious of democracy and civilian government, and stubborn in his resistance to outside pressures.
  - -- Pinochet designed the 1980 constitution to his specifications. It contains many undemocratic provisions, such as the method of electing Senators and Congressmen.
  - -- The new government will have to operate within the legal framework established by Pinochet, limiting its ability to make fundamental changes.
- The democratically-elected government of Patricio Aylwin will be challenged continually by Pinochet if he feels threatened by civilian rule.
  - -- He has vowed to confront the civilian government if it attempts to prosecute military officers accused of human rights violations or change the status of the military.
  - -- Pinochet himself is the greatest single obstacle to resolution of the Letelier case. He has protected the two secret police officials indicted by a U.S. court for the crime.

OBJECTIVES:

- Congratulate Pinochet for the conduct of the December 14, 1989 elections, which were peaceful, open, and fair.
- Emphasize that the U.S. solidly supports the democratic process in Chile.

THE TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY

-- The United States congratulates you and the people of Chile for the successful transition to democracy and the economic progress in the past several years.

-- The December 14 presidential and congressional elections were exemplary for the rest of the hemisphere in the peaceful, honest, and open way they were conducted.

-- We strongly support the democratic process in Chile, and hope that the Chilean Armed Forces will lend its full support to the new civilian government.

NORMALIZATION OF U.S. - CHILE RELATIONS

-- The U.S. and Chile share many strategic and political objectives. We hope to restore a normal defense relationship with the Chilean Armed Forces -- including resumption of military sales and security assistance.

-- A major prerequisite to that end is Chilean cooperation to resolve the Letelier case.

-- I urge you to support our efforts to seek justice for those responsible for the assassination of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt, an act of international terrorism committed on the streets of the capital of the United States.

-- The United States insists on the resolution of this case. We will not normalize relations until this is done.

U.S. - CHILE RELATIONSHIP

Normalization of the Relationship

- The U.S. wants a full political and defense relationship with the new democratic government of Patricio Aylwin. We want to restore trade and investment benefits, and end the international isolation which Chile suffered under military rule.
  - -- Chile and the U.S. have historically enjoyed close economic and political ties. The U.S. is Chile's largest trading partner, and U.S. companies have large investments in Chile.
  - -- Chile is an important test case to demonstrate the compatibility of democracy and free-market economic systems.

Resolution of the Letelier Case

- Relations with the Pinochet regime worsened when the 1976 assassination of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt in Washington D.C. was traced back to Pinochet's secret police.
  - -- The U.S. Congress imposed sanctions on the sale of arms and the provision of military assistance to Chile in 1976 (the "Kennedy amendment").
  - -- The Kennedy amendment conditions restoration of arms sales and security assistance to human rights observance and resolution of the Letelier case. The Pinochet government cooperated only minimally in the investigation of the case, and refused to extradite two officials of the secret police -- General Contreras and Colonel Espinoza -- indicted by a U.S. court for the crime.
  - -- President-elect Aylwin wants to cooperate with us to resolve the case, but recognizes that the military will block any attempt to prosecute Contreras and Espinoza.

Restoration of GSP and OPIC Benefits

o Chile was removed from eligibility for GSP (Generalized System of Preferences) and OPIC (Overseas Private Investment Corporation) trade and investment benefits in December 1987 for its denial of internationally-recognized workers rights.

-- The interagency GSP subcommittee has accepted the Chilean Government's petition for review.

-- A schedule of public hearings for this review will be established shortly. We hope that this process could be accelerated so that GSP/OPIC could be restored in a few months.

-- The Chilean labor movement favors GSP/OPIC restoration and have asked the AFL-CIO to lobby on their behalf.

U.S. Assistance for the New Democratic Government

o We are reviewing U.S. assistance programs in Chile to help the new civilian government address neglected social needs. Since Chile is a relatively advanced developing country, a large economic assistance program is not necessary.

-- USAID has a modest program in Chile focuses on civic action, microenterprise, adminstration of justice, and housing guarantees. USAID is considering expanding these projects and adding environmental protection and vocational education.

-- We will support the new Chilean economic team in dealing with its external debt problem and seek to eliminate trade barriers.

-- The U.S. will support economically viable loans to Chile from international financial institutions and will encourage investment in Chile.

-- We will explore bringing the Peace Corps back to Chile, to work on projects ranging from microenterprise development to environmental protection.

RE: Use of 1914 Treaty Commission to Determine Amount of Ex Gratia payment to Letelier and Moffitt families.

1. Standard of Compensation

The survival and wrongful death causes of action which formed the basis of the awards in the U.S. civil case were statutory causes of action under the D.C. code. The elements of compensation allowable under the D.C. wrongful death statute are very similar to those enunciated as allowable under international law in Jeff Kovar's memorandum and in the Cruz decision by the International Court of Human Rights. They are: (a) the amount which the decedent, had he or she not been killed would probably have contributed to the claimant . . (b) the pecuniary value to such claimant of the deceased's personal services in claimant's care, education or supervision. Kovar memo, p 2. See also, Jane Doe v. Binker, (App. D.C.), 492 A.2d 857 (1985)(There are two main elements recoverable under the Wrongful Death Act. The first element compensates for pecuniary loss - calculated as the annual share of the decedent's dependents in the decedents earnings, multiplied by decedent's work life expectancy, and discounted to present value. The second element compensates for the value of the services lost to the family as a result of decedent's death.)

The Court in Letelier also made an award under the D.C. Survival Statute. This statute provides that any cause of action the deceased would have had, had he lived, survives his death and can be brought by his heirs. Both Letelier and Moffitt (apparently) would have been able to maintain an action for pain and suffering experienced prior to their deaths. The court awarded $30,000 to Letelier's heirs and $80,000 to Ronni Moffitt's. This amount would not be allowed under general principles of international law. However, international law would allow for an amount to be paid with respect to the pain and suffering experienced by the family members as a result of the deaths("moral damages"), which is not an element of recovery under the wrongful death statutes. Because of the highly traumatic manner of death, and because of Michael Moffitt's actual presence, this amount could be substantial.

Using the figures claimed in the Stark cases for "moral damages" , we could claim $25,000 for each spouse, $10,000 for each child over 5 and $20,000 for each surviving parent. Under this calculation the Letelier children would ask $40,000 total and potentially another 25,000 for Letelier's wife. Michael Moffitt could claim $25,000 and each of Ronni Moffitt's parents, $20,000, totaling $65,000. We could argue for more for Michael Moffitt because of the extraordinary circumstance that he was present.

We can of course, ask for a finding as to the amount to be awarded on each cause - the pain of suffering of the decedents as well as that of the next-of-kin, but if we general international law principles are applied, we likely will not collect for pain and suffering of the decedents.

The D.C. court commended plaintiff's counsel highly for his excellent work on the case - which leads me to believe that the court accepted as substantiated all or nearly all of the amounts claimed by the plaintiff as lost income and services loss. The amount due on the wrongful death actions was $916,096 for Ronni Moffitt and $1,526,479. An additional $400,000 was awarded to Michael Moffitt for his pain and suffering as a result of defendants' acts. I would not expect an international tribunal in which the amount is to be contested to be more generous than an uncontested award for these elements in a U.S. court.

II. Upon behalf of whom can we present claims?

Although the court does not specify the amount awarded in respect of the loss suffered by each of the individual plaintiffs, I assume that the loss to Mrs. Letelier was the greatest of those in the Letelier family. Now that we are entering into a formal proceedings between the USG and the GOC, it may be more difficult to present a claim for injuries suffered by persons who are not U.S. nationals.

If calculation of compensation the 1914 Commission does not take into account the claims of Mrs. Letelier the total award may be substantially reduced. More importantly, if it does not include Mrs. Letelier, there is the possibility that the families will not accept or cooperate in the proceeding and will not move to vacate the D.C. court judgment. Mrs. Letelier will still have a claim against the Government of Chile in the absence of its estinguishment though the Commission proceeding I am not sure that we, as the USG, could have the GOC dismissed as a defendant in the Court action.

III. Other possible elements of damages

- Consequential damages could include amounts expended in pursuing the criminal aspect of the case.

- Punative damages. They were not awarded against the Government of Chile in the civil case and there is no precedent for such an award under international law. I don't think we have any basis for claiming them even if we wanted to.

-Interest. A claim for interest on the civil judgment is not viable here. But there does seem to be a claim for the amount which each claimant would have received by reason of the decedents' efforts during each of the years from the deaths to the present. This would require careful calculation but could be claimed. Furthermore, if there is to be a discount factor taken into account in the calculation, it can of course only apply to salary payment between the date of award and end of his/her projected lifespan.

If we are unable to assert a claim for monetary injury to Mrs. Letelier, there may be additional amount that can be claimed by the sons in respect of contributions to the support of their mother that they would not have had to make had their father lived.

Analysis of the Cruz case 4/27/90 UNCLASSIFIED LD 047

The Cruz case is an award of compensation to the family of Saul Godinez Cruz against the Government of Honduras for the disappearance of Mr. Cruz Mr. Cruz had a surviving wife and minor daughter. The liability of the Government of Honduras for his disappearance was decided previously and only the amount of compensation was at issue in this proceeding.

Procedure

The Court issued an order authorizing the President of the Court to direct certain investigations, as commonly done in civil law systems. The order authorized the President to request the opinion of the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights "concerning the next-of-kin", to appoint experts as deemed advisable to provide information on form and amount of compensation, and to convene a hearing on the matter, if necessary.

Psychiatric experts were engaged on the question of the moral damages (the pain and suffering of the next-of-kin) and this evidence was received by the court. The Commission recommended a large amount of compensation including the highest pension available to the widow under Honduran law, title to a home, payment of subsidy to child until she completes education, a lump sum payment, and a variety of ethical reparations. The Court gave its opinion as to how much should be awarded (including, punative damages) and convened a hearing to hear the opinions of the parties on the "award" (This is either a unique procedure or the translation is faulty and it was only a proposed award.) ~~The Court then held a hearing to learn the opinion of the parties on the compensation it had "ordered".~~ The court then asked the government for a long list of additional evidence and information on local pension and inheritance laws. The Government of Honduras provided much of the information and responded to the Commission's brief. The Court also received amicus curiae briefs.

Substance

The Court addressed only the monetary compensation issues in its decision. It stated that as "a general concept of international law which jurisprudence has considered to be 'even a general concept of law' that any breach of an international obligation that has caused injury entails the duty to make adequate reparation." Full compensation, the court said, includes restoration of the previous situation and reparation of the consequences of the breach, plus payment of an indemnity to compensate for the property and non-property damages, including moral damage.

The Court rejected the proposal that the award should include the amount the deceased would have earned over his lifetime, finding that such an award would be a proper one to the deceased had he been totally incapacitated but had lived. However, where the award was to the next-of-kin, - the court found a "more prudent assessment" was in order, suggesting that the award should compensate them only for the amount they lost.

The Court then, somewhat abstractly, set the amount of compensation at 400,000 lempiras for loss of income, and 250,000 for moral damages, to be divided one-fourth to the wife and three-fourths to the child. The child's share was to be placed in a trust account with final distribution to her at age 25.

The Court specifically rejected the claim for punative damages finding that they were not allowable either under Article 63.1 of the Convention or under international law "in its present state".

A claim for indirect damages, such as costs incurred in attemted to locate Cruz and the costs of court proceedings was asserted. The Court however, declines to rule upon these due to procedural deficiencies (failure to present on time or with sufficient supporting evidence).

Applicability to the Letelier Case

Although the general vehicle - a tribunal that decides only issues of compensation is what we need in to decide the Letelier case, this particular decision is not all that appealing either procedurally or on the substantive law. The procedure is lengthy and responsibility to gather evidence rests largely with the court. I think we want a procedure where the parties have the responsibility to present evidence and arguments within strict time limits, so that the procedure cannot become too drawn out. The responsibility of the Commission should be to look at the evidence and pleadings presented by the Government and issue a decision.

The decision is not that helpful on substance either. The ~~large part of the award goes to a minor child,~~ without detailing how the amounts were determined. The standard used seems to be a general notion of fair compensation. We likely want the Commission to, in effect, do the calculations; to invite them to choose a "fair" amount would be dangerous.

Court awards two sums,

RE: Use of 1914 Treaty Commission to Determine Amount of Ex Gratia payment to Letelier and Moffitt families.

1. Standard of Compensation

The survival and wrongful death causes of action which formed the basis of the awards in the U.S. civil case were statutory causes of action under the D.C. code. The elements of compensation allowable under the D.C. wrongful death statute are very similar to those enunciated as allowable under international law in Jeff Kovar's memorandum and in the Cruz decision by the International Court of Human Rights. They are: (a) the amount which the decedent, had he or she not been killed would probably have contributed to the claimant . . (b) the pecuniary value to such claimant of the deceased's personal services in claimant's care, education or supervision. Kovar memo, p 2. See also, Jane Doe v. Binker, (App. D.C.), 492 A.2d 857 (1985)(There are two main elements recoverable under the Wrongful Death Act. The first element compensates for pecuniary loss - calculated as the annual share of the decedent's dependents in the decedents earnings, multiplied by decedent's work life expectancy, and discounted to present value. The second element compensates for the value of the services lost to the family as a result of decedent's death.)

The Court in Letelier also made an award under the D.C. Survival Statute. This statute provides that any cause of action the deceased would have had, had he lived, survives his death and can be brought by his heirs. Both Letelier and Moffitt (apparently) would have been able to maintain an action for pain and suffering experienced prior to their deaths. The court awarded $30,000 to Letelier's heirs and $80,000 to Ronni Moffitt's. This amount would not be allowed under general principles of international law. However, international law would allow for an amount to be paid with respect to the pain and suffering experienced by the family members as a result of the deaths("moral damages"), which is not an element of recovery under the wrongful death statutes. Because of the highly traumatic manner of death, and because of Michael Moffitt's actual presence, this amount could be substantial.

Using the figures claimed in the Stark cases for "moral damages" we could claim $25,000 for each spouse, $10,000 for each child over 5 and $20,000 for each surviving parent. Under this calculation the Letelier children would ask $40,000 total and ~~voluntarily~~ another $25,000 for Letelier's ~~wife~~. Michael Moffitt could claim $25,000 and each of Ronni Moffitt's parents, $20,000, totaling $65,000. We could argue for more for Michael Moffitt because of the extraordinary circumstance that he was present.

We can of course, ask for a finding as to the amount to be awarded on each cause - the pain of suffering of the decedents as well as that of the next-of-kin, but if we general international law principles are applied, we likely will not collect for pain and suffering of the decedents.

The D.C. court commended plaintiff's counsel highly for his excellent work on the case - which leads me to believe that the court accepted as substantiated all or nearly all of the amounts claimed by the plaintiff as lost income and services loss. The amount due on the wrongful death actions was $916,096 for Ronni Moffitt and $1,526,479. An additional $400,000 was awarded to Michael Moffitt for his pain and suffering as a result of defendants' acts. I would not expect an international tribunal in which the amount is to be contested to be more generous than an uncontested award for these elements in a U.S. court.

II. Upon behalf of whom can we present claims?

Although the court does not specify the amount awarded in respect of the loss suffered by each of the individual plaintiffs, I assume that the loss to Mrs. Letelier was the greatest of those in the Letelier family. Now that we are entering into a formal proceedings between the USG and the GOC, it may be more difficult to present a claim for injuries suffered by persons who are not U.S. nationals.

If calculation of compensation the 1914 Commission does not take into account the claims of Mrs. Letelier the total award may be substantially reduced. More importantly, if it does not include Mrs. Letelier, there is the possibility that the families will not accept or cooperate in the proceeding and will not move to vacate the D.C. court judgment. Mrs. Letelier will still have a claim against the Government of Chile in the absence of its estinguishment though the Commission proceeding I am not sure that we, as the USG, could have the GOC dismissed as a defendant in the Court action.

III. Other possible elements of damages

- Consequential damages could include amounts expended in pursuing the criminal aspect of the case.

- Punative damages. They were not awarded against the Government of Chile in the civil case and there is no precedent for such an award under international law. I don't think we have any basis for claiming them even if we wanted to.

-Interest. A claim for interest on the civil judgment is not viable here. But there does seem to be a claim for the amount which each claimant would have received by reason of the decedents' efforts during each of the years from the deaths to the present. This would require careful calculation but could be claimed. Furthermore, if there is to be a discount factor taken into account in the calculation, it can of course only apply to salary payment between the date of award and end of his/her projected lifespan.

If we are unable to assert a claim for monetary injury to Mrs. Letelier, there may be additional amount that can be claimed by the sons in respect of contributions to the support of their mother that they would not have had to make had their father lived.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING
BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AND CHILE

1. The Governments of the United States and Chile agree that a dispute exists between them concerning the responsibility for the deaths of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt in Washington, D.C. on September 21, 1976.

2. On January 12, 1989 the United States invoked the Treaty for the Settlement of Disputes that May Occur Between the United States and Chile, which entered into force on January 19, 1916, "to investigate and report upon the facts surrounding the deaths of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt in Washington, D.C. on September 21, 1976, including the involvement of Chilean Government officials in those deaths, and to investigate and report upon the extent to which officials of the Government of Chile obstructed subsequent investigations into the deaths."

3. In recognition of the dispute which exists between the two countries, the Government of the Republic of Chile is willing to make an ex gratia payment to the Government of the United States of America, to be received on behalf of the families of the victims.

4. The Governments of the United States and Chile agree that the amount of the ex gratia payment should be determined by the Commission established by the 1914 Treaty, using the standards and procedures set forth in Annex 2. The Governments agree that notwithstanding the invocation of the 1914 Treaty by the United States January 12, 1989, in light of the understandings set forth herein, this shall be the sole question to be determined by the Commission.

5. Upon receipt of the ex gratia payment referred to in para. 4 above, the Government of the United States of America will regard as satisfied the claim espoused in its diplomatic note to the Government of Chile of _____.

6. The Government of the Republic of Chile has provided to the Government of the United States of America a diplomatic note, dated_____, and attached to this Memorandum of Understanding as attachment 1, which sets forth the intended actions of the Government of Chile to investigate and take such actions as may be possible to bring to justice those persons responsible for the deaths of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt.

7. [We could include here a statement indicating the USG intends to make one of the two, or both, findings necessary to renew assistance programs. I suggest we not do so in the first draft and wait and see how firm a deal we can set on compensation.]

Signed,

For the Government of Chile

SUBJECT: BRIEFING ON THE SUMMIT OF CARTAGENA

1. (U) PRESIDENT BUSH MET WITH PRESIDENT BARCO OF COLOMBIA, PRESIDENT ALAN GARCIA OF PERU AND PRESIDENT PAZ ZAMORA OF BOLIVIA IN CARTAGENA, COLOMBIA ON FEBRUARY 15.

2. (LOU) ON FEBRUARY 16, DEPUTY SECRETARY KIMMITT, ARA A/S ARONSON AND INMA/S LEVITSKY, BRIEFED REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNFDAC MAJOR DONORS, PLUS SPAIN, IRELAND (AS PRESIDENT OF THE EC) AND THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITY'S RESIDENT DELEGATION IN WASHINGTON, ON THE RESULTS OF THE [redacted]

SUMMIT. THOSE ATTENDING WERE THE AMBASSADORS (OR THEIR REPRESENTATIVES) OFAUSTRALIA, CANADA, DENMARK, EUROPEAN COMMISSION, FEDERAL REPUBLIC OF GERMANY, FRANCE, FINLAND, IRELAND, ITALY, JAPAN, NETHERLANDS, NORWAY, SPAIN, SWEDEN, SWITZERLAND AND THE U.K.

3. (U) A SECOND RIEFING, THIS ONE OF LATIN AMERICAN AND CARIBBEAN ENVOYS TO THE WHITE HOUSE AND OAS, TOOK PLACE THE AFTERNOON OF FEBRUARY 16 WITH MESSRS. ARONSON AND LEVITSKY JOINED BY JOHN WALTERS, THE CHIEF OF STAFF OF THE OFFICE OF NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL POLICY. THE SAME ISSUES DISCUSSED IN PARAS 4-7, BELOW WERE COVERED. FOLLOWING IS A RESUME OF THE OBSERVATIONS MADE BY MESSRSS KIMMETT, ARONSON AND LEVITSKY.

4. (U) OVERVIEW: MR. KIMMITT NOTED THAT THE BRIEFING WAS PERHAPS THE FIRST OF THIS GROUP ON THE SUBJECT OF NARCOTICS. HE STRESSED THAT, IN THE MIDST OF DRAMATIC CHANGES THROUGHOUT THE WORLD, INTERNATIONAL NARCOTICS MATTERS ARE A MAJOR CONCERN. HE NOTED THAT THE SECRETAR OF STATE WOULD ADDRESSTHE UN SPECIAL SESSION ON NARCOTICS IN NEW YORK AND THAT THIS WOULD BE A FIRST FOR THE SECRETARY. HE ALLUDED TO HIS OWN PERSONAL INVOLVEMENT B3 NOTING THAT HE WOULD BE CHAIRING A NARCOTICS COORDINATIOO MEETING WITHIN THEDEPARTMENT THAT VERY AFTERNOON. JUST AS HUMAN RIGHTS HAS BEEN WOVEN INTO THE FABRIC OF FOREIGN POLICY, SO MUST NARCOTICS, HE SAID. WE NEED TO COORDINATE OUR EFFORTS NOT ONLY BETWEEN PRODUCER AND CONSUMER COUNTRIES, BUT ALSO AMONG CONSUMER COUNTRIES. (HE MADE A PARTICULAR PLEA FOR COOPERATION ON CONTROLLIN MOVEMENTS OF PRECURSOR CHEMICALS.) BY WORKING TOGETHER WE CAN HOPEFULLY SOLVENOT ONLY OUR OWN PROBLEMS, BUT [redacted]

HELP OTHER POTENTIAL CONSUMER COUNTRIES STAVE OFF THEIRSS

5. (U) SUMMIT AMOSPHERICS: MR. ARONSON EMPHASIZED THAT THE DECLARATION OF CARTAGENA, SIGNED BY THE FOUR PRESIDENTS (TEXT SENT SEPTEL) CONSTITUTED A SERIOUS COMMITMENT BY THE FOUR PARTIES. THE CARTAGENA SUMMIT, HH SAID, SIGNALED THE END OF THE ARGUMENT OVER WHO WAS TO "BLAME" FOR THE DRUG PROBLEM, E.G., THOSE THAT PRODUCE DRUGS OR THOSE THAT CONSUME THEM. WE SHARE A COMMON PROBLEM AS WELL AS A RESPONSIBILITY TO DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT. ARONSON STATED THAT THE SUMMIT ALSO PUT TO REST THE DEBATE OVER ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT VERSUS LAW ENFORCE-MENT/INTERDICTION BY ACKNOWLEDGNG THAT EACH MUST BE DONE SIMULTANEOUSLY. FOR EXAMPLE, ALTERNATIVE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT WILL FAIL IF COCA PRICES DO NOT GO DOWN. AFTER A SIGNIFICANT INCREASE IN LAW ENFORCEMENT ASSISTANCE IN FY-90, THE USG WILL PROVIDE GREATER ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE TO THE ANDEAN COUNTRIES IN FY-91, IF THEY MEET AGREED UPON LEVELS OF ANTI-NARCOTICS PERFORMANCE AND DEVELOP SOUND ECONOMIC POLICIES. THE SUMMIT RECOGNIZED A THIRD POINT, ACCORDING TO ARONSON, NAMELY THE LIMITS OF THE FOUR COUNTRIES INVOLVED. NARCOTICS CONSTITUTE AN INTERNATIONAL PROBLEM THAT THREATENS ALL OF OUR SOCIETIES. HE NOTED THAT THERE WOULD BE A NUMBER OF RELEVANT MEETINGS BESIDES THE

SPECIAL SESSION, INCLUDING: THE OAS CICAD MINISTERIAL IN IXTAPA, MEXICO, THE LONDON MINISTERIAL IN APRIL ON DEMAND REDUCTION, AND THE ECONOMIC SUMMIT OF THE SEVEN IN HOUSTON IN JULY. HE COMMENTED THAT THE FOLLOW-ON MEETING TO THE CARTAGENA SUMMIT, WHICH IS TO OCCUR WITHIN SIX MONTHS, MIGHT INCLUDE A JIDE GROUP OF OTHER PARTICIPANTS. ARONSON NOTED THAT THE U.S. SIGNED SIX BILATERAL AGREEMENTS: THREE WITH BOLIVIA (A PUBLIC AWARENESS MOU, PRECURSOR CHEMICALS AGREEMENT AND WEAPONS EXPORT CONTROLS MOU) AND THREE WITH PERU (TAX INFORMATION [redacted] EXCHANGE AGREEMENT, EXCHANGE OF NOTES ON EXTRADITION, AND A PUBLIC AWARENESS MOU). OTHER BILATERAL AGREEMENTS ARE BEING CONCLUDED WITH THE THREE SUMMIT PARTNERS.

6. (U) DRUG STRATEGY: MR. LEVITSKY PLACED THE CARTAGENA SUMMIT IN THE BROADERPERSPECTIVE OF THE PRESIDENT'S NATIONAL DRUG STRATEGIES I AND II. STRATEGY I FOCUSED ON REDUCING COCAINE CONSUMPTION IN THE U.S. THROUGH VARIOUS MEANS INCLUDING DEMAND REDUCTION, AND LAW ENFORCEMENT EFFORTS, PARTICULARLY IN THE ANDES. STRATEGY II MESHES WITH THE FIRST, BUT EXPANDS THE FOCUS TO INCLUDE COUNTRIES OUTSIDE THE ANDES, IN PARTICULAR NEAR NEIGHBORS AND TRANSIT COUNTRIES. IT CALLS FOR ATTENTION TO BE PAID TO A POSSIBLE RESURGENCE OF HEROIN ADDICTION AND SPEAKS OF THE IMPORTANCE OF CONTROLLING MONEY LAUNDERING AND MOVEMENTS OF PRECURSOR CHEMICALS. LEVITSKY NOTED THAT WE NEED PARTICULAR HELP ON THESE LAST TWO ISSUES. WE HAVE ALREADY BEEN IN TOUCH WITH VARIOUS GOVERNMENTS ABOUT ESTABLISHING A CONSULTATIVE MECHANISM TO COORDINATE INITIATIVES AMONG DEVELOPED COUNTRIES AND WE LOOK FORWARD TO DISCUSSING THIS PROPOSAL FURTHER. REFERRING SPECIFICALLY TO MR. ARONSON'S COMMENTS ABOUT INCREASING ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE TO THE ANDEAN STATES, MR. LEVITSKY NOTED THAT SUCH AID WOULD BE CLEARLY LINKED TO ANTI-NARCOTICS PERFORMANCE AND SOUND ECONOMIC POLICIES.

7. (U) ACTION REQUESTED: EMBOFFS SHOULD DRAW ON THIS CABLE TO BRIEF APPROPRIATE HOST GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS CONCERNING RESULTS OF THE CARTAGENA SUMMIT. STRESS SHOULD BE PLACED ON THE UNIVERSALITY OF THE DRUG PROBLEM AND THE NEED FOR ALL COUNTRIES TO JOIN IN THE FIGHT. WE BELIEVE THAT THIS SUMMIT, WHICH BROUGHT TOGETHER CONSUMER AND PRODUCER COUNTRIES, SETS AN EXAMPLE FOR THE WORLD AND [redacted]

THAT, DESPITE DIFFERING PERSPECTIVES, THE FOUR COUNTRIES CAME TO THE CONCLUSION THAT ALL LINKS IN THE NARCOTICS

UNCLASSIFIED

CHAIN - FROM CULTIVATION THROUGH PRODUCTION AND TRAFFICKING TO CONSUMPTION - MUST BE ADDRESSED SIMULTANEOUSLY AND VIGOROUSLY TO BE SUCCESSFUL. IF APPROPRIATE, EMBOFFS SHOULD TAKE ADVANTAGE OF OPPORTUNITY

TO URGE HOST GOVERNMENTS TO SIGN AND/OR RATIFY THE VIENNA CONVENTION. BAKER

SUBJECT: SOVIET-CUBAN RELATIONS

REF: MOSCOW 05654

1. [redacted] ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: REFTEL WAS AN OUTSTANDING AND TIMELY ANALYSIS OF SOVIET-CUBAN RELATIONS. WE WOULD ADD A FEW THOUGHTS PICKED UP HERE ON THE POSSIBLE FACTORS BEHIND THE USSR'S CONTINUING COMMITMENT TO CUBA. IT IS IMPORTANT, FIRST OF ALL, TO SEPARATE SOVIET REACTION TO CASTRO'S RHETORIC FROM THEIR REACTION TO WHAT HE IS SAYING IN PRIVATE. OFF THE ROSTRUM, CASTRO PRAISES GORBACHEV, IS PHILOSOPHICAL ABOUT DEVELOPMENTS, AND MAKES AN APPARENTLY STRONG CASE TO THE SOVIETS THAT HE IS WILLING TO GET INTO THE FLOW OF WORLD POLITICS, INCLUDING SETTLING ISSUES LIKE CENTRAL AMERICA AND ARMS TO INSURGENTS BUT THAT THE U.S. DOES NOT WANT TO DEAL WITH THE GOC. CASTRO SEEMS TO HAVE CONVINCED GORBACHEV THAT CUBA WILL NOT BE A SPOILER OF POLITICAL SETTLEMENTS OR OF DETENTE BUT THAT THE U.S. IS SEEKING TO ISOLATE CUBA, DRIVE A WEDGE BETWEEN CUBA AND THE SOVIET UNION AND EVENTUALLY TOPPLE THE GOC. SENIOR SOVIETS IN HAVANA SUGGEST THAT GIVEN THIS SITUATION, CASTRO FEELS HE HAS NO OPTION BUT TO APPEAL TO NATIONALISM, TAKE A HARD IDEOLOGICAL LINE AND CRACK DOWN ON DISSENT. OBSERVERS HERE ALSO BELIEVE THAT CUBA IS NOW THE USSR'S MAJOR ALLY AND THAT MOSCOW MAY THINK THAT IT CANNOT RETAIN CREDIBILITY AS A WORLD POWER IF IT IS SEEN AS TURNING ITS BACK ON THE GOC, PARTICULARLY UNDER U.S. PRESSURE. GORBACHEV APPARENTLY CONSIDERS THAT HIS VISION OF A WORLD ORDER BASED ON NON-INTERVENTION IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS REQUIRES THAT THE SOVIET UNION NOT ABANDON ITS COMMITMENTS TO CUBA SO LONG AS THE GOC APPEARS IN SOVIET EYES AS WILLING TO GO ALONG WITH THE "NEW THINKING" IN WORLD AFFAIRS. END SUMMARY.

3. DESPITE HIS PUBLIC RHETORIC, CASTRO IN PRIVATE MEETINGS WITH SOVIETS AND WESTERNERS IS CAREFUL TO PRAISE GORBACHEV AND EVEN TO PROCLAIM THAT HIS SUCCESS IS VITAL TO THE WORLD, INCLUDING CUBA.

4. IN CAMARA, CASTRO IS PHILOSOPHICAL AND DETACHED ABOUT EVENTS IN THE DEFUNCT "BLOC." IN THIS PRIVATE CASTRO VIEW, GRAVE HISTORICAL PROBLEMS AND MISTAKES LED TO THE DRASTIC CHANGES I EASTERN EUROPE AND THE SOVIET UNION. THESE CHANGES ARE HIGHLY REGRETABLE AND SHOCKING AS THEY REPRESENT A CRUEL BLOW TO THE MOVEMENT OF WORLD SOCIALISM, BUT THEY ARE UNDERSTANDABLE NEVERTHELESS.

5. OUR SOVIET COLLEAGUES ALSO IMPLY TO US THAT IN PRIVATE CASTRO MAKES (TO THEM) A PERSUASIVE CASE THAT CUBA IS WILLING TO GET INTO THE FLOW OF WORLD POLITICS, SPECIFICALLY TO COOPERATE IN THE SETTLEMENT OF REGIONAL CONFLICTS AS IT DID IN ANGOLA AND EVEN TO END MATERIAL AID TO ANY INSURGENT OR IRREGULAR FORCES ANYWHERE,

IF THE U.S. AND OTHERS WOULD DO THE SAME IN AN INTERNATIONAL TREATY. (THE GOC CLAIMS TO HAVE MADE THIS PROPOSAL TO THE UN SYG IN DECEMBER).

6. THE RUB, CASTRO TELLS THE SOVIETS, IS THAT THE U.S. DOES NOT WANT A SETTLEMENT WITH THE GOC ON THIS BASIS, BUT INSTEAD IS SEEKING TO ISOLATE CUBA, DRIVE A WEDGE BETWEEN CUBA AND THE SOVIET UNION AND EVENTUALLY TOPPLE THE CUBAN REGIME.

7. ON CENTRAL AMERICA, CASTRO APPEARS TO HAVE CONVINCED GORBACHEV THAT IF THE U.S. WOULD INCLUDE CUBA IN THE PEACE PROCESS, GIVE IT AN HONORABLE WAY OUT, AND INDICATE SOME PAY OFF IN U.S.-CUBAN RELATIONS, THE GOC WOULD ESSENTIALLY ACCEPT THE BASIC OBJECTIVES THAT THE U.S. SEEKS IN THE REGION.

8. THE SOVIETS (AND SOME OTHERS) HERE ALSO TEND TO ARGUE THAT, SEEING NO OPENING WITH THE U.S. BUT INSTEAD INCREASED AMERICAN PRESSURE AND DECLINING ECONOMIC RELATIONS WITH THE EAST, CASTRO BELIEVES HE HAS NO OPTION BUT TO APPEAL TO NATIONALISM, TAKE A HARD IDEOLOGICAL LINE AND TOUGHEN UP ON DISSENT. CASTRO AND OTHER SENIOR CUBANS HAVE PRESUMABLY TAKEN THIS LINE, ALTHOUGH MORE INDIRECTLY, OF COURSE, WITH AMBASSADOR PETROV AND HIS COLLEAGUES.

9. THUS, FOR GORBACHEV, STANDING BY SOVIET COMMITMENTS TO CUBA MAY IN PART BE A MATTER OF NATIONAL HONOR AS WELL AS CONSISTENT WITH HIS CONCEPT OF "NEW THINKING," I.E., THE POWERS SHOULD ALLOW SOVEREIGN STATES TO WORK OUT THEIR OWN POLITICAL DYNAMICS WITHOUT INTERFERENCE.

THE SOVIET POLITICAL COUNSELOR, NIKOLAY BABICH, RECENTLY TOLD US THAT "WE (THE SOVIETS) MAY NOT AGREE WITH CASTRO'S INTERNAL POLICIES," BUT A STABLE WORLD ORDER REQUIRES THAT OUTSIDERS NOT INTERFERE, JUST AS THE USSR DID NOT INTERFERE IN EASTERN EUROPE.

10. AMBASSADOR PETROV IS PARTICULARLY FOND OF SAYING THAT GIVEN THE GREAT TROUBLES MOSCOW HAS HAD WITH MAKING PERESTROIKA WORK, THE USSR CAN HARDLY PRESS CASTRO TO TAKE SIMILAR REFORMS IN CUBA. WHAT THEY CAN DEMAND IS MORE EFFICIENT USE OF SOVIET AID, AN END TO THE LARGE ANNUAL TRADE DEFICIT AND SUBSIDIES, CUBAN ADJUSTMENT TO THE SOVIET UNION'S NEW TRADE POLICIES, AND CUBAN ACCEPTANCE OF SUCH NEW PRINCIPLES AS MOVING TO HARD CURRENCY PRICES.

THE CUBANS HAVE APPARENTLY CONVINCED THE SOVIETS HERE THAT THEY ARE TRYING TO MAKE THE NECESSARY ADJUSTMENTS, E.G., SEEKING OUT NEA EXPORT PRODUCTS FOR THE SOVIET MARKET. BABICH CLAIMS THAT FACED WITH A DREADFUL SITUATION, THE CUBANS ARE TRYING TO DEAL WITH IT IN AS RATIONAL AND PROFESSIONAL WAY AS POSSIBLE. MOSCOW, FOR ITS PART, HAS LIVED UP TO ITS 1989 ECONOMIC COMMITMENTS

AND HAS PLEDGED TO DO THE SAME THIS YEAR.

11. MOST OBSERVERS IN HAVANA ALSO BELIEVE THAT WITH THE DGR'S VIRTUAL EVAPORATION INTO THIN AIR, CUBA IS NOW THE SOVIET UNION'S MOST IMPORTANT ALLY. MOSCOW MAY BELIEVE THAT IT CANNOT RETAIN CREDIBILITY AS A WORLD POWER IF IT IS SEEN AS TURNING ITS BACK ON THE GOC, PARTICULARLY UNDER U.S. PRESSURE. DELIVERY OF THE MIG-29 SEEMS TO REFLECT THIS ATTITUDE.

12. IT IS WIDELY ASSUMED IN HAVANA THAT THE SOVIET UNION HAS MADE AN ENORMOUS INVESTMENT IN CUBA AND WHILE IT INTENDS TO REDUCE ITS INPUT CONSIDERABLY, IT WANTS IF AT ALL POSSIBLE TO ENCOURAGE FUTURE STABILITY IN CUBA AND TO AVOID THE APPEARANCE AT HOME AND ABROAD OF ANOTHER DEBACLE. SOVIET OFFICIALS HERE TEND TO BELIEVE THAT THE U.S. UNDERESTIMATES THE STRENGTH OF THE REGIME AND ITS ABILITY TO SURVIVE A LONG PERIOD OF AUSTERITY AND OUTSIDE PRESSURE.

FINALLY, FOR A LONG TIME, TRADE WITH CUBA WILL PROBABLY BE IMPORTANT FOR THE SOVIETS. WHERE ELSE CAN THEY SWAP LADAS AND OTHER SOVIET PRODUCTS FOR MILLIONS OF TONS OF SUGAR, NICKLE, AND CITRUS.

13. PROSPECTS

CASTRO HAS RECENTLY SAID THAT THE SOVIETS HAVE REAFFIRMED THEIR POLITICAL COMMITMENT TO THE GOC. THE CUBAN LEADER, HOWEVER, IS AWARE OF THE HEATED DEBATE ON THE SUBJECT WITHIN SOVIET ACADEMIC AND POLITICAL CIRCLES REFERRED

HAVANA 01162 00 OF 04 281946Z 005755 508395

TO IN REFTEL AND REALIZES THAT WHATEVER GORBACHEV MAY SAY OR FEEL AT THE MOMENT ABOUT CUBA, ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL PRESSURES COULD BUILD FOR DISENGAGEMENT. TO DISCOURAGE THIS TREND CASTRO IS LIKELY TO TRY TO RESPOND AS POSITIVELY AS POSSIBLE TO THE ON-GOING CHANGES IN ECONOMIC COOPERATION WITH MOSCOW AND TO CONTINUE TO TRY TO REASSURE THE SOVIET LEADERS IN PRIVATE THAT CUBAN POLICY DOES NOT POSE A PROBLEM FOR THE USSR IN THE INTERNATIONAL ARENA, PARTICULARLY IN ITS RELATIONS WITH THE U.S. INSTEAD, CASTRO WILL SEEK TO CONVINCE THE SOVIETS THAT THEY HAVE A GEOPOLITICAL AND PRINCIPLED INTEREST IN SUPPORTING CUBA AGAINST U.S. PRESSURE.

14. TO DATE, HE SEEMS TO HAVE SUCCEEDED. BUT WHATEVER SOVIET INTENTIONS, THE ECONOMIC RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES IS LIKELY TO DECLINE AND THIS WILL TEND TO EXACERBATE POLITICAL LINKS. POLITICAL PRESSURES COULD ALSO BUILD IN MOSCOW TO PULL THE RUG FROM UNDER CASTRO. NEVERTHELESS, BOTH GORBACHEV AND CASTRO AT THIS TIME SEEM COMMITTED TO TRYING TO KEEP THE OLD CONNECTION GOING.

15. FROM THIS PERSPECTIVE, PRESSURE ON GORBACHEV TO DOWNGRADE HIS RELATIONS WITH CASTRO ARE NOT LIKELY TO SUCCEED AT THIS TIME, ALTHOUGH IT MAY STIR UP THE SUBJECT IN OTHER CIRCLES IN THE USSR. IN ANY EVENT, U.S. PRESSURE ON THE SOVIET UNION TO PULL BACK FROM CUBA WOULD BE MORE EFFECTIVE THE MORE THE U.S. COULD UNDERCUT INCESSANT GOC PROPAGANDA ALLEGING U.S. THREATS AND INTIMIDATION OF CUBA. 1. BELOW IS THE TEXT OF THE CLEARED BRIEFING MEMO FOR VP QUAYLE'S MEETING WITH GENERAL PINOCHET ON MARCH 11 OR 12. TEXT IS PROVIDED FOR EMBASSY INFORMATION ONLY.

VICE PRESIDENT'S MEETING WITH GENERAL PINOCHET

BACKGROUND

O GENERAL PINOCHET IS TURNING OVER THE PRESIDENCY AFTER 16 YEARS IN POWER, BUT HE WILL CONTINUE TO RETAIN SIGNIFICANT POWER AS COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF THE CHILEAN ARMY.

-- PINOCHET IS PROUD OF THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF HIS REGIME, DEEPLY SUSPICIOUS OF DEMOCRACY AND CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT, AND STUBBORN IN HIS RESISTANCE TO OUTSIDE PRESSURES.

-- PINOCHET DESIGNED THE 1980 CONSTITUTION TO HIS SPECIFICATIONS. IT CONTAINS MANY UNDEMOCRATIC PROVISIONS, SUCH AS THE METHOD OF ELECTING SENATORS AND CONGRESSMEN.

-- THE NEW GOVERNMENT WILL HAVE TO OPERATE WITHIN THE LEGAL FRAMEWORK ESTABLISHED BY PINOCHET, LIMITING ITS ABILITY TO MAKE FUNDAMENTAL CHANGES.

O THE DEMOCRATICALLY-ELECTED GOVERNMENT OF PATRICIO AYLWIN WILL BE CHALLENGED CONTINUALLY BY PINOCHET IF HE FEELS THREATENED BY CIVILIAN RULE.

-- HE HAS VOWED TO CONFRONT THE CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT IF IT ATTEMPTS TO PROSECUTE MILITARY OFFICERS ACCUSED OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS OR CHANGE THE STATUS OF THE MILITARY.

-- PINOCHET HIMSELF IS THE GREATEST SINGLE OBSTACLE TO RESOLUTION OF THE LETELIER CASE. HE HAS PROTECTED THE TWO SECRET POLICE OFFICIALS INDICTED BY A U.S. COURT FOR THE CRIME.

OBJECTIVES:

STATE 064329 005482 488853

O CONGRATULATE PINOCHET FOR THE CONDUCT OF THE DECEMBER 14, 1989 ELECTIONS, WHICH WERE PEACEFUL, OPEN, AND FAIR.

O EMPHASIZE THAT THE U.S. SOLIDLY SUPPORTS THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS IN CHILE.

O EMPHASIZE OUR STRONG INTEREST IN NORMALIZING THE U.S. - CHILE DEFENSE RELATIONSHIP PENDING RESOLUTION OF THE LETELIER CASE.

TALKING POINTS

THE TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY

-- THE UNITED STATES CONGRATULATES YOU AND THE PEOPLE OF CHILE FOR THE SUCCESSFUL TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY AND THE ECONOMIC PROGRESS IN THE PAST SEVERAL YEARS.

-- THE DECEMBER 14 PRESIDENTIAL AND CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS WERE EXEMPLARY FOR THE REST OF THE HEMISPHERE IN THE PEACEFUL, HONEST, AND OPEN WAY THEY WERE CONDUCTED.

-- WE STRONGLY SUPPORT THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS IN CHILE, AND HOPE THAT THE CHILEAN ARMED FORCES WILL LEND ITS FULL SUPPORT TO THE NEW CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT.

NORMALIZATION OF U.S. - CHILE RELATIONS

-- THE U.S. AND CHILE SHARE MANY STRATEGIC AND POLITICAL OBJECTIVES. WE HOPE TO RESTORE A NORMAL DEFENSE RELATIONSHIP WITH THE CHILEAN ARMED FORCES -- INCLUDING RESUMPTION OF MILITARY SALES AND SECURITY ASSISTANCE.

-- A MAJOR PREREQUISITE TO THAT END IS CHILEAN COOPERATION TO RESOLVE THE LETELIER CASE.

-- I URGE YOU TO SUPPORT OUR EFFORTS TO SEEK JUSTICE FOR THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE ASSASSINATION OF ORLANDO LETELIER AND RONNI MOFFITT, AN ACT OF INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM COMMITTED ON THE STREETS OF THE CAPITAL OF THE UNITED STATES.

-- THE UNITED STATES INSISTS ON THE RESOLUTION OF THIS CASE. WE WILL NOT NORMALIZE RELATIONS UNTIL THIS IS DONE.

1. BELOW IS THE TEXT OF THE CLEARED BRIEFING MEMO FOR VP QUAYLE'S MEETING WITH PRESIDENT AYLWIN ON MARCH 12. TEXT IS PROVIDED FOR EMBASSY INFORMATION ONLY.

VICE PRESIDENT'S MEETING WITH PRESIDENT AYLWIN

BACKGROUND:

O PATRICIO AYLWIN, A VETERAN CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC POLITICIAN, WON THE FIRST DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION HELD IN CHILE SINCE THE 1973 MILITARY COUP.

-- AYLWIN'S NUMBER ONE CHALLENGE IS TO SHOW THE CHILEAN MILITARY THAT HE IS IN CONTROL.

-- HIS SECOND MOST DIFFICULT TASK WILL BE TO RESTRAIN THE EXPECTATIONS OF CHILE'S LABOR UNIONS AND POORER CLASSES WHO FEEL THAT THEY HAVE MISSED OUT ON THE BENEFITS OF THE COUNTRY'S ECONOMIC GROWTH.

O AYLWIN AND HIS CHIEF ADVISORS HAVE TOLD US THAT THEY WANT THE U.S. TO NORMALIZE ITS DEFENSE RELATIONSHIP WITH THE CHILEAN MILITARY AND TO RESTORE GSP, OPIC, AND OTHER TRADE AND INVESTMENT INCENTIVES.

-- THE U.S. CAN OFFER AYLWIN A MODEST IMET PROGRAM ($8,000) AND AN END TO SANCTIONS ON MILITARY SALES (CONTAINED IN THE KENNEDY AMENDMENT) THIS YEAR IF HIS GOVERNMENT FOLLOWS THROUGH ON PROMISES TO PAY COMPENSATION TO THE LETELIER/MOFFITT FAMILIES AND SEEK JUSTICE FOR THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE MURDERS.

-- THE INTERAGENCY GSP COMMITTEE HAS VOTED TO ACCEPT THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT'S PETITION FOR REVIEW. WE WILL INFORM THE AYLWIN ADMINISTRATION ON THE TIMETABLE OF THE REVIEW PROCESS, AND HOW THEY CAN PARTICIPATE.

OBJECTIVES:

O ASSURE AYLWIN THAT HE HAS THE FULL SUPPORT OF THE UNITED STATES IN HIS EFFORTS TO CONSOLIDATE DEMOCRACY AND

STATE 064311 005478 408025

ASSERT CONTROL OVER THE CHILEAN MILITARY.

O INFORM HIM THAT THE U.S. WILL CERTIFY THAT CHILE HAS MET THE CONDITIONS UNDER THE KENNEDY AMENDMENT WHEN HIS GOVERNMENT HAS TAKEN THE NECESSARY STEPS TO RESOLVE THE LETELIER CASE.

O ANNOUNCE THAT THE U.S. HAS ACCEPTED THE CHILEAN PETITION FOR GSP RESTORATION AND WILL BEGIN AN ACCELERATED FORMAL REVIEW PROCESS SHORTLY.

TALKING POINTS

NORMALIZATION OF U.S. - CHILE RELATIONS

O YOU CAN COUNT ON THE STRONG SUPPORT OF THE U.S. GOVERNMENT AND PEOPLE AS YOU WORK TO CONSOLIDATE CHILEAN DEMOCRACY.

O WE BELIEVE THAT RAPID NORMALIZATION OF U.S.-CHILEAN RELATIONS, INCLUDING DEFENSE, IS IN OUR MUTUAL INTEREST.

O WE ARE ENCOURAGED BY THE DISCUSSIONS BETWEEN THE STATE DEPARTMENT AND YOUR REPRESENTATIVE ON STEPS TO RESOLVE THE LETELIER CASE.

O WHEN YOUR GOVERNMENT FOLLOWS THROUGH ON COMPENSATION TO THE LETELIER/MOFFITT FAMILIES AND TAKES STEPS TO PURSUE JUSTICE FOR THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE MURDERS, WE EXPECT TO CERTIFY QUICKLY THAT CHILE HAS MET THE CONDITIONS UNDER OUR LAW.

O ONCE THE LETELIER CASE IS BEHIND US, WE CAN OFFER YOU PROFESSIONAL MILITARY TRAINING, RENEWAL OF HIGH-LEVEL MILITARY VISITS, AND RESUMPTION OF SALES OF MILITARY EQUIPMENT.

O ANY MILITARY ASSISTANCE AND COOPERATION WOULD BE CHANNELLED THROUGH YOUR MINISTRY OF DEFENSE TO REINFORCE YOUR EFFORTS TO ASSERT CIVILIAN CONTROL OVER THE ARMED FORCES.

POLITICAL OVERVIEW

THE TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY

O CHILE IS UNDERGOING A HISTORIC TRANSITION FROM AUTHORITARIANISM TO DEMOCRACY. AFTER SUFFERING DEFEAT IN A PLEBISCITE, THE MILITARY GOVERNMENT HEADED BY GENERAL PINOCHET IS VOLUNTARILY RELINQUISHING POWER TO AN ELECTED, CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT.

-- DESPITE ITS LONG TRADITION OF CONSTITUTIONAL

DECLASSIFIED

DEMOCRACY, CHILE HAS BEEN RULED SINCE SEPTEMBER 11, 1973 BY AN AUTHORITARIAN GOVERNMENT WHICH SEIZED POWER IN A BLOODY MILITARY COUP. DECLARING A WAR AGAINST COMMUNISM AND SUBVERSION, THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT BECAME NOTORIOUS FOR ITS VIOLATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS.

-- THE PLEBISCITE OF OCTOBER 5, 1988 WAS A WATERSHED EVENT IN CHILEAN HISTORY. VOTERS REJECTED PINOCHET'S REQUEST FOR AN ADDITIONAL EIGHT YEARS IN OFFICE AND OPENED THE DOOR FOR FREE AND OPEN PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS THE FOLLOWING YEAR.

-- MILITARY OFFICERS BELIEVE THAT THEY LEAVE THE GOVERNMENT WITH THEIR HONOR INTACT. THE COUNTRY'S ECONOMY IS BOOMING, FOREIGN INVESTMENT IS POURING IN, AND THE INTERNATIONAL BANKING COMMUNITY REGARDS CHILE AS A MODEL DEBTOR.

DECEMBER 14, 1989 ELECTIONS

O CHILE HELD ITS FIRST PRESIDENTIAL AND CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS IN 16 YEARS ON DECEMBER 14, 1989. VOTER TURNOUT WAS EXTREMELY HEAVY. INTERNATIONAL OBSERVERS UNIFORMLY PRAISED THE CONDUCT OF THE CAMPAIGN, AND THE ELECTIONS AS HAVING BEEN CARRIED OUT IN A PEACEFUL, HONEST MANNER.

-- PRESIDENT-ELECT PATRICIO AYLWIN WON A SOLID VICTORY IN THE ELECTIONS. HIS COALITION, WHICH INCLUDES CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS, SOCIALISTS, RADICALS, AND OTHER POLITICAL PARTIES OF THE CENTER-LEFT, ALSO WON A CLEAR MAJORITY IN THE HOUSE OF DEPUTIES AND A SIZABLE BLOC IN THE SENATE.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

-- CHILE'S RIGHT WING PARTIES WON A SIGNIFICANT NUMBER OF SEATS IN THE SENATE, GIVING THEM (ALONG WITH 9 SENATORS APPOINTED BY THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT) A SLIGHT MAJORITY IN THE UPPER HOUSE OF CONGRESS. THIS WILL GIVE THE RIGHT AN EFFECTIVE VETO OVER ATTEMPTS FOR SWEEPING CONSTITUTIONAL REFORM.

THE AYLWIN ADMINISTRATION

O AYLWIN MOVED QUICKLY AFTER THE ELECTION TO DEMONSTRATE HIS ABILITY TO GOVERN. HE MET WITH LEADERS OF THE RIGHT WING PARTIES, WITH MILITARY OFFICERS, AND WITH PINOCHET HIMSELF. IN A SHREWD MOVE, AYLWIN ASKED TWO OF THE CURRENT MILITARY COMMANDERS -- GENERAL MATTHEI OF THE AIR FORCE AND GENERAL STANGE OF THE NATIONAL POLICE -- TO STAY ON IN THEIR POSITIONS, THEREBY PROVIDING AYLWIN WITH SOME ALLIES IN DEALING WITH THE MILITARY. PINOCHET, HOWEVER, REMAINS AN OBSTACLE TO ASSERTING CIVILIAN CONTROL OVER THE MILITARY.

-- AYLWIN'S GOVERNMENT MUST REACH ACCOMMODATION WITH THE MILITARY AND THE ARMED FORCES IN ORDER TO GOVERN. PINOCHET HAS DECLARED HIS INTENTION TO STAY ON AS COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF THE ARMY (WHICH HE IS ENTITLED TO ACCORDING TO THE CONSTITUTION) IN ORDER TO "PROTECT" THAT INSTITUTION'S INTERESTS. IF HE CHOOSES TO RETIRE, PINOCHET MAY SERVE AS A MEMBER OF THE SENATE FOR LIFE.

-- THE MILITARY REMAIN SUSPICIOUS OF CIVILIANS, AND HAVE ERECTED INSTITUTIONAL BARRIERS TO PROTECT THEMSELVES FROM HUMAN RIGHTS PROSECUTIONS, REDUCTIONS IN THE ARMED FORCES BUDGET, OR ANY ATTEMPTS TO CHANGE THEIR ROLE IN CHILEAN SOCIETY.

-- THE NEW GOVERNMENT WILL ALSO FACE A CHALLENGE IN

THE CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT AND ITS INTENTIONS AND ARE FIERCELY PROTECTIVE OF THE MILITARY'S INDEPENDENCE.

-- THE ARMY HAS CONTINGENCY PLANS FOR ANOTHER COUP IF, IN THEIR VIEW, CONDITIONS WARRANT MILITARY INTERVENTION. MILITARY COMMANDERS HAVE MADE CLEAR THAT THEY WILL NOT TOLERATE A RETURN TO ALLENDE-ERA ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL CHAOS. NOR WOULD THEY ACCEPT WIDESPREAD PROSECUTIONS OF MILITARY OFFICERS FOR HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS COMMITTED DURING THE PAST 16 YEARS.

-- THE ABILITY OF THE NEW CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT TO ASSERT CONTROL OVER THE MILITARY IS HAMPERED BY THE HARDLINE ORTHODOX ATTITUDES OF THE MILITARY - THE RESULT OF YEARS OF SELF-IMPOSED ISOLATION FROM CIVIL SOCIETY. HOWEVER, THE CHILEAN MILITARY IS NOT MONOLITHIC. THE OFFICER CORPS OF THE AIR FORCE AND NATIONAL POLICE ARE THE MOST FLEXIBLE. WHILE THE HIGH COMMANDS OF THE NAVY AND ARMY ARE DOMINATED BY EXTREMELY HARDLINE CONSERVATIVES, THE NAVY IS ASSERTING ITS INDEPENDENCE VIS-A-VIS THE OTHER SERVICES.

O PRESIDENT-ELECT AYLWIN NAMED A CLOSE CONFIDANT AND FELLOW CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT, PATRICIO ROJAS, TO THE KEY JOB OF MINISTER OF DEFENSE. ROJAS IS A MEDICAL DOCTOR BY TRAINING AND HAS NO PREVIOUS MILITARY EXPERIENCE, BUT SERVED AS MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR UNDER THE FREI GOVERNMENT (1964 - 70). ROJAS WILL LIKELY HAVE A DIFFICULT TIME DEALING WITH THE ARMED FORCES AS THEY CONTINUE TO RESIST CIVILIAN CONTROL OVER DEFENSE POLICY. THE LACK OF CIVILIANS WITH EXPERTISE IN DEFENSE MATTERS FURTHER COMPLICATES A CONSTRUCTIVE DIALOGUE WITH THE MILITARY.

THE FUTURE OF GENERAL PINOCHET

O PINOCHET REMAINS THE GREATEST SINGLE THREAT TO CONTINUANCE OF THE DEMOCRATIC SYSTEM IN CHILE, BUT THE GENERAL DOES NOT HAVE THE POPULARITY HE ONCE DID EVEN

AMONG HIS FELLOW COMMANDERS. DESPITE HIS SOMETIMES CONCILIATORY ATTITUDE TOWARDS PRESIDENT-ELECT AYLWIN, PINOCHET INNATELY MISTRUSTS CIVILIAN RULE.

-- CHILE'S CURRENT CONSTITUTION, DESIGNED BY PINOCHET, PERMITS HIM TO STAY ON AS COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF THE ARMY FOR AN ADDITIONAL FOUR YEARS. HE STUBBORNLY REFUSES TO SUBORDINATE HIMSELF OR HIS INSTITUTION TO THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE. AS THE HEAD OF THE LARGEST AND PREDOMINANT MILITARY SERVICE, PINOCHET RETAINS SIGNIFICANT POWER OVER THE ARMY'S INTERNAL OPERATION, MOST SIGNIFICANTLY PROMOTIONS AND RETIREMENTS.

-- WHILE THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT WAS NOTORIOUS FOR ITS VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS, IT WAS GENERALLY CONSIDERED TO BE HONEST AND UNCORRUPT IN ITS HANDLING OF PUBLIC FINANCES AND PROPERTY. IN RECENT MONTHS, HOWEVER, THIS IMAGE HAS BEGUN TO TARNISH. THE CHILEAN PRESS HAS BEGUN TO UNCOVER EXAMPLES OF CORRUPTION WHICH MAY TRACE BACK TO PINOCHET HIMSELF.

-- PINOCHET INSTRUCTED HIS GOVERNMENT MINISTRIES TO TRANSFER GOVERNMENT PROPERTY TO THE ARMY AND TO SPEND AS MUCH OF THEIR BUDGET AS POSSIBLE BEFORE THE INAUGURATION, THEREBY DEPRIVING THE NEXT GOVERNMENT OF RESOURCES.

THE U.S. ROLE

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

O A PRIMARY OBJECTIVE OF U.S. POLICY IN CHILE IS THE CONSOLIDATION OF DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT. INCREASED CIVILIAN CONTROL OVER THE MILITARY IS AN IMPORTANT ELEMENT OF THIS PROCESS. THE U.S. CAN ASSIST BY ENDING THE INTERNATIONAL ISOLATION ENDURED BY THE CHILEAN ARMED FORCES DURING THE PINOCHET ERA AND EXPOSING THEM TO CIVIL-MILITARY RELATIONS IN A DEMOCRACY.

-- THE U.S. HOPES TO INITIATE A PROGRAM OF SECURITY ASSISTANCE AND MILITARY-TO-MILITARY EXCHANGES CHANNELED THROUGH THE MINISTRY OF DEFENSE. FOR FY 90, SOME 50,000

IN IMET FUNDS HAS BEEN APPROPRIATED FOR CHILE.

-- FINAL RESOLUTION OF THE LETELIER CASE IS THE PRIMARY OBSTACLE TO THE NORMALIZATION OF OUR DEFENSE RELATIONSHIP WITH CHILE.

CHILE: HUMAN RIGHTS

THE YEAR THAT WAS

O THE DECEMBER 14 ELECTION MARKED THE RETURN TO DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT IN CHILE, WHEREBY THE RIGHT OF CITIZENS TO CHANGE THEIR GOVERNMENT WAS RESTORED AFTER 16 YEARS OF MILITARY DICTATORSHIP.

O EVEN BEFORE THE ELECTIONS, THE HUMAN RIGHTS ENVIRONMENT IMPROVED DRAMATICALLY, THOUGH ISOLATED INSTANCES OF ABUSE CONTINUED.

THE YEAR THAT WILL BE

O WHILE WE FULLY ANTICIPATE THE HUMAN RIGHTS PRACTICES OF THE AYLWIN GOVERNMENT WILL BE COMMENDABLE, MANY LAWS WHICH HOLD THE POTENTIAL FOR MISUSE AND RESTRICTION OF CIVIL LIBERTIES REMAIN IN EFFECT. THE AYLWIN GOVERNMENT WILL COME UNDER PRESSURE TO MODIFY OR REPEAL THOSE LAWS.

O RESOLUTION OF THE LETELIER CASE REMAINS A MAJOR ISSUE IN US/CHILEAN RELATIONS. OUR DISCUSSIONS THUS FAR ON THIS SUBJECT WITH AYLWIN AND HIS DESIGNEES HAVE BEEN POSITIVE.

O THE MOST DIFFICULT DOMESTIC HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUE FACING THE AYLWIN GOVERNMENT WILL BE THE HANDLING OF PAST HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES:

-- THE EXTREME LEFT WOULD LIKE TO PURSUE AS MANY CASES AS POSSIBLE, PARTICULARLY THOSE THAT OCCURRED BEFORE THE 1978 AMNESTY; INVESTIGATION AND PROSECUTION IS THE GOAL, WITH DISCREDITING OF THE MILITARY SEEN AS A USEFUL SPINOFF.

-- AYLWIN WANTS TO MINIMIZE HUMAN RIGHTS PROSECUTIONS IN ORDER NOT TO ANTAGONIZE THE MILITARY; HE IS CONSTRAINED TO GOVERN WITHIN A LEGAL FRAMEWORK CONSTRUCTED BY PINOCHET.

-- AYLWIN AND THE MORE MODERATE HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVISTS ARE AWARE OF THE DANGERS OF IRRITATING THE MILITARY, BUT THEY RECOGNIZE AT THE SAME TIME THAT THE CHILEAN CONGRESS MAY FORCE THEIR HAND IN PURSUING HUMAN RIGHTS CASES.

FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS IN CHILE HAS BEEN EXPRESSED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY AND BY THE COMMISSION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN NUMEROUS RESOLUTIONS STARTING IN 1974,

LAMENTING THAT, IN SPITE OF THE IMPROVEMENT IN THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE, THE MILITARY GOVERNMENT HAS NOT CARRIED OUT SEVERAL OF THE

RECOMMENDATIONS CONTAINED IN THE MANY REPORTS PREPARED ON THIS SUBJECT, HAVING ITSELF PROMULGATED LAWS THAT CONSTITUTE AN INSTITUTIONAL JURIDICAL FRAMEWORK THAT IS ANATHEMA TO THE RESPECT OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS, BEARING IN MIND THAT, IN CIRCUMSTANCES SUCH AS THOSE DESCRIBED BY THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR, MUCH REMAINS TO BE DONE BEFORE THE CHILEAN SOCIETY CAN ENJOY A SYSTEM THAT CAN BE TRUSTED WITH THE JURISDICTIONAL PROTECTION OF FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS AND HUMAN RIGHTS, AND ESPECIALLY BECAUSE OF THE HEAVY INSTITUTIONAL BURDEN THE NEW GOVERNMENT MUST BEAR,

Concept Paper

The following steps could be taken simultaneously or in the sequential order listed. They could be recorded in a memorandum of understanding between the governments or they could be taken based upon an informal understanding between governments.

1. The Government of Chile would make an ex gratia payment of an acceptable amount to the Letelier/Moffitt families, victims of the assassination which occurred in Washington, D.C., in 1976. In return:

   a. the families of the victims would drop their legal efforts in the United States against the Republic of Chile;

   b. the U.S. Government would drop its espousal of the claims of the families of the victims;

   c. the U.S. Government would drop its claim against the Government of Chile;

   d. the Department of State would inform interested members of Congress that further efforts to legislate a remedy to provide fair compensation to the families of the victims was no longer necessary.

2. The Government of Chile would inform the United States of efforts it is making, and that it intends to make, to bring to justice the persons responsible for the Letelier assassination. These would include: seeking an amendment of Chilean law to provide for prosecution in civil courts of military personnel accused of criminal conduct; reopening the "passports case;" and, appointing a special prosecutor.

3. The Governments of Chile and the United States of America would make the appointments necessary to fill the vacancies on the 1914 Treaty Commission and agree that either government could constitute the Commission if it was considered necessary to pursue justice and to resolve the Letelier case.

4. The United States would make the findings required by Sec. 726 of the International Security and Development Cooperation Act of 1981 (the Kennedy-Harkin Amendment) and by 545(c)(2) of the FY 1990 Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Act (P.L. 101-167).

NORMALIZATION OF THE RELATIONSHIP

O THE U.S. WANTS A FULL POLITICAL AND DEFENSE RELATIONSHIP WITH THE NEW DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT OF PATRICIO AYLWIN. WE WANT TO RESTORE TRADE AND INVESTMENT BENEFITS, AND END THE INTERNATIONAL ISOLATION WHICH CHILE SUFFERED UNDER MILITARY RULE.

-- CHILE AND THE U.S. HAVE HISTORICALLY ENJOYED CLOSE ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL TIES. THE U.S. IS CHILE'S PRINCIPAL TRADING PARTNER, AND U.S. COMPANIES HAVE LARGE INVESTMENTS IN CHILE.

-- CHILE IS AN IMPORTANT DEMONSTRATION OF THE COMPATIBILITY OF DEMOCRACY, FREE-MARKET ECONOMIC SYSTEMS, AND ECONOMIC GROWTH.

RESOLUTION OF THE LETELIER CASE

O RELATIONS WITH THE PINOCHET REGIME WORSENED WHEN THE 1976 ASSASSINATION OF ORLANDO LETELIER AND RONNI MOFFITT IN WASHINGTON D.C. WAS TRACED BACK TO PINOCHET'S SECRET POLICE.

-- THE U.S. CONGRESS IMPOSED SANCTIONS ON THE SALE OF ARMS AND THE PROVISION OF MILITARY ASSISTANCE TO CHILE IN 1976 (THE "KENNEDY AMENDMENT").

-- THE KENNEDY AMENDMENT CONDITIONS RESTORATION OF ARMS SALES AND SECURITY ASSISTANCE TO HUMAN RIGHTS OBSERVANCE AND RESOLUTION OF THE LETELIER CASE. THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT COOPERATED ONLY MINIMALLY IN THE INVESTIGATION OF THE CASE AND REFUSED TO EXTRADITE TWO OFFICIALS OF THE SECRET POLICE -- GENERAL CONTRERAS AND COLONEL ESPINOZA -- INDICTED BY A U.S. COURT FOR THE CRIME.

-- PRESIDENT-ELECT AYLWIN WANTS TO COOPERATE WITH US TO RESOLVE THE CASE, BUT RECOGNIZES THAT THE MILITARY WILL BLOCK ANY ATTEMPT TO PROSECUTE CONTRERAS AND ESPINOZA.

-- THE U.S. GOVERNMENT HAS ESPOUSED A U.S. COURT JUDGMENT WON BY THE LETELIER/MOFFITT FAMILIES AGAINST THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT.

-- AYLWIN HAS INDICATED TO US HIS WILLINGNESS TO PAY COMPENSATION TO THE FAMILIES. HE FAVORS INVOKING THE 1914 BRYAN TREATY TO ESTABLISH THE AMOUNT OF COMPENSATION.

RESTORATION OF GSP AND OPIC BENEFITS

O CHILE WAS REMOVED FROM ELIGIBILITY FOR GSP (GENERALIZED SYSTEM OF PREFERENCES) AND OPIC (OVERSEAS PRIVATE INVESTMENT CORPORATION) TRADE AND INVESTMENT BENEFITS IN DECEMBER 1987 FOR ITS DENIAL OF INTERNATIONALLY-RECOGNIZED WORKERS RIGHTS.

-- THE INTERAGENCY GSP SUBCOMMITTEE RECENTLY ACCEPTED THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT'S PETITION FOR REVIEW.

-- A SCHEDULE OF PUBLIC HEARINGS FOR THIS REVIEW WILL BE ESTABLISHED SHORTLY. WE HOPE THAT THIS PROCESS COULD BE ACCELERATED SO THAT GSP/OPIC COULD BE RESTORED AS EXPEDITIOUSLY AS POSSIBLE.

-- THE CHILEAN LABOR MOVEMENT STRONGLY FAVORS GSP/OPIC RESTORATION. THE AFL-CIO HAS GONE ON RECORD SUPPORTING GSP/OPIC FOR CHILE.

U.S. ASSISTANCE FOR THE NEW DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT

O WE ARE REVIEWING U.S. ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS IN CHILE TO HELP THE NEW CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT ADDRESS PRESSING SOCIAL NEEDS. SINCE CHILE IS A RELATIVELY ADVANCED DEVELOPING COUNTRY, A LARGE ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE PROGRAM IS NOT NECESSARY.

-- USAID HAS A MODEST PROGRAM IN CHILE, FOCUSING ON CIVIC ACTION, MICROENTERPRISE DEVELOPMENT, ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE, AND HOUSING GUARANTEES. USAID IS CONSIDERING EXPANDING THESE PROJECTS AND ADDING ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AND VOCATIONAL EDUCATION.

O WE WILL SUPPORT THE NEW CHILEAN ECONOMIC TEAM IN DEALING WITH ITS EXTERNAL DEBT PROBLEM AND WILL SUPPORT ECONOMICALLY-VIABLE LOANS TO CHILE FROM INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS.

O THE U.S. WILL ENCOURAGE INVESTMENT IN CHILE AND SEEK TO ELIMINATE TRADE BARRIERS.

O WE WILL EXPLORE BRINGING THE PEACE CORPS BACK TO CHILE, TO WORK ON PROJECTS RANGING FROM MICROENTERPRISE DEVELOPMENT TO ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION.

WHO AMONG US DID NOT REVEL IN THE JUBILATION OF THE THOUSANDS OF BERLINERS WHO BEGAN THE TASK OF TEARING DOWN THEIR SYMBOL OF OPPRESSION? AND WHO AMONG US DID NOT FEEL DEEP SORROW AS WE WATCHED THE FILMS OF CHINESE TANKS ROLLING THROUGH TIANANMEN SQUARE. THESE TWO EVENTS EPITOMIZED BOTH THE HEIGHTS AND THE DEPTHS THAT THE STRUGGLE FOR UNIVERSAL HUMAN RIGHTS REACHED DURING THE PAST YEAR. NO ONE CAN DOUBT THAT WE ARE LIVING THROUGH TRULY EXTRAORDINARY TIMES. INDEED, THE WORLD'S GREAT POWERS HAVE ALREADY BEGUN TO DESTROY SOME OF THEIR OWN WEAPONS OF DEATH. STILL EXIST GOVERNMENTS WHOSE RAISON D'ETRE IS THE TYRANNY OF TOTALITARIANISM.

THE PAST YEAR HAS BEEN ONE OF HISTORIC TRANSITION, ESPECIALLY IN EASTERN EUROPE. THROUGHOUT THE REGION, THE MARCH TOWARD FREEDOM AND DEMOCRACY GATHERS MOMENTUM. THE POLES HELD FREE AND FAIR ELECTIONS DURING THE PAST YEAR, AND AT THIS COMMISSION, PRESIDENT JARUZELSKI PLEDGED HIS COUNTRY'S CONTINUOUS VIGOROUS EFFORTS IN THE PROMOTION AND EXPANSION OF HUMAN RIGHTS. THE WORD SOLIDARITY WILL FOREVER LIVE ON AS A TERM SYNONYMOUS WITH THE FIGHT FOR FREEDOM. WITHOUT "SOLIDARITY" TODAY'S WORLD WOULD BE VERY DIFFERENT.

DURING THE COMING MONTHS, THERE ARE SCHEDULED TO BE DEMOCRATICALLY CONTESTED FREE ELECTIONS THROUGHOUT EASTERN EUROPE -- IN EAST GERMANY, CZECHOSLAVAKIA, HUNGARY, BULGARIA AND ROMANIA. AND IN THE SOVIET UNION, WHERE WE HAVE SEEN A MARKED IMPROVEMENT IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION, AND PARTICULARLY WITH RESPECT TO THE FREEDOM TO EMIGRATE, THERE WAS THE RECENT ANNOUNCEMENT BY PRESIDENT GORBACHEV THAT THE COMMUNIST PARTY NO LONGER MUST BE THE DOMINANT POLITICAL FORCE AND THAT ITS HEGEMONIC ROLE HAS ENDED. WE CERTAINLY HOPE THAT THIS "NEW THINKING" WILL HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY TO TAKE ROOT DURING THE UPCOMING ELECTIONS IN THE VARIOUS SOVIET REPUBLICS. WE HOPE THAT FREE ELECTIONS WILL CONTINUE TO BE THE VEHICLE TO CHANNEL ASPIRATIONS OF FREEDOM OF ALL PEOPLE WHO STILL LIVE IN TOTALITARISM REGIMES.

UNFORTUNATELY, THESE CHANGES HAVE NOT BEEN ENTIRELY PEACEFUL. IN ROMANIA, WE WERE WITNESS TO THE SAVAGE BRUTALITY OF AN OLD, FORCEFUL DICTATORSHIP, WHICH WAS OVERTHROWN AMIDST BLOOD AND MOURNING.

CHILE (SEE REFTEL.) IS NOT AN IDEAL TEXT. IT IS RATHER GRUDGING IN ITS PRAISE OF CHILE'S RETURN TO DEMOCRACY. DEPARTMENT SHOULD NOTE THAT USDEL AND UK PROPOSED CHANGES IN THE TEXT, BUT NEITHER LATIN NOR OTHER WEOG DELS WERE INTERESTED IN ANY DISCUSSIONS. THEY SAID THAT THE ELIMINATION OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR SHOULD BE THE ONLY VALID CONCERN, AND THE RESOLUTION DOES ACCOMPLISH THIS. SEVERAL WESTERN DELEGATIONS (SWEDEN, NETHERLANDS) SUPPORTED THE CONTINUATION OF THE MANDATE OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FOR AN ADDITIONAL YEAR. (THE CHILE SITUATION WAS ELIMINATED AS A SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM DURING THE ORGANIZATION OF WORK OF THE COMMISSION.)
4. ACCORDING TO THE LATINS, THE TEXT WAS VETTED EXTENSIVELY IN SANTIAGO OVER A PERIOD OF FOUR OR FIVE DAYS, AND HAS BEEN ACCEPTED BY THE GOVERNMENT-ELECT. (PLEASE NOTE THAT REFTEL SHOULD HAVE SPECIFIED THAT THESE CONSULTATIONS TOOK PLACE WITH THE GOVERNMENT-ELECT, NOT THE CURRENT GOC.) SPECIFICALLY, THE FINAL PARAGRAPH ON THE "REPORT" OF THE NEW GOVERNMENT OF CHILE NEXT YEAR WAS SAID TO HAVE BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED WITH, AND APPROVED BY, THE NEW GOVERNMENT.

5. ACCORDING TO CHILE'S OBSERVER DEL HERE, THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT-ELECT HAD BEEN IN SUBSTANTIAL ACCORD WITH THE TEXT. THE NEGOTIATORS HERE, HOWEVER, HAD NOT SHOWN HIM A COPY AS OF NOON ON MARCH 1.

6. USDEL WOULD LIKE TO MAKE A STRONG EXPLANATION OF VOTE PRAISING THE RETURN OF DEMOCRACY IN CHILE, AND WOULD APPRECIATE ANY TALKING POINTS DEPARTMENT CAN ADD TO THOSE CONTAINED IN BRIEFING BOOK. ABRAM

SUBJECT: LAUTAURO ORGANIZATION ATTACKS TWO GOC INSTALLATIONS

1. (U) MEMBERS OF THE LAUTARO TERRORIST ORGANIZATION'S MOVIMIENTO JUVENIL LAUTARO (MJL) AND FUERZAS REBELDES POPULARES LAUTARO (FRPL) ATTACKED TWO GOC INSTALLATIONS ON FEB. 27.

2. (U) THE FIRST INCIDENT OCCURRED IN THE CITY OF CONCEPCION AND INVOLVED AN MJL ATTACK ON A CARABINERO OFFICE OCCUPIED BY MEMBERS OF OS-7, THE CARABINERO CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIVE UNIT. MJL TERRORISTS COMMANDEERED A TAXI AND CONDUCTED A DRIVEBY SHOOTING WITH M-16 RIFLES AT THE OFFICE, LEAVING ONE CARABINERO SERIOUSLY WOUNDED. MJL LITERATURE WAS LEFT AT THE SCENE.

3. (U) THE SECOND INCIDENT INVOLVED AN ATTACK BY THE FRPL ON AN OFFICE OF THE MILITARY COURT IN SANTIAGO WITH AUTOMATIC WEAPONS AND A LAW ROCKET. THIS INCIDENT OCCURRED AT 2130 HRS. ACCORDING TO AN EYEWITNESS REPORT MENTIONED IN THE LOCAL PRESS, THREE INDIVIDUALS WERE INVOLVED. A LAW WAS FIRED AT THE INSTALLATION. RIFLE FIRE WAS DIRECTED AT THE INSTALLATION AS WELL. NO INFORMATION IS AVAILABLE REGARDING INJURIES OR DAMAGE AT THIS TIME. FRPL LITERATURE WAS LEFT AT THE SCENE.

4. (S) THESE TWO ATTACKS INVOLVE A DEPARTURE FROM TRADITIONAL LAUTARO TACTICS. PRIOR TO THIS, LAUTARO HAD NOT ATTACKED FORTIFIED GOC INSTALLATIONS AND HAD NEVER, TO OUR KNOWLEDGE, USED A LAW IN ANY OF ITS OPERATIONS. THERE IS NOW SOME FEELING THAT THE LAUTARO MAY HAVE ALSO BEEN RESPONSIBLE FOR TWO ATTACKS CARRIED OUT SIMULTANEOUSLY AGAINST A CARABINERO STATION AND AN INVESTIGACIONES DE CHILE POLICE OFFICE ON FEB. 8 IN THE LA BANDERA SECTION OF SANTIAGO. THESE ATTACKS WERE ORIGINALLY ATTRIBUTED TO A MIR ELEMENT, "COMANDO ARTURO VILLAVELA", AFTER THE MEDIA WAS NOTIFIED BY SOMEONE WHO CLAIMED TO REPRESENT THIS "COMANDO" AND WHO CLAIMED CREDIT FOR THIS INCIDENT. THE MIR HAS PUBLICLY DENIED ANY INVOLVEMENT AND POST HAS NO INFORMATION REGARDING THE "COMANDO ARTURO VILLAVELA", OTHER THAN VILLAVELA WAS A MIR LEADER WHO WAS KILLED BY SECURITY FORCES IN 1983.

5. (S) ANY LAUTARO INVOLVEMENT WITH LAW ROCKETS REPRESENTS A POTENTIALLY SERIOUS ESCALATION OF THE THREAT AGAINST AMERICANS IN CHILE. THE LAUTARO GROUPS ARE VERY ANTI-AMERICAN AND HAVE CONDUCTED NUMEROUS OPERATIONS IN THE PAST AGAINST SOFT AMERICAN TARGETS, SUCH AS MORMON CHURCHES. PRIOR TO THIS, THE ONLY TERRORIST GROUPS IN CHILE WHO WERE KNOWN TO HAVE LAWS AND M-26 RIFLES WERE THE FPMR AND FPMR/D. POST IS INVESTIGATING TO SEE IF EITHER OF THESE GROUPS WAS THE SOURCE OF THE LAUTARO LAWS AND, IF SO, WHETHER THIS REPRESENTS SOME TYPE OF ALLIANCE BETWEEN THE LAUTARO ORGANIZATIONS AND THE FPMR GROUPS.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING
BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AND CHILE

1. The Governments of the Republic of Chile and of the United States agree that a dispute exists between them concerning responsibility for the deaths of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt in Washington, D.C. on September 21, 1976.

2. On January 12, 1989 the United States invoked the Treaty for the Settlement of Disputes that May Occur Between the United States and Chile, which entered into force on January 19, 1916, "to investigate and report upon the facts surrounding the deaths of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt in Washington, D.C. on September 21, 1976, including the involvement of Chilean Government officials in those deaths, and to investigate and report upon the extent to which officials of the Government of Chile obstructed subsequent investigations into the deaths."

3. The United States has sought compensation from Chile on behalf of the families of Letelier and Moffitt, on the ground that Chile is legally responsible under international law for ~~their~~ deaths. The parties agree, however, that no need exists to resolve the merits of this claim of liability, since the Government of Chile is willing to make an ex gratia payment to the Government of the United States of America, to be received on behalf of the families of the victims.

4. The Governments of the United States and Chile agree that the amount of the ex gratia payment should be equal to that which would be due if liability were established, and should be determined by the Commission established by the 1914 Treaty, in accordance with the procedures set forth in Annex 1. The Governments agree that, notwithstanding the invocation of the 1914 Treaty by the United States January 12, 1989, in light of the understandings set forth herein, the amount of the compensation to be paid shall be the sole question to be determined by the Commission. The Parties agree to submit to the Commission the Joint Statement attached at Annex 2.

UNCLASSIFIED

5. The Government of Chile agrees to pay to the Government of the United States, as its ex gratia payment in this matter, the amount of compensation as determined by the Commission. The Government of Chile undertakes to make the aforesaid payment within ____ days of the issuance by the Commission of its determination in this matter.

6. Upon receipt of the ex gratia payment referred to in para. 5 above, the Government of the United States will regard as satisfied the claim espoused in its diplomatic note to the Government of Chile of _____.

7. The Government of Chile has provided to the Government of the United States a diplomatic note, dated_____, and attached to this Memorandum of Understanding as Annex 3, which sets forth the intended actions of the Government of Chile to investigate and take such actions as may be possible to bring to justice persons responsible for the deaths of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt.

8. Upon fulfillment of the obligation in paragraph 5, and once steps have been taken in fulfillment of the intended actions of the Government of Chile set forth in Annex 3, the Government of the United States will make the finding required by Section 726 of the International Security and Development Cooperation Act of 1981.

9. The United States will immediately take steps to make the finding required by Section 545(c)(2) of the FY 1990 Foreign Operations, Export Financing and Related Programs Act.

Following are remarks by Secretary Baker before the International Affairs Committee of the Supreme Soviet and the question-and-answer session with members of that committee, Moscow, February 10, 1990.

Members of the committee, ladies and gentlemen: It is a high honor for me and my country to have this opportunity to be with you today. I come before you as a representative of the United States of America. But I also come before you as a witness—a witness testifying on history's behalf. Testifying to you as a witness to a revolution—a revolution among your peoples, a revolution in relations between nations, and a revolution in human consciousness. As President Bush and I have said over and over again: We wish you success in your revolution of perestroika, glasnost, and, above all, democratization.

For what we are witnessing in this land, and in the lands of central and Eastern Europe, is a transformation of man's understanding of man. Before perestroika and the people-power revolutions of 1989, the center ruled ruthlessly and sometimes irrationally, ever fearful that the individual would assert his spirit, ever fearful that reason and the truth would triumph over dogmatism and the lie. Driven by a profound sense of insecurity, the center egotistically reserved to itself every conceivable decision; in effect, stealing away the peoples' choice. Eventually, this concentration of power impoverished these lands as the center grew more and more bloated and the people became more and more lean.

In this world turned upside down, in this world of darkness at noon, if you will, words lost their honest meaning. Indeed, 54 years ago, the new Soviet Constitution made this body the supreme governmental authority in the land. But while in word, the Supreme Soviet governed the people, we all now sadly know that, indeed, they were ruled by someone else.

But today, things are different. We see words fulfilled. Today, we see reason's return. Today, I come before the Founding Fathers of a new Soviet Union—a new Soviet Union which you are building.

This unprecedented opportunity to appear here today symbolizes what I hope will become an enduring new era, not only in Soviet politics but also in Soviet-American relations. As you—the elected representatives of the Soviet people—assert the peoples' power and make the choices that ultimately belong to them, universal, democratic values are taking root here. And the rooting of these values in institutions like this one is securing your nation against the insecurities of the past in ways that no single leader, however well-intentioned, can. As I quoted my friend Foreign Minister Shevardnadze when I spoke in Prague on Tuesday: "Only an advanced democracy can give guarantees against the abuse of power and can secure a nation against repression."

Strengthening the power of the Supreme Soviet can be one step forward that advances democracy. It is an essential step, because a working legislature embodies the basic values of democracy: sanctity of the individual; respect for those with different beliefs; the supremacy of the rule of law as reason's triumph over arbitrary rule in political life; and the right of the people to determine their fate through their freely elected representatives. The free exchange of ideas in an open, public legislated debate tempers political passions and encourages the solution of society's problems through dialogue, not through force. In this way, and through its critical oversight functions, a legislature holds the government accountable to the people.

In my country, that is precisely what the Congress does. It holds me accountable to the American people. Repeatedly—far too often for anyone but a mathematician to calculate—I am requested to appear before the committees of the House and Senate. Repeatedly, I am questioned on everything from our behavior toward this great nation to the activities of a clerk in a small, remote consulate somewhere in the world. Repeatedly, I travel to Capitol Hill to fulfill my obligation to the people of the United States of America.

This obligation, in my view, firmly underpins our policy toward the Soviet Union. As I noted, President Bush and I have said on several occasions we very much want perestroika to succeed. In part, we wish perestroika well because perestroika and the "new thinking" promise Soviet foreign and defense policies that are fundamentally less threatening to the American people than the hostile Stalinist approaches of the past. This is, of course, in the interest of the American people. But perestroika, and especially glasnost and democratization, are also creating Soviet internal policies that allow the Soviet people the freedom they deserve. In just 5 short years, your peoples are enjoying freedom and liberty in a way that—at least to a foreign observer—seems unparalleled in Soviet history.

Consequently, the essence of American foreign policy toward the Soviet Union is a search for points of mutual advantage that will create enduring improvements in our mutual relations. We can transform the Soviet-American relationships by moving away from confrontation and through dialogue to cooperation, as Foreign Minister Shevardnadze has phrased it. Let me be clear: Differences and conflicts will remain. But the hostility of the past can be replaced by understanding and even empathy. And even when we disagree, every dispute need not be turned into a crisis and every crisis need not raise the specter of war. In the cold war, every crisis was seen as a very, very dangerous threat. In tomorrow's peace, let us remember that each crisis can be an opportunity—an opportunity to build a better world.

Let me now, if I might, discuss the areas where we believe we can most productively find these points of mutual advantage between the United States and the Soviet Union.

First, in Europe, we would like to work with the Soviet Union and the other countries of the continent to end the unnatural division of Europe, to create a Europe which is both whole and free. In the revolutions of 1989, President Gorbachev's far-sighted policy of noninterference is an important influence in a very, very turbulent situation. By encouraging peaceful reconciliation in the region, President Gorbachev's actions have played a vital role in supporting creation of legitimate governments. These legitimate governments happen to be the key to stability and the key to peace. As I said in Prague, these are peaceful, democratic revolutions. We should all work together to make sure that they remain so.

One way that this committee of the Supreme Soviet can help, in our opinion, is to take up our proposal to send Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe (CSCE) observer delegations to the elections in central and Eastern Europe this spring. Observer delegations can ensure that the elections are free, that they are fair, and that the elected governments are legitimate in the most basic sense of that word.

Second, in regional conflicts, our diplomacy aims for political and not military settlements to the various disputes that continue to threaten global stability. We are making progress together on some disputes; for example, in southern Africa and Southeast Asia. But we remain especially disturbed by the military shipments that your government continues to send to those seeking military solutions to conflicts in regions that the United States considers vital to us.

Quite frankly, the American people and their congressional representatives have trouble understanding how your government can afford to send billions of rubles of assistance to countries like Cuba and Nicaragua, just so they can support the subversion of our democratically elected neighbors. This is even less comprehensible when it happens at a time when your people clearly need these scarce resources put to good use at home. One of the functions that our Congress exercises most carefully is the review of our foreign aid budget, especially to critical regions. And if you'll permit me to say so, I think it would be good if you did the same with regard to military assistance to Central America.

Third, in arms control, we can make solid progress to control not only nuclear arms but conventional and chemical weapons as well. Much of my time in Moscow this week has been devoted to negotiations on the strategic arms reduction treaty, a treaty whose basic provisions we hope to have agreed by the time our Presidents next meet in June of this year. We also can find mutual advantage in a conventional forces agreement that will ensure a balance of forces in Europe and that will codify a more stable and predictable strategic relationship there.

On chemical weapons, President Bush has presented a practical proposal that provides the best way for banning the horrific weapons from the face of the earth. I am gratified that today the United States and the Soviet Union have issued a joint announcement embracing the key elements of the President's initiative. We also want to cooperate with your government more effectively on the question of missile proliferation to Third World countries.

Over the longer term, security will be enhanced when our military budgets are open to all. In Prague, I suggested that we look into ways in CSCE to open up the military budgets of all 35 CSCE member states. Legislative committees like this one have a vital role to play, ensuring that the people's money is wisely spent.

Fourth, we may have something to offer you in your attempts to build a state which is based on the rule of law. I do not claim in any way that American democracy is perfect. It is the inherent nature of a democracy that it must always strive to be better. But we do have a great deal of experience to share on some issues, especially translating the protection of individual rights into legal codes and institutionalizing the operation of pluralist political institutions. In our view, the party plenum's repudiation of special political or legal means to preserve the party's monopoly on power was a tremendous step toward democracy in the Soviet Union.

Fifth, we've been exploring with your experts how we can provide technical cooperation in transforming your command-administrative system into one with certain characteristics of a market-based economy. Continuing exchanges will be helpful, but some legal changes need to be made also for cooperation to flourish.

We also need to expand and accelerate our cooperation in combating environmental problems that threaten the welfare of all of us.

In these five areas then, I think we can find points of mutual advantage for both the Soviet and the American people. I cannot promise and, of course, no one can promise that our search for cooperation will always be rewarded. But I can say this; the American people and the people of the Soviet Union have great respect for each other's achievements. Each of us is heir to great historical and cultural traditions. Yet for over 40 years, we have waged a cold war against one another.

Now is the time, if I might suggest it, to put the legacy of struggle behind us. Today, we face a different struggle, and we face it in a fast changing world. Together, we must try to understand each other. Together, we must try to agree where possible and to work together based on that agreement. And together we must search for opportunities to expand our cooperation.

Now is the time for us to build a new legacy. Now it is time to move beyond the cold war.

Chairman Dzasokhov. I thank you for your interesting statement. I believe that this time, it has been imbued with an interest of further advancing Soviet-U.S. relations and, even though you have touched upon in your statement quite a few important aspects regarding the relationship between our two countries and the assessments of the world situation, I am, nevertheless, sure that my colleagues, People's Deputies, have some questions to ask and they could be asked now.

Deputy Enger. In the framework of expanding friendly relations between our two countries, do you think it would be possible for us to organize joint action, humanitarian action to release Soviet prisoners-of-war who are captured by field commanders of the opposition forces? This is not politics or ideology. It is a question of purely humanitarian aid to be provided to people who are suffering in violation of international law.

A. Let me say that I agree with the conclusion of your statement. It is and would be humanitarian action. When I came to Moscow last May, I met with some newly elected members of the Congress of People's Deputies who raised this question with me. When I went back to the United States, I gave some instructions to pursue this matter, and we have, in fact, done so.

We have made inquiries through associates or allies of certain mujahadin elements in Afghanistan to see what we could do to be of assistance in obtaining the release of Soviet prisoners-of-war. And I think that we have had here recently some positive results. In any event, we will continue those efforts because we see them as appropriate, as proper, and as humanitarian efforts.

Deputy Burlatskiy. First of all, I would like to thank you for your very interesting statement and particularly for the political support being provided by President Bush and you personally to our perestroika and the changes underway in our country and Eastern Europe.

We have to explain to our public opinion and to the Deputies in the Supreme Soviet what is changing, in this connection, in the policies of the United States of America, and our public gets the impression that these changes are inadequate to our steps and our initiatives. In this connection, I would like to ask you a question concerning the plans that the U.S. Administration has with regard to the well-known Jackson-Vanik amendment and creating favorable conditions for our economic cooperation.

Secondly, as regards changing the limitations superimposed during the cold war on the economic cooperation with the Soviet Union by the United States.

And thirdly, and most importantly, concerning a possibility of radically changing in the foreseeable future the military budget. We keep arguing in the Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R. and representatives of the Ministry of Defense provide serious arguments to the effect that we reduce our military budget and proceed with conversion, the United States does not match our steps.

A. Let me start at the last point you made and say that the military budget of the United States is coming down in real terms. We are seeing a decline in our military budget. The President himself has submitted a budget that represents a decline over prior years. The rate of growth of our military budget was at its peak some 4 or 5 or 6 years ago.

I think you were assuming that the political situation continues to evolve in the manner in which it is evolving. You will continue to see this approach by the United States with respect to its military spending.

With respect to general economic cooperation, let me simply say that we are now cooperating, I think, across a broad range of economic matters. We initiated, at the U.S.'s suggestion at our ministerial meeting in Wyoming in the United States last September, a process of technical, economic cooperation between the United States and the Soviet Union. We have now actively ongoing, or planned for dates specific in the future, the negotiation of a commercial agreement which is a precondition to our waiving Jackson-Vanik restrictions on most-favored-nation treatment.

But we have made it clear that we would like to see that waiver accomplished as soon as possible. It would be helpful to us in that connection if you could finish passage of the free immigration law that I understand has passed the Supreme Soviet on first reading.

But we are negotiating that commercial agreement. We are negotiating a bilateral investment treaty. We are negotiating a tax treaty. And we have other economic agreements on the drawing board for consideration. We think that this is an area where there can be greatly enhanced cooperation between our two countries.

In the area of technical economic cooperation, we have suggested a whole range of different types of exchanges, both visits and exchanges of information, and we've heard back from the Soviet side with respect to many of those—not all of them. But we really stand ready to cooperate in every way that we can economically in order to assist the progress of economic reform in the Soviet Union.

One final comment that gets back to the general question of what are you doing to enhance this relationship and move it forward. One thing that we know for certain and that is, I think, of particular relevance to this committee, perestroika—the success of perestroika—would benefit from a stable, international environment, and we are doing what we can in that regard by close consultation with my counterpart; by close consultation, indeed, between President Bush and President Gorbachev with respect to some of the regional conflict issues that have existed between us in the past.

In addition to that, we are making, I think, very good progress across the broad range of the arms control agenda.

We have just concluded what I think is a particularly successful ministerial in that regard—a joint statement, if you will—between the United States and the Soviet Union with respect to the total elimination of, first, the significant drawdown and then, ultimately, the total elimination of chemical weapons. We are now in a position to lead the world jointly toward this goal. I think that's a significant thing.

We are coming closer and closer together with respect to a conventional forces agreement. We are very close on questions of tanks, of artillery, and armored personnel carriers between NATO and the Warsaw Pact. The manpower proposal that President Gorbachev gave me yesterday, in my meeting with him, is remarkably close to a similar proposal that President Bush had advanced only a week earlier. We still have some significant differences with respect to aircraft. But if we are able to conclude the Warsaw Pact and NATO—to conclude a conventional forces agreement, this will enable both of us to make savings in defense expenditures and perhaps apply those savings in other areas.

We've made very good progress toward a strategic arms treaty, resolving some issues that existed between us for many, many years. We worked very hard over the course of the last 2 days. We finished last night at midnight. And we're getting some of these issues out of the way.

All of this, I think, will help to continue to move us from a relationship of competition to one of cooperation.

Deputy Neyland. I have three questions for you and I will try to be brief. One, my colleagues and I in the committee are concerned by the statement by the U.S. side concerning the fact that after you have ratified the 1974 and 1976 agreements concerning nuclear testing, you intend to suspend, perhaps for some time, the negotiations with the Soviet Union to get a comprehensive test ban. I am interested in this. What do you intend to do? When the 1974 and 1976 agreements are ratified, will it be a long pause, and so on?

My second question concerns Panama. I do not want to speak about the laws that the United States violated, but I am convinced that, as head of the State Department, you must have weighed the positive and the negative aspects in taking these decisions. I would like to inform you of one negative aspect, which you probably didn't take into account.

It is this: In this country, and I am speaking in terms of the American categories—we also have our hawks and doves—and the actions of the United States in Panama provided additional arguments to our hawks, especially after the top summit meeting in Malta when we had the impression that our relations have undergone a qualitative change. And then, all of a sudden—I do not want to characterize your intervention in any terms—your intervention in Panama happened.

There is no question that this will complicate, in our parliament, the consideration of our proposal to proceed along the road of disarmament. Because as it is, there are forces in this country that believe that the Soviet side, and personally Comrade Gorbachev, are doing more than you do.

I would request a third question because I am from a Baltic Republic, and my question concerns a Baltic Republic. President Bush, in late January, spoke about the Baltic Republics and Azerbaijan. I have an article, a leading article from The Washington Post, that wrote that [inaudible] by recognizing that that has an internal question of the Soviet Union, Mr. Bush, and I quote: "He was sticking to the road of—he blessed the movement along the peaceful road." This is a basic question because there are very many versions concerning the present position of Washington as regards the Baltic Republics.

A. Let me say that those are three very good questions, and I welcome the opportunity to address them all. Let me start with the Baltic question.

The position of the United States with respect to the Baltic States is, and has been, that they were illegally occupied by Soviet troops in 1939 as a result of the Molotov-Ribbentrop Pact, and it's our understanding that that pact has, indeed, been criticized by many here in the Soviet Union—acknowledged, in fact, by the Supreme Soviet last year. This forceable seizure, of course, led to the incorporation of the Baltics into the Soviet Union in 1940. We've never recognized that incorporation. We continue to fail to recognize that incorporation.

We have always felt that the Baltic peoples should have the right to determine their future freely, peacefully, and democratically, and we have urged, and continue to urge, the Soviet Government and the Baltic peoples to seek a peaceful political settlement of this conflict. Now that is the position of the United States with respect to the Baltics. It hasn't changed; it's been the same since 1940.

With respect to the question of a comprehensive test ban agreement, let me simply say that it's the view of the United States that as long as nuclear weapons are necessary to secure peace by deterring aggression, and I do think we have to recognize that the nuclear deterrent has, to some extent at least, been responsible for the fact that we have enjoyed some 40-plus years of peace. But as long as we think nuclear weapons are necessary as a deterrent to maintain the peace, some sort of testing is going to be necessary. If you are going to maintain credibility of that deterrent, it's also needed if you are going to ensure that the weapons you maintain are reliable and safe. You can't be sure of that unless you have some sort of access to testing.

However, having said that, the United States and the Soviet Union agreed in 1987 to a step-by-step approach for limiting nuclear testing. The United States remains committed to that step-by-step approach; we have not changed that. We expect at the June summit to take the next step, which will be the signing of the protocols to the Threshold Test Ban Treaty and the Peaceful Nuclear Explosions Treaty. The United States has not abandoned, as a long-term goal, a comprehensive test ban. That is our position with respect to nuclear testing.

With respect to Panama, let me simply say that we know that that created certain problems here in the Soviet Union, that it created the kinds of problems that you referred to when you say it energized the hawks in the debate that is ongoing in the Soviet Union. But I'd like to make a couple of points about Panama.

Point number one is that Panama is an extraordinarily unique situation. The United States has maintained and continues to maintain by treaty—international agreement recognized by all nations in the world—a military presence in Panama to assure the safe, open, and for conduct of free passage with respect to the Panama Canal. We have been successful in maintaining that canal free and open to traffic of all nations around the world ever since its existence.

We were faced with a situation where we had a leader of Panama who was an indicted drug-runner—a thug in effect, if you will—who was harassing U.S. citizens—a long period of harassment, not just the killing of our Marine, the arrest of our naval officer, and the sexual harassment of his wife during the course of incarceration—but a long period of harassment of U.S. citizens who were in Panama pursuant to treaty rights.

For 3 years, we had attempted in every way possible to deal with this situation through diplomatic and political means. We had exhausted all remedies in the Organization of American States. Our action in Panama has been overwhelmingly supported by the Panamanian peoples; I think something like 92%, according to some recent poll. The troops that we inserted in Panama will be out by the end of this month—2 months, in and out. And they'll stay out. As a matter of fact, the Panamanian people are telling us, "Don't take your troops out. We want you to stay because we want you to be here to help maintain order."

So, it's not a case of our enforcing our will against the will of the Panamanian people. We took care of Noriega, that's true. And we used force and enforced our will against Noriega, but not against the Panamanian people. I would simply conclude that by making the same proposal that I made yesterday to Foreign Minister Shevardnadze: please send a delegation from the Supreme Soviet, and this committee would be the appropriate committee. Go to Panama. Take a look for yourselves. See if you disagree with what I have said about what the Panamanian people want.

One final point. Noriega thwarted the will of the Panamanian people expressed in a free election. I don't know whether you saw it on your television here in the Soviet Union, but after Panama had a free election and Endara and Billy Ford and Calderon were elected, the dictator Noriega would not let the results of the election affect him. Instead, he sent his goon squads out to beat these people up. And there are pictures of the candidates now, who were elected by the Panamanian people, bloody in the streets. The democratic process was aborted and perverted by this man. All of these things I cite in some detail so that you know the reason for what we think was an extraordinarily unique circumstance. We hope you will go to Panama. We hope that the Supreme Soviet will send a delegation there so that you can see the situation for yourselves.

Deputy Arbatov. It was with satisfaction that I heard your statement in general and that part in particular, where you spoke about the need to get rid of mutual hostility. I thought that very important because during the cold war, we nourished and raised many people on the basis of the enemy image. We taught them to see the enemy on the other side and this still exists today. And I should say it nourishes the military-industrial complex and the cold warriors and also extreme conservatives in both countries.

It seems to me that at this time—and I think we are beginning to sense it, in trying to do—we should bear in mind that when you address your own audience and justify your military requests, the need for reinforcing your alliance, etc., you are heeded not only by people in your own country, but also in foreign countries. Sometimes it leads to interpretations which could hardly be described as helpful for our relationship or for the great cause that we have started.

Now my question; it has to do with disarmament. Frankly speaking, I myself do not believe that through negotiation, we will be able to reach tangible disarmament. I think it is only the decision by the governments of the two countries and their national policies, their restraint, their understanding that no more weapons must be manufactured and that no armaments should be maintained more than necessary can result in such a situation. As to negotiations, they can only consolidate such determination, even though negotiations are important in and by themselves.

So my question is this. Why, so far, some things still remain for the United States to be sacred cows? For example, naval arms, which are untouchable and are not even subject to discussion, because you are a naval power. We are a land power. We have our own sacred cows; namely tanks, but we have deprived them of this shroud of sacredness. I think you could take the same approach. I'd like to hear your opinion on this.

Do you see any prospect in the foreseeable future for complete withdrawal of Soviet and U.S. troops from Europe?

A. Two questions. One is naval arms control and one is complete withdrawal of U.S. and Soviet troops from Europe.

Let me say with respect to the latter, just so everyone understands. U.S. troop presence in Europe is maintained because our allies ask us to be here, and the minute that ceases to be the situation, U.S. troops will no longer be in Europe. It's not a case of our having a burning desire to do this. We do it because of our commitment to our alliance and our commitment to our allies. And the prospects for a continued U.S. troop presence in Europe is directly related to the attitude of our allies with respect to that question.

Right now, I would tell you that many countries in Western Europe and, in fact, some countries in Eastern Europe and, in fact, I would suspect that the view pertains to some extent here in the Soviet Union, all see the presence of U.S. forces in Europe as a potential source of stability. So that's the best way that I know how to answer your question with respect to the withdrawal of forces.

The question with respect to Soviet forces is one for you to answer. I have said that I do not think that there necessarily should be a linkage between the two. The Soviet Union will have major forces in Europe—that is, in the European part of the Soviet Union, in any event. When American forces go home, if they should go home, they are a long way away across an ocean and getting them back here is much more difficult than seeing the reintroduction of Soviet troops into Europe outside that part of Europe that is in the Soviet Union.

And that takes us right into the next question—the other question you asked which is naval arms control. The reason we have problems with naval arms control is because we are, to some extent, an island nation surrounded on two sides by oceans. Some people say, you are a two-ocean maritime power. You can say that, but the fact of the matter is that throughout the 200-year history of the United States, our links to the rest of the world have been our Navy. It is fundamental to our existence. It is very, very important in maintaining our lines of communication to everyone else; everyone else save, I suppose, for Canada, perhaps, and Mexico.

Much, if not most, of our naval forces are directed to protecting the far-flung interests of the United States around the world that are completely unrelated to the Soviet Union. And, therefore, we do not see it as an element or component of the East-West dimension. You are to a much greater extent—and you acknowledged it in your question, I think—a land power. You never have relied as heavily on naval forces as has the United States. We do have some useful agreements respecting navies, such as the Agreement on Prevention of Incidents at Sea and things like that.

I hope that answers your question with respect to the problems we have in getting into naval arms control because we don't see our Navy as that much of a factor in the East-West equation. But we see it as absolutely indispensable to us in connection with our relationships with the rest of the world.

Marshal Akhromeyev. My question was originally the same as the other question posed by my colleague Neyland. In view of your explanation that nuclear system testing makes it possible to develop more reliable and safer nuclear systems, I have this question to pose—an additional question. As of today, we know that in the world, there is such a vast nuclear potential that would be enough many times to destroy everything on earth.

My question is this: On the first of August last year, the Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R. adopted an appeal to the U.S. Congress to declare a moratorium on all nuclear explosions and to ban all systems used in nuclear testing, to be followed by—when our delegation visited the U.S. Congress, our delegation met with Mr. Schifter [Richard Schifter, Assistant Secretary for Human Rights and Humanitarian Affairs] and the Helsinki Commission. They clarified to us that that was the prerogative of the State Department of the U.S. Administration. So let me ask you: Do you believe it possible to declare an international agreement that would prohibit all types of nuclear weapons and declare a moratorium on nuclear testing, and when do you think it would be possible to do?

A. To declare a moratorium on all testing and to agree on the elimination of all nuclear weapons, is that the question?

Q. [Clarification in Russian].

A. To remain committed to the agreement between us with respect to the step-by-step approach that is to be followed upon the completion of the Peaceful Nuclear Explosions Treaty and the other test ban treaty. Once we complete the verification protocols on those two treaties, we have agreed—the two countries—that we will pursue testing limitations with the ultimate long-term goal of a test ban through a step-by-step process. We remain committed to that.

To do what I think you've suggested would take us far beyond a step-by-step approach and would not be something that I think we would be in a position to agree to now for the reasons that I outlined in my prior answer. That is, as long as you see a need for a nuclear deterrent, there will be need for some type of testing. Only when you concluded that you are going to totally eliminate all nuclear weapons can you conclude, I think, that there can safely no longer be any tests. But I think we have an agreement between the Soviet Union and the United States as to how we are going to approach this issue. We intend to live up to that agreement, and we intend to keep as a long-term goal a comprehensive test ban. But we're not going to get there overnight.

Deputy Kugultinov. I saw the new year in Jerusalem and I remember the words, "At the beginning there was the word." "It had life and light," and I remembered our two great powers, and I am saying this deliberately, the Soviet Union and the United States. In Jerusalem there met representatives of the public of almost all countries of this planet, including Americans. Israelis, the Arabs, everybody spoke about the need for the two states—Israel and Palestine—to coexist together, and we saw a great truth therein. How can we help avert death there?

A. You have highlighted one of the most difficult regional problems that we foreign ministers discuss among ourselves every time we get together. It has been a difficult problem for a long, long time. And it will take a great deal of imagination, ingenuity, good will, and commitment on the part of the parties involved to make progress toward a solution. We have been involved very actively and in some depth for a period of 4 or 5 months in trying to create the conditions necessary to bring about a dialogue between Israelis and Palestinians. Because we think there can be no peace in the Middle East until you have Palestinians and Israelis sitting down and talking to each other.

Prime Minister Shamir several months ago presented a proposal for elections in the occupied territories. We felt that proposal had some merit. And we have been working to try and commence its implementation. We have been working with many, many other countries, and we discussed this in quite some detail yesterday at the ministerial. I am pleased to tell you that Foreign Minister Shevardnadze supports our efforts. He made the point, the Soviet side did, that they would like to see this process move forward toward peace.

I hope that we can make some progress here over the course of the next several weeks or months. But we remain committed to trying to get, for the first time, the Palestinians and the Israelis sitting down at the same table, and we think that the proposal for elections in the territories offers us perhaps a vehicle to do so.

Right now, we are having some difficulty with questions such as the composition of the Palestinian delegation, with questions such as what would be the agenda for the discussion. Would it be primarily the modalities of the elections, or would it go further into questions such as what the permanent status of the territories should be, if there were ever to be complete agreement? So these are the things we are working with and wrestling with.

I expect to have some discussions about this when I return to the United States after the meeting that I will be going to on Monday in Ottawa, Canada, to consider the "open skies" proposal and the conventional forces agreement. Hopefully, sometime toward the latter part of next week, we will be able to reengage in this matter.

Deputy Gulamov. We welcome your visit to our country as the continuation of the major work pursued by the U.S. Administration and the leadership of the Soviet Union to bring our countries closer together in international cooperation and so on.

But I would like to ask you a question. In your preliminary address, you said that there is an attitude in your country to perestroika. What is this attitude? Do you really think it to be a revolution? Considering the changes in Eastern Europe, the question of the reunification of Germany is actively discussed. We are concerned by this question because the Soviet people have made great sacrifices and reemergence of new fascists in Germany and their attempts to influence the changes in East Germany worry us. We would like to hear your attitude to these developments in East Germany.

A. Thank you for the question. I will address it. But first let me mention one thing that I would like you to know. We have discussed with your leadership the possible approaches to some of the economic issues facing you, some of the economic problems that are confronting the Soviet Union. At Malta we delivered to the Soviet side a list of economic measures that we thought could be taken, if you would consider taking $15 billion or so that you spend every year in support of Cuba, Cambodia, Angola, Nicaragua, etc. If you took that $15 billion and applied it in certain ways—and we gave some examples. I just wanted you to know that we had that discussion with your leadership.

With respect to the question of Germany, which you posed, I discussed this yesterday with President Gorbachev and Foreign Minister Shevardnadze. We know of your concern, but let me tell you the U.S. position. First of all, we have supported the goal of German unification for over 40 years. It's a part of our support for the concept of a Europe that is whole and a Europe that is free. I said that I think this issue is proceeding much more rapidly than any of us anticipated. And as recently as last December, the election in the German Democratic Republic (G.D.R.) has been moved up to March 18, so they will have an election. It is my sense that shortly after that election, the two Germanys will begin discussions concerning the internal aspects of unification—economic unification, common currency, parliamentary system, where the capital might be, customs agreement, those kinds of things.

I said it is the U.S. view that, while we supported German unification and have for 40 years, we feel it should take place with due regard for the concerns of Germany's neighbors. I said we felt it should take place within the context of continued membership in NATO. Although we recognize the need for there to be security guarantees with respect to the nonapplication of NATO forces, or nonextension of NATO forces eastward into that part of Germany that is now represented by the G.D.R.

These are all matters that are going to have to be sorted out and worked at. The United States does not support the concept of a neutral Germany. We support, as I have just said, a Germany as a continued member of NATO. Your government will have its own position with respect to this issue. But I've just outlined for you the position of the United States.

Deputy Primakov. You have called on us to change our policies concerning Cuba and Nicaragua. In this connection, I would like to pose my question. Is the United States ready to undertake a public obligation not to use force in Latin America in the future, provided, of course, that events do not threaten—and I would like to emphasize that I am talking about an almost-raped American woman—I mean not threaten the security of the United States?

A. I would certainly be interested in the language of your commitment to cease your support for Nicaragua and Cuba, because I think there is something there we might be able to reach agreement on. The United States has not used force in Latin America, except for this Panama situation, since 1965, unless you want to talk about Grenada as a use of force. But generally speaking, we foreswear the use of force. I have already explained to you why I think Panama was a unique situation. I have already acknowledged to you that I understand how that was perceived here by your hawks.

But let me tell you, we don't see Cuba as a threat to the United States. We know it's not. For that matter, we don't see Nicaragua as a major threat. But both of them are major threats to democratically elected neighbors around them. And both of them continue to support subversion and revolution in neighboring states. They are very much committed, if I may say so, to the old thinking. They haven't changed their thinking.

As I mentioned in the course of our meetings yesterday, there is only one person in the world Fidel Castro criticizes more than he criticizes President Bush and that is President Gorbachev. So we have difficulty understanding why you continue to send MiG-25 fighter planes to Cuba. Cuba is actively engaged in subverting El Salvador and supporting the insurgency of the FMLN [Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front] in El Salvador. And it is these kinds of activities, close to the shores of the United States, that we simply cannot tolerate.

Admiral Sorokin. I have a question in connection with your reply to People's Deputy Arbatov. The U.S. Administration frequently comments on its unwillingness to engage in naval disarmament talks by saying NATO needs an edge in naval forces to make up for the edge of continental countries to ensure the defense of Western Europe by dislocating armaments from the United States.

Can we, on this basis, draw a conclusion that after this imbalance has been corrected in the conventional armaments of the two alliances in Europe, and after their capability for a surprise attack has been eliminated, to engage in offensive operations has been taken care of, can we conclude that in that situation the United States would be prepared to engage in a process of verification of armaments, including naval forces? We are very worried. The NATO people are very worried by these matters. Concerning the strategic offensive arms treaty, it provides for sea-launched cruise missiles (SLCMs) limitations. One gets the impression that the United States intends to take these, in fact, strategic missiles outside the framework of any binding limitations. My question is: Do you think that sea-launched cruise missiles do not represent a threat to the United States of America despite the long coastline of the United States and the coastal positioning of many facilities, etc?

A. It is our view that sea-launched cruise missiles can and do represent a threat to the United States. That does not argue for the inclusion of sea-launched cruise missiles within the strategic arms reduction agreement for the reason that, in our view, they are not verifiable.

There are major unsolvable verification problems in trying to include them within the treaty. But I think we have made, since I've been here in Moscow, very substantial progress on how we are going to handle the problem of sea-launched cruise missiles.

We have essentially agreed with your side that they will be handled on the basis of a declaratory approach. We will declare our sea-launched missiles and agree to keep that declaration up to date. And you will declare yours. This will then be a politically binding commitment even though it is not in the treaty and not subject to verification because we don't have the measures to verify it.

There is a difference between us now on whether we will declare sea-launched cruise missiles with a range of in excess of 600 kilometers which is what you want, or in excess of 300 kilometers which is what we want. And we want to pick up those SLCMs between 300 kilometers and 600 kilometers because we do think they represent a threat to our long shorelines. You put your finger on it and you have just articulated why we would like to see that 600-kilometer limit rather than the 300-kilometer limit.

With respect to naval arms control, the question is not really one of conventional forces agreement in Europe. I have already indicated that the United States does not accept the concept of "linkage" of forces; that is, that there has to be the same number of Soviet troops in Europe outside the European part of the Soviet Union as there are American troops. We reject that for a number of reasons, not the least of which is that you have extensive troop capacity in the European part of the Soviet Union. When we are gone, we are across the ocean.

As long as we have American troops in Europe—and we'll only have them as long as our allies want them—but as long as we have them, we are going to need that naval capacity to communicate with them. So I would not want to lead you to believe we would be amenable to naval arms control just because we get a conventional arms agreement. Our Navy, again, is our lifeline to the world. It has been throughout our history, and it serves a whole host of functions that are not related to the East-West conflict.

Deputy Ryzhov. What assistance could the United States provide in the computerization of the educational sphere in our country, which we badly need.

And, second, do you believe it possible for the experts of our two countries to join in efforts in shaping a reasonable and effective concept of conversion of the defense industries?

A. With respect to the question of defense industry conversion, we had some discussion of that in our talks over the course of the past few days, and I think generally we agree we could confer and talk about that, that it's not easily done. It is not an easy matter to convert a tank factory into a factory that makes baby cribs and we know that and you know that. And there is no reason why we can't have some discussion of the convertibility of the defense with respect to computers for educational purposes. Our position on that will have to be that that would be something in a general sense we would support but we would have to know that the computers to be sent did not or would not have strategic military application.

I said earlier that we are in the process of reviewing our COCOM [Coordinating Committee of Multilateral Export Controls] policies and restrictions. The general idea is that perhaps we can construct a structure that will build higher walls around fewer products so that some things that are not quite as important from a military or a strategic standpoint would no longer be restricted. But the question of computers for education would really come down to whether or not there would be a strategic or military application for those computers.

Deputy Akhromeyev. I have the impression that the activities of the Soviet Union and the United States in the military sphere are not adequate. The Soviet Union has been reducing, over the past 2 years, its armed forces by half a million; that is to say by 12%. It is reducing its military budget of the past 2 years by 14%. The Soviet Union has revamped its military doctrine by making it defensive, and it is actually restructuring its armed forces, while the United States has virtually not reduced its armed forces.

As to the military budget, it is reducing it just a little bit. I don't think it was accidental that you did not cite any specific figures in your response—figures of military budget reduction.

The negotiations on naval arms reductions is something that you refuse to engage in. Forty-five years ago, you surrounded us with military bases. So far, in spite of all our requests, you are not reducing them. So I have this impression that, indeed, while improving relations with us in the military sphere, you are still continuing to act with respect to the Soviet Union from a position of strength. So I wish to know your personal attitude on this, and, second, I would ask you if you would reply more specifically to the question that was posed by Comrade Primakov—that the people of Cuba are afraid of an aggression from the United States, hence Cuba's desires to reinforce its defenses. Is the United States of America already prepared not to use military force, not to invade Cuba, and if that is the case, how can you let it be known to the entire world public?

A. The best answer I can give you on Cuba is to simply tell you that the situation which exists down there has existed since 1962, and we haven't gone in. If we wanted to do that, I think that we have had, during all those years, the capacity to do that.

The Cubans are very aggressive and hostile to the United States in their attitude. That's not so bad, I suppose, since they don't seriously represent a threat to us, but what is bad is that they continue to try to destablize their neighbors. This idea of promoting revolution and subversion and armed struggle against freely elected democracies is simply not acceptable to the United States of America. It is contrary to everything we have ever believed in. We are simply not going to tolerate it in our hemisphere to the extent that we can avoid it. If we had wanted to go into Cuba, we have had many, many opportunities over the course of in excess of 38-39 years. That would be my answer to your question on Cuba.

You say the United States continues to act from a position of strength. I think that relations between the Soviet Union and the United States are improving because the peace has been maintained through strength. I think it is important in maintaining peace that people know that you will maintain your resolve.

The United States has never had any hostile intentions to acquire territory or to take, to expand our area of influence around the world. We haven't done that since the end of the Second World War. We don't plan to do it. At one time, we were the only nation in the world that had nuclear power. We believe in peace. We believe in freedom. We believe in democratic principles. But we cannot tolerate countries that actively try to subvert and overthrow democratically elected neighbors.

I think that the defense budget of the United States is declining, as I said. I don't have the exact number for you, but I would argue that your 14% is subject to question. And not because I challenge your word; your word is good. It's only because I am not at all sure that these numbers have been verified. It's only recently, according to your officials, that you have been keeping numbers that would permit you to say that you are reducing your defense budget by 14%.

But in any event, we are both in the process of seeing declines in our defense budgets and our defense expenditures, seeking to use those funds in better ways. We are doing this because there is, indeed, a spirit of cooperation now between the United States and the Soviet Union, not just competition, but more and more cooperation and trust. That's the reason I think that both defense budgets are declining, and I think that's a very healthy situation.

A few words by way of concluding remarks. Just one final thing. You mentioned also that we have surrounded you with bases and we are not doing anything with any of those. The fact of the matter is we are closing some bases, and we have announced the closing of 10 or 12 bases over the course of the past several weeks.

Chairman Dzasokhov. [Inaudible] put forward the idea of exploring the issue in the interests of eliminating military bases which are located abroad, and of military units in general. I, for my part, wish to say, distinguished deputies, that the agreement about today's meeting in the course of our correspondence was reached very fast. And the meeting today, it seems to me, has confirmed our mutual interests in having further opportunities for such broad exchanges on the substance of Soviet-U.S. meetings on major problems of today's international developments.

We took great satisfaction in learning that preparations for—and the meeting between Comrade Gorbachev and President Bush—are underway successfully and that this summer the meeting will take place. We are confident, Mr. Secretary, and we would ask you to convey this to the U.S. Administration that that meeting in Washington will constitute a new, important milestone in the further advancements of a positive relationship between our two countries.

You may have sensed, Mr. Secretary, the tremendous and sincere interest that members of the Supreme Soviet have in terms of gaining a deeper insight into the contents and sphere of our relationship. You were quite right in pointing out that there may arise questions on which we may not agree immediately. But, today, I think we have demonstrated the will to find answers to those questions.

So I wish to promise you that your interesting statements and the exchange of views here will, for a long time perhaps, be commented upon in the rooms of the Supreme Soviet, and then, perhaps, our interest in pursuing a constructive dialogue will be demonstrated further in a course of future visits to Washington by our deputies and by your congressmen to this country.

So through your presence here today, we would like to say that the role of the Supreme Soviet in dealing with forecasting and implementing foreign policy goals of the Soviet state and the concept of new political thinking keep increasing. We should also like to point out that we have a special interest in seeing to it that, in addition to the priority subject to disarmament, we should be moving slowly and gradually toward accumulating specific questions concerning the expansion of the sphere of our bilateral cooperation, because the conversion of military questions into the sphere of primarily policy-oriented questions should be borne out, of course, by the accumulation of creative aspects of our cooperation.

We would like to note that the questions you have touched upon with respect to the internal processes underway in this country were illustrated by you in terms of Soviet terminology. I can say that, on one hand, we ourselves are the architects of our perestroika processes, but, on the other hand, we are very sensitive—and in that sense we are very grateful whenever our foreign colleagues, specifically from the United States of America, take an understanding attitude of the profound and vitally important process of perestroika in all spheres of our life.

I would like once again to thank you on behalf of the People's Deputies who are present in this room and to express the wish that you, in your capacity as Secretary of State at this historic stage—while reflecting that will of the peoples of our two countries and together with your colleagues in the Soviet Union—would move further ahead the cause of Soviet-U.S. relations which, of course, must be based on the principles and opinions of equality, mutual advantage, and mutual respect. All the best to you. Have a happy, safe trip back home. All the best to you, your wife, your colleagues; and for my people, I will say that this meeting today is a result of the sincere desire by the Secretary of State to meet with us because today has extended, as it were, the preplanned days of your stay here. So, on your behalf, I thank once again the Secretary of State. Bolshoe Spasibo. ■

BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AND CHILE

1. The Governments of the Republic of Chile and of the United States agree that a dispute exists between them concerning responsibility for the deaths of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt in Washington, D.C. on September 21, 1976.

2. On January 12, 1989 the United States invoked the Treaty for the Settlement of Disputes that May Occur Between the United States and Chile, which entered into force on January 19, 1916, "to investigate and report upon the facts surrounding the deaths of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt in Washington, D.C. on September 21, 1976, including the involvement of Chilean Government officials in those deaths, and to investigate and report upon the extent to which officials of the Government of Chile obstructed subsequent investigations into the deaths."

3. The United States has sought compensation from Chile on behalf of the families of Letelier and Moffitt, on the ground that Chile is legally responsible under international law for their deaths and the personal injuries to Michael Moffitt. The parties agree, however, that no need exists to resolve the merits of this claim of liability, since the Government of Chile is willing to make an ex gratia payment to the Government of the United States of America, to be received on behalf of the families of the victims.

4. The Governments of the United States and Chile agree that the amount of the ex gratia payment should be equal to that which would be due if liability were established, and should be determined by the Commission established by the 1914 Treaty, in accordance with the procedures set forth in Annex 1. The Governments agree that, notwithstanding the invocation of the 1914 Treaty by the United States on January 12, 1989, in light of the understandings set forth herein, the amount of the compensation to be paid shall be the sole question to be determined by the Commission. The Parties agree to submit to the Commission the Joint Statement attached at Annex 2.

5. The Government of Chile agrees to pay to the Government of the United States, as its ex gratia payment in this matter, the amount of compensation as determined by the Commission. The Government of Chile undertakes to make the aforesaid payment within 60 days of the issuance by the Commission of its determination in this matter.

6. Upon receipt of the ex gratia payment referred to in para. 5 above, the Government of the United States will regard as satisfied the claim espoused in its diplomatic note to the Government of Chile of April 18, 1988.

The amount shall be calculated in such a manner as to include all appropriate elements of compensation in cases of wrongful death or personal injury, including lost income, loss of services, personal injury, pain and suffering, interest due to the time lapse between the injury or death and present, expenses in the pursuit of justice, and such other compensation that the Commission believes appropriate.

JOINT STATEMENT

I. WRONGFUL DEATH CLAIMS

Recovery for wrongful death under international law is well established. Numerous mixed claims commissions adjudicated claims between states, including wrongful death claims, from the middle of the nineteenth century to the Second World War. There is also considerable precedent for direct diplomatic settlements of wrongful death claims between states. Recently, the United States reached a settlement of death, injury and property claims with the Government of Israel arising out of an unprovoked air and sea attack on the vessel USS Liberty in 1967, and a settlement has been reached between the United States and the Government of Iraq concerning the death claims arising out of the attack on the USS Stark on May 17, 1987.

It is widely recognized that the purpose of reparation for an international wrong is to make the aggrieved party whole. This principle was announced by the Permanent Court of International Justice in the Chorzow Factory Case in a statement that has since been often quoted. The Court stated that reparation under international law "must, as far as possible, wipe out all the consequences of the illegal act and reestablish the situation which would, in all probability have existed if that act had not been committed." Reparation, said the Court, includes restitution in kind or the monetary equivalent as well as damages for losses not covered by restitution or its monetary equivalent. Chorzow Factory Case (Germany v. Poland), 1928 P.C.I.J., ser. A, No. 17, at 29 (Judgment of Sept. 13, 1928). See e.g., 5 G. Hackworth, Digest of International Law 718-20 (1943); Mann, The Consequences of an International Wrong in International and National Law, 1976-77 Brit. Y.B. Elements of Compensation

The decision of the U.S.-German Mixed Claims Commission in the Lusitania case has served generally to fix three basic elements of damage as the accepted international standard of compensation in wrongful death cases. In announcing the standards by which it would decide all wrongful death claims brought before it by U.S. claimants against Germany, the Commission stated that the elements of compensation were:

> the amounts (a) which the decedent, had he not been killed, would probably have contributed to the claimant, . . . (b) the pecuniary value to such claimant of the deceased's personal services in claimant's care, education, or supervision, and . . . (c) reasonable compensation for such mental suffering or shock, if any, caused by the violent severing of family ties, as claimant may actually have sustained by reason of such death.

The Commission stated that the sum of these estimates, reduced to its present cash value, will generally represent the loss sustained by claimant. Lusitania Cases (U.S. v. Germany), Mixed Claims Commission, Administrative Decisions and Opinions of a General Nature, at 19-20. The Lusitania decision provides the most detailed and reasoned discussion by an international body on the elements of damage recoverable in wrongful death cases. Other international claims commissions rarely stated the precise basis for their damage awards, and it is difficult to discover unifying principles in their awards. See generally A. Feller, The Mexican Claims Commissions: 1923-1934 295-300 (1935); 2 F. Garcia-Amador, The Changing Law of International Claims 564-65 (1984); 5 G. Hackworth, Digest of International Law 747-55; R. Lillich & G. Christenson, International Claims: Their Preparation and Presentation 72-74 (1962); 1 M. Whiteman, Damages in International Law 660 (1937); Eagleton, Measure of Damages in International Law, 39 Yale L.R. 52, 60; cf. 1 M. Whiteman, Damages in International Law at 704-16 (in very old cases, indemnity sometimes calculated based on the worth of the life lost rather than the loss to claimants).

Many of the diplomatic settlements of wrongful death claims between states have been made in such a way that very little can be discerned about the basis for the amounts involved. This is understandable since the settlements, which usually are concluded by means of ex gratia payments, often seek to avoid assigning wrongdoing imputable to the state and purport to be humanitarian gestures rather than full compensation. See 8 M.

92-100 (Memorial dated Sept. 30, 1947); Observations of the United Kingdom (U.K. v. Alb.) 1950 I.C.J. Pleadings (2 Corfu Channel) 391-97 (Observations dated Aug. 1, 1949). The United Kingdom stated in its pleading on the amount of damages, however, that it was not claiming the entire amount of compensation for which it was entitled under international law. See id. at 392. Although the International Court of Justice awarded the full amount claimed by the United Kingdom for wrongful death, Albania did not participate in the damage phase of the case, and has not paid the award.

Recent U.S. practice in international law has expressly followed the Lusitania standard. In requesting compensation from the Government of Israel for wrongful death resulting from the attack on USS Liberty in 1967, the U.S. Government claimed the same three basic elements of damage. The United States stated in diplomatic notes presenting the individual claims that:

> [t]he amount of the claim for the surviving wife and children is based upon the loss of special services the decedent would have performed, shock and mental anguish suffered as a result of the death and the loss of financial contributions the decedent would have made towards their support . . . . The amount of the claim for the surviving parents includes a specific allowance for shock and emotional anguish suffered by the parents as a result of the violent severing of family ties. It also includes an allowance for future support, services and the benefits which the decedent could reasonably be expected to have provided to his parents.

The United States rejected Israeli counterproposals (which were probably influenced by the restrictive British claim in the Corfu Channel Case) to pay compensation to the U.S. Government only in the amount of statutory death benefits and pensions paid by the U.S. Government to survivors of the deceased crewmen. Although Israel paid the full amount of U.S. claims for wrongful death, it made the payments on an ex gratia basis. See 1980 M. Nash, Digest of U.S. Practice in International Law 747.

UNCLASSIFIED

The three elements of compensation fixed in the Lusitania decision were also the basis of compensation requested of the Government of Iraq in 1960 for the wrongful deaths of three Americans killed by a mob in 1958 while in the custody of Iraqi authorities in Baghdad. 8 M. Whiteman, Digest of International Law 901.

Although there is some post-World War II U.S. precedent that does not expressly follow the Lusitania standard, it may in fact contemplate the same general elements of compensation. In a diplomatic claim against Bulgaria that was later filed in the International Court of Justice, the U.S. Government requested compensation for "pecuniary loss" on behalf of family members of American citizens who were killed when the El Al airliner on which they were travelling was shot down over Bulgarian airspace in 1955. "Pecuniary loss" was not explained in any more detail, but the term is often used in U.S. domestic law to mean losses that are objectively quantifiable in pecuniary terms such as financial support and personal services. While the term as used in domestic law does not ordinarily include mental shock, see id. at n. 17, the fact that none of the deceased in the El Al tragedy were the male heads of households indicates that damages for mental shock and anguish were probably included. For example, a claim of $20,000 was made for two sisters of one of the deceased. See Application of the United States (U.S. v. Bulgaria), I.C.J. Pleadings (Aerial Incident of 27 July 1955) 28-30 (Application dated Dec. 2, 1958). A Department of State memorandum from 1959 refers only to those damages for wrongful death that equal the "amount the decedent would have contributed to his dependents had he lived." There is no reference to damages for mental shock and lost special services. See 8 M. Whiteman, Digest of International Law 900-01. Written suggestions of the Department of State on the preparation of claims, dated July 1, 155, do not specify the types of damages available for wrongful death. These suggestions are reprinted in R. Lillich & G. Christenson, International Claims: Their Preparation and Presentation 131-33.

Governments demanding compensation from the Soviet Union for the deaths of their citizens resulting from the 1983 shooting down of Korean Airlines flight 007 by a Soviet fighter arising out of the attack on USS Liberty. The principal considerations and factors can be summarized as follows:

> the age of the decedent, his present and future earning capacity, his probable life expectancy, the amount of his present and estimated future contributions to his dependents, and the estimated amount of his present and future personal consumption.

These factors have been cited with approval as the basis for calculating the lost financial support element of wrongful death claims. See G. Hackworth, Digest of International Law 750-53 (1943); R. Lillich & G. Christenson, International Claims: Their Preparation and Presentation 73 n.270; 8 Whiteman, Digest of International Law 900-901.

The Lusitania decision does not provide detailed guidance on how to calculate damages for lost personal services and mental shock and anguish. It does state, however, that compensation for mental shock and suffering of the dependents of the deceased "must be adequate and balance as near as may be the injury suffered. . . Mental suffering is a fact just as real as physical suffering, and susceptible of measurement by the same standards. . . Mental suffering to form a basis of recovery must be real and actual rather than purely sentimental and vague." Lusitania Decision, supra, at 21-22.

II. PERSONAL INJURY CLAIMS

Recovery under international law for personal injury is well established. Generally, damages are determined by the actual monetary loss shown to have been sustained. In ascertaining that loss, the nature and seriousness of the injury, the extent of impairment to health and earning capacity and the claimant's station in life are considered rather than the nature and seriousness of the wrong of the respondent state. 1 M. Whiteman, Damages in International Law 627 (1937). Other factors, including the permanency of the injury, disfigurement and mental suffering are also taken into account. Id.

UNCLASSIFIED

Although there is limited discussion of personal injury claims under international law, one international claims commission stated precisely the basis for damage awards in personal injury cases. The Special Mexican Claims Commission examined claims of U.S. nationals against Mexico for personal or property damages suffered during the Mexican Revolution. The Commission articulated in Decision 1 the general principles it would apply in reviewing a personal injury claim, stating that due weight would be given to the following factors:

> The nature and seriousness of the injury; the extent of the impairment of the claimant's health and earning capacity; the proved expenses and loss of time incident to the injury; and any aggravation of the injury by unusual cruelty.

Report to the Secretary of State (Special Mexican Claims Commission) (Department of State, Arbitration Ser. 7, 1940) 15, 21.

Most diplomatic settlements of personal injury claims do not indicate the basis for the amount involved. However, in determining the amount of compensation sought from the Government of Israel for the personal injury claims arising out the attack on the USS Liberty, the State Department took into account, as customarily done in international practice, the nature and extent of the bodily injuries, pain and physical suffering associated with those injuries, and loss of earning capacity, if any.

Most nations recognize that compensable damages for personal injury claims include both pecuniary and non-pecuniary losses. Pecuniary losses include loss of earning capacity and the expenses occasioned by the injury. Such losses are more capable of monetary calculation. Non-pecuniary losses include physical pain, mental suffering, distress for disfigurement and the like associated with the injury. These elements, while more difficult to measure, are also considered compensable. Therefore, in accordance with international law and practice, compensation would be awarded for physical injuries taking into account: 1) the nature and severity of the injuries; 2) the pain and suffering associated with those injuries; 3) any special expenses incurred as a result of the injuries; 4) any resulting lost earnings or lost earnings capacity.

SUBJECT: LETELIER CASE

1. SUMMARY: EDMUNDO VARGAS MET WITH JUDGE SOFAER MARCH 22. SOFAER PASSED TO VARGAS DRAFT DOCUMENTS WHICH WE WOULD PROPOSE BE USED TO IMPLEMENT VARGAS' SUGGESTION TO USE 1914 TREATY COMMISSION TO DETERMINE THE AMOUNT OF EX GRATIA PAYMENT CHILE WOULD MAKE TO USG ON BEHALF OF LETELIER AND MOFFITT FAMILIES. VARGAS WAS ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT PROPOSED TIME FRAME, BUT WAS NON-COMMITTAL REGARDING OTHER ASPECTS OF DOCUMENTS. HE QUERIED WHERE CRIMINAL ISSUES AND U.S.G. FINDINGS FIT INTO PROPOSALS. SOFAER REPLIED THAT THESE DOCUMENTS WERE ONLY INTENDED TO REFLECT CIVIL ISSUES AS PORPOSED BY VARGAS. IF CHILE HAS A SUGGESTION AS TO HOW THEY MIGHT BE COMBINED WITH CRIMINAL MATTERS CHILE SHOULD MAKE US A PROPOSAL. WE DO NOT EXPECT TO HEAR FROM VARGAS UNTIL AFTER THE INAUGURATION. END SUMMARY.

AND CASSMAN. SOFAER GAVE TO VARGAS DRAFT DOCUMENTS WHICH WOULD IMPLEMENT VARGAS' PROPOSAL TO USE THE 1914 TREATY COMMISSION TO DETERMINE THE AMOUNT OF THE EX GRATIA PAYMENT CHILE WOULD MAKE TO THE U.S. ON BEHALF OF THE LETELIER AND MOFFITT FAMILIES. THOSE DOCUMENTS INCLUDE AN ILLUSTRATIVE TIME LINE - PARA 6 BELOW; A MOU - PARA 7; A COMPROMIS - PARA 8; AND A JOINT STATEMENT OF INTERNATIONAL LAW WHICH IS BEING POUCHED.

3. VARGAS WELCOMED THE EFFORT THAT U.S. SIDE HAD PUT INTO THE PREPARATION OF THE DRAFT TEXTS. HE WAS IN AGREEMENT WITH THE ILLUSTRATIVE TIME LINE, AND HE APPEARED TO ACCEPT THE FORMAT OF THE MOU, COMPROMIS AND JOINT STATEMENT. HOWEVER, HE RESERVED HIS POSITION ON THE TEXTS AND INDICATED HE WOULD HAVE TO STUDY THE DOCUMENTS CAREFULLY.

4. VARGAS INDICATED THAT CHILE WAS THINKING OF APPOINTING SIR WILLIAM DOUGLAS OF BARBADOS AS ITS NON-NATIONAL APPOINTEE. HE ALSO SUGGESTED THAT ANDRES AGUILAR OF VENEZUELA MIGHT SERVE AS PRESIDENT. SOFAER INDICATED THAT WE WOULD BE WILLING TO ENTERTAIN A FORMAL PROPOSAL, NOTING THAT WE HAVE HIGH REGARD FOR AGUILAR AND DOUGLAS.

5. VARGAS NOTED THAT THE DRAFTS DID NOT DEAL WITH THE CRIMINAL SIDE OF THE LETELIER CASE OR THE LIFTING OF SANCTIONS. SOFAER REPLIED THAT THESE DRAFTS REFLECTED OUR EFFORT TO PREPARE TEXTS WHICH WOULD IMPLEMENT VARGAS' PROPOSAL TO USE THE 1914 TREATY TO DECIDE THE QUESTION OF COMPENSATION. WE HAD NOT SOUGHT TO DEAL

WITH OTHER ASPECTS OF THE MATTER. WHEN VARGAS ASKED WHETHER THE OTHER MATTERS MIGHT BE INCLUDED, SOFAER REPLIED THAT IT MIGHT BE POSSIBLE AND THAT CHILE SHOULD MAKE A SPECIFIC PROPOSAL. VARGAS PRESSED THE QUESTION WHEN THE SANCTIONS WOULD BE LIFTED. WE WERE NON-COMMITTAL ON THE TIMING OF THE LIFTING OF SANCTIONS, SAYING ONLY THAT IT WOULD BE DONE WHEN CHILE HAD TAKEN MEANINGFUL STEPS IN SATISFACTION OF THE LAW.

THE UNITED STATES HAS SOUGHT COMPENSATION FROM CHILE ON BEHALF OF THE FAMILIES OF LETELIER AND MOFFITT, ON THE GROUND THAT CHILE IS LEGALLY RESPONSIBLE UNDER INTERNATIONAL LAW FOR THEIR DEATHS AND THE PERSONAL INJURIES TO MICHAEL MOFFITT. THE PARTIES AGREE, HOWEVER, THAT NO NEED EXISTS TO RESOLVE THE MERITS OF THIS CLAIM OF LIABILITY, SINCE THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE IS WILLING TO MAKE AN EX GRATIA PAYMENT TO THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, TO BE RECEIVED ON BEHALF OF THE FAMILIES OF THE VICTIMS.

THE GOVERNMENTS AGREE THAT, NOTWITHSTANDING THE INVOCATION OF THE 1914 TREATY BY THE UNITED STATES ON JANUARY 12, 1989, IN LIGHT OF THE UNDERSTANDINGS SET FORTH HEREIN, THE AMOUNT OF THE COMPENSATION TO BE PAID SHALL BE THE SOLE QUESTION TO BE DETERMINED BY THE COMMISSION. THE PARTIES AGREE TO SUBMIT TO THE COMMISSION THE JOINT STATEMENT ATTACHED AT ANNEX 2.
5. THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE AGREES TO PAY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES, AS ITS EX GRATIA PAYMENT IN THIS MATTER, THE AMOUNT OF COMPENSATION AS DETERMINED BY THE COMMISSION. 1. SUMMARY AND ACTION REQUEST: TWO AMERICAN CITIZENS, NICHOLAS BLAKE AND GRIFFIN DAVIS, DISAPPEARED IN HUEHUETENANGO DEPARTMENT IN APRIL 1985. THERE IS CONTINUING U.S. PRESIDENTIAL INTEREST IN THE CASE. PROSPECTS FOR RESOLVING IT HAVE IMPROVED IN THE WAKE OF THE AMBASSADOR'S MARCH 2 MEETING WITH MINISTER OF DEFENSE. IF POSSIBLE, POST WOULD LIKE THE ASSISTANCE OF A BILINGUAL FBI INVESTIGATOR TO QUESTION SUSPECTS. END SUMMARY.

2. AMCITS NICHOLAS BLAKE AND GRIFFIN DAVIS DISAPPEARED IN LATE MARCH OR EARLY APRIL 1985 IN A CONFLICTIVE AREA OF HUEHUETENANGO DEPARTMENT. IN SEPTEMBER 1987, AN INFORMANT ALLEGED THAT BLAKE AND DAVIS HAD BEEN KILLED BY MEMBERS OF THE LOCAL CIVIL PATROL. ACCORDING TO THE INFORMANT THEIR BODIES WERE LATER BURNED AND THEIR BONES REBURIED. THE INFORMANT PROVIDED US WITH THE NAMES OF SEVEN MEN WHO REPUTEDLY PARTICIPATED IN REBURYING THE REMAINS. WE INFORMED THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT IMMEDIATELY AND REQUESTED AN INVESTIGATION, BUT TO DATE THE GOG HAS NOT COMPLIED.

3. AMBASSADOR STROOCK AND DATT MET WITH MINISTER OF DEFENSE GRAMAJO ON MARCH 2 TO REQUEST THAT ALL SEVEN MEN BE INTERVIEWED IMMEDIATELY TO DETERMINE WHAT THEY KNOW ABOUT THE DISAPPEARANCES AND/OR LOCATION OF THE AMERICANS' REMAINS. GRAMAJO ACCEDED TO THE AMBASSADOR'S REQUEST AND AGREED TO PERMIT DATT TO BE PRESENT FOR THE INTERVIEWS. GRAMAJO INDICATED THAT THE GOG COULD ROUND UP THE SEVEN MEN WITHIN A WEEK IF NECESSARY.

4. WE FEEL THAT THIS REPRESENTS OUR BEST CHANCE TO RESOLVE THIS LONGSTANDING CASE IN WHICH PRESIDENT BUSH HAS DIRECT, PERSONAL INTEREST. WOULD THE FBI BE WILLING TO PROVIDE A BILINGUAL INVESTIGATOR TO TRAVEL TO GUATEMALA TO ACCOMPANY DATT AND PARTICIPATE IN THE QUESTIONING OF THE SEVEN SUSPECTS? SUCH AN AGENT MIGHT NEED TO TRAVEL IMMEDIATELY TO GUATEMALA TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THIS OPPORTUNITY.

5. WE APPRECIATE YOUR IMMEDIATE CONSIDERATION OF AND RESPONSE TO THIS PROPOSAL. TAYLOR

NOTING THE OBLIGATION OF THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE TO RESPECT AND PROTECT HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE INTERNATIONAL INSTRUMENTS TO WHICH CHILE IS A PARTY,

RECALLING THAT THE CONCERN OF THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY AT THE SERIOUS SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS IN CHILE HAS BEEN EXPRESSED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY AND BY THE COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS

IN MANY RESOLUTIONS SINCE 1974,

REGRETTING THAT, DESPITE THE IMPROVEMENT IN THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE, THE MILITARY GOVERNMENT HAS FAILED TO ACT ON A NUMBER OF THE RECOMMENDATIONS CONTAINED IN ALL THE REPORTS PREPARED ON THIS TOPIC AND HAS ALSO ISSUED MANY LAWS CONSOLIDATING AN INSTITUTIONAL LEGAL FRAMEWORK HARMFUL TO RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS,

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. THERE IS A FESTIVE MOOD BUILDING IN SANTIAGO AND IT'S NOT THE LEFT'S PRIVATE PROPERTY. PERHAPS THE ONLY TRULY SAD SACKS THIS WEEKEND WILL BE AUGUSTO PINOCHET AND THE OFFICERS AND CIVILIANS WHO HITCHED THEIR WAGONS TO HIS STAR. AND THAT DOES NOT INCLUDE MOST OF THE DEMOCRATIC RIGHT. CHILE'S DEMOCRATIC TRADITION DID NOT DIE DURING THE YEARS OF MILITARY REGIME. EVIDENCE? THE RELATIVELY SMOOTH, VERY CIVIL TRANSITION PROCESS.

3. THERE'S ALSO A SENSE OF RELIEF. AN INSIGHTFUL COLOMBIAN FRIEND REMINDED ME THAT TO BE A CHILEAN -- RIGHT OR LEFT-- DURING THE MILITARY REGIME HAS BEEN HARD. THERE HAS A TIME DURING THE '70S WHEN CHILE WAS ALMOST A PARIAH STATE AND CHILEAN PASSPORT HOLDERS WERE SUSPECT IN MANY PARTS OF THE WORLD. THE CURTAIN COMES DOWN ON THOSE DAYS HERE ON 11 MARCH. IN MY VIEW, THEY ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

WON'T REALLY END UNTIL THE SANCTIONS WHICH HAVE BEEN APPLIED TO THIS COUNTRY -- ESPECIALLY OURS -- ARE ERASED.

4. AYLWIN SHARES THAT VIEW, AND SO DO HIS CLOSEST ADVISERS. THAT GIVES US A LINE FOR THE THEME OF VICE PRESIDENT QUAYLE'S VISIT AND YOUR OWN CONVERSATIONS HERE: WELCOME BACK, AND HOW DO WE MOVE THINGS AS QUICKLY AS WE CAN TO FULLY NORMAL? NOTE THE QUESTION MARK. THE NEW GOVERNMENT HAS A FULL SPEAKING PART AND WE WILL BE DEPENDENT ON WHAT AYLWIN DOES AS WE TRY TO PURSUE OUR OWN INTERESTS.

5. AYLWIN GIVES GREAT WEIGHT TO HIS RELATIONS WITH US. THERE ARE CHILEANS, INCLUDING SOME CLOSE TO THE PRESIDENT, WHO DON'T. THEY WANT TO DIVERSIFY -- DEVELOP CLOSER EUROPEAN AND ASIAN TIES BECAUSE THE US HAS NOT ALWAYS BEEN A RELIABLE ALLY. AGAIN, THIS THEME HAS LEFT AS WELL AS RIGHT ECHOES. EVENTS IN EUROPE MAY MUTE SOME OF THAT, BUT YOU MAY HEAR IT IN SANTIAGO. I HOPE WE CAN SAY AND, EVENTUALLY, DO THE THINGS THAT WILL PUT US IN A BETTER LIGHT.

6. AT THE SAME TIME, IT WILL BE A GOOD THING FOR CHILE TO LOOK OUTWARD. CHILE HAS BEEN ISOLATED. THE COUNTRY HAS THE INTELLECTUAL AND INSTITUTIONAL RESOURCES AND ENOUGH ECONOMIC SECURITY TO BE A REAL PLAYER IN HEMISPHERIC AFFAIRS AND, APPROPRIATELY, GLOBALLY AS WELL. WE SHOULD ENCOURAGE THAT.

7. NOW SOME SPECIFICS.

WE HAVE CONDITIONED HIS EXPECTATIONS. SO HAVE HIS ADVISERS. HE WILL SETTLE FOR STRONG RHETORICAL SUPPORT NOW. (THERE ARE AREAS WHERE WE CAN HELP AND I HOPE MY FOUNDATION SUGGESTION IS STILL ALIVE; MAYBE WE CAN DISCUSS THAT. AND SENATOR KENNEDY, I HAVE LEARNED, MAY INTEND TO SEEK FUNDS FOR HEALTH, EDUCATION AND DEVELOPMENT WHEN HE GETS BACK TO WASHINGTON.)

-O- PATENT LAW, GSP AND OPIC: WE ARE HOSTAGE TO THE US PHARMACEUTICAL MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION. ACCEPTABLE PATENT PROTECTION IS STILL NOT ASSURED. NOT MUCH TO BE SAID ON THIS THAT IS VERY POSITIVE. THAT COULD CHANGE WHILE YOU ARE READING THIS.

-O- LETELIER-MOFFITT: I MET WITH EDMUNDO VARGAS LATE ON 8 MARCH, ANTICIPATING A MEETING HE WAS TO HAVE ON THE 9TH WITH THE FOREIGN AND JUSTICE MINISTERS PLUS OUR ATTORNEY AND THE CHILEAN LAWYER REPRESENTING THE LETELIERS HERE. VARGAS REAFFIRMED THE INTENTION TO SETTLE THE CIVIL SUIT. ON THE CRIMINAL SIDE, EXPECT AYLWIN TO TELL THE VICE PRESIDENT AND SENATOR KENNEDY THAT HIS GOVERNMENT WILL COOPERATE FULLY WITH US AND TAKE APPROPRIATE STEPS IN AN EFFORT TO SEE JUSTICE DONE. THAT HIS PEOPLE WILL KEEP US FULLY INFORMED OF WHAT THEY INTEND TO DO BEFORE THEY DO IT. IF HE DOESN'T WE SHOULD ASK FOR THAT. THAT WAY, THE Q&A GO: Q. DID YOU DISCUSS THE LETELIER CASE WITH THE CHILEANS? A. YES, PRESIDENT AYLWIN ASSURED US HE WILL COOPERATE FULLY TO TAKE APPROPRIATE STEPS ON THE CRIMINAL PROSECUTION. WE EXPECT TO WORK CLOSELY WITH THE NEW GOVERNMENT ON THIS. Q. DOES THAT MEAN KENNEDY AMENDMENT SANCTIONS WILL BE LIFTED? A. THAT WILL DEPEND ON THE STEPS THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT TAKES. WE ARE ENCOURAGED THAT WE WILL FINALLY HAVE COOPERATION ON THIS IMPORTANT MATTER. VARGAS MAY HAVE MORE FOR US DURING THE VICE PRESIDENT'S MEETING WITH MINISTERS ON MONDAY, 12 MARCH.

-O- RELATIONS WITH THE MILITARY: IT IS IN NO ONE'S INTEREST FOR THE CHILEAN ARMED FORCES TO BE THE NEW PARIAHS. THAT'S WHY ALL DEMOCRATIC COUNTRIES, ESPECIALLY OURS, SHOULD REBUILD THE RELATIONS THAT HAVE BEEN ATTENUATED OVER THE LAST DOZEN AND ONE-HALF YEARS. THE VICE PRESIDENT'S MEETING WITH DEFENSE MINISTER ROJAS WILL BE AN OPPORTUNITY TO TOUCH ON THAT THEME. YOU SHOULD HAVE SEEN THE CHILEAN CIVILIANS, INCLUDING STAUNCH SOCIALISTS, RUSH ABOARD THE CARRIER USS CONSTELLATION AT OUR INVITATION. THEY SAW OUR SAILORS AND OFFICERS AT WORK AND AT PLAY, TOOK PICTURES (SOMETHING THEIR OWN ARMED FORCES NEVER PERMIT) AND SAW A BIT OF HOW IT CAN WORK IN A DEMOCRACY. WE NEED MUCH MORE OF THAT.

-O- HUMAN RIGHTS: IT'S A CHILEAN PROBLEM NOW AND ONE OF THE TOUGHEST AYLWIN FACES. HE WILL HAVE TO DECIDE HOW TO HANDLE IT. THERE IS VERY LITTLE WE CAN SAY THAT MIGHT HELP.

8. SO, THOSE ARE SOME OF THE HIGH SPOTS. THE VICE PRESIDENT'S PEOPLE HERE HAVE BEEN SUPER. THE SCHEDULE LOOKS GOOD. THE CHILE SUBSTANCE IS JUST ABOUT RIGHT. SEE YOU SATURDAY NIGHT.

SUBJECT: MULTIPLE BOMB DETONATIONS OCCUR IN SANTIAGO

1. (U) POLICE AND MEDIA SOURCES REPORT THAT AT LEAST A DOZEN SMALL BOMBS WERE DETONATED IN SANTIAGO ON MARCH 9 BETWEEN 2200-2300 HOURS.

2. (S) POLICE AND EMBASSY SOURCES BELIEVE THAT THE GROUPS MOST LIKELY RESPONSIBLE ARE EITHER THE FPMR OR MAPU/L ORGANIZATIONS.

3. (U) OTHER TARGETS OF THESE BOMBINGS INCLUDED A TELEPHONE OFFICE, A MORMON TEMPLE, A PRIVATE RESIDENCE OCCUPIED BY A MILITARY OFFICER, THE CHILEAN TOURIST OFFICE, AN OFFICE OF A LOCAL DAILY NEWSPAPER, AN OFFICE OF THE GOC INTELLIGENCE ORGANIZATION (CNI), SOME PRIVATE BUSINESSES AND A COURTHOUSE. TWO PASSERBYS WERE INJURED AT THE COURTHOUSE EXPLOSION.

4. (C) RSO HAD PREVIOUSLY CONTACTED A MORMON CHURCH REPRESENTATIVE ON MARCH 7 TO WARN HIM THAT MORMON CHAPELS COULD POSSIBLY BE TARGETED BY BOMBERS DURING THE NEXT FEW DAYS.

5. (C) VARIOUS MEDIA REPORTS THAT A BOMB EXPLODED AT THE US CONSULATE ARE FALSE. WHAT ACTUALLY OCCURRED IS THAT AT 2235 HOURS, A GARDENER ENTERED A SMALL SUBTERRANEAN STORAGE AREA IN THE PARK ACROSS THE STREET FROM THE CONSULATE AND ACCIDENTALLY IGNITED GASOLINE FUMES THAT ESCAPED FROM A FUEL STORAGE TANK USED TO REFUEL LAWNMOWERS. RSO SPOKE TO THE CARABINERO OFFICER IN CHARGE OF THE BOMB SQUAD AND THE FIRE CAPTAIN AT THE SCENE AND BOTH OFFICIALS TOLD HIM THAT THIS INCIDENT WAS AN ACCIDENT NOT A

SUBJECT: Information on Cuban Oil

1. Spoke with [redacted] expert on Cuban energy, to discuss petroleum matters and the peso.

2. Per [redacted] the Cubans are currently concerned about future Soviet oil deliveries because changes are likely under the new 5-year trade protocol (1991-1995) now being negotiated. At present, Soviet oil deliveries fall under the current 5-year plan, and the Soviets are meeting their commitments. The Soviets are likely to reduce oil exports to all their friends, including Cuba, in the next several years because Soviet oil production is likely to decline.

3. Even if the Soviets maintain oil exports to Cuba at present levels, Cuba will feel the pinch. Cuba's domestic economy, ceteris paribus, requires 3 percent more oil each year to sustain modest growth. As a result, the Agency estimates, even if the Soviets maintain current delivery levels, Cuba will cease to be an oil reexporter this year or next.

4. Castro is even more concerned, according to [redacted] about the possibility that internal Soviet problems could make it impossible for the Soviets to meet their petroleum commitments. Castro has devised contingency plans to take account of this. They emphasize conservation, at the cost of economic growth, because Cuba lacks the hard currency to buy large quantities of oil in international markets. If need be, for example, Havana is prepared to save oil by cutting the generation of electricity by one third to one half and by drastically curtailing cement production.

5. At present, Cuba imports about 95 percent of its oil. Imports amount to 270,000 barrels per day, or about 13.5 million metric tons annually. Of the 13.5 million tons, approximately 10 million tons come directly from the Soviet Union. The balance of 3.5 million tons comes largely from Venezuela, together with small amounts from Ecuador and Mexico. Under a swap arrangment, Venezuela provides oil to Cuba, while the Soviets supply West Germany, a Venezuelan client.

SECRET

97M93 6907

6. Cuban reexports, which were a major source of hard currency earnings in the mid-1980s, at times have involved the physical reexport of oil from Cuba. In other cases, the Soviets have sold oil on the international market and provided Cuba the proceeds.

7. Of the 13.5 million ~~metric tons of~~ oil Cuba imports, some 7.6 million tons is crude. The balance is in refined form. Cuba has two refineries in operation on the island at present and is building a third at Cienfuegos that is scheduled to go into operation in 1992.

8. I also queried [redacted] about the appreciation of the Cuban peso. He stated that the development was of little significance because the peso is nonconvertible and is not exchanged. He agreed that any appreciation in the peso would move it closer to the black market rate.

2. BEGIN TEXT.

NATO EXPERTS WORKING GROUP ON LATIN AMERICA COUNTRY PAPER ON CHILE

ON DECEMBER 14, 1989, CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT PATRICIO AYLWIN, REPRESENTING A CENTER LEFT COALITION (CODPODE), WON CHILE'S FIRST OPEN PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS IN 19 YEARS. IN CONGRESSIONAL RACES CODPODE CAPTURED A MAJORITY IN THE LOWER HOUSE. THE CHILEAN CONSTITUTION, DESIGNED BY PINOCHET, PROVIDES FOR NINE APPOINTED SENATORS, WHICH IN ADDITION TO THE 16 SEATS WON BY THE RIGHT WING PARTIES, WILL GIVE THE RIGHT A MAJORITY IN THE 47 MEMBER SENATE. AYLWIN, THEREFORE, FACES THE DUAL CHALLENGE OF MAINTAINING HIS BROAD ELECTORAL COALITION, WHILE COURTING RIGHT-WING SUPPORT TO IMPLEMENT HIS PROGRAM. DURING HIS FOUR YEAR TRANSITION TERM HE FACES THE DAUNTING TASKS OF CLEANSING CHILE'S GOVERNING INSTITUTIONS OF PINOCHET'S AUTHORITARIAN RESIDUE, REVAMPING CIVIL-MILITARY RELATIONS, RESOLVING HUMAN RIGHTS CASES, AND MAINTAINING SOUND ECONOMIC POLICIES AND ECONOMIC GROWTH WHILE MEETING PENT-UP POPULAR DEMAND FOR MORE SOCIAL PROGRAMS.

AYLWIN HAS DENOUNCED ELEVENTH HOUR PINOCHET MANUEVERS THAT WILL FORCE HIM TO SPEND HIS FIRST MONTHS IN OFFICE, AT THE ZENITH OF HIS POWER AND PRESTIGE, WORKING TO UNRAVEL AUTHORITARIAN VESTIGES. LAWS AND REGULATIONS ENACTED IN THE FINAL MONTHS OF THE MILITARY GOVERNMENT EFFECTIVELY INSULATE THE ARMED FORCES FROM CIVILIAN CONTROL AND CONSTRAIN THE CONGRESS, THE CENTRAL BANK, THE SUPREME COURT, AND THE REST OF THE JUDICIARY.

WHILE RESIGNED TO RELINQUISHING THE PRESIDENCY, PINOCHET HAS APPOINTED LOYALISTS TO MOST SENSITIVE ARMY POSTS AND ENSURED, AT LEAST FOR NOW, THE MILITARY'S AUTONOMY FROM CIVILIAN BUDGET CUTS AND INTERFERENCE. AYLWIN CANNOT

DIRECTLY CONFRONT THE MILITARY; HE MUST ASSERT CIVILAN AUTHORITY THROUGH CAREFUL NEGOTIATIONS WITH HOSTILE AND SUSPICIOUS OFFICERS. RESOLUTION OF PAST HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES WILL REMOVE A CENTRAL SOURCE OF TENSION BETWEEN THE CIVILIANS AND THE MILITARY. THE KEY LIES IN BALANCING UNCOMPROMISING DEMANDS FOR JUSTICE FROM LEFTIST AND HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS WITH MILITARY RESOLVE TO BLOCK NEARLY ALL INVESTIGATIONS AND PROSECTIONS.

AYLWIN HAS A SOLID GOVERNING AGENDA SUPPORTED BY A MODERATE CABINET. HE PROMISES TO CONTINUE TO PROMOTE FREE MARKET ECONOMIC POLICIES AND FISCAL RESPOSIBILITY WHILE REDISTRIBUTING THE GAINS OF SUSTAINED ECONOMIC GROWTH MORE EQUITABLY THAN UNDER PINOCHET. MAJOR CHANGES TO THE ECONOMIC PROGRAM ARE NOT ANTICIPATED, ALTHOUGH MINOR ADJUSTMENTS WILL AFFECT CHILEAN AND FOREIGN INVESTORS ALIKE. THE NEED TO MAINTAIN BALANCED BUDGETS WILL PREVENT DRAMATIC CHANGES IN FISCAL POLICY, WHICH MAY TEND TO DIMINISH GOVERNMENT RESOURCES AND FORCE THE AYLWIN GOVERNMENT TO SEEK RIGHTIST SUPPORT IN THE CONGRESS IN ORDER TO GET ITS SPENDING PRIORITIES APPROVED.

IN THE INTERNATIONAL ARENA, AYLWIN'S PLANS INCLUDE RESTORING DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH MEXICO, EASTERN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES AND THE SOVIET UNION. CHILE MAY BECOME MORE INVOLVED IN THIRD-WORLD AND LATIN AMERICAN ISSUES AND WILL PROBABLY CONTINUE TO PROMOTE OPEN TRADE RELATIONS, SEEKING TO EXPAND CHILE'S DIVERSIFIED EXPORTS.

AYLWIN AND HIS TOP ADVISORS FAVOR RAPID RESOLUTION OF THE LETELIER CASE, THE CHIEF OBSTACLE TO NORMAL CHILE-U.S. RELATIONS. THEY HAVE INDICATED THEIR WILLINGNESS TO PAY COMPENSATION TO THE LETELIER/MOFFITT FAMILIES AND TAKE SOME ACTIONS TO PURSUE CRIMINAL PROSECTIONS OF THE CHILEAN SECRET POLICE OFFICERS INDICTED BY A U.S. COURT FOR THE KILLINGS. IF THE AYLWIN GOVERNMENT FOLLOWS THROUGH ON BOTH THE CIVIL AND CRIMINAL SIDES OF THE CASE, THE USG. WOULD LIFT LEGAL SANCTIONS ON ARM SALES AND MILETARY ASSISTANCE TO CHILE.

4. "I HAVE THE HONOR TO BE BACK IN CHILE AND I AM GRATEFUL TO PRESIDENT BUSH AND VICE PRESIDENT QUAYLE FOR INVITING ME TO BE PART OF THE OFFICIAL DELEGATION OF THE UNITED STATES AT THE INAUGURATION OF PRESIDENT AYLWIN.

5. "THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF MY VISIT TO CHILE IN 1990 ARE CERTAINLY MORE AUSPICIOUS THAN THE OCCASION OF MY VISIT IN 1986, YET DURING BOTH VISITS THE PEOPLE OF CHILE EXTENDED TO ME A GENEROUS AND WARM WELCOME. I AM DEEPLY HONORED TO JOIN IN THIS CELEBRATION OF DEMOCRACY. YESTERDAY IN VALPARAISO THE PEOPLE OF CHILE ACHIEVED WHAT MANY THOUGHT WOULD BE THE IMPOSSIBLE DREAM, THE PEACEFUL TRANSFER OF POWER FROM DICTATOR TO DEMOCRAT.

6. "FOR 17 YEARS THE COURAGEOUS CITIZENS OF CHILE SOUGHT THIS LIBERTY, NOT WITH INSTRUMENTS OF WAR, BUT WITH THE MOST POWERFUL WEAPON ON EARTH: THE INEVITABILITY, THE INVINCIBILITY OF THE HUMAN SPIRIT. THROUGHOUT THE DARK YEARS OF REPRESSION, THROUGHOUT THE HARD YEARS OF INTIMIDATION, THROUGHOUT THE DIFFICULT YEARS OF SUFFERING, THE PEOPLE OF CHILE NEVER WAVERED IN THEIR ENDURING COMMITMENT TO BE FREE, AND THE INAUGURATION OF PRESIDENT AYLWIN IS AN IMPRESSIVE TRIBUTE TO THE IRRESISTIBLE IDEA OF LIBERTY AND DEMOCRACY.

7. "DURING MY SHORT STAY IN CHILE I MET WITH HUMAN RIGHTS LEADERS, CARDINAL SILVA, MEMBERS OF THE CHILEAN COMMISSION FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, THE VICARIATE OF SOLIDARITY, AND MANY UNSUNG HEROES WHO HAVE PLAYED

SUCH A CRUCIAL ROLE IN PROTECTING HUMAN RIGHTS IN THE REBIRTH OF DEMOCRACY. I HAVE HAD INTERESTING DISCUSSIONS WITH NEW MEMBERS OF CONGRESS, NEW MINISTERS OF THE AYLWIN GOVERNMENT, AND MEMBERS OF POLITICAL PARTIES FROM A WIDE RANGE OF POLITICAL VIEWS.

8. "I LOOK FORWARD TO MEETING THIS AFTERNOON WITH PRESIDENT AYLWIN AND DISCUSSING THE CHALLENGES HE FACES IN THE NEW RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENTS. THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES STAND READY TO ASSIST THE PEOPLE OF CHILE IN CONSOLIDATING THEIR DEMOCRATIC VICTORY AND I LOOK FORWARD TO WORKING IN THE UNITED STATES SENATE TO PROVIDE SUCH ASSISTANCE, INCLUDING TRADE AND INVESTMENT BENEFITS TO HELP IN THE AREAS OF GREATEST NEED, SUCH AS HEALTH, EDUCATION AND HOUSING.
9. "IN LISTENING LAST EVENING TO VALDES' SUPERB PERFORMANCE OF BEETHOVEN'S NINTH SYMPHONY I WAS STRUCK BY ITS PARTICULAR APPROPRIATENESS. LUDWIG VAN BEETHOVEN FACED SEEMINGLY INSURMOUNTABLE ODDS AS A DEAF COMPOSER, AND YET HIS PASSIONATE DRIVE PROPELLED HIM TO GREATNESS. ONLY THE PASSION AND DRIVE OF THE PEOPLE OF CHILE BROUGHT THEM TO THIS DAWN OF A GREAT NEW AREA. DEMOCRACY HAS AT LAST RETURNED TO THIS COURAGEOUS, BEAUTIFUL AND INSPIRING LAND. MAY FREEDOM NEVER LEAVE CHILE AGAIN."

UNCLAS SECTION 02 OF 04 SANTIAGO 02097

11. BEGIN TEXT OF QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

12. QUESTION (JORGE URIBE, EXCELSIOR DE MEXICO): "WILL THE U.S. GOVERNMENT MAINTAIN THE SAME DEMANDS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE INSOFAR AS A RESOLUTION TO THE ASSASSINATION OF THE FORMER FOREIGN MINISTER OF THE CONSTITUTIONAL PRESIDENT ALLENDE, WHICH OCURRED IN WASHINGTON?"

ANSWER: "THERE EXISTS LEGISLATION WHICH REQUIRES THAT THOSE INVOLVED IN THE ASSASSINATION OF MR. LETELIER AND THE AMERICAN CITIZEN RONNI MOFFITT BE BROUGHT TO JUSTICE EITHER IN THE UNITED STATES OR IN CHILE. I AM A STRONG BELIEVER IN THE COMMITMENT OF THE AYLWIN GOVERNMENT TO NOT ONLY ACHIEVE HUMAN RIGHTS HERE BUT TO ENSURE THAT CHILE REPRESENTS HUMAN RIGHTS THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.

"I HAD THAT STRONG BELIEF BEFORE COMING TO CHILE AND LAST NIGHT'S STATEMENT BY PRESIDENT AYLWIN TO

RELEASE PRISONERS OF CONSCIENCE JUST REAFFIRMS THAT BELIEF. SO I AM CONFIDENT THAT THE DIFFICULT AND PAINFUL, BUT ALSO THE JUSTIFIABLE PROVISIONS FOR THAT LEGISLATION WILL BE ACHIEVED AND THAT THAT ASPECT OF THE RELATIONSHIP WILL BE RESTORED IN THE FUTURE.

"MEANTIME, I WOULD HOPE THAT WE WOULD SEE THE RESTORATION OF THE TRADE CONDITIONS WHICH WERE SUSPENDED PREVIOUSLY, AS WELL THE GENERAL TARIFF PROVISIONS AND THE OVERSEAS INVESTMENT PROVISIONS. WE CAN RENEW INVESTMENTS, NEW JOBS AND NEW OPPORTUNITIES HERE, AND I WOULD HOPE THAT THE NATURE OF THE RELATIONSHIP WOULD INCLUDE MUTUAL EXCHANGE IN AREAS THAT AFFECT THE AVERAGE CHILEAN FAMILY, IMPROVING EDUCATION, IMPROVING HEALTH AND IMPROVING HOUSING. THESE ARE THE THINGS WHICH I BELIEVE THE AMERICAN PEOPLE AND THE CHILEAN PEOPLE CARE VERY MUCH ABOUT."

13. QUESTION (OSCAR MEDINA, SANTIAGO CHANNEL 13 TV): "NEVERTHELESS, THE SENATOR HAS NOT GIVEN A CLEAR ANSWER TO THE INITIAL QUESTION. WILL THE U.S. GOVERNMENT PLACE NEW DEMANDS ON THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT IN ORDER TO RESOLVE THE LETELIER ASSASSINATION, AND IS HE INCLINED TO WORK IN THE SENATE TO LIFT THE AMENDMENT OF WHICH HE IS THE AUTHOR?"

ANSWER: "THE LANGUAGE IS VERY CLEAR AND IS VERY COMPELLING. IT DOES NOT TALK ABOUT WORDS, IT TALKS ABOUT ACTIONS. I AM QUITE CONVINCED THAT THE EXISTING LEGISLATION IS SATISFACTORY TO DEAL WITH THE CURRENT UNRESOLVED TRAGEDY. AS THE AUTHOR OF THE UNCLASSIFIED

LEGISLATION, I BELIEVE THAT IT IS SUITED TO DEAL WITH IT AND I DON'T EXPECT THAT THERE WOULD BE ADDITIONAL LANGUAGE THAT WOULD BE SUGGESTED BY THE ADMINSTRATION BECAUSE I THINK THE EXISTING LANGUAGE IS QUITE ADEQUATE TO DEAL WITH THE CURRENT SITUATION: TO BRING TO JUSTICE THOSE THAT WERE INVOLVED IN THAT HORRENDOUS CRIME."

14.QUESTION (CARMEN CASTRO, SANTIAGO RADIO COOPERATIVA): "ARE YOU INCLINED, NOW WITH A NEW GOVERNMENT IN CHILE, TO LIFT THE KENNEDY AMENDMENT? THAT IS MY SIMPLE QUESTION. THE OTHER THING IS: IF THE MILITARY BEGINS TO INTERFERE WITH THE GOVERNMENT, GIVEN THAT THEY WERE IN POWER FOR SUCH A LONG TIME, WHAT ATTITIUDE WOULD THE U.S. GOVERNMENT ADOPT IF YOU SEE THAT DEMOCRACY IS BEING ENDANGERED?"

15. ANSWER: "WITH REGARD TO ELIMINATING THE KENNEDY AMENDMENT TODAY, I BELIEVE THE OVERWHELMING MAJORITY OF THE MEMBERS OF THE SENATE IN BOTH PARTIES, REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRATIC ALIKE, WANT THOSE THAT WERE INVOLVED IN GOVERNMENT-SPONSORED TERRORISM BROUGHT TO JUSTICE WHETHER HERE IN CHILE OR IN THE UNITED STATES, AND THERE IS EVERY EXPECTATION THAT THEY WILL BE. SO THAT IS THE CURRENT CONDITION.

"WITH REGARD TO THE SECOND ASPECT OF YOUR QUESTION, WHETHER ANY AID AND ASSISTANCE MIGHT BE, AS THEY SAY, 'FENCED' ON THE CONDITION THAT THERE SHOULD BE NO MILITARY OVERTHROW, I THINK THAT MAY VERY WELL BE DISCUSSED. AT THIS TIME I THINK IT IS UNCERTAIN. THOSE PROVISIONS WERE USED IN THE SITUATION AFTER THE ELECTIONS IN EL SALVADOR AND IT IS SOMETHING WHICH IS NOT FOREIGN TO AT LEAST THE CONSIDERATION OF ACTIONS BY THE CONGRESS. WHETHER THAT WOULD BE THE CIRCUMSTANCE WITH REGARD TO CHILE OR NOT I THINK IS UNCERTAIN AT THIS PARTICULAR POINT. I THINK THERE IS A RECOGNITION OF THE IMPORTANCE OF CIVILIAN CONTROL OVER THE MILITARY. IT'S MY UNDERSTANDING THAT GENERAL PINOCHET HAS SUBSCRIBED TO THAT IN STATEMENTS TO THE NEW ADMINISTRATION AND AS LONG AS THAT CONDITION CERTAINLY IS IN PLACE, THAT KIND OF AMENDMENT WOULD NOT BE NECESSARY."

16. QUESTION (JORGE ESCALANTE, SANTIAGO DAILY FORTIN MAPOCHO): "THE U.S. WAS HARSHLY CRITICIZED BY A LARGE PART OF THE WORLD FOR ITS INTERVENTION IN PANAMA. WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THE U.S. INTERVENTION IN PANAMA?"

UNCLASSIFIED

ANSWER: "I HAVE SPOKEN ON THE FLOOR OF THE UNITED STATES SENATE QUESTIONING THAT ACTION AND I DO NOT INTEND TO DEVELOP THAT THEME HERE TODAY. I'VE DONE IT IN MY OWN NATIONAL ASSEMBLY AND I STATED IN THAT SPEECH THE REASONS FOR IT."

17. QUESTION (MAURICIO HOFFMAN, SANTIAGO DAILY LA SEGUNDA): "I WOULD LIKE TO KNOW IF YOU, HAVING NOW HAD THE OPPORTUNITY TO EVALUATE THE RESULTS OF THE KENNEDY AMENDMENT, COULD SAY IF IT REALLY HELPED SPEED THE TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY IN CHILE OR IF YOU THINK THAT IT REALLY HAD NO EFFECT AND, ON THE CONTRARY, COULD HAVE SLOWED IT."

ANSWER: "I THINK CLEARLY THE MOST IMPORTANT ELEMENT FOR THE TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY WAS THE DEEPLY COMMITTED SENSE OF VALUES OF THE CHILEAN PEOPLE FOR LIBERTY AND FREEDOM. WHATEVER EFFECT OUTSIDE ACTIONS MAY HAVE HAD ON THIS WHOLE MOVEMENT IS NOT TO BE COMPARED WITH THE EXTROARDINARY COURAGE OF HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF CHILEAN MEN, WOMEN, YOUNG AND OLD ALIKE, MANY OF WHOM LOST THIER LIVES, MANY OF WHOM DISAPPEARED.

"THAT ACTION, I THINK, HAS BEEN A LESSON FOR PEOPLES ALL OVER THE WORLD WHO TALK ABOUT FREEDOM. THE CHILEAN PEOPLE NOT ONLY TALKED ABOUT IT AND BELIEVED IN IT BUT, IN TOO MANY INSTANCES, SUFFERED AND LOST THEIR LIVES BECAUSE OF IT. AS I STATED THE OTHER EVENING, IN MY CONVERSATIONS WITH LEADERS FROM EASTERN EUROPE AS WELL AS OTHER PARTS OF THE WORLD, ALL OVER THE WORLD THEY POINT TO THE CHILEAN EXPERIENCE AND TO THE PEOPLE WHO KNEW DEMOCRACY AND WERE WILLING TO EXPERIENCE EXTRAORDINARY PERSONAL AND NATIONAL SETBACKS IN ORDER TO SEE ITS RESTORATION. IT IS A LESSON IN THE FIGHT FOR HUMAN LIBERTY AND HUMAN RIGHTS WHICH WILL BE EMBLAZONED ON THE COURSE OF THE HISTORY OF THE WORLD AND NO ONE SHOULD THINK VERY MUCH THAT OTHER ACTIONS, AS USEFUL AS THEY MAY HAVE BEEN, CAN EVEN COMPARE WITH THOSE ACTIONS OF THE PEOPLE THEMSELVES."

18. QUESTION (KEVIN NOBLET, ASSOCIATED PRESS): "A FOLLOW-UP QUESTION ON THE LETELIER CASE: YOU SAID THAT YOU HAVE EVERY EXPECTATION THAT THE PEOPLE INVOLVED WOULD BE BROUGHT TO JUSTICE OR TO TRIAL. DO YOU EXPECT THAT THERE WILL BE A TRIAL HERE IN CHILE OR WOULD THE CONDITION BE THAT THEY WOULD HAVE TO BE BROUGHT TO TRIAL IN THE UNITED STATES?"

ANSWER: "THE LANGUAGE IN THE AMENDMENT SAYS EITHER IN CHILE OR THE UNITED STATES AND I THINK IT'S PERFECTLY SATISFACTORY IN EITHER JURISDICTION. IT CAN BE IN EITHER PLACE. IT WOULD BE UP TO BOTH THE CHILEAN AND AMERICAN ADMINISTRATIONS TO WORK OUT WHERE THE APPROPIATE VENUE WOULD BE."

19. QUESTION (MARIA EUGENIA CAMUS, ANALISIS MAGAZINE): "CURRENTLY THE CHILEAN ARMED FORCES HAVE VIRTUAL AUTONOMY TO CARRY OUT THE PURCHASE OF WEAPONS. THERE ARE MANY IN CHILE WHO BELIEVE THAT THIS LEGAL SITUATION SHOULD BE CHANGED OR MODIFIED. WOULD YOU BE INCLINED TO LIFT THE KENNEDY AMENDMENT AFTER THIS SITUATION IS CHANGED?"

ANSWER: "I AM A STRONG BELIEVER IN CIVILIAN CONTROL OF THE MILITARY. I UNDERSTAND PRESIDENT AYLWIN IS AS WELL AND I BELIEVE IT IS HIS DESIRE TO -ENSURE THAT IN THE AYLWIN ADMINISTRATION THAT WILL BE THE CIRCUMSTANCE. I HAVE NO REASON TO REALLY QUESTION HIS DESIRE TO ACHIEVE THAT. SO I WOULD HOPE THAT, AFTER THE PROVISIONS OF THE AMENDMENTS ARE COMPLIED WITH, WHATEVER FUTURE REGULARIZATION OF THE ARRANGEMENTS IN TERMS OF PURCHASE OF EQUIPMENT WOULD FOLLOW THE DESIRE OF PRESIDENT AYLWIN TO HAVE CIVILIAN CONTROL, WHICH I IMAGINE CERTAINLY MEANS THAT CIVILIANS WOULD BE PURCHASING THE EQUIPMENT."

20. QUESTION (CRISTINA OPAZO, LATINO NEWS): "THERE ARE SOME INDICATIONS THAT YOUR AMENDMENT HAS BEEN VIOLATED RECENTLY. THERE WAS A SALE OF 15 HELICOPTERS TO THE ARMY. THERE WERE FIGHTER PLANES THAT WERE OVERHAULED IN ISRAEL, AND THEY ARE BUILDING A COMBAT HELICOPTER WITH U.S. TECHNOLOGY. DOES THAT MEAN WE HAVE TO GIVE UP HOPE IN TERMS OF FINDING OUT

THE WHOLE TRUTH OF WHAT HAPPENED?"
ANSWER: "NO, BUT THERE WAS A CLEAR VIOLATION OF THE AMENDMENT BY THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE. THEY WERE ALLEGEDLY SOLD THROUGH A COMMERCIAL LICENSE AND THEN CONVERTED HERE IN CHILE, AND I THINK IT WAS A CLEAR VIOLATION OF THE AMENDMENT ITSELF. I DO NOT BELIEVE THAT THERE HAS BEEN ANY VIOLATION THROUGH THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT. THE PROCEDURE HAS BEEN ADDRESSED NOW AND I DO NOT BELIEVE IT WILL HAPPEN AGAIN, BUT

THERE IS NO QUESTION THAT WAS A CLEAR VIOLATION. AS I SAID IT DID COME THROUGH COMMERCIAL LOANS, COMMERCIAL TRANSACTIONS AND COMMERCIAL FINANCING AND NOT THROUGH THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT, BUT CLEARLY ONE HAND OUGHT TO KNOW WHAT THE OTHER HAND IS DOING, AND THEY DID NOT AND THEY WERE WRONG ABOUT IT, AND BOTH THE SECRETARY OF STATE AND THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE HAVE INDICATED SO."

21. QUESTION (ANGELICA ARNDT, COSAS MAGAZINE): "DO YOU FEEL THAT THIS BAN ON ARMS SALES TO CHILE IN RETROSPECT HAS DAMAGED THE NATIONAL INTEREST OF THE UNITED STATES, PRODUCING A GAP IN THE COMMUNICATION BETWEEN CHILEAN MILITARY AND THE U.S. MILITARY, AND ALL OF THE ACTS THAT HAVE HAPPENED SINCE 1976?" (SIC)

ANSWER: "DO I BELIEVE SO? NO, BECAUSE THE FACT THAT REMAINS IS THAT OVER THE PERIOD OF THE LAST SEVERAL YEARS, PROBABLY THE LAST EIGHT YEARS, CHILE RECEIVED OVER TWO BILLION DOLLARS IN INTERNATIONAL LOANS. A MAJOR PORTION OF THOSE ARE FROM CONTRIBUTIONS BY AMERICAN TAX PAYERS. THEY WANTED TO SEE DEVELOPMENT THAT IS GOING TO REACH THE AVERAGE FAMILY AND THEY HAVE BASICALLY SUPPORTED IT. BUT UNCLASSIFIED

WHAT WAS COMPLETELY UNACCEPTABLE TO THE AMERICAN TAX PAYERS IS TO SEE THE WEAPONS THAT WERE MADE TO PROTECT A COUNTRY TO BE UTILIZED TO BRUTALIZE A POPULATION, AND THAT WAS UNACCEPTABLE AND I QUITE FRANKLY BELIEVE THAT THE OVERWHELMING MAJORITY OF CHILEAN PEOPLE UNDERSTAND IT AND SUPPORT IT AND I HAVE NO REGRETS FOR THAT ACTION."

E.O. 12356: DECL:OADR
TAGS: PINS, PGOV, ES
SUBJECT: FMLN COMMUNIQUE ON NEGOTIATIONS

1. (U) AN FMLN COMMUNIQUE RELEASED MARCH 16 CRITICIZES THE GOES RESPONSE TO THE GUERRILLAS' OFFER TO SUSPEND SABOTAGE AND ATTACKS AGAINST CIVILIANS. THE MAIN POINTS OF THE MESSAGE ARE:

9-THE FMLN REJECTS THE GOVERNMENT'S STATEMENT THAT GUERRILLA POLICY HAS BEEN TO ATTACK CIVILIANS. GUERRILLA LEADERS ARE CLEARLY CONTRIBUTING TO THE STRENGTHENING OF "POLITICAL SPACE," A NEGOTIATED SOLUTION, AND AN EFFORT TO "HUMANIZE" THE CONFLICT.

--THE GOES AND ESAF CONTINUE VIOLATING HUMAN RIGHTS, BOMBING CIVILIAN ZONES AND SUBMITTING THE COUNTRY TO A PERMANENT STATE OF SIEGE, MAINTAINING IN A CONSTANT AND SYSTEMATIC MANNER THE POLICY OF CAPTURE AND TORTURE OF OFFICIALS OF POPULAR ORGANIZATIONS. MEANWHILE, THE JUDICIAL PROCESS RELATING TO THE ASSASSINS OF THE JESUITS HAS STALLED AND THOSE IMPLICATED ARE PROMOTED OR SENT ABROAD.

--WE ARE IN AGREEMENT THAT THE NEGOTIATION PROCESS SHOULD BE PERMANENT, SERIOUS, SUBSTANTIVE, AND RESERVED (PRIVATE).
--THE GOES IS MORALLY AND POLITICALLY OBLIGATED TO PRESENT IMMEDIATE GESTURES OF GOOD WILL THAT RESTORE CIVIL LIBERTIES AND CEASE HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS AND ALL FORMS OF AGGRESSION AGAINST CIVILIANS.

--IT WOULD BE LAMENTABLE FOR THE PEOPLE'S ASPIRATIONS FOR PEACE AND DEMOCRACY IF THE GOES AND ESAF HARDEN THEIR POSITIONS, BELIEVING IN THE "MIRAGE" OF FMLN WEAKNESSES. OBVIOUSLY, THIS MISTAKE WOULD ONLY LEAD TO AN ESCALATION OF THE WAR THAT WOULD WORSEN THE POSSIBILITIES OF NEGOTIATION, DEMOCRATIZATION, AND PEACE FOR EL SALVADOR.

SIGNED BY THE FIVE FMLN COMMANDERS.

2. COMMENT: NOTWITHSTANDING THE HARSH RHETORIC, THE FMLN DID NOT OPENLY DISPUTE THE GOES' BROAD INTERPRETATION OF THE GUERRILLAS' MARCH 13 UNILATERAL OFFER TO CEASE CERTAIN FORMS OF SABOTAGE AND ATTACKS ON CIVILIANS. IN ADDITION, THE FMLN AGREED, ONCE MORE, THAT NEGOTIATIONS SHOULD BE PRIVATE NOT PUBLIC. WHAT THE FMLN DID DO , HOWEVER, WAS TO PUSH FOR GOES CONCESSIONS--END TO THE STATE OF SIEGE (REALLY A STATE OF EXCEPTION), REPRESSION, CLOSE AIR SUPPORT--IN RETURN FOR ITS SUPPOSEDLY UNILATERAL OFFER. THE FMLN'S CLOSING LINE REFERRED TO ITS THREAT TO CARRY OUT A "SECOND OFFENSIVE" IF THE NEGOTIATIONS DO NOT ADVANCE.

3. (C) THIS AND OTHER COMMUNIQUES REPRESENT ONLY THE PUBLIC SIDE OF THE NEGOTIATIONS. THE PRIVATE TRACK, IN WHICH A/SYG DE SOTO IS ENGAGED, IS ALSO PROCEEDING. IT IS IN THIS PRIVATE TRACK THAT CRISTIANI HAS MADE HIS PROPOSALS, INCLUDING POSSIBLE RELEASE OF FMLN PRISONERS AND LIFTING THE STATE OF SIEGE.

4. MANAGUA MINIMIZE CONSIDERED.

SUBJECT: NUCLEAR: UPDATE ON LAGUNA VERDE

1. SCIATT MET RECENTLY WITH A CONTACT AT THE MEXICAN NATIONAL COMMISSION OF NUCLEAR SECURITY AND SAFEGUARDS (CNSNS) TO DISCUSS THE STATUS OF THE LAGUNA VERDE NUCLEAR ENERGY FACILITY. CONTACT SAID THAT CNSNS IS VERY BUSY RIGHT NOW WRITING A REPORT ON THE PROJECT FOR THE "MOTHERS OF VERA CRUZ", (MADRES VERACRUZANAS - A GROUP OF APPROXIMATELY 6-8 MOTHERS IN THE STATE OF VERACRUZ WHO OPPOSE THE CONSTRUCTION AND OPERATION OF THE LAGUNA VERDE PLANT). WHEN PRESIDENT SALINAS VISITED LAGUNA VERDE IN NOVEMBER 1989 HE MET WITH MEMBERS OF THIS ANTI-NUCLEAR GROUP AND PROMISED THEM A FULL REPORT ON THE PROJECT.

2. CNSNS IS ALSO REVIEWING THE EMERGENCY PLAN FOR THE PLANT. THE VERSION WHICH CNSNS APPROVED PASSED WITH

A SCORE OF 6 OUT OF 10 AND NEEDS IMPROVEMENT IN MANY AREAS.

THE END OF MARCH OR EARLY APRIL. THEY WILL THEN HAVE THREE WEEKS OF TESTS AT 100 PERCENT. AFTER THE TESTS THEY WILL STOP FOR TWO WEEKS TO TAKE OFF THE FILTERS. AFTER THAT THEY WILL HAVE 2 OR 3 MORE DAYS OF GUARANTEE TESTING. THIS MEANS THE PLANT SHOULD BE READY TO BE DECLARED A COMMERCIAL OPERATION BY MID TO LATE MAY, IF ALL GOES WELL. CNSNS IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE LICENSING OF THE PLANT.

4. ANOTHER PROBLEM WHICH COULD POTENTIALLY DELAY THE COMMERCIAL OPERATION OF LAGUNA VERDE IS AN ATTEMPT BY THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF VERACRUZ, DANTE ALFONSO DELGADO, TO HAVE AN INDEPENDENT AUDIT DONE ON THE PLANT. THE GOVERNOR HAS REPORTEDLY PROMISED THAT THE PLANT WILL STOP UNTIL THE AUDIT IS DONE. HOWEVER, SOURCE INSISTED THAT IF THE PRESIDENT DECIDES THE PLANT SHOULD RUN, IT WILL.

5. THE LAGUNA VERDE SIMULATOR, WHICH WAS CONSTRUCTED BY THE MEXICAN INSTITUTE OF ELECTRICAL RESEARCH (IIE) IS STILL NOT READY. TECNATOM, A SPANISH COMPANY, WON THE RECENTLY BID CONTRACT FOR TRAINING LAGUNA VERDE OPERATORS ON SIMULATORS IN SPAIN. (DRAFTED:SCI:ATIDBALL) PASTORINO

3. (ADD THE FOLLOWING TO THE FIRST PARAGRAPH)

BEGIN TEXT. THERE ARE OBSTACLES AHEAD; THE PRESIDENT-ELECT KNOWS THAT VERY WELL, BUT AT THIS POINT, WE SEE NO REASON TO DOUBT THAT HE WILL COMMAND THE POWERS NECESSARY TO IMPLEMENT HIS POLICIES. AYLWIN HAS REPEATEDLY DEMONSTRATED THAT HE KNOWS HOW TO CONSOLIDATE POWER AND HOW TO USE IT. HIS CURRENT STRATEGY IS TO AVOID CONFRONTATION WITH THE MILITARY WHILE COOPTING KEY SECTORS OF THE HIGH COMMAND. DURING THE INAUGURAL IN HIS PRIVATE MEETING WITH PINOCHET AND THE SENIOR ARMY STAFF, PRESIDENT AYLWIN MADE IT CLEAR THAT THE CHAIN OF COMMAND RUNS THROUGH THE DEFENSE MINISTER TO THE PRESIDENT.

AYLWIN TOLD US PINOCHET ACKNOWLEDGED THAT OPENLY IN FRONT OF HIS SENIOR STAFF. END TEXT.

(INSERT THE FOLLOWING IN LIEU OF SECOND PARAGRAPH)

BEGIN TEXT. DESPITE ELEVENTH HOUR PINOCHET MANUEVERS DESIGNED TO LIMIT HIS SCOPE OF ACTION, ESPECIALLY IN THE ADMINISTRATIVE AREA, THERE IS EVERY INDICATION THAT PATRICIO AYLWIN WILL BE A STRONG EXECUTIVE WHO WILL HAVE THE NECESSARY POWERS TO IMPLEMENT HIS POLICIES WITHIN THE ESTABLISHED CONSTITUTIONAL STRUCTURE. NO ONE EXPECTS OVERNIGHT REFORM OF PINOCHET'S RESTRICTIVE LEGISLATIVE LEGACY, INCLUDING LAWS AND REGULATIONS DESIGNED TO INSULATE THE ARMED FORCES FROM CIVILIAN CONTROL AND CONSTRAIN THE CONGRESS, THE CENTRAL BANK, THE SUPREME COURT, AND THE REST OF THE JUDICIARY. PRESIDENT AYLWLIN TOLD US HE DOES NOT INTEND TO MOVE ON MAJOR REFORMS FOR POSSIBLY TWO YEARS. HE SAYS HE SIMPLY CANNOT DO IT BEFORE THEN. NEVERTHELESS, POLITICAL MOMENTUM IS SO CLEARLY IN AYLWIN'S FAVOR THERE IS GOOD REASON TO BE OPTIMISTIC THAT REFORMS WILL TAKE PLACE. NOR ARE THE CURRENT LEGAL OBSTACLES SEEN AS DEBILITATING, WITH POWER SO VISIBLY ACCRUING TO THE PRESIDENT-ELECT. END TEXT.

(INSERT THE FOLLOWING IN LIEU OF THIRD PARAGRAPH)

BEGIN TEXT. PINOCHET HAS APPOINTED LOYALISTS TO MOST SENSITIVE ARMY POSTS AND ENSURED, AT LEAST FOR NOW, THE MILITARY'S AUTONOMY FROM CIVILIAN BUDGET CUTS AND INTERFERENCE. AT THE SAME TIME, HE HAS ASSURED AYLWIN AND VICE PRESIDENT QUAYLE RECENTLY THAT HE INTENDS TO WORK WITH AND THROUGH THE CIVILIAN DEFENSE AUTHORITIES, PAST RHETORIC TO THE CONTRARY. TO UNDERSCORE HIS

DEFERENCE TO CIVILIAN AUTHORITY, PINOCHET PAID HIGH-PROFILE CALLS ON AYLWIN PRIOR TO AND THE DAY OF HIS INAUGURATION. SIMILARLY, AYLWIN HAS ASSERTED CIVILIAN CONTROL FROM THE OUTSET, BUT WILL NOT SEEK CONFRONTATION ON ADMINISTRATIVE MATTERS. END TEXT.

THE KEY LIES IN BALANCING UNCOMPROMISING DEMANDS FOR INVESTIGATIONS AND JUSTICE FROM LEFTIST AND HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS WITH MILITARY RESOLVE TO DEFEND THEIR RANKS FROM PROSECUTION. AYLWIN STRESSED MODERATION AND RECONCILIATION IN HIS WATERSHED INAUGURAL ADDRESS AND, DESPITE SOME JEERING IN THE AUDIENCE, INSISTED THAT THE PRINCIPLES APPLIED TO CIVILIANS AND MILITARY ALIKE. IN THE INTERNATIONAL ARENA, AYLWIN HAS RESTORED DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH MEXICO, EASTERN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES AND THE SOVIET UNION, WHILE CONDITIONING TIES TO CUBA ON HAVANA'S CESSATION OF SUPPORT FOR CHILEAN TERRORIST GROUPS. DATE: March 20, 1990

SUBJECT: Follow-up meetings with [redacted]

P - B1, 2

Ref/JUS

There follow additional notes on subsequent meetings with [redacted]

On May 19, at 3:15 p.m. [redacted] returned unannounced to the Embassy with additional information on Monica Lagos Ledesma, aka Liliana Walker. He gave Arnold Ms. Lagos' date of birth [redacted] and carnet number [redacted] He also showed Arnold the original signed document of Lagos' statement (two copies of which he had provided the Embassy on March 15) on the Letelier case.

[redacted] pressed Arnold for a quick decision on how the Embassy intended to proceed in this matter. He said several new developments had convinced him that Ms. Lagos was indeed the person USG authories were seeking in the Letelier affair. [redacted] said that he had met Lagos for the first time earlier that day, and that she was now in his custody. Given the circumstances, he was under great pressure "from the highest levels" (unidentified) to get Lagos out of Chile (to Mendoza, Argentina) as soon as possible. (In a subsequent conversation, [redacted] responded in the affirmative to Arnold's query if he was being pressured by his Radical Party friend.) [redacted] believed the best opportunity to take Lagos out of the country would be during the March 22-24 time frame when Mexican President Salinas de Gortari was scheduled to visit Mexico. He reasoned that the Foreign Ministry and security authorities would be preoccupied with Salinas' visit allowing him to move Ms. Lagos without detection. He also suggested that he might be under surveillance, another reason to move quickly. (Comment: [redacted] was extremely concerned, if not paranoid, that he was being followed.)

[redacted] solicited the Embassy's help in getting Lagos out of Chile. Arnold replied that we had not made a determination about the information he had provided on Lagos to date. Also, he had not produced a picture of her as he promised. [redacted] agreed to return on Tuesday, March 20, with Lagos' photograph, at which time Arnold agreed to have information about how the USG intended to proceed in the matter.

Again unannounced, [redacted] returned about 5:30 pm the same day with camera and film in tow. He said he wanted to show Arnold and me the camera and film he would be using to photograph Ms. Lagos, and produced a copy of the March 19 edition of "La Epoca," which he said would serve as a backdrop for the picture. He asked Arnold to mark the paper in such a way to identify that it was indeed the copy that would appear in the Lagos photograph. [redacted] said that the USG would be in the position to compare his photo of Lagos with that given by Ponce's friend to alleged USG official Christopher Jones two years ago.

Arnold and I explained to [redacted] that while we were very interested in the information on Lagos, we had no way to determine its authenticity without forwarding it to Washington for evaluation. It conceivably might take several weeks before Washington could determine whether the information merited further action on the part of the USG. In the meantime, we urged [redacted] to keep us posted of his whereabouts, especially if he decided to leave the country, in case we we needed to pursue the matter.

[redacted] said that he understood our predicament, and appreciated that any decision from Washington on the Lagos matter would take time. He would assess the situation and get in touch with us on March 20 with the undeveloped roll of film used to photograph Lagos. Given our response, [redacted] appeared less committed to his plan to remove Lagos from Chile over the weekend. [redacted] subsequently asked Arnold if the USG would provide his immediate family assurances they could travel to the U.S. and remain there for six months "without being hassled by immigration authorities"--he claimed they already had visas) in the event they needed to flee Chile.

[redacted] reiterated the importance of maintaining strict confidentiality in this matter. He said that on a previous occasion, he provided a Canadian Embassy diplomat with , ETC.

SUBJECT: ANTI-NARCOTICS BILATERAL AGREEMENTS: CARTAGENA SUMMIT UPDATE

TEXT OF TELEGRAM 90STATE 090995

REF: (A) 90 LA PAZ 3562

1. THIS IS AN ACTION MESSAGE.

INTRODUCTION

2. THE CARTAGENA SUMMIT RESULTED IN THE SIGNATURE OF VARIOUS ANTI-NARCOTICS BILATERAL AGREEMENTS, FLESHING OUT AND GIVING SUBSTANCE TO THE ANDEAN SUMMIT. THE DECLARATION OF CARTAGENA, SIGNED BY THE FOUR PRESIDENTS, IDENTIFIED AREAS FOR CONTINUING BILATERAL/MULTILATERAL NEGOTIATIONS. WE BELIEVE THAT OUR POST-SUMMIT AGENDA SHOULD ALSO AIM AT COMPLETING THE BILATERAL UNDERSTANDINGS AS SOON AS POSSIBLE WITH THE SUMMIT COUNTRIES. WE ARE ALSO CONSIDERING THE POSSIBILITY OF EXTENDING CERTAIN AGREEMENTS, WHERE DESIRABLE AND APPROPRIATE, TO OTHER, NON-CARTAGENA SUMMIT COUNTRIES.

REVIEW OF BILATERAL AGREEMENT PROGRESS

3. IN GENERAL, POST-SUMMIT ANDEAN ATTITUDES TOWARDS NEGOTIATING AND CONCLUDING THE BILATERAL AGREEMENTS

ENVISIONED IN PRE-SUMMIT DISCUSSIONS IS REASONABLY POSITIVE. PER EMBASSY LIMA, THE GOP REMAINS INTERESTED IN MOVING FORWARD QUICKLY, USING THE AGREEMENTS THUS FAR CONCLUDED AND THE PROSPECTS FOR FURTHER AGREEMENTS AS A MEANS OF REINFORCING GOP INTER-AGENCY COOPERATION AND COORDINATION. LA PAZ' 3562 PROVIDES AN EXCELLENT RUNDOWN ON BOTH GENERAL GOB THINKING AND AGREEMENT-BY-AGREEMENT SPECIFICS, UNDER THE ADDITIONAL STIMULUS OF PAZ ZAMORA'S MAY 8 VISIT TO THE U.S. WITH COLOMBIA, COLOMBIAN PRESIDENT BARCO'S PRE-SUMMIT LETTER TO PRESIDENT BUSH STRESSED THE GOP'S INTEREST IN NEGOTIATING VARIOUS AGREEMENTS. THIS INTEREST, HOWEVER, HAS BEEN LITTLE REFLECTED IN GOC ACTIONS, ALTHOUGH WE UNDERSTAND THAT THE GOC IS PREPARING TO MOVE FORWARD.

4. ON AN AGREEMENT-BY-AGREEMENT BASIS:

A. TAX INFORMATION EXCHANGE AGREEMENT (TIEA)

5. SUMMIT COUNTRIES. A TIEA WAS SIGNED WITH PERU AT THE SUMMIT; A USG DELEGATION DISCUSSED A DRAFT TEXT WITH THE GOB AND THE GOC PRIOR TO THE SUMMIT BUT WERE UNABLE TO REACH AGREEMENT. WITH BOLIVIA, FUNDAMENTAL DIFFERENCES STEMMING FROM BOLIVIAN LAW ON BEARER SHARES AND BANKING SECRECY HAD SEEMED TO MAKE REACHING FINAL AGREEMENT HIGHLY PROBLEMATICAL. THERE ARE CURRENTLY INDICATIONS THAT THE GOB IS RETHINKING ITS POSITION; EMBASSY LA PAZ SHOULD CONTINUE TO BE ALERT FOR SIGNS OF GOB MOVEMENT, PARTICULARLY IN VIEW OF THE UPCOMING PAZ ZAMORA VISIT. WITH COLOMBIA, MAJOR SUBSTANTIVE PROGRESS WAS MADE AT THE RECENT INTER-AMERICAN TAX ADMINISTRATION CONFERENCE IN GUATEMALA CITY. AT THIS POINT, THE BALL IS IN THE COLOMBIAN COURT; WE ARE AWAITING THEIR FORMAL COMMENTS AND/OR SPECIFIC LANGUAGE BASED ON THE USG PROPOSAL ON THE TABLE.

UNCLASSIFIED
UNCLASSIFIED

6. NON-SUMMIT COUNTRIES. WE ARE INTERESTED IN EXTENDING COVERAGE TO CERTAIN NON-CARTAGENA SUMMIT COUNTRIES. THE ECUADORIANS HAVE SHOWN INTEREST; VENEZUELAN REACTION WAS TEPID. BRAZIL'S FINANCIAL SIZE AND SOPHISTICATION WOULD MAKE A BILATERAL AGREEMENT OF CONSIDERABLE INTEREST.

B. FINANCIAL TRANSACTIONS ("KERRY AMENDMENT") AGREEMENTS

7. ALTHOUGH NOT READY IN TIME TO BE PRESENTED AND NEGOTIATED IN TIME FOR THE SUMMIT, DRAFT AGREEMENTS HAVE BEEN PRESENTED TO SUMMIT COUNTRIES. PERU APPEARS RECEPTIVE (PER LIMA 3278); WE ARE AWAITING FURTHER HOST COUNTRY COMMENTS PRIOR TO FORMULATING TRAVEL AND NEGOTIATING PLANS. A DEADLINE FOR POSTS TO KEEP IN MIND IS THE NEED FOR THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH TO REPORT TO CONGRESS ON NEGOTIATING PROGRESS IN NOVEMBER, 1990. STATE 87108 DESCRIBES CURRENT USG INTEREST IN NEGOTIATING AGREEMENTS.

C. ESSENTIAL CHEMICALS AGREEMENT

8. SUMMIT COUNTRIES. THE U.S.-BOLIVIA BILATERAL AGREEMENT WAS SIGNED AT THE SUMMIT; WE FAILED TO SIGN A BILATERAL WITH PERU BECAUSE OF LAST MINUTE FAILURE TO WORK OUT LANGUAGE DIFFERENCES. THE GOP IS CONSIDERING SUBSEQUENT U.S. PROPOSALS; THE EMBASSY BELIEVES AN AGREEMENT CAN BE SIGNED BY THE END OF MARCH. THE GOC HAS NOT PROVIDED FORMAL COMMENTS ON THE U.S. TEXT, ALTHOUGH WE UNDERSTAND THE GOC PREFERS TO CONSIDER A BILATERAL AGREEMENT AFTER PASSING DOMESTIC LEGISLATION.

UNCLASSIFIED
UNCLASSIFIED

9. OTHER RELEVANT DEVELOPMENTS INCLUDE THE ONGOING EFFORTS IN THE OAS' CICAD TO REACH AGREEMENT ON DRAFT

MODEL DOMESTIC LEGISLATION COVERING ESSENTIAL CHEMICALS, WHICH COULD BE APPROVED AT THE APRIL 17-23 OAS MINISTERIAL AT IXTAPA, MEXICO AND RECOMMENDED TO MEMBER COUNTRIES FOR ADOPTION. WE BELIEVE THE PROPOSED BILATERALS WILL COMPLEMENT THE OAS EFFORTS.

10. NON-SUMMIT COUNTRIES. WE HAVE NOT DECIDED THE EXTENT TO WHICH WE WOULD SEEK BILATERAL AGREEMENTS WITH OTHER COUNTRIES.

EXTRADITION TREATY WITH BOLIVIA

11. PRE-SUMMIT NEGOTIATIONS FAILED TO REACH AGREEMENT ON A SATISFACTORY TEXT. WE ARE ENCOURAGED BY EMBASSY LA PAZ' REPORTS OF GOB INTEREST AND MOVEMENT; WE WILL FOLLOW-UP VIA SEPTEL ADDRESSING SPECIFICS AND THE ISSUES RAISED BY THE GOB AND THE EMBASSY.

EXTRADITION EXCHANGE OF NOTES WITH PERU

12. SIGNED AT CARTAGENA.

PUBLIC AWARENESS MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING

13. SUMMIT COUNTRIES. SIGNED IN CARTAGENA WITH BOLIVIA AND PERU, THESE BILATERAL UNDERSTANDINGS WILL PROVIDE A BASIS FOR ENHANCED BILATERAL (AND EVENTUALLY MULTILATERAL) COOPERATION WITH THE SIGNATORIES. THE GOC HAS NOT RESPONDED FORMALLY TO OUR PROPOSED TEXT.

14. NON-SIGNATORIES. WE WOULD PREFER TO SIGN IDENTICAL,
UNCLASSIFIED
UNCLASSIFIED

OR NEARLY IDENTICAL, TEXTS TO ENSURE UNIFORMITY OF APPLICATION AND TO ENHANCE MULTILATERAL COOPERATION.

DEFENSE ARTICLES EXPORT CONTROL UNDERSTANDING

15. SUMMIT COUNTRIES. SIGNED AT CARTAGENA WITH BOLIVIA. WE FAILED TO REACH AGREEMENT WITH PERU WHEN THE GOP INSISTED ON EXEMPTING CERTAIN GOP AGENCIES, VITIATING (IN OUR OPINION) THE PURPOSE OF THE AGREEMENT. COLOMBIA HAS NOT FORMALLY RESPONDED, DESPITE INDICATIONS THAT GETTING A BETTER HANDLE ON U.S. WEAPONS EXPORTS WAS A GOC PRIORITY AND INFORMAL EXPRESSIONS OF SUPPORT FROM MANY GOC AGENCIES. IN WORKING OUT THE DETAILS, WE WILL LIKELY SUGGEST THAT RECIPIENT COUNTRIES IMPOSE IMPORT VERIFICATION REQUIREMENTS ON ALL COVERED IMPORTS, TO AVOID

CIRCUMVENTION AND MINIMIZE TRADE DISTORTION.

16. NON-SUMMIT COUNTRIES. IMPLEMENTATION OF THE AGREEMENT COULD BE FACILITATED BY SIGNING UP OTHER INTERESTED COUNTRIES. WE ARE CONSIDERING HOW TO RESPOND TO POSSIBLE EXPRESSIONS OF INTEREST. INTER ALIA, THE ISSUE HAS BEEN RAISED BY MEXICO IN THE CONTEXT OF THE IXTAPA OAS MINISTERIAL.

ASSETS SHARING AGREEMENT

17. SUMMIT COUNTRIES. ENVISIONED ORIGINALLY AS A MEANS OF PROVIDING SPECIAL RECOGNITION FOR THE GOC'S ANTI-NARCOTICS CONTRIBUTION, THE GOC NEVERTHELESS FAILED TO RESPOND SUBSTANTIVELY TO OUR EFFORTS TO NEGOTIATE AN AGREEMENT PRIOR TO THE SUMMIT. WE ARE CURRENTLY REVIEWING

GOC COMMENTS RECEIVED VIA THE 3/2 KAPLAN-FRANK FAX. WITH BOLIVIA, DISCUSSION OF AN ASSETS SHARING ARRANGEMENT REMAINS CONDITIONED ON SUCCESSFUL NEGOTIATION OF A NEW EXTRADITION TREATY. WE DID NOT OFFER TO CONCLUDE AN ASSETS SHARING AGREEMENT WITH PERU PRIOR TO THE SUMMIT. IN LIGHT OF THE LACK OF ENTHUSIASM SHOWN BY THE GOC AND GOB TO SOME ASPECTS OF THE USG PROPOSAL, USG AGENCIES ARE REVIEWING HOW TO PROCEED.

ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING

18. SUMMIT COUNTRIES. INITIAL U.S. PROPOSALS WERE REJECTED BY THE SUMMIT PARTNERS AT THE SANTA CRUZ PRELIMINARY MEETING, IN PART ON SEPARATION OF POWERS GROUNDS. BECAUSE OF THESE OBJECTIONS, WE CHOSE NOT TO CIRCULATE DRAFT AGREEMENTS FOR EMBASSY DISCUSSION WITH HOST COUNTRY GOVERNMENTS. HOWEVER, WASHINGTON AGENCIES ARE STUDYING HOW TO STRENGTHEN ON-GOING USG PROGRAMS IN THIS AREA AND WILL ADVISE POSTS WHETHER WE WILL PURSUE THE MOU APPROACH.

MULTILATERAL DEVELOPMENT BANK APPROACH UNDERSTANDING

19. LA PAZ 1125 RECOMMENDED CONSIDERATION OF A QUADRILATERAL UNDERSTANDING AIMED AT PROMOTING GREATER WORLD BANK AND IDB INVOLVEMENT IN ANDEAN REGION RURAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS. WASHINGTON AGENCIES ARE STUDYING THIS PROPOSAL.

ACTION REQUESTED

22. SUMMIT COUNTRIES. WE WOULD APPRECIATE ASAP YOUR COMPREHENSIVE ASSESSMENT OF THE STATUS OF AND ATTITUDES TOWARD COMPLETING OUR BILATERAL AGREEMENT AGENDA (LA PAZ' 3562 MEETS THIS REQUIREMENT). WE WOULD LIKE TO HAVE SOME IDEA OF HOST COUNTRY DEADLINES, KEEPING IN MIND THAT THE DECLARATION OF CARTAGENA CALLS FOR A HIGH-LEVEL FOLLOWUP MEETING BEFORE AUGUST 16, 1990.

21. QUITO AND CARACAS. CURRENT PLANS CALL FOR NEGOTIATING "KERRY AMENDMENT" AND TAX INFORMATION EXCHANGE AGREEMENTS WITH BOTH; THE OTHER POSSIBILITY AT THIS TIME IS PUBLIC AWARENESS. COMMENTS WOULD BE WELCOMED.

MATA TOLD EMBOFFS HE WAS NOT INFORMED OF THE EMBASSY'S INTEREST IN QUESTIONING PEOPLE IN THE BLAKE/DAVIS CASE UNTIL MONDAY, MARCH 19. HE SENT A PATROL THAT DAY TO THE HOMES OF SEVEN INDIVIDUALS, REQUESTING THAT THEY APPEAR IN HUEHUETENANGO MARCH 26. MATA ADDED HE WAS INFORMED ON MARCH 20 EMBOFFS WOULD TRAVEL MARCH 21 TO HUEHUETENANGO WITH AN FBI INVESTIGATOR AND HE HAD SENT OUT A PATROL TO FIND THE PEOPLE IN QUESTION THAT MORNING. DURING OUR CONVERSATION, THE TELEPHONE RANG AND MATA WAS TOLD NONE OF THOSE CITED COULD BE FOUND. MATA TOLD US HE WAS SURE AT LEAST FOUR INDIVIDUALS WOULD BE AVAILABLE THE FOLLOWING MONDAY. THE OTHER THREE INDIVIDUALS WERE REPORTEDLY IN NORTHERN GUATEMALA, WORKING AS AGRICULTURAL LABORERS.

4. ALEGATT AND EMBOFFS INFORMED MATA THAT BLAKE AND DAVIS FAMILIES WERE INTERESTED SOLELY IN RECOVERING THE BODIES OF THEIR DISAPPEARED SONS AND WERE PREPARED TO OFFER A REWARD TO ANYONE WHO COULD PROVIDE THEM. ALEGATT ADDED THAT, IF REMAINS WERE PRESENTED THE FOLLOWING MONDAY, THERE WOULD BE NO NEED TO INTERROGATE ANYONE, PROVIDED THAT AN FBI PATHOLOGIST COULD SUCCESSFULLY IDENTIFY THEM.

5. COMMENT: WE WILL BE TRAVELLING TO HUEHUETENANGO MARCH 26 AGAIN TO INTERVIEW THE ALLEGED WITNESSES TO THE DISAPPEARANCE. END COMMENT.

SUBJECT: DIANA ORTIZ: MTG WITH CONGRESSMAN MAZZOLI AND PAUL SOREFF
REF: (A) 98 GUATEMALA 3041

1. CONFIDENTIAL ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: ON MARCH 4 STATE DEPARTMENT REPRESENTATIVES MET IN THE OFFICE OF CONGRESSMAN ROMANO MAZZOLI WITH MR. PAUL SOREFF, COUNSEL TO DIANA ORTIZ. THE CONVERSATION FOCUSED ON THE INVESTIGATION OF THE CASE. MR. SOREFF COMPLAINED ABOUT THE LACK OF MOVEMENT AND REQUESTED THAT THE GOG ESTABLISH A SPECIAL COMMISSION FOR THE CASE, ENABLING IT TO BE TAKEN OUT OF THE HANDS OF THE POLICE AND THE JUDICIARY AND OBVIATING THE NEED TO HAVE TESTIMONY AND OTHER EVIDENCE MEET LEGAL REQUIREMENTS FOR PROSECUTION. MR. SOREFF INDICATED THAT HIS CLIENT IS STILL NOT READY TO SPEAK ON THE CASE, THOUGH HE INADVERTENTLY LET IT SLIP OUT THAT SHE IS DOING PASTORAL WORK IN MEXICO. MR. SOREFF ALSO ASKED THAT: 1) THERE BE A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION OF POLICE CARS HAVING THE LICENSE NUMBER 7 OR INCLUDING THE NUMBER 7; 2) THERE BE AN INVESTIGATION OF THE SOURCE OF THE PHOTOS ALLEGEDLY SHOWN TO SR. ORTIZ DURING HER DETENTION; 3) THE STATE DEPARTMENT ASSIST IN OBTAINING A TV BROADCAST MADE ON NOVEMBER 3, 4 OR 5 BY AN ALLEGED WITNESS TO THE CRIME; AND 4) THE STATE DEPARTMENT PROVIDE PHOTOS OF ALL USC MALES IN GUATEMALA BETWEEN THE AGES OF 18 AND 50 AS SR. ORTIZ IS CONVINCED THAT ONE OF HER ABDUCTORS WAS AN AMERICAN. MR. SOREFF INDICATED THAT A RELIGIOUS DELEGATION MAY GO TO GUATEMALA WHICH MAY OR MAY NOT INCLUDE SR. ORTIZ TO DISCUSS THE CASE AT THE HIGHEST LEVELS OF THE GOG AND REQUESTED THAT THE EMBASSY CONTACT THE GOG TO GET ASSURANCES FOR THE MEMBERS' SECURITY.

IN RESPONSE TO THE ABOVE, STATE DEPARTMENT REPRESENTATIVES INDICATED THAT LACK OF INFORMATION FROM SR. ORTIZ HAD IMPEDED THE INVESTIGATION. WHILE STATING THAT THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A SPECIAL COMMISSION COULD BE LOOKED INTO, MR. SOREFF'S REQUEST FOR PHOTOS WAS NOT POSSIBLE TO RESPOND TO GIVEN THE SHEER NUMBERS OF AMERICANS IN GUATEMALA AND RESTRICTIONS OF THE PRIVACY ACT. THE STATE DEPARTMENT REPRESENTATIVES REQUESTED THAT MR. SOREFF PROVIDE FULL DESCRIPTIONS OF THE MEN ALLEGED TO BE INVOLVED IN THE CASE. MR. SOREFF AGREED TO PROVIDE THE DESCRIPTIONS OF THREE OF THE MEN INVOLVED BUT NOT THAT OF THE ALLEGED U.S. CITIZEN. CONGRESSMAN MAZZOLI AND STATE REPRESENTATIVES INDICATED THAT IT WOULD BE VERY DIFFICULT FOR THE CASE TO PROCEED WITHOUT INFORMATION ON ALL ALLEGED SUSPECTS.

COMMENT: WE FEEL THAT WE SUCCESSFULLY COUNTERED MR. SOREFF'S ATTEMPTS TO PORTRAY THE GOG AND THE USG AS THE BAD GUYS IN THIS AFFAIR. MR. MAZZOLI APPEARED SKEPTICAL ABOUT THE STORY AND PRESSED MR. SOREFF TO BE MORE FORTHCOMING WITH INFORMATION. WE ARE SKEPTICAL ABOUT THE REQUEST FOR A SPECIAL COMMISSION AND FEEL THAT IT SHOULD BE PURSUED DIRECTLY BY MR. SOREFF THROUGH THE GUATEMALAN EMBASSY IN WASHINGTON, WITH WHOM HE ALSO MET. THE VISIT IS LIKELY TO TAKE PLACE, THOUGH WITHOUT SR. ORTIZ. WE STILL DO NOT HAVE THE DESCRIPTIONS OF THE MEN, NOR A LEGALIZED COPY OF THE SECOND AFFIDAVIT, NOR A PRIVACY ACT WAIVER. THE FBI HAS CONTACTED MR. SOREFF RE THE REQUEST TO INTERVIEW SR. ORTIZ BUT HAS RECEIVED NO RESPONSE.
ACTION REQUESTED: SEE PARAGRAPH 15. END SUMMARY

3. ON MARCH 4, STATE DEPARTMENT REPRESENTATIVES MET IN THE OFFICE OF CONGRESSMAN ROMANO MAZZOLI WITH MR. PAUL SOREFF, COUNSEL TO DIANA ORTIZ. REPRESENTING THE STATE DEPARTMENT WERE DEBORAH MCCARTHY (ARA/CEN), LEON WEINTRAUB (HA), ENRIQUE PEREZ (H) AND JULIE VINEYARD (H). ACCOMPANYING MR. SOREFF WERE A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE URSULINE ORDER, FATHER JOHN NAGLE, MR. FRANK LA RUE. MILES LACKEY, STAFFER FOR CONGRESSMAN TED WEISS, WAS ALSO PRESENT..

4. THE MEETING BEGAN WITH A DISCUSSION OF THE RECALL FOR CONSULTATIONS OF AMBASSADOR THOMAS STROOCK. SPECIFICALLY, BOTH CONGRESSMAN MAZZOLI AND MR. SOREFF WANTED TO KNOW WHETHER THE DIANA ORTIZ CASE WAS ONE OF THE CASES THAT PROMPTED THE RECALL. IN RESPONSE, MS. MCCARTHY INDICATED THAT THE STATE DEPARTMENT'S CONCERN WITH VIOLENCE IN GENERAL AND THE GOG'S INACTION ON A NUMBER OF CASES WERE THE REASONS FOR THE RECALL. MR. SOREFF REQUESTED THE DEPARTMENT TO PUBLICLY STATE THAT THE SR. ORTIZ CASE WAS ONE OF THE ISSUES THAT PROMPTED AMBASSADOR STROOCK'S RECALL. MS. MCCARTHY SAID SHE DID NOT THINK SUCH A STATEMENT COULD BE PRODUCED.

5. MR. SOREFF EXPRESSED FRUSTRATION OVER THE LACK OF MOVEMENT ON THE INVESTIGATION STATING THAT IT IS CLEAR TO HIM THAT THE GOG WAS INVOLVED IN SR. ORTIZ'S KIDNAPPING AND MIGHT BE ATTEMPTING A COVERUP. HE SAID THAT THE GOG HAD HAD SR. ORTIZ UNDER SURVEILLANCE AS INDICATED BY THE PHOTOS THAT WERE ALLEGEDLY SHOWN TO HER DURING HER CAPTURE. SO FAR, HE ADDED, THE GOG HAS LIMITED ITS INVESTIGATION TO THE EVENTS OF NOVEMBER 2 AND 3 AND HAD DONE LITTLE ELSE.

6. MR. SOREFF INDICATED THAT HIS CLIENT WANTED TO HAVE THE CASE FULLY INVESTIGATED. HE ADDED, HOWEVER, THAT SHE IS STILL UNABLE TO SPEAK ABOUT THE CASE TO AUTHORITIES. THIS STEP, MR. SOREFF ADDED, IS COUNTERINDICATED BY HER THERAPIST. MOREOVER, SR. ORTIZ STILL HAS NOT DECIDED WHETHER SHE WANTS TO PROSECUTE. MR. SOREFF STATED THAT HE WANTED TO HAVE THE GOG ESTABLISH A SPECIAL EXECUTIVE COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE THE CASE. THIS WOULD ENABLE TO CASE TO BE TAKEN OUT OF THE HANDS OF THE POLICE AND THE JUDICIARY, THEREBY OBVIATING THE NEED FOR TESTIMONY AND OTHER EVIDENCE TO MEET LEGAL REQUIREMENTS. HE ADDED THAT HE WOULD LIKE AN INVESTIGATION OF THE PHOTOS ALLEGEDLY SHOWN TO SR. ORTIZ DURING HER DETENTION AS WELL AS A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION OF POLICE CARS HAVING THE LICENSE NUMBER 7 OR INCLUDING THE NUMBER 7. MR. WEINTRAUB ASKED WHERE THE INFORMATION ON THE LICENSE CAME FROM AS IT WAS NOT INCLUDED IN SISTER ORTIZ'S AFFIDAVIT. MR. SOREFF SAID HE WOULD HAVE TO CHECK. (FYI: THE FIRST AFFIDAVIT HAD A REFERENCE TO A LICENSE PLATE WITH A NUMBER 7 IN IT. THE SECOND DID NOT.)

7. MR. SOREFF REQUESTED STATE DEPARTMENT ASSISTANCE IN OBTAINING A TV BROADCAST ON NOVEMBER 3, 4 OR 5 BY AN ALLEGED WITNESS TO THE CRIME. HE ALSO REQUESTED PHOTOS OF ALL USC MALES IN GUATEMALA BETWEEN THE AGES OF 18 AND 50. DIANA ORTIZ, HE ADDED, IS CONVINCED A USC NAMED ALEJANDRO WAS INVOLVED IN HER ABDUCTION. IF THE PRIVACY ACT IS A HURDLE TO THIS, HE ADDED, POSSIBLY THE EMBASSY CAN ASK INDIVIDUALS TO WAIVE IT FOR THIS CASE.

8. IN RESPONSE TO THESE POINTS, MR. MCCARTHY OUTLINED THE STATUS OF THE CASE, INDICATING THAT UNTIL NOW, THE PAUCITY OF INFORMATION PROVIDED BY SR. ORTIZ IMPEDED A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION. SHE POINTED TO ATTEMPTS BY EMBASSY OFFICERS TO ELICIT INFORMATION FROM SR. ORTIZ PRIOR TO HER DEPARTURE (INCLUDING REPEATED ATTEMPTS BY AMBASSADOR STROOCK), ATTEMPTS BY THE GUATEMALAN EMBASSY TO CONTACT HER TO OBTAIN ORAL TESTIMONY AND FINALLY, INDICATED THAT THE FBI WOULD ALSO LIKE TO QUESTION HER. AS TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A SPECIAL COMMISSION, MS. MCCARTHY INDICATED THAT THIS COULD BE LOOKED INTO. MR. LA RUE POINTED OUT THAT A SPECIAL COMMISSION HAD BEEN ESTABLISHED TO INVESTIGATE THE MURDERS OF HECTOR OQUELI AND GILDA FLORES.

9. MS. MCCARTHY NOTED THAT UP UNTIL NOW, THE STATE DEPARTMENT WAS NOT AWARE OF ANY REQUEST FOR AN INVESTIGATION OF THE ORIGIN OF THE PHOTOS ALLEGEDLY SHOWN TO SR. ORTIZ DURING HER DETENTION. IN RESPONSE TO MR. SOREFF'S REQUEST FOR THE PHOTOS OF ALL USC MALES BETWEEN THE AGES OF 18 AND 50, MS. MCCARTHY REITERATED THE PROBLEMS WITH THE REQUEST. THESE HAD ALREADY BEEN OUTLINED IN HER LETTER TO MR. SOREFF. MS. MCCARTHY NOTED THAT THERE ARE THOUSANDS OF AMERICAN CITIZENS LIVING IN GUATEMALA. THE EMBASSY IS ONLY AWARE OF THOSE WHO REGISTER AT THE CONSULATE. THEIR PHOTOS ARE COVERED BY THE PRIVACY ACT. IT WOULD BE VERY DIFFICULT TO OBTAIN WAIVERS. MOREOVER, A WAIVER REQUEST MUST BE VERY SPECIFIC. UPON BEING INFORMED THAT THE PHOTO WAS FOR THE ONGOING INVESTIGATION INTO THE KIDNAPPING AND TORTURE OF SR. DIANA ORTIZ, THE CULPRIT, IF HE WERE AMONG THEM, WOULD SURELY NOT SIGN THE WAIVER REQUEST. A BETTER APPROACH, ALREADY SUGGESTED TO MR. SOREFF, WOULD BE TO HAVE A FULL DESCRIPTION OF "ALEJANDRO" WHICH THE EMBASSY COULD CIRCULATE AMONGST ITS EMPLOYEES. REPRESENTATIVE MAZZOLI AGREED THAT THE REQUEST FOR THE PHOTOS MENTIONED ABOVE WAS EXCESSIVE.

10. MS. MCCARTHY THEN ASKED MR. SOREFF TO PROVIDE, FOR TRANSMITTAL TO THE APPROPRIATE AUTHORITIES IN GUATEMALA, A FULL DESCRIPTION OF ALL THE MEN INVOLVED. THOUGH MR. SOREFF INDICATED SOME TIME AGO THAT HE HAD SUCH DESCRIPTIONS, THEY HAD NEVER BEEN SENT TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT OR PROVIDED TO GUATEMALAN INVESTIGATORS. MR. SOREFF INDICATED THAT HE COULD PROVIDE THE DESCRIPTIONS OF THREE OF THE MEN INVOLVED BUT THAT HE DID NOT WANT TO PROVIDE THAT OF THE AMERICAN CITIZEN, THE ONE CALLED "ALEJANDRO". MS. MCCARTHY, AS WELL AS CONGRESSMAN MAZZOLI, INDICATED THAT IT WOULD BE VERY DIFFICULT FOR THE CASE TO BE PURSUED WITHOUT A DESCRIPTION OF ALL THE MEN AND PRESSED MR. SOREFF TO PROVIDE THEM.

11. MR. SOREFF THEN STATED THAT A RELIGIOUS DELEGATION WAS CONSIDERING GOING TO GUATEMALA TO DISCUSS THE CASE AT THE HIGHEST LEVELS OF THE GOG. HE INDICATED THAT SISTER ORTIZ MIGHT BE PART OF THE GROUP. FATHER HAGLE THEN ASKED WHETHER THE STATE DEPARTMENT COULD ASSIST IN THIS VISIT AND HELP GET A GUARANTEE FROM THE GOG TO PROTECT DIANA ORTIZ AND ALLOW HER TO LEAVE THE COUNTRY ONCE THE VISIT WAS OVER. IN RESPONSE, STATE DEPARTMENT REPRESENTATIVES INDICATED THAT WHILE THE EMBASSY IN GUATEMALA COULD ASSIST WITH THE VISIT AND ASK THE GOG FOR SUCH GUARANTEES, THERE STILL EXISTED THE POSSIBILITY THAT SHE COULD BE DETAINED AS A WITNESS. MR. MAZZOLI ADDED THAT HE DID NOT THINK IT WOULD BE A GOOD IDEA FOR SR. ORTIZ TO RETURN TO GUATEMALA. MR. SOREFF EXPLAINED THAT SHE FEELS SHE WAS NOT ABLE TO SAY GOODBYE BUT THAT HER THERAPIST HAD COUNSELED AGAINST SUCH A TRIP.

MR. LA RUE ADDED THAT, TECHNICALLY, THE GOG COULD NOT HOLD SR. ORTIZ AS SHE, HERSELF, WAS COMMITTED NO CRIME. HE CLARIFIED THAT THE ORDER WHICH THE POLICE HAD TO SPEAK TO SR. ORTIZ PRIOR TO HER DEPARTURE COULD NOT TECHNICALLY HAVE IMPEDED HER DEPARTURE.

12. MR. SOREFF THEN ASKED WHETHER THE STATE DEPARTMENT'S SEEMING DISTANT STANCE ON THE CASE OF SR. ORTIZ REFLECTED DOUBTS AS TO THE VERACITY OF HER STORY. HE INDICATED THAT MOD GRAMAJO HAD STATED THAT IT WAS ALL PART OF A LESBIAN AFFAIR. MILES LACKEY INTERJECTED NOTING THAT THE MINISTER OF INTERIOR HAD ALSO MADE A NEGATIVE COMMENT ON THE CASE.

IN RESPONSE, MS. MCCARTHY STATED THAT THE STATE DEPARTMENT HAD NO REASON TO QUESTION THE VERACITY OF THE CASE AND THAT LIMITED PUBLIC STATEMENTS ON THE INCIDENT WERE A REFLECTION OF A LACK OF INFORMATION AND THE FACT THAT WE WERE LIMITED BY THE LACK OF A PRIVACY ACT WAIVER. MS. MCCARTHY ADDED THAT ALL THOSE WHO HAD WORKED ON THE CASE WERE CONSCIOUS OF THE FACT THAT SR. ORTIZ WENT THROUGH A TERRIBLE ORDEAL AND THAT SHE NEEDED TO RECOVER. IN ALL OF THE RESPONSES TO PUBLIC AND CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRIES TO THE CASE, THE STATE DEPARTMENT HAD EXPRESSED THE WISH THAT, ONCE SHE HAD RECOVERED FROM THE ORDEAL, SR. ORTIZ WOULD HELP IN FINDING THE PERPETRATORS.

13. COMMENT: WHILE MR. SOREFF ATTEMPTED TO PORTRAY THE GOG AND THE STATE DEPARTMENT AS THE BAD GUYS IN THIS AFFAIR, WE SUCCESSFULLY COUNTERED WITH INDICATIONS THAT THE BALL IS STILL IN SR. ORTIZ'S COURT. AS THE MEETING PROGRESSED, CONGRESSMAN MAZZOLI APPEARED TO BECOME INCREASINGLY SKEPTICAL OVER THE WHOLE STORY. HE PRESSED MR. SOREFF TO BE MORE FORTHCOMING WITH INFORMATION.

MR. SOREFF APPEARS TO BE OVER HIS HEAD ON THIS WHOLE CASE. HE REQUESTED THAT MR. LA RUE ACCOMPANY HIM TO PROVIDE GUATEMALAN LEGAL ADVICE, LITTLE KNOWING WHAT MR. LA RUE'S CONNECTIONS ARE AND WHERE HE STANDS IN THE GUATEMALAN POLITICAL SPECTRUM.

WHILE CONSISTENTLY ASSERTING THAT SR. ORTIZ IS STILL NOT ABLE TO DISCUSS THE CASE, HE LET IT SLIP OUT BEFORE THE MEETING THAT SHE IS DOING PASTORAL WORK IN MEXICO.

WE ARE VERY SKEPTICAL ABOUT THE PROPOSAL FOR A SPECIAL COMMISSION AND DO NOT THINK WE SHOULD PURSUE IT ACTIVELY WITH THE GOG. MR. SOREFF ALSO MET WITH GUATEMALAN AMBASSADOR JOHN SCHWANK. WHILE WE DO NOT HAVE A READOUT OF THE MEETING, THE ISSUE WAS PROBABLY RAISED AND WE FEEL THAT MR SOREFF SHOULD PURSUE HIS REQUEST THROUGH THAT CHANNEL.

WE THINK THAT A DELEGATION VISIT IS LIKELY, THOUGH WE DOUBT SR. ORTIZ WILL GO. MR. SOREFF WAS TOLD US THAT HE DOES NOT BELIEVE IT IS A GOOD IDEA FOR HER TO GO BACK TO GUATEMALA. WE UNDERSTAND SR. ORTIZ'S THERAPIST IS OF THE SAME OPINION. THE URSULINE SISTER WHO ACCOMPANIED MR. SOREFF (WHOSE NAME NO ONE GOT) SHOOK HER HEAD VIGOROUSLY DURING THE MEETING WHEN THE POSSIBILITY WAS RAISED.

WE BELIEVE WE DISABUSED MR. SOREFF REGARDING HIS REQUEST FOR PHOTOS. WE BELIEVE HE IS STILL RELUCTANT TO GIVE US

THE DESCRIPTION OF THE ALLEGED U.S. CITIZEN. NEEDLESS TO SAY, WE HAVE RECEIVED NO DESCRIPTIONS AS OF DATE, NOR HAVE WE RECEIVED A LEGALIZED COPY OF THE SECOND AFFIDAVIT OR A PRIVACY ACT WAIVER, AS REQUESTED IN OUR LETTER TO MR. SOREFF OF FEBRUARY 26, A COPY OF WHICH WAS SENT TO POST. WITHOUT THIS ADDITIONAL INFORMATION, IT IS DIFFICULT FOR US TO PRESS THE GOG TO INVESTIGATE THE CASE.

14. OTHER INFORMATION ON THE CASE: DEPARTMENT WAS CONFIRMED, IN RESPONSE TO REFTEL, THAT THE FBI OFFICE IN LOUISVILLE WAS REQUESTED IN WRITING AN INTERVIEW WITH SR. ORTIZ. SO FAR THEY HAVE HEARD NOTHING.

15. ACTION REQUESTED: EMBASSY IS REQUESTED TO INFORM APPROPRIATE GOG OFFICIALS OF THE REQUEST FOR THE SPECIAL COMMISSION BUT NOT TO PURSUE THE IDEA. EMBASSY SHOULD ALSO NOTIFY THE GOG OF A POSSIBLE DELEGATION VISIT SPECIFYING THAT THE INCLUSION OF SR. ORTIZ IS POSSIBLE, BUT NOT LIKELY. EMBASSY IS ALSO REQUESTED TO ASCERTAIN THE EXISTENCE OF THE VIDEOTAPE MENTIONED IN PARAGRAPH 7 AND TO OBTAIN A COPY, IF POSSIBE, FOR FORWARDING TO MR. SOREFF. DEPARTMENT WOULD ALSO APPRECIATE AN UPDATE OF WHAT THE GOG HAS DONE, IF ANYTHING, WITH THE SECOND AFFIDAVIT AS WELL AS AN INDICATION OF WHEN THE FOREIGN MINISTRY WILL BE FORWARDING THE LETTERS ROGATORY.

COSTA RICA

(U) More to Summit -- Foreign Minister Rodrigo Madrigal indicated during a March 27-29 visit to Panama that efforts have been undertaken to include Panama in a April 2-3 summit. Madrigal said that he is certain that the new Central American Presidents would agree to Panama joining the "new plan to develop democracy." He gave no indication, however, of the views of current presidents to this Costa Rican initiative and it is not clear what the Panamanians think of this. (PA2903050290, Cockburn).

(C) GOCR John Hull Extradition Dilemma -- The Embassy advised CEN March 28 that the Foreign Ministry is now moving on building a case for the extradition of Hoosier John Hull. We should soon be receiving another request from the GOCR for certified copies of the Iran-Contra report and North trial transcript. Earlier the Ministry's legal adviser had expressed doubt that a case could be made based on the La Penca assassination attempt against Eden Pastora. It seems, however, that the Ministry is under pressure from the judicial branch to pursue the matter and is obviously in a delaying mode. They already know what is in the report and transcript and could not expect to discover anything new on which to build a case against Hull. (Cockburn).

GUATEMALA

(LOU) Cerezo commits himself! We have received a signed commitment from Cerezo to take steps to investigate outstanding cases of human right abuse and improve the rule of law. They include setting up a special police unit to investigate cases, providing a report on the Oqueli case in two weeks, reforming the penal code, providing protection to judges and inaugurating the OPR office in the Police. The steps are the same as those submitted in draft last week. (DMcCarthy)

(LOU) Murder of CERJ members and attack on Deputy Human Rights Ombudsman: Two members of the CERJ (the indigenous group seeking to end the civil patrols) were murdered on March 18 in the Quiche community of Parraxtut, allegedly by military commissioners and members of a civil patrol. Following the incident, a group of villagers from the town took refuge in the CERJ offices. On March 27, the Deputy Human Rights Ombudsman and the Ombudsman's local rep were attacked by civil patrol members as they attempted to accompany the villagers back to their homes. The Ombudsman's office has held a press conference in which they held the MOD responsible. A judge has issued an arrest order for the commissioners but the police fear going to the village to arrest them. (Note: Both the Human Rights Ombudsman and the National Reconciliation Commission have recently concluded that the civil patrols are not unconstitutional). We will ask the Embassy to investigate this and report to include suggested responses. (Guatemala 3789, 3821 and previous, DMcCarthy, x71145)

(LOU) Case of Diana Ortiz: A delegation consisting of Sr. Ortiz's lawyer, representives of the Ursuline order, the Maryknolls and other religious groups will be travelling to Guatemala April 2 or 3 to discuss the case with high level GOG officials. The Embassy is assisting. While we have been informed that, although Sr. Ortiz can't be interviewed, she is doing pastoral work in Mexico. (DMcCarthy, x71145)

(C) Election poll results: The latest Aragon poll indicates that 35 percent do not know whom they would vote for if the election were held tomorrow. 21 percent said they would vote for Carpio (UCN), 12 percent for retired General Rios Montt, 9 percent for ex-Mayor of Guatemala Alvaro Arzu, 6 percent for Cabrera (DCG), 2 percent for De Leon (DCG-PSD) and 1 percent for Manuel Ayau (MLN - extreme right). Asked whom they believed would win, 36 percent said they did not know, 27 percent said Carpio, 13 percent said Cabrera, 10 percent said Rios Montt, 6 percent said Arzu.

NICARAGUA

(C) Transition Agreement Pluses, Minuses. The transition protocol between the National Opposition Union (UNO) and the Sandinistas signed March 27 commits the latter to a complete turnover of power and places the security forces clearly under President-elect Violeta Chamorro's authority. However, other provisions characterize the Toncontin Accord as requiring Resistance demobilization by April 25; enshrine Sandinista actions, especially property confiscations, over the last ten years; and make vague references to "correct interpretation' of the Constitution, especially as regards the Sandinista Army. Embassy Managua chalks up the agreement's failings to inexperience and doubts they will redound against UNO once in power. (Managua 1783, DAGray)

(C) Donors' Meeting Set; PAHO Backs Aid Bill. The Italian Government is planning a second Nicaraguan aid donors' conference for May 31. Invitees will include all countries from the first conference, plus the U.S. and international financial organizations.
